

Christmas at Tobemorey Wireless.

For a few days previous to the festive day the members of our guard were busy in their spare time decorating our main barracks room with holly, hawthorn, tinsel paper decorations, stars and bells, and streamers and a copious of the regimental crest and many suitable mottoes and on the whole we made it extremely presentable.

On Xmas eve our shift was off duty, and we held a little concert to which we invited a few from the village and the operators at the wireless station and their families. We had a very fine program considering that we had no room by which an accompanist could sit the singers.

The program consisted of songs, choruses and recitations and Capt. Clark acted as chairman. Everything went off smoothly and there was not a dead number in the whole program.

Perhaps the numbers which brought down the most applause, that is if any came in for more than the others, were the songs "Tipperary" and "Tinkle Me Timothee" by Private C. Donohue and "Asleep in the Deep" and "Stop Your Tinkling Jack" by Private D. White.

A solo was sung by Mr. Lighthorn and a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Lighthorn entitled "Mona" was simply fine, a violin and mouth-organ selection by Ptes K. Burley and W. Edd, the songs "Ship Ahoy" and "One Touch of Nature Makes the Whole World Kin" by Ptes H. W. Hamilton and a sketch entitled "Black and Tan Comedy" by the colored artists Corporal Spier and our humble scribe and recitation "The Telegraph Operator" also by the latter all came in for their share of applause too. The artist though who fairly "copped the bump" was Private Britton who sang the comic songs "The art of Mesmerism" "I'm getting ready for my nation-in-law" and "Pomona" he certainly could get away with them in a most humorous way.

After the program there were some presentations. Since the detachment have been here we have received many letters from a few of the residents among whom are Mr. and Mrs. Matheson, of the boarding house, Mr. and Mrs. Argue and Mr. and Mrs. Lighthorn of the Marine Station, the former were presented by Capt. Clark, on behalf of the detachment with a hand-written five pence note set with the tray with an engraved, the latter couples were presented by the detachment with a silver fern pot. Sgt. Campbell on behalf of the non-com. officers and Privates presented Capt. Clark with a handsome set of gold gold pen and ink, the pin and tie clip with a silver congratulatory on them, and Corporal Spier on behalf of our guard presented Sgt. Camp with a box of cigars. All the recipients made suitable speeches thanking us for the gifts and the evening was brought to a close with Adm. Lang, Sgt. and the national anthem.

On Christmas day we had a fine spread for dinner and our cook out shone himself with his marvels of the culinary art. After dinner Capt. Clark passed around cigars. As we had no fatigue duty on that day we were able to do as we liked inside the camp limits most of the time, however, was spent reading the mail which had got in very late the previous evening and opening Xmas boxes from home.

So you see that after we were all away from home, some for the first time we certainly had a Merry Xmas and one that we will long remember.

At Hymen's Altar

YOUNG GUNNIES

A quiet wedding took place on Wednesday Dec 28th 1913 at the home of Mr and Mrs Wm Gunnia Adamsville, when their eldest daughter Agnes was united in marriage to George E. Young, eldest son of Mrs B. McFarlane, Owen Sound. The bride was given away by her father and wore the gown given in a handsome present. The ceremony was performed by the Rev Mr Robertson. Their many friends wish them much happiness.

THE BATTLE OF THE BALLOTS

The municipal elections in this district were the hottest in years. The thermometer stood 90 degrees in the shade in Wiarton, Amabel and Albemarle, while there was considerable doing in both Eastnor and St. Edmunds. The day was fine and the vote polled was a large one.

Warton

Let us take the Town of Wiarton first. Here the fight was for the reeve and the mayoralty, very few of the councillors put up a fight at all, but for the mayoralty and the reeve, O! My! It was a half mile heat, the best three out of five, and the winners were Messrs. Cameron and Kastner.

This Echo regrets that temperance was made an issue. The four men contesting these positions are all model citizens in this respect, and apart from this Local Option is not an issue at present. The ticket for the Council was not brought out by the hotels, but by representative citizens, and they did not regard the contest as a Local Option battle at all. In the contest Mayor Tyson is succeeded by ex-Mayor S. J. Cameron.

Of Mayor Tyson it can be said that he was a worker, probably he did as much in one year as most of Mayors do in two. He displayed a great deal of energy and ability, and performed many good public acts, then why a contest? It was simply because the public thought that there were five in the council too much of one mind, that they saw eye to eye on every subject, and that it would be far better to put a few Irishmen in their places who would at least have the advantage of being contrary. A very important qualification for a councillor is to be able to kick to a different opinion.

Mr. S. J. Cameron, who succeeds Mayor Tyson, is a strong personality, and the fact that he won by 27 majority with so many absurd statements floating is evidence of his strength. In every sense of the word "Jerry" is popular, honorable and consistent and he will fill the Mayor's chair with credit to himself and the town.

Reeve Steacy, who served the town ably and faithfully, is succeeded by Mr. G. Kastner whose majority is one of the most unprecedented in the history of the town. Mr. Kastner, who was reeve before, will be a most excellent representative at Walkerton.

When it comes to the council there is general surprise and regret that Eddie Reekin was not elected. It is true that he did not solicit a single vote, and that being a good sport he is taking his defeat in the best of good nature, but Wiarton made a mistake in not electing a man of his ability, we hope that he may be persuaded to allow his name to stand again. The new men in the council are Messrs. Baines, Plante and P. Ne. The last two are artists with the brush, and they must remember that it would be dangerous to paint the town red.

Messrs. McVannell, Crane and Hurlbut are all old councillors and will fit into their positions.

On the whole the Council of 1915 is a good one. They will be able to face to face with some difficult problems, but they will be able to do so.

Amabel

The three cornered fight for the reeve resulted in the election of Mr. Craig, and it looks like the township thought that he deserved it, as he had been six years at the council helm. Both Messrs. Busk and Swale are good men and the fact that he won over them shows that he possesses the confidence of the township. The Councillors are all O. K. they are Messrs. James Wilson, and W. Root from the North, and S. Hunt and J. K. Davidson from the South.

Albemarle

Mr. C. E. Whichee was elected reeve by a majority of 96 and over a good run in the person of Robert Given. There are few men who have Mr. Whichee's municipal experience and with a good council composed of Messrs. Lemcke, Couch, Weir and Craig the affairs of Albemarle should be in safe hands.

Lindsay

In this township Phil Forbes was again victor defeating his opponent Mr. John Rouse. The Councillors will be Norman McDonald, Dan McDonald, A. McDonald and James Watson.

St. Edmunds

Andrew Munn dined W. W. Ramsbury for the reeve and in the race for the council the following came out on top: Messrs. H. F. Murphy, J. B. Watson, George Golden and S. McCormick.

Eastnor

Here it is Reeve Scott by acclamation, while the councillors elected Monday are as follows: W. T. Hewton, A. Hepburn, James Spiers and Nathan Landon.

LOCAL OPTION CONTESTS

Shallow Lake defeated the repeal of Local Option by 16 of a majority. Hepworth had a very close vote. The by-law was to carry Local Option, and it is said to be defeated by four-fifths of a vote. Tarns was defeated by 42 of a majority.

A Few Things Worth Remembering

The next elections will be one year hence, it comes mighty quickly. Do not forget to shake hands with the voters during the year you got so thick with during the contest. Do not get a swelled head about your large vote; it was not because the people wanted you, but because they did not want the other fellow. There is no candidate who cannot be beaten, it is the easiest thing in the world for the ratepayers to toss him forty feet in the air if they wish.

Now do not expect all the roadwork to be done on your side line, just remember there are others. You thought that you wanted the office when you were running for it, but before the end of the year you will think that the fellow you liked is probably the better off. Be a good boy, keep a level head, do the square thing and then what do you care about the next election.

The Editor Echo,
Warton.

During your contest we look a fair and square to our paper and to the Pioneer's Magazine, two and one half years each. We beg to say that we are more than pleased to have your new little paper come to us weekly. It was through Miss O'Hara's care that we secured our subscription, and we heartily thank her for same. We might add in conclusion that we have received the first issue of the magazine yet and we apply to you for the reason, as I am sure such information would not be obtainable from Miss O'Hara. Will you advise us at once?

Thanking you again for your promptness in sending us your paper and wishing the Echo boundless success and a world wide circulation during the coming year.

I have the honor to be one of your subscribers.

Card of Thanks

As the contest is now over I take this opportunity of expressing my sincere thanks to my many friends who so generously assisted me in winning the beautiful piano. It was not only those who have known me to whom I owe a debt of gratitude, but also to the many strangers, who so promptly responded to my request for assistance. I also desire to thank Edwin Bruce for their fairness throughout the entire contest.

Editor Canadian Echo

Dear Sir:-

In your issue of Dec 17th you deplore the condition of immorality in a near Rural district and infer that mothers should do something or societies and especially mention the Women's Institute.

The time is coming when you men will get your eyes wide open to the fact that you have to get out of some of the narrow ruts you have been living in all your lives.

Just as long as the Legislature of this country is "half orphaned" you may expect laws relating to the protection of the home to be imperfect.

Just as surely as no home is complete without both parents planning together for the welfare of that home. Just so surely is Legislation relating to the security and protection of that home incomplete without the voice and judgment of the mother and especially is this true in Educational and Municipal matters.

The inconsistency of men is amazing, you make the laws without allowing us a vote and when conditions arrest your attention you say, "Why don't the women do something."

It is surely the old story of making bricks without straw. Do you think the state of morality in your town is very much ahead of that in the Rural Districts? But of course you cannot see your inconsistency.

I noticed in the minutes of your council meeting that a communication from the Toronto Suffrage Association asking that "the ratepayers be allowed to vote at the January elections on the extension of the Franchise to married women on the same property qualification as men" was ordered "laid". Toronto voted last year two to one in favor of it.

It would be quite in order for the progressive Council of Wiarton to reconsider that motion.

In your article headed "Back to the Lash" in issue of Dec 9th you ask how the society of a community can be improved.

If women had a voice on School Boards I think they would find a way.

I think one of the things they would do would be to open country school houses as places of entertainment, especially during the winter months. In many Rural Localities there are few in a position to entertain in their homes. Young people will mingle with each other and of course it is right and proper that they should and if someone does not provide more elevating entertainments for them what is there but the country dances, which being nothing that is elevating but much that is quite the reverse.

"A Nation is never greater than the homes that compose it."

You cannot bring up children in a locality and expect them to be superior to their surroundings.

You must give young people something elevating to think of and a Reading Circle or Literary Club or Society (it don't matter what you call it, as long as it answers the purpose) conducted in country school houses under proper chaperonage would surely help very naturally to elevate the tone of a community.

Sister members of Women's Institutes, shall we rally to the rescue of our young people this winter? Let us forgive the blindness of the men, who inherit from "Father Adam" the tendency to blame us when things go wrong. "The woman tempted me and I did it."

Let us interview Trustee Boards and get the use of schools wherever we can. At least give them a chance of refusing.

Remember that married women owning property have a right to vote for school trustees and I wish every woman of the voters list would use that privilege and until we secure "A Government of the People" for the people and "By the People" let us each "Build over against his own Household" and try to make "our own little corner" better and brighter.

A Country Mother.

NORTH KEPPEL

Mr. Blue of Chesley is the guest of his aunt Mrs. J. Ferguson.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Jones of Kilsyth attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Enid Nickle on Sunday.

Miss Myrtle McCog of Winton is the guest of Miss Edith Cole.

There was a wood bee on Thursday last at Mr. W. Shier's bush.

Miss Brown returned from St. Marys on Saturday.

Mr. J. B. Owens spent a few days in Owen Sound last week.

In the absence of our Pastor on Sunday last Mr. B. Marshall conducted the service.

After an illness which has lasted for several months, death came on Thursday morning to relieve the suffering of Mr. Frank Ganson. Although the doctors gave very little hope of his recovery he was taken to the Owen Sound hospital and just returned a couple of weeks ago. It was thought useless to operate upon him. Dropsy and cancer of the liver was the cause of his death. Everything was done that could be done to ease him. Besides his sorrowing wife he leaves four small children: Russell, Alvin, Marvin and Pearl. He also leaves an aged mother two sisters Mrs. R. Nickle of North Keppel and Miss Mary of Coldwater, Mich. and six brothers: Tom, Mich. Wm. of Eden Manitoba, Dave, Jim, Robert and Sidney of Keppel.

The funeral took place from his late residence on Saturday afternoon to North Keppel cemetery and was well attended. Mr. Wallis conducted the services. Mrs. Ganson has the heart felt sympathy of a large circle of friends in her hour of loneliness and bereavement.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try It! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful! Get a 25-cent bottle of Danderin.

If you care for heavy hair that grows thick and is resistant to wind, life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderin. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scrub balm of hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not, overcomes it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots fall loose and die; then the hair falls out. Surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knoviton's Danderin from any drug store and just try it.

QUEEN MARIE OF ROUMANIA

Queen Marie, wife of King Ferdinand of Roumania, who has recently succeeded his uncle, the late King Charles, on the throne of that beautiful little kingdom in the Balkans, is said to be one of the handsomest women in Europe. Her father, the late Duke Alfred of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, was a son of Queen Victoria of England. Her mother was a Russian grand duchess, the aunt of the present czar. Duke Alfred had one son, who died just a year before him, but he had five daughters, whose beauty and cleverness made them the toast of every court of Europe. Strange to say, none of them made particularly brilliant matches. The eldest, Princess Marie Alexandra Victoria, who was born in 1870, married the crown prince, now King Ferdinand, of Roumania in 1893. She is the mother of two sons and three daughters. One of her sisters married the Grand Duke Cyril of Russia after divorcing the Grand Duke of Hesse, brother of the czar. Another sister wedded the Prince of Hohenzollern-Langenberg, while the third is the wife of the infant Alfonso of Orfenes.

Queen Marie, while neither so brilliant nor so bold as her predecessor, Queen Elizabeth (Carmen Sylva), is a woman of great taste and kindness of heart. She has done much to encourage interest in the artistic work of Roumanian women, wearing their embroidery herself and persuading her royal relatives to exploit them.

VELVET CHAPEAU.

With dull gold lace. A fastidious ornament of velvet jute out from the front, held to the crown by a rose of gold lace.

Sleeveless Evening Gowns.

Sleeves are an absolutely unknown feature of evening gowns. And in daytime models many of the sleeves consist merely of loosely shaped coverings of mullin, chiffon or net utilized and clearly displaying the arm. The sleeve was tentatively tried out last spring, failed altogether, and doubtless it is due to this failure that the sleeveless and transparent sleeve effects are now so much in evidence. As the contour of the arm or climatic conditions were not at all against fashion's decree. More fur, satin, lace and what not composed the skirt, but the semimodesty of the corse effect are more apparent than ever before.

For Bluing Clothes.

When bottled bluing for washing the common tendency is to put too much on to overcome by rubbing and cutting a triangular slit the entire length of cork. Rubbing cork and the bluing will come out very slowly. This saves pulling the cork out each time you have occasion to use the bluing.

Good form

Bowl and Spoon Shower.

An inexpensive yet very acceptable shower was given by twenty girls who lived in the same neighborhood with the bride to be. They wanted something different from the usual shower, as all were going to give rather costly wedding gifts. Each girl brought a bowl and a spoon, and such a variety! They selected two of the girls to do the blyng so as to have as few duplicates as possible. It was an afternoon thimble party, and each brought one dish towel to her, also for the bride to be. Then one by one the bowls and spoons were brought in by a small brother of the hostess. When bowls of blue and white Chinese ware, to be used as individual stands or gelatin molds, and there were several lovely nests of Chinese or Japanese ware. Every one said it was a most attractive party. The spoons were of aluminum, porcelain enameled ware, wooden and tin. One was a glass one for salad dressing. A large wooden chopping bowl held flowers and fruit in the center of the table and was also presented to the delighted guest of honor.

New England Breakfast.

Recently a clever girl gave an entertainment which she called a New England breakfast. The hour was 12 o'clock, and the spread was indeed a decided change from the ordinary "sober" meal. With the exception of a few frills, the hostess declared it was what was served for breakfast every Sunday morning by one of the best housekeepers in a New England village.

The table had a plain linen cover, a bowl of flowers shaded from pink to crimson was in the center, and on either end of the table there was an individual plate with scrambled eggs, Gennine Boston baked beans in brown earthen ramekins, Boston brown bread (the real article), then coffee with doughnuts and cookies. No artificial lights were used, and the hostess poured the coffee at the table.

Young Girls' Masquerade.

A novel party for young girls is the children's masquerade. For the invitations use the party stationery that comes, fill in the day, date and hour and write on "Come dressed as a child under ten." Serve ice cream, animal cookies, cocoa with marshmallows in each cup, sick candy, and have a favor motto card. Ask each girl to tell some story of her own child life. Like the worst thing she ever did, the worst scare she ever had, etc. and I promise you the party will be a success. For games play old maid, canno and any other you liked when you were "real," truly little.

When the Bride Calls.

If a bride is calling upon a married woman with her husband living she leaves two of her husband's and one of her own visiting cards when she returns her first visit. Separate cards should be sent to the son and daughter and one to the father and mother, addressed "Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith." It is not good form to say "and family" on the outside envelope. "Will be at home" is correct, and just "at home" on the luncheon cards, with the date given.

Short Names Fashionable.

Long names and tawny initials are no longer smart. One must be satisfied with a Christian name and a surname if one would be quite up to the latest in the world of fashion. Even a married woman is not entitled to more than two initials if she considers herself smart. Perhaps the idea is due to the fact that monograms of two letters are usually more artistic than when three letters are used and certainly easier to decipher.

For the Tea Table.

A pretty novelty for the smart tea table is a set of hand painted Hungarian china, rimmed with wicker. There are the slender, long dish with tall handles of wicker for serving sandwiches; the little round and oblong dishes for bonbons and prettier than these, the holder of wicker with rims for small, round china saucers, one for olive, one for pickles or any relish desired and one for radishes or something of the sort.

Guest Room Stationery.

One of the newest ideas for the country place is that of having the stationery in the guest room harmonize with the coloring of that room. Papers in exquisite blues, yellows, tans and mauves are to be found. The name of the home, if it has a special name, is placed at the center top of the page, while at the right or left corner is the name of the railroad station and the telephone number.

Living Guest Alone.

There are plenty who are weary of entertaining house guests. All of them are right for some reason. But the wise hostess is she who lets her guests help by suggesting things they like and then helping to carry them out.

END STOMACH TROUBLE (CASES OF DYSPEPSIA)

Did you see anything that particularly struck your fancy when you were looking around the furniture shops in day? asked a young husband of his wife on her return from a hour of furniture inspection.

"Yes," she replied, "I saw something exceedingly pretty in looking glasses."

"I have no doubts you did," he observed.

And the halo of a calm, sweet peace rested upon that home.

"One half of the world cannot see how the other half suffers," said the philosopher.

"Holy Moses," said the skeptic, "I didn't know there were so many people in that who suffer their own business."

"Am I good enough for you?" sighed the fond lover.

"No said the girl candidly, "you're not, but you are too good for any other girl."

LIONS HEAD

Mr. Peter McNeil, of Dr. McKenna's Club, spent a few days with friends here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McKenna of Stokes Bay called on friends here Monday.

Black eyes are the order of the day at the rink.

Dr. D. E. Scott who is attending the medical college at London, while visiting his parents at Spy during the holidays called on a few of his friends here last week.

Mr. Thomas Brady while spending the vacation at Hanover and Fisherton surprised this community when word was received that he had joined the maritime circle by choosing Miss Wright the junior teacher of the public school here. After spending their honeymoon among the bride's relatives returned to the village on Friday night and were welcomed on Saturday night by the local band consisting of tin pans, bells and shot guns. We'll join heartily in wishing the young couple a long and prosperous voyage over the sea of life.

Monday last was election day and the voters turned out fairly well to shift the council. Of the ten candidates who ran only four were to be elected. Two of last year's members retain their seats namely Alex Hepburn of Hope Bay and Wm. Houston of Barrow Bay. Two new members are, James Spley and Nathan Lander, who bowled Mr. Walpole, who two years ago was seriously ill in bed, while the other was Eli Warden.

We notice lately some of our young bachelors are getting quite sporty these times. It would pay some of the fairer sex to wake up and get busy or they will be left in the shade again.

Mr. Malcolm McKay made an early visit here last Monday morning to catch the stage for Misses A. and H. McCallum and Mrs. Hill and family who were visiting Mr. Nell McCallum for a while. They left for Toronto.

FROM NORTH TO ANTARCTIC.

Member of One of the Teams That Will Accompany Sir Ernest Shackleton on His Expedition—Many Things of Interest to Little People.

The European war has not prevented the British transatlantic expedition from embarking for the south, notwithstanding the fact that some of its members belong, as Shackleton himself formerly did, to the British naval reserve. The Endeavour, the ship of the Weddell sea party, left the Thames Aug. 1, carrying part of the expedition to Buenos Aires. The Avon, which is to carry the Ross section of the expedition, is now at Hobart, Tasmania, and will sail for the Antarctic about the beginning of December. When Sir Ernest Shackleton left England in September he took along a number of Canadian sledge dogs. They are very hardy and intelligent animals and will be used to drag the sledges of the party. Diggs, the sledge dog pictured, is a handsome fellow. Perhaps he'll live to return again; perhaps he'll perish in the bleak antarctic.

A Boy Scout Game.
The "voyage home" is the name of a game which the boy scouts like. Several scores start from given points with compasses, each point being labeled as starting "Southward" and being underneath it the name of the next "port" and its exact bearing.

By taking a sight along his compass the scout comes at last to a coal or a mine lying on the ground with a note underneath it stating the name of the port and the compass direction of the next port.

He signals to the umpire from each port as he reaches it the name of the place arrived at. If it is out of the regular geographical order he has to return to the last port and try again.

Generally he has to visit six or eight ports before he reaches "home." The fellow who gets there soonest, visiting all his ports in proper order on the way, wins.

The umpire has to be careful in making the course beforehand to take the bearings of the different ports very carefully and accurately. If he gives them the slightest degree wrong the competitors will wander yards away from the right spot.

Of course he can take any line of travel he likes, not necessarily from Shanghai, such as from Cairo to London or Edinburgh to St. Petersburg, Cape Town to Petersburg, and so on.

Pete of Royalty.
Queen Victoria had three dogs which she thought great deals of. Her favorite one, Marco, could "trace his ancestry" back to the crusaders' time. He was a Pomeranian dog and won several first prizes at the shows. Roy, one of the other dogs, was a collie and Spot, the third, a fox terrier. She also had another dog as a pet which was the smallest dog in England. It was a Yorkshire terrier and weighed a little less than three pounds.

A Necessary Ceremony.
A little girl was playing one morning with her dolls. "Mother, I want some water in a bowl," she said. "I am going to christen my doll." "I wouldn't do that, dear," replied the mother. "That would be trifling with a subject you do not understand." "Well, then, let me christen my doll with water, mother," said the little girl. "She's old enough now to have something done to her!"

Canendum.
When are bulls and goats supplied gratis? On the field of battle.
When is a lady's dress like an unfortunate bullfighter? When it is gored.
Where are two heads better than one? In a barrel.

Ringing Riddles.
It has many leaves.
Though it isn't a tree.
Its leaves are red and green.
Now, then, what can it be?
They always stand still.
Yet run down and up.
They come by the field.
And are trampled on by you.

It runs around a field, my dears.
But never moves, and hence
It is not a wheel.
By saying, "It is a—"

Points for Mothers

Teach Children Consideration.
Amiability in one of its branches means kindness not alone to each other, but to the animal and vegetable world. You will see a tiny child weeping over a broken flower, the tender little heart grieved that its pretty favorite is crushed. Why should we not foster the idea and teach him to respect the flowers so lavishly given us by a generous Creator? We can easily destroy; we are powerless to create. The child trained to curb his fancy for wilful destruction will grow into a man wise enough to understand and appreciate the lessons taught by the world of nature.

Kindness to animals should be instilled on and a child made to understand that pussy suffers pain when small fingers are poked in her eyes and a fly is tortured when her wings are pulled off. Some people say and perhaps erroneously believe that boys are naturally cruel. This is quite wrong. Girls accept facts; boys look for proof. They are not content to know a watch "goes" they try to discover why it goes.

As conscious animals, it is only a matter of training. If a boy from his earliest childhood has been taught to be kind to animals he will never take delight in teasing them. In these days, when vivisection is so largely discussed, it would be out of place to revert to the subject here, but it might be said that boys trained to be kind will when men countenance no unnecessary cruelty in the operations on animals requisite for medical or surgical research.

Nice School Lunches.

When putting up school lunches for the children wrap each article of food separately, using oiled paper and little jars saved for the purpose. Cut whole wheat bread, varying with white bread, in long strips and place butter between. Stuff a stalk of celery with minced chicken or meat moistened with gravy. Add a cookie or two, a bottle of milk and an apple or banana to "top off" with, and you will have a lunch which any child of school age will like.

For variety cut the bread in triangles, place chopped nuts between and wrap in oiled paper.

Add a jar of custard and an orange. Sandwiches made of white bread with a filling of chopped dates or figs are delicious and healthful.

Fruits cooked until tender, pitted and stuffed with chopped nuts are excellent.

The Home Atmosphere.

An unhappy home is an unhealthy nursery. The nervous, tired mother or keeps the atmosphere charged with disorder and discontent. Youth is so happy under congenial conditions that nothing should interfere with a normal, joyous childhood.

Children suffer more than adults know. They nurse their little grudge and cry themselves to sleep and become quite as miserable over aching nerves as do their parents. A home is of no importance unless the family finds happiness and laughter and comfort there.

One can eat and sleep anywhere. Two weary women think the importance of removing dust from the piano and having the silver polished and forget that whether everybody is happy or not is the great, paramount question of human affairs.

The heart of any child would be gladdened by a sight of the cunning little plates and cups and mugs of porcelain decorated with barnyard fowl. These would make nice Christmas gifts for them.

For special use in the nursery are the dish sets decorated with blue birds. These, however, are not as new as the doll dishes.

A way of beguiling a convalescent child into taking his food is by serving it in little dishes which show him his favorite designs. There are various jolly patterns and one can fancy a sick child wondering which will be on his plate, as the time for each meal comes around.

Had Nervous Dyspepsia

With Frequent Sick Headaches and Much Pain After Eating—Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Cured.

This letter is from a lady who gained 14 pounds by using the great food cure. It did wonders for her in improving her health. She is enthusiastic in its praise, and refers to her neighbors as witnesses of the splendid results obtained.

Mrs. Susan Dobson, Spring Hill, R. I., writes—"It is with pleasure that I write to you in praise of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I was troubled with dizziness and could not eat without suffering much pain; also had sick headaches frequently, and my nerves were in bad condition. About ten years ago I took a thorough treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, using altogether 11 boxes, and since then can eat anything, have been freed from headaches, and my health has been greatly improved in every way. I gained 14 pounds in weight, and feel sure I owe everything to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. You may use it with confidence. I am sure you will find it of any condition before using this treatment."

Austria Ready to Cease Firing.

RUMORS that Austria is seeking to make terms with Serbia and Russia so that she may withdraw from the fighting and leave it to Germany to carry on the war with the assistance of Turkey are regularly denied. No matter how strong the evidence may be of Austria's desire to quit, we may rest assured that no official whisper of peace will come from her until peace terms have been agreed upon. For Austria to admit that she is tired of the war before she has definitely accepted any terms that may be offered her would be madness. That she is tired of it, that the country is divided, and that there is no single party in the empire that desires the continuance of the struggle is indicated by many signs. A correspondent of an American newspaper at Vienna succeeded in having a letter smuggled out of the country by way of Italy a month ago. He says that a revolt of the people is likely, and if it was likely towards the end of November it must be much more likely now, for in the past month Austria has suffered the most humiliating repulse of the war at Belgrade.

A Discredited Censorship
In no country is the press censorship so strict as in Austria. Very shortly after the people find out how the war is going, but if they do not know the worst that has happened, and how utterly hopeless it is for the German allies to win, they know enough to distrust the official censors. The statements of the War Office are invariably incomplete. They record nothing decisive either for Austria or against her, but deal chiefly in prophecies of future victories. Like all other peoples, the Austrians have faith in their own prowess as fighting men, and so they find the explanation for their failure to win decisive victories in the incompetence of their generals. Auffenberg is in disgrace, and von Frudentz, who commanded the cavalry at Lemberg, is in disgrace. General Wendenowsky, who served under him, is reported to have committed suicide.

Austria Not Ready for War
The general and biased not only for Austria in the field, but for their failure in time of peace to have Austria ready for war. The truth seems to be that the Austrian army, which was supposed to be the second most formidable in Europe, and ready for a terrific struggle at a moment's notice, was not much better prepared for a real war against a great power than was France in 1870. The commissariat broke down. On one occasion, in Galicia, where a brigade advanced in the front of the main army (it was without food) for five days. The soldiers ate raw vegetables and this diet is blamed for the epidemic of cholera.

Arms and clothing are lacking. In Vienna alone it is said that there are 32,000 highly trained soldiers who cannot be sent to the front because they are without equipment. On the streets obsolete muskets and rifles are worn in the hands of revolutionists, who have supplied themselves with clothing from the pawnshops. The Mayor of Vienna is reported to have confided to a friend that in February the city's supply of food will be exhausted.

Hated for Italy
Just as Germany the hatred of the people is concentrated upon one of the enemies, so it is in Austria. In Germany it is Britain that is hated. In Austria it is Italy. The Austrians call the British and the French merely "dogs," but they call the Italians "pig-dogs." All the Italians in Austria are watched more closely than French, Russian and British subjects, and there is a common saying that the Italians who do not feel Austrian ought to be hanged. More than once open threats have been made that if Germany and Austria win this war Austria will at once fall upon Italy. There is great rage at the failure of the Austrians who have been recruited in the former Italian provinces on the Adriatic to distinguish themselves. It is admitted that many of these soldiers have held up their hands so that they might be wounded by the Russians and sent home. Once home they steal across the border into Italy, and confide their experiences to the Italian newspapers, thus increasing the anti-Austrian feeling in Italy, and the anti-Italian feeling in Austria.

Czechs Won't Fight
But among other elements of the population there is a strong disposition to refuse to fight hard for Austria. It pervades the Czechs to such an extent that up to a month ago not a single Czech commander or regiment had been honor-

GIVE "STURGEON OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD
Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little stomach, liver and bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the food, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

ably mentioned in dispatches. In Bosnia the prisons are full of people whose loyalty to Austria is doubted. In Bosnia and Dalmatia the sentiments of the people are such that the Austrian government will not run a train that does not carry several hostages, Austrian citizens. If the train meets with any accident, the hostages are at once shot. In Dalmatia the surveillance of the people is so severe that they have said they would welcome any foreign army. Even in those districts where loyalty to the Austro-Hungarian Empire was based upon racial jealousy, it is fast disappearing. If the account given by the correspondent is an accurate summary of sentiment in Austria, there is reason to believe that in spite of the denial Austria is seeking feverishly for an excuse to lay down her arms, leaving Germany to continue the fight alone—Mall and Empire.

"You claim that you love me," said Gladys.
"And so I do," responded Clarence fervently.
"Do you love me enough to die for me?" she continued.
"Well, hardly that," said Clarence, "because mine, you see, is undying love."

A merchant who had been travelling some months was informed upon his return of the death of a valued friend. A few days later he called on the bereaved widow to offer his expressions of sympathy. During the visit he remarked: "I was a good friend of your late husband. Is there not something of him which I could have as a memento of him?"

She raised to his her velvet brown eyes, which a few moments before were moist with tears, and said: "How would I do?"

The Governor's wife was telling Bridget about her husband.
"My husband, Bridget," she said proudly, "is at the head of the state militia."
"Oh tangle as much, ma'am," said Bridget cheerfully; "ain't he got the finest malicious look?"

A boy was asked by his Sunday School teacher to write a short essay on Elshah, and this is what he brought next Sunday: "There was a man named Elshah. He had some brass and he lived in a cave. Some boys tormented him. He said: 'If you keep on throwing stones at me I'll throw the bears on you and they'll eat you up.' And they did, and he did, and the bears did."

"What are you anyway," contentedly inquired Mrs. Peck during the quarrel, "a man or a mouse?"
"A man," answered Henry Peck bitterly. "If I were a mouse I'd have you up on that table right now, yelling for help."

The other day a dairy company's complaint clerk was called to the telephone.
"This Mrs. Mixie," said a woman's voice. "I want to know if your cows are combed?"

"What-a-ah?" asked the amazed clerk. The woman repeated her question. "I see that your rivals advertise that their cows are all combed," said she, "I will begin to take their milk unless I am assured that your cows are all happy."

The clerk begged her to hold the phone a moment. Then he went away and gnawed a corner of the desk. When he returned to the phone he said: "I've just been looking up the books, madam, and I'm happy to say that we have not received a complaint from a single one of our cows."

There will soon be a laundry in Warton run by a man from Toronto. There are two Chinamen here and whether they can be beaten at their game remains to be seen.

There will be a box social in the Orange Lodge, Oxenden on Thursday January 14. A splendid program is being prepared. Admission at door 15c. Ladies bringing boxes free. Everybody welcome.

St. Pauls Presbyterian Church, Sunday Jan 10, the Minister will preach at both services. Morning subject "A Christian Slave." Evening subject "The Gospel of Law." Good music, strangers welcome.

The annual meeting of the Warton Agricultural Society will be held on Saturday, January 15th, at 2 p.m. in the Council Chamber, Warton to receive the Auditor's Report and Financial Statement, and elect officers for the coming year and other business.

Last Saturday was a busy day in town for municipal candidates. The three candidates for the reevehip of Amabel were here, and the candidates for councillor in Amabel and Alkermarle. Warton is always a happy hunting ground the day previous to an election.

McLeod Bros. have opened a restaurant in the store formerly occupied by Mike Simon, and have put in a fresh new stock of Confectionery, Candies etc. It is also their intention to serve hot luncheon and as they have had a good deal of experience in this line they will no doubt make a success of the business.

The ball given by the bachelors and benedictes of Warton New Year's night was a great success. It was well attended, the married people being quite in evidence. The music furnished by the local orchestra could not have been better, the floor was in excellent condition there were many pretty gowns. The caterer Mr. F. Watt was highly praised and the committee who had charge of the whole arrangements deserve much credit for the success of the ball.

Mr. John E. Pinch, of Carlyle, Sask., is visiting his father Mr. T. W. Pinch near Oxenden. It is five years since Mr. Pinch went West, and he likes the country very much, when he left the West about two weeks ago, there was no snow. The crops in that district were fair this year, but the war has made the labor market dull. However the prices of all farm produce have advanced.

The North Bruce Women's Institute will hold a special mid-winter meeting in Warton on Wednesday January 13th inst. in the Methodist Church Schoolroom at 8 o'clock. The speaker will be Miss S. Campbell, one of the foremost women in Institute work. The subject of her address is "Influence of Women and Men." A special musical program is being prepared. Miss Campbell has had considerable experience in organizing throughout the Province and the West and always leaves her audiences enthusiastic in pursuing definite lines of work. Every member is therefore urged to make a special effort to be present and bring your friends. All welcome.

There will be a meeting of the Home Guards on Tuesday night in the town hall for the purpose of organizing. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

The by-law calling for streets to be bare on Berford street is a poor one. A few inches of snow protects the walk and make it possible for a lady with a baby in the outfit. To push it along with some degree of ease.

The Women's Patriotic League will meet in the Council Chamber on the second and fourth Tuesday of this month. The next meeting will be on the evening of Tuesday Jan 12th at eight o'clock. A good attendance is needed.

BUTTER WRAPPERS—For the accommodation of those not desiring large quantities of butter paper, The Echo will keep on hand a considerable amount with the words "Dairy Butter" printed on same. These can be had at thirty cents a hundred sheets. Those with name and address extra sell at $1.75 for 500 and $2.50 per thousand.

Charles Pedwell voted four times Monday, at St. Edmunds, then on to Lindsay, then to Lions Head where a fresh team awaited him and on to Warton, where he landed at 4:45 and got in his work here. To drive 65 miles over roads under present conditions and to vote in four different municipalities is what few people in Ontario did last Monday.

The verdict against Hyatt, who was recently tried by the Police Magistrate, Warton, for seducing a young girl in Amabel has caused quite a discussion in the press, and many of the papers wonder why the confinement in goal was not made longer. This was entirely due to the fact that the accused has a wife and two children dependent upon him. In the opinion of The Echo he should have received the lash, but it is sure a long term of imprisonment would have inflicted a great deal of hardship on his wife and small children.

Second Contingent

Ottawa, Jan. 3.—That the second Canadian contingent will not leave the Dominion in January is now practically a certainty. The Militia Department will make no statement as to the probable date of sailing, but a semi-official guess puts it at about the end of February. All that is definitely known is that it will not leave before the first contingent has gone from Salisbury Plain. Meanwhile, however, recruiting for the third contingent will go on, and it is expected that the apportionment of battalions throughout the country will be made known in the course of a few weeks.

Five hundred men are to be sent from Canada to England within a fortnight or so to furnish reinforcements for the Princess Patricia Regiment, now part of Kitchener's army. These men will be drawn from the battalions now being recruited for the second division. Half of them will come from the middle West, one-quarter from British Columbia, and a quarter from Quebec. Notification of the necessity of such reinforcements was received from the War Office only a week or so ago. The fact that reinforcements have been asked for does not mean that they are now needed, but that they will be held in readiness. A rumor to the effect that the Patricia's had already been in action and had suffered many casualties was going the rounds to-day, and is supposed to have originated from the fact that reinforcements are being raised. The Militia Department has not been notified that the regiment has been in action, in fact it is stated by the Canadian Associated Press correspondent in London that the report that they have been in action is untrue.

Defeat At Berlin

Victory is always easier to bear than defeat even to a good sport, but the boys are by no means down hearted over their defeat at Berlin last week. It was an exhibition game, and they knew that were up against the real thing, but they wanted to take their measure. In the first period the score was 2 to 1 in favor of Berlin, in the second period it was 3 to 2 in favor of Berlin, but when the bell sounded at the end of the third period it was 8 to 2 in favor of Berlin. The Berlin team had more practice than the Warton team, consequently better staying powers. They are unquestionably a strong aggregation, but the Warton team feel that they can stand up against them with more practice.

Referring to this match the Berlin News Record says:—The much-touted Warton aggregation met the Berlin O H A intermediate champions at the auditorium last evening and got the short end of an 8 to 2 score. The victors won on their merits, although the Northern team demonstrated that as last year they will be heard from before season is over. As it was, starting the penetrating of the nets forty-five seconds after the game had begun they held the champions until the beginning of the third period. The score at the end of the first twenty minutes of play was 2 to 1 in favor of Berlin, and at the end of the second period 3 to 2. Towards the end of the game the locals became stronger, and outplayed the visitors. In the last forty-five seconds of play they notched two goals, making the score 8 to 2.

Miss Richardson, of Toronto, visited with Mr and Mrs J. M. Montgomery, Iwerney, and other friends over New Year.

Mrs H. Carr and Mrs A. Shodders returned home last week from a three months' visit with friends at Alford, Stratford and Niagara Falls, Ont.

Messrs A. Crawford, Wm. Fent, Roy Thomas and Harry Marchant, of the 2nd Canadian Regiment, at London, were home over New Year.

Mrs Geo. P. Kennedy, of Deery, and Master Richard attended a family gathering at the home of Mr and Mrs E. Copeland, of Brampton, on New Year's Day.

Mr and Mrs Stoods and Master Reggie Mr and Mrs John Patchell and son of Chesley, spent New Year's with Mr and Mrs N. M. Montgomery, Iwerney, and other relatives here.

The Entertainment in VanDusen's Hall on New Year's night given by the Sunday School children of Christ Church was a successful affair. The different numbers on the programme were well rendered. A good crowd was present and the incident met with success. Rev. J. N. Johnston filled the position of chair-

Miss Rachel Thomas, a graduate of Chesley H. S. has been engaged as teacher of Barrow Bay school at a salary of $300 and left on Tuesday to assume her new duties.

On Thursday collector Kidd went up to Dr. Crow's office and collected $15 of arrears for water rates and $1.65 for a water meter attached to a washing machine in his house, making $16.65 in all. The tap in Dr. Crow's office was installed before Mr. Kidd became collector of water rates. On nomination eight Dr. Crow claimed to know a party who had not paid his water rates for years, and of course, subsequent events have proven that he knew what he was talking about.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated on Wednesday, Dec 30th, at the residence of Mr Arthur Edwards, Sullivan Twp. when his step-daughter, Miss Ellen May Saunders, was united in marriage to Mr Charles Clayton Barrett, of Kermert, Sask. Rev. Dr. Williamson performed the ceremony at high noon. A large number of relatives of the bride was present and all enjoyed a most sumptuous repast. The bride was dressed in white, carrying a bouquet of lovely flowers. Mr and Mrs Barrett left on the afternoon train for Toronto and point east. They will return for a short visit before going to their home in Sask.

Messrs Wilkins Bros. have shipped 3,000 army blankets to keep the French soldiers warm in the trenches and we can testify that they will keep others warm beside the Farley Voss for the Woolen Mill men sent us one of the blankets as a New Year gift and it makes one feel so cozy on the couch that it is like lying in bed when one is tired. The Wilkins Bros. have also an order from Gault Bros. of Montreal for as many socks as they can turn out. It is about time the Wilkins Bros. had a month's holidays but they are going to keep up the present strenuous pace as long as orders are coming in. They have this additional blessing if that will smooth the pathway of life any for them at a time when each of them is trying to do two men's work.

A new principal has been secured for our public schools, Mr. J. C. Hawley, late of Naperville.

The Township of Arara recently made a contribution of $700 to the Canadian Patriotic Fund, which now totals $1,287.75.

Mr. Wm. H. Gough, of Durham, brother of Mrs. A. V. Gough, is coming to the Commercial. More particularly did he come up to see the new arrival at the Commercial to which he is to act as god-father.

Mr. H. G. Gough, of Guelph, one of our summer residents, is in town for a couple of days this week. Mr. Gough is the former business and thinks that if the present state of trade keeps up until summer, he will be able to spend a long vacation here this season.

Mr. C. W. Bowman, M. P., was laid up during the past week with a severe cold and a touch of rheumatism.

Mrs. Marjorie Fennie, of Windsor, is visiting at her grandmother's here for a couple of weeks.

Recruiting for the third Canadian contingent commenced to-day. Lieut. Col. Chisholm received his orders yesterday from Divisional Headquarters, asking for one captain, two lieutenants and one hundred men from the Thirty-first Regiment, and in accordance with the order, recruiting was commenced to-day at the army and will continue until further notice.

The requirements are the same as to age height and chest measurement as in the first and second contingents. The medical examination, however, will be stricter than in former cases, as medical officers have special instructions to be very careful in their selections. A good many men of the other contingents were rejected at Valcartier and Toronto after being passed by the medical officers at their regimental headquarters. It is possible that no unit will slip through. Where medical officers pass non-efficient men, they may be called on to make good the expense incurred by the Government in feeding, housing and training of men who may be subsequently rejected. The detection of minor ailments which may entail rejection is urged on all medical officers conducting the initial examination of recruits. So it is up to the medical men to be careful.

The Second Division in which the Thirty-first is included, is asked to provide 3,261 officers and men; the northern portion of the Division, which includes the 30th, 31st, 32nd, 33rd, 34th, 35th, 36th, 37th, 38th, 39th, 40th, 41st, 42nd, 43rd, 44th, 45th, 46th, 47th, 48th, 49th, 50th, 51st, 52nd, 53rd, 54th, 55th, 56th, 57th, 58th, 59th, 60th, 61st, 62nd, 63rd, 64th, 65th, 66th, 67th, 68th, FLOUR FOR THE ENEMY

Canadian Product Finding Its Way to Germany.

Large Portion of Foodstuff Carried by Scandinavian American Line Steamers, to Copenhagen and Thence into Germany is Said to Be Milled in Canadian West—Other Contraband Carried.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—That Canadian mills are supplying Germany and her allies with flour was asserted here yesterday, it being stated that a large portion of the cargo of steamers of the Scandinavian-American Line, plying between New York and Copenhagen, consists of Canadian flour shipped to the Scandinavian peninsula by the large mills in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

The American mills in Minnesota also are shipping large quantities of flour to Copenhagen.

Since the outbreak of the war the Scandinavian-American Line has increased its service until it has now running between New York and Copenhagen monthly, in each direction, ships a month which formerly maintained trade relations between America and Scandinavia.

Besides flour, large quantities of coffee, cocoa and tea are shipped to Copenhagen. These are considered by the belligerents as contraband of war. But as the consignments are made to Scandinavian firms they cannot be seized unless it is proven that the ships are destined for countries with which the allies are at war. Local officials of the Scandinavian-American Line admit that the exports from Copenhagen to the United States have almost doubled since the outbreak of the war. That Germany is still exporting large quantities of her home products is evidenced by the fact that 7,000 barrels of German beer arrived last week in Hoboken from Copenhagen via the Scandinavian Line.

OVER 10,000 JEWS SERVING.

All Sections of Hebrew People Have Responded to Britain.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—More than 10,000 Jews are now serving in the British army and navy, and the army casualty lists show that six thousand and over forty enlisted men have been killed and 150 reported wounded or missing in addition. These figures are compiled by Rev. Michael Adler, the senior Jewish chaplain to the forces. Rev. Mr. Adler has a son in the Royal Fusiliers, and he himself expects to leave for the front soon.

"Before the war," says the rabbi, "there were only 500 Jews in the ranks. Since the war, all sections of Jewish, rich and poor, have responded. Two of our men have received distinguished conduct medals. Among the Canadian troops are about 300 Jews, mostly from Rumania, Poland and Roumanian Jews. Jewish soldiers are to be found also in all the training centres in England."

CRUISER KOENIGSBERG SUNK.

German Warship Was Destroyed Five Days After Being Bottled Up.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—The British agency despatch from London, published here yesterday afternoon, says:

The German cruiser Koenigsberg, which was bottled up in a river on the coast of Africa several weeks ago, has been sunk, according to a despatch received here from South Africa yesterday. It quotes Capt. Willmet, commander of one of the blockading vessels, as saying that the Koenigsberg was destroyed five days after she was bottled up, an aeroplane flying the range for a rain of shells upon the German boat.

The Koenigsberg was a third-class cruiser of 3,350 tons, built in 1907. She carried ten 4.1-inch guns and six 2.1-inch guns. Her speed was 23.5 knots.

Head War Begins in May.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The British idea that operations up to the present are only preparatory to big events to be in a bit of time now heard here. It is to the effect that Lord Kitchener, when asked concerning probable duration of the war, said: "I don't know when it will end, but I do know when it will begin, and that is in the month of May."

The opinion is expressed in some quarters, however, that the inauguration of more general movements will be on an earlier date than is generally expressed, although persons in authority are of opinion that the war will not be reached until summer.

Austrians Broken, Say Refugees.

ROME, Jan. 12.—A despatch to The Messenger from its correspondent at Bucharest states that several detachments of Austrian troops entered Rumania Sunday and were dispersed. They were in flight from the scene of conflict with the Russians in Transylvania.

They carried obsolete rifles and ammunition, and the Rumanians are completely demoralized.

Athletically Press Bureau.

OTTAWA, Jan. 12.—Sir Max Aitken is to have charge of the official news concerning the Canadian division. He has been selected by the Government for special work in that connection, and will prepare official reports for publication from the front.

Seymour Hicks III.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The recent visit to the front of Seymour Hicks, the well-known musical comedy actor, in order to give Christmas entertainments to the British soldiers, has nearly cost him his life. He took pneumonia, but the crisis is now past.

BURGLARS ROUNDED UP.

Toronto Police Winover Large Quantity of Stolen Goods.

TORONTO, Jan. 12.—An inscription on a comic supplement pasted on the wall of a room at 24 Lakeview avenue after they had ransacked the house was remarkably instructive for the arrest of seven men and the recovery of nearly two thousand dollars' worth of stolen jewelry and merchandise during the last few days. Those at present in custody and the charges against them are: Ernest G. Hill, aged 50, 114 Queen street west, a confidential clerk employed by David Morrison of the same address, theft; Albert Secord, ex-bartender, rooming at 601 A. Queen street, receiving stolen property; Arnold Perkins, 4 Widmer street, receiving stolen property; John Batchelor, bartender, 1001 A. Queen street, receiving stolen property; John Kemp, unemployed, 4 Widmer street, receiving stolen property; James MacLaughlin, 79 West Lodge avenue, nine charges of burglary; Arthur Johnson, Franklin avenue, nine charges of burglary, and Henry Clark, 81 Patrick street, who is charged with the theft of candy from his employers, the Harry Webb Co.

Perkins is the police alias, one of the worst "fences" with whom they have had to deal in some time. In his house on Widmer street, Detective Cronin, during the raid, had been stolen from Morrison's clothing store, valued at $700. The police also recovered a large quantity of candy which had been stolen from the Webb company.

Telegraph Briefs.

Capt. Straight of the Queen's Own Rifles, Toronto, has been recently in France and spent New Year's eve and day in the front line trenches, 80 yards from the Germans.

Geo. Archibald, aged 40, an employee of the Dominion Canisters, Ltd., Alameda street, died yesterday from the effects of a truck load of cases falling on him a few days ago.

Sophia F. Weaver, aged 75, relict of the late Fred R. Stratton, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. T. R. Carnovsky at Kingston. She was born at Rawdon, Ont.

The wholesale price of flour in Ottawa yesterday increased to $7.80 per barrel. This is an advance of $2.00 over the price of the same flour since 1910.

Accompanied to the scaffold by a Hindu priest, Mewa Singh was hanged at the Western end of B. Coleridge street, near the residence of W. J. Hopkinson, immigration inspector.

Funeral services for Col. Strang, of Kingston, who died at Northview Hospital, Salisbury, were held Saturday. The body was taken on a gun-carriage to the railway. Interment will be at the cemetery.

London public utilities commission at its inaugural meeting yesterday afternoon decided to refer the charges against its general manager, H. J. Glavin, of helping a German reserve to leave the country, to County Judge Macbeth for a thorough inquiry.

Third Force Called.

Ottawa Issues Orders For Mobilization of Another Contingent.

OTTAWA, Jan. 12.—Orders for the mobilization of the third Canadian expeditionary force were sent out yesterday afternoon. The force is to be actively under way at all recruiting centres within a few days. In order to secure greater local interest in recruiting and to bring the men better prepared for regimental drill, the plan is to make the headquarters of each of the militia regiments throughout the country a recruiting centre, where the men will also be held for a short time and given some preliminary training.

The men thus recruited by companies at the local centres will later gather at battalion mobilization centres. For the first contingent the troops are mobilized at 100,000 men, and for the second contingent at 100,000 men.

French Warship Is Sunk.

BRITAIN, Jan. 12.—Vienna reports state that a French dreadnought was hit by the Austrian submarine No. 12. The Courbet was rammed by the submarine in the Adriatic, which was attempting to tow her. The Courbet sank. The Jean Bart docked at Malta.

The Courbet was of 22,667 tons displacement, and was armed with twelve 12-inch guns, twenty-two 5.4-inch guns and four 3-pounders. She was completed in 1912 and carried a complement of 904 men.

Victoria Cross For Bandman.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The Victoria Cross was awarded yesterday to Bandman Thomas E. Gendle, of the 1st Battalion of the Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, Gendle was decorated "for conspicuous bravery on Nov. 20 near Valenciennes, France, when he, attending wounded under a very heavy shell fire, rescued men from the trenches in which they were buried by the blowing in of parapets by the fire of the enemy's heavy howitzers."

Dutch Loan Over-subscribed.

THE HAGUE, Jan. 12.—(Via London.)—Announcement was made yesterday that the Government war loan of 275,000,000 guilders ($110,000,000) has been greatly over-subscribed. The exact total of the amount applied for is 2,000,000 guilders ($800,000,000).

Sweden Denies Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Secretary of State Bryan and the Swedish Minister yesterday exchanged ratifications of the peace commission treaty, which was drawn and signed several months ago.

HOPE TO PIERCE LINE

German Confin. Offensive to Narrow Zone Near Warsaw.

Despite Known Sacrifices of Men the Kaiser's Troops Have Failed to Break the Polish Line in this War. On the contrary, it is impossible to see that the American name is suffering, and the country is laying up grave trouble for itself in the future.

The general charge against our country is that it is displaying a shameful lack of idealism, chivalry, magnanimity and courage. Britons, Frenchmen, Russians, and Italian-Americans for ignoring the invasion of Belgium and the violations of the conventions of The Hague, and thus opening up the international arena with a protest relating exclusively to matters of trade. The argument in these complaints is that if President Wilson were to insist against the violations of treaties and the principles of civilized warfare he could have protested with vastly greater effect against the arbitrary and possibly indefensible interference with American cargoes.

The indictment against us, so far as I am concerned, is simply that we abdicated ignominiously and ran away from great questions of morals and humanity were concerned, but promptly recovered our sense of duty and our courage when the state of war threatened to reduce the profits of our copper mines and otherwise penalize American material.

The writer goes on to say that Germans are equally wonderful, accusing the U. S. of not agreeing to the ending of its "arrogant control of the sea."

Waiting For Decision.

Entry of Roumania and Italy Will Alter War Outlook.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Only a change in the weather or the entrance into the war of Roumania or Italy or both is likely to bring about a marked change in the military situation in Europe for some time to come.

What turn the weather will take no man can predict, but the belief is growing in those countries allied against Germany, Austria and Turkey that Roumania will bring a decided change in the military situation in Europe for some time to come.

On the Austrian front the enemy is attempting to execute great changes in his general position in view of the fact that the Russian advance through Bukovina.

The following official communication was issued last night from General Headquarters at Petrograd:

"On the left bank of the Vistula, both day and night on Jan. 10, the Germans attempted without success to break our line of sentries, but were repulsed everywhere by our fire."

In an attack in the region of the village of Sanio, east of Skierkiew, the Germans reached our barbed wire entanglements and began to shoot, but did not get in.

However, as similar strategems had been employed before, the vigilance of our troops was not deceived by the attack. The enemy was repulsed and we directed against them a destructive fire and delivered a counter-attack, repulsing the enemy and inflicting heavy losses on the Germans.

In Galicia the cannon and rifle fire has been kept going, and we remain in contact with the enemy."

Passengers Are Saved.

Japanese Steamer Has 170 Persons Rescued From Wreck of Nile.

TOKIO, Jan. 12.—The steamer Furukawa Maru, which was reported to have been wrecked and is bringing to Kobe 170 persons, comprising all the passengers of the Japanese steamer Furukawa Maru, which was wrecked on the Nile, has been rescued and is now in the inland sea early Monday morning.

It is believed that the Nile sank after she was pulled off the reef near Swatini. The vessel was on a voyage from London to Yokohama. She was in command of Capt. Powell.

French Reservists Recovering.

QUÉBEC, Jan. 12.—The French reservists have received here a number of French reservists from Canada. René Desrochers, professor of McGill and La, Montreal, was known to be a prisoner of the Germans, is still held, but is quickly recovering. He was hurt in the legs by burning shells and also received two bullets in the legs.

London's Escapes Death.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. from Berlin by way of Amsterdam says that the city of London is not in danger of death sentence on Pt. William Lonsdale, the English soldier who was court-martialed for attacking one of his comrades at the Berlin revolution, to twenty years' imprisonment.

Flags Fly For Macdonald Centenary.

OTTAWA, Jan. 12.—Yesterday was the hundredth anniversary of the birth of the late Sir John Macdonald. The centenary was celebrated by flying the Canadian flag from all public buildings throughout Canada by direction of the Minister of Public Works.

SCORN FOR U. S.

Europe Contingents of Her Attitude.

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—The Daily News prints the following special Marconigram from Millward Price, its London, Eng., correspondent:

"Conversations with persons of Great Britain, France, Russia, Italy, Germany and Austria, compel the conclusion that the United States is making no real move in this war. On the contrary, it is impossible to see that the American name is suffering, and the country is laying up grave trouble for itself in the future."

The general charge against our country is that it is displaying a shameful lack of idealism, chivalry, magnanimity and courage. Britons, Frenchmen, Russians, and Italian-Americans for ignoring the invasion of Belgium and the violations of the conventions of The Hague, and thus opening up the international arena with a protest relating exclusively to matters of trade. The argument in these complaints is that if President Wilson were to insist against the violations of treaties and the principles of civilized warfare he could have protested with vastly greater effect against the arbitrary and possibly indefensible interference with American cargoes.

The indictment against us, so far as I am concerned, is simply that we abdicated ignominiously and ran away from great questions of morals and humanity were concerned, but promptly recovered our sense of duty and our courage when the state of war threatened to reduce the profits of our copper mines and otherwise penalize American material.

The writer goes on to say that Germans are equally wonderful, accusing the U. S. of not agreeing to the ending of its "arrogant control of the sea."

Waiting For Decision.

Entry of Roumania and Italy Will Alter War Outlook.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Only a change in the weather or the entrance into the war of Roumania or Italy or both is likely to bring about a marked change in the military situation in Europe for some time to come.

What turn the weather will take no man can predict, but the belief is growing in those countries allied against Germany, Austria and Turkey that Roumania will bring a decided change in the military situation in Europe for some time to come.

On the Austrian front the enemy is attempting to execute great changes in his general position in view of the fact that the Russian advance through Bukovina.

The following official communication was issued last night from General Headquarters at Petrograd:

"On the left bank of the Vistula, both day and night on Jan. 10, the Germans attempted without success to break our line of sentries, but were repulsed everywhere by our fire."

In an attack in the region of the village of Sanio, east of Skierkiew, the Germans reached our barbed wire entanglements and began to shoot, but did not get in.

However, as similar strategems had been employed before, the vigilance of our troops was not deceived by the attack. The enemy was repulsed and we directed against them a destructive fire and delivered a counter-attack, repulsing the enemy and inflicting heavy losses on the Germans.

In Galicia the cannon and rifle fire has been kept going, and we remain in contact with the enemy."

Passengers Are Saved.

Japanese Steamer Has 170 Persons Rescued From Wreck of Nile.

TOKIO, Jan. 12.—The steamer Furukawa Maru, which was reported to have been wrecked and is bringing to Kobe 170 persons, comprising all the passengers of the Japanese steamer Furukawa Maru, which was wrecked on the Nile, has been rescued and is now in the inland sea early Monday morning.

It is believed that the Nile sank after she was pulled off the reef near Swatini. The vessel was on a voyage from London to Yokohama. She was in command of Capt. Powell.

French Reservists Recovering.

QUÉBEC, Jan. 12.—The French reservists have received here a number of French reservists from Canada. René Desrochers, professor of McGill and La, Montreal, was known to be a prisoner of the Germans, is still held, but is quickly recovering. He was hurt in the legs by burning shells and also received two bullets in the legs.

London's Escapes Death.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. from Berlin by way of Amsterdam says that the city of London is not in danger of death sentence on Pt. William Lonsdale, the English soldier who was court-martialed for attacking one of his comrades at the Berlin revolution, to twenty years' imprisonment.

Flags Fly For Macdonald Centenary.

OTTAWA, Jan. 12.—Yesterday was the hundredth anniversary of the birth of the late Sir John Macdonald. The centenary was celebrated by flying the Canadian flag from all public buildings throughout Canada by direction of the Minister of Public Works.

FOES ARE DEADLOCKED

Little Change Has Occurred Along the Western Front.

French in Alsace Are Face to Face With a Large Force of Germans and Neither Side Claims Any Progress.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Little change is observed on the western front. In Alsace the French continue, day after day, to force their way across the Rhine, but there has been no snow in the Vosges, and it is noticeable that neither side claims any new progress. The Germans throw heavy reinforcements into Alsace after the recent French advance, and apparently they have been able to hold their ground, in view of the failure of the French to consolidate the positions they took after much hard fighting.

With a comparative lull in this quarter and another quiet prevailing along the Belgian coast, fighting of a desperate character has broken out in the centre, notably to the northeast of Soissons, which is bid fair, through bombardments, to suffer the fate of Rheims, and further east, in the vicinity of Perthes and Beauséjour, from which points the allies have been trying to reach the important railway to the north, the seizure of which would cut off the German main arteries of communication.

The official communications of the belligerent nations, in not agreeing as to the outcome of the recent fighting in these areas. The allies claim to have forced ahead from Soissons; the Germans say these attacks have been fruitless, and that fighting is proceeding.

The allies contend that they have advanced north of Perthes and still hold the ground at Beauséjour, to the north and east. The Germans make no mention of any advance to the north of Perthes, but maintain that they have advanced east of the village. The fighting in the vicinity of Beauséjour, which the allies consider so important, they ignore.

Last night's bulletin from the French war office said:

"There is a calm in the situation to be chronicled."

The afternoon bulletin said:

"From the north of the line, there was yesterday an intermittent and not very intense cannonading. In the region of Ypres our artillery responded effectively to the artillery of the enemy, and sent well-placed shots against the German trenches."

From the Lys to the Oise, in the region of Boulogne, our troops took possession of a trench of the enemy after a violent fight. To the north-east of Soissons, on 'Spur 132,' there is a strong feeling among the general public in France and England that definite action on the part of Italy and Roumania will not long be delayed.

Aerial Raiders Hit.

German Aviators Drop Fifty Bombs on Dunkirk.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—According to French despatches to the London papers fifty bombs were dropped on Dunkirk yesterday by aeroplanes which were cruising over the town from 11 o'clock yesterday morning until nearly four o'clock in the afternoon. The bombs fell from all directions, and were met by a heavy shrapnel fire. Two of the raiders were brought down, one outside the town and the other twenty miles away.

In spite of the long ordeal the populace displayed no panic. The bombs included some of the incendiary type, but little material damage was done. Six persons were killed at Dunkirk and the suburb of Malo, and it is reported that several persons were killed at St. Pol and Ardennes, but this has not been confirmed. It appears that the absence of a large number of French aeroplanes from Dunkirk may have been known to the Germans.

St. Thomas To New E-tate.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Jan. 12.—The will of the late Peter Couss of St. Thomas, who died two weeks ago has been opened and valued. The estate is valued over $100,000, principally in mortgages and stocks. He was only assessed for $1,000 a year by the city, and the city officials will enter an action against the trustees of the estate claiming back taxes for the past six years on an income of $1,000 a year as all the securities held by Mr. Couss were owned and interest at 6 per cent. and over.

Drinkers Must Go.

OTTAWA, Jan. 12.—Orders have gone out by direction of the Minister of Militia to all commanding officers of Canada to the effect that any recruit found under the influence of liquor shall be summarily dismissed from the service. The Minister has issued orders to all commanding officers to enter an action against the trustees of the estate claiming back taxes for the past six years on an income of $1,000 a year as all the securities held by Mr. Couss were owned and interest at 6 per cent. and over.

JAMES FLETT

Milady's Mirror

Washing the Face Correctly.

If you wash your face in the wrong way every day for a year your skin will be coarsened and your color spoiled. If you look at yourself in a good light you will see many wrinkles.

This is the right way of washing your face:

Start by bathing it in clear hot water. Apply a little good pure soap to a soft flannel or your fingers and go over your face with this.

Rinse the soap off again with hot water.

Sponge your face lightly with cool—not cold—water.

Dry your face downward. By care less rubbing upward you can very soon spoil the shape of your nose.

Brush or comb your eyebrows, which will have become a little rumpled with the drying of your face. If you leave them as they are they will grow into bad lines.

It is not necessary to use soap on your face more than once a day. If you come home at night with a thoroughly soiled face and neck you can cleanse them best by rubbing a little pure toilet cream all over them and then taking this off again with a bit of soft rag. The grease will bring the dirt away wonderfully. After you have wiped it all off bathe your face in warm water.

If you are very pale it is a good thing to splash good water up into your face when you are finished washing. Throw it up briskly with both hands from the basin.

Care of the Hands.

Almond meal used in place of soap beautifies the skin.

Instead of using soap when the hands have become grimed with dry soil or grease, try rubbing oil or vasoline to remove the dirt, then follow with soap and water. Dry thoroughly and apply a little perfumed rice powder over the hands.

Cosmetic gloves hasten the beautifying effects and may be purchased ready to slip on.

A simple exercise to remove awkward movements of the hands is to open and close them ten times a day. Do this work slowly and with as much grace as can be commanded.

Relaxing the hands, allowing them to remain idle from twenty minutes to half an hour, is excellent for nervous women who have difficulty in keeping them quiet or free from trembling.

Brittle Nails.

Gout in the family is often shown by an undue brittleness of the nails. Brittle nails are invariably hard and ugly looking, too, with unsightly ridges down the middle. It is very difficult indeed to make them take any sort of polish.

Here is the remedy. Every night after washing and applying glycerin and rosewater to the hands rub some ordinary olive oil well into the nails. Persevere in this treatment and you will find that the brittleness will very soon disappear.

Trim the nail with scissors as little as possible, but use the nail file instead, smoothing afterward with one of those little ivory boards which may be bought quite cheaply in packets of a dozen or less at any drugstore.

Scientific Farming

ORCHARD COVER CROPS.

Rye, Vetch or Bar Clover Will Conserve and Build Soil Fertility.

An orchard cover crop should be sown at once if it has not already been, says the Home and Farmstead. To neglect this is to fail to do one's duty to the orchard. When the green crop is turned under in the spring it will contribute organic matter to the soil, a thing so much needed by many soils. It will improve the moisture holding content of the soil and result in releasing a greater amount of the soil's plant food to the growing trees.

If it is a clay soil it is close and water percolates down through it quite slowly. In fact, much of the water runs off the slopes where much of the clay lands of America exists and does not get down to the tree roots as it would if it were a cultivated orchard and especially if cover crops have been turned under.

If it is a sandy soil where the orchard exists the cover crop will improve the texture of the soil, add to its water holding capacity and check the leach of the soil fertility.

(Rye, vetch, bar clover or other of the usual winter cover crops will add materially to orchard profits if they are given a chance to conserve and build soil fertility in the orchard tract.

EXCROSSING ALFALFA.

Experiments That Promise to Improve the Plant For Grazing Purposes.

Alfalfa is such a well known forage crop that little has been done to improve it by scientific breeding. But alfalfa has several serious defects. It is not well adapted to grazing, and it does not produce seed freely.

William Southworth of Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Canada, has been making some experiments that promise greatly to improve alfalfa in these respects. He picked out as the plant most likely to fulfill the conditions, the common yellow trefoil, known as black medick (Medicago lupulina).

The black medick is looked upon as a weed in the United States and Canada. It grows profusely in meadows, generally almost right up to the ground. It has slender stems and produces an abundance of fine leaves, which yield good grazing, but not good hay.

In the Journal of Heredity Mr. Southworth reports on the success of his experiments. While alfalfa seeds, produces an abundance of seeds. Alfalfa seems to need the help of bees in its pollination, while the black medick is generally self fertilized.

Mr. Southworth began in 1911 with mother alfalfa plants obtained from the United States department of agriculture, Washington, but, owing to the hot season, not one of the crosses set seed. In August of that year he picked out an alfalfa plant growing in a discarded grain plot with rich green foliage and an abundance of healthy, vigorous, violet flowers. These flowers he fertilized with pollen from black medick growing as weeds. From these he obtained five healthy pods.

Sowing the seed from these in the fall of 1912, he raised twenty-four plants, nineteen of which he removed to the open field. These were allowed to fertilize themselves, and the plants from their seed were raised in the autumn of 1913 in the greenhouses of the department of plant breeding, Cornell university.

Without going into the details of the growth of each plant the results may be summarized by saying that 72 per cent of the plants grew above the average 4.5 inches in height and about 70 per cent were erect in growth.

Mr. Southworth says the crosses are difficult to make. He is continuing his experiments and urges others to investigate along the same lines.

He points also that the difficulty in getting hard alfalfa seeds to germinate may successfully be overcome by immersing them for ten minutes in strong commercial sulphuric acid and then washing them free from the acid. This method was invented by Professor H. B. Lane of Cornell.

RADIO-ACTIVE MANURES.

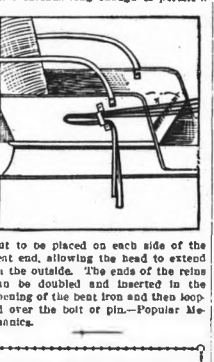

Their Use Not Recommended as Field Fertilizers.

The specialists of the bureau of soils, United States department of agriculture, who have been investigating the use of radio-active substances as fertilizers, report that, while the use of concentrated radium ores or extracted radium in certain quantities in pot experiments seem to stimulate plant growth or to retard it in greater concentration, the quantity of radium present in the amount of so called radioactive manure ordinarily recommended for application to an acre is not great enough to produce any appreciable effect on field crops. The radioactive manure consists of ground uranium radium ores of too low grade to be used for the extraction of radium or of ores from which uranium has been removed. The amount of radium generally present in such of these materials as have been placed on the market has been found to be so small that in the quantity ordinarily recommended for application to an acre there is less radium than is actually already present on an average in an acre foot of soil.

The specialists point out that all ores which contain radium also contain a very much larger proportion of another radioactive element called uranium. The latter is ordinarily recognized as a plant poison, being very injurious to plants when above a certain concentration, but when present in very small quantity it acts as a stimulant to plant growth; other methods, like copper and lead, act in the same way. These effects of uranium are entirely different from those of other radio-active elements of the same radio-activity. It is therefore concluded that the results obtained with uranium are not due to its property of radioactivity, but to its chemical properties, and that the conflicting results obtained with radioactive manure from different sources are to be explained by the presence or absence of uranium and possibly of other constituents of a non-radioactive nature. Until further knowledge is gained with regard to the way in which plant poisons, like uranium, affect the growth of plants the soil specialists are inclined to advise against the use of radio-active manures or any other material containing uranium as a fertilizer in general farming.

INDOOR GARDEN PLANTS.

With a little care a number of tropical plants may be grown indoors, and during the winter they are a particularly attractive addition to a bay window or conservatory garden. Various kinds of palms, rubber plants, oleander, anthurus and cactuses are easily kept in good condition indoors if given the proper attention and not permitted to be exposed to frost.

Palms are much used for interior decorations where there is no direct sunlight. Regular watering is essential, with especial care not to overwater. It is better with most palms to keep them a little drier than too wet. Where a pot is in a jardiniere special care must be exercised not to have them too wet.

While small wash the foliage occasionally with sea-sands from a good soap. Immediately follow with a thorough rinsing. When too large for this spray the tops frequently with clear water.

Rubber plants are especially satisfactory to grow where there is a good light without direct sunlight. Water often enough to keep the soil moist, but do not under any circumstances permit water to stand about the roots nor allow it to become "bone dry". A potted plant set in a jardiniere needs especial care not to be overwatered.

Wash the foliage frequently with sea-sands made from good soap. Rinse thoroughly at once.

Report occasionally, as the pots become full of roots. Feed once in two to four weeks with dilute nitrate of soda in solution. Dissolve in water or ammonia water or manure water or some prepared plant food.

Ornamentals may be treated more or less as palms.

Anthurus are most ornamental. They should be kept rather drier than palms and rubber plants.

Cactuses require rather dry, sandy soil.

Cookery Points

Some Delicious Purses.

A purse may be either an accompaniment to meat or form the foundation of a substantial soup. Whatever vegetable is turned into a soup must first be well boiled, then passed through a sieve, a work demanding patience, it is true. The purse will then have a little butter and seasoning added to it, cream or the yolk of eggs or some gravy sauce, according to what meat it accompanies.

A purse of chestnuts accompanied with poultry and requires the addition of a little thick cream. A purse of white haricot beans accompanied with meat.

A purse of sorrel or spinach or both combined is really nice when served without meat and thickened in individual cocottes or in shells of fried bread. After passing the spinach, etc., through the sieve it is beaten up with a little butter and cream and liberally seasoned. It should not be boiled more than just enough to cook it tender, and then it will keep its color and flavor.

Mirrors, turnips, artichokes and pumpkins, when the following course, sweet or savory. Another delicious purse of small white onions and new potatoes makes a dainty dish if sufficient cream is added and the mixture is put into small china dishes and browned on top.

The purse destined for serving alone or as an accompaniment to meat must be kept thick, yet smooth. The purse that forms the foundation of a soup is lengthened out to make a sufficient quantity by adding to it meat or vegetable stock and milk or cream or yolk of eggs. The eggs and cream should not be put in until after the purse is cooked and taken from the fire.

Canning Chicken.

For quick lunches, unexpected guests and many occasions when she might not be prepared with needed food an interesting housewife can chicken each year, when the fowls are young, tender and wholesome. She cuts the chickens as for frying and stewing until tender enough to slip off the bones. She packs glass jars which have been sterilized and are boiling hot with the chicken, fills up with the hot broth, then seals. Chicken canned in this way is delicious for salad, sandwiches, chicken pie, croquets, or may be used in any of the other many ways in which chicken is served. The broth will make fresh gravy or may be cooked down and jellied for many other ways of serving. The chicken of course must be thoroughly cooked, the jars and the meat hot and the jars perfectly airtight.

The Ever Useful Casserole.

Cold roast lamb, beef, rest, chicken, kidneys, etc., may be warmed up in the casserole. Heat any gravy that is left over to almost boiling point and then put in slices of lamb or beef and let them get warmed through. Do not cook them.

In the absence of gravy a rich beef juice could be used. For boiled or fried-seed chicken have ready some boiled rice and put this in the casserole. Take off the skin of the chicken and bone it, place the bits on top of the rice, pour over gravy or bits of butter, add seasoning if needed and a dust of curry powder.

Then cover the casserole and let the rice and chicken heat to the cooking point. When heating the lamb and beef slices the casserole must not be covered, as the steam toughens the meat.

Chestnut Making Delicious.

Chestnuts make a delicious dressing for the turkey. Take one pound Italian chestnuts, one-half cupful shortening, one cupful breadcrumbs, one-half cupful seeded raisins, one and one-half tablespoons of poultry seasoning, salt, pepper, celery salt, sugar, cayenne to taste.

Blanch the chestnuts; boil till very tender and put through a ricer. Add the breadcrumbs, shortening, seasoning and raisins and balance of seasonings to taste. Mix thoroughly.

Relief at Once

Cure Certain

Conclusive Evidence That Dr. Chase's Ointment Cures Itching Piles.

Mr. John O. McDonald, Pictou, N.S., writes: "I have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for itching piles, and found that the first application gave relief. After using a few boxes of the ointment I was completely cured, and can recommend it to anyone who suffers from this disease. You have my permission to use this letter for the benefit of others."

Mr. James M. Douglas, Superior Junction, Minn., writes: "For about six years I suffered from piles, and often could not work for two or three days at a time. I was in the greatest suffering from pain and itching. Doctors treated me in vain, and I tried many treatments before I came across Dr. Chase's Ointment. Two boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment cured me, and for several months I have had no return of this annoying ailment."

There can be no doubt that Dr. Chase's Ointment is the most effective treatment obtainable for every form of piles. 50 cents a box, all dealers or Edmundson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Warton Juniors vs. Chesley Juniors, in Warton Rink to-night, January 13th.

SECURE YOUR SEAT EARLY

A Light Frost

Chesley, where is it anyway? On the Grand Trunk between Warton and Palmerston. It is the place where Dr. Crowe, the man with the moustache, comes from, and the people's William, who was not allowed to speak at Tars. It is a dry town and they don't intend to hand out anything but "lemon soup" to hockey teams this winter if they can get their way. Well they played with Warton last Friday night and they surprised the natives. However, while the team comes from Chesley, they are by no means home boys, but have been gathered together from the four corners of the earth. Owen Sound is represented, so, too, are Midland and Woodstock. But it is Chesley just the same, and the Chesley fans are good sports and are evidently determined to let the rest of Ontario know that they are on the map this year.

It was a surprise to see so many at the game for very few expected anything more than a tame exhibition of hockey. There are some who will not go to a hockey match this year on principle, but when one sees the crowd at the rink he comes to the conclusion that they can be counted on the fingers of two hands any day.

The referee was Grosse of Berlin, who was perfectly fair, and he was boss of the job from start to finish. It was a great night for off sides, there must have been 999 more or less, there certainly was not one overlooked. The ice was in excellent condition and often the boys went sliding instead of skating. It is good fun to see the boss if the player does not get in.

Well, the bell rang and off they went, and it was a straggling half hour, Chesley drawing the first blood. That did not last long, for Warton soon found connection with their net, although they have a goal keeper about as hard to buck up against as a stone wall. He was hit plenty of times himself, but he had an unobtrusive way of not allowing the puck to pass, and his avoidance was in his favor. On the game went, like the war in Belgium—with no advantage to either side and when half time was called it was 3 each. The next half started fast and furious. The Chesley aggregation had the bit in their mouths, they skated and checked and got a lead of two goals, and it looked then as if it were all up with Warton, but in the last seven minutes Warton got two more goals and at full time it was even Stephen game.

There was nothing left but over time and in the first period of ten minutes neither side could score, but in the second period Chesley got two goals and Warton one. So the final score stood 7 to 6 in Chesley's favor, not just the way we like to see games on our rink, but when we cannot help it we must be good sports and vow that it will not happen again.

The goal keeper for Chesley, their right defence and their centre played a good game.

But how was the game lost? Simply because Warton has not yet struck its pair. There will be three more games with Chesley and there will be something done. There will probably be a different line up. The defeat, while not just what we like, is a good tonic and it will put just the ginger in the game we have been wanting. The home team, as all right, every one of them, and watch for different results the next time.

Juniors Put it Over Southampton

Last Wednesday night the junior hockey team from Southampton came over to Warton with a firm determination to down the locals but met their Waterloo at the hands of our young braves. The ice was heavy and the game started slow, and it was some time before either side figured. Warton getting the first lucky shot. While one of the home boys was serving a penalty Southampton came back at them and scored two goals in quick succession. Just before half time the locals made a desperate rush and landed another in the net, making the score at half time 2-2.

The second half started off fast, and the juniors gave an exhibition of team work that would do credit to any intermediate team, rushing the visitor's nets five times, landing a goal at each rush. It looked as though Southampton would be sent out completely in the last half, but with only a few minutes left to play they got away twice and scored leaving the total 7-4. Mr. McIvor refereed the game and nothing got past him, although the penalties and off sides were not very numerous with either team. The following is the line up.

Warton	Goal	Southampton
Williams	Point	O'Mahoney
Smith	McVitie
Brown	C. Point	Hovk
Sutherland	R. Defence	H. McHoney
Parker	I. Defence	Marshall
Kreutzweiser	Centre	Huber
McDonald	Rover	McPhail

The same teams faced each other on Southampton ice Monday night, and Southampton came off victorious, the score being 3-5, although this makes a tie between these teams.

To-night (Wednesday) the juniors play Chesley here and a good fast game is expected. This is the third game in the Northern League, they do not intend to allow the visitors to trim them on their own ice, so come and see the boys play.

To the Warton "Seniors"

Warton plays clean hockey, they're not the kind that slow. Fed on bread and butter, we they have "Grit" you know. You may talk about "real players" in towns that work and scheme. But they're all back numbers, when compared with Warton's Hockey Team.

N. P. D.
Stratford.

The Juniors Defeated.

Southampton gave the juniors lit for last Tuesday night on their own ice. The Warton team had the best of the play for the first fifteen minutes, but the conditions under which the game were played were responsible for the defeat of the home boys. Manager Higgins says that the rink is only about 98x48 and that the lighting was simply disastrous, the ice was also soft. The rink being small no combative work could be got in, it was simply individual rushes, and the juniors not being accustomed to a packing case in which to play went down to defeat to the score of 8 to 5. The boys were most excellently treated by the Southampton team.

It is the best, that's why

Renewals of subscriptions are coming in fast. The Echo is admittedly five times the best local paper in this district. It publishes all the local news and county news, local home print. It has been going into the same homes for upward of forty years and the people refuse to take any other upon an abridal plan, they want the value for their money, and remain true to an old friend.

At Hymen's Altar

BURGESS—ELDRIDGE.

At eleven o'clock on Monday morning January 11th, Miss Frances Eldridge, daughter of Wm. Eldridge, manager of the Warton fish hatchery, became the bride of Mr. C. Burgess, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the young couple.

They were unattended, the bride entering the room leaning on the arm of her father. She was dressed in a beautiful gown of embroidered crepe and looked quite charming. They left in the afternoon on a trip through Western Ontario, Toronto, and St. Catharines. It is their intention in the near future to take up their residence in St. Catharines, and the best wishes of a large circle of friends with whom the bride was always quite popular will go with them.

Printed Butter Wrappers.

Though it is not generally known the Dominion Government passed an Act last spring prohibiting the sale of butter in packages or wrapped in parchment paper that have not the words Creamery or Dairy printed on each individual package. This means that all such butter sold on the market or in stores must state plainly to which class it belongs. Butter in rolls, crocks, or tubs do not require such branding. The Act came into force on Sept. 1st. The minimum fine is $10, and the maximum $50.00. The printing of the words Creamery or Dairy on the butter wrappers must be quarter of an inch each way. The Echo has printed a great many of these wrappers since the new regulation came into force.

The various township councils met on Monday and The Echo scribbles met with the Eastern Council and the Council of Altonville. Around the table in each place there were five men who seemed fully qualified to do the work of the municipality.

The Fire Brigade intend presenting the Red Cross Society with a sum of five dollars. This is to aid them in their good cause. On the night of Mr. Flett's fire the girls of the tea room brought the firemen up sandwiches, and the firemen are thanking them in a good way.

Tea growing is a fine art. The quality of tea depends on the elevation of the land and the nature of the soil. Cheap teas are produced in vast quantities in the low lying valleys where the humidity encourages the growth of large coarse leaves. On the breezy hill-tops are found the most delicate and tender growths. Salada tea is grown entirely in hill-top gardens, hence its distinctive charm of flavor.

Last Monday was The Echo's day on the Peninsula, when the printing for the year of all the townships was awarded to this office. Last year three of the townships flirted with another office, but one year away from The Echo was long enough, they were glad to come back and we were glad to have them. The two things that assist The Echo in the right price, and the fact that the work we do is always satisfactory.

Ed. Kalbfleisch, of Colpoys, shot a wild cat near Burford Lake last Friday which measured over three feet in length. It is one of the largest animals of this species which has been shot in this part of the country for years. The hounds ran it, but when it took refuge under a brush pile the dogs did not care to face it. However, they trailed it and kept up the big noise until Mr. Kalbfleisch managed to get a shot at it and put an end to this dangerous menace of the woods. He sent it to Oxenden to have it mounted.

Mr. C. E. Byers is handling a whole lot of pulpwood and ties these days. He expects to buy about 1900 cords of pulpwood and upwards of 100,000 ties and even now he is shipping three cars per day. This means considerable to the farmers in this district because it keeps money moving.

Their Fame Snuffed Out

Chesley's hockey fame was short-lived. Just how they ever got that extra goal in Warton is the thing the hockey fans of that town cannot now understand, but they got it and it raised their hopes, they could see Chesley enter the finals, but last Friday night came and of vain desire. But, pshaw, coral islands have disappeared in a night, an earthquake destroyed an Italian city in a few minutes, and the "red devils" knocked all the day dreams of the Chesley hockey fans on the head. But there were a bunch of sports in Chesley who thought that the Warton game was a pure give away in order to pull some of the long green out of that town. They had heard of Gildner working out for professional, Miss in Detroit, had read of Dad Ashleys fame in the papers, and they came to the conclusion that the game was given away so that letting would be lively in Chesley, but Chesley is no Wall street, nor Monte Carlo. The Scotch do not like to put up lawbees on horse races, or hockey matches, or on anything that has an element of uncertainty and there was nothing doing.

About five hundred had turned out to see the game, they had brought horns to foot, but there was no foot to be done. It was a game, however, from start to finish, faster and more furious than the one in Warton. When anyone ran off with the puck there were three on his heels, the back checking was fierce. There were individual rushes, combination, checks from the galleries etc etc. Each side had its luck but the game was Warton all the time, the defence was as solid as Gibraltar, and the only goal Chesley got was when Gildner was off the ice. At half time the score was 3-1 in favor of Warton and full time 4-1 in our favor. The cause of victory is easily explained, Rock was on right wing and saved the day like Blucher at Waterloo.

Chesley Juniors Snowed Under

Wednesday night of last week the Warton and Chesley Juniors played a game in the rink here in which the Chesley seven struck the worst blizzard they are likely to run into this winter. The home boys won the game purely on team work, some of the most combination plays being made that could be wished for. In the first half there was only one penalty, and the half ended with a score of 5-1.

The second half started off with a rush and the boys slammed the puck into the Chesley nets at the rate of one every three minutes, leaving the score at the end of the game 15-4. The visitors getting in three in the last half. Frank Oliver of Chesley refereed the game.

Owen Sound 13 Warton 3

The Owen Sound Juniors stuck it over the local septette to the tune of 13-3 on Monday evening in Owen Sound. The play during the first period was all in Warton's favor, but the "Dry Town" team was in better condition and had better staying powers. One and all agreed that the best man on the ice was "Jerry" Williams, the iron goalie who put up a spectacular exhibition, which if continued will soon rank him as the one best bet in Ontario for a crack goal tender. The rest of the team all worked hard but were outstayed however. They were playing hard now and it is a sure thing that the return game on Feb 14 will be a No 1 exhibition of hockey and well worth attending. Crighton on the wing showed up the best for Owen Sound. McLaughlin of Chesley handled the ball.

A Lumberman's Opinion

"I was troubled with palpitation of the heart and sleeplessness," writes Mr. Wm. Pritchard, Lumber Inspector, Lumberton, Ont., "and used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food with very good benefit, as my nervous system was strengthened and built up. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food forms a rich and restorative tonic, and restores the feeble, weak, nervous cells."

Institute Meetings a Success.

The meetings held last Wednesday under the auspices of the North Bruce Farmers Institute and the North Bruce Women's Institute were a decided success, the attendance being by far the largest in the history of these institutions in the town. The local branch of the Women's Institute entertained the visiting members to a tea in the basement of the Methodist Church, after which there were a number of impromptu addresses by Mayor Cameron, Dr. S. E. Foster, Mr. G. H. Logan, A. larger number than common were present in the evening to hear the speakers sent here by the Department.

Miss Campbell
This lady organized the Women's Institute here many years ago, then about six were present but on Wednesday the attendance was easily eighty-five. Her subject was the influence of men and women. She said "All recognize the influence of a true virtuous woman. Women cannot talk politics, and if they had votes, would vote for the best looking man. Teach the boy to be a good citizen, in this way we can do the most for Canada. Men derive their wisdom from the cultivated minds of women. We should hear agriculture from the pulpit, from the press, etc. Agriculture is simply the highest profession."

Mr. F. Johnston.
A clever farmer from Norfolk County gave an excellent address upon poultry raising, dealing with breeds, feeding, housing etc. In breeds he preferred the general utility fowl such as Rocks, Rocks or Wyandottes. His speech was good and practical and he answered every question which was put to him.

Installation of Officers

Landon Hill Camp, S. O. S. installed their officers for 1915 last Thursday night.
Robert Trout—Past Chief
R. B. Miller—Chief
James Hunter—Chieftain
J. D. Hunter—Rec. Sec.
T. Dargavel—Financial Sec'y
J. G. Dargavel—Treasurer
T. G. Allen—Marshall
W. S. McDonald—Standard bearer
John Landon Jr.—Senior Guard
John Ferguson—Junior Guard
Jas. Symon—Chaplain
Dr. Hay—Physician
The Camp voted $5 to the Young Ladies Patriotic League for the Red Cross Society.

Men Wanted

The County of Bruce has been asked for 150 men for the 3rd Contingent, and recruiting is now in progress in Walkerton, and will continue until Jan. 25th, unless the number should be forthcoming before that date.

A good number have already volunteered, but there is still room for many more. Any young man who is desirous of serving his country, should lose no time in coming to the armories, as recruiting must close on the above date. Do not be backward in coming forward, there will be plenty of room for you.

Parents should encourage not discourage their boys from serving their country.

Pay commences from date of enlistment.

W. J. Douglas, Lt. Col. Recruiting Officer.

The January number of this magazine has been mailed to all who subscribe for it during the Echo's contest last fall and should anyone fail to receive the same they will kindly notify this office. Something interesting connected with the delay of this magazine may appear next week.

Notice to Buyers

For the next few months the purchasing public should read the advertisements in The Echo. The merchants have large stocks and there is every reason to suppose bargains will be offered. From this day forward watch the ads in The Echo.

Communication

Editor, Jan. 15th, 1915
Sir,—In the Bruce Peninsula News of the 13th inst., I notice an article as follows:

"Last Monday the Eastern Council met and after having taken the oath of office that they would not impartially to everyone, Councillor Landon put a motion that the allowance for councillors be reduced from $2.50 to $2.00 per day, and not a seconder was found until late in the day when for shame's sake, Jim put his name to the paper because Landon refused to back down." Now, gentlemen, while it is true that Landon did move that motion, it is just as true that Landon asked the other councillors to stick to $2.50 per day, not to mind the notice, because he had promised James Fowler to do so, and no doubt got some votes for it.

The News tried to give the impression that the motion went begging for a seconder, which is not true because Mr. Spiers seconded it without a word of complaint.

Union Bank has Good Report

Net Profits $72,000—Total Assets Higher

The shareholders of the Union Bank of Canada who attended the annual meeting of the bank held in Winnipeg on Wednesday 6th January had no reason to feel disappointed over the report presented to them. Net profits are some $72,000 above those of 1914, but this has been due to the fact of the bank's borrowing on the year's business. The net profit amounted to $72,000.00 as compared with $65,000.00 in 1914. There has, however, been satisfactory progress made by the bank throughout the year. Note circulation is higher than it was a year ago and now stands at $6,802,000.00, while deposits, despite the world-wide depression, amount in over $65,000,000. The bank is particularly strong in gold, Dominion notes, and other quickly available assets, which amount altogether to nearly $36,500,000.00. This is a good indication of the bank's position in operation by this well known institution throughout the year. It should be noted that, however, that despite the fact the bank kept a large portion of its assets in quickly available form, the current loans throughout the year were $4,000,000.00 more than for the previous year. This is somewhat unusual and indicates that the bank has been doing its full share in carrying the business needs of the communities in which the branches were located. The Union Bank also shows total assets of over $91,000,000.00 a gain of nearly $11,000,000.00 over the figure for the same time in 1914. This outstanding view of the world-wide depression must be regarded as a highly satisfactory.

The Town Council

The work before the Council Monday evening was purely routine. There were a few more inquiries for debentures, and the clerk was instructed to write and find out how much these parties are willing to pay for town securities.

Four from Warton have enlisted with the third contingent, viz., O. McFarland, E. McFarlane, Lamers and B. Blackstock, and the council gave them $10 each to defray expenses.

Mr. R. W. Sawyer was appointed auditor in the place of Capt. W. Tyson, who resigned. The collector was given a week longer and then his roll must be returned.

The price of the town wood has been advanced 10c per cord, and W. Ashcroft will not pay the license the town wants to impose upon him.

The Chief withdrew his resignation and was re-appointed at the old salary of $500, and J. W. Patterson was appointed scavenger.

The question of weights and measures was discussed. It is felt that the officer weighing a load of hay must look so much if the hay is wet or has a load of snow upon it. The questions seem to be shall the town own the scales or not?

ELECTED OFFICERS

The annual meeting of the Warton Agricultural Society was held on Saturday 10th, and was fairly well attended by the farmers.

The officers chosen for the coming year are:—President, G. H. Loney; First Vice Pres., F. Buckland; 2nd Vice Pres., G. H. Steacy; Directors, J. E. Lemcke, J. Hives, E. But, D. Clark, D. J. Hunter, I. Lemock, W. Loney, A. McGee, and A. H. Loney.

The appointment of a Sec.-Treas. was left over to the Director's meeting on Feb. 6th. The dates chosen for the next fair were Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 28 and 29.

A Mother's Anxiety

Most mothers are anxious when their little ones are teething, for at this time the baby's stomach gets disordered and there is a grave danger of convulsions. This anxiety can be relieved, however, if the mother keeps a supply of Bily's Own Tablets in the house and gives an occasional dose to her teething baby. The Tablets are the very best medicine in the world during the teething time. They regulate the bowels, soothe the stomach, promote healthy sleep and make teething painless. They are sold by medicine druggists or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"I've nothing but a half dollar."
"Gee! Are you scared to carry all yer week's wages around wid' yer?"

Too Plain Spoken
"He—'I wish you'd drop the mister and call me Green, it would be unkind to twist you on your personal appearance like that."

Stole some Beef

Last Friday night some one entered the slaughter house of Cras and Gildner and appropriated to themselves two quarters of beef. Just who did the trick is a mystery, some one who was hungry no doubt, and who knew that was a likely spot to find what he wanted. The supposition is that the beef was carried from the slaughter house, and put to a sleigh which was waiting on the road. That same night some one entered the store house of Matt McGarvey on the 19th Keppel and took 20 bushels of oats and a half barrel of pork. The authorities are investigating and some one may get into trouble.

Forced to Raise $4,000 in Thirty Days

NECESSITY KNOWS NO LAW

WE MUST RAISE THE ABOVE AMOUNT IN THE ABOVE TIME IN ORDER TO SAVE OUR PROPERTY

The entire $12,000 Stock of Levine Bros., Wiarion, must and will be sold in the next 30 days

The stock consists of Dry Goods, Boots and Shoes, Men's and Boys Clothing, Women's Ready-to-Wear Clothing, also a full line of Furnishings, Furniture and House Furnishings. The entire stock will be sold at the mercy of the public. Here is the reason in a nutshell of this sale. We bought property anticipating doing a good business. We tied up our money in property, also in merchandise, and we find that we cannot meet our payments on the property. We don't want to lose it, we have about $12,000 worth of merchandise which is clear from debt, and we have decided to lose $4000 on our goods rather than lose $8000 on our property. A sale that will sweep everything before it with the force of a cyclone.

A FAMILY REMEDY FOR MANY YEARS

Used "Fruit-A-Lives" With The Best of Results.

GEORGE MCKAY ESE.

KIPPEN, Ont., June 17th, 1913. "I have been using 'Fruit-A-Lives' as a family remedy for many years. They are the best medicine I have ever tried. 'Fruit-A-Lives' do me the most good—they never gripe and their action is pleasant."

"I have used them for Indigestion and Constipation with the best results, and I heartily recommend them to anyone similarly afflicted."

These troubles have left me completely ill and give 'Fruit-A-Lives' full credit for all this. A nice pill a man cannot take."

GEORGE MCKAY.

The enormous demand for 'Fruit-A-Lives' is steadily increasing, due to the fact that this wonderful fruit medicine gives prompt relief in all cases of Indigestion, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Rheumatism, Chronic Headaches, and Neuralgia, and All Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

The Story of WAITTILL BAXTER (BY) KATE DOUGLAS WIGGIN

Copyright, 1913, by Kate Douglas Wiggin

The delta on both sides of the road were full of haystacks, and everywhere there was bustle and stir. There would be three or four men—some leading, the others following—swept swinging their way through a noble piece of grass, and the smell of the mown fields in the sunshine was sweeter than honey in a comb.

There were patches of black-eyed Susans in the meadows here and there, pink and white hardiack grew by the road, with day lilies and blossoming milkweeds. The bookbinder was a beauty, though life during the heat and luscious work of buying time was a little more rigorous than usual.

The extra food needed for the hired men always kept her father in a state of mind closely resembling insanity. Coming downstairs to cook breakfast, she would find the coffee or tea measured out for ten men. The increased consumption of milk augured a great deal of work, because it lessened the supply of butter for sale.

ground for small fruits and no money to pay a man to do it, yet here was food grown under his very eye and it did not belong to him!

The girls worked in their garden, chiefly at sunrise in spring and early summer or after sunset in the evening. All the same, Waittill had been told by her father the day before that she was not only using ground, but time that belonged to him, and that he should expect her to provide 'ple filling' out of her garden patch during the day to help satisfy the ravenous appetites of that couple of 'great, grunting, greedy lubbers' that he was hiring this year. He had stopped the peeling of potatoes before boiling because he disappeared of the thickness of the parings he found in the pig's pail, and he stood over Waittill as he worked in the kitchen pot in daily fear of a tempest of some sort.

Coming in from the shed one morning and met her father just issuing from the kitchen where Putty was standing like a young Fury in front of the sink. "Father's been crying with and said I'd no business to leave so much good in the shell when I broke an egg. I will not bear it. He makes me feel fairly murderous! You'd better not

"I will not bear it," said Waittill, "Oh, I know that I'm wicked, but isn't it wicked, too, who was wicked first?"

Putty's heart had been set on earning and saving enough to purchase a white muslin dress, and every day rendered the prospect more uncertain.

Waittill's patience was flagging a trifle, too, under the stress of the hot days and the still hotter, breathless nights. The suspicion crossed her mind now and then that her father's miserliness and his of temper might be caused by a mental malady over which he now had little or no control, having never mastered himself in all his life. Her power of endurance would be greater, she thought, if only she could be certain that this theory was true, though her slavery would be just as galling.

It would be so easy for her to go away and earn a living. She who had never had a day of illness in her life, she who could sew, knit, spin, weave and cook. She could make enough money in Bideford or Portsmouth to support herself and Putty, too, until the prater work was found for her.

But there would be a truly terrible conflict of wills, and such fierce argument of her unskillful conduct, such bitter and caustic argument from the father, such disapproval from the parson and the neighbors, that her very soul shrank from the prospect. If she could go alone and have no responsibility over Putty's future, that would be a little more possible, but she must think wisely for two.

And how could she leave Ivory when there might perhaps come a crisis in his life where she could be useful to him? How could she cut herself off from those Sundays in the choir, those dark, fugitive glimpses of him in the road or at prayer meetings? They were only glimpses of happiness, where her thrifty heart yearned for long, deep drafts, but they were immeasurably better than nothing.

Freedom of her father's heavy yoke—freedom to work and read and sing and study and grow old, how she longed for this! But at what a cost would she gain it if she had to harbor her father's future, that would be a little more possible, but she must think wisely for two.

And how could she leave Ivory when there might perhaps come a crisis in his life where she could be useful to him? How could she cut herself off from those Sundays in the choir, those dark, fugitive glimpses of him in the road or at prayer meetings? They were only glimpses of happiness, where her thrifty heart yearned for long, deep drafts, but they were immeasurably better than nothing.

Putty was over at Mrs. Abel Day's learning a new needle stitch and help him to start a new cushion quilt. Ivory and Waittill were sitting on the bench away in the Wilson market. No time would ever be given to her. No, instead of driving up Town Church, when she returned to the village she kept on over the hill.

CHAPTER XII.

Uncle Bart disappeared. He had taken his morning boat under the Northend apple tree. Waittill passed the John's shop and went over the bridge.

"Click, Bart might somewhere, where I am going," she thought, "but even if he did he would never tell any one."

"Where's Waittill sound this afternoon, I wonder?" dratted Cephas, rising to his feet and looking after the departing team. "That reminds me I'd better run up to Baxter's and see if anything's wanted before I open the store."

"If it makes any difference," said his father, "I wonder if you want to call on the pig, do you? He's the only one to home."

Cephas made no remark, but gave his trousers a hitch, picked up a chip, opened his jackknife and stuck down on the greenward, began idly whittling the bit of wood into shape.

"I kind of wish you'd let me make the new all story, father. 'Twouldn't be much work; take it in slack time after hayin'."

"Land o' liberty! What you want to do that for, Cephas? You 'bout best leave off 'n' me gittin' me to build the all in the first place when we didn't need it no more'n a toy does a pocketbook. Then nothin' would do but you must paint it, though I shan't be able to have the main house painted for another year, so the old wine an' the new bottle side by side looks like the old driver an' makes us a laughin' stock to the village, an' now you want to change the thing into a two story! Never heard such a crazy idea in my life."

"I want to settle down," insisted Cephas doggedly.

"Well, settle—in my willin'! I told you that afore you painted the ell. Ain't two rooms, 14 by 14, enough for you to settle down in? If they ain't, I guess your mother'd give you, one of the chambers in the main part."

"She would if I married Phoebe Day, but I don't want to marry Phoebe," argued Cephas. "And mother's gone and made a summer kitchen for herself out in the ell already. I tell you she'll never move out if I should want to move to a nudden."

"I told you you was takin' that risk when you cut a door through from the main part," said his father, goodly.

"If you hadn't done that your mother would 'a' had to go round outside to get in the ell, and mebbe she'd 'a' stayed to home when it stormed, sayin' 'Now you will have her troopin' in an' out, an' an' out the whole 'durin' time.'"

"I only cut the door through to please mother, not she'd favor my gittin' married, but I guess she'd do so good. You see, father, what I was thinkin' of is, a girl would mebbe jump at a two story, four roomed ell when she wouldn't look at a smaller place."

"Fends upon whether the girl's the jumpin' kind or not. Haden't you better get everything fixed up with the one you've picked out afore you take your good wavin' and go to buildin' a bigger place for her?"

"I've asked her once already," Cephas allowed with a burning face. "I don't 'pose you know the one I mean."

"No kind of an idee," responded his father with a quizzical wink that was lost on the young man, as his eyes were fixed upon his whittling. "Does she belong to the village?"

"I ain't goin' to let folks know who I've picked out till I git a little more forrard," responded Cephas craftily. "Say, father, is it all right to ask a girl twice, ain't it?"

"Certain it is, my son. I never heard there was any special limit to the number of 'Times you could ask 'em, and their power of sayin' 'No' is like the mercy of the Lord—'t endureth for ever. You wouldn't consider a widder, Cephas? A widder'd be a good cum'ply keeper for your mother."

"I haint put my good wavin' into an ell just to marry a couple's keeps for mother," responded Cephas hotly. "I want to be No. 1 with my girl and start right in on trainin' her up to suit me."

"Well, if trainin' is your object, you'd better take my advice an' keep it dark before marriage, Cephas. It's astonishin' how the female sex despises being trained. I don't hardly need to be in to see 'em make up their minds to be married afore they ever get married."

"How are you goin' to live with 'em then?" Cephas inquired, looking at his father, who was coupled with some in the village.

"Let them do the trainin'," responded his father, peacefully putting out the words with his lip between his teeth. "Some of 'em's mild and gentle in disposition, like Mrs. Burton or Mrs. Timothy Train, and others is as strict and firm like your mother and Mrs. Abel Day. If you happen to get the first kind, why, do as they tell you, and thank the Lord 't ain't as bad as your mother. END STOMACH TROUBLE,
GAS or DYSPEPSIA

"Papa's Diaphragm" makes Sick, Sour, Gassy Stomachs really feel fine
 in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you get gas and cramps, uneasiness, food or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, flat ulence, or any stomach trouble, you can get blessed relief in five minutes.
 Put an end to stomach trouble forever
 by getting a large fifty-cent case of Papa's Diaphragm from any drug store.
 You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion,
 dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.
 It's the quickest, surest stomach doctor in the world. It's your doctor!

Many women with disfigured complexions never seem to think that they need an occasional cleansing inside as well as outside. Yet neglect of this internal bathing shows itself in spots, and sallow complexions—as well as in dreadful headaches and biliousness. It's because the liver becomes sluggish, and waste matter accumulates which Nature cannot remove without assistance. The best remedy is Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which stimulate the liver to healthy activity, remove fermentation, gently cleanse the stomach and bowels and tone the whole digestive system. Sure, safe and reliable. Take one at night and you feel bright and sunny in the morning. Get Chamberlain's today—druggists 25c., or by mail from Chamberlain Medicine Company, Toronto

Local News

The Woodmen of the world are having their annual at home this evening in the town hall.

J. CARLYLE MOORE, Barrister, Solicitor, Notary & Co., Union Bank Block, Warton, Ont.

The farmers are selling wheat these days, it is now about $1.50 and the outlook is $2 per bushel.

Wanted—A year round residence, brick, if possible at Oil-Plant. A. M. Fisher, The Telegram Toronto.

Wanted—A stenographer for a law office. Apply by letter or personally to J. Carlyle Moore, Warton.

FOR SALE—Desirable dwelling 8 rooms, on Bedford Street. Good stable and garden. Apply on the premises opposite Dr. Fisher's residence or to G. W. Ames.

In our issue of December 23rd it appears that we said that a Jew was arrested and brought before Mr. B. B. Miller for peddling without a license. It appears that he was not arrested simply summoned.

Fine gardens grow fine teas, that is, gardens whose altitude is at least 4000 feet. Sulu tea is composed of selected leaves grown at least at such a level. Hence its unrivalled flavor.

It will be remembered that the West Bruce Teachers' Association met here last fall, and so pleased were they with the reception they got that they have since mailed Mayor Cameron a cheque for $36 to be applied to the patriotic fund.

The annual meeting of St. Paul's church was held Tuesday evening. The reports from the different societies were all encouraging and the retiring members of the managing board were re-elected, these were Messrs Watt, McAnlay and Cameron.

The purchasing agent of the remount service was here last week and secured six horses, and would have bought many more if the animals brought to town had been of better quality and in better condition. The instructions are to buy only the best the farmers can produce.

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Sunday, Jan. 24th. The minister will preach at both services. Morning subject, "The Church's Enterprise," evening subject "The Sabbath and Business." Good Music. Strangers welcome.

Last week a number of privates from the guard at the wireless, Tobernory, came down and proceeded to Guelph where they have enlisted with the 3rd contingent, they were Robert Turner, Perc Jenkins, J. Farrell, Victor Bell, W. Weidner, Joe Wallace and Sergeant Frank Taggart. A number from Walkerton went up to take their places. Mr. John McVannell made the return trip.

Last Wednesday night McEwan's livery stable, then occupied by Joe Currie, was destroyed by fire. The origin of the fire is a mystery, but it is supposed that some one passing from the rink threw the stub of a cigar against the building, and this lodging in some way would easily ignite and fire soon followed. Fortunately the night was calm and the fire did not spread. Mr. Currie was absent at the time, but the contents including horses and rigs, were saved. He lost, however, a few loads of hay, but this was amply covered by insurance. There were about $600 insurance on the building.

Wood Tender

60 cords of 16 in. green body wood, beech and maple, 60 per cent maple and to be delivered at Public School, Warton, not later than March 15th 1915.

Lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted. Tender to be in by 6 o'clock p. m. Jan. 20th.

J. FLETCHER, Secy.

Dissolution of Partnership

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the partnership heretofore subsisting between us, the undersigned, as Hardware Merchants in the Town of Warton, in the County of Bruce, has this day been dissolved by mutual consent.

All debts owing to the partnership are to be paid to D. J. Hunter of Warton and all claims against the partnership are to be presented to said D. J. Hunter by whom the same will be settled.

Dated at Warton this 1st day of January, 1915.

The Under-Price Kimonos.

A shipment of kimonos intended for Xmas trade went astray and did not reach us until a day or so ago. Rather than take them back the manufacturers offered a liberal discount and we decided to keep them. We are putting them on sale at actual manufacturers cost. They are beautiful up-to-date styles and the prices are certainly very attractive. See display in our Dry Goods Window.

One-third off all lines of Furs. An immense assortment to choose from.

We still have in stock about 1 dozen pair All Wool Scotch Blankets, which we are offering at less than mill prices.

CAPE CROKER

Last Thursday was Gala Day for Cape Croker when the "Dandy Boys" from Lions Head came over and played our boys. The game was a very fast one indeed and the spectators were there in large numbers. The game was played in three sessions and the penalties were few. The first part saw no goals for either side but in the second Lions Head threw in two while the locals scored one. During the last ten minutes of the game Lions Head scored four goals, the final result being 6-1 in favor of Lions Head.
Our boys took their defeat in a good-hearted manner and will have more confidence than ever.
Lions Head: Cape Croker: 1. Butcher, Goal W. Lamorandiere, H. Greig, R. Defence B. Pettouquett, T. Brady, L. Defence B. Lavell, C. Williams, Rover O. Johnson, B. Greig, L. wing C. Grafton, Bill Edwards, B. wing P. Johnson, H. Brady, Centre H. Johnson, Referee Geo. Senabough.

The remains of the late Alvin Snike, who died in the Gravenhurst Sanatorium last Friday, arrived here Monday evening. The funeral took place from St. Marys Roman Catholic Church, after Requiem High Mass at St. Marys. Many friends showed sympathy in extended to all the bereaved relatives.

Elder G. O. Tomlinson, of St. Marys is holding special meetings in the Saints Church every night except Friday and Saturday at eight o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

An Important Arrest

Last week High Constable Ward arrested Herbert Boyd at Big Bay, who was wanted in Niagara Falls, N. Y., where he is accused of having stolen $3,200 from the I. O. O. F. while he was treasurer of this institution. About 19 years ago Boyd left Big Bay, where he was born, and struck out to make his fortune, and at the age of 38 he will probably go into the pen, where he will have time for reflection. He was a good penman, pretty smooth, and in some way worked into the good graces of the local order of Oddfellows. He was appointed the treasurer, but being a boozier he got fired and another man was asked to take the office. This man declined to do so until an audit of the books had been made and the audit showed a shortage of $2,200 last year. In the meantime Boyd had skipped out and notices were sent broadcast to every constable in Ontario. But Ward got one, he heard that a man answering the description was in Big Bay so he proceeded there, and found the bird he wanted enjoying himself at a game of cards. "Hello Herb," said Ward, "You have the advantage of me," replied Boyd, whereupon Ward told him that he had a warrant for his arrest. The man admitted his guilt, was brought to Winton, and remained in the cooler here until a detective from Niagara came and claimed him. He is a smooth one said the detective and will probably get five years.

Letter From Salisbury Plains

Clarence Pope, a Winton High School Boy writes the following letter to his mother.

Harvard Camp, Jan 10, 15.
My Dear Mother,—

Received your Christmas letter yesterday and was so glad to get it for I had not received any mail for a week. I get the "Canadian Echo" more or less regularly.
I started this yesterday but I was making so many mistakes I thought it policy to stop.
A few moments ago we completed a very long route march we walked steadily from 9 o'clock this morning until half past one this afternoon so you can see what we accomplished when you are imagining it don't forget to put a big puck upon your back and a rifle on your shoulder. Lots of fun!
Something doing soon! All our (1st Brigade) pickets have been ordered home from all the cities in England and those who volunteered as replacements about two months ago were sent back home. The fourth Brigade are taking over all duties.
The Major got up in church after service on Sunday and gave us a lecture it seems he overheard some of us saying we'd never see any real fighting so he told us that we'd see it soon and perhaps more than we want of it.
During the sermon the Chaplain was speaking on honesty and expressed his view that we were all honest with our comrades but at the same time he'd be very much obliged if the thief who stole his blankets would return them.
I am attending lectures on the machine gun and in a few days I expect to be transferred to the machine gun station, they as a general rule last sixteen hours after reaching the firing line. I'm trying for a couple of stripes don't know whether I'll get them or not. I'm the youngest on the four guns but you can't always sometimes tell but you can't always sometimes tell but you can't always sometimes tell but you can't always sometimes tell.

This is the worst country you ever heard of, it rains one minute and the sun shines the next, anybody could write an almanac of this country. Just rain!
I had a picture taken over a week ago of myself with a pack on my back and a rifle but I haven't got them yet and if they do not get here soon I'm afraid I won't be here to get them.
We have order to see that everything which we were issued with in our kit or if not to have it replaced from the stores.
This morning the Colonel took a look at our hair to see if it was short. Thank Heaven! I spent my last shilling to get mine cut.
I guess this will be all for this time will write again soon.
Love to everybody at home
Clarence.

DYERS BAY

We are sorry to report that Arnold, son of George Graham, was badly hurt last week by a tree falling on him. He caught a tree for support and the falling tree fell on his arm. He is improving slowly.

LIONS HEAD

Division Court was held here last Friday. There were several cases on the docket.
Dr. Fisher passed through here last week enroute to receive a professional call at Dyers Bay, while in town on Friday he called to see several patients.
Dr. Chas. A. Wile made a professional visit here last Saturday and Sunday to Mr. Clark Bridge, who is very ill. We hope to hear of his speedy recovery.
Miss Anna McLeod, who spent part of last week in Winton, returned to town on Saturday.
Messrs John and Norman Smith, of McCallum's Corners, were in town last Friday.
Malcolm N. Smith made a trip to Winton on Sunday returning on Monday.
Miss Bowden, of Winton, came up last Sunday night to nurse Mr. C. Bridge.
Messrs Kenneth and Malcolm C. McDonald and William Smith, of Lindsay, were in town last Friday.
Neil McCallum and son John of Lindsay, were in town on business last week.
On Thursday last our boys went to Cape Croker to play hockey with the team there which resulted in a score of 6 to 1 for our boys. The game was a fine exhibition of hockey, free from roughness and foul play. In the evening Father Cadot assisted by the team's friends, entertained the team with instrumental concert, then later with a dance which the boys enjoyed immensely. After the snow small hours, six boys were feeling unwell and were hurried to the hospital, while the other boys were kept in private homes until morning until they had recovered. The boys wish to thank the Rev. Father Cadot and his friends for their kindness and generosity during their stay and wish to have games again in the future.

SIDE SHOTS
Charlie seems to be an excellent boy since the hockey match, but wanted sleep the worst way.
What present did Willie get? What the other boys failed to receive? We noticed the other boys felt kind of down hearted over something. Cheer up boys your turn next.
The return match was played in the rink here on Monday night. All report a good friendly game free from roughness and foul play. The Indians showed up better but the score which was 12 to 7 was in favor of the home team. The rink being small had something to do with the victors. That was the reason the score was so one sided. After the match the teams went to the Williams Hotel where lunch and other delicacies were served and all seemed to enjoy themselves. We heartily invite Father Cadot and his friends to visit us again in the future.
Mrs. Charles Webster is visiting friends in Southampton and other places.
Miss Ola Ribbel, of New Liskeard, arrived here Saturday night to visit friends for a few weeks on her vacation.
Mr. John McKay, of Owen Sound, is visiting friends here this week.
Mr. and Mrs. Patterson arrived home on Monday night after two weeks vacation.
Mr. Sharp, who has been teller in the Royal Bank here, left Wednesday morning for his home in Owen Sound.
Messrs George and Murdoch McLeay and George McDonald, of Lindsay, attended the hockey match Monday night.
We are pleased to learn that Mr. Thos. A. Bruin is improving slowly.
George Greig made a business trip to Winton on Saturday last.
Mr. James Cochran, of Winton, spent two or three days here last week on his vacation.
Quite a number from the country attended the hockey match Monday night also the skating on Saturday night.
Miss Flora Watson passed through here last week on her way to visit her folks at Dyers Bay.
Mr. James Watson, of Dyers Bay, was in town on business last Monday. He brought the Malcom McLeod down who is ill and it is feared an operation will have to be performed.

The Lions Head District Loyal Orange Lodge held their annual meeting at Dyers Bay on January 12, 1915. The following officers were elected:
Dist M. - F. W. Brady, elected exclamation Dist D. M. - E. C. Scott
Dist Chaplain - Rev. J. T. Sigleton
Dist Secy - B. E. W. Tuckberry, elected Dist Treas - George Warren, elected Dist Trustee - John Tuckberry, exclamation Dist D. C. - John McNeil
Dist Lecturer - Dan Martin
Mr. F. F. Warren, County Master, closed the chair during the election and installed officers. After the installation the officers spoke briefly and then addressed the brothers to the secrets of the Royal Arch Degree.
Mr. R. E. W. Tuckberry wishes to announce that he intends to give special banquets commencing with Saturday, Jan. 30 for two weeks to reduce his stock. Any person wanting to secure bargains in sweaters, underwear and other dry goods, patent medicines, etc. will do well to call before buying elsewhere. Also in the future he intends to keep a full line of all kinds of school supplies and such requiring the Oddfellows held their installation last Wednesday night and after all officers were installed two members were initiated into the order.

For running his theatorium without a license William Ashcroft was fined $30 Tuesday which with costs will total $34. This is because he failed to take out the town license of $30. In addition to this the theatorium has to pay a professional license of $30, which makes it a pretty heavily taxed institution.

German Raiders Were Brought On Wholesale Destruction.

British Public Goods at German Coast. The British Public Goods at German Coast. The British Public Goods at German Coast.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—From information received here it is believed that the German fleet defeated Sunday morning.

England is growing with pleasure to-day over the splendid victory. German claims of having sunk a British battleship are scoffed at.

The master of the Erica says that at 9:30 o'clock on Sunday morning, while the crew of the trawler was fishing 120 miles from Heligoland, they suddenly heard a low rumbling.

They saw a German squadron, consisting of six large ships and 22 torpedo-boats, which were pursued by a British fleet, which opened fire.

"We soon saw a German battleship sink. The German ships were firing as they ran. They were able to damage, though not seriously, one of the British ships.

The British pursuing them. The shelling was very heavy during the fight. Projectiles fell like rain and great columns of water rose from the sea.

Lord Fisher, First Sea Lord of the Admiralty, has received hundreds of congratulations on the anniversary of his birth. He is in perfect health.

BERLIN, Jan. 24.—The following official announcement on the naval engagement in the North Sea yesterday was given out in Berlin yesterday:

"During the advance of our armored cruisers Seydlitz, Derfflinger, Moltke and Blücher, which, accompanied by four smaller cruisers, two flotillas of torpedo-boats, were steaming in the North Sea, these vessels became involved in a battle with a detachment composed of five battle cruisers, several smaller cruisers and 22 torpedo-boats destroyed.

"The enemy discontinued the engagement after three hours' time, at a point 70 miles west-northwest of Heligoland, and retreated.

"According to the information available, one British battle cruiser and one of our armored cruisers, the Blücher, were sunk. All the other German ships returned to port.

(Signed) "Von Bencke." Rear-Admiral Hipper commanded the German squadron. Capt. Erdmann commanded the Blücher.

Navy Congratulated By Army. LONDON, Jan. 24.—The official press bureau last night gave out the following message received by the Admiralty from Field Marshal Sir John French:

"I and the army in France hope that you and our naval comrades will accept our congratulations on the victory of the British fleet in the North Sea. Convey to Vice-Admiral Beatty and Commodore Tyrwhitt and their good friends and men our admiration and good wishes."

WHAT IS COMMANDEERED. Germany Will Husband Food Supplies Until Next Harvest.

BERLIN, Jan. 24.—All stocks of wheat have been seized by the German Government, according to the official statement, in order to safeguard the food supply until the next harvest. This measure, it is said, was made necessary by the fact that the people have failed to economize. The stocks will be distributed according to the population of the various communities.

In the Province of Brandenburg, in which Berlin is located, there have been called upon for medical examination the 50-year-old untrained men of the Landsturm of the 1886, 1887 and 1888 classes.

Denies Hungarians Tired of War. VENICE, Jan. 24.—(Via London.) Count Julius Andrássy, former Premier and Minister of the Interior of Hungary, according to a despatch from Budapest, characterizes as utterly meaningless a report that Hungary is tired of the war and is desirous of seeking a separate peace, and declares that the country is still only in union with Germany and with terms satisfactory to both countries.

GARRISON IS ISOLATED

French Have Destroyed Bridges in Rear of St. Mihiel.

German Claim That They Have Lost Heavy Loss on the Alpine Chasseurs in Alsace—Kaiser's Birthday To Be Celebrated By a Bouteille d'Alsace—Treaties Ordered To Take Effect.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—Completion of the destruction of the German bridges crossing the Meuse at St. Mihiel, claimed by the French, and inflicting of heavy losses on the Alpine Chasseurs in the fighting in Alsace, claimed by Berlin, are outstanding features of the official reports received in London yesterday from the western front.

The French guns got the range of the German bridge positions last Friday and since then have been hammering them effectively with the result that almost all second line bridges have been destroyed.

Unless the Meuse crosses or the Germans, in the face of a violent fire from the new batteries, which now have the range perfect, are able to replace the pontoon structures, the garrison will be entirely cut off from the rear.

Simultaneously British troops, who are now holding the destroyed village of St. Georges, debouched from their positions and captured the German defensive line to the east and established themselves on ground of great strategic value.

The French-Belgian forces to the east of Lombardie are steadily pushing the Germans back, and with the support of the British are now able to press forward until more rapidly because the danger of being outflanked is removed.

Of surpassing interest is the reported plan of the Germans to make a spectacular raid by Zeppelins from the coast of Belgium to celebrate the Kaiser's birthday on Wednesday.

Orders have been issued to the allies' air corps to be prepared to meet any such raiders on the Flanders front, and particularly in Paris. Each of two new-type dirigibles, reported transported from Friedrichshafen, is equipped with 60 bombs, and each carries a hydro-aeroplane as a scout.

Artillery duels of great violence are reported all along the western front, with the German and French forces.

By order of the Kaiser, Thann has to be taken at any cost, and William II. has his second son there to see that it is done. That probably accounts for the extremely heavy fighting at this place, which has had the German advance from Uffholtz on Steinbach and Hill No. 435, and the advance on Harthausen-Weller Hill.

The French hold the crest and a portion of the wooded sides of the hill, which has been the scene of hand-to-hand battles in the forests. The positions have been elaborately prepared, and the French effort to dislodge them from the sides of the mountain is progressing very slowly indeed.

But the German attack has been very slowly indeed. The German attach constantly as well as strategic interest to the possession of Thann. It was here that the former was the first and last of the institutions in the new France, and now the Kaiser has set his heart on getting back the town of this town.

William is not contented. It would be if the enemy held Steinbach or Hill No. 425. Thann is within reach of their guns posted in front of Cernay.

Despite the heavy floods, which have hampered the operations directed against the town, the French have made a substantial advance this week by occupying the localities of Dackweiler and the Rhine Canal northwest of Aitkirch.

FURNES IS BOMBARDED.

German Have Brought Up A Longer Range Gun Against Town.

NORTH OF FRANCE, Jan. 24.—Up to now, the inhabitants of Furnes have been congratulating themselves that the German shells were incapable of being dropped beyond the station and the port around it. Unhappily, for several days past the enemy has managed either to bring his guns nearer to Furnes, which is hard to believe, or to bring up guns of longer range.

Yesterday morning a shell fell on the town, and the German shells crashed down into the civil hospital, which is situated next door to the British hospital. A Belgian military doctor was mortally wounded by a shell which fell by the side of a bed in which he slept. A little boy had his feet smashed. The civil hospital was immediately evacuated and the patients removed.

VICTORIAN EAST.

JUST LIKE A GAME

Alleged German Official Report Declares That a Certain German Officer in the British Lines Claims That on several different occasions he was forced to ascend in a British aeroplane in his shirt sleeves to point out the German positions and drop a couple of bombs.

The continuous artillery combat almost takes the form of a game in some parts of the front. As soon as the German batteries start shelling our guns are directed against certain places on the enemy's lines, the bombardment of the front, we know by our experience, will soon induce him to desert. Having obtained the range of most of the hostile batteries, we generally can reduce them to silence or render their fire comparatively harmless.

NEW WAVE IS LIKELY

Germans Will Try to Divert Russian Plans from Bukovina.

Von Hindenburg's Armies Are Pressing a Steadfast Resistance on Left Bank of the Vistula Between Warsaw, While on Right Bank of River Further North Russians Are Gaining Ground.

PETROGRAD, Jan. 24.—On the left bank of the Vistula the Germans are presenting a stubborn resistance, while on the right bank in northern Poland, the Russians are pushing the German lines back. In fact, the Russian army is showing signs of a new offensive movement, which is compelling the Russians to turn their attention from Bukovina and Transylvania.

In northern Galicia the Russians are holding the passes through the Carpathians, where cold and snow have virtually stopped all operations. The Russians in Poland have the strictest orders not to endanger the grand strategy plan by a premature advance, but they are nevertheless seizing every opportunity to offer itself. These orders have been operative ever since the Russian entered Poland for the second time. A predetermined point beyond which the Germans must on no account be allowed to pass was plainly laid down. To that predetermined line the Russian forces which were west of it with one exception, retired fighting very heavily last night. The German advance corps held its ground against three German corps, inflicting fearful losses, but also losing very heavily itself. The Germans could not with their utmost efforts dislodge this stubborn corps, and remnants still held their ground when the German attack had been crushed.

The official Government organ yesterday takes exception to a statement by the London newspapers which places the Russian losses from the second invasion of Poland at only 370,000 men, 220,000 being Germans. This is little more than half truth.

"I telegraphed you on Dec. 20, says The London Post correspondent, 'that the losses of three weeks of fighting exceeded half a million men in Poland at fact, they were semi-officially put at 600,000 over the whole front from the Baltic to the Roumanian frontier. The German lost over 200,000 on the Bura alone in these three weeks. In one single night the small section of the front on a single night the Germans lost 7,000 killed. This section was not over a mile in length and though the losses on 175 other days and nights over the whole 450 miles of front."

The sudden stiffening of the Austrian front in the western sector, to check the Russian invasion of Hungary as a natural sequence of the occupation of Bukovina, seems for the present to have the event of military importance. The Russians seem to recognize this and all recent despatches from Petrograd have emphasized the Austro-German offensive in the southeastern theatre.

ARMORED VESSEL LOST.

Converted British Merchant Steamer Viktor Sunk Off Irish Coast.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—It was officially announced at the Admiralty yesterday that the British armored merchant vessel Viktor had been lost off Ireland with all hands. The vessel, it was said, was either struck a mine or foundered.

The Admiralty, in its statement, says: "She has been missing for some days and must now be accepted as lost with all her officers and men. The cause of her loss is uncertain, but it is probable that the vessel was either foundered, or being carried off her course, struck a mine in sea where the Germans are known to have laid their mines."

The Viktor was formerly the Viking and was commandeered by the Admiralty Dec. 13. She was in charge of Commander Ernest O. Ballentyne. The number of her crew cannot be ascertained.

Britain Will Stop Ship.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—Unless a positive guarantee is given that the cargo of foodstuffs on the Austrian steamer Wilhelmshafen, which sailed from New York for Germany, will not reach the German army, it is likely the ship will be stopped by the allies. Because of the alleged general practice of the German authorities in seizing for military use any foodstuffs, it is stated that the British official would not permit the consignments of the food ship to some individual or firm any proof that it is ultimately to be used for the army.

Under the conditions that are alleged to exist in Germany, it is believed here that it is virtually impossible to guarantee that foodstuffs destined for civilian use will reach the consignees.

Air Raid Was a Success. AMSTERDAM, Jan. 24.—The British air raid last week on the town of Essen resulted in the destruction of 499 war automobiles, according to a correspondent of The Handelsblad. These cars were in a machine shop which was wrecked by the British bombs.

German Magnate On Trial. LONDON, Jan. 24.—A despatch to The Post from Stockholm says: "A sensation has been caused in commercial circles in Sweden by the news that Senator Posselt, head of the great firm of L. Posselt & Co., has been arrested for high treason, the charge being trading with the enemy. He being tried by court-martial at Leipzig, Posselt is one of Germany's richest magnates. Editorial

WALKERTON is to have a Co-operative store to assist in reducing the high cost of living. This is really a Toronto concern and probably it will meet the same fate as the old Patron Movement.

ON account of the close vote on the Loan Option at Hepworth, the measure being defeated by only four fifths of a vote, it is thought that the Provincial Secretary will refuse to grant a license to that village this year.

AT the last meeting of the Alameda Council a resolution was put through asking a refund from the Legislature to the rural municipalities of the amount of the license collected from autos etc. As the local municipalities have to keep the highways in a good state of repair for those cars it is only right that a refund should be given.

WHY should councillors be elected for only a period of a year? Why not make the term of service a two year period. There are strong reasons in favor of doing so. The ratepayers would probably use greater care in their selection because they would know a misfit would remain there two years. A councillor can do far better work after he gets acquainted and knows what has to be done and how to do it. And why should any man after he has given his time for a year free be obliged to beg the electors to return him? Why should he suffer such humiliation? If councils can arrange the term for two years, providing the people are agreed, then we would suggest that the councils in this district prepare by-laws during the year, and give the people the chance to vote upon the question.

CAPE CROKER

Mr. Basil Cunningham is visiting his numerous friends here. Quite a number of folk, young and old, attended the dance at Mr. Joe Akleva's last Friday night. Father Calot made a flying trip to Warren one day last week to attend the Farmers' Association meeting.

It is very difficult you will see a man like Louis Robinson there. It was far better than the others. Oh! Louis.

Mr. John Scholten was a visitor in the village one day last week. The "Harvard" hockey team is full of glacial blight but still the new organized "Tennishers" have a little more pepper to them.

Mr. Wm. Nadjwon and Joe Akleva made a trip to Warrenton last Saturday. This notice of the date of our concert which is postponed till Feb 2nd instead of Jan 20th, so to allow the Warrenton and Colpo's people to attend were sent. A good programme is in store.

Miss Bertha Johnson is visiting a few days at her grandmother's, Mrs. John Johnson.

The new school at Little Port Elgin is nearly completed. It is likely there will be a few matched exhibition games against some Warrenton teams before the season is over. They will be good ones too.

Mr. A. J. Dineen, Indian Agent, went to Warrenton on business last Saturday. Mr. Henry Jerome our merchant went to Warrenton to do business last Saturday. Mr. John Jones is home again; hope he will stay.

Now is the chance for Mr. Dave Fletcher, the m-jor, to goode and skate in our new rink.

Farmer Pay

By C. C. DUFFIELD

Good farming, good homes and that are coupled with the little farm idea. As small places are apt to have a variety of produce, they stimulate good selling methods. They are a means of developing direct marketing plans by which consumers pay reduced prices for kitchen supplies, while producers receive more than wholesale rates.

A reader who recently bought a new acre farm and had a half hour tour with me to make up an outline for the successful management of his little place. He wishes to keep a team of horses, two or more cows, some poultry and have a wide diversity of production as possible in order to distribute labor evenly.

In nearly every case persons taking small farms are inspired with the need of diversified crops, so that if one thing fails there are other products to keep up the income. I will say right here that many ten acre tracts are maintaining several cows and considerable other live stock, besides allowing room enough for a large production of vegetables and fruit.

A farm of this size may devote two acres to pasture, three acres to corn, two acres to a commercial garden, one acre to orchard, one acre to root crops and the tenth acre to buildings, poultry, pigs, etc. This arrangement will enable the owner to alternate the three acres of ground devoted to corn with the three used for garden and root crops. These products should be given in rotation not only for the purpose of keeping up soil fertility, but as a means of fighting insect pests.

In the acre devoted to orchard there may be about fifty trees, which should include at least apples, pears and cherries. There will then be room for about 200 raspberry and currant bushes among the trees and around the edge of the orchard. The root crops should include carrots, beets, rutabagas and other things of the kind. The three acres of corn will supply roughage for six or eight head of stock, and between the rows rape should be sown so that after the grain has been harvested a number of hogs may graze through the fall months. The plowing can be done before the ground freezes. There will be corn enough to fatten the hogs for the winter market and to feed the horses besides supplying part of the poultry ration.

After crops of lettuce, beans, early potatoes, onions, peas and radishes have been taken off early in the season the garden can be fitted for succession crops, such as cabbage, tomatoes, celery, sweet corn and late potatoes. This program of double cropping can be widely varied. It enables a person to raise twice as much stuff as the ordinary garden producer, and as there is an extra amount of cultivation the soil does not wear out, so far as possible plowing and fertilizing should be done in the fall.

There should be earnings about as follows: Poultry plant for 200 hens, $300; three cows, $400; ten hogs, $150; garden produce, $400; fruit, $200; one horse raised each year, $150; total, $1,450. Each of these estimates of earnings may be enlarged a little, as they are conservative. A little additional income may be gained from the sale of calves. It would also be possible to clean up some money by keeping piglets. An incubator run in connection with the poultry plant ought to increase the earnings of that department by a hundred or two. A gross income up around $2,000 is not unreasonable. There must be paid out about $500 for help in the garden and for mill stuffs for the cows and poultry. If cream is sold or butter made there will be a considerable amount of skimmed milk for the hogs and chickens.

This outline for the guidance of people who are taking little farms. The problem will not be exactly the same in any two cases, and the owner of the farm must figure out methods for himself. A much wider diversity of production is feasible. For instance, twenty or thirty colonies of bees do not take up any room worth quantifying about, but they may add $200 to $300 to the yearly income. It will be found that the above estimate of possible earnings is not far from the mark.

Communication

LEANS HEAD, Jan. 25th, 1915

EDITOR OF THE "ECHO"

Dear Sir,—Please insert the following communication as an answer to Kicker of the Bruce Peninsula News, January 6th.

On returning to Leans Head after being absent three weeks I find quite a communication in the Leans Head paper signed "A Kicker."

Kicker is a new name to me although I thought I was reasonably well acquainted here. Now, Sir, who is Kicker and why is he kicking? It is plain to me, that if Kicker was not altogether brainless he would have found out easily by the township's books and would not have to assume that Mr. Scott had charged to miscellaneous the expenses mentioned by him of the trips to Kincardine and Ottawa, but for Kicker's benefit let me explain that those trips were made to benefit myself and therefore all the expenses were paid by me, and Mr. Scott had no need to get anything charged to miscellaneous. Now, again, who is Kicker? Is he a farmer or an anti-farmer, is he kicking for the farmer or to benefit himself, or is he as a photographer talking for some one else? Kicker's memory must be bad, as he accuses in one place that those expenses were charged to miscellaneous, but further on admits that they were paid by me. He reminds me of the old saying that a good liar needs a good memory. Now, Sir, as to Kicker's curiosity as to why I changed my mind from the proposition at the dock to the $2000 loan to help build a warehouse. After having a petition signed by 390 people of Eastnor I could not get the piece of work mentioned and the whole township or why were they favorable, they must have seen the benefits to be derived by having opposition, they being reliable farmers.

Will now explain to Kicker why Messrs. Scott, Hewton, Hapburn and Waipole, were so anxious to favor my proposition, being all good representatives of the prosperous Township of Eastnor and all being good reliable citizens and prosperous farmers, must have realized that the proposition was beneficial to them and the whole township or why were they favorable, they must have seen the benefits to be derived by having opposition, they being reliable farmers.

Now about that piece of land at dock valued so highly by Kicker, it might be compared with land in the Eastnor Swamp 40 years ago, which was practically useless until I wanted to lease it, then in Kicker's estimation it became a bonanza, but why does Kicker value it so highly now? Is he afraid that by opposition the number of shakels ordinarily received, or his friends would be reduced. Now Kicker, you remind me of the dog in the manger. Are you the farmer's friend, if you are, why do you object to the proposed accommodation at the dock, why the farmers would benefit, and why not give them a free hand to sell where and to whom he chooses without being tied as you well know that any opposition in the business needs a more suitable place, which, as everybody knows, would be to the benefit of the township. Now, Mr. Kicker, are you broad-minded enough to admit the benefits to the producer or are you so snobbish that you would gorge yourself rather than have a bite for your fellow creature. Surely, Kicker, you are not that narrow, are you? As to the other proposition regarding the $3000 to build a warehouse, let me say this: a business proposition, and done as a favor of favors as I agree to "pay" the loan at the rate of $300 per year, with interest, sure, would pay the people of Eastnor to encourage the deal knowing what benefits they have already gained.

Now, Mr. Editor, I defy Kicker or any person else to show me where I borrowed money I did not repay or make a contract I did not fulfill as to comparing the $3000 loan to the warehouse at Leans Head with the Warrenton deal of sugarbeet and cement plants is like comparing an elephant to a mosquito. Kicker does not mention such places as Hamover, Chelvey, and others like them, have been given, not loans, or is Kicker a home bird who knows little and says less, or is he trying to show the dark side of the matter by trying to blindfold the people or acting as a fourflusher or misleader, and tell them that a nice bright day is midnight.

I will now explain to Kicker why Messrs. Scott, Hewton, Hapburn and Waipole, were so anxious to favor my proposition, being all good representatives of the prosperous Township of Eastnor and all being good reliable citizens and prosperous farmers, must have realized that the proposition was beneficial to them and the whole township or why were they favorable, they must have seen the benefits to be derived by having opposition, they being reliable farmers.

Would Kicker expect these gentlemen to be narrow minded like him, would think not as by doing that they would be cutting off their nose to spite their face. Now, again, about this $2000 loan from Township if Kicker knows anything he would know that money is very tight and if I did not borrow from the township would have to get it elsewhere. Kicker also accused me of complaining of being poor, but that is hardly right, but I will certainly confess I am not as rich as some people of Leans Head, as I have not been a beneficiary of any estate or fortune, but my parents always made a good honest living but had nothing to spare for me, and I am trying to travel in their footsteps. I am led to believe that I am appreciated by the producers of Eastnor by petitions and other ways. Why? Because the people benefited to the tune of $12000 or over by my opposition in the grain trade, and realizes that opposition is beneficial and if that is so I would think that one good turn deserves another.

Richards
QUICK NAPHTHA
WOMAN'S SOAP

Now, Mr. Kicker, I don't blame you for kicking as your share of this large sum is a loss which would make anyone kick. Why does Kicker or not find fault with Mr. Hoeser for trusting me with money sufficient to buy the farmer's produce if I had not been entrusted with this money I would have been unable to do business and therefore the farmers would have lost in 1913 the difference between 85c and $1.20 on about 2500 of peas, and again in 1914 a difference from $1.25 to $1.70 on about 18000 bushel of peas. What do you suppose Mr. Editor, would Kicker do if he had 500 bushels of peas sold and lose the difference in price as stated above. I imagine he would then have reason to kick and would very likely kick clean over his head.

Now, Mr. Kicker, if you are reasonable, you will know as well as I do that a warehouse is a necessity and the farmer's friend and that they stand together against the threat of loss and look after themselves for building a warehouse, which is the first step towards opening a market for the risk of building the warehouse is so small compared with the loss. As I have done business with the Peninsula about ten years and made a little money and I have had a good living and found the people of Eastnor would like to continue to do business, but would not like to be crippled for space as I have seen the past.

Although I have made good money this season, owing to the abundance of hauling and lack of space, considerable money has been lost to the farmers, which would not have occurred had there been proper facilities for hauling, but if the public thinks that I am not the right person to fill the bill let them get someone else, but as a friend of the farmer and with my experience of handling grain I would certainly advise you to encourage opposition, whether it might be, and widen your market and receive the benefit very soon. I would not like to see the title to, but don't listen to the like of Kicker who has no principle and manhood enough to sign his name.

Thanking you Mr. Editor for much space in your valuable paper I remain Yours respectfully,

Paul Howard

MILLER LAKE

Frank Steip and M. Sadler were down to McDonald's hall on Monday interviewing the council board in reference to a small grant of money to help extend the telephone line from Stokes Bay to Miller Lake. They report that the board will first see Mr. Gillies to see what he will do.

There was a little mistake in the Miller Lake items last week in referring to the $900 given to the B. P. M. It should have read, that while none of the Miller Lake people were at the meeting that the grant was given, yet we were all satisfied to help boost the railway.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Steip were over to Lions Head on Tuesday. Mrs. Steip was having some dental work.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bryson and their girls who have been visiting friends here for the last month or so left here on Thursday for their home at Heart's. Frank Steip drove them down to Warton.

—On Jan. 14th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Rouse his daughter Cussie was united in marriage to Mr. Jas. Ward, of Brinkman's Corners. The Rev. Mr. Elthorpe, of Fernside, performed the ceremony.

Miss Flora Law, of Pike Bay, came up here on Friday with Frank Steip. She is visiting friends here for a few days.

W. J. Rouse passed through here on Wednesday on his way to Lions Head with a load of wheat.

Mr. and Mrs. John McCullough, of Stokes Bay, were visitors here on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Myles, of Spry, passed through here on Saturday on their way to Brinkman's Corners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Pyke, Mrs. D. Martin, Mrs. J. T. Rouse and Miss Tena McLean went over to Lions Head on Friday evening, and took in a prayer meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Davidson.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McLennan, of Stokes Bay, passed through here on Saturday evening on their way north to visit friends.

Mr. M. Sadler made a business trip to Lions Head on Friday.

Geo. McMaster, Spry's general merchant, was up here Saturday night and Sunday visiting his sister Mrs. J. Holmes.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Each and family went down to Spry to visit friends.

Days Holmes, who was down at Chief's Point helping his brother Robert for a week, came home here on Friday.

Geo. Golden and son Bert, of Tottenham, passed through here on their way home.

Messrs. S. C. Weatherhead and J. R. Ludlow were over to Lions Head on Saturday.

Reeve Forbes has promised to do all he can for us in getting the phone line.

Messrs. John Noble and Frank Steip were over to Dyer's Bay on Saturday.

Maybe a little too early to speak about, but it is a good thing to consider which is better, to work two or three days extra on the road next summer, for less wages and get more gravel on the roads for the same money, or work for the same wages as the last two years and get less gravel on the roads. It is hardly fair to ask the council to do all the economizing, let us think about it.

came up from Warton on Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. S. Hawk at Pine Tree. They went back again on Monday.

Len Bragg, of Lions Head, passed through here on Saturday on his way north.

While Mr. S. Hawk and son Harry were driving on the ice between Brat Cove and Pine on Sunday, their horse went through the ice into about five or six feet of water, but they managed to get him out without any serious mishap.

Almost Every One Needs A Tonic

Almost everyone—men, women and child—needs a tonic at sometime. It is often said that a man is lazy because he takes little or no interest in his work; but the truth is he is not well. He needs a tonic. The same is true of a woman who does not bustle over her home work but only feels fit to be in bed. She is not merely tired, but ill. A dull pain in the head or back, poor appetite, loss of strength with low spirits and loss of interest in life show that you need a tonic to brace up the nerves and give you a new lease of life. The proof is that when the right tonic is taken all the trouble quickly disappears. The one tonic—the only tonic—for weak and ailing men, women and children is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which speedily bring back abundant health, strength and energy. They have done this in thousands and thousands of cases as is proved by the following: Mr. Ed A. Owen, Burdett, Alta., says:—"About two years ago my health was in a wretched condition. My whole system seemed to be run down and the doctor seemed puzzled at my condition. I had no appetite, exertion would leave me exhausted, and I was troubled with dizziness. All the medicine I took did me no good and I was gradually growing weaker. My mother urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and before I had taken them, very long I began to feel like a new man and continuing their use I was restored to complete health. I now recommend them to all run down to health as they are the best medicine I know of."

Sold by all medicine dealers, or by mail at 60 cents a box or six for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Mr. W. Temple arrived home from Southampton accompanied by Miss Olive, who was visiting there.

Baby's Battles

Baby's battles for health can be easily won if the mother will patiently keep at hand the means of aiding her little ones when the emergency arises. Baby's Own Tablets should be found in every home where there are small children. The tablets are a gentle but thorough laxative. They break up colds; relieve cramps; prevent constipation; cure indigestion; promote sleep and in fact cure all the minor ills of little ones. They are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

There's nothing better than the old fashioned brand of home-made charity.

Must Be on the W. W.
"Oh haven't a thing to-day," remarked Casey, "but a glass of milk and Ol' drink that."

Skin Soft as a Child's
I never a great suffer from eczema and salt rheum for years. I write Mr. John W. Mann, of Lunenburg, N. S. "Five years ago three boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment cured me and the trouble never returned. My skin is soft as a child's now, and I shall always say a good word for this ointment."

AN UNUSUAL OFFER

Owing to the large number of people who are annually deceived and in fact robbed by fakers who canvas the town and country, selling enlargements of Photographs, and in order to introduce to the public a line of enlarged photos which possess very great artistic value and can at any time be obtained at a lower price than is commonly charged for inferior work, we are induced to make the following offer.

Beginning the 1st of February we will give one of our beautiful bromide enlargements with every $3.00 purchase of cabinet photographs at regular prices. Enlargements will be mounted ready for framing and we can supply a suitable frame for the sum of $1.00, but it is entirely optional with you whether you take a frame or not. This offer is good only during the month of February. Do not neglect or delay but make an appointment at once.

H. E. McDONALD, - PHOTOGRAPHER

Last week Mr. J. W. Jermyn met with a slight accident. He was crossing the street, and being somewhat deaf, could not hear a passing rig, and in some mix up the rig struck and threw him to the ground. He suffered quite a shock, but fortunately that was all.

Gordon Haulon, Stratford, was in town a few weeks ago and represented himself from Chicago, and was an agent for a carpet sweeper. He stopped at the Pacific, but skipped out without paying a board bill of $17. Constable Ward got after him and soon located him in Owen Sound. He was brought back, and it simply cost him $10 for expenses, so it pays to be honest.

Applications wanted

Applications will be received by the undersigned up to Feb. 5th, 1915 for the position of Secretary Treasurer of the Winton Agricultural Society state salary required.

L. Lennox Sec.

The series of revival meetings being held in the Baptist Church will end on Friday evening this week and it is understood they have been very successful. The service Sunday evening were well attended by a large and interested audience. The preacher, the Rev. H. Mulhoney, Owen Sound, has been very popular with the congregation, and he has a most attractive manner. He has been very ably assisted by the Pastor the Rev. Mr. Bradford.

There was a most successful social held at the residence of Mr. E. A. Carvers, Colpoys Monday Evening under the auspices of Trinity church. About five large sleigh loads from Winton went out while the whole neighborhood were there. There was a most excellent musical program with Miss Ebert presiding at the piano. After the program refreshments were served and the amount realized was $38 and more than this every one had a good time.

The Woodmen of the World held a most successful at home in the town hall last Wednesday. It was well attended and the music furnished by the local orchestra for the dancing was of a high order.

The Chief would do well to stand on guard at the corner of Bedford and George streets Sunday night immediately after the churches out. The crowds congregate too much at this corner and last Sunday night there was too much noise.

The Owen Sound Advertiser is authority for the following:—Winton is to have a new industry known as the Woolen and Knitting Mills. A charter has been granted to that company with a capitalization of $50,000.

The death occurred at Hayworth last week of Robert Hall, aged 78 years, and one of the oldest and most highly respected residents of the village. The deceased was working at some legal documents, when he was stricken with a pain in the region of the heart and succumbed within five minutes. The late Mr. Hall was a gentleman of the old type all too rare now in our country, whose word could always be depended upon, and who would not do an injustice to another. The funeral services were held last Saturday and were largely attended.

Judge Barrett Dead

A despatch to the daily press from Walkerton, Jan. 28, said: Judge William Barrett, Senior Judge of the county of Bruce, died at the Walkerton Hospital this afternoon after a short illness. The Judge underwent a minor operation at the hospital on Wednesday of last week, from which he never recovered, the shock apparently being too great for his rickety system. He was seventy-three years of age. Besides his wife, the deceased is survived by one daughter, Mrs. C. F. Bate of Brampton, and three sons, Dr. Lawrie of Galt, Ethelbert of St. Paul and Walter of New York. The funeral will take place at the Walkerton Cemetery Saturday.

Judge Barrett began his law practice as a barrister in 1868. He was appointed Junior Judge of Bruce county in September, 1885, and became Senior Judge in April, 1893. In 1902 he married Mrs. Anne Wilkes, widow of his Honor Judge Wilkes. He was a resident of Walkerton for more than forty years, having previously been in business in Durham. He was an excellent Judge, well thought of all over the country. He was always interested in all public events, especially those affecting the county of Bruce. In the matter of sports he was an ardent fisherman. He had a summer home at Southampton, where he used to spend three months every year, doing his business from there. Last summer his health did not permit him to go there as usual, but a sojourn at Battle Creek appeared to do him only temporary benefit.

Owen Sound Juniors Win

On Monday night the Owen Sound Juniors got away with a 10-1 score in a lively game of hockey here. The game was delayed in starting until about 9:30 on account of the special train which they came in on being stalled in the wild snow storm which had been blowing all day. But after a long wait the crowd who had gathered to witness the game, forgot all about the cold when the game started. The first half the locals kept the visitor busy stopping shots, but they failed to land one in the nets and at half time the Owen Sounders had scored three. In the second half Parker got away and landed the only goal that Walkerton got. They have a good fast team and play excellent team work, and are to be congratulated in winning their district.

PURPLE VALLEY

Stormy is right. Mr. Russell Holler spent Sunday morning with friends in the valley. Messrs. Russell Holler and Willie Crawford spent Sunday evening with friends in town. Miss J. Everett spent Saturday at Colpoys. The box social held on Friday evening was a decided success. The proceeds being $57.20. Messrs. King, Murray, Gilbert and Ewing, of Walkerton, provided an excellent programme with the assistance of the Purple Valley choir. Miss Tillie Crawford is spending a few days at her home here. Mr. Peter Grant, of Gowanda, is visiting Mr. E. Ashcroft. Mr. Hays, of Cape Chin, is renewing acquaintances in the vicinity. Mr. Scott, of Toronto, called on Mr. Chas. Gilbert last week. Mrs. Chas. Jones, Cape Croker, spent the week end with her sister Mrs. G. Hunt. Mr. A. Hepburn called at the store Sunday on his way up to Urshott's camp where Mr. Herb Gilbert has enlisted. Mr. Earl McVann attended the box social here Friday evening. Earl thinks $4.95 rather to steep for him but not for Percy.

The Best Firm

A pretty good firm is Watch and Wait and another is Attila, Early and Layla. And still another is Doo and Deert. But the best is probably Grip and Barrett.

The First Carnival

Carnivals are still a success, and the first one of the season, held last Friday night was well attended, and about one hundred maskers participated in the excitement. Children like a carnival and so do the grown ups. There is something to band music, particularly when it is the Cape Croker band, and they poured out the real thing that night. You should just hear the Cape band play "It's a long way to Tipperary" it sets you all in a jingle. And then the costumes, pretty and grotesque, and the whirl of the skaters all make the scene attractive. The Judges Messrs. Kettlewell, McClure and McElroy had a difficult task in awarding the prizes but their decision was final and apparently very satisfactory. The prize winners were:

1. Best dressed couple—Miss Minnie Shepley and Mr. Homer Shaver, Shallow Lake, prize Electric Light Shade
2. Best dressed Lady, Miss Clara Miller, prize. One pair silk hose
3. Best Dressed Gent, Mr. Alvin Laidler, prize. Safety razor
4. Best dressed girl, Miss Hazel Cunningham, Hepworth, prize Neck scarf.
5. Best dressed boy, Wilfred Newman, prize. Puck and stick
6. Special prize for best dressed boy, Robert Westfield, Scarf pin
7. Best lady skater, Miss Lina Durst, prize 1 pair of moccasins
8. 2 mile race, Jack Parker, prize Umbrella.
9. Best dressed boy or girl under 12 years, Misses Barbara Trout and W. Craue, prize. box of bonbons.
10. Best costume representing England, France, Russia or Belgium, Miss Lizzie Shepley, Shallow Lake, prize. Fruit dish and silver spoon.
11. Best comic, Joe S'rucke, prize Thermos bottle.
12. Special to farmer, bringing in biggest haul of people to the rink from out of town, K. E. Craue, prize, one whip.

KEMBLE

A large number from here took in the last meeting in Sarawak Presbyterian church on Thursday evening and report a good time. Mr. Will Perkins and Alf Dawson of this place took in the Hockey match at Walkerton Wednesday evening of last week. Mr. Will Crampton's sale was largely attended despite the stormy weather, everything was sold at a very high price. We are pleased to see Rev. Mr. Frazier in the village again. He gave us a grand pedigree of the Kaiser which a number of us will not forget.

Miss Olga Husband entertained a large number of her friends Tuesday evening of last week. Miss G. Graham of North Kippure spent a few days with Mrs. J. West recently. Charles Johnston our general merchant spent Sunday in Owen Sound. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown, bride and groom of Presque Isle were here for the entertainment Friday evening. We are sorry to report Mrs. Wm. McGregor is not much improved at time of writing. Miss Agnes of Owen Sound spent a few days with her friend Miss Olga Husband. Bert Lin of East Linton spent Sunday with his sister here. Mr. and Mrs. R. Smith and family of Yellow Grass Sask. are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. J. Beckett.

OXENDEN

We extend sympathy to Mrs. W. Lemcke in her illness and hope soon to hear of her recovery. George Lang spent a few days in Harrison last week and returned Saturday to John Ferguson's where he is sojourning at present. Some of our young people attended the carnival in Walkerton last week. The league concert in aid of the Red Cross fund on Friday evening was quite a success. Wm. Lemcke is busy taking out barn number at present.

Communication

Editor of THE ECHO Sir.—When in Owen Sound a few days ago, I had the pleasure of calling on an old Walkerton boy, in the person of Mr. Kelso, Principal of Victoria School, who was a school chum of my youth some forty-six years ago, our families then living in adjoining houses on Bedford Street where the Arlington Hotel now stands.

Victoria School is a fine school building of eleven rooms and is situated on Fourth Avenue West. It was built a couple of years ago at a cost of $45,000. I was much impressed with the school grounds and devices provided for the amusement of the pupils. Swings, horizontal bars, and an open air rink. The rink is free, and while there I saw some seventy or more enjoying themselves on the ice. I understand the Council supply the light and water free. These devices have a tendency to keep children off the streets and thus provide a safe place for boys and girls to enjoy themselves. Mr. Kelso taught near Walkerton some thirty years ago, and on the Peninsula some twenty years ago and always interested himself in the sports of the boys and girls. Thanking you Mr. Editor for the valuable space in your paper. Old Resident.

LIONS HEAD

Dr. H. Wigle, of Walkerton, made a professional visit here Tuesday of last week in consultation with Dr. Charles, who was called on to attend Mr. Clark Bridge, who was seriously ill. He is doing nicely and is able to sit up. A number of young people from Lindsay attended the ball given by the Boys' Club in the town hall last Friday. All report a good time. Samuel and George Warren are attending the County Orange Lodge at Altonford this week. Capt. Clark Sanderson is giving a masquerade carnival this week. February came in with a storm from the north east, and very cold and blustery. County Constable R. Ward and B. B. Miller were here on business on Monday and Tuesday. Court was held here on Tuesday in connection with the liquor license act. Some who were violating the act were summoned to appear in court.

The farmers are busy rushing wood into the village. Green wood at $1.50 and dry wood $2.00 per cord. Miss Bowden, who was nursing in this vicinity the last week or more returned to Walkerton this week. Born—On Jan. 22, to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Hurd, of Kinloss, a son. James Parker made a business trip to Walkerton last Thursday and Friday returning on Monday. A special bargain at R. E. W. Packard's for two weeks in February to reduce stock in chinaware, jewelry, clocks, fancy goods, patent medicines, pipes etc. He also has a good supply of school books and stationery and other goods. Call and inspect before buying elsewhere and be convinced. Some of the people who contributed to the patriotic fund would like to know what is being done with the proceeds that were received from the oats that were sold and how the money is being used. We understand that George McLean was laid up for a few days this week. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rouse, of McCallum's Corners, passed through here last week on their way to and from Walkerton. The frosty nights of last week covered the bay with ice but the east wind on Sunday and Monday broke it into particles. Wally Menary returned to the village last week after a couple of weeks visit to Tobemorey. J. H. Scott, representing Northrop & Lyman Co., Toronto, called on the merchants here last Wednesday.

Who Will Succeed Judge Barrett

There should be only one answer to this question—Judge Klein. The law of promotion should govern the appointment just the same as in any other walk in life, but sometimes it does not. There have been instances, if we are not in error, where others have been appointed the Senior Judge and the Junior Judge has been allowed to keep his position. Judge Klein has been on the bench in Bruce County for a number of years. He is well and most favorably known, his decisions have invariably been regarded as the correct interpretation of law, and his promotion would be popular in the county. Another point which will be no doubt as pointed out if the general custom is followed that gentlemen will be an outsider as it is generally conceded that a barrister who has practiced in the county would often be an embarrassing position were he appointed Judge.

TOBERMORY

Mrs. George Butchart is very ill but with good care it is hoped she will be well again soon. Mrs. Archie Currie with her two sons Willard and Simpson are up visiting at Mr. W. J. Simpson, light-house keeper of Cove Isle, who is Mrs. Currie's only brother. Let us sure the people of Tobemorey are glad to have her visit them again. Born—To Mr. and Mrs. George Butchart a son. Mr. Harry Martin is very ill at present. Mr. Wm. Gillies has returned home as has also Mr. H. Murphy.

Death of our young soldier boy

Deceased at Tobemorey Jan. 23rd, at 11:30 a.m. Dennis S. M. Butchart, beloved son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Butchart, aged 17 years 7 months and 15 days. When war broke out last August, and the soldiers under Major Fletcher and Capt. Clark were sent to Tobemorey to guard the wireless station, Dennis joined them on Aug. 14th and remained with them till Nov. 11th, when he was forced to leave on account of sickness. Dennis's bright and genial nature won for him many kind friends where ever he went and through all his illness he never murmured or complained and up to the last was improving in health only for his heart which has bothered him more or less since his infancy and from which he succumbed. He is mourned by a large circle of friends and besides his parents two sisters mourn for a departed brother, Mrs. John Cook and Cora at home. He was buried by the Soldiers and Orphanage of which the deceased was a member, the casket was completely covered by the soldiers Union Jack, and his cap, belt and arms were laid on the top also many beautiful flowers including a wreath from his boy chums. The pall bearers were six of his chums, Charlie and Bert Golden, Ed. Renne, Andrew Hopkins, Willie Davis and Alex. Young, who carried the body to the Orange Hall, where the funeral service was preached by Rev. Mr. Hyde, the Oranangen and soldiers marched in a body to Dunke Bay cemetery where Dennis was laid in his last resting place and after the Oranangen had conducted their funeral rites the soldiers lined up at the side of the grave and fired three volleys over the body of their departed friend. Those bereaved have the sympathy of the community as this is the third in less than three years, first Ross died on May 1st 1912 then Louisa Feb. 25th 1914, now Dennis Jan. 23rd 1915. The funeral was the largest ever held in Tobemorey showing the love and esteem in which the departed was held.

The Town Council

There was a communication read from Mr. Nash, Owen Sound. Monday evening, wanting the taxes of the woollen mill, which now amounts to $140, cancelled if he secures an important industry for the town. Should he land the industry he will no doubt get the refund.

There was an anonymous letter read signed "Bread Winner" complaining that the weight of the bread now being sold is light, but as the letter was anonymous no notice of it was taken. It was remarked that bread was selling in other towns for 6 and 7 cents, whereas the price in Walkerton is 5 cents.

There were a number of offers for the debentures and one at $97.65 with accrued interest, which was regarded as exceedingly good in view of the money market.

Mr. R. E. Trout stated to the council that the Dramatic Club wanted to buy a piano and put it in the town hall, and to have the same privileges as the owner of the piano now there, and when the piano is paid for it will become the property of the town. This request was granted. He also requested the use of the council chamber for practices for the orchestra, which was also granted, the only charge being a nominal one for heating. He further stated that the fire brigade needed 22 pairs of suits, 10 more coats 2 nozzles and 200 feet of hose.

A petition was read from a number of teamsters in the town requesting that a tax be put upon outside teamsters who come in and compete with them. It was stated that this competition takes place during the dull seasons, such as drawing ice etc., and as these men do not pay taxes in the town they are not entitled to this privilege. This petition created considerable discussion. Those who advocated it claimed that the teamsters were as much entitled to protection as the merchants, but others argued that this was a tax upon labor, and that the only way this could be done was for all the teamsters to be compelled to take out a license. The matter was referred to committee.

ADAMSVILLE

Come Adamsville, brighten up and get something doing. Mr. Harry Boyle took in the box social at Purple Valley and report a good time. There were quite a number from Hope Bay and Adamsville took in the party at Andrew Holler's McIvor, and it was a decided success. Miss Josie Forbes spent Sunday afternoon with Miss Ida Hepburn. Willie Holler and Vasty Urshott called on W. Crowe Sandus. Miss B. Kay spent Sunday at Mar with her parents. Fred Balls Jr. visited friends at Melvor on Sunday. Jim Richardson and sister Esther Hope Bay, called on Mr. G. Richardson Sunday. The fox will have to keep hidden now as Charlie is around again.

Last night (Wednesday) the final game between Walkerton and Chesley was played in the latter place and the boys handed out a pretty sour lemon to the team there. 3 to 1 half time, and 9 to 1 full time, but as we have already remarked business is business and we have full steam on now heading for Berlin.

10 CENT "CASCARETS" IF BILIOUS OR COSTIVE

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—They work while you sleep.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Bilious Bile and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a still barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—Indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

WE BOW TO RUSSIA.

Slavic Influence on Fashions
Is Quite Marked at Present.

SMART NEW COAT.

The Russian note is strong in fashion. The coat illustrated here exemplifies this. It is of black broadcloth of marked length and with a well defined flare. Collar, cuffs and broad belt are of velvet. The latter is embroidered on the front, with a design showing interlaced acorns. Worn with it are one of the new high crowned velvet hats and smart walking boots.

Girl's Silk Hat.

There is a hat similar to Cmus's silk hat designed for little girls. It is trimmed with a tiny stickup and is chic for the morning or afternoon promenade. For small girls there is a fascinating hat something on the order of a garden bonnet. It is trimmed with roses and has streamers at the back. A small girl's winter coat has raglan sleeves. These coats will cover the frock and button tight to the throat.

New Black Lingerie.

Black lingerie is a new thing. It is made of chiffon and lace, like the delectable of pink and white lingerie, and it is quite as elaborate as its colored predecessors. Sometimes, too, black lace is used in fresh pink chiffon. All sorts of negligee garments are made in black chiffon and lace, usually chastely. And they are not morning garments either, but simply in line with the new black lingerie.

Smart Winter Wrap.

Tunics and draperies have brought the demand for short coats to be worn therewith. Here is one of the newest and prettiest. The extra back is loose to give a cape effect. The sleeves are in raglan style. In the picture the material is hunter's green sabeline, with trimming of black fur.

SMART WINTER WRAP.

black fur. The model is a good one for lightweight chiffon velvet, however, and for almost all the fashionable suitings.

For the medium size the coat will require three and three-quarter yards of material, green sabeline, with two and three-eighths yards of fur banding.

Thanksgiving Table Decorations.
A very effective arrangement of flowers for a Thanksgiving dinner consists of a large platter filled with pompano chrysanthemums for a centerpiece, with small glass baskets filled with the same pompano chrysanthemums in yellow and bronze shades at intervals around the centerpiece. The favors for the ladies should be bouquets of the pompano chrysanthemums and buttonholes of white chrysanthemums for the men.

EVENING WRAP.

Stately Garment to Slip on Over the Evening Costume.

BROADCLOTH EVENING WRAP.

This stunning new evening wrap is of broadcloth with deep gathered insert of gold lace from shoulder to hips. The standing collar is trimmed with bands of skunk.

WHY POPCORN POPS.

Why popcorn pops is not fully understood. Formerly it was supposed that the popping resulted from the expansion of oil in the kernel on being heated, but more probably it is due to the expansion of moisture contained in the starch cells. The moisture expands when heated with sufficient force to cause an explosion of the cells, and the kernel turns completely inside out, enveloping the embryo and hull. Probably the expansion of the air within the seed coat also plays some part in the process.

TWO IN ONE.

Simple Frock Which is Susceptible of Widely Different Treatments.

Mothers on the lookout for a simple, plain little school frock will like this dress made with kimono body portion and straight plaited skirt.

Those who are seeking a more dressy frock will appreciate the addition of the overblouse with tunic effect shown on the figure. In this picture this latter is made of figured challis and plain batiste, but there are many materials that can be put together in the same way.

For the ten year old the dress will require four and one-eighth yards of material, twenty-seven inches wide, with two and seven-eighths yards, twenty-seven inches wide for the tunic and trimming.

OPEN YOUR HANDS.

Open your hands, ye whose hands are full. The world is waiting for you. Give and spend and be sure that God will send, for only in giving and spending do you fulfill the object of his sending.—J. G. Holland.

BRUCE COUNTY can afford $15,000 per year to the patriotic fund while the war lasts.

CHESLEY has secured an order for $100,000 worth of shrapnel shells. This will give employment to 90 men until October. The special machinery to make this shrapnel costs about $12,000.

WALKERTON is the cheapest place in the county to obtain board for at the House of Refuge can be obtained at $1.62 per week. This is not a special bargain price, good for so many days, but regular rates.

THE senior hockey team played in Chesley last night. A few days ago it was learned that one of the team had to leave Toronto to-day and an effort was made with Chesley to have the game played Tuesday night, but it could not be done. Some one there needs to learn to be a sport.

ON account of the storm we did not get the daily papers two days this week, and we thought the time long whereas eleven years ago we were without them nearly three weeks. At that time we were anxious for war news, too, for the war was then on between Japan and Russia, now these nations are practically allies and with nations so often it is with individuals.

IN order to save parents the trouble of writing notes to the teachers explaining how their children happen to be late, The Echo could run off a few hundred copies like the following leaving the dates blank that is, if there would be any demand for them. Don't teacher—As we were out last night and slept a little late this morning you will kindly excuse John or Mary for being late.—Signed mother for daddy is not up yet.

THE first cheque for compensation paid out of the workmen's compensation fund established under the act of last session was issued by the commission Monday morning. The money goes to the widow of John Peterson, a foreigner who was killed at Cornwall several weeks ago. The workman before his death had a wage of $45 a month and his widow and six children will now receive a pension of 55 per cent of that amount.

DISCARD ROBBER HENS.

Unprofitable Fowls Should Be Eliminated From the Flock.
(Prepared by Cornell department of poultry husbandry.)

This winter when the prices of eggs are soaring it is well to consider whether or there are hens in the flock that are consuming more feed than the returns in the egg basket warrant. Frequently 25 to 50 per cent of the birds have been eliminated from flocks by members of the department of poultry husbandry at Cornell without reducing the total daily egg yield. The birds that were eliminated were robber hens, because they reduced the profits from the remainder of the flock, which would have required less labor, less feed and less house room. The time to select hens for breeding purposes is in the fall rather than in the spring.

At this time only the more productive individuals are laying, and the characteristics that distinguish the productive from the unproductive are more easily seen. These characteristics are the condition of the comb, the shape of the body, the size and color of the comb, the color of the shanks and the actions of the birds. A study of the three year trap nest records of many White Leghorn fowls at Cornell shows that the most productive fowls, if selected at the end of the first year's laying, will be likely to lay an average production equal to the average egg yield of the entire flock in the first year. These records also show that a was selection of the most desirable individuals at the end of the second year will lay on the average as many eggs per bird as the entire flock did per bird in the second year. Especially high producing individuals of the first year are likely to lay more eggs in the third year than they did in the second year. When farmers realize these facts a great many robber hens will be used for breeding purposes. It is important that the best individuals should be selected and kept for not less than two or three years. These older fowls have proved to be most desirable for breeding purposes. They lay larger eggs, are in better condition for breeding in the spring than pullets and show by their ability to lay and to remain vigorous that they have inherited a tendency to long life and vitality. These are some of the characteristics that must be perpetuated in breeding hens for high egg production.

The selection of males for breeding purposes is of as great importance as the selection of females. Not more than two or three males out of every hundred reared usually need to be retained for breeders. Males differ as widely in vigor and breeding value as do females. They can be graded for quality as easily and as accurately as pullets or hens. Pullets that fail to lay before late winter or early spring should be discarded as breeders.

The dirty feed pail is the killer of the calf. There is no reason to doubt that the great majority of calves which die before they are two months old are killed because of poisoning or in digestion, traceable to unclean feed pails. If it is worth attempting to raise calves, surely it is worth while to have the utensils thoroughly clean.

Cows giving milk consume about twice as much water as those not giving milk. One of the experiment stations found that the average amount of water consumed for each pound of milk produced was a little over four and one-half pounds.

Dairy cows do not need a great amount of exercise. Their business is producing milk, and their milk-making machinery will exercise itself if it is given plenty of good material with which to work.

When you think of buying another cow or two consider whether or not you could not make more money by spending the money on better care of the cows you already possess.

McIVER

A number from here took in the hockey match in Warton last Wednesday night and reported that it was a very interesting game.

Herman Holler and Miss Clara left for Lions Head after spending almost a week with relatives in this locality.

E. Urbahott did business in town Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Holler left here for West Monitor where they will stay for about a month before starting for the west where they will reside.

Miss Eva Holler gave a party last Monday evening in honor of her cousin, Dave Holler and his bride. There were about twenty-five of his cousins present, and those from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Speer, Toronto; Herman Holler and Miss Clara, of Hanover. It was a very enjoyable party and they kept the floor warm till morning.

Mr. A. Hepburn, accompanied by Miss I. Evert, took a very pleasant drive to F. Urbahott's last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Schales and family also Miss E. Tyndall, attended church at Purple Valley last Sunday morning.

Dalton Wright with his gramophone accompanied by McInure and Percy Pender called on A. Holler Thursday last. Dalr certainly has some good pieces, come again Dalton.

It is said that Russell Holler with his team took the biggest load of elm logs to Sydney Bay that has been taken there for some time the number of feet being 2000. He took it from the skidway to the shore without any trouble, so, who ever can beat this has a chance to do so out of the same bush.

Bruce County Council

The opening Session of the County Council for this year was held at Warton.
Commencing as per statute on Tuesday afternoon. All members were present and proceeded at once to elect a Warden.

Those nominated were Messrs. Izard,
Port Elgin; Murdoch, Lindsay; Filinger, Carleton Place; Wilkinson, Warton; and Hunter Kincaid, Twp.; McNab, Warton; McConnell, Saugeen; Kastner, Warton; and Douglas, Warton.

Messrs. Izard, Murdoch, Filinger, Wilkinson, Hunter, Kastner and Douglas residing leaving the field to Messrs.
McConnell and McNab.

McConnell received 30 votes on the first vote and McNab 12 thereby electing McConnell.

On taking the chair Mr. McConnell thanked the members for the honor done him and outlined many matters of importance likely to come before Council this year.

The Warden then named a Committee of Messrs. McNab, J. Hunter, Kastner, Brown, Scott, Filinger, Wilkinson, Douglas, Philan, and Nesbitt to strike
the opening Council for the year.

The standing committee for the year were then selected as follows:

FINANCE
Messrs. Brown, McNab, Murdoch, Nesbitt, Forbes, Doering and Kastner.

ROAD AND BRIDGE
Messrs. Philan, J. A. Hunter, Coss, Filinger, Whitcher, Wilkinson, Willoughby, Kuntz and Johnston.

EQUALIZATION AND SALARIES
Messrs. Izard, Ballachew, Wm. Hunter, Sinclair, Walters, Malrough and D. A.
McDonald.

PETITIONS AND LAWS
Messrs. Scott, Craig, D. B. McDonald,
Burns and Dolson.

EDUCATION AND PRINTING
Messrs. Douglas, Grant, Dunn, Murdoch, Burns, Doering and Kastner.

PROPERTY
Messrs. Nesbitt, Kuntz, Ballachew, Mal-rough and Izard.

WARDENS
Messrs. D. A. McDonald, Craig and D.
B. McDonald.

HOUSE OF REFUGE
Messrs. McNab, Filinger and the Warden.

Communications were read from the officers of the Belgian Relief Fund and the Red Cross Society thanking the Council for the liberal grants made to those funds at the December Session.

Messrs. W. J. Taylor and H. McLaren were re-appointed Municipal Auditors.

Messrs. McNab and N. Robertson were re-appointed Auditors of Criminal Justice Accounts.

High School Trustees were elected as follows: For Warton H. K. Thos. Dixon; For Port Elgin H. S. N. McMillan;
For Chesley H. M. C. J. Mickle; For Warton H. S. E. A. Pickard; For Kincaid H. S. A. M. Smith.

The usual grants were made of $75 to each Agricultural Society; $25.00 to each Farmers and Women's Institute; $5.00 to each Rural School Library having at least 100 volumes where the money before voted for this purpose have been applied to the purchase of books only; $15.00 to each Public Library having under 150 volumes and $30.00 to each Library having 150 volumes or over.

A change was made as to payment of those grants now to be paid before the 15th of November.
Treasurers will kindly note this and to avoid much useless correspondence.

The question as to grant for Patriotic purposes was before the Council. There appeared no difference of opinion about it but the amount and application raised some discussion. The Finance Committee brought in a report on this that while they believed this prosperous County should contribute one mill on the dollar. They recommended that one half mill be raised this year and leave it to next year Council to raise another half mill next year if required. This report was adopted. $10,000 of this amount to go to the Canadian Patriotic Fund, $2,000 to the Canadian Red Cross Fund and the balance to the Belgian Relief Fund, the amount to the Patriotic Fund to be paid in 10 equal monthly instalments commencing in March and the Red Cross and Belgian amounts to be paid quarterly.

M. D. Robertson, K. C. and H. W.
Lay of Warton, were present and Mr.
Robertson introduced Mr. Angus, M. P. of Montreal, Hon. Sec. of the Patriotic Fund, who explained the object and working of this fund, showing how it was used to maintain the families of soldiers at the front and how this was done through local Committees where the different families reside so the local men could see just what each family required, how many in it and all about it. In this way each family got its proper share and the cost of administering the fund reduced to a minimum.

Judge Barrett wrote the Council asking that a Court Stenographer be appointed as the trial of cases was much delayed by not having one and cases were could not be nearly so well tried. The answer to County in form of jury, witnesses and others would more than amount to the salary. The Council appointed a committee to arrange this and an appointment was made at a salary of $400.

Mr. T. J. Macdonald, Commission-
ment School, and Mr. K. D. of Midway School, were appointed on the Board of Pain in the Head, Stomach, Bowels, etc., and all the ailments of the digestive system.

Address on receipt of price. This formula, dated
No. 25, St. Catharines, Ontario.

Examples.

The usual grants to assisted school were made.

Messrs. Nesbitt and Philan asked that a foot bridge be built on the Cargill bridge but Council declined to do so as other bridges in which County is interested have not such works.

The usual grant of $500 was made to four Northern Twp. on motion of Messrs.
Forbes and Mann.

A grant of 25c per day was made to each member of a local company drilling at company headquarters, not to exceed $5 per man.

Mr. Whitcher of Altonville claimed his Twp. was over assessed and asked to have the matter adjusted. The question will be considered.

The gaol surgeon reported that the Turnkey was seriously ill and required an operation. It is expected to be part of the responsibilities of the County this year was authorized.

The report of the Keeper and Physician of the House of Refuge showed 23 inmates and that the average cost per week of each person last year was $1.62. The reports of the Physician and House Committee complimented Mr. and Mrs. Wiles, the Keeper and Matron, for the manner in which they were discharging their duties.

The Council heard with regret of the death of His Honor Judge Barrett. All the members were more or less acquainted with him and many and deep were the expressions of regret heard on every side.
A committee was appointed to convey the condolences of the Council to Mrs. Barrett and family.

The Council concluded its work on Friday and adjourned to meet in Kincaid on Monday the 31st at 7.30 p.m.
P. A. MALCOLMSON, Co. Clerk.

$25.00 FOR
A LETTER*CAN YOU WRITE ONE?*Thirteen Prizes to be Awarded
In a Letter Writing Competition.

Thirteen prizes to be awarded in a letter writing
competition.

None years ago the Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Co., of Brockville, Ont., offered a series of prizes to residents of the province of Ontario for the best letters describing cures wrought by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

Hundreds of letters were submitted in this competition and yet there must have been thousands of other cures of the pills which do not avail themselves of the opportunity to win a prize. To all these another letter writing competition is offered.

The objects of cures through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have never been reported. These will furnish the material for the letter to be written in this contest. There is no demand upon the imagination; every letter must deal with facts and facts only.

The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., of Brockville, Ont., will award a prize of $25.00 for the best letter received on or before the 1st day of March, 1915, from residents of Ontario, on the subject—
"Why I recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills." A prize of $10.00 will be awarded for the second best letter received; a prize of $5.00 for the third best letter, and a prize of $2.00 each for the next ten prizes.

The conditions

The cure or benefit from the use of Dr.
Williams' Pink Pills described in the letter may be in the writer's own case or in that has come under his or her personal observation.

More than one cure may be described in the letter, but every statement must be truthful and absolutely true.

Every letter must be signed by the full name and correct address of the person describing the cure. It is desirable that the signature of the writer be on the letter, but if not, it must also be signed by the person whose cure is described as a guarantee of the truth of the statement made.

The writer of each letter must state the name and date of the paper in which he or she saw this announcement.

Winning letters will not win the prize unless they have a good case to describe. The strength of the recommendation and not the style of the letter will be the basis of the award.

It is understood that the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. shall have the right to publish any letter entered in this contest if they desire to do so without giving a prize or not.

The contest will close on March 1st, 1915 and the prize will be awarded as soon as possible thereafter. Do not delay. If you know of a cure write NOW.
Observe the above conditions carefully or your letter may be thrown out.

Address all letters as follows:
The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co.,
Brockville, Ont.
Letter reaches Department.

Rural Depopulation

(Weekly Note)

The statistics of population gathered by the Ontario Department of Agriculture from the returns of municipal assessors have been proved by the Dominion census a trustworthy source of information.

They showed, according to an analysis made by the same department, that from 1911 to 1913 the rural or township population of Old Ontario decreased in forty counties 30,185 and increased in five counties 2,048. There was a net loss in two years of 27,139.

The tide seems to have turned. Comparing the statistics of township population in these counties taken from the census reports of last spring, with the statistics of 1913 it appears that only twenty-two counties show the following losses:

Brace	966
Dufferin	185
Dundas	145
Elgin	405
Frontenac	115
Grey	402
Hastings	52
Horon	499
Langton	498
Lennox	250
Leeds	87
Levins and Addington	186
Manitowlin	108
Muskoka	118
Norfolk	49
Northumberland	281
Peel	314
Perry	129
Prince Edward	430
Simcoe	140
St. Lawrence	125

The following counties show gains:

Algoma	187
Brant	608
Carleton	2,465
Essex	449
F. Ontario	659
Haldimand	189
Hilton	378
Kent	20
Lincoln	1,991
Madison	180
Ontario	500
Orillia	268
Perth	75
Peterborough	112
Simcoe	187
St. Catharines	384
Waterloo	50
Welland	225
Wellington	1,679
Windsor	322
W. York	1,260
York, including the twp. of	1,132

The township population, therefore, increased during the year 1913-14 by 9,099.

The condition of the farm population, however, is not favorable. An increase in Ontario County's due to the inclusion of the inmates of the asylum in Kent Whip.

The gains in Carleton, Brant, Middlesex, Wentworth, York are due almost entirely to urban overflow. The gains in Lincoln and Welland casual.
There is probably an error in the figures for Russell as there is no town in Durham, which ascribe a loss of nearly five hundred to the township of Hope.

The change in the movement of the farm population, which is clear in the figures for the counties removed from public works and urban overflow is due to the attraction of credit to the early of 1913. It proves that the main motive of rural depopulation was the pursuit of gain. Although we are sure that the movement reports for 1913 and succeeding years will show an increase of the farm population, we are not hopeful that the rate which makes us living by extortion will become less serious or turn it ought to the commission of measures to increase the profit of farm industry.

We are very sorry to hear that Mr.
M. Melvill is at present in a (wen Sound hospital. May he soon be able to come home again.

Mr. Archie Amos has moved his family back to the farm, having finished lumbering at Cameron Lake.

Mr. Will Lynch made a flying trip

Miss R. Wardrop of Stokes Bay is visiting her sister Mrs. Will Lynch of this place.

Mr. Will Tyndall did business at Cameron Lake last Wednesday.

Miss Flora Watson of Owen Sound is visiting her father at present.

Mr. J. D. Wardrop did business in Lions Head last Friday.

Mr. Arthur Tyndall spent last week with friends in Lions Head.

The young people of this place are practising a drill for the coming entertainment in February. It will be

The death occurred recently at Sault Ste Marie of Alberta Mary Whicher, wife of D. I. O. Hutton, at the age of 26 years. The deceased, who was a daughter of Mrs. Bernie, a former resident of this town, was well known here.

It is said that Mr Russel Holler with his team took the biggest load of Elmlogs to Sydney Bay that has gone there for some time, the number of feet being 2000 ft. He took it from the skidway to the shore with out any difficulty, so who ever can't beat this can try it out of the same bush.

A few farmers have been in the office this week and complained that they need a vet, and a monthly horse fair. They no doubt need both and why not go about getting them in the right way. There is an agricultural society, and the executive of that institution could easily act.

There will be an important court here February 5th. Last fall a large quantity of lumber floated ashore on the west side of the Peninsula and it appears a number of the settlers, who looked upon it like manna of old, helped themselves, but it wasn't manna at all, and the insurance companies have got after those people who quite innocently thought that nature had wrecked some gallant ship on the lake for their benefit.

It will be remembered that the C. P. R. steamer, the Assiniboia, stranded on July 1st on Bad Neighbor shoal, near Tobermory and it is supposed that the accident was caused owing to the fog alarm, which was not blowing at the time, or supposed to be not blowing. An investigation into the cause of the accident is being held this week in Toronto, and among those summoned as witnesses are Clarence Mitchell and Norman Gildner.

Girls! Try it! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a 25-cent bottle of Dandruff.

If you care for heavy hair that glazes with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Dandruff. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Dandruff from any drug store and just try it.

AN UNUSUAL OFFER

Owing to the large number of people who are annually deceived and in fact robbed by fakirs who canvas the town and country, selling enlargements of Photographs, and in order to introduce to the public a line of enlarged photos which possess very great artistic value and can at any time be obtained at a lower price than is commonly charged for inferior work, we are induced to make the following offer.

Beginning the 1st of February we will give one of our beautiful prime enlargements with every $3.00 purchase of cabinet photographs at regular prices. Enlargements will be mounted ready for framing and we can supply a suitable frame for the sum of $1.00, but it is entirely optional with you whether you take a frame or not. This offer is good only during the month of February. Do not neglect or delay but make an appointment at once.

Seaforth Put Out of Business

Wiarton Up Against Berlin Friday Night

This Game Will Be the Real Thing

Wiarton 11 Seaforth 3

The game last Friday night between Seaforth and Wiarton in the 2nd. round of Intermediate O. H. A. set us all wondering what the score would have been if the ice had been good. But the ice was not good. It was soft and the puck was very lazy. A mild day had made good hockey impossible, still the game had to be played, as everything from this out must run on schedule time.

Well, Seaforth was up against it. No matter how good a team is there is always one better, and the team that defeated every other team in their district, putting the extinguisher on Stratford and Goderich, had to bite the dust. They fought good and hard but they could not make the grade. And it is no fun to travel this far simply to bump the head against a stone wall. The return match in Seaforth will be played before this report is out, but unless this scribe is mistaken Seaforth will be beaten on their own ice, at all events they will have mighty good luck if they can win over an eight goal lead.

The game was Wiarton's from start to finish. As the very drop of the hat they had the puck at the enemy's net, and in seven minutes scored their first goal. During the first period two of the Wiarton team were sent to the penalty box for their health. One of them who disputed his penalty with the referee, got for his answer a snap of the fingers and was told to stay there four minutes. The referee was not a giant in stature at all, and it is never wise to argue very much with a man 4 feet high, they will fight every time, however on the whole he was a pretty fair referee and was boss of the job. It was during this period that Allan Ashley landed the second goal, and the hockey scribe of The Echo was glad to see it for the four minutes penalty was only a bit of spleen.

In the second period Wiarton scored one goal after another adding four more scalps to their belt but Seaforth got one towards the close.

The third period was the best hockey, both teams put up a good fight. Seaforth wanted to save their face, and Wiarton wanted as good a lead as possible. Seaforth scored the puck into the Wiarton net, but it was not long before the compliment was returned. The score this time was 5 to 2, making the total score of the evening in favor of Wiarton 11 to 3. Miers played a great game and in fact this can be said of all the Wiarton team.

The Echo scribe would remind the rural readers that these games are called on very suddenly, and it is practically impossible to advertise them in the paper. There are scores yet in the country, who have not seen a hockey match, and who want to see one this winter. They should keep in touch with the Central telephone office and obtain the dates. The next game here will be the third round of the O. H. A. and those who want to see two giants lock horns will do well to find out when this will be. The line up Friday night was:

Seaforth	Goal	Wiarton
McGrooch		Johnson
Hays	R. D.	W. Ashley
Reid	L. D.	Gilmer
O. Dick	lover	Summie
T. Dick	Centre	Miers
Sills	R. W.	Rock
Best	L. W.	A. Ashley

—Mr. John Robinson, Pike Bay, was in town Friday on business.

—Miss Margaret Sutherby had a jolly snow shoeing party last Wednesday night. It was in honor of Misses Smith and Ramage. The evening was spent with cards and dancing. The room looked very pretty, the flowers used being daffodils.

For sale at Flett's Hardware, an animal fertilizer not a chemical or mineral which is more or less of a stimulant for the ground.

The Return Match

Wiarton 10—Seaforth 3

SEAFORTH, Feb. 3.—Seaforth fans saw in the Wiarton-Seaforth O. H. A. game here to-night the best team that ever played on local ice. The Wiarton team are up to advance notices and had the locals outclassed 10 to 3 in a game which was full of combination from going to going. It was the fastest game ever played here. Wiarton scored 4 goals in the first period, and three in the second period. Dad Ashley was injured and retired about five minutes before the end of the second period, Best going off with him. In the third period Wiarton notched three goals and it looked like a shut out for Seaforth. "Dot" Reid then went up on the forward line, and scored a goal in two minutes. Sills followed with another, and Don Dick came luck with another just one minute before time was called. Referee Sproule handled the game and was impartial. Wiarton wins by fifteen goals on the round. The best wishes of Seaforth go with them in their final games.

The above is the press report sent from Seaforth Monday night.

The Wiarton Hockey team are loud in their praises of the manner in which they were treated at Seaforth. It could not have been better. They were given a banquet in the leading hotel, attended by the most prominent business men and the best of good feeling prevailed. There is no better spot in Ontario than Seaforth.

WIARTON AGAINST BERLIN

In the Wiarton rink Friday evening Feb. 12th. This will probably be the greatest hockey game ever seen in the town. Berlin is supposed to have the crack intermediate hockey team in Ontario and won the O. H. A. championship last season and expect to win it again. Come and cheer our boys to victory. The rink is large but get there early to secure a good seat.

Tigers Dealt Cape Croker

On Tuesday afternoon the Tigers, Wiarton's juvenile hockey team, went to Cape Croker and had an exciting hour in the new open air rink there. At half time the Wiarton boys were in the lead by one goal and at the finish the score stood 4-3. The following is the line up.

Wiarton	Goal	Cape Croker
Malligan		Lamontandere
Gilmer	point	Lavally
McDonald	o point	Pedonquoh
Rowan	centre	Johnson
Sutherby	rover	Taylor
Tyson	r. wing	Solomon
Sinclair	l. wing	F. Lavally

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine right now—also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and straggly hair is sure evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scourge. There is nothing so destructive to hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!

Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney Equips a Military Hospital For France.

MRS. WHITNEY AND SPECIMEN OF HER WORK.

Wonderful in its equipment is the military hospital which has been established by Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney at the front of the fighting line of the allies' army. Part of its equipment consists of four skilled surgeons from New York, ten motor ambulances, a large supply of medical appliances and clothing for 3,000 persons. All the expense is being borne by Mrs. Whitney, who is personally supervising the work.

This field hospital is to be stationed as near as possible to the firing line, where the wounded may be rushed immediately for aid. At present hospitals in operation along the battle front are able to handle only the less serious cases. Those severely wounded often die while being transferred to the surgical hospitals at Paris or in the interior. Mrs. Whitney's hospital will care for the soldiers of all nationalities.

Mrs. Whitney, who was Miss Gertrude Vanderbilt, is a sculptor of note. She has done much work of merit. The white marble fountain illustrated here is to adorn the patio of the California building at the Panama-Pacific exposition. It is a beautiful creation and was loaned to the exposition. Mrs. Whitney's sister Gladys is the wife of the Hungarian Count Szechenyi. She is generously aiding the wounded in Austria. Their cousin, the Duchess of Marlborough, is at the head of one of the British organizations for aiding war sufferers.

Fashions for children are very largely imitative of those of adults. This is true in lines, colors and materials, the characteristics of adult styles being modified for the youthful ones. The bath robe pictured here might have been made for the little girl's mother. It is of padded and quilted pink silk and hand embroidered in flower designs. There is a little flat, round collar at the neck. Fancy silk fringes fasten the front, and the waist is encircled by a pink silk cord.

LOW WAISTED EFFECTS.

They Are Popular Even For Elaborate New Evening Costumes.

SATIN AND NET GOWN.

The girl who is planning her gown for the holiday dance may find much to please her in this gown of pink satin draped in white net, heavily trimmed with silver embroidery. The deep crush girle is of cloth of silver in low waisted effect.

NECKWEAR VAGARIES.

A director collar of handkerchief linen with long necktie has ends ornamented with drawn work.

A new high wing collar is finished with double featherstitched hem. It has narrow revers outlined with a band of blue moire ribbon terminating in a bow.

A vest made of hand embroidered pique with high collar has a piping of black moire.

New styled examples of neckwear exhibit high closing tucked fronts with two or three inch width side plaited frills attached.

The high style, conservative collar is made of sheer batiste or fine cobwebby linen pressed into plaits and trimmed with fine lines satin attached and hung from the middle of the back of the collar.

The ascots, those long time, many years old styles, are returning. The novelty of these familiar looking neck fixings consists of the white foundation collar worn with colored ties and with a frilled rather than with a plain shirt.

Much of the new organza neckwear is not all white. There are Roman striped corners on some of the collars and cuffs of bright, printed colors—stripes half an inch wide.

There is much striping of black on collars and vests of organza. Some of the newest things are embroidered in oriental designs with red and green and other colors.

Instead of sewing the high standing ruche or collar into the neck of your dress sew snaps every two or three inches along the facing of the neckpiece and the corresponding parts at equal distances on the neck of the dress.

CARE OF THE LOOKS.

Have a comfortable bed. Never sleep propped up with pillows. Lie as flat as possible, with a small pillow or none at all under the head. Never sleep with the mouth open.

Knitting the brows when reading or working is a habit certain to produce disfiguring lines on the face.

Heavy hats cause headaches and are very bad for the hair. A hat should be light and should not be worn so tightly on the head as to exclude all the air. Lack of ventilation for the hair is one of the causes of baldness.

Always file the nails from the corners toward the center of the nails. This tends to make the finger tips slender. It is well to file the nails on the same day every week.

Relax the muscles, cultivate a pleasant expression and remember that lips which curve upward and smile are much more attractive than the drooping sort.

Little squares of blotting paper hung in the dress closet, moistened once a week with perfume will be found to be most efficient sachets. Put the odor seems to permeate and remain in the garments longer than when the powdered product is used.

Editorial

THE blind pig appears to be in evidence in Kincardine.

THE Hepworth Program is advocating a Carnegie library for that village.

THE late Harry Huker, Port Elgin, was the first native born of Bruce County to fill the Warden's chair.

THE Dominion Parliament is now in session and there is a probability of an election during the coming summer.

AS Mr. Bear could not see his shadow a certain day last week it is said that the worst of the winter is over. Very good, it is easier on the wood pile.

THE proposal to abolish the local license board and to appoint license commissioners for the Province is one which will meet with general favor. There is very little now for local boards to do in many places.

CLAVERING

The Lisk brothers have opened up the old blacksmith shop here and are now ready for any work along this line. They also got a chopper in Saturday which will be ready for operation this week. A trial from the farmers will be much appreciated.

A quite a bit of snow fell Sunday and Sunday night, enough for good sleighing and snow shoeing.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Hammond, of Maple Grove, were guests of Mrs. J. K. Livingstone Sunday.

A large crowd attended the women's institute meeting held at Mrs. J. K. Livingstone's last Wednesday, all enjoyed themselves.

James Great Suffering and Anxiety—Prompt Relief and Cure by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

This is one reason why every mother should know about Dr. Chase's Ointment, since it is an untailing cure for all itching skin diseases.

Mrs. F. Clarke, Belmont, Man., writes: "My baby had eczema on her ear. The sore was very bad, and nothing seemed to do her much good. Hearing of the remarkable cure Dr. Chase's Ointment was making, we sent for some, and after the third application the sore began to heal. I am glad to say that it is quite well now, and we give the credit to Dr. Chase's Ointment. We cannot recommend this preparation too highly."

Here is another letter, which tells of the cure of a five-week-old baby: Mrs. Walker, Mignon, River John Road, Colchester County, N.S., writes: "My little girl took eczema when she was five weeks old. Though we doctored her until she was nearly a year old, she got no better. I was advised to use Dr. Chase's Ointment, and this treatment completely cured her."

Handy Dandy Tool. A very handy tool to have around where there are milk cans to be opened is shown by the accompanying illustration, says Popular Electricity.

This consists of a steel ring, A, and a bar, B, which drawn to an edge like a chisel, these two pieces being held together by a pin, C.

To remove the plug the ring is placed over the top of the can with the edge of the bar against the plug and the top of the can as shown, when by pressing down in the direction of the arrow the plug is pried out of the can.

This is much superior to the method often applied of knocking the plug with hammer or tapping at it, for the plug is removed with very little effort.

Plant Trees. Trees are not only an adornment to the farm premises, but they have also practical value not only for their wood, but for their shelter from the winds and shade from the burning sun.

Now is the time to plant them. If they be fruit trees such locality has its favorite varieties, and you should know them and plant only such as are adaptable. If it is windbreaks and shade you should know that the experimenters have proved that white pine, Norway spruce, Austrian larch and Scotch pine and American spruce have no superior. These kinds grow rapidly and are not lacking in vigor or adaptability to this soil, exposed situations and other adverse conditions. But do not plant evergreens exclusively about the house. Deciduous trees occupy a place in any scheme for farm improvement which the evergreens alone do not and cannot fill. Hard or soft maple, elm and ash, when they are suitable, should be so planted.

Transplanted Plants. Give transplanted plants plenty of time to recover. Do not set them out until the soil is well broken and further toward the growth of the plant. Do not plant in too much a shallow, or until the growth starts they must be in a shady place.

Ever since the war began postmaster Allan has been most obliging in remaining at the office Saturday evenings until midnight in order that the evening papers could be distributed. The public will quite agree, while thanking him for what he has done in the past.

AN UNUSUAL OFFER

Owing to the large number of people who are annually deceived and in fact robbed by fakirs who canvass the town and country, selling enlargements of Photographs, and in order to introduce to the public a line of enlarged photos which possess very great artistic value and can at any time be obtained at a lower price than is commonly charged for inferior work, we are induced to make the following offer.

Beginning the 1st of February we will give one of our beautiful bromide enlargements with every $3.00 purchase of cabinet photographs at regular prices. Enlargements will be mounted ready for framing and we can supply a suitable frame for the sum of $1.00, but it is entirely optional with you whether you take a frame or not. This offer is good only during the month of February. Do not neglect or delay but make an appointment at once.

WILL STARVE GERMANY

Churchill Announces Reply to Submarine Outrages.

First Lord of the Admiralty Says Every German Ship Will Be Claimed On to Cut Off Germany's Supply of Food — Navy Alone Can Decide Issue of War, He Declares in Commons.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—Great Britain has finally decided to clamp on every ounce of sea pressure to choke off Germany's food supply, and to retaliate for German submarine policy. This announcement by Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, in the Commons yesterday was greeted with loud cheers.

The announcement of the Government's decision to retaliate by Germany's food supplies came almost coincidentally with the receipt of two despatches from the United States, one saying that Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, had informed the Washington Government that Germany was willing to abandon her submarine policy, provided Great Britain ceases interfering with cargoes of foodstuffs, and the other saying that she again had advised neutral shipping to avoid these waters which Germany had declared would become a dangerous military area three days hence.

Mr. Churchill disclosed for the first time the total number of ships which he said were at sea, upwards of 5,000 officers and men, a majority of them victims of submarine. Germany's naval losses were about the same.

Concerning submarines, Mr. Churchill outlined what Great Britain purports to do as a counter to the German policy. In view of what he styled "piracy and murder," Mr. Churchill said it was incumbent on Britain for the first time to apply the full force of her naval power. A formal declaration to this effect, he added, would be sent forthwith.

Declaring with the blockade plans, he said:

"We have not yet stopped the importation of goods into Germany, but the time has come to reconsider the situation. The allied Governments will probably make a declaration of action, the effect of which will be to bring the full pressure of the British naval power on Germany."

"The pressure of the navy itself," he said, "could decide the issue of this war."

"The task lying before us is both anxious and grave. We are now to be the object of a new policy, one practiced by a civilized power. So far we have not attempted to stop the importation of food. We have not prevented neutral ships from bringing supplies to Germany. We have allowed German exports in neutral ships to pass unhindered. But the time is near when the enjoyment of these immunities by a state which has placed herself outside of international obligations must be reconsidered. A further declaration on the part of the allied Governments will be made, which will have the effect of bringing for the first time the full force of naval pressure on the enemy."

"It may not be supposed that because the attack is extraordinarily good a reply cannot be made. Losses do not have to be incurred, but there is no vital injury can be done. Merchant skippers act in the spirit of the captain of the Laertes, and observe certain precautions. But the attack is confined within manageable limits, even at the outset, when the enemy naturally will make his maximum efforts. Our reply will perhaps be not ineffective."

"When war broke out the German army was not ready for offensive operations (and the British fleet was for the national defense). On mobilization we were able to man every ship in the navy and many old vessels in addition. Scores of armed merchantmen were also provided."

"Every ship in the navy which was fit for service, ships as new ships which were being built for foreign Governments and armed merchantmen, were all manned."

During the past three months, said Mr. Churchill, 7,381 British merchant vessels traversed the sea in safety. Referring to Vice-Admiral Jellicoe's command of the sea with his "silent, unsleeping and yet unchallenged," Mr. Churchill said that the Admiralty had noted ships at home and abroad, including Belgian and French troops and the wounded to the number of 1,000,000, without an accident or loss of a life.

Second Contingent To Leave Soon.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—Col. Stephen, commander of the 4th Infantry Brigade of the Canadian Expeditionary Force, is in the city for the purpose of inspecting the local troops of the second contingent today. Col. Denison declared that he expected the second overseas force would leave for England any day now. The men of the second contingent he considered very much superior to the rank and file of the first expeditionary force.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 16.—Letcher and Beverly White, members of a noted feud family, were killed yesterday. Beverly White was mortally wounded and several other persons were injured in a general battle in Clay County yesterday.

The fight resulted from a fracas in a gambling house.

CANADIANS IN TRENCHES.

First Brigade Moved Into Firing Line on Saturday Night.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—The members of the Canadian contingent are now at the front. A certain brigade of the Canadian Infantry moved to their positions on the trenches on Saturday night last.

Capt. Harry Coghill, of Stratford, who is in a hospital in France suffering from pleurisy, due to exposure, but his condition is not serious. Capt. Coghill was formerly of Toronto.

Capt. Rev. A. G. Wells (Anglican) and Capt. Father Edward Gordon Dow (Roman Catholic) are now attached to No. 2 Canadian Stationary Hospital, at Le Touquet, near Boulogne.

Capt. Wells is well known in the East and Western Canada in general, and comes from Minnecosa. Father Dow is from Windsor, Ont., and is lieutenant of the Touquet Major Rev. Father Jolicoeur, senior Catholic chaplain, first Canadian overseas force, who has been with the unit since January last.

Major Jolicoeur will shortly sail from England homewards for St. Catharines, where he will probably go on active service again with the second or third contingent.

ARGUMENTS FOR ITALY.

Von Buelow Will Use Caution and Threats To Win Ally.

ROME, Feb. 16.—Developed in transmission, the Idea Nazionale, a newspaper published in the interests of the Nationalist party, in its issue of Feb. 15, contains a series of German proposals to Italy, which reads as follows:

Before the end of February, Prince von Buelow, the German ambassador to Italy, will present to the Italian Government a concrete proposal for Italian participation in Germany. This consists of the cessation by Austria of the Province of Trent and the rectification of the Italian frontier by the addition of a strip of land going as far as the Isonzo river. In addition, Germany will pledge herself to assist Italy in her efforts to maintain her frontier with Italy.

"In addition, Italy is to take part at once in the war. She will occupy Tunis and help Turkey drive the British from Egypt, which will return under the dominion of the Sultan of Turkey. In addition, the Italian fleet will attack the Anglo-French naval base at Alexandria."

Continuing, the Idea Nazionale says that Prince von Buelow, referring to Trieste, made this statement: "It is impossible to give Trieste to Italy, because this airport is the lung, not of Austria, but of Germany."

At the conclusion of one of his conversations with the Italian statesman, Prince von Buelow, according to this newspaper, the German ambassador said: "Either Italy will be friendly toward us, or we will treat her worse than we are treating England."

DAMAGE IN RAID.

Dutch Paper Says Immense Loss Was Caused By British Attacks.

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 16.—The Handelsblad, a Dutch newspaper, in a dispatch concerning the raid last week of thirty-four British aviators over the Dutch coast, says that at Rotterdam the sheds of a sea railway station were badly damaged and the Hotel Terminus, near the station, was damaged.

The De Smet de Nayer bridge suffered heavily, and all communication with the sea station was broken. At the same time, the bridge, the railway and the factory were destroyed and the bridges there could not be worked, owing to a lack of electricity. A Zeppelin shed with all contents was destroyed, the correspondent adds.

Much Pain From Kidney Disease

Doctored in Vain Until Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills Were Used. Kidney derangements are often accompanied by inflammation of the liver and bowels, and under these conditions ordinary kidney medicine is of little use. It is because of their unique, combined action on the liver and bowels that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are so generally successful, even in the most complicated cases.

Mr. Emanuel Bernard, farmer, St. Paul, Kan., writes: "About eight years ago I was afflicted with kidney disease, and suffered greatly from headaches, pains in my back and my head was often affected. For a year or so I was treated by my doctor, with no apparent benefit. He then used five boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills with most satisfactory results. This gave me such a good opinion of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills that I was always sure to use them in all my ailments. All derangements of the kidney, liver and bowels, and all urinary troubles, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, a box for $1.00, all druggists, or Edmundson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

ENEMY IN GERNOWITZ?

Berlin and Vienna Claim Occupation of Bukovina.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—Says the London News Correspondent, "Says the London News Correspondent, 'More in East Prussia Has Resulted in German Being Badly Divided—Pierce Artillery Being Reported at Ypres.'"

LONDON, Feb. 16.—Conducting reports come from the eastern front. The Germans claim that Prussia and East Prussia are now in the hands of the enemy and that Austro-Hungarian forces have entered the capital of Bukovina. On the other hand the Russians, while admitting the retreat to the East Prussian frontier, are apparently satisfied with the retreat.

Mr. Frederick Rennet, Petrograd correspondent of The London Daily News, in a special despatch says:

"The Russian army has been brought their last concerted sweeping movement across East Prussia to the borders of Russia the conditions facing them have become so radical change in their tactics. The central aim of the operations was very clearly to break the line of the Prussian army by the use of the Russian artillery. The Russian army succeeded in drawing out from the gap between their moving columns of German army north and south which were beginning to pass beyond them on both flanks. The Germans now had that they have still to fight on a narrow front, the Prussian army inside the fringe of Bukovina and in the bare, thinly populated plains of northeast Poland. The determined fight of the Russian army, which is now being waged against the Russian defences on the Nieman."

This arrest of the German combination of their operations. Numerous detachments from their southern army have been sent to the Prussian army towards the right bank of the Nieman, where they are engaged in separate battles on a broad belt of marshy ground. The Russian army, the Rosagga tributary which joins the Nieman at Ostrolenka. This enforced retreat of the Russian army is also by the tactics of the Russians in the Suwalki region and further north."

If Von Hindenburg hoped that his army would be able to achieve a complete success that could spare some army corps for the spring campaign against the allies in the Balkans, he is now in a difficult position. More likely he will have to send substantial reinforcements to link up the army in the Balkans, which is now the invading army is now in a difficult position. The Russian army, which is now being waged against the Russian defences on the Nieman."

"The Russians are doing well in the Carpathians, and in western Galicia, where they are taking position of Gorlice with control of the rail-roads. The Germans and Austrians together lost heavily in their efforts to reach the Carpathians, and in the region. In the Straly valley the Russians made progress southward across the heights covering the Nankarz river, and the Russian army is now on the defensive under the Kozlomenko."

Ypres, long the cockpit of the battle, is now the scene of a terrific artillery duel, according to official reports received from Paris and Berlin last night.

The fighting continues on the fields between La Bassée and Bethune, about Soissons, and in the region of Perthes as well as in the Argonne, where the battle around Nagetelle is being waged with renewed fury.

Intense actions fought on the hillsides and valleys of the Vosges and in Lorraine are being watched with interest owing to their bearing on the advance of the Rhine line of German fortifications.

German mortars were silenced in the dunes and the invaders' trenches are being fiercely bombarded east of Nieuport.

Financiers Ill-Healed.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—A neutral observer, who has just completed a journey through Germany and Austria, writing in The Times his impressions of the German and Austrian financial situation, says: "The open criticism of German diplomacy by all classes seemed to be extraordinary. That the leading financiers should have been so open in their criticism of the German government was a surprise. The war in due time in order to call in loans rankles in their minds. HURRY TO BLAME.

Committee Reporting on Unstable Boots Exonerates Department.

OTTAWA, Feb. 16.—Parliament will appoint a special committee to investigate the charges that inferior boots were supplied to certain units in the Canadian overseas contingent. Following the suggestion of Sir Wilfrid Laurier last week, Premier Borden yesterday in the House met yesterday afternoon to state that he agreed that it was in the public interest, as well as due to various manufacturers who had supplied these articles to the Government, that the whole matter should be referred to a special committee of seven members to investigate and report their findings. Premier Borden asked Sir Wilfrid to introduce the resolution in the House. The committee will probably be formally appointed by the House on resolution to-day.

The report of the investigation board appointed by the Minister of the Royal Ordnance, Mr. Winston Churchill, first Lord of the Admiralty, gave the British public perhaps a closer view of the machinery behind the great grumbling than any that had been afforded since the outbreak of the war.

Mr. George, during cheering by a reference to loans to countries which he said he expected to throw in their lot with the allies. These countries and the Chancellor did not name it was the first time that a reference was made in Parliament of such expectations.

The speaker gave the details of the financial arrangement of the allies as they were decided on at the Paris conference. He said that the British, French and Russian Ministers of Finance, and put into round figures what heretofore had been guessed at, the remarkable increase in the productivity and efficiency of the Russian people by the sale of vodka. This productivity and efficiency he placed as high as 50 per cent.

Great Britain, Mr. Lloyd George said, had resources which would last for five years and France perhaps sufficient for three years.

He paid tribute to the burden that France at present is bearing, and gave a picture of the allies' war effort as Belgium financially until the time for the settlement came.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

Investigation of all charges of influence at work for and against the administration ship bill was ordered yesterday by the House of Commons. A despatch from Amsterdam says that the German Government yesterday sent a reply to the American note transmitted by Ambassador Gerard Canada's gift ship, the Transvaal, filled with food and other good things and decorated by the crew on Sunday for Rotterdam, having been delayed by the stress of weather.

Two French airmen flew over the English coast, but they did not drop bombs. This is the first time since the beginning of the war that French airmen have appeared over the English coast.

The death of Dr. Wesley Mills, eminent professor of physiology in McGill University, was announced yesterday in a special cable received by The Montreal Star from Sir William Osler, of Oxford University.

Philip Schuler, a member of the Victoria Harbor Lumber Co., was fatally injured at Victoria Harbor yesterday morning while at work and died shortly afterwards. Mr. Schuler had been in the employ of the Harbor Lumber Co. for over a quarter of a century.

Charles Cleaver was shot and killed by two robbers in the saloon of the C.P. Railway in Chicago. The robbers escaped in the immediate proximity of the saloon. Policeman Martin Hogan interfered and shot and probably fatally wounded one of the robbers, Thomas Ford, one of three bandits.

TO EXAMINE DAVIES' GIRL.

Test of Sanity of Niece of C. A. Massey Will Be Made.

TORONTO, Feb. 16.—"We find that Charles A. Massey came to his death on Feb. 8, 1915, as a result of a pistol shot which we, the jury, believe was fired by Carrie Davies, and that the deceased Carrie Davies did so voluntarily and with malice aforethought and kill and slay the said Charles A. Massey."

The above was the verdict reached by Chief Justice Johnson's jury at the morgue last night in the inquiry into the Walter road tragedy on the morning of the death of the girl's condition and history was submitted, but Dr. Johnson told the jury that it was not for them to consider it. He afterwards said that the girl would be examined by an alienist as to her mental condition. "The Government will accept it to inquire into her mental condition," he declared, "and largely upon the findings of that investigation depends whether Carrie Davies should be held liable for murder."

In the girl's statement, read by Inspector Kennedy, she said Massey had made improper advances to her.

British Examiners Detect Contraband in Cotton Shipment.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The X-ray examinations of cotton cargoes of outgoing British ships, which have been conducted by representatives of the British Government for several months, as a means of preventing shipment of contraband of war, revealed yesterday that bales of cotton containing contraband of war, the White Star liner Celtic, contained rubber. The Celtic is due to sail to-day for the United States.

ONLY THIRD IN FIELD

Allies Have Scarcely Started, Says Lloyd George.

He Expects Other Countries to Which Loans Have Been Made to Join Woodrow Wilson's Side of the Triple Entente. Outlay of Allied Nations This Year Estimated at Ten Billion Dollars.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—The countries fighting against Germany, Austria and Turkey up to the present time, have thrown only a third of their strength into the fight. To sustain this force and to bring the remaining two-thirds into action will cost $10,000,000,000 during the current year.

This announcement was made in the House of Commons yesterday by David Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who, with Winston Churchill, first Lord of the Admiralty, gave the British public perhaps a closer view of the machinery behind the great grumbling than any that had been afforded since the outbreak of the war.

Mr. George, during cheering by a reference to loans to countries which he said he expected to throw in their lot with the allies. These countries and the Chancellor did not name it was the first time that a reference was made in Parliament of such expectations.

AIRSHIPS ONLY FIREWORKS.

Morristown Jokers Pulled Off Peace Centenary Hoax.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Feb. 16.—There were some jokers who pulled off a peace centenary hoax on Brockville Sunday night as was generally supposed. Investigation yesterday shows that the aerial craft were nothing more or less than balloons sent up from Morristown, a small place across the river from Brockville, to mark the centenary of peace celebration. PARLIAMENT HILL IN DARKNESS.

OTTAWA, Feb. 16.—Last night for the first time since the installation in 1892 the tower light on the summit of Parliament Hill did not shine while the House of Commons was in session. The light was extinguished by order of the militia and police authorities, as a precautionary measure against the reported aeroplane raid which was alleged to have been inaugurated against the capital from the other side, via Brockville, last night.

TIBER'S RISE GROWS.

Streets Around Vatican Flooded and Boats Fly Up to Town.

ROME, Feb. 16.—The Tiber continued to rise yesterday and reached a maximum height of 57 feet. The rain stopped at noon and the sun came out, but the water began to increase and the worst was over. It was argued that the extraordinary rapidity of the rise of the Tiber would serve very rapidly to reduce the danger from the Vatican soldiers had built temporary wooden bridges. There was the passing of boats up and down the flooded thoroughfares created the impression that a section of Venice had been brought up to Rome.

The embankment near the military college, which was still in course of construction, collapsed yesterday afternoon.

Serious damages have been detected in the Rigneto bridge, and all passage over the structure has been forbidden.

Had No Power Over the Limbs

Locomotor Ataxia, Heart Trouble and Nervous Spasms Yielded to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

It would be easy to tell you how Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cured locomotor ataxia and derangements of heart and nerves, but it may be more satisfactory to read this letter. Mrs. Thos. Allan, R.F.D. 3, Bomora, Ont., writes: "I had been suffering a complete breakdown, and frequently had palpitation of the heart. Since that time I have had no power over my limbs (locomotor ataxia) and could not walk straight. At night I would have severe nervous spasms, with heart palpitation, and I felt as though I had the first box of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and after continuing the treatment I am now well, eat and sleep well, have no nervous spasms and do not require heart medicine. I have told several of my neighbors of the splendid results obtained from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

ABOUT two weeks ago The Echo stated that there was a good opening here for a Veterinary, and last week we were in receipt of a letter from one who may locate here it pays to advertise.

IT is fun the way the hockey "experts" on the Toronto papers figure out the winners. When Berlin was defeated in Warton they said it was a surprise to the O.H.A. hockey world. It was just what we expected here.

WE are not kicking at the extra mill on the County rate which is a war tax, we are not complaining at the stamps which the government will affix on this, that and the other thing as a war tax for the money has to be raised. But what we are afraid of is that these will kill all the patriotic funds which have been raised most spontaneously and have provided the means for the ladies' work which has been an inspiration to the men.

Our many friends out side the reserve will have to wake up and watch for the next concert.

Mrs. Jacques Lavelle met with a sad accident while going to the Catholic Church Sunday morning she missed her footing on the slippery road and broke her arm, we wish her a speedy recovery.

The annual pan cake social held in the Catholic hall last Tuesday evening was a fair success, the young folks as well as some of the older ones enjoyed the dance very much.

Just imagine that every body is well now just because there is a new nurse in the hospital.

The Newcomb team is just leaving for Warton to beat the Tigers, if they can.

GREAT MID-WINTER SALE

On Thursday, February 18th

We start our Great Mid-Winter Clearing Sale. In this sale we will feature specially "Made-in-Canada" goods. We have been able to secure concessions in prices from a number of manufacturers on goods for this sale, prices which in practically every instance means no profit, and in a number of cases actual loss. The idea, however, is to furnish employment for workmen who would otherwise be idle. In these times of stress we cannot better display our patriotism than in buying "Made-in-Canada" goods. Our newspaper space will not permit us to quote prices on the hundreds of bargains we are offering, but submit a few as an indication of what you may expect.

- 50 dozen ladies Knitted Vests and Drawers, "Watson's" make regular 35c for 19c, regular 65c for 41, regular 85c for 59c, regular $1.25 for 98c, "Watson's" special shaped vests regular $1.25 for 98c.
- 75 dozen "Penman's" Cashmere Hose seconds all at one third off regular prices, 30c line for 19c, 40c for 25c, 50c line for 37c, and an extra special regular price 50c at 3 pair for $1.00
- 50 pairs White Wool Blankets "Slingsby's" make regular price $4.00 for $2.75 per pair.
- 25 pairs White shaker Flannel Blankets regular price $1.90 per pair for $1.50
- 10 dozen pure linen Huckaback Towels regular price 20c each for 29c a pair.
- 10 dozen Pillow Cases 40 and 42 inches wide regular price 50c per pair for 39c per pair, cheaper than you can buy the material to make them.
- 2 pieces 8 1/4 Bleached sheetings regular price 35c for 25c.
- 10 pieces Victoria Lawn regular price 15c for 10c per yard.
- 3 dozen 11-4 White Honeycomb Quilts, regular price $1.55 for 98c.
- 5 dozen ladies black Moire Underskirts regular price $1.25 for 98c.
- 2 dozen ladies black Underskirts, plain silk taf. regular $1.50 for $1.09.
- 12 pairs Cotton Sheets 65 x 81, regular price $1.95 per pair for $1.49
- 12 pairs Cotton Sheets 68 x 90 regular price $2.20 per pair for $1.75.
- 1 piece Linen Tabling, half bleached, regular 40c for 29c.
- 1 piece Linen Tabling, full bleached, regular 50c for 39c.
- A special purchase of Silks 36 and 42 inches wide, in Stripes and Brocades in 19 different colors worth from $1.50 to $1.75 per yard for 89c. This is the greatest purchase we have made in this line and in view of the increasing cost of this class of goods is a decided bargain.
- 10 pieces White Bleached Cotton, regular 12 1/2c a yard for 10c.
- 10 pieces Factory Cotton, regular price 8c for 5c.
- Very decided reductions on all lines of Dress Goods.
- 6 dozen ladies Suede finished Kid Gloves, worth from $1.00 to $1.50 per pair at 39c. This is a broken lot, odd sizes and colors.
- Linen Table Cloths and Napkins, regular goods and seconds at 1/3 off regular prices

Carpets and Curtains

- 40 pairs Lace Curtains regular price 85c for 59c per pair.
- 75 pairs Lace Curtains, assorted patterns, regular price $1.50 for 98c per pair.
- 20 per cent reduction on all lines of Rugs, Linoleums and floor coverings of every description.

Ladies Jackets, Half Price

- We have about 25 in the lot ranging from $5.00 to 25.00 all at one half regular price.

Ladies Furs

- We have a fair assortment of Stoles and Muffs which we are prepared to sell at a loss. This is decidedly the best season in the history of the Fur trade to do your buying. We guarantee every article we sell which means a measure of safety you do not always enjoy in buying Furs.

Millinery

- We have about 20 Hats left which we are putting in at the ridiculous price of $1.00 each to clear as we do not wish to carry any over to another season.

Corsets

- 75 pairs "odds and ends" broken sizes including Bias filled worth from $1.00 to 1.75 per pair, all at one price 59c.

THIS SALE starts on Thursday, February 18th, and will continue until Saturday, the 27th of February. We have spared no effort to make this sale the biggest and most profitable to the buying public of this vicinity that has ever happened. Practically every manufacturer we have approached have co-operated with us in making it possible to furnish "real" bargains, and when you see goods made by such reliable firms as "The Watson Mfg. Co.," "Penman's, Limited," "Monarch Knitting Co.," "Slingsby Mfg. Co.," "Dominion Linen Mills," "The W. E. Sanford Mfg. Co.," "Northway Co." and other well known Canadian manufacturers at the prices we are offering them, you will be able to appreciate that they are doing their part to make it worth your while to buy "Made-in-Canada" goods. In doing this you not only benefit yourself but you help to keep the wheels turning in factories that would otherwise be idle.

Remember, this sale lasts for ten days and if you are not able to participate early in the sale, come when you can. We will see that you are satisfied. Our stock is large enough to stand ten days selling and then some. However, an early choice is desirable, you know the adage, "the early bird, etc."

PURPLE VALLEY

Miss Mamie Kay spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Neil Kay.

Mr. Oswell occupied the pulpit Sunday evening in the absence of Rev. James.

Rev. Drew was unable to conduct service in the Methodist church on Sunday afternoon, owing to the fact that he is suffering from an abscess.

Quite a number from here attended the parlor social held at the home of Mr. C. E. Wheeler on Friday evening.

Purple Valley was well represented at the hockey match in town.
As a result, quite a number of sleepy youths were in our midst next day.

Mr. M. McMillan is on the sick list.

Mrs. Wm. Howe visited at the home of Mr. B. Howe on Thursday.

Russell Holler made a speedy trip to town Saturday evening.

Mr. Herb Gilbert passed through the Valley on Saturday.

Mrs. Hunt and Mrs. Watchorn spent Sunday with Mrs. M. McMillan.

Miss Joan Everett called on Mrs.
W. Howe Thursday.

Mrs. W. Howe called on Mrs. Mc-Millan last Thursday.

Mrs. Joseph Crawford called on her daughter, Mr. W. Hamby on Sunday.

What Cures Eczema.

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases, that we are glad to make our answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. D.
Prescription, can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patients, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it—and although there are many so-called Eczema remedies sold, we consider unhesitatingly recommend
D. D. D. Prescription. All druggists have D. D. D. 25c and 50c.

Drop into our store to-day, just to talk over the merits of this wonderful Prescription $1.00 a bottle. Ask also about D. D. D. Soap.

W. W. Fisher, Druggist, Winnipeg
U. D. D. is made in Canada.

McIVER

A number from here took in the hockey match in Winnipeg last Friday night and report that it was an excellent game. Winnipeg certainly has a good team.

Mrs. Fred Urshott did business in Owen Sound on Saturday last.

Mrs. Andrew Holler has returned home after spending the latter part of last week with relatives in town.

Mrs. Reuben Holler spent Sunday in the Valley.

Walter Crowe spent Sunday at A.
Holler's.

V. Urshott did business in town Saturday last.

Willie and Russel Holler spent Saturday evening in town, they had a nasty trip but we all hope it will be better next time.

James McMillan spent a few days in town last week.

Willie Holler attended the Odd fellows lodge meeting last Monday night.

Retailed Glory

"Mother wants a penorth of glory divine."

"We don't keep that," said the cham-bermaid.

"Oh, yes you do," the little maid reported. "We've got it here before.
Mother puts it down the drain in the back yard."

Then the chemist knew that the "glory divine" was another way of saying chloride of lime.—Strand Magazine.

END STOMACH TROUBLE,

CASES OR DYSPEPSIA

"Papa's Disappia" makes Sick, Sour, Gassy Stomachs surely feel better
in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch acid, eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of distension, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach-headache, you can get blessed relief in five minutes.
Put an end to stomach trouble forever
by getting a large fifty-cent case of Papa's Disappia from any drug store.
You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion,
dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.
It's the quickest, purest stomach doctor in the world. It's wonderful.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR

FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girl! Try It! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a 25-cent bottle of Dandruff.

If you care for heavy hair that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Dandruff.
Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scourge robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots loosen and fall; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a 25-cent bottle of Dandruff from any drug store and just try it.

DYERS BAY

Mr. Hilditch returned home from Owen Sound last Friday. He had been with his son William, who was successfully operated upon last Thursday. He reports him getting along well.

Mrs. Will Tyndall and Miss Neta are visiting friends in Winnipeg.

Mr. R. M. Hilditch did business in Walkerton last week.

Mrs. Thos. Tyndall is visiting friends at the shore.

Quite a few of our people have been attending the revival services at Mill Lake. There is certainly a great work being done there lately.

Mr. Thos. Mar's has sold his property in the suburbs of our town and bought a farm. Mr. Wm. Lynch, son of McVicar, the purchaser, will move to his new home shortly.

COLPOYS BAY

At the official board meeting of Colpoys Bay and Oxenden circuit held Tuesday, an invitation was extended to Rev. W. A. Matthews to remain for the third year.

Perhaps some of your readers have not noticed that there is no full moon in February this year.
It was in 1840 that this occurred before, some of the older folk may remember.

Mr. J. H. Thompson was in Lions Head on Saturday.

The bay is open still, not frozen out to the island.

A number took in the hockey match in Winnipeg Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Kalbfleche and children are all poorly with colds or kind of gripe. We are sorry to report.

A very pleasant evening was spent last Friday at the social (given under the auspices of The Ladies Aid) at Mr. C. E. Whitcher's. An excellent program was rendered, the performers being—Mr. W. J. Bates of Oxenden,
Mr. D. C. C. of Adamsville, Messrs
J. Brown, C. Whitcher, B. Cunningham, R. Poste, A. E. Carver and the Misses Amy Brown, K.
Whitcher, A. M. Brown, Mrs. W. H.
Brown and Miss W. T. Parke. Games of all kinds were indulged in followed by refreshments. It was in the wee wee hours before some of the younger folks separated, all agreeing that the Whitcher home was the place to have a good time.

Mr. J. H. Thompson has rented a farm in North Kippel, so the family will be leaving our village shortly, sorry they are going.

Mr. R. Dickey, of Cleveland O. and Miss L. Dickey visited their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. A. Cotton last week.

No service last Sabbath evening, but we hope Rev. Mr. Matthews will be able to take his place next Sunday.

Mr. Arthur Peck who has been visiting from the west since before Xmas left last Saturday for home.
We are sure he will often sing of the girl he left behind me in Colpoys.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith have become residents of our village, having removed into Mr. C. E. Whitcher's house lately occupied by Mr. and Mrs. N.
Jamison.

What has become of the Young People's Society? The officers better get busy.

Mr. G. Stephenson of Amabel brought a large load of neighbors to enjoy the social last Friday evening. All seemed to enjoy themselves.

Mr. Bates and Mr. E. Walpole, Oxenden, took in the social at
C. E. Whitcher's last Friday night.

EFFICIENCY IN FARMING.

South Dakota Agricultural Makes Plan Before Convention

A plan for the application of business efficiency measures to farming was made in an address before the international dry farming congress held at Wichita, Kan., by Thomas Cooper, director of the South Dakota experiment station.

"The difference between the successful and unsuccessful farm is largely a question of applied efficiency in production and organization of the farm business," he said.

Mr. Cooper pointed out that it was necessary to develop systems of distribution of farm products that involve less loss and waste and assert that this is a problem of organization and cooperation.

"Estimates indicate that the average farmer in this country receives 45 to 55 cents from each dollar expended by the consumer," he continued, "while farmers in most European countries receive 60 to 65 cents."

"In an investigation of groups of farms located in townships in Indiana, Illinois and Iowa it was found that one farmer out of every twenty-two received a labor income of more than $2,000 a year, one of every three paid for the privilege of working—that is, after deducting 5 per cent interest on their investment they lost money by farming."

"He said similar investigation in New York indicated that one-third of the farmers made less than hired men, one-third about the same as hired men and the rest more."

A man may boast of his success because he has nothing to look forward to.
It is far easier to acquire a reputation for greatness than it is to make good.

Many a woman who doesn't know her own mind gives her husband pieces of it.

Antiquarian Lore

Some maids wed at so advanced an age that ever after her friends refer to her husband as the junior partner.— Philadelphia Ledger.

Terrors Above, but Worse Below
Kaid (just returned)—Yes, I happened to be in that very city where the German aeroplane dropped the bombs.

Alto—Did you run for the cellar?
Kate—No, I heard there were rats
there.

A Bad Bargain
"They say she literally bought the Count, and now I guess she wishes she had bought him on the installment plan."

"Why so?"
"Then all she'd have to do would be to stop payments and they would take him away."

Buyer or Social Worker
Lady Bonifant (to dry goods clerk)—
Have you any nice white underclothing?
New Amster—Oh yes, Miss, thank you.—London Opinion.

Complete Your Plans Now

The important thing now is to complete at once your plan for the year's work—for increased production. By planning well in advance, each month's operations can be carried through more effectively when the time comes. Delays later on, through neglect of this, will mean loss to you and to the Empire.

Use the Best Seed
This year, for the sake of the Empire, farmers should be exceptionally careful in the selection of seed. Cheap seed is often the dearest. If every Canadian farmer would use only the best varieties, and sow on properly cultivated soil, the grain output of Canadian farms would be doubled. Deal only with reliable seedsmen. Write at once to Canadian Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, and to your Provincial Agricultural Department for information as to the best varieties of seed to be used in your particular locality, and use no others.

ATTEND YOUR CONFERENCE
All grain intended for food should be thoroughly cleaned and selected to retain only the strong kernels. You can reap only what you sow. It does not pay to sow weeds.
Clean seed means larger crops and helps to keep the land clean.
When you have your seed grain ready, put it through the cleaner once more.

Test Your Seed
Test your seed for vitality, too. Seed is not always as good as it looks. For example, one, quite normal in appearance and weight, may be so badly damaged by frost that their value for seed is completely destroyed. If you have any doubt as to the quality of your seed a sample may be sent free to the seed laboratory at Ottawa, or Calgary, for test. But in most cases this simple test will prove sufficient.
Take a saucer and two pieces of blotting paper. Place seed between blotting papers. Keep moist and in a warm place.
In a few days, you will be able to see whether the vitality is there. Neglect to test your seed may mean the loss of crop.

Test Your Seed
Breeding stock are today Canada's most valuable asset. The one outstanding feature of the world's farming is that there will soon be a great shortage of most supplies. Save your breeding stock. Plan to increase your live stock. Europe and the United States as well as Canada will pay higher prices for beef, mutton and bacon in the very near future.
Do not sacrifice now. Remember that live stock is

The Farm Labour Problem

The Government suggests the forming of an active committee in every town and city, composed of town and country men and women. This committee would find out the sort of help the farmers of their locality need, and get a list of the unemployed in their town or city, who are suitable for farm labour. With this information, the committee would be in a good position to get the right man for the right place.
Councils, both rural and urban, Boards of Trade and other organizations could advantageously finance such work. Every unemployed man in the town or city who is placed on the farm becomes immediately a producer, instead of a mere consumer, and a civic expense.

Increase Your Live Stock

Be Fair to Your Watch

Try to run your car or your sewing machine or wagon for a couple of years without oil, and see how stridently they will screech forth protests against your neglect.

Yet it is, perhaps, six years since your watch was cleaned or oiled.

Though it cannot even "squeak" its protest, it is slowly but surely wearing itself out. A few drops of oil and a good cleaning will work wonders. Bring it in.

On Thursday afternoon Miss H. Jernyn had a "thimble tea" from three until six o'clock.

Miss Marion Miller had a "thimble tea" for a few of the young people. The flowers used were carnations.

On Wednesday the 18th Mr. and Mrs. H. Martin entertained about 80 of their friends in honor of Miss E. Hepburn.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. H. Walmsley entertained a few of the young people for Miss Lillian Golden. The girls took their work.

On Monday afternoon Miss R. Fielding entertained about twenty five of her friends to tea. The flowers used for the occasion were daffodils.

On Thursday night, last, Miss M. Kastner entertained a few of the young people. The rooms looked very pretty the flowers used were daffodils. The evening was spent with cards and dancing.

On Tuesday night February 9th, Miss Madeline Gregg entertained a few of the young people in honour of Miss Lillian Golden. The rooms were very prettily decorated, the flowers being carnations.

On Saturday evening Miss Madeline Gregg was the hostess for a skating party. After rink the guests went to the home of hostess where several Valentine contests were enjoyed, the prizes going to Misses Laura Cashore and Kathleen Gregg. Lunch was served from a table gaily decorated with hearts.

Mrs. D. J. Byers, was at home Tuesday afternoon from four to six. Miss M. Davies opened the door for the guests. Mrs. Lane assisted Mrs. Byers in the drawing room. Mrs. Shute poured tea and coffee having Miss Ewing and Miss Kastner as assistants. Mrs. Miller presided over the ice assisted by Miss Byers Miss Jackson and Miss Fielding. The rooms were pretty with daffodils and tulips and valentine decorations.

On Thursday afternoon of last week from four to six o'clock Mrs. J. E. Johnston entertained at an "At Home". Miss Glacis Porter opened the door for the guests while Mrs. H. Gilpin and Mrs. Logan assisted Mrs. Johnston in the drawing room which looked pretty with pots of ferns and palms about. The tea room looked very dainty the table being centred with a basket of red tulips. Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Porter presided here, assisted by Mrs. V. Gilpin and the Misses Jackson, McGilivray and Fielding.

Last night Miss Lenore Davies entertained about forty of her friends. It was a St. Valentine's party, and the decorations were in accordance. The rooms looked very pretty. The curtains had hearts scattered over them. The tables had tea clothes in hearts on them. On each table was a small heart shaped basket. In the cards Miss Margaret Ewing won the prize for games, which was a dozen carnations, and Mr. Wm. McKenzie, a deck of cards. The evening was very pleasantly spent with cards and dancing.

AN UNUSUAL OFFER

Owing to the large number of people who are annually deceived and in fact robbed by fakirs who canvas the town and country, selling enlargements of Photographs, and in order to introduce to the public a line of enlarged photos which possess very great artistic value and can at any time be obtained at a lower price than is commonly charged for inferior work, we are induced to make the following offer.

Beginning the 1st of February we will give one of our beautiful bromide enlargements with every $3.00 purchase of cabinet photographs at regular prices. Enlargements will be mounted ready for framing and we can supply a suitable frame for the sum of $1.00, but it is entirely optional with you whether you take a frame or not. This offer is good only during the month of February. Do not neglect or delay but make an appointment at once.

New Steamer for Wiarton and the Manitoulin.

The Owen Sound Sun last week says: A local syndicate has a proposition under consideration to purchase a boat to run on the Owen Sound and south shore of the Manitoulin route, the route which has been covered for some years by the steamer Macford. It is felt that a larger and faster boat than the Macford should be placed on the route and that a good passenger trade could be worked up, in addition to the freight traffic. The route takes in Wiarton, Lions Head and Tobermory on the Bruce Peninsula and Providence Bay of the Manitoulin Island and in summer this makes a pretty sail. With a larger boat and better accommodation, the trip should be a popular one. It is calculated that two trips can be made a week, which would give the boat a day and a half each week in Owen Sound. This would allow of weekly moonlight excursions and in addition to this, weekend trips could be run to Bying Inlet or some point on the east shore of the Georgian Bay. A steamer, such as the one the syndicate is contemplating putting on the route, would make this trip in time to reach Owen Sound again by six o'clock on Monday morning and could furnish splendid accommodation for the passengers. The scheme has not been taken any definite shape yet but negotiations are under way for the purchase of a steamer.

The Town Council

Mr. W. Ashcroft appeared before the Council last Wednesday night and asked that the fine of $20 which he had recently paid, due to an infringement of the by-law, be allowed to go towards his license fee. He claimed that he had not been notified that he could not show without paying this license. After considerable discussion this was granted provided that he repair the outside of his building. The manager of the moving picture show at Chesley wanted to lease the town hall and operate there 2 or 3 nights per week, if Mr. Ashcroft was up the job.

The $25,000 of the Canada Casket Co's delinquency have been sold for $97.56 and accrued interest which is considered a good deal at the present time.

The tax collectors roll shows uncollected taxes to the amount of $1588.82.

Sarnia Beaten At Home

Last Saturday night the Wiarton Hockey Team met the Sarnia seven in that town and defeated them, the score being 5 to 4. The return match will be played here to night. The following is the report of the Sarnia game as it appeared in the Toronto Star.

Sarnia's hopes for the intermediate O.H.A. championship this year got a severe setback when the last Wiarton team defeated them here Saturday night by 5 to 4. The game was the first of the home-and-home games in the semi-finals, thus the northern team took home a one-goal lead.

The game, which was played on ice soft and covered with water, was fast. Wiarton were unable to use their great speed to any advantage in the first going, but nevertheless had the edge on the Sarnia throughout. The poor ice, of course, made combination almost impossible, and the game developed into individual rushes, with "Dad" Ashley showing the way for the rest of the players. Sarnia showed much improved form over their game in Seaforth on Wednesday. They checked back better and showed more aggressive play. Prout's work in goal saved his team from a worse defeat.

Dickey Lessor and McCarty played great games for Sarnia, while the Ashley boys, Gildner and Miers were best for Wiarton.

The largest crowd to see a hockey game in Sarnia witnessed the match many coming from Detroit. The teams: SARNIA: Prout, Gildner, Lessor, McCarty, Miers, Finck, Centre, Dore, R. Wing, Dore, L. Wing, A. Ashley. Referee—W. M. Tackaberry, Toronto.

Puckerings

The hockey story of the Toronto News says that the final O. H. A. intermediate game will be played between Wiarton and Orillia with the odds in favor of Orillia coming out on top. When we were up against Berlin we thought we had the hardest proposition in O. H. A. but perhaps not. The Orillia team beat us last year by a score of 10 to 1. On this year includes two new men and our whole team is in far better form. On doing Orillia does not appear to be any stronger than last year, and if not they will have a hard proposition on their hands to defeat Wiarton. However we will take nothing for granted and play the game.

Well, the hockey matches have helped the Grand Truck to pull through the winter.

It is just a little early to talk about lawn bowling, a little patience should be exercised.

If Orillia meets Wiarton Monday night it will be the first time they have been up against it this winter. Wiarton has had to bump against both Berlin and Sarnia, teams that are not easy to score against, and if Wiarton wins over Orillia it will be a straight win over practically everything in intermediate O. H. A.

Communication

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Reeves, Oxenden, Receive a Letter from Their Nephew, Pte. H. S. Conner, While at Salisbury Plains.

Buster Camp, Salisbury Plains, England.

January 20, 1915

Dear aunt and uncle—

I now take the pleasure in answering your kind and welcome letter, which you wrote on Jan. 4. I was pleased to hear from you and that you enjoyed your Xmas and New Years. Well I had my Xmas dinner with my lady friend at Southampton, I had a fine time, I sent you one of my photos. I look back on the time when I was a little younger than I am now, that I went taken on the post card. Well everything looks so old fashioned, they have straw on the roof of the house, it looks funny to us. The bridges are lovely and the roads are certainly great. If the roads were as good in Canada the people would not get the life shaken out of them. Well a little about the plains here, they are much like the rolling country in Canada. It was a pretty place when we came here but it has lost all its beauty in winter, it rains, rains here. I wish we were out of this wet place, I would rather have snow than rain, it makes it so sloppy for marching. Well I have had several colds and some boils on the back of my neck. I have only missed six days parade in about six months, that's not too bad, considering the change of climate and the winter we have had, but there has been a number of the boys since we came here. The other night a poor young fellow got killed by a tractor, engine they were on a night march, they were passing the engine and the night was very dark, out in the country the roads are very narrow, the high wheel run over his leg they backed up and crushed his leg it was a sad sight, but I expect to see missed before the war is over. There are a few Canadians at the front now, but we don't expect to see it for a month or more, until spring. I saw some Indian troops they are nice black fellows and they are just as happy as the English soldiers in Canada. I saw eight hundred Germans they were marching down street in Southampton they seemed quite happy to be in England. Well thanks for the flowers, they must be lovely. Oh, yes, I am sending you a paper which I received from the 8th Co. of the 51 Regiment that I joined in Canada. Well I received one of your letters it was about two months before received it.

I must close remember me to all boys and my friends around Oxenden and to your mother.

Bye, Bye, Harry.

Eczema on the Head

Mr. Peterson, South Bay, Ont., writes: "For years I suffered a sort of eczema on the head. I tried four different doctors, giving each a fair trial, but the disease grew worse and spread to my arms. I got Dr. Chase's Syrup, and it has entirely cured me. I give you my name because I want others to know about this splendid ointment."

LIONS HEAD

Police Magistrate Sutherland, of Tara, and J. Heath, J. P. of Hopetown, held court here last Tuesday. E. Pettigrew, the defendant, was acquitted on one charge and fined $10 and costs on other charge for molesting the clergyman.

Mr. Keany, License Inspector, was here on business last Wednesday and Thursday.

The court last Thursday brought a goodly number of people from the country and made the streets look as if it was a day of great celebration.

Messrs. George and Alex. Belhatch, of Tobermory, were here on Monday to Tobermory.

Born—On Sunday, Feb. 21st 40 Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sleep, a son.

Born—On Feb. 12th, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. McLaughlin, a son. Congratulations Charlie.

Miss Annie McLeod, who has been visiting friends in Lindsay and Stokes Bay for the past three weeks returned to Lions Head this week to visit her sisters before returning to Tobermory.

We hear of war and rumors of war and it looks very much like it in this vicinity.

The hockey boys from here played a friendly game with Cape Croker on Tuesday but were defeated by a score of 4 to 3. The boys were well treated and spoke highly of the Indians and their friends.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF

Save your hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Dandruff right now—Also stops itching scalp.

This, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is evidence of a neglected scalp. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverish itching of the scalp, which if not removed causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—the hair falls out fast. A little Dandruff tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Dandruff from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Dandruff. Save your hair! Try it!

REVENUE WAS STEADY

But Provincial Outlay Has Increased During Year.

Accounts Tabled in Legislature by Provincial Treasurer McGarry Show a Deficit of $607,922.

Expenditure of Money in Public Service Amounted to a Million Dollars.

TORONTO, Feb. 23.—The public accounts of Ontario were brought into the House yesterday by Hon. T. W. McGarry as the initial act of his new office as Provincial Treasurer. In summary, they showed that the expenditure of the financial year which closed on Oct. 31 exceeded the revenue by $627,922, the deficit being due to the increased cost of public service, while the revenue showed little increase. In spite of the measures taken last year by new taxes, the expenditure of approximately one million dollars in branches of public service exceeded the shortage at the year's end.

The current account revenue for the year was $1,122,382, and a large receipt in this category from the consolidated revenue fund as an adjustment of the balance of the T. & N. O. Railway. The revenue coming through ordinary channels has both been increased by $400,000, the T. & N. O. contribution last year being $854,622 and supplementing other sources to roll up a total of $1,188,302.

The statement this year shows that succession duties and corporation taxes boosted the income, the latter bringing in $1,385,208, and the former $1,196,818. Hydro-Electric interest charges on loan, account for $100,000 more, and in spite of food and financial conditions, public institutions added $50,000 more to the treasury.

For an hour and a half the matter of Ontario nickel engaged the attention of the Legislature yesterday, and both Premier and leader of the Opposition went into minute analyses of the situation in its economical and imperial aspects. The subject was raised on a motion by W. Howell, K.C., for a return showing copies of all communications on the manufacture or export of the mineral which had been passed between Ontario and the British Government.

The Premier stated that any correspondence that was in a confidential capacity from Ottawa. He would give further assurance that since war broke out no nickel had reached the enemy. The Federal Government would have to assume responsibility for giving particular information to the public.

WANTS VOTES FOR SOLDIERS.

A. E. Fripp Objects to Disfranchisement of Expeditionary Troops.

OTTAWA, Feb. 23.—A. E. Fripp's bill to give the men of the overseas expeditionary forces the same rights as those who are mobilized in the Dominion the opportunity of recording their votes in the event of an election was referred last night on a motion of the Premier to the elections committee of the House.

The members for Ottawa in moving the second reading of his bill said that men who were fighting the battles of Britain and citizenship should not be deprived of their right to the franchise.

Hon. Mr. Rogers said the arrangement would receive reasonable and careful consideration.

Hon. Geo. P. Graham emphasized the tremendous difficulty of such an arrangement. He thought it undesirable to throw the apple of political discord amongst men who were fighting shoulder to shoulder.

DUTCH ARE ROUSED.

Germany's Failure To Reply To Note Causes Strong Feeling.

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, Feb. 23.—A tense undercurrent of feeling has been running through all classes in Holland for the past two or three days. This is attributed to public opinion owing to Germany's action in not replying to the Dutch note of protest concerning the North Sea war zone and new measures as to what might result from the blockade and submarine activity, which possibly might produce an untoward incident at any moment.

TO DISCUSS REPRISALS.

All the Allies Involved in Retaliation For Submarine Campaign.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—The war of modern warfare, the submarine, by means of which Germany has declared she will blockade the British fleet, daily becomes a factor of more and more importance in the war of Europe with respect to its influence on the policies of the nations engaged in combat.

Almost coincident with the unofficial reports that Austria proposes to follow the example of her ally by making war on merchant ships in the Adriatic, came the announcement by the British Government that the House of Commons that the much-discussed retaliatory plan of Great Britain, though still tentative, was much broader in scope than had been previously suggested, in that it was a matter for the consideration of all the allies, concerning which a joint note from the allies might be expected.

The statement was likewise made in the House of Commons that the British Government might deem it necessary to alter its decision whereby action up to the present has not been classed as contraband.

Harold J. Tennant, Under Secretary of State, declared that the decision was reached not to make action contraband, the Government believed that the requirements of Germany were already satisfied, but added, "this attitude must be revised from time to time."

The day's talk without news of any additional merchant ships, belligerent or neutral, having fallen a victim to a German submarine, but three small British craft are missing and fears are expressed as to their fate.

Amsterdam reports that two German submarines are overdue at their base, Cuxhaven, but whether they have been sunk is not known.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

Corwall has lost one of its oldest residents in the death of Mrs. Chis. Bell, aged 95, relict of the late Alexander Chisbell.

The grand jury in Toronto yesterday returned a true bill against Charles Davies, charged with the murder of E. M. V.

The British official press bureau yesterday issued an official denial of the report sent from Berlin that a British army transport had been sunk by a German submarine.

Edward Fennell and George Chandler, both colored, found guilty of stealing brass from the C.T.R. of stealing brass from the C.T.R. were sentenced yesterday in London, Ont., to three years in Kingston Penitentiary.

Danish marine circles yesterday received information that the German motor ship, "Aurora," which is in the north of Malmo, struck a German mine and had to be beached to escape sinking.

The death in battle of M. C. L. A. member of the French Chamber of Deputies, for Bouche-du-Rhône, was announced in the chamber yesterday. M. Chevallier was serving as a lieutenant of infantry.

A man named John Sawyer, G.T.R. engineer, was drowned while skating from Morrisville to the Canadian shore. When nearing the Canadian shore he encountered an air hole and was unable to extricate himself.

Further reports concerning the sinking of the American ship, "Evelyn Saturday" off Horkum Island, in the North Sea, show that only one man of the crew lost his life. This man was frozen to death in a small boat after the sinking of the steamer.

SEILICH CHARGE REDUCED.

Witness Against Toronto Man and Wife Contradicts Evidence.

TORONTO, Feb. 23.—The charges against Emil and Mrs. Seilich were reduced from that of "high treason" to "conspiracy to commit an indictable offence" when the trial opened before Chief Justice Sir William Macdougall in the Criminal Assize Court yesterday.

This change in the penalty for the offence from that of death to imprisonment did not change the character of the case. The most startling development in yesterday's proceedings was when the witness gave in the preliminary investigation in the police court. Zilrow "explained" that in the police court he did not think it necessary to tell the truth because he had not taken the German oath. He was brought into court by an armed guard of two men and an officer with drawn sword and bayonet fixed.

TO DRIVE TO RAILWAY

French Successes in Champagne Only Preliminaries.

Gen. Joffre's Nibbling Tactics Are Expected To Result in a Marked Advance North of the Champagne District—French Forces Are Now In the Ascendant in the Argonne Region.

PARIS, Feb. 23.—Advances made by the nibbling tactics of Gen. Joffre in the Champagne district have been of considerable importance up to the present and the French armies are apparently getting in position for a grand drive forward to seize a railway a few miles to the north. The War Office last night reported the capture of a line of trenches and two woods on the Saulba-Beauneville front, the repulse of two strong counter-attacks and the capture of many prisoners. Heavy loss was inflicted on the Germans.

In the Argonne region, where for some time the two opposing forces were about evenly matched, the French have strengthened their forces by the addition of many prisoners. Infantry, this has gained an ascendancy over the Germans who have been driven back to their positions near Fontaine aux Charnes, Marbais, Thorens and Bolont. Between the Argonne forest and the Meuse river the French have made increased progress in Choppoivy and have also consolidated their new positions.

Les Eparges, which has been the scene of some French progress in the base of fresh French attacks, which joined the army along the whole of the German positions to the southeast of Combray. This town has now been brought under artillery fire and has been battered to pieces preparatory to the making of a general advance on it. The Germans attempted to cut off the French force here from this support by attacking Bois-Buchet, to the south, but they were repulsed. The French captured a trench from them at Bois-Buchet, in the Argonne forest.

In Alsace the greater part of the village of Habsbourg has been captured from the Germans after an all-day fight. The outskirts had been occupied the preceding day by the French.

HAS UNIQUE EXPERIENCE.

Seely Was on French's Staff Studying Present War, Says Tennant.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—Questions raised by Col. Seely's qualifications and experience in connection with the Canadian Cavalry Brigade were directed to Under Secretary Tennant yesterday afternoon in the Commons. The questioners were Lord Charles Balfour, Sir Kitchin Cooke and Donald McNeill.

Col. Seely had been appointed to command with the temporary rank of brigadier-general, the cavalry brigade consisting of the Second King Edward's Horse and two regiments of Canadian mounted troops, with a brigade of British mounted troops.

Col. Seely had served in command of mounted troops in South Africa and had been a member of the staff of the British Expeditionary Force, of which he had been an officer for 22 years. He had been for six months in the staff of the British Expeditionary Force, during which time he had acquired a unique knowledge of the conditions under which the present war was being fought.

His appointment was recommended by the field marshal commanding and was confirmed by the Secretary of War.

ALPINE ROADS MINED.

Explosions in Mountain Passes Have Killed Many Civilians.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—The Chronicle has the following from Geneva. All along the Swiss-Italian frontier, touching the Tyrol, and even as far as the Italian coast, the enemy troops have been concentrating for several days. They are chiefly engineers, and are working on the roads in the best positions. Some of them on the Alpine passes dug miles of trenches and undermined the principal passes. For example, have become dangerous even for civilian inhabitants, many of whom have been killed by the sudden explosion of mines. Near a town on the lonely three-cornered frontier in the Alps, where the three countries meet at a height of 5,000 to 6,000 feet, the Swiss, Italian and Austrian sentries now frequently fraternize in the deep snow. A Swiss sentry is generally the interpreter. The Austrian transported from the other end of his journey does not know why he is fighting.

Brig-Gen. J. E. Gough, Head, LONDON, Feb. 23.—Brig-Gen. John E. Gough, who took a prominent part in the retreat from Mons and who since then has been several times mentioned in official dispatches, has died of wounds received last Saturday.

Brig-Gen. Gough was born in 1871, the son of Gen. Sir Charles Gough. He had seen service in various campaigns, and was one of the first to be mentioned in the Victoria Cross in command of the British force at Daratoleh, Africa. He was an aide-de-camp to King George.

Masses Asked Immunity.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—Only one to an officer who writes from a British trench in Flanders, this sign was sent by the Germans in a nearby trench:

RETREAT WAS ORDERLY

London Disables German Story of Russian Defeat.

Berlin's Claim That 100,000 Men Were Captured in East Prussia Is Followed by Statement That "The Pursuit Has Come to an End."

LONDON, Feb. 23.—The British newspapers print two conflicting versions of the recent battles in which the Germans drove the Russian over the East Prussian frontier, but they are inclined to accept the Russian version that the Russians fell back in orderly fashion, fighting an effective rear guard action.

As against this is the new German claim of 100,000 prisoners and a staggering array of captured munitions. It is noted, however, that Berlin says: "The pursuit has come to an end," and British observers say this means that another costly German rush has failed.

Frederick Rennet, the Daily News correspondent at Petrograd says: "Since August the Russian army has been in control of the Austrian Foreign Office, with his policy of close co-operation with the German General Staff, the process has been the merging of the German and Austrian forces in the east into one army. In the last few days the records of the fighting it is shown that the Austrians are in North Poland under the command of the Russian army, and also over 1,000 Germans were among the prisoners taken in the last engagements. In the eastern Carpathians many of these were new conscripts in the Hussars, and mostly were about 18 years old. This interchange of troops has the appearance of unity in the enemy's joint strategy, which is not borne out by the actual situation.

Across the entire length of the eastern front the idea of out-flanking either end of the Russian line is wholly out of the question. At present, remains an effective obstruction.

"The German movement in the north has ceased to be aggressive, and, apparently aims at fastening its troops among chosen defensive positions above the Bobb river and westward of the Bobb river, especially in the curve of the Bobb west of its junction with the Murek. The Russians are now in a position to have moved against the Germans farther west on the road above Ostroloka to the Baltic frontier.

"The distribution of reinforcements was greatly impeded by the snow, but the men have now reached their assigned positions. Snow or the branch lines proved a heavy handicap during the first retirement, when the strength and character of the German advance was realized. The only track which remained serviceable throughout was the main line through Wirballen, which has engineering protection against snow drifts, so as to keep traffic with Europe open during the winter.

The Princess Patricia, who have been in a rest camp for some time, all came to the front again last week and repulsed a heavy attack by German Landsturm. The Patricia suffered only slightly.

Three days to go to the front as the senior officer from Toronto of the Canadian Army Service Corps. He was in charge of the 12th Canadian Divisional Train. He has been connected with the Army Service Corps since 1907, and was a member of the very palatial and efficient officer."

The following casualties among the Canadian Expeditionary Force announced by the Military Department last night:

Deaths—Feb. 16, Pte. George Henry, No. 5, Canadian Cavalry Corps, Cause not stated. Next of kin, Mrs. Rose Henry, (wife), 170A Bleecker street, New York.

Feb. 20, Pte. George T. Bell, Royal Canadian Dragoons, at Bulford House, 101, Victoria Road, London, England. Cause not stated. Next of kin, Mrs. George T. Bell, postoffice box 12, Runcorn, Victoria, B.C.

GIVEN UP FOR LOST.

Hon. J. D. Hagen Says Nothing Has Been Heard of Karluk's Men.

OTTAWA, Feb. 23.—The Opposition had its third for information pretty well satisfied during question time in the House yesterday, some two score questions relating primarily to the Government's conduct of the war, being answered.

The Minister of Finance informed Hon. J. D. Hagen that no prisoners were being received from manufacturers and dealers in patent medicines against.

In reply to a series of questions by Hon. Frank Oliver, regarding the Stefansson expedition, Hon. Mr. Hagen said that nothing as yet has been heard from the missing men of the Stefansson expedition, who were last seen in January, 1914. Search parties have been sent to Wrangell Island, where the missing men were heading when last seen, but no trace of them could be found, and they had been given up for lost.

Turks Massacred Armenians.

PETROGRAD, Feb. 23.—Only one detail is becoming available of the horrors perpetrated by the Turks during the occupation of Ardahan, near the trans-Caucasian frontier. The Turkish correspondent of the Russian press says that the Armenians confined themselves to pillage and slew only fifteen civilians, but after the occupation of Ardahan was renewed, local Musulmans threw off the mask, and the same evening organized a systematic massacre, and 160 Armenians were led out into the street and shot, or had their throats cut.

CANADIANS IN ACTION?

Houloug Advised Says Infantry Has Had Hapton of Fire.

OTTAWA, Feb. 23.—The Canadian artillery has been in action, according to information received from Houloug. The infantry are in the reserve trenches.

A shell burst yesterday near a machine gun occupied by officers who had taken up an observation post, and Capt. Greer of the Army Service Corps, Toronto, is reported slightly wounded.

The Princess Patricia, who have been in a rest camp for some time, all came to the front again last week and repulsed a heavy attack by German Landsturm. The Patricia suffered only slightly.

Zeppelin Airship Kills Five Civilians—Town Little Damaged.

PARIS, Feb. 23.—A Zeppelin airship bombarded the town of Zeppelins, according to an official statement issued last night. It dropped projectiles which killed five persons, all civilians, and caused some important material damage.

A despatch to the Havas Agency from Calais says that a German dirigible airship dropped a number of bombs yesterday, which did slight damage to the town of Zeppelins, near the Dunkirk railway line in the vicinity of Fontenettes. Train service over the line was immediately re-established. The incendiary bombs damaged several dwellings in the village.

Hungary Lent Roumania Money.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—A letter received by The Morning Post from its Budapest correspondent says that Austria-Hungary has lent Roumania a considerable sum to Roumania a short time before Roumania arranged for $15,000,000 loan with the Bank of England. No news of the loan was permitted to be published in Austria-Hungary, the correspondent says.

Shipyards Striked.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—Engineers in all but one of the shipyards struck yesterday. Ten thousand men were made idle.

EVERYONE is agreed that sport is a manly exercise and all are equally agreed that it must be clean. We have had a good many hockey matches here this year and they could not have been cleaner. All the rough and tumble of football, all the slushing of lacrosse seem to have disappeared.

IN the dispute about the Registrar of Bruce County dismissing his Deputy The Echo has nothing to say. The Walkerton papers are certainly firing hot shot at the Registrar and he has issued writs against them. They can settle this affair among themselves so far as we are concerned. But there is one thing certain that if this office can pay a deputy say $1500 per year and other help for their work, and then be worth better than $2000 per year to the Registrar, the general public will come to the conclusion that it is about the biggest snip in Bruce County. What should have been done years ago was to divide the County and have two offices, the second one in Warton which is convenient to this end of the county. It is not too late to do this yet.

CLAVERING

Hurray! For Warton! The Keppel council will hold their monthly meeting at No. 3 School house Saturday Feb 27. Mr. Tom Dealy and his mother, spent the week end with friends in Tara. Mrs. Alf Cutting has been spending a few days with her brother, Mr. Elijah Lambkin. Mr. and Mrs. George Crugg of Shallow Lake called on Clavering friends on Monday. Mrs. Annie Wilson is ill with the gripe in Owen Sound. Epidemic of the gripe in Clavering. Miss Kathleen Jackson spent Sunday in Owen Sound. Mr. Bert Melvill was out this week Monday repairing Clavering telephone lines. The social at Mt. Horeb Friday night was quite a success. The proceeds amounted to $10.45. Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Armstrong of Warton and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. White of Shallow Lake were the guests of the latter's parents Mr. and Mrs. Elliott on Sunday.

One of the largest of the regular meetings of the Womens Institute was held at the home of Mrs. R. E. Featherston on Wed Feb 18th. The District President Mrs. Griffith, O. S. made some encouraging remarks, then the subject "The girl on the farm" was very ably treated in an address by Mrs. T. Lisk evoking much discussion along the line of "The Girls share in the finances of the farm," "Reasons for girls leaving the farm," "Pleasant and helpful evenings in the home," etc. Then followed a splendid demonstration on "Handicrafting" by Miss Case. Regular meetings 3rd Wed. in each month. All ladies made very welcome.

SPRING CREEK

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Ruth spent Sunday afternoon at W. H. Barnes. Cecil Barnes is busy drawing wood to his brother Wm. T. in Hepworth. A large crowd of the Institute women were skating in Victoria Rink last Thursday with many thanks to Mr. Cunningham for his kindness. The young folks have a great time skating in the open air rinks these nights. Mr. and Mrs. James Livingston were guests of Mrs. James Kirkland on Sunday last. Syrup making will soon be the order of the day. Miss Hazel Armstrong, of Owen Sound, spent Saturday and Sunday under the parental roof. John Fraser went to Warton on Monday. Mrs. W. T. Barnes is laid up with the cold, we hope to hear of a speedy recovery. Mr. Jas. Sackett and Cecil Barnes spent Sunday afternoon on South Centre Diagonal. Miss Maggie Temple, of Skipsness, is spending a few days with her sisters Mrs. A. Jackson.

MILLER LAKE

The revival meetings are over so far as nightly meetings are concerned, but we believe that the spirit of the revival will never be forgotten. Church, creed, dogmas were all cast to one side and all were united for the betterment of the place and the people and the result was wonderful. There is no doubt that the different church people will worship God in their own church as before, but the spirit of unity is so strong that the people will unite in their meetings in the future, and this is as it should be.

Frank Hatt, of Centreville, assisted Mr. Eltherington with the church services here.

A sleigh load of young people from Farnside came up on Thursday night. Will Boyd and Miss Zola Stewart visited here for a couple of days.

Miss Ellen Broughton, of Spry, spent last week visiting friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. John Boyle visited friends in Lions Head for a couple of days.

A Sunday School has been started here, and this is a move in the right direction, as there are a number of young people here who should be interested in a Sunday School.

Seymour Hawk and family moved from Boat Cove to their home at Pine Tree this week.

Frank Steip phoned from Stokes Bay to Dr. Chas. Wigle to attend his father who is very ill with congestion of the lungs and pleurisy.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Pyko were at Lions Head on Friday.

Mrs. Louise Sutter, of Pike Bay, is visiting friends here and Dyers Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Scott passed through here on Saturday on their way to visit friends at Dyers Bay.

Alex Smith Jr., of Stokes Bay, passed through here on Friday on his way to Tobemorey with his brother John and family, who have been visiting friends at Stokes Bay since Christmas.

Will Leonard passed through here on Saturday with a load of store goods for Tobemorey.

Mr. and Mrs. John Noble were down to Spry on Friday visiting at the Hitts home, where Mrs. Noble's brother Charlie and wife are spending a few days before going west again.

Lorne Boyle was down to Spry on Saturday.

W. J. Holmes took charge of the afternoon service at Dyers Bay on Sunday for Rev. Mr. Hilditch, who has a very bad cold. D. Martin drove him over.

Geo. and Alex. and Miss Janet Buchanan called at Martin's on Saturday on their way to visit friends at Spry, and report times quiet at the Tub.

W. J. Rouse intends leaving here on Wednesday to spend a few weeks at Hareet looking up land. John is an up-to-date farmer and his opinion of the land should be worth something and can be relied upon.

ADAMSVILLE

This beautiful weather puts us in mind of Spring. We wonder how long it will last.

Mr. W. Holler Melver, spent Sunday at his sisters Mrs. W. Crowe.

Miss Mae Forbes, Hepworth, is visiting her cousins the Misses Forbes. Mr. D. Belson, Hope Bay, visited friends here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Boyle visited friends at Purple Valley on Sunday.

Miss Eva Forbes spent a few days with friends at Colpoys last week.

Mr. D. Patton, Warton, is visiting friends here.

Mrs. Wrigley, Big Bay, is spending a few days with her sister Mrs. L. Soper.

Walking is the order of the night. Mr. and Mrs. R. Forbes and Daisy called on Mr. J. Hepburn's on Sunday.

Mrs. J. Heribson called on friends at Colpoys one day last week.

Misses M. and J. Forbes spent Saturday afternoon at Colpoys skating.

Say kid and how's the driver. The dance given by Miss Elsie Holler, Hope Bay, on Friday evening came off O.K. Elsie makes a fine hostess.

The Misses Forbes spent Sunday afternoon with the Misses Urishotte Melver.

Mr. Alf Spragg Colpoys spent Saturday evening at Mr. Robt. Forbes.

Hides are now selling at 18 cents per pound, possibly the highest price in the life time of the present generation.

About twelve sacks of catalogues from a departmental store went up the Peninsula last week. We advise our readers to carefully study the advertisements in The Echo and they will be better bargains than in these catalogues.

Take that ad out, I have people driving to see me and letters to answer all the time said Mr. Tomlinson who was asking for Mrs. McKenzio to sell her farm at Big Bay. The farm was leased within a week after the advertisement first appeared in The Echo. No wonder a local paper with a circulation of 2000, will tell the story.—It pays to advertise.

The Echo is selling a lot of butter wrappers these days with "Dairy Butter" stamped on them according to law. Pure butter wrapping paper is now difficult to get as it was made in Belgium. There is a very limited supply in this country, and much of what is being used is of American make and an inferior quality. Having purchased over 100,000 last season we are in a position to supply the trade.

The Echo hopes that the egg competition will keep as every egg brought into this office for special mention becomes the property of the Echo and will disappear the next morning at breakfast. Licence Inspector Reany, and Magistrate Sutherland of Skipsness were summoned to Lions Head, last week because of an assault against "Paddy" Rettigrow upon the Methodist Minister. The charge was proved and the defendant was fined $10 and costs. The charge of being drunk was also brought against him but six witnesses gave evidence that he was not drunk so this charge was dismissed.

Renewed Vigor in Old Age

This Letter Brings a Message of Cheer to the Aged—Results of Using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

New, rich blood is what is most needed in the declining years to keep up energy and vitality. That Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is a wonderful help in maintaining good health and prolonging life is attested by the writer of this letter.

Mr. Stephen J. Leard, North Tryon, N.C., writes: "I was seventy-five years of age my heart gave out and became very irregular and weak in action and would palpitate. My nerves also became weak, and I could do nothing but lie in bed in a languishing condition, losing strength and weight. In that condition I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and an cured. Had I not obtained this treatment I would now be in the box with the roof over my head. At eighty-one I have an energy which means joy, and I am writing this letter so that old people like myself may prolong their health and strength by using this great medicine." ABOUT VON TREITSCHKE.

Von Treitschke is a name one often comes across these days, when so much is being written to interpret the German spirit in English readers. This German, Von Treitschke, is said to have been one of the creators of the expression to it in a manner that appealed to the attention of the educated class. He was an historian—both a writer and a teacher of history—in his lectures and writings he did much to foster the spirit that is the inspiration of the now world-hated Prussian imperialism. In closing a sketch of this now known German historian the Boston Herald writes:

"Treitschke died in 1898, looking forward with confidence to the day when, as Gebel sang, the world would be healing at the touch of the German character. He looked forward to this day in a pious, prayerful mood. He will be like to believe, after war always recure as a historic necessity for the human race." That Treitschke was not spared to be the head of the German Empire in 1914 is a severe loss to the cause of Pan-Germanism.

In a recent number of Harper's Weekly Mr. Norman Hapgood gives a viraculous characterization of the man who has been called Germany's storm petrel:

"He was an odd little man, with a voice so bad it could hardly be understood in college lecture-rooms. As a youth he had a natural tendency towards learning, but an natural tendency also toward using his facts to prove what he liked to believe. After Bismarck's first great exhibition of masterly wickedness, when he tore Schleswig-Holstein away from Denmark, the youthful Von Treitschke lost whatever liberalism he had and became excited over the possibilities of war, compulsion, aristocracy.

Von Treitschke first popularized the idea that British naval supremacy must be destroyed. In 1881 he said: 'We have reckoned with France, Austria and Russia; the reckoning with England has still to come.' It will be the longest and the most difficult."

A Question of Odds.
Dob Burman, record holder in motorcar racing, tells the following story:

"Recently I was talking with a woman whose husband had acquired considerable wealth suddenly and who was quite new to the social world and its customs. She was particularly anxious to appear as if accustomed to all the luxuries of life. She began a conversation with me on motoring.

"Have you purchased your new car this season?" I asked.

"No, Mr. Burman. Not yet," she said. "I can't make up my mind just which make of car to buy. Maybe you will help me."

"What is it that you cannot decide about them?" I asked.

"Why, I can't decide whether I should get a gasoline car or a limousine car. Tell me, does limousine smell as bad as gasoline?"

Cost of Firing Naval Guns.
The guns used in the navy range from six inch to fourteen inch calibre of bore. The six inch gun carries a 100 pound shell, seven inch guns 165 pounds, eight inch guns 250 pounds, ten inch guns 500 pounds, twelve inch guns 850 pounds, thirteen inch 1,100 pounds. To fire one of the big guns using the shells and the explosives that would be used in battle costs from $477 to $720 for each discharge, according to the size of the gun, but the cost in target practice is only about $250 each discharge, because they use cheap shells of no explosive value. The big guns are used twice a year in target practice, the target for an eight inch gun at five mile range being 30 by 40 feet."

All Around The Farm

DRUDGERY OF FARM WOMEN.

Need of More Modern Household Equipments to Lighten Labor.
(By G. R. Bason, Extension Division, University of Wisconsin.)

The subject of mechanical household equipment has been until recent years very nearly neglected. It is quite evident when one visits the average farm home, where as yet the modern equipment is lacking and the same general line of household conveniences which grandmother used is still in service. The average farmer's wife uses the same old churn, the same old broom, duster, mop, cook stove and wheezy pump which the grandfathers used. The only marked improvement which one can note as generally adopted is in the slight changes in types of houses.

Compare this with the general adoption of farm equipment. What farmer now cradles oats with the old fashioned cradle? Many never saw one. How many farmers are there who still mow the hay with the old scythe? In place of the equipment used by grandfather there is practically an entire new field of labor saving devices. There are available the same line of labor saving devices for the mother in the home. And to the mother the fence it would appear to be poor economy to pass such equipment by, especially since the commissary department maintains a position of vital importance on the farm.

The work of the farmer's wife can be changed from drudgery to real pleasure by adopting up to date equipment, and savings can be effected which will more than pay for the entire cost. It is estimated by government experts that the average farmer's wife works more than a ton of water per day. The most conservative figures will show that the cost of this wasted energy would pay for a complete waterworks system in less than five years and carry the interest on the investment.

The installation of a safe system of sewage disposal will in many cases be paid for directly to reduced doctors' bills and loss of time on account of illness. A good heating system will bring the average house at a cost which is less than one-half the cost of heating with stoves.

Lamps, lanterns, candles, etc., are the cause of most country fires. These can be practically eliminated by the installation of a small cooperative electric lighting system in the neighborhood and light made available at a rate cheaper than by using kerosene lamps.

There are other considerations which prove the economic importance of household equipment among them the following: Time saved in the house could be profitably spent in the garden or with poultry or bees and would introduce the change of interest and fresh air needed to bring health and recreation to the tired mother.

There is no excuse for not furnishing the farm home with the more modern conveniences. The man who is not convinced of this fact should trade places with his wife for six months and keep accurate account of the time lost in carrying water, cleaning his house, throwing out soap, building stove fires, etc. At the same time note the savings on doctors' bills. The result of such an investigation would be as revolutionary as has been the adoption of the modern farm implements.

Success in Beekeeping.
A beekeeper says that there are three attributes or characteristics of an individual that are absolutely useful for successful beekeeping. These are: first, patience and a fair amount of mechanical ability in the manipulation of the wire one must be practically mechanical. There is no industry where this is more required, and the mind that is unmechanical has to have an extraordinary aptitude and a keen sense of order.

FARMS AND THE BOY.

Farming is a business just the same as any other industry, and until our schools teach some of the fundamental principles governing profitable farming the farm boy is likely to seek work elsewhere. Suffering from the farm boys of today will be the farmers of tomorrow, too little attention is given to their training.

Many boys leave the farm because they see no future in it. Another important reason is the lack of profitable work at home. A moderate sized farm is necessary to give employment to the farmer and his sons. The small farm does not provide work; hence the boys must find employment elsewhere. Let them find it on their own farms. Profits and losses are made and there will be an incentive to remain. First make our farms profitable and the question of sending the boys there will solve itself.

Successful farming is an individual, economic problem. The farm is a combination of enterprises and the individual's organization will determine, in a large measure, its profitability. Sufficient area and a proper organization of well selected enterprises to permit the maximum use of men, horses and machinery are the essential characteristics of the most successful farms.

FIGHT THE FLIES.

War Should Be Vigorously Made Upon Their Breeding Places.

Now is the time to begin the fight against the house fly. From 65 to 90 per cent of our flies breed in horse manure, so that the obvious remedy is to prevent the collection of quantities of stable litter which might act as breeding places. Their next favorite breeding place is the kitchen garbage and privies. These latter can be more easily eliminated than the former.

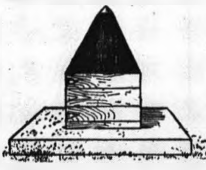

Uproot every bit of stable litter to the field. See that no small pockets of manure are left around the stable yard after the removal of the pile. Then follow this cleaning up by turning the manure on to the field early during the summer. This may seem like a burden to the farmer, but with a little forethought, it need not be so. Arrangements can be made for the use of a field for this purpose, and it is a well known principle that manure placed at once upon the field is of more value as plant food. Remember that during summer weather a period of five days may be sufficient to produce a brood of flies from the egg to the adult so that manure left in a pile for an extended time will serve as a breeding place.

Flies feed upon filth, such as sputum and that found in privies, but they are also very fond of the food left in the odors of cooking and food in the house. To prevent infection from being carried to our food, every precaution should be used to make the outbuildings perfectly sanitary so that flies cannot enter, and the houses should also have windows and doors fitted with screens.

The motto of fly control should be, "Fleeter slaughter" both in the barnyard and about the house.—C. W. Howard, Assistant Entomologist, University Farm, St. Paul.

A Sanitary Well Curb.

A well house like the one below is a guarantee that impurities will not get into the water supply. The curb is a cement platform. This platform is built around the curb, thus holding it solid and preventing surface water from trickling down. The curb is made from a concrete curb, and the roof that has a sharp slope. The well wheel is hung on the center pole.

IMPURITIES WILL NOT GET INTO THE WELL OF THE ROOF. The forms for the cement platform are made from six inch boards. The concrete is mixed half cement and half sand. Apply three inches of concrete, then spread on a layer of hog wire. Put bent rods around all the corners. Apply the rest of the concrete. Smooth off well and let stand three days before removing forms. The well curb should have lids attached with hinges. These can be closed when the well is not in use, thus preventing dust from blowing down.

French Intensive Culture.
The intensive culture of vegetable so largely practiced in France differs materially from the ordinary cultivation. Crops occupy the ground during the whole year and are also concentrated together in the same space.

Intensive culture on a more or less extensive scale must, save in exceptional circumstances, be treated as a business or run on business lines. Amateurs and hobby gardeners learn to supply their own requirements by this system, but to fully appreciate its possibilities it must be worked as a commercial business.

FET OF PROVIDENCE.

Sermon By the Kaiser's Chaplain Aronowitsch.

We repeat the following which appeared in the daily press a few years ago, and which seems very appropriate to-day in view of the terrible example of German "Kaiser" and "Kaiser" which have been perpetrated in France and Belgium during the last two months.

A remarkable sermon was preached by Dr. Faber, the Court Chaplain, in the chapel of the Imperial Palace at the autumn festival before the opening of the Reichstag by the Kaiser.

Dr. Faber said the Reichstag ought to consist entirely of loyal deputies who are willing to follow the Kaiser with perfect faith, without doubt, and without questioning. He continued: "If we had such a Reichstag we could safely leave the control of our destinies to God and the Kaiser."

"The victor of the imperialist parties at the recent general election was a work of Divine Providence, and all the great events of our history are revealed in the result of the polls. God has taken Germany under His special protection, and the German people are destined by Divine Providence to be the salt of the earth and the representatives of religion among mankind."

The Kaiser and most of the Protestant members of the Reichstag were present.

Dr. Naumann, a Radical deputy, has published virulent criticism of the sermon, and The Berliner Zeitung describes it as "the most revolting sign of the times."

The Journal adds: "The Court Chaplain undoubtedly gave utterance to the words which are being to his royal listeners, so that we are bound to conclude that his opinions commended themselves to the Emperor."

Sharp Bombardment.
The first thing that strikes a landman on a man-of-war is the rigid discipline observed everywhere. On some of the ships belonging to the tropical countries, however, discipline is very lax.

The Defence, a Haytian man-of-war, was lying in the harbor of Port au Prince. One day a mess cook, for some reason, cleaned about a peck of knives and forks on the gun deck, and being suddenly called away and not wishing to spend time to go to the galley, he put the mess-pail full of knives and forks and stuck it in the muzzle of the 10-in. gun, putting the lamp in after it. About an hour afterwards the admiral came aboard, and as the gun was loaded with blank cartridge they used it to fire a salute.

It happened that the gun was aimed toward the town, and almost pointed blank to the Grand Hotel. The guests assembled on the pier to witness the ceremonies, when they were saluted with a rain of knives and forks, which struck the hotel and the walls like quills on a porcupine. Fortunately no one was hurt, although the "narrow escapes" were numerous.

An Opinion of Marriage.
A maid who had been employed in the Benner home for several years took up her abode and went to a nearby town to live. One day a month after the wedding she came to call on her former mistress, who said:

"Well, Phoebe, I hope that you are happy in your new home. How is your husband?"

"To this the bride of a month made reply: 'Well, I reckon I'm happy enough, but the kitchen don't draw none too good, an' the water in the well is so brackish I ain't never got to it yet.' As for my husband—well, m'am, it's with him as it is with your man an' all the rest of 'em—if the Lord had 'em to make over he'd ought to have put 'em on the job. Ain't eggs terrible high?"

So She Was!
The two oldest inhabitants were very ignorant, neither of them being able even to tell the time of day. A friend of Uncle Ben's gave him a watch of which he was very proud. One day before the crowd at the corner store old Pete, being slightly jealous of such wealth and wishing to embarrass his rival, said, "Say, Ben, what time have you got?"

The other old fellow drew out his watch and turned its face toward his inquirer. "There she be!" he exclaimed.

Pete was almost at a loss, but he made a magnificent effort and retorted, "Blame if she ain't!"

Correcting Rightness.
The world is full of suspicion, which in nearly every case is unfounded. An unbounded and universal trust should take its place. I can give you an instance of what I consider this unhappy state of things when I say that two strangers can seldom speak calmly to each other without a mutual caution and suspicion. We all trust ourselves. Our weak point is that we don't trust our neighbor. We each think, as it were, that we're made a corner in righteousness.—H. M. Edgerton in "Oh, James!"

Lost Case Raised.
A wound in the right arm, which Fritz Kreisler, the famous violinist, has sustained when he fighting in the Austrian army, may raise an interesting question of insurance law. All great instrumentalists now carry their hands, arms, etc. Padawaski, for instance, has insured each finger separately for $15,000. Kreisler, no amateur, has taken similar precautions. The question is whether wounds received in battle can be regarded as accidents and covered under the cover of general insurance.

CHINA'S AWFUL FLOODS.

Yangtze on a Rampage Is Like the Mississippi.

China has many floods. Along the Yangtze river there is sometimes a tremendous overflow, just as occurs in America along the Mississippi. A recent account by a missionary well describes a typical devastating flood in China.

This missionary writing from Wuhu, one of the largest ports on the river, located 60 miles above Hankow, says:

"The rain here swollen the river tremendously in the high plateau of Tibet, and the melting snows from the western mountains have made the Yangtze change with fearful rapidity. High water mark has been growing higher day by day. The water finally came over the dykes in the lower rice fields. It rose to the doors of the houses located along the river, and the people began to lay planks walks along the street, elevated to such height as to enable them to get about. These elevated plank walks were necessary for the Chinese men and women and children, dwelling in their mud huts, when the water had completely the walls of their homes washed away and there was nothing for them to do but rather together their household effects and move to a higher part of the city. There they would build another mud house. Perhaps, instead, they would erect temporary shacks, like an American Indian (teepee), a house built of thick matting. This shelter would serve as a temporary shelter from the cold and rain. Still the river was rising. The natives worked day and night. There was no rest for anyone."

"Every effort was being made to strengthen the support of the river's dykes, in much the same manner as along the Mississippi in America. When a break occurred in the dyke that hitherto had been kept intact, groups of highly excited Celestials would gather as the water poured into their fields. One gang of natives set up a furious beating on tin-gongs to call the neighbors to help repair the break in the dyke before it was too late. Other natives, combining faith with work, would burn great bunches of incense and firecrackers, how-towling in the gods presiding over that district to save the rice fields."

"One by one, however, the dykes gave way. The Yangtze still climbed upward on the high water mark register, and the fields had to be abandoned. Thousands of natives, reluctant to abandon all their earthly possessions, remained until the very last hope had disappeared, and finally could be seen drifting for their lives before the crushing flood."

Wear and Tear on Uniforms.

War plays havoc with soldiers' uniforms. Already reports are coming from the scene of hostilities in Europe that the soldiers' clothes are beginning to show wear and tear. In the Franco-Prussian war of 1870-71, German soldiers were seen plodding along the muddy roads in the depth of the winter barefoot, while many had only wooden shoes and linen trousers. When the Trenchers marched into the Le Mans in January, 1871, scarcely a soldier was clothed in the regulation manner. Civilian garments, even French red breeches, were common.

As is well known, during the South African war the British stripped the dead for supplies, and the British soldiers developed quite a fancy for boots secured in this way. It was not callousness, but necessity developing a matter-of-fact habit of mind.

Queerest Street in the World.

Canton in China, possesses the queerest street in the world in spite of the fact that in nearly all the big towns in this country there are some remarkable streets. The chief thing of interest attaching to this eccentric thoroughfare is the fact that it is roofed in with bamboo and paper fastened on bamboo and contains more signboards to the square foot than any other street in any other country. The best illustration of the fact about this can't byway is that, though a business street, it contains no other shops than those of apothecaries and dentists' parlors, no professional men but doctors. It is a sick man's paradise and a physicians' Klondike. They call it Phisic street.

Herself Before Her King.

In the great war at the beginning of the last century the British public was asked to subscribe not merely for relief funds, but for the actual raising of forces, and by no means everybody subscribed even for that. Dean Ramsay reckons as the best of his stories of the old women of Montreal the one concerning the old maid who was canvassed for funds to organize a volunteer corps for the King's service.

"Indeed," she replied, "I'll do as she thing, I never could raise a man for myself, and I've no gasen to raise men for King George."—London Chronicle.

Consolation.

He came home and found his young wife dissolved in tears. "What do you think has happened?" she cried. "The cage cock and our canary has flown away."

He undertook to give what consolation he might and took the distressed poor lady in his arms. As she nestled against his shoulder a new accident had occurred.

"Ah, George," she murmured in a choking voice, "now I've only you left."

Some Facts About Wires.

It covers about two-thirds of the earth's surface to an average depth of about 13,500 feet. It forms 75 per cent of the human body. When distilled to absolute purity it is almost a nonconductor of electricity. In freezing its volume increases by one-eighth that of the liquid.

Be Fair to Your Watch

Try to run your car or your sewing machine or wagon for a couple of years without oil, and see how stupidly they will screech forth protests against your neglect.

Yet it is, perhaps, six years since your watch was cleaned or oiled.

Though it cannot even "squeak" its protest, it is slowly but surely wearing itself out. A few drops of oil and a good cleaning will work wonders, bring it in.

Miss Fanny Crosby the blind hymn writer, author of about 8000 hymns, died on Feb. 12 at the age of 95 years. The story of her life will be told and some of her choicest hymns will be sung on Sunday evening next in the Methodist Church. Service at 7 P. M.

AN UNUSUAL OFFER

Owing to the large number of people who are annually deceived and in fact robbed by fakirs who canvass the town and country, selling enlargements of Photographs, and in order to introduce to the public a line of enlarged photos which possess very great artistic value and can at any time be obtained at a lower price than is commonly charged for inferior work, we are induced to make the following offer.

Beginning the 1st of February we will give one of our beautiful bromide enlargements with every $3.00 purchase of cabinet photographs at regular prices. Enlargements will be mounted ready for framing and we can supply a suitable frame for the sum of $1.00, but it is entirely optional with you whether you take a frame or not. This offer is good only during the month of February. Do not neglect or delay but make an appointment at once.

It is about high time now for all those interested in baseball to get together and re-organize.

Miss Joseph Akivins has been seriously ill for a time. She was threatened with pneumonia but by careful attention she rallied and is now progressing nicely.

Quite a number of the little folk are having a very enjoyable time leaping.

Wm. McGregor was the guest at Dumont McLean's, Mciver, last Sunday.

The Town Council

There was very little business of importance before the council Monday night. The correspondence indicated that the moving picture man at Chesley is still making an effort to come here, and that the head office of the Union Bank made a rebate of $10 for handling the funds of the Canada Casket Co. The Council claim that this is $6 short yet, but it was decided to drop the matter.

Mr. W. J. Patterson, town scavenger, has resigned, and his resignation was accepted. The Council will try to secure a man for this job, who will also work on the streets. They intend to get a horse and cart, rent one if possible, and by placing a tax of $1.50 against every tenant they hope to make the business pay.

Quite an order for hose etc. for the fire department was given, the successful tender being Mr. D. J. Hunter.

Councillor McVannell made an appeal on behalf of the teamsters of the town, who, he claimed, should be protected against the teamsters outside the corporation, who only come here when they have nothing to do at home and will work at any price in order to get a job. The matter created considerable discussion. The Reeve suggested that the Clerk write a number of other towns and find out what they do in this matter and that we be guided by them. The suggestion prevailed.

Coun. Plant brought up the question of the half burnt buildings, and after some discussion Coun. Boineau suggested a motion that the Clerk look into the matter, and prepare a by-law, if needed and if possible, so that these can be removed.

Coun. Pope drew the attention of the Council to the large number who congregated at the corner of Bedford and Frank streets Sunday night, and stated that the language used was ill becoming. The Chief's attention was called to the matter, and the names of those who congregated here will be reported.

Coun. Hurbath is in favor of giving the fire brigade a lump sum of $350 a year rather than paying them by the hour, it appears that they are agreeable and a by-law will be prepared to that effect.

PIKE BAY

Warton in Finals

In Intermediate O. H. A. it is Now

Warton or Orillia for the Silverware

Final Game Here Next Wednesday

Last Thursday's Toronto Telegram said: Warton are intermediate O. H. A. finalists. Going through the first round resting easy on a bye they burst through to another the Seaford seven unbeaten in their district by 11 to 3 at Warton, and 10 to 3 at Seaford.

Then they battered down the Berlin team champions of last year 11 to 5, at Warton, and 1 to 1 at Berlin.

Sarnia, looked upon as extremely likely for the second J. Ross Robertson Cup, furnished the next victims. Warton won at Sarnia, 5 to 4, and came right back last night at Warton, 6 to 0.

That means a clean record of five wins and a tie and all against strong district champions.

The ice in the Sarnia series was soft and water covered, but apparently hard and soft ice are alike to Warton, as they won the Seaford series hands down on fast going.

On their semi-final match Warton has scored 41 goals to 16.

They have the call for the championship over the Collingwood-Orillia winner.

The game in the Warton rink last Wednesday night between Warton and Sarnia, while not the best possible exhibition of hockey, was exciting from start to finish. The mild weather had made soft ice, there was lots of water on it and hundreds knowing these conditions obtained, did not attend. However there was still a large number there and they got the worth of their money.

As back checkers the Sarnia team were the equal of any other visiting team this year. They were good hockey players, but were simply outclassed in every respect.

In the first period Sarnia tried to even the score, for Warton had only beaten them by one goal at home. After the bell had sounded but five minutes Allan Ashley made a clever pass to Earl Miers who found the net this was soon followed by Wes Ashley scoring another and before long Rock got there too, with a clever shot Sarnia was now beaten, and they knew it at second period. The last hockey was then played, and Johnston had a busy time, but he stopped them all. In fact Warton's defence in Gildner, Ashley and Johnston were impregnable. Dad Ashley scored the lone goal of this period Sarnia tried to score one goal at least, and they worked hard for it. They saw a shut out staring them in the face and they did not want to end home with a goose-egg, but they had to make the trip back to the tunnel town with the egg. Dad Ashley made a clean shot from half way up the ice scoring another, while in a tangle Miers got in the sixth before the going stopped. This wound up Sarnia Warton O. H. A.

On account of the soft condition of the ice there was very little competition, it was individual work, and the whole team put on a good game. They are now in excellent physical condition and The Echo hopes to see Orillia get the same dose of medicine as Sarnia and Berlin.

ZION AMABEL

Miss Gadya Johnston-Park Head, was the guest of her cousins, the Misses Walker Sunday.

News of the Churches.

The March meeting of the Owen Sound Presbytery was held on Tuesday.

Coinciding with the news of the death of the first British clergyman killed in the war, Rev. Capt. Lionel Studd, curate of Holloway, the question "Should a parson fight?" is the subject of much discussion. The Times having two columns of correspondence on the subject. Many able bodied clergy state that they cannot urge loyalty without showing it, but the bishops and the more conservative type of clergyman hold that such clergy should be content to proceed to the front as chaplains or Red Cross workers.

It is a fact that the theological colleges, both Anglican and Nonconformist, have been seriously depleted. The Wesleyan Methodist conference this year expects a great shortage of candidates for the ministry.

The resignation of Rev. W. A. Amos of the Presbyterian church, Atwood, was received and accepted at the meeting of the Stratford Presbytery on Tuesday afternoon.

Rev. Mr. Amos is going to take up farming, having purchased a farm one mile east of Salmonton.

The anniversary services in St. Paul's church will be held next Sunday and will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Mathieson, Allenford. There will be special music for the occasion.

TRINITY CHURCH

On Friday evening last the members of the choir and representatives of the A. Y. P. A. of Trinity church gathered at the home of Mr. S. Rathwell to bid farewell to Mr. A. W. Bevan on the eve of his departure for Winnipeg. In the course of the evening he was presented with an address expressing the high esteem in which he is held and the warm appreciation felt by all of his faithful service to the church, accompanying the address was the gift of a beautiful pair of military brushes as a small memento of his residence in Warton. Mr. Bevan will be much missed in the church.

Special Lenten services are being held each Wednesday evening in the church and are being well attended.

At the Saturday evening services during Lent the Rector is preaching a special course of sermons on the "Companions of the Sorrowful Way." His subject last Sunday evening was Virgin Mary.

BAPTIST CHURCH

The Pastor is delivering on Sunday evening a series of sermons to the approach of Lent. Last Sunday the theme was "Jehovah's Servant." Sunday evening next will be the monthly service for young men and women, subject "Christ's warning to Peter."

The Methodist Church held a song service Sunday night in honour of Miss Fannie Crosby's death. Mr. Flagg gave an address on the hymns she had written.

CITY MISSION

LAKE CHARLES

Frank and Miss Mary Davidson are visiting friends in Owen Sound this week. The former is on his way back to Alberta after visiting his parents here for some time.

A very pleasant evening was spent at Neil Spicers on Thursday last.

G. Green had an accident last week which might have proved very serious. While passing behind the horses in Jee Davidson's stable, he was severely kicked by one of the horses. We hear he is improving and hope to see him around again in a short time.

Mrs. Lloyd, of Toronto, is visiting Mrs. S. Shier.

Mr. Geo. Cat-pole, Midland, is visiting friends here.

The ice harvest is beginning again. It makes many mouths water as they think of the ice cream to come in the future.

We are sorry to lose Mr. and Mrs. Ward from our burg. Mr. Wrigley is moving in.

Communion service will be held here next Sunday. Preparatory service held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

CLAVERING

Mrs. A. Wilson returned home from Owen Sound where she was ill with la grippe.

Mr. J. Jackson and sister Rachel returned home Saturday after spending a week with friends in Chatsworth and Owen Sound.

Mr. Roy Glenn who has been attending Business College at Owen Sound, spent first part of this week at home here.

A number of girls were sleigh riding Saturday evening when the sleigh Margaret Perkins was on ran into a barbed wire fence, giving her leg a severe cut which will keep her out of school for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. T. White of Arran, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Elliot this week.

DEATH OF CHARLES G. GUEST

After an illness extending over five years the death occurred at the Ottawa-Hill settlement Amabel, Monday afternoon of Charles Guest, aged 73 years. Pneumonia was the immediate cause, however, of his death.

The late Mr. Guest came to Amabel about 31 years ago from London Township where he had been born, and settled in Amabel when that part of the township was in a very crude condition. The whole settlement was not what it is today and in the making of it better the late Mr. Guest did his part. In those days there were corduroy roads and Warton was a village, but he lived to see the present development. In London township he served on the council board and was deputy reeve, but here he lived rather a quiet life. In politics he was a Conservative, in religion a Methodist, while he belonged to both the Orangemen and Free Masons. He will be much missed in the neighbourhood where he had so long lived and was most highly respected. He is survived by a widow, two sons Messrs Albert and Leonard, and one daughter Miss Sarah. He is also survived by a brother Mr. William Guest, Shedd, and a sister Mrs. Joseph Bunn London township. The funeral services will be held Friday afternoon.

—Word was received in town this week of the sudden death of Manley Jasper in Chicago, who was formerly a resident of this town. The deceased was ill but three days. Death was due to pneumonia.

CLIPPED FROM OUR LOCAL EXCHANGE

Tara

January and February have been very mild months, and the death rate for two months in Tara in the surrounding country for a radius of ten miles has been exceptionally small, only one death having occurred according to the statement of the local undertaker, Mr. Jas. Boardman. As a general rule these two months have the largest death toll of the year, but probably this mild winter is accountable for the falling off in the death rate, especially among the aged invalid.

One of our teachers on the public school staff asked her class one day last week to draw a map of the British flag. All the class made the drawing except one little chap who made no effort to do so. He was told. The teacher was obliged to ensure the boy for disobedience but first asked him why he was not doing the drawing and to which the boy replied, "I can't draw the British flag with crayons made in Germany." Needless to say the teacher excused the little chap.

The Auditor Report of the receipts and expenditures for Tara for 1914 will appear in next week's issue of The Leader and will show a balance of cash in the treasurer's hands of $1428.04. Why did last year's council levy for $1900.00 more than was required? $500.00 would have been sufficient to have on hand at the present time. Last year's revenue and council, or whatever struck last year's rate, blundered as easily two mills on the dollar less than have been sufficient. It looks like a case of carelessness, and the ratepayers had to pay two mills more than was required for the blunder.

The Agricultural Conference under the Dominion Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the Ontario Department of Agriculture which was held in Tara last Friday afternoon and evening did not put with the interest and support from the farming community that it deserved. The afternoon meeting was opened shortly after 3 o'clock by the Rev. Mr. J. E. Grant and quite a large number of farmers were present. The first speaker was Wm. Spurr, B. S. A. associate professor of field husbandry at the Ontario Agricultural College, his subject being "The Duty and the Opportunity of the Canadian Farmer" in relation to Farm Crops while R. W. Wade B. S. A. handled the subject in relation to Live Stock. Both speakers gave a lot of valuable information which will no doubt prove beneficial to the great war. In the evening the meeting was presided over by Mr. H. A. Van Dusen and in addition to the speakers mentioned above, Mr. John Farrell of Forest, who has toured the British Isles as Immigration Agent for the Ontario Government. Mr. Wade's address was particularly interesting on account of the many phases he touched on in relation to the great war. Each of the speakers endeavored to emphasize the patriotic character of the farmers' work in providing for those who have to do our fighting in the trenches. Mr. John Brunton favored the audience with a patriotic song which added to the enjoyment of the evening. The meeting closed with the singing of Auld Lang Syne and God Save the King.

Southampton

Mr. Elmer Miller and Mrs. Dan McVittie returned from Bourne, Mass. last Tuesday night. Their father and mother remain with their brother, who is still in a precarious state of health.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Glenn of Manitoba who have been visiting the latter's parents here have gone to Montreal and Quebec for a visit.

Back to the land says Mr. J. A. Busch and he has exchanged his home and lot in town for Mr. Duke's farm at Borgey. Mr. Busch gives $2400 on the deal but gets a good deal, seed, wood, etc., with the farm. The change will take place in the spring.

Mr. Neil McPhail had a rather trying experience last week. He was fishing with some others at the end of the breakwater when he slipped on the ice on the pier and dropped into the rap. He kept his head above water by holding on to the ice until the men working on the dock, whose attention was directed to him by the yells of the boys were able to come with planks and rescue him. It was a very cold bath and a very close call but Neil suffered no serious consequence.

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little stomach, liver and bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or if feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well-playful child again. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children, of all ages and for grown-ups.

Hanover

Cattle are not usually so fond of money as their human friends, but a story comes to us from Holland township which goes to prove that at least some of the cattle kind have a decided liking for filthy money. The other day the Holland township tax collector, who, by the way, is a farmer, went out on his rounds and collected some six or seven hundred dollars in tax.

When he returned to his home he happened to see a cow in the pocket of which he had deposited the tax money, hanging for a few minutes over the back of the cutter in the barnyard where a number of cattle were rubbing at large, and while he was gone one of the animals chewed off and swallowed the pocket of the coat, and also the money. What happened then, we did not learn, but we are fairly safe in saying that after it swallowed the "swag" it was worth more dead than alive and we can only make a conjecture as to its fate.

Business friends to the number of about 150 assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Willis last Friday night to wish them "bon voyage" to their new home in the west. They expect to leave March 3. Mr. and Mrs. Willis have a lot of friends in this district who regret very much their departure. As a little token of regard and farewell a purse of $10 was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Willis. The presentation was made by Mr. Robt. Brigham in a neat speech. Mr. Willis replied on behalf of his wife and himself in appropriate terms. Lunch was then served. Cards and dancing were then indulged in until the wee sma's hours.

Fire broke out in the basement of the Post Office building in course of erection here last Tuesday evening about 7:15 o'clock, and was noticed by passers by and the alarm given. The brigade turned out promptly, and the blaze was soon extinguished. The cause of the fire is a mystery. It is fortunate that the fire started early in the evening. Had it occurred several hours later the whole building would likely have been gutted.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS A GREAT BLESSING

Mr. Jas. E. Mallman, Goggin, N. S. writes: "I gave Baby's Own Tablets to my baby boy for constipation and teething troubles and have found them a great blessing. I think the Tablets should be in every home where there are young children." The Tablets are an absolutely safe remedy for infants, being backed by the guarantee of a government. They are free from opiates and narcotics. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Warkenton

Mrs. Richard Brocklebank a former resident of Brant died at the home of her son, Joseph in Hanover on Sunday last at the advanced age of 82 years, after a lengthy illness from a general breakdown of the system. The late Mrs. Brocklebank resided on the 4th concession Brant for a great many years and moved with her son to Hanover on Feb. 1st. She was one of the townships most respected citizens and her demise is generally regretted. She is survived by four sons and three daughters viz: Wm. H. of Warkenton, Thos. of Melville, Sask. Ad. of Calgary and Joseph of Hanover and Mrs. Tisdale of Hanover. Mr. Dan McNamara of Brant and Mrs. Teala of Brant. The funeral which was largely attended took place to the Hanover cemetery.

Dr. Tamin, Government purchasing agent for army horses, with Dr. McQuone of Harriett, visited Warkenton on Thursday last. A large number of horses were brought in from outside police by horse buyers. Three types of horses were bought, addled, artillery and draught horses and those submitted were an unusually good lot. Not more than about 12 per cent of the horses were rejected and priced ranged from $125 to $150. About 25 horses were purchased.

Mr. Arthur Langham, who for the past two years has been on the staff of red workers at the American Red Cross here, and who is one of the star performers on the Warkenton football team has received word of his appointment to a Government position in England making shell baskets for the British army, which has sent a requisition for two millions of these baskets. Mr. Langham will leave with his wife for the Old Country as soon as they can dispose of their household effects here.

Mr. Percy Mead of the Immigration Department, Ottawa, came to Warkenton last week and in conjunction with Constable Eric Briggs, set out for various parts of Brant, Carleton and Northumberland to warn certain alleged German sympathizers who are said to have been stirring their views altogether too freely about the subject and cease booting for Germany while making their bread and butter in Canada, which is now at war with the Kaiser. Especially in Northumberland where the glit gliters running freely and the official handed out some hot shots to some of the aposters in that district. Those who disregard the warning are threatened with arrest and internment in the Dominion detention camp. Britain is now dependent on the immigration of all property in her dominions held by those acting in a hostile manner towards her.

Sick Headaches Permanently Cured Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Correct the Cause of This Trouble.

There are few ailments that cause more genuine misery in the home than attacks which are generally termed sick headaches. The attacks are often periodical and when the sufferer of a family is prostrated as a result of them it is not only her own suffering to consider, but the discomfort caused the other members of the household. Sick headaches arise from a variety of causes, and most of them can be relieved and cured through the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mrs. H. Chisholm, Keweenaw, Mich., says: "I suffered for years with what the doctor called nervous prostration and sick headache. When these spells came on I could not work nor walk, and the pains in the head were almost unbearable. At times the pain in my head was so dreadful that it felt as though it would drive me mad. I tried to do many different cures at times, and I could not get any relief. I was told to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I did so. I feel better and I am able to do my work now. My nerves began to feel stronger the terrible headache came with less frequency and after taking the Pills for some months it disappeared altogether. From that day to this I have no return to the trouble and all who know of my illness regarded my cure as marvellous. I cannot say too much in praise of the Pills as they actually cured me. The cause of the fire is a mystery. It is fortunate that the fire started early in the evening. Had it occurred several hours later the whole building would likely have been gutted."

It is by building up and enriching the blood and strengthening the nerves that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills work seemingly marvellous cures and what they have done for others they will do for all ailing people if given a fair trial. If you do not feel these Pills at your medicine dealer you can get them by mail at 39 cents a box or six boxes for $ 2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The company closed its first contract for Toronto last week, and expects to ship extensively during the season. A quiet but pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh B. McEwen, Annan, yesterday, when their charming daughter, Miss Florence A., was united in marriage to Mr. Thos. L. Day, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Day, Annan. The ceremony took place at 11 o'clock and was performed in the presence of only the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties by Rev. J. B. Fraser, Annan. The bride, who was given away by her father, entered the drawing-room to the strains of the wedding march played by the sister of the groom. After the usual congratulations had been extended to the happy young couple, the party sat down to a dainty wedding dinner. After a honeymoon trip to Toronto and other points Mr. and Mrs. Day will reside at Edenville, villa, Daywood. The bride's attendants highly congratulated.

Girls! Try Tri Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a 25 cent bottle of Dandelion.

If you care for heavy hair that glitters with beauty and is radiant with life, has an inexpressible softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Dandelion. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scour robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots become loosened and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a 25-cent bottle of Dandelion's Dandruff from any drug store and just try it.

PATRIOTISM and PRODUCTION

"I would urge the farmers of Canada to do their share in preventing the people of Great Britain from suffering want of privation."

HON. MARTIN BURRELL, Minister of Agriculture.

The Empire Needs Many Foods

In the past Great Britain has imported immense quantities of these staple foods from Russia, France, Belgium, Germany and Austria-Hungary as shown by the following:

Average Imports Years 1910-1913	Millions of bushels rather than millions of acres should be Canada's aim.
Wheat..... 25,439,009 bush.	That there is abundant reason to expect larger returns from the same area is conclusively shown when we compare the average production of the present time with the possible production. Note the following brief table which shows the average in 1914 and possible production per acre.
Oats..... 23,586,304 "
Barley..... 15,192,288 "
Corn..... 7,631,374 "
Pots..... 703,068 "
Beans..... 839,863 "
Potatoes..... 4,721,890 " Onions..... 271,569 "
Meat..... 26,509,796 lbs.
Eggs..... 121,112,916 doz.
Butter and Cheese..... 91,785,233 lbs.

Average Possible	By "possible" is meant the actual results which have been obtained by our Experimental Farms and by many farmers. These "possibles" have been obtained under intensive cultivation methods and conditions not altogether possible on the average farm, yet they suggest the great possibilities of increased production. By greater care in the selection of seed, more thorough cultivation, fertilization, better drainage, the average could be raised by at least one-third. That in itself would add at least $189,000,000 to the annual income of Canada from the farm. It would be a great service to the Empire, and this is the year in which to do it.
Wheat..... 20.43
Spring Wheat..... 14.84
Barley..... 16.16
Oats..... 36.30
Corn..... 70. 200.
Corn Ensilage..... 12. 15.
(Tons)..... 15.33
Peas..... 18.79
Beans..... 118.40

Increase Your Live Stock

Breeding stock are to-day Canada's most valuable asset. The outstanding feature of the world's farming is that there will soon be a great shortage of meat supplies. Save your breeding stock. To increase your live stock. Europe and the United States, as well as Canada, will pay higher prices for beef, mutton, and pork in the near future. Do not sacrifice now. Remember that live stock is the only basis for prosperous agriculture. You are farming, not just eating.

Lindsay Council

Council met at McDonald's Hall Saturday, Feb. 20th 1915. Members all present. Dr. McDonald & Watson. That minutes be adopted.

A. J. McDonald and N. McDonald—That considering the large expenditure for the maintenance and repair of our country roads and whereas the automobile traffic is unduly severe especially when the roads are not of the most firm and compact material and whereas our country roads usually lack the firmness of texture the consequence is that autos driven at a rapid rate in the very dry season will move a large quantity of road material to the sides and ditches, whereas it is only proper and right that this form of traffic so largely interested in good roads should contribute its fair share to the maintenance of the same. We do therefore respectfully ask the Provincial Legislature to distribute to the different rural municipalities according to their respective mileage of roads, the full amount now collected by the province for automobile licenses or any increase thereon, also that our members of the legislature be asked to support same and other municipalities asked to co-operate and that the clerk be instructed to send a copy of this resolution to our local member and Mr. Vandusen respectively.

Dr. McDonald and A. J. McDonald—That Dr. M. St. Mary be reappointed township treasurer for 1915 at a salary of $75 and by law be drafted for the same.

Dr. McDonald and N. McDonald—That the clerk be instructed to send for a blue print of Lindsay township for M. H. O. Watson & Co. McDonald—That by-law No. 221 as now read be adopted.

N. McDonald and Dr. McDonald—That auditors report for 1914 be accepted as correct.

Dr. McDonald & A. J. McDonald—That the clerk be authorized to get the necessary number of Auditors Reports printed by Dr. McDonald and N. McDonald—That the treasurer be instructed to send $1.00 to Municipal World for our subscription.

N. McDonald and Dr. McDonald—That the collectors roll be called in March 19th 1915 and Philip Forbes and A. J. McDonald be appointed to audit same.

Orders were issued as follows:—Wm Smith for auditing treasurers books $5; John McFar for auditing treasurers books and postage $5.50; Willie Kent for 2500 wire wire fence $83.30; D. B. McFar for salary as treasurer 1914 $10; John N. Smith rebate Wm Heathers dog tax $1; John N. Smith part salary as collector, $40.

Watson and Dr. McDonald—That Malcolm McIvor receive bonus on 100 rats wire fence along side lot 25 on 7 E B R on complying with by-law.

Dr. McDonald and Watson—That this council do now adjourn to meet again at McDonald's Hall on Saturday March 20th 1915 to appoint pathmasters and for general business.

"Talking about old proposals," remarked the tall man, "I guess my own case" was as old as any. In Green & Gilman's department store one day, I saw behind a counter just the girl I wanted. I said to her: "I've got a little money saved up. Will you marry me?" She was amazed; but I repeated my question three times and finally she answered yes."

"That was certainly an abrupt way of proposing," said the short man. "May I ask if the marriage turned out well? Are you aware that there are attractive clerks at Barton & Brown?"

"Yes—no," said the other but without a little hesitation. Yes, but I sometimes wonder if I should not have done better at Barton & Brown."—Boston Advertiser

GERMANS HURLED BACK

Russians Have Won A Decisive Victory at Przasnysz.

Two German Army Corps Have Been Driven to the East Prussian Frontier. — Casualty figures published by the East Prussian Press through Von Hindenburg's Command—Enemy Hard Hit at Mesnil.

LONDON, March 2.—The Russian operations around Przasnysz have been completed, according to a statement from Petrograd, and two German army corps at that point have been hurled back on the East Prussian frontier.

On the western battlefield there has been little change during the day except in the Champagne district, where Gen. Joffre continues the nibbling campaign, forcing the enemy back a few hundred yards at a time, and then consolidating his position. The hardest fighting was near Mesnil, where several strong German counter-attacks were repulsed.

Frederick Rogers, writing from Petrograd to The Daily News says: "It is now known that a Russian cavalry brigade, under the command of General von Hindenburg, pierced the centre of Von Hindenburg's army last Friday at the village of Kransel, on the River Ogora, about midway between Ostrolenka and Przasnysz. Frantic efforts by the Germans to cover their broken lines culminated in an amazing 48 hours of close quarter fighting for the possession of Przasnysz. A Russian cavalry was well up on the flank of the German 20-mile front, stretching westward beyond Przasnysz. The enemy began pouring in fresh troops from the front and attempted to maintain the line through the morning after village, while the Germans attempted to form again and started counter-attacks. Their southern line, however, was gradually bent backward by the assaults sustained from Wednesday until Saturday.

By breaking the German line and capturing their forward depot the Russians have divided the northern campaign into two parts. The German line has been abandoned, their initiative for a stubborn defence against the Russians moving westward from the Neuen battles.

The main Russian army had been forced into a dangerous position. Russians from the Strzy Valley attacked from the west and rapidly defeated all the enemy troops between Dolina and Stanislaw. Another Russian column advanced energetically along the left bank of the Pruth and threatened the rear of the main Austro-Hungarian army. The Austrians are now trying to retreat through Kowalewka towards Bukowina.

The following official statement was given out by the French War Office at midnight: "Faint and snowstorms have hindered operations at several points in Champagne. To the north of Mesnil, however, we repulsed several strong counter-attacks and maintained all our gains. We inflicted heavy losses on the enemy in this region. We have made fresh progress near Pont-a-Mousson.

"In the Le Perre woods we have captured a blockhouse. At Sully, northwest of Moulins, we repulsed a fierce attack Sunday night. In these two affairs we made some prisoners. At Hartmannsweilerkopf, despite the German counter-attacks, we have conserved the ground gained by us.

The following official statement was issued yesterday afternoon: "There is nothing to add to the communication of yesterday evening, except that in Champagne the different supporting positions we successively secured now form a continuous chain five kilometres in length to the north and northwest of Verdun, and in the Vosges our attacks made slight progress at Châtelot, three kilometres north of Colleur."

Reprisals Cut Off Her Trade With Germany and Austria.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Duplicate announcements of the proposed "long range blockade" of the German allies were delivered to Secretary of State Bryan yesterday by Ambassador Gurnea and Sir Cecil Spring Rice on behalf of the French and British Governments.

The duplicate statement of yesterday on behalf of the British and French Governments that they will detain and restrict all commerce overseas with the German Empire, is greeted with high officials in Washington as tantamount to a blockade.

Should protests against the policy of Great Britain and France be registered by any of the neutral powers, the allies are expected to hold that their system of blockade is entirely tenable in view of the fact that Germany in uttering and attempting to enforce and in a measure enforcing the war zone.

The direct effect of the general blockade of German ports will cut off utterly the commerce of the United States with both Germany and Austria.

The Wife Registered.
MONTREAL, March 2.—"Mrs. G. A. Mottet and her husband" registered at the Ritz Carlton Hotel yesterday. This is the first time this combination has been used in a Montreal hotel. The fact is given as the home town of the couple.

GALES STOP ATTACK.

Temporary Halt Is Called In Operations Against Dardanelles Forts.

LONDON, March 2.—Terrible gales, rendering impossible long-range firing and aerial observation, again have caused a cessation in the bombardment of the Dardanelles. Halt was called on the operations of the allied fleet when they were 16 miles up the channel, and when Queen Elizabeth, was hurling 1,350-pound projectiles into Port Kild Baidon on the European side. A lightning south of the fort was demolished by one of the shell shells before operations ceased.

Delays in the activities of the fleet was announced by the press bureau for the Admiralty last night. The announcement reads: "Operations in the Dardanelles have again been delayed by unfavorable weather. A strong northeasterly wind blowing, and the rain and mist is so heavy that long-range firing and aeroplane observation would be rendered difficult."

A despatch from Athens says that Turkish destroyers are reported from Tenedos to have attacked the Anglo-French mine-sweepers in the Dardanelles during Sunday night, sinking two of them.

The German newspapers now realize that important events are occurring around Constantinople, according to telegrams received in Copenhagen.

The Daily News publishes a despatch from Athens that Turkish forces are hurriedly concentrating on the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles under Essad Pasha, the defender of Janina.

According to The London Daily Mail's Athens correspondent, Port Dardanelles, twelve miles up the Dardanelles on the Asiatic side, has been silenced by the allied fleet.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

The Chicago Great Opera Co. filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy yesterday, scheduling liabilities of $254,000 and assets of $61,500.

The Indiana State Legislature yesterday killed the bill which would couple all press associations to furnish news reports to any newspapers desiring service.

Despatches from Tenedos, to have attacked Anglo-French mine-sweepers in the Dardanelles Sunday night, sinking two of them.

The Garibaldi bakers yesterday put into operation a new schedule of prices. They advanced the price of bread from 12 to 14 cents for a three-pound loaf, and their pastry in proportion.

A militia order issued yesterday announces that the period of tenure of appointment of Col. Sir H. M. Pelt, C.B., A.D.C., as brigade commander of the Sixth Infantry Brigade has been extended to Feb. 20, 1916.

THREAT TO PATRICIAN.

Premier Asquith Mentions Canadian Regiment In British House.

LONDON, March 2.—Premier Asquith paid a high tribute to the Privy Council of the Canadian Light Infantry in the course of his speech in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon. He said: "Our own Dominion and our loyal dependencies of Canada have sent us a splendid contribution of men, a large number of whom are already at the front, and who are doing their duty in the fighting line in one of the actual theatres of the war. We hear that the Canadian Light Infantry has been doing good service during the last few days a most gallant and efficient work. The territorial divisions are now fully trained and capable of confronting any troops in the world, and the new army, which lately has been under the critical scrutiny of skilled observers, is fast realizing all our most sanguine hopes."

Romania Has Signed Agreement. — PARIS, March 2.—Take Joseph, Minister of the Interior, informed a meeting of Conservative Democrats, who were discontented with the party's policy, according to the official press bulletin. He said that he had not attacked the Government because J. C. Bratiano, former prime minister, had concluded a formal agreement with combined action with the Triple Entente power (Great Britain, France and Russia).

Proof of this would be found, Joseph said, in the Roumanian loan made in London, which it would have been impossible to arrange if the Bucharest Cabinet had not made a categorical statement of its position.

Arrest Greek Notables.
PARIS, March 2.—The Havan Agency has given out a despatch from its Athens correspondent, who says that information has reached there from Sofia to the effect that the police of the Bulgarian capital have arrested a number of Greek notables charged with complicity with the revolution of a bomb the night of Jan. 16 in the local casino during a ball attended by the exclusive society of the city. This act resulted in the killing of two people.

TO DEBAR EVERYTHING

Allies Will Not Let Germany Trade For Rest of War.

Premier Asquith Delivers Reply to German Submarine "Blockade." — All Commodities Out to From Germany Will Be Held Up, He Says. — Another Huge War Vote Must Be Prime Minister.

LONDON, March 2.—The establishment of a virtual blockade of hostile countries is Great Britain's reply to Germany's attacks on merchandise, as announced officially yesterday by Premier Asquith in a momentous speech in the House of Commons.

The plan of the allied Governments for the regulation of shipping to and from ports of hostile nations contemplates the prevention of commodities of every kind reaching or leaving those ports without, however, involving risks to neutral vessels or their crews. The allies will hold themselves at liberty to capture goods passing to have come from hostile countries or to be destined for them. They have no intention, however, of confiscating ships or cargoes, which are detained unless they are liable to confiscation under normal conditions of war.

Germany had violated systematically all the conventions intended for the mitigation of warfare. She had taken further steps in organizing "an undeclared campaign of piracy and pillage." Germany was blockading and could never blockade English shores.

The proposed measures of reprisal against Germany would be enforced with strict observance of the dictates of humanity, but the allies did not purpose "to allow their efforts to be strangled in a network of judicial niceties."

Referring to the attack on the Dardanelles, the Premier said that there had been an impairment of strength of the allies' forces, or in flanders as a result of withdrawal of men from service in the campaign.

"Neither has there been for purposes of the Dardanelles operations, any weakening of the grand fleet," he said. "The only weakness is connected, with distinct political and economic objects."

Every member of the House not at the front in khaki or undress, but in civilian dress, was present to hear the Prime Minister's speech, and there was a tremendous outburst.

The Prime Minister, in moving a supplementary credit of £37,000,000 to the financial year 1914-15 was £262,000,000. That represented, broadly speaking, the difference between expenditure on a peace footing and expenditure on a war footing.

The vote was approved unanimously. The Premier then gave figures of the expenditure, but the army and navy took out of that total about £275,000,000 for the war, which was voted for these services on peace footing. Thirty-eight million pounds were added to the total for the expenditure on the dominions and crown colonies. There had been an advance in Belgium of £10,000,000 and in France of £10,000,000 or advances to their allies were contemplated. The actual cost of the war at the close of the financial year when the war would have lasted 250 days would be £1,200,000,000. This credit of £260,000,000 was the largest single vote ever put before the House. It would have to be provided for the second week of July. The War Office estimated that from April this year the regular army would be £6,666,000, and the navy estimated an expenditure of £400,000. This would aggregate roughly £2,000,000 daily.

The Premier then said that he was making a larger pecuniary demand on the House than ever before, but they made it in the full conviction that after seven months of the war, the Empire were every whit as determined as ever to bring a righteous victory to a triumphant close.

URGES WHEAT CONTROL.

W. F. Cockburn Stills Up Hot Debate In Commons.

OTTAWA, March 2.—W. F. Cockburn, of Bradford, started a vigorous discussion in the House yesterday afternoon, when he proposed that the Government should control the price and exportation of foodstuffs, especially wheat and flour. Messrs. Mercer (S. Huron), Sutherland (N. Ontario), and James (Albion) (Brandon), were among the Conservative members who vigorously combated the proposition. Mr. Sutherland said that the House had spent the day debating a proposal at which the country would be laughing to-morrow.

The Prime Minister declared that there was a superabundance of food in Canada and said that the Government could not interfere with the price in times of depression, and Mr. W. F. Maclean (S. York) suggested establishing, not a maximum, but a minimum price for wheat. Mr. Maclean desired to see the price increased rather than reduced and urged wider storage capacity and a reform of the banking system so that the farmer might be able to hold his wheat for a fair return.

The Western Liberals severely criticized the member for Bradford and suggested taking off the duty on flour. They argued that the manufacturer would not do it, the farmer should make some sacrifices.

During the Parliamentary session the Minister of Finance under authority of several orders of council issued Dominion notes in excess of the limitation imposed by the Dominion Statute Act to the extent of $25,000,000, out of which a loan of $10,000,000 was made to the Canadian Northern, and a loan of $6,000,000 to the Grand Trunk Pacific.

TURKS FALLING BACK.

Russians Again Moving Forward On Asiatic Front.

PETROGRAD, March 2.—Russian troops are again moving forward on the Asiatic front, having cleared the Turks from the Trans-Chorok region. The Russians have now advanced several marches, sweeping aside, destroying, and capturing the detachments and forces that venture to attempt any opposition. They are now approaching the final stage of the main high roads towards Erzerum from the west. From the east also certain live forces are again being exhibited. The Russians having taken a couple of guns from the Turks in an encounter in the mountainous region of the Caucasus. The two forces are marching in concert and are about equidistant from their goal from opposite sides. Nothing has been heard of the Turkish raid into Persia which ended as disastrously at Tabriz. From all accounts the Turks are heartily sick of the advance into which they were forced by the Goeben on behalf of Germany.

Russian operations in the coast region Sunday occupied the port of Kholo (on the Black Sea, 18 miles southwest of Batumi). The port was of great military importance to the Turks.

TO END DEBATE TODAY.

Budget Speeches Occupy Time of the Provincial House.

TORONTO, March 2.—Contrary to general expectations, the budget debate was not concluded in the Legislature yesterday. The day was taken up with speeches by the private members and the final bill read is expected today.

Over-expenditure on civil administration was the criticism brought forward by Joseph Ham (N. Brant). He said that the Government had expended over $1,000,000 on the prison farm and the expense entailed by one cow to reach yearly $350.

Dr. Jacques, the new Conservative member from Haldimand, avoided politics, but discussed Ontario's relation to the war.

Severin Buchanan, the French-Canadian member returned in North Essex, declared that there was no contention between the races in Ontario. All their differences had been sunk in one attitude since the war had broken out.

The Government bill arranging for reciprocity in standing between Canadian and British physicians was advanced a stage, and the mortgage collection measures passed second reading without debate.

HOSPITAL IS ACCEPTED.

Toronto University Will Furnish Establishment and Staff.

TORONTO, March 2.—The magnificent offer of the medical faculty of the University of Toronto to furnish and equip a hospital of 1,040 beds, to be placed at the disposal of the British authorities in connection with the war, was yesterday accepted by the War Office. Immediately a meeting of the medical faculty was held, with the result that a committee was formed to complete plans.

The hospital will be the most ambitious undertaking of this nature yet attempted in Canada. It will require a large staff of doctors and 84 trained nurses. All will be taken from the medical faculty of the University and hospitals affiliated with the University of Toronto. The hospital will be financed by the Military Department, aside from a laboratory, which will have to be provided for by private individuals.

Tried To Kill Enver Pasha.
PARIS, March 2.—The Temps prints a despatch from Sofia saying that news has been received there from Constantinople that a brilliant attempt was made Sunday to assassinate Enver Pasha, Turkish Minister of War, and Talat Pasha, Turkish Minister of the Interior, at an attempt on the life of Talat Pasha was reported from Sofia on Feb. 26. He was fired at by a man in the street but was unharmed.

LOSSES WERE SLIGHT

Canadians Have Spent Seven Days in the Trenches.

Officer Who Has Just Returned to the Base, Says Behavior of Dominion's Contingent Under Fire Was Admirable—Frostbite and Smaller Casualties Have Disabled 63 Men.

NORTHERN FRANCE, March 2.—For seven days the Canadian have been fighting against the Russian and the Saxons in a first-line trench. They have shown themselves splendidly gallant, and the losses have been surprisingly small.

Sixty-three were disabled, owing principally to frostbite, the men acted like old soldiers, being cool under heavy fire, while their discipline and order were never shaken. They fought for 24 hours, and then were relieved for that period by British troops.

One Canadian battalion was separated from the enemy by only 85 yards, while others were 700 yards apart. Some of the trenches were knee-deep in water, and many of the men suffered from exposure. Other trenches are quite dry, and the dugouts are snug.

Until moved up to the front, the Canadians in the reserve trenches were under every variety of gunfire, from "Jack Johnsons" to 18-pounders.

According to an officer who has just returned to the base, the men conducted themselves admirably. The infantry would have welcomed a bayonet charge, but the monotony of the work in the trenches, but this was impossible, owing to the wire entanglements and the muddy field separating the trenches.

On one occasion the Prussian guards charged the Canadians, but were caught by the wire entanglements before the Canadian trenches, and a whole company was taken down. From each company crack shots were chosen as snipers, and they were ordered to shoot two men shot down eight men in a German patrol.

The following casualties among members of the Canadian Expeditionary Force have been announced: First Battalion—Killed in action, Feb. 25, Lieut. Herbert Beaumont (father), Westmount, Que. Next of kin, Fred Callan (brother), Preston, Ont. Severely wounded, Lieut. W. J. Beaumont, wounded in scalp; next of kin, Mrs. J. Beaumont, Brompton, Ont. Slightly wounded, Lieut. E. Chapman; next of kin, Mrs. Jennie Chapman, Altona, Ont.

Second Battalion—Slightly wounded, Lieut. G. H. H. Hamilton, in thigh; next of kin, Mrs. H. Hamilton (father), Westmount, Que. Slightly wounded, Lieut. H. Hamilton, in leg; next of kin, H. C. Hamilton (father), Saint John, N.B. Slightly wounded, Lieut. H. Hamilton, in foot; next of kin, Mrs. J. Davis, Kennewick, Ont.

Third Battalion—Severely wounded, Lieut. Victor Holland, in shoulder; next of kin, Mrs. G. Holland, 72 Gravelly Hill, North Birmingham, Eng. Slightly wounded, Lieut. William Henry Sanders; next of kin, Rita Martha Sanders, 141 Manning avenue, Toronto.

Seventh Battalion—Killed in action, Feb. 25, Lieut. Herbert Beaumont (father), 620 Port street, Victoria, B. C.

The First Battalion is composed of men from Western Ontario regiments, the Second is mainly drawn from Eastern Ontario, but includes the Mississauga Horse, Toronto. The Third is composed of men from the Governor-General's Body Guards, the Queen's Own Rifles, and the Royal Grenadiers, and the Seventh is drawn from British Columbia.

Of the 10,000 mentioned above, Lieut. Beaumont, Lieut. H. Davis, the Seventh Battalion have already been unofficially reported as wounded.

Lieut. Rogers was a member of the 66th Fusiliers. His father, Beaumont Rogers, went to British Columbia after serving in the 10th Battalion.

Another son of Beaumont Rogers is also at the front as a lieutenant in the 29th Lancers of the Indian army.

Indigestion and Headaches

Arising From Constipation, Cured and Regularized by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

In the western provinces, where so many thousands live far from doctors and drug stores, many are troubled with indigestion and headaches. This letter tells you how to get perfect control of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills exert over the most common ills of the human system.

Mrs. H. K. Weaver, farmer's wife, Eastburn, Alta., writes: "For about ten years I suffered from constipation, indigestion, headache and languid feelings. Treatment from two or three doctors afforded only temporary relief, so I turned to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and with most satisfactory results. Headaches have disappeared, regular habits established, and my health is much better. Both my husband and I can speak highly of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They have been greatly benefited by them." One bottle of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cost $1.00. Sold by Dr. Chase & Co., Limited, Toronto.

THE Midway Gazette announces that the Warton Echo has been forced to suspend publication on account of the financial depression. A paper hates to hear of its death while it has a kick left, and while it has not been milk and honey since the war began, still we are on terra firma, and have no desire to pass through what the theologians call the intermediate state.

THE position Warton has wanted in the hockey world is at last within sight, we are in the finals, we may not be the victors but if not we will be the next best, that is one thing sure. However when it is borne in mind that Warton has downed Seaford, Sarnia and Berlin and done it quite easily and that Orillia this year has not been up against a stiff proposition it looks as if we will come out on top.

On the Advice of His Doctor

He Used Dr. Chase's Ointment for Protruding Piles With Splendid Results.

"Too often a doctor can only think of an operation when asked for a treatment for piles. Some are sufficiently broad-minded to use the most effective treatment available, which is undoubtedly Dr. Chase's Ointment, as was proven in the case referred to in this letter. Mr. Simon E. Jones, Railway street, Interpore, N.B., writes:—'I have found Dr. Chase's Ointment the best treatment obtainable for protruding piles. For this reason I suffered from piles, and was advised by a local physician to try Dr. Chase's Ointment. I had it for many treatments in vain, and therefore know which is the best. I can highly recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment, and you are at liberty to use this statement.' The record of cures of every form of piles which stands behind Dr. Chase's Ointment is the strongest guarantee you can have that it will promptly relieve and cure this ailment, even in the most aggravated form. 60c a box, all dealers."

The death occurred on the 21st Amabel, Saturday of Mrs. Thomas Watchorn, aged 65 years. The deceased met with an accident some time ago and had never been well since, but the immediate cause of her death was pneumonia which she contracted about two weeks ago. It was a sad coincidence that at the time of her death both her husband and her son-in-law Mr. Harvey Martin were ill. The deceased is survived by a husband, two daughters, Mrs. H. Strumph and Mrs. H. Martin. The body was interred at Colpoys Tuesday.

TO BUY IN YOUR HOME TOWN

Let This be Your Rule and Stand by it!

In this way only can you hope to have a greater

for every dollar spent here helps to build u the town and make it "worth while."

Get the misconception out of your head that catalogue buying is an advantage. Stand by the merchants who stand by you and your town.

Let the trade from Warton and vicinity which goes to the Mail Order Houses come to town and see how things would liven up. See how the home merchants would prick up and take a new hold on life. Note how he would get firmer faith in the community and be prepared to increase his investment. This increased demand for goods would enable him to carry a larger stock and a better assortment.

If you want your home town to go ahead, get the community spirit. Buy at home from the men who by advertising show they wish your trade.

CLASSES IN CHILE

Aristocrats, Merchants and Men Who Work With Their Hands.

To understand social conditions in Chile it must be remembered that the country is one of classes. Chile has always had its aristocrats, its middle class and its common people.
The last does the work of the country, and it is generally known by the name Inquilinos. The aristocrats are the descendants of the Spaniards and more especially of the patriots among them, that had to do with freeing Chile from the yoke of Spain. These men are the controlling influence of the country. They have the fat offices and own nearly all the property. Some have stock in the nitrate and other mines and not a few are engaged in the various industries.
Many of them are rich farmers, and it is from them that come the heads of universities and the chief doctors and lawyers. The cast of the aristocrats are men of fine education.
They are the progressive element of the country. They are proud of Chile and are intensely patriotic.
They are not afraid to fight for their rights, and they will not submit to injustice either as individuals or as a nation.

The middle classes are merchants and small land holders. Among them are many pure whites, and many who have more or less Indian blood mixed with that which comes down from the Spaniards.

The lower class are known as the Inquilinos or, erroneously, as rotas.
The word roto is one of contempt.
It conveys the idea of a drunken good-for-nothing loafer, allied to that of a quarrelsome, bad character.
This is not the nature of the Inquilino, the Chilean peasant. He is a good, hard-working, honest man as a rule and anything but a loafer. He is a descendant of the peasant class of north of Spain and of the Araucan-ian Indians. He is intelligent and quick to learn anything that requires headiness and craft. He can do all kinds of work and makes an excellent mechanic, farmer or orchardist.
He is a born horseman and is skilled in the handling of stock. He is hardy and vigorous and noted for his endurance and patience. At the same time he is brave, very quick-tempered and will fight upon slight provocation. He seems to care nothing for life and very little for pain.

Care of Sweaters.

The following method, if carefully followed, will result in great satisfaction to the one who wants a shapely sweater after it has been subjected to the process of cleansing. After the ordinary methods, as we all know, the sweater is such an unsightly object as to be forever shorn of its original beauty.

Prepare a suds with lukewarm water, being particular to have plenty of water so that the sweater can be thoroughly cleaned. Pass it through the suds, gently pressing and lifting until it appears to be perfectly clean.
Pass through several lukewarm rinse waters and then through water slightly blue. Do no wring or stretch in any way. Next pin a clean piece of muslin firmly on a board wide enough to take the sweater in its natural shape. Place the sweater on the board dripping wet with front out, placing and shaping it until exact shape and size as when worn. Put in a strong sun and when front is thoroughly dry turn over carefully and dry the back. When it is thoroughly dry you will find that it is in its natural shape, with pockets, cuffs and sleeves in perfect proportion.

Not On the Map.

Mrs. Norman had a maid, Jane, who had a lover in the army. One day, after receiving a letter from him she sought her mistress and asked if she might see a map. A while after she returned to Mrs. Norman again and said she could not find the place where her lover was.
"Where is it, do you say, Jane?"
asked the mistress.

"Durancville," replied Jane, after another careful perusal of the letter.

Mrs. Norman searched the map, but no such place could be found.

"Jane," she said, "please let me see the part of the letter which gives the name of the place where he is."

Jane complied, and Mrs. Norman read: "I am in durance vile, but hope soon to be sent home."

Underdone.

A French peasant once made a visit, his first one, to Paris. He went into a cafe and ordered a glass of beer. The waiter brought the beer, together with, as usual in good cafes,
a small round piece of felt, on which he placed the glass. The countryman looked at the felt doubtfully.
Then he lifted it and tried to bite it.
Glancing round to make sure that nobody was watching him, he took out his knife and glanced around again, and then cut the felt into small pieces. These he gulped down one by one and finally washed them down with his beer.

Rather exhausted by his efforts, he called the waiter again.

"Another beer," he said. "But no bicuit this time!"

Heavily to Die.

Field Marshal Sir John French is popular with both the French and the British soldiers, despite the fact that he is the strictest of disciplinarians.
A French soldier who had just been brought to the base hospital from the front with a shattered leg, on hearing that the British commander was in the vicinity, requested his horse to ask Field Marshal French to come and shake hands with a humble ally who did not know where he would survive an operation.
Sir John immediately complied. The soldier kissed the commander's hands, saying: "I am ready to die after meeting this famous general."

To Ret Colors.

In washing anything blue put a handful of ash into the water; green, a lump of alum; gray or brown, a little ox gall; tan or linen goods, a little bay water; reds and pinks, use a little vinegar.

AN UNUSUAL OFFER

Owing to the large number of people who are annually deceived and in fact robbed by fakirs who canvas the town and country, selling enlargements of Photographs, and in order to introduce to the public a line of enlarged photos which possess very great artistic value and can at any time be obtained at a lower price than is commonly charged for inferior work, we are induced to make the following offer.

Beginning the 1st of February we will give one of our beautiful bromide enlargements with every $3.00 purchase of cabinet photographs at regular prices. Enlargements will be mounted ready for framing and we can supply a suitable frame for the sum of $1.00, but it is entirely optional with you whether you take a frame or not. This offer is good only during the month of February. Do not neglect or delay but make an appointment at once.

What Cures Eczema?

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases, that we are glad to make our answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Dr. D. D. Prescription, as compounded in D. D. D. Preparation, can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patients, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it and although there are many so-called Eczema remedies sold, we ourselves unhesitatingly recommend D. D. D. Prescription. All druggists have D. D. D. 25c and 50c.

Drop into our store to-day, just to talk over the merits of this wonderful Preparation. Ask about D. D. D. Soap. M. W. Sawyer Druggist, Warton. U. D. D. is made in Canada.

The British Empire After the War

The above was the subject of a lecture delivered in the town hall, Friday evening by Mr. Wm. Houston B. A. Associate Editor of the Globe. There were not as many present as we expected and those not there missed a treat. Owing to advanced years the speaker lacked vim, but his many years of journalistic life have given him store of information and those who heard him knew that they were listening to a master mind. The lecturer, moreover, is an old Brant boy, and many years ago Mr. B. B. Miller taught school near each other. There were a few musical selections to enliven the evening. Mrs. Foster and Miss Ebert presided at the piano. A chorus "Victory be to you" by a number of young ladies, some gladiators by Mrs. Masters and at the close of the evening a vote of thanks to the lecturer by Messrs. Hamilton and Pickard.

The lecturer stated that he could remember far back. He was only 10 years old at the time of the Crimean war and could remember the events well, the celebrities and the rejoicing when Sebastopol was taken. He could remember the Indian Mutiny also the four years of Civil war in the United States as well as the wars of recent history. But all of these wars during the last fifty years put together would not amount to one-third of the present war. Great Britain has now 2,000,000 men in France ready for action at the right moment. General Joffre has 3,000,000 who have not yet taken part in the war. Germany has 7,000,000 men engaged in this war while Austria and Russia have only one million. All told between seven and eight millions of men have been fighting every day since last August. There had never been anything like it and he hoped never would be again.

Great Britain the British Isles, are the smallest part of the British Empire, which means that so important. He then spoke of the Overseas Dominions which composed the Empire. After the war there will not be any changes to the Empire except in Africa. Great Britain did not go into the war for more territory, does not want any more. After the war there will be a closer relationship between the Colonies.

A feature of the lecture, worth noting was the point made that Great Britain is financing the whole war, furnishing the finances for France, Russia, Belgium and will loan Canada from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000. How can one small country do it? This was well explained by the National debt of Great Britain and yet the Mother Country will remain the first power financially in the world.

When the war broke out all the soldiers Great Britain could put on the fighting line were 120,000 now she has 2,000,000 and after the war she will have 1,000,000. It is going to have a great effect, coloring the future of the world. The lecturer was a little optimistic when he stated that there would not again be any more wars between Great Britain and France or between Great Britain and Russia, certainly there should not be but who can tell what may happen one hundred years hence. Great Britain will always have the confidence and support of the small Nations as she has been their friend.

CLAVERING

The Warton District Epworth League Executive met at the home of the President, Mr. G. E. Hambley on Wednesday March 3rd. The members that were present were Miss Rose Thompson, Shallow Lake, Miss Bertha Hamilton, Park Head, Miss Myrtle Wilson, Clavering, Mr. Howard Baldwin, Oxenden, and they were highly favoured by having the pastor of the Shallow Lake Circuit, Rev. Mr. Woulde present. The meeting was opened by singing the hymn "There is work to do for Jesus" and prayer by the pastor. After the usual form of business was over, the President gave a brief account of the knowledge he received while attending the Silver Jubilee held at Brantford on November 6th and 7th 1914. Next followed reports from the different departments and other items of interest. Afterwards followed the reading of a letter written by the President to the local leagues of the district; after which a resolution was passed that a copy of said letter be sent to the Epworth League, Park Head. Next followed the singing of the hymn, "Blest be Thee That Bids Us Sing" after which the meeting was dismissed.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Shiers, Winton, were visitors at the home of Mrs. E. E. Featherston Sunday.

Miss Lizzie Agnew, Park, is visiting her sister Mrs. Wilkinson at present.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hancock, Warton, visited his sister Mrs. G. H. Loney on Sunday.

We were pleased to have Rev. Mr. Matthews with us on Sunday.

Get your Shamrock ready for the St. Patrick's entertainment in the church, a splendid programme is being prepared and a light lunch will be served, don't forget the date the 17th of March.

Mr. and Mrs. Torrance Preston, of Winton, called on friends in the village on Sunday.

Miss Schults and the Misses Elsie and Clara Schneider visited their friend Miss Hilda Loney on Sunday.

We saw lumber, lath and shingles going east, something doing.

Last week Mr. John Loney cut 40 cords of wood in six hours and a half.

Robert McKinnon and Edgar Walpole skated across to Colpoys on Sunday, some attraction, eh boys!

Our teacher Miss McLean attended the marriage of her friend Miss Ethel Huston at Witley on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Davidson visited at W. F. Davidson's on Sunday.

Our hockey team got beaten on Thursday evening. Colpoys combination was too much for them.

Muskoka Air No Good

Warton Septette Met Their First Defeat In O.H.A. at Orillia.—Return Match Will be Played Here To-Night. Fast Game Expected.

It must have been Muskoka air that did the trick for at Orillia last Thursday night the Warton hockey team met with its first reverse and was defeated 5 to 1, and on fast ice at that.

It is a long way to Tipperary and it is a mighty long way to Orillia, and it is no wonder that a team is not in good form when it gets there, but even taking these things into consideration Orillia has a good team, the best that the boys have been up against this season; they are hard nuts to crack. They have a trainer, continually on the job and the team are subject to hard and fast rules until the season is over. These make athletes of them, and they can steel the just for one hour.

About twenty five assembled the team to Orillia, where this rink was packed. Everything was fair so far as the game was concerned, there was no kick that way at all, for once the Warton team could not do the trick, and as true sports take off their hats to the winners. Our line up to night may be a little different, and on home ice there may be a sudden reversal as last week's score, at all events the public can expect a good game. Excursions are being run from Owen Sound and also from Listowel up, so the rink will be taxed to its utmost capacity.

NORTH KEPPEL

Misses Maud and Jessie Saunders of East Linton are visiting Mrs. M. Patterson.

Mr. John Stott is home from Woodfort.

Miss Viola Hartley, of Owen Sound is visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. Cole.

Miss Catpole and Mr. and Mrs. G. Catpole of Owen Sound spent Wednesday with Mrs. Owens.

MILLER LAKE

Messrs. Alex Currie and William Casar of Cape Chin were over here on Monday having a look through the Methodist church and also trying to find out the best way of moving it over to Cape Chin.

Mr. Arthur Steep came up from Lions Head on Monday and called at Martins on his way to McVear's. He and Henry Esch are cutting out for the Piddell Co.

Mr. John Steep, who has been very sick for the past three weeks, is getting a little better.

There is a great deal of sickness here this last three or four weeks, hardly a house but some one is sick.

Mr. Henry Davis and two sons of Tolperry passed through here on Thursday on their way south.

On account of Mr. S. G. Weatherhead, our mail man being sick, Mr. John Boke took the mail out on Friday.

Mr. Dave Holmes was over to Lions Head on Friday consulting Dr. Hacking about Eliza Holmes who is sick. Dave got back on Saturday and Sunday took care of himself.

Mr. Harold Weatherhead, son of Alex Weatherhead and Lloyd Weatherhead son of William Weatherhead of Cape Chin were over here on Saturday visiting their uncle, S. G. Weatherhead as they are both leaving for the west on Tuesday.

We were sorry to hear that Mr. and Mrs. John McCallum of Cape Chin lost a fifteen months' old baby on Thursday by pneumonia.

Mr. Michael Sadler was down to Fessenden on Saturday attending the Menominee business meeting and attended the communion service on Sunday and also the service at Fessenden Bay in the afternoon and Miller Lake church service at night not so bad for a sick man.

Master Donald Erickson of Mrs. and Mrs. Henry Esch, who has been very sick for a couple of weeks, is getting better and will soon be able to attend school again.

Master John Noble, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Noble is very sick at present with a gripple.

The prayer meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Rose was very well attended on Wednesday night. Mr. William Sadler took a sleigh of people to the Fred Warder meeting, McNam's Corner on Sunday.

COLPOYS BAY

Miss Anna May Brown has been on the sick list all the week, we hope she will soon be better.

Mrs. Robt. Taylor, Owen Sound, spent a couple of days at Mr. G. Shiers, Holler, Hope Bay, is holding a day at Mr. James Wards.

A number from our burg took in the teaming at Big Bay on Wednesday last and report a good time.

OLIPHANT

During the last week the lake at Oliphant has been most ideal for ice hunting and skating, the young people being out almost every day and evening.

Mr. M. O'Hara accompanied by a number of men from Warton spent Thursday of last week hunting on the island here, as it is out of season for rabbit hunting we will presume they were fox hunting as Wartonians are most law-abiding citizens.

McKenzie has completed ice harvesting for the season having stored over one thousand blocks. Frank Eyre has also stored a large quantity.

Lorne McCartney of Warton visited in Oliphant on Sunday. Lorne is evidently fond of flowers.

Frank Eyre brought a load of hay from his farm at Hope Bay on Friday last. He reports the roads in very bad condition.

Clayton Wright son of Mr. Wm. Wright is home from Brampton for the winter. Clayton has been indulging in a new and exciting pastime of sailing on skates. He can make as fast time as an express train.

Inspector McCool of Walkerton paid his official visit to Oliphant school last Tuesday.

On Mar. 21 Tom and Bill McKenzie and Frank Eyre took a trip to Red Bay on the former's ice boat to compete for the cup held by Bob Reid. It is needless to say that they returned with the much coveted tin and are now open for another race. Friday of last week McKenzie Bros. accompanied by Clayton Wright sailed up to Red Bay. They made the return trip from Red Bay point to the government dock in fourteen minutes.

Charlie Eyre has also equipped an ice boat and is enjoying the exhilarating pastime.

Mrs. Huthinson, one of our oldest residents who has been sick for the past three weeks is slowly regaining health.

KEMBLE

On Monday evening of last week about fifty friends and neighbors of Miss Emma Crampton gathered at her home in Kemble for the purpose of expressing regret at her departure for the west in a few days. During the evening Mr. Lyle Hurd, but read the address and Miss Bertha Crampton, cousin, presented her with a lovely locket. Although she was completely taken by surprise was able to express her thanks to her many friends. A very pleasant evening was spent after which lunch was served, following was the address.

To Miss Emma Crampton

We, the young people of the community of Kemble, desire you to accept the accompanying present as a token of the esteem and regard in which we hold you as a neighbor and friend. We also desire to express to you our regret at your departure, but sincerely trust that your future in the new sphere to which you are going will be blessed with prosperity and success and that those with whom you associate will value your firm friendship and neighborly spirit as we have done.

Signed on behalf of the subscribers:

Grace Perkins
Olga Husband
T. Johnston, Jr.

We are pleased to report Miss Clara Becket is improving nicely.

Mrs. John Crampton entertained her lady friends to a needle work on Thursday.

A large number from here took in the supper at North Keppel last Wednesday evening.

Mr. Joe West and son Jess are getting along nicely at time of writing.

Mr. Will Andrews of the second contingent Toronto, renewed old acquaintance here last week.

Chas. Johnston has been laid up with a bad attack of lagrippe.

Mr. John Crampton bought seven head of young cattle last week from George Carmichael of East Linton. John would have to turn over a large sum of money for seven.

News of the Churches.

The Rev. J. E. Thompson preached in Allenford on Sunday.

The members of St. Paul's church have been asked to elect three additional elders.

The Presbyterian Mission Band Girls will meet at the home of Mrs. Robt. Millar on Saturday next to sew for the Indian Girls. All members are urgently requested to attend this meeting.

The anniversary services in St. Paul's church, Sunday, were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Mathieson, Allenford, who preached a scholarly sermon both night and morning. Mr. Mathieson has a decidedly philosophical turn of mind, and as a thinker he has few peers in the Presbyterian church. He has always been a welcome visitor to St. Paul's church.

The anniversary services of the Methodist church will be held next Sunday and the services will be preached by the Rev. J. W. Stewart, Pastor of the First Methodist church Owen Sound. On the following Monday evening there will be a social in the school room of the church under the auspices of the Ladies Aid. There will be a program and refreshments. Admission, a silver collection.

The March meeting of Owen Sound Presbytery held on the 2nd inst. was well attended and important business done. Among the matters of more general interest were the report of the Mission Committee. In the war field a minister has been called, and both there and in Owen Sound North, St. Paul's progress is being made toward self-support. Interest in Sabbath schools seems to be on the increase, an arrangement to be made for the visitation of all schools in the Presbytery during the early summer. The Presbytery treasurer reported a favorable balance, and the rate was lowered, to seven cents per church member, which covers all expenses of Presbytery and Synod. Full consideration was given to the draft of a proposal Book of Praise, and it was decided to recommend delay in publication, while continuing preparation for the best possible book when it is published.

The resignation of Mr. Rodger, minister of Knox Church, on which he insisted, was accepted with great reluctance and deep regret. His pastorate will end on the last Sabbath of June, after which he will undertake special work to which he feels he is called. The Presbytery expressed and recorded its appreciation of his zealous, faithful and effective services during the last eight years, not only in the pastorate, but in all moral reform and social betterment movements in the town as well.

The action of Warton Session, in nominating elders for election, instead of asking the congregation to nominate, referred to Presbytery for its judgment, was approved as expedient in the circumstance, and in harmony with good precedent.

Dr. Thurlow Fergus was chosen as Moderator for the ensuing year, and counsellors were appointed to have oversight of the various departments of work of which the following are conveners:—Missions, Mr. Thompson; Foreign Missions Mr. Barbour; S. S. and M. P. S., Dr. T. Fraser; The Budget, Mr. McPherson; Examinations, Mr. Sinclair; Remits, Dr. J. B. Fraser; Auditors, Messrs. David McKay and John Broadfoot. The Rev. Principal Springer, D. D., was nominated as Moderator of next General Assembly.

The next regular meeting will be held in Meaford on 25th June next, in connection with which in the evening and following day a conference on religious life and work will be held.

A number of heating stoves left at greatly reduced prices. Now is your time to get one.—Metc's Hardware.

The Odd Fellows are holding their School of Instruction in Tara on Friday. The Warton Odd Fellows will attend this meeting.

at your own prices.

Owen Sound

On Thursday last His Honor Judge Widdfield began an investigation into the affairs of the Owen Sound Lumber Company now in liquidation. The inquiry lasted until Saturday noon and will be continued on Thursday next. From present appearances it would look as though the paid-up capital of $65,000, and the reserve and surplus of $20,000, reported two years ago, are completely wiped out, and very little left to satisfy about $30,000 of creditors' claims. It is now sought to charge their directors and officers as contributories, with wages aggregating $20,000 on unpaid shares and dividends alleged to have been improperly paid. David Robertson, K. C. Walker, and A. D. Crosser appear for the liquidator, and G. A. Marten, K. C. Toronto, and a number of local counsel for the different directors.

The new Owen Sound directory, which has been issued by the various directory people of Hamilton, appeared last week, and seems to be a very valuable volume. From their canvass of the people the directory people figure the population of Owen Sound at 14,250. There are 5,181 names included in the directory and these represent the heads of families and all those engaged in business or industry on any of the county's other towns. The number of people on the directory multiplied by 2½ will give the correct population. They have their calculation on the result of their experience in other cities.

The meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade honored ex-President William Taylor of the Owen Sound board of trade last week at the convention at Toronto when they made him the vice-president of the association. This is a very high honor for Mr. Taylor. Last year he was a member of the executive. This year he gets into the number of the first three members of the organization. It is a tribute to Mr. Taylor's capacity and ability that he is thus so highly chosen for honor from among over two hundred of the shrewdest business men and professional men who represented various boards of trade at the big annual convention. It is certain that Mr. Taylor's fellow members of the executive will not be disappointed in the culture of the member from Owen Sound.

No difficulty was found in disposing of the twenty year town of Owen Sound local improvement debentures, which were sold last week to the firm of McNeil & Young of Toronto at 96. The debentures bear interest at five per cent and amounted to $185,727.97. The offer of McNeil & Young which was accepted, was the highest out of four, and will net $191,498.83. Considering the prices that are being offered for other towns and cities, the sale is considered a good one. The offers for the debentures were as follows:—McNeil & Young 96.00, $191,498.83; Canada Bond Corporation, 95.94, $191,118.22; A. E. Amos & Co. 95.61, $191,066.61; Union Securities Corporation 95.12, $190,673.14.

The steamers "Glenafiel" and "Midland" will be operated on the North Shore route again this season by the Northern Navigation Co. It is understood that these steamers will give a semi-weekly service during the summer months, while in July and August will make three sailings a week. In order that these steamers will give direct connection with East Shore and Muskoka points it has been decided to have both steamers call at Parry Sound on the north bound trip, during the tourist season. On leaving Kilmory they will run direct to Parry Sound and thence to Collingwood. Owen Sound and Meaford will be cut out on the down trip, the steamers touching here only when north bound. This arrangement will exist only during July and August. The remainder of the season Parry Sound will not be included on the sailing schedule and all steamers will call here on both up and down trips.

The number of births in the town during the month of February, according to the official records was fifty. This is a big fall off from the same month of last year when no less than twenty-one were added into the world. But if the births showed a drop in numbers the number of couples offering themselves at the matrimonial altar was greater, three in February of 1914, and fourteen for February of this year. The war and bad times and over the brick into the network of married life in many instances. The grim reaper must have holidayed through some of the beautiful weather for the number of deaths in the town during the month was seven as compared with twenty-three for the same month of last year.

According to the last census roll for the County of Grey, the population of the Whooping Cough.

Mrs. Charles Lovell, Appleton, B. C. writes: "Seven of our nine children had whooping cough the same winter and we attribute that cure to Dr. Chase's Hygienic Laxative and Purifier. We always have it in the house, and recommend it as the king of all medicines. I was formerly completely cured of whooping cough by using Dr. Chase's 'Out' only."

whole county was 61,738. The clerk of the county each year is obliged to make return to the department of education of the population of each municipality as it is given in the rolls of the assessors. County Clerk Rutherford in this week sending the following to the department as the population of each township, town and village of the county: Ardenmore 2509; Benluch 2000; Collingwood 1690; Derby 1073; Egremont 2008; Ephraïm 1378; Glenelg 1749; Holland 2300; Keppel 2091; Normandy 3100; Opey 2440; Port 2402; Sarawak 630; St. Vincent 2200; Sullivan 2825; Sydenham 3488; Owen Sound 12386; Durham 1607; Hanover 3418; Meaford 2000; Thornbury 768; Chatham 153; Darkeville 790; Flamborough 394; Markdale 940; Neustadt 493; Shallow Lake 011.

Teething Time Troubles

Baby's teething time is a period of anxiety for mothers. If baby's stomach is kept sweet and his bowels regular, no other medicine has been found so valuable during teething time as Baby's Own Tablets. They make teething painless and by their use baby gets his teeth so easily that mother scarcely knows they are coming. Concerning the Tablets, Mrs. F. Goldsmith, Nelson, B. C., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets are a mother's greatest help during teething period." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Hanover

Miss Rose Brander, daughter of Mr. Henry Brander, merchant of Hanover, was operated upon in the Walkerton hospital on Wednesday of last week for appendicitis. Dr. Birdi-r performing the operation. She is doing as well as can be expected. Mr. John Downing has sold his 100 acre farm on the 12th concession to Mr. Jas. MacNeil, the price going in the neighborhood of $2500. Mr. Downing intends purchasing another farm near Tretheway which we formerly his home.

Accus can be insured only against fire by the Mutual Fire Insurance Companies of Ontario. This came out at the session of the Mutual Fire Underwriters' Association convention last week at the Carleton Hotel, in Toronto. It was pointed out that the act only allowed the companies to insure against fire, so that the act cannot be insured against accidents. Mr. H. H. Miller of Hanover, is a member of the executive committee.

Dr. Stanley B. Ball, son of Mr. R. J. Ball, M. P. and Mrs. Ball of Hanover left Monday for Toronto where he will join No. 2 Cavalry Clearing Station, which leaves for France in a few days. The hospital will be supervised by Lt. Col. Wallace Scott of Toronto under whom Dr. Ball served for 3 years in No. 13 Cavalry Field Ambulance, Toronto. Dr. Ball got his medical degree last Thursday. His many friends will wish him a safe return.

8 Boxes Cured Psoriasis.

Mrs. Nettie Massey, Conson, Ont. writes: "Three doctors described my trouble as psoriasis, and one said I could never be cured. The disease spread all over, even on my face and head and itching and burning was hard to bear. I used eight boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment and am entirely cured—no sign of a sore to be seen. I can hardly praise this Ointment enough."

Tara

Miss May Campbell, a milliner of Tara told suddenly ill at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Campbell, here on Monday morning with appendicitis just as she was about to leave on the early train for the military hospital in Toronto. She was removed to the Bruce County Hospital where she was operated on by Dr. H. H. Sinclair on Monday afternoon. At last reports she was progressing favorably.

The committee appointed to canvas Derby Township for prospective users of hydro power met at Kilguth on Monday night and reported that the farmers of the township were willing to take one hundred and forty-five horse power, which would figure out to an average of four horses to the mile. A petition will be presented to the township Council at next Saturday's meeting asking the council to forward to the Hydro Commission a request for an estimate on rates. It looks as though Derby will be the first township in this section to derive the benefits of hydro power.

In the Office Building

"Bones my face is dirty," said the office boy in the elevator, what business is that of yours? You ain't my father."

"No, but I'm bringing you up," replied the elevator man.—Boston Transcript.

10 OYST "GASARETS" IF BELIOUS OR COBITIVE

For Bad Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—They work while you sleep.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and sluggish bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like a still barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

Southampton

Capt. and Mrs. John Spence of Owen Sound are visiting in town for a few days. Some forty stacks of catalogues for a Toronto departmental store were sent out from the Southampton post office last week.

Mr. Mickie McAuley left today for Orillia to see the hockey match between Orillia and Orillia. From there he will go to the Soo for a week's visit. Mickie will be a resident of Southampton this summer, his many friends here will be pleased to learn this. He has accepted the management of the business of the Dominion City Company here.

Mr. William Harner of Cochrane was on a deputation to the government at Toronto to have that place made a County Town. He took advantage of the opportunity to pay a visit to the old home town.

Last Friday evening was Scotch night in Southampton and at an early hour the slawmen and their families began to gather at the town hall the "at home" being under the auspices of the Sons of Scotland. "We're a Scotch together" was the spirit of the evening, and if your ancestors had not given you some Scotch blood in your veins the committee made up by hitting a "Mac" to your name. The Spence family, now at Kingston, who were always active participants on Camp Annie Laurie Night, telegraphed their best wishes. The programme was a lengthy one, and was carried through with satisfaction to all under the director of a Chief Capt. Dan McAuley. Here you are—Songs, Anna Lawrie, the members with the audience in the chorus. Annie Mathieson accompanied; Bag Pipe, A. D. McNeill; Address, past chief Mr. McGarrig; Song, When You and I were Young; Miss J. T. McNeill, sec. Miss Tanner; Recitation, Alma after the Battle, Mr. A. Douglas; Scotch Sayings, J. C. Eckler; Speech, E. E. Macpherson; Song, There's a wee house among the Heather, Brock McAuley, sec. Helen McAuley; and encore The Bonny Banks of Loch Lomond; Song, March of the Cameron Men; Mr. Eckler, sec. Miss Tanner; Song, It's just like being home, Alex Lamb sec. Miss McKay, encore For King and Country, Song, Roaming in the Gloaming Harry Lauder McVattie; Recitation, Relief of Lucknow, Miss Norma Conway; Bag Pipe A. Hannan; Song, Tipperary and Done, Harry Lauder McVattie; Recitation, The Highlanders Charge at Turly Kehra a Dasher, Sword Dance, A. Hannan. A splendid lunch was then served after which followed a vote of thanks to the ladies, who provided same and the chairman. Dangling was then the order and was kept up a till a little before breakfast time. Hosts and guests were all waiting for next year to repeat.

Chesley

There passed away at the home of her daughter Mrs. Friebe 10th con. Sullivan, Thursday Feb. 25, Mrs. Henry Chesley at the age of seventy-one years. The deceased who was born in Germany, came to this country twenty-four years ago last May and up to a few days ago she was in her usual health when she was stricken with heart failure and her sudden demise was quite a shock to her family. Her husband predeceased her nine months ago. She leaves to mourn her loss a family of two sons, and three daughters viz: Mrs. Rosner and Mrs. Bhishtin of Los Angeles, Calif; Mrs. Friebe of Sullivan; John on the old homestead at Williamson and Harry of Chesley. All that was mortal of this kindred German mother was laid to rest in the Lutheran Cemetery at Williamson on Sunday last. Her Pastor, Rev. Mr. Arndt conducted the funeral service.

While returning to town on Sunday evening last August 10th, one who had been a visitor at his home near Desboro, suffered severe injuries by his horse running away. Between the sixth and eighth concessions Mr. Monks lost control of his horse by the latter upsetting. He was dragged beneath the cutter for some distance and finally succeeded in getting his horse stopped in front of Mr. Wm. Swartz stable. The injured man was taken into the farmer's home and Dr. Oldham of Desboro was called in. The flesh was completely removed from the leg between the knee and the ankle and we are pleased to report that his injuries are not as serious as at first reported. His present condition is such that he is now making favorable progress towards recovery. Mr. Wm. Swartz called his wife to the Desboro stable during the early part of the week. We hope before many months this young fellow will be able to assume his former duties.

Walkerton

Mr. William Ferguson, who underwent two operations at St. Catherine's for adenitis of the bowels, was expected to leave on Friday night by his sister, Miss Annie Ferguson, who is a nurse in the Stratford General Hospital, and is now lying seriously ill at the home of his parents, Constable and Mrs. B. B. Ferguson here. His father, who is a farmer, formerly ran a pool room in Walkerton and was first taken ill at the military camp at Valcartier, where he was lying with the first constabulary for the troops. Although in a critical condition, hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Stanley Yeo of Hopworth appeared before Judge Klein at Walkerton on Tuesday afternoon on a serious charge of having seduced Miss Gertrude Meterson, a girl under sixteen years of age. The girl who appeared with her infant in Court, was the chief witness against the accused and in her testimony swore that the alleged offence had been committed at different times between January 1st 1912, and February 1st 1914, the last time according to her statement, being January 20th, 1914. However, as over one year had elapsed since the date the charge was laid, it was held that the charge could not be maintained, and the court ruled the charge was unlawful, and the case was consequently dismissed and the accused acquitted. As the girl swore however that Yeo had seduced her in 1912 before she was 14 years of age, we understand some proceedings will be begun and a more serious charge entered.

Judge Klein of Walkerton received notice on Saturday that he had been appointed by the Ontario Government as Judge of the Stratford County of Bruce (taking the place of the late Judge Barrett) in this capacity. This position is worth about $1000 yearly and as both the Senior and Junior Judge each get $3000 per year Judge Klein will draw the bigger salary whether he lands the Judgeship or not. The position of Senior Judge of Bruce is still vacant, but an appointment is likely to be made soon.

Harry Hully, a farmer bailing from near Herville appeared before Magistrate Tolton on Thursday last on a charge of presenting a worthless cheque to Mr. R. L. Gibson, Jeweller. It appears that Hully came to Walkerton on January 20th and on making a purchase at Gibson's presented a cheque for $18.00 on the Royal Bank Cargill, in payment. The cheque however was returned to Mr. Gibson marked "no funds" and as Hully made no further attempt to settle his account Mr. Gibson laid a complaint, which resulted in Hully's subsequent arrest. The magistrate sent him up for trial and Judge Klein ordered Hully to be held to answer a sentence giving him three months to pay the jeweller.

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tenderest child. Cleanses bowels, liver and bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has sore throat, diarrhoea, or is full of colic, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a 5-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

MORE FORTS ARE GONE

Three Turkish Strongholds Silenced by Allies.

Several British and French Battleships Are Hit by Shells From the Land Batteries, But Little Damage Is Done—Turks Are Making a Terrific Resistance—Queen Elizabeth Is Hit Three Times.

LONDON, March 9.—The British and French fleets have battered their way a step nearer to Constantinople. More Turkish forts on the Asiatic side have been silenced, according to a statement by the British Admiralty, but the Turks are making a terrific resistance from the shells from their German-made guns.

From the number of ships engaged and the size and range of the guns, the battle of the Dardanelles is unlike anything in history, according to naval experts. At 11,000 yards the huge battleship Queen Elizabeth of the British fleet, assisted by smaller ships, is still bombarding the straits across the Gallipoli Peninsula into the Turkish strongholds on the Asiatic shore. The Admiralty statement carries the operations through Sunday and adds that the majority of the ships inside the straits, both French and British, were struck. None was sunk and there were no casualties.

The Turkish forts Rumili, Medjedieh, Tabia and Hamidieh-Tabia, fringing the Asiatic shore line, which previously had withstood the bombardment, were silenced, as was the Mount Dardanus battery further south.

The Turkish casualties are unknown. Aeroplanes taking wing from the decks of the leading craft are playing a signal part in the operations. One British machine became unmanageable and dove into the sea, and another was hit by the Turks 28 times.

The British Admiralty last night made public the following statement: "The operations against the Dardanelles are progressing in fine weather. Vice-Admiral Skeelvie, H. Cardon reports that on March 8 the battleship Queen Elizabeth, supported by the battleships Agamemnon and Ocean, began an attack on Fort Hamidieh-Tabia and Hamidieh III, which are marked on the Admiralty map as forts U and V, by indirect fire across the Gallipoli Peninsula, firing at 21,000 yards.

"These forts are armed as follows: Fort U, two 14-inch guns and seven 6-inch guns; Fort V, two 14-inch guns, one 8.2 inch 4.9-inch gun. The Queen Elizabeth was replied to by howitzers and field guns, and three shells from the latter struck her, without, however, causing any damage.

"Meanwhile, inside the straits, the battleships Albion, Majestic and Prince George and the French battleship Suffren fired on Soudan Dardanus and Mount Dardanus batteries, marked U and V on the Admiralty map, and were fired on by a number of concealed guns.

"Fort Rumili Medjedieh Tabia, marked J on the Admiralty map, which had been attacked on the previous day, opened fire and was engaged and hit by 12-inch shells.

"A majority of the ships in the straits were struck by shells, but there was no serious damage done, and no casualties resulted.

"On the 7th of March the weather continued calm and fine, four French battleships—the Gaulois, Charlemagne, Houvet and Suffren—entered the straits to cover the direct bombardment of the defenses of the narrow, by the Agamemnon and Lord Nelson. The French ships engaged the Mount Dardanus battery and various concealed guns, and the Agamemnon and the Lord Nelson then advanced and engaged the forts at the narrow at about 14,000 down to 12,000 yards by direct fire.

"Forts Rumili Medjedieh Tabia, marked J, and Hamidieh-Tabia, marked U, both were shelled by a heavy bombardment. Explosions occurred in both forts. Fort U has not fired since the explosion on the 7th.

"The Gaulois, Agamemnon and Lord Nelson were each struck three times, but the damage done was not serious. The Lord Nelson had three men slightly wounded.

"While these operations were in progress the British light cruiser Dublin continued to watch the Bulair forts. She was fired at by four-inch guns and struck three or four times.

"Owing to the importance of locating concealed guns the seaplanes had to be very low down.

"On the 4th instant a seaplane pilot, Flight Lieutenant Garnet and Observer Lieutenant Commander Williamson were shot down and killed in action. Both officers were injured. Flight Lieutenant Douglas, reconnoitering at close quarters in another seaplane, was wounded, but returned safely.

"On the 5th seaplane No. 172, Pilot Flight Lieutenant Bromet, with Pilot Officer Smith, and seaplane No. 171, Pilot Flight Lieutenant Hershaw, with Petty Officer Merchant, was struck eight times in locating concealed positions.

"The Ark Royal (the mother ship for seaplanes) is equipped with every appliance necessary for the repair and maintenance of numerous aircraft she carries."

Vice-Admiral Pelre, who is bombarding Smyrna, reports that the positions there were shelled by the ships at from 7,000 to 8,000 yards. The batteries replied vigorously, but after one hour all were silenced.

In the afternoon the ships steamed into a close range and engaged the Raco Tabia battery and the other batteries on the hill. The fire was continued until all were put out of action.

ON A DIFFERENT BASIS

Submarine "Pirates" May Be Treated as Criminals.

Official Statement Issued in Britain Is to the Effect That Pending an Inquiry the Crews of the U.S. Will Not Be Accorded Distinctions of Rank Nor Allowed to Mix With Other Prisoners.

LONDON, March 9.—The Board of the Admiralty does not feel justified in extending honorable treatment to the twenty-nine officers and men of the sunken submarine U-5, on the ground that they were guilty of attacking and sinking unarmed merchantmen.

This significant statement was issued last night by the Official Press Bureau.

The statement fails to make clear exactly what treatment will be extended to the captured Germans. There is a persistent rumor that throughout Britain that they be handled as pirates. Lord Charles Bessford recently asked the Prime Minister in the House of Commons whether the crews of German submarines which sank unarmed merchant ships without warning would be treated as pirates and tried for murder.

Mr. Asquith replied that the Government had the matter under advisement and would not then be prepared to announce its policy.

The statement refers to the generous treatment accorded German officers and men saved by the British, numbering upward of one thousand, and then says with reference to the U-5:

"This vessel had been operating in the Straits of Dover and in the English Channel, and there is a strong probability that she had been guilty of attacking and sinking unarmed merchantmen and bringing torpedoes to ships carrying non-combatants, news of which was in the possession of the British."

There is, of course, great difficulty in bringing home particular crimes to any individual German submarine, and it is therefore necessary that necessary to establish conviction will not be obtained until after the conclusion of peace. Meantime, persons captured in the possession of arms must be subject to a special restriction, and cannot be accorded the treatment of prisoners of war.

German Navy Expected to Hide Until War Is Over.

LONDON, March 9.—A Daily Express article dated Amsterdam, Sunday, says:

"Before long there will be a general shuffling of positions in the higher echelons of the German navy. Admiral von Tirpitz and his master are not satisfied with the doings of Admiral von Ingenohl, commander-in-chief of the fleet. No doubt the latter will be relieved of his command and his place taken by a more energetic officer."

It may be taken for granted that the German fleet will never again attack British ships in anything like an equal fight, but will remain hidden until peace is declared and then Germany, with what is left of it, will endeavor to build the largest fleet of submarines and surface ships to challenge the British fleet within fifteen or twenty years.

Bengrove Is Sunk.

LONDON, March 9.—The British steamer Bengrove, carrying coal, was seen in distress Sunday night, but will remain hidden until peace is declared and then Germany, with what is left of it, will endeavor to build the largest fleet of submarines and surface ships to challenge the British fleet within fifteen or twenty years.

RAILWAYS UNDER FIRE.

House Breaks Day in Discussion of Charter Legislation.

OTTAWA, March 9.—Canadian railway enterprise came under the onslaught of the House of Commons yesterday. There was some plain speaking, and practically the whole day was spent in consideration of problems involved.

Mr. Robert Rogers asked for a limitation of time of commencement of the new Canadian Pacific Railway, which sought an extension of charter. His amendment was passed.

Mr. W. F. Maclean led the opposition to the Canadian Pacific Railway bill, which proposes to allow that railway to sell its ocean steamships to a new company which would be known as the C. P. R. Ocean Service, Limited, and to allow the parent company to guarantee the bonds of the new company. The new company was to be incorporated in Britain and would be subject to British jurisdiction, he argued. He wanted the bill to wait the passing of the new railway act. J. G. Turfitt and Major Sam Sharpe supported the contention.

Hon. Mr. Pugsley pointed out that the C. P. R. and Canadian Trunk had been given the power by the C. P. R. now sought.

Hon. Frank Cochrane said he thought there was a question as to the power of Parliament to place the steamships under the Railway Commission. But he did not see how it would do us any good. It would only drive the ships away to other ports.

"The result of our refusing these powers to the C. P. R.," said the Minister, "would be only that they could sell their stock or bonds on less favorable terms on the market."

Sir Robert Borden said that the passage of the bill before the House in no way interfered with or affected the working out of the ocean freight rates. They could pass the desired legislation later on. The bill was finally passed.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

Montreal's City Council yesterday passed a bylaw as follows: "No person shall use any lamp other than electric lamp when looking for gas leaks."

William W. Miller, ex-mayor of Waterloo, died in Berlin Saturday evening, after an illness of two months, in his 65th year. He was proprietor of the Waterloo Standard.

M. Mahoney, a farmer near Moose Jaw, has been notified by the Admiralty that his 15-year-old brother, Patrick, has been killed in action, where and on what ship is not stated.

The British Admiralty announces that it has lost 18 ships since arriving at and 1,432 leaving Great Britain during the period from Feb. 18 to March 3, only seven were torpedoed by the enemy's submarines.

James Brock, one of the oldest residents of Highland Point, near Penzance, England, died suddenly yesterday from a heart failure. He was driving a team of horses on his way to town when he fell from the carriage.

The Amsterdam Telegraph's Telegram, Belgium, correspondent confirms the report of the destruction of the German Zeppelin airship L-5, which was forced to make a hurried descent owing to a derangement of its motors.

Announcement has been made in the British Parliament yesterday that Germans under 17 and over 55, and Austrians under 18 and over 50 are now permitted to return to their respective countries under arrangements made there.

Would Cut Down Speeches.

OTTAWA, March 9.—H. H. Stevens, of Vancouver, wants to cut down the speeches of members of Parliament to reasonable limits. C. A. have been known when members have held the floor for hours at a time and Mr. Stevens wants to compel them to be brief.

He has given notice that he will move the resolution of a committee of the House to consider and report on the question of limiting all speeches to 45 minutes in regular sessions and 20 minutes when the House is in committee of the whole, excepting the mover of a bill or resolution and the reply thereto, or of a Minister of the crown and members replying to them.

Mugs Auxiliary Fleet Used.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Some idea of the size of the auxiliary fleet Great Britain is using to move and sustain her armies in the field may be learned from a report on shipping condition from American Consul Labrop at Cardiff, Wales.

Fifteen auxiliary vessels, he reports, aggregating more than 3,500,000 tons, have been taken over by the British Admiralty on time charter, the Government taking full responsibility and agreeing to return the vessels as received.

To Exchange Disabled Officers.

BERNE, Switzerland, March 9.—It is stated here that France and Germany have agreed to exchange captured officers. The exchange has been agreed to as severely as to be incapacitated for further military service. Heretofore only private soldiers have been exchanged. The inclusion of officers in this arrangement is believed to be due to the initiative of Prince Maximilian von Baden, who intervened with Emperor William on behalf of the officers.

Incuriarism Alleged at Bradford.

BRADFORD, March 9.—The investigation of the fire at the Canada Works, which broke last week, is now the fact that it was of an incendiary nature. County Constable P. W. Kerr was called in after the fire, and as a result of his investigation he announced yesterday that he had found a sack, three-quarters full of kerosene, lying on the floor, where the fire had centered. The sack still smelled of coal oil when he located it.

SLAVS ASCENDANT

Tide of Battle in East Turning in Their Favor.

Right Wing of Ezechorn's Army Has Been Driven Back at Augustowo and Gen. von Hindenburg Is Attacking Violently at Another Point to Conceal Failure in the Northeast.

LONDON, March 9.—In the north and south the Russians are establishing a secondary Trench. They have driven the right wing of Ezechorn's army, which recently after being to cross the river above Grodno, back towards the wide marshy clearing outside the Augustowo fort, never permitting the German rear guard to halt. The Russian advance here reaches a remarkable pace considering the miserable condition of the ground. At the Casowice fortress the Russian artillery silence. Two German heavy batteries Sunday, and they continue shelling the Lyck road to the eastward.

The number of Germans who surrendered, especially among the fresh conscripts, far exceed anything experienced in the earlier stages of the war. Of the first consignment, numbering 700 of the total of 10,000 prisoners taken during the Tannenberg battles, recently brought from the first field base to the railroad, scarcely fifty could walk steadily.

von Hindenburg is again striving to distract attention from this tragic end of his northeastern campaign by directing sharp infantry attacks on the Russian front above the left bank of the Pilica, in the direction of the Kawa road. The sharp battle in this district of Central Poland has now lasted three days. It evidently aims at preventing the Russian out line in the region southwest of Warsaw from spurring the Russian to go elsewhere. From our indications the Germans fear a new strong offensive on the Mieda and Grodno fronts against the armies protecting Cracow.

The German staff is still striving to avert the final collapse of the Austrian campaign. It has sent a fresh batch of new German conscripts, mostly aged about 18, into northern Hungary. With the remainder of the Austrian army are moving in great numbers on the Galician slopes of the mountains and in the broken hills between them. Their right wing was severely cut up Saturday attempting to cross the Dniester eastward.

Although the snowstorm impeded operations in the Champagne country, the French troops gained about a third of a mile of trenches in the morning and about four hundred feet of ground on the ridge north of Meunil. The Germans recovered some of the lost ground on Sunday between Le Meunil and Heuseul, but their attempt to retake a wood west of Perthes, captured from them on Sunday, was defeated and a counter-offensive enabled the French soldiers to gain some ground north and the east of this point and to take some prisoners.

The French also gained a footing in a German trench in the Bois Bruin, forest of Apremont, region of St. Mihiel and a great quantity of war materials fell into their hands. A German attack on the Reich Akerkopf in Alsace was repulsed. A German attack northwest of Tost-Mousson broke down.

SUFFRAGE UP AGAIN.

Debate on Elliott Bill in Legislature Is Adjourned.

TORONTO, March 9.—The second reading of the bill to extend the municipal franchise to married women was discussed. In the absence, through illness, of Mr. J. C. Elliott (W. Middlesex), in whose name the bill stood, Mr. J. C. Toole (Windsor) moved the second reading. Hon. Mr. Lucas (the Attorney-General) opposed the bill. Mr. Sam Carter (St. Nicholas) supported the bill, and Mr. Douglas (the Attorney-General) supported the bill. Mr. Howel was the last speaker, and after addressing the House for a short while moved an adjournment which was agreed to.

Geo. H. Gooderham introduced a measure yesterday to make owners of heavy motor trucks and wagons liable for traffic accidents, and giving municipal corporations power to recover the amount of the damage from them.

Can't Censor U. S. Mails.

LONDON, March 9.—A proposal to establish a censorship over the American mails was opposed in the House of Commons yesterday by the Home Secretary, Reginald McKenna. The question was raised by Sir Henry Craik, who proposed to prevent the distribution in New York of pamphlets emanating from German sources.

Mr. McKenna pointed out that the accused Great Britain and her allies of treachery in connection with their diplomatic action in Belgium. Mr. McKenna pointed out that the pamphlets as practically harmless, and added:

"It has not been considered necessary in the past to establish a censorship over postal matter to or from the United States. To do so would involve an enormous addition to the censorship staff."

Bredren Is in Hiding.

LONDON, March 9.—A despatch to The Times from Santiago, Chile, reports the activity of German agents with coal cargoes in South American waters. The correspondent considers that this activity supports the reports of the proximity of German cruisers in these waters. He says there are persistent rumors that the cruiser Dresden is being used in one of the inlets in Southern Chile. He adds that the Chilean Government is taking every precaution to preserve its neutrality.

Toronto 'Saturday Night' points out that they should be double that amount. Every one knows that to be a fact. The papers are sold at a loss to get subscribers. The desire to get subscribers is induced by the necessity of getting advertising. That means that the advertiser makes up the loss occasioned by the subscriber getting his paper at less than cost. 'Saturday Night' points out that this is the time when such things should be adjusted. There is no reason why the advertiser should help pay the subscription price for the reader." Our Winter Sport.

DO we make too much of sport? Is this a fault of the Canadian people? These are questions opportune now because the hockey season will soon be over, and it is Canada's winter sport. The Marathon race was the one great event before which every other national event paled into insignificance. The victor received honors which his neighbors as witnesses of the splendid feat obtained. Mrs. Susan Dobson, Spring Hill, Minn., writes: "It is with pleasure that I write to you in praise of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I was troubled with nervousness and could not sleep without suffering much pain. After taking your Nerve Food, my nervousness is in control. About ten years ago I took a thorough course of treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I have since then been able to do anything I wish to do. I have been greatly improved in every way. I am now a healthy, happy, and fast runner. I have everything to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. You may now see that your Nerve Food is a most valuable remedy for all nervous conditions. I have no other condition before using the treatment."

but to control it, and keep it clean. However as much as the Greeks as asked it we are to remember that in these strenuous days it can only serve its purpose as it gives relaxation.

FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE.

Danger of Contaminated Milk Spreading the Disease Overcome.
(Prepared by United States Department of Agriculture.)

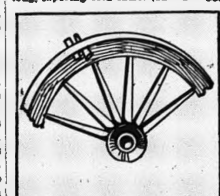

The anxiety that has been expressed in several quarters in regard to the effect upon human health of the present outbreak of the foot and mouth disease is regarded by Government authorities as somewhat exaggerated. The most common fear is that the milk supply might become contaminated, but in view of the precautions that the local authorities in the infected areas are very generally taking, there is comparatively little danger of this. Milk from infected farms is not permitted to be shipped at all. The only danger is, therefore, that before the disease has manifested itself some infected milk might reach the market. For this reason experts in the United States department of agriculture recommend pasteurization as a matter of fact, however, pasteurization is recommended by the department anyway for all milk that is not very high grade and from tuberculin tested cows.

It has been demonstrated by experiments which have been made in Denmark and Germany that pasteurization will and does safeguard against contagion from the foot and mouth disease just as readily as it does against typhoid fever, and in any event it will be thoroughly done. The milk must be heated to 145 degrees F. and held at this temperature for thirty minutes.

In this country the foot and mouth disease has been so rare that there are few records of cases of its transmission to human beings. In 1902 a few cases were reported in New England, and in 1906 in a few instances eruptions were found in the mouths of children which were believed to have been caused by contaminated milk. In both of these outbreaks the sale of milk was stopped as soon as the disease was found among the cattle. As long, therefore, as the disease can be confined by rigid quarantine to certain specified areas the danger from this source is very small. Should the pestilence spread all over this country it would become as general as it has been at various times in larger areas in Europe the problem would become more serious. Under any circumstances, however, pasteurization would be an efficient remedy. Where pasteurization is not possible and where there is any reason to suspect that the disease may exist the precaution of boiling milk might be advisable.

To Tighten Wagon Tires.

A southern Iowa farmer, says the Farm Progress, uses a very ingenious scheme for tightening loose wagon tires. As is often the case with all farmers, this man is troubled with loose tires on some of his wagons, which when the weather becomes wet again are perfectly tight. He takes a long, tapering cold chisel (an old buggy spring would answer admirably) and drives it between the tire and the rim directly over a spoke. He then makes a wedge of some hard wood, which he drives in as tightly as possible beside the chisel. The chisel is then driven out and the wedge cut off evenly on both sides, and the job is done.

Any one who has never tried this would be surprised at the degree of "set" that can be given to tires by this simple method. In fact, until the wedge loosens by wear they are almost as tight as if set by the usual method.

If you find numbers of dead leaves hanging in the trees reports that they contain destructive young larvae. Spray if you see evidence of the same.

Had Nervous Dyspepsia

This letter from a lady who gained 14 pounds by using the great food cure, it did wonders for her in improving her general health. She is enthusiastic in its praise, and refers her neighbors as witnesses of the splendid results obtained. Mrs. Susan Dobson, Spring Hill, Minn., writes: "It is with pleasure that I write to you in praise of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I was troubled with nervousness and could not sleep without suffering much pain. After taking your Nerve Food, my nervousness is in control. About ten years ago I took a thorough course of treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I have since then been able to do anything I wish to do. I have been greatly improved in every way. I am now a healthy, happy, and fast runner. I have everything to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. You may now see that your Nerve Food is a most valuable remedy for all nervous conditions. I have no other condition before using the treatment."

FALL FERTILIZERS FOR LAWN.

Applications Should Be Made After Frost Sets In.

To stimulate the growth of a lawn and to improve its appearance for the following spring, no better treatment can be recommended than the application of properly rotted manure in the late fall, according to the United States department of agriculture's specialist. This application should not be made until after the frost has stopped the growth of the grass. Two to twenty-two horse loads should be applied to the acre, according as the soil is more or less rich.

It is most important that the manure should be thoroughly rotted before application, so that all weed seeds are killed; otherwise damage done by weeds will more than offset the fertilizing value of the application. Manure really needs careful handling before it is suited for spreading over the lawn. Unless it is properly "composted" it may have most of its valuable constituents destroyed by improper handling. To "compost" manure properly it should be treated as follows:

Pile all manure in heaps with alternate layers of soil or other litter. Keep it wet enough so it will not burn. Let it stand a whole year through summer and winter, turning it over two or three times during the year. It will then be ready for use on the lawn, and danger from weed seeds will be minimized.

Many people object to the use of manure at all, not only because of the danger from weed seeds, but because of its unsightly and unsavory appearance. These will undoubtedly prefer to use something else, and the most economical substitute is finely ground bone or bone meal. This should be applied at the rate of from 500 pounds to one ton per acre, according as the ground is more or less rich. It should cost between $25 and $30 a ton.

With the bones meal it is desirable to use double the quantity of wood ashes. These ashes contain considerable lime in a very desirable form, as well as other valuable elements. However, they are apt to be more or less costly.

Ordinarily muriate of potash would be found more economical than wood ashes, although the potash does not contain the lime which the other fertilizer imparts to the soil. On account of the European war the potash may prove more difficult to obtain than the wood ashes. Only one-tenth the quantity of potash should be used as of bone meal.

The potash may be sown separately or mixed with the bone meal, as desired. The same is true of wood ashes. If these are used instead of potash, all applications should be made before the ground freezes permanently for the winter, as otherwise the fertilizer will be largely washed from the soil before it has a chance to become incorporated with it.

In regions where cottonseed meal may be obtained at a price not over $25 per ton it may be used satisfactorily in the place of the ground bone. Turnings of old saws are even richer in important elements than ground bone, but are frequently in bad mechanical condition for handling—that is, they contain half or other foreign coarse matter. Their bad odor also makes them objectionable.

Prepared sheep manure is an excellent dressing. As it has been sterilized by drying and rendered odorless, there are not the objections to it that there might be to ordinary manure. It is a drawback is expensive.

To Protect Worm Places.—If there are any parts of the lawn which will be tramped over when they are not frozen, and especially when snow is under them, these parts should be protected to prevent persons from cutting across. Tramping on the turf when it is covered by snow or ice is a destructive to a lawn as almost anything else.

It is hardly necessary to say that nothing will be gained by scattering grass seed on the lawn at this season.

Feed Box For Stock.

A good large sized stock box, fitted with a lid and hasp, is very handy to have in the barn for holding ground feed, stock feed, etc. The box can be filled up at stated intervals and will save many trips to the granary. If the box is set where animals may get to it should they happen to get loose it should be provided with good hinges and a hasp that cannot be easily rubbed open.

Tip the Raspberry Plants.

The late fall is the time for tipping raspberry plants. If you want to raise new plants. As the new growth made from the ground mostly should be tucked in the soil a few inches and held in place by piling up a little earth upon it. Next spring the tips will have roots, when the plants can be cut off from the parent bush and planted wherever they are wanted.

Storage of Potatoes.

The ideal way to store potatoes is in a dark place that is more nearly humid than open space and is much more humid than a cellar. Potatoes should be very dry when stored; otherwise if large ones are packed in one room it will rot and mold.

Dr. Chase is No Stranger

In This Home—Receipt Book and Medicines Kept at Hand All the Time.

There is no better safeguard against disease and suffering than a good cathartic medicine. In the great majority of cases Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are constantly kept at hand, because they quickly awaken the action of liver, kidneys and bowels, and cure the most common ills of life.

Mrs. Thos. Smith, Jamestown, Ont., writes: "Dr. Chase is no stranger in our house for we have two of his Receipt Books in the house. My father and my husband's father each had one, and I have been familiar with it ever since I can remember. It was only natural that we should use the Kidney-Liver Pills, and we found them so satisfactory in regulating the digestive system and curing the common ills of life that we always keep them on hand. Many a time these pills have saved us much suffering and prevented serious disease. We also keep the Ointment in the house all the time."

Try to run your car or your sewing machine or wagon for a couple of years without oil, and see how ardently they will screech forth protests against your neglect.

Yet it is, perhaps, six years since your watch was cleaned or oiled.

Though it cannot even "squeak" its protest, it is slowly but surely wearing itself out. A few drops of oil and a good cleaning will work wonders. Bring it in.

The outlook for a large crowd at the hockey match tonight is most reassuring. For a number of days the demand for seats from all over Western Ontario has been great. When a request is made for seats as far East as Belleville one can understand the hold hockey has on the sporting element. The ice is fair but it may not be hard as we would like to see it.

"Injun Bones and Huskies" by J. R. Fraser in March Rod and Gun is no Injod story but an account of a desperate encounter which two adventures in the far north had with a band of ferocious huskies from which they narrowly escaped with their lives. "That Cab of St. Patrick's" is a somewhat amusing tale—though Pathminal found the experience very provoking—of a captured bear cub that proved one too much for his captor. RALPH-HUSTON

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Huston, Wolsley, Ont. was the scene of a happy event on Tuesday, March 9th, 1915, when their youngest daughter, Ethel H. was united in holy wedlock to Mr. Wm. J. Ralph of Denholm Sask., Rev. Mr. C. S. Langford, was the officiating minister.

The bride, leaning on the arm of her father, entered the drawing room promptly at 5 p. m. and took her place beside the groom, under an arch of evergreens and snowballs, from which was suspended a snow white veil. The bride looked very nice in a gown of white embroidered voile with touches of lace, satin and pearls. She carried a sheaf of sweet peas and smilax and wore the gift of the groom, which was a gold brooch set with pearls and amethysts. The hymen's wedding march was played by Mrs. Wm. Coleman, Owen Sound, who was wearing black paillette silk with touches of lace.

Immediately after the ceremony which was performed in the presence of only immediate friends and relatives, the bride led the way to the dining-room where a dainty wedding dinner was served.

The numerous, useful and pretty presents testify to the esteem in which the bride was held.

The young couple left Owen Sound for Thebes, Ont. at 3 P. M. on Thursday at 3.10 p. m. from there they will proceed about March 19th, to their home in Sask. The bride's travelling suit was of brown diamond serge, with hat to match. The best wishes of the community are extended to the young couple.

FINALS IN NORTHERN LEAGUE

The final game in the Northern League will be played here Friday night between Wiarton and Elmira. Elmira has one of the best amateur hockey teams in Ontario, so a good game is assured.

Hockey and the Fortunes of War

The Hockey Season is probably over, Wiarton should be undisputed champions in the Northern League although they may never play in the finals because the weather conditions this year have knocked all schedule dates upon the head. Last week Seaford and Elmira were a tie in a sudden death game, and as Wiarton were easily the winners in O. H. A. against Seaford their championship in the Northern League should not be questioned. As the Northern League is quite a large one and embraces a lot of good teams, to win even here is a decided honor.

Wiarton was in the finals in Intermediate O. H. A. this year and was ousted out by two goals from winning the silverware. The Wiarton team were looked upon as the winners. Before the champions of last year were easily beaten, and the reverse came when the team ran up against Orillia. Now after it is all over we wonder what the final score would have been had the first game been played in Wiarton on hard ice, and the final game in Orillia on slush. Would Orillia have won then? If there had been hard ice here for the final game would Orillia have won? When they were beaten here by two on slush would it have been any worse for them here on hard ice?

These questions are all pertinent and all go to show the possibilities of hard luck which must be expected in the fortunes of war. It will be regretted for some time that the first game was not played in Wiarton.

Well, take the two teams. The hockey experts always praise the winners. Orillia should have a good working machine. It has cost a few bowlers to get it into that shape, but in ten or twelve years they are ahead of Berlin. The Echo believes that there was enough speed and dash in the last line up to beat the Orillia team in just the same manner as Wiarton beat Berlin. However Orillia has a good team, they won, and we take off our hats to the winners. They are gentlemanly players. Their team work is good it is said that from the time they begin training at the beginning of the season they are obliged to do everything that injures an athlete, and are well taken care of, thus all the necessary conditions are observed, and they can stand a strenuous hour. The team is well supported in Orillia, and are apparently deserving of honor. They are well balanced, and with juniors to pick from it is no difficulty to get together seven for intermediate work.

Well the boys put Wiarton on the map alright. A hockey team can advertise a town. The final game

KEMBLE

Mrs. Ed Henry of Mountain Lake spent a few days with her sister Mrs. Mary McPhat recently.

Charles Johnston, our general merchant takes his customary strolls to Owen Sound.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Brown, of Presque Isle, spent Friday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Morris Bedell.

Mr. George Crampton is busy these days assessing.

Mrs. John Quirk and family of Bayview spent a few days visiting her mother before leaving for the west.

Ralph McPhat of the N. B. C. spent the week end under the parental roof.

Miss Bessie Perkins is still under the doctor care.

Mrs. Wm. McGregor is still in a critical condition.

Mr. Leonard Gardner was on the jury in Owen Sound for a few days of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith returned to their home in Yellow Grass, Sask., after spending the winter months with Mr. and Mrs. George Beckett.

Mr. Harland Taylor returned to the west last week after spending the winter with his parents here.

A number from here took in the hockey match at Wiarton Wednesday last week. An excursion from Owen Sound brought over hundreds, then another from Lunenburg, so it was no wonder the rink was packed. It was a rare sight and shows the hold hockey has on the sporting public. But the ice, well, it was not ice, it was slush. Wiarton had four goals to overcome, and the boys intended to do it during the first period, and the first seven minutes was whirlwind hockey, but flesh and blood could not stand the pace on slush, scoring became impossible, so to 1 in favor of Wiarton was good work considering the conditions of the ice. Orillia consented to play a defence game and the Wiarton team had to do the work. But at last the gong sounded, it was all over and Wiarton lost the John Ross Robertson Cup by two goals, but lost to a good team, who played clean hockey.

This is scarcely a write up of the game for it's a week old and we do not care to resurrect it. The robins will soon be chirping, and the kids are already at marbles, and we are not going to talk of rissoles, passes, goals etc. etc. We were runners up this year, and next year we will make the grade with full steam on. The Orillia septette can hug the cup this summer and bonfires can blaze in the town, but they can bet that it will not always be a game on hard ice at home and slush away from home. They are a good team, but just what would have happened had they not had the luck is difficult to tell. We don't if there would have been any bonfires or fireworks on that spot on the map of Ontario that night.

However while the bonfires are blazing in Orillia, the fireworks are going towards the sky, and the roosters crowing we would like to refresh their memories about a lacrosse game that took place between Orillia and Wiarton at Collingwood about 1896. Orillia thought itself some pumpkins in lacrosse, they had licked every Tom, Dick and Harry in the wilds of Muskoka, and at last having got up to the semi-finals they were ordered to play off with Wiarton at Collingwood. It was well on in the fall when the game came off, there was even snow on the ground that day, but the Orillia team no sooner got to work than cold chills went down their spinal cords even to their feet. The score that day was 7 to 3 in favor of Wiarton. This is by way to refresh their memories when the rooster is done crowing.

But hockey after the play off with either Seaford or Elmira will be a thing of the past, so good-bye Piccadilly.

hockey match at Wiarton Wednesday last week.

Miss R. Wallace of Presque Isle spent a few days with her sister of this place.

Miss Cora Johnston spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. R. Shaw, Owen Sound.

Mr. and Mrs. John Crampton, Mr. and Mrs. Alf Dawson took in the Ralph and Hinton wedding last week.

On Friday evening about sixty friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mrs. Morris Bedella, sister of Mrs. Wm Crampton for the purpose of expressing regret at their departure for the west and to present them with gold watches and chains each. Mr. and Mrs. Crampton were taken by surprise but were able to thank their friends for the beautiful presents and kind remembrance. The evening was spent in music and games, after which lunch was served and all joined hands and sang Auld Lang Syne, then wishing Mr. and Mrs. Crampton farewell and a safe journey to their new home.

The Town Council

There was a full council board Monday night and there was rather a long session.

There was some correspondence—letter from the Minister of Public Works stating that as soon as conditions improve work would begin on the Wiarton post office. Communications were read from a number of towns, most of which do not charge a license either for livery or teamsters, however, Wingham townsmen have to pay a license of $10 for a double team and $5 for a single horse.

Mr. W. C. Chambers M. P. P. has a bill before the local legislature, which has received its second reading, which will cause all tracts of land of five acres and over, in towns under 3000 of a population, to be assessed as farm lands, and they will not be liable for local improvements. There was quite a discussion upon this passed by the council, and the clerk was requested to get a copy of the bill.

The Wiarton Fire Brigade had held a meeting and to a man voted against the proposition of the council to place them on a salary of $350 including the Chief's salary, and stated that if the present arrangement was not continued, that is, payment according to the time spent at each fire they would all resign, the resignation to take place April 15th. This was like a bomb dropped from a zeppelin, but the council went ahead with business. The action of the firemen was regretted, but they felt it their duty to provide a brigade for the town at $350 if they can, and accordingly a by-law was passed to that effect. The old brigade according to their letter, will quit their job April 15th, and a new chief and new brigade will take their places.

Mr. James Hunter complained that the Chief had ordered his man to stop dumping brush etc. on a lot west of his residence which he had purchased for that very purpose. He put limits etc. there, and then had a bon fire. He wanted to know what authority the Chief had? He claimed that there was nothing unsanitary about it, and that the town's dumping ground was the most unsanitary place in Canada. He had been asked to write the Provincial Board of Health about the matter, and advised the local board to see after it. The Chief stated that others who had been obliged to remove lime etc. from their lots north of this one had complained, hence his action.

Mr. J. G. Simpson was given permission to place a gasoline tank in the ground at the rear of his garage. The town wood will be sold, and the year's business in wood will be brought to a close.

CAPE CROKER

Wiarton ought to be satisfied with the way they fought for the silverware. They will get it next year.

Quite a number of sports from here attended the hockey match at Wiarton last Wednesday evening and all reported that the game was the fastest they had ever seen.

A box social was held in the old school house at Little Port Elgin last Friday evening.

Mr. Wm. Nadijwon made a business trip to Wiarton last Saturday.

Born—March 1st to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Taylor, a son.

Some one must get busy right away to organize a baseball team or else all the stars will have jumped to the Federal, if they are convinced to stay here all summer the chances are that the Athletics might win the North Bruce Pennant this season.

Mr. Paul Nawa, wife and children spent Sunday at Wm Nadijwon's.

Mr. Thos. Jones, the school teacher of Little Port Elgin, has moved into the new school house last week.

Come everybody to hear the lectures to be given by Miss Mary Moffit next Sunday afternoon in the Catholic Hall. Subject The Preparation of the soil.

Mr. Fred McVannell and Miss M. Ewing were the guests of Mr. Jermyn for a few days last week.

Grey and Bruce Counties

CLIPPED FROM OUR LOCAL EXCHANGE

Chesley

John Wilson who has been visiting at his home here for a few months, left on Tuesday for Fort William where he will be engaged in elevator construction.

Wm. Leggett of Zion City, Ill., is renewing acquaintanceships in Chesley and North Bruce. It is two years since he left Bruce and took up his residence in Mount Zion.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Crookshank and daughter were in Owen Sound yesterday attending the wedding of Mrs. Crookshank's sister, Miss Kibbel McLean, who was married to Captain McKay.

David T., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Thompson of Derby, who has been seriously ill for the last two months, is somewhat improved in health and expects to be out of bed in another week if no serious improvement.

Miss Maggie Becker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Becker, to-wit: Hestrick and Sullivan, underwent a serious operation in a Coughlin Hospital on Monday. The operation was quite successful and the patient is doing as well as could be expected.

On Saturday, March 6th, death claimed another old pioneer in the person of Mr. Henry E. Fox, aged 76 years. Mr. Fox, a deceased gentleman, had been in his usual good health up to a couple of weeks ago, when he was stricken with pneumonia. Mr. Fox lived for many years in Bruce township. He moved into Chesley five years ago. Some thirty-five years ago he was married to Mrs. Sarah Madell of Chesley. To this union were born three of a family, one of whom, a son Edward, survives him. Mr. Fox was the sympathy of the entire community in his death affliction, as this makes the third funeral in the last four years. Unfortunately his son, Edward, of Kilmac, Sask., who was due to arrive in Chesley last week, was taken ill in Toronto and was unable to be present at his father's funeral. Mr. Fox was a life long member of the Presbyterian church and his funeral on Tuesday last was largely attended by many of his old friends and neighbors.

The town council met in their chamber on Monday evening, March 1st. Before them was the report of the Mayor, Haliday being in Toronto. All the councillors were in their seats. A by-law was passed appointing Bert Pavill as Fire Chief for 1915. The request of the new chief for supplies for fire last was granted. The Supervisor was instructed to purchase a new wagon box. Before Brown reported the doings of the Power and Light company with Mr. James of Hydro-Electric, interviewed the Chesley Light and Power Co. last week with the result that Mr. Haliday will submit a proposition to the Council in the near future. Motion of Councillors Davey and Warrington the matter of a pure milk supply for the municipality was referred to the Legislation committee, to report at next sitting of council. Accounts to the amount of $358.38 were passed.

Spring Impurities In the Blood

A Tonic Medicine is a Necessity At This Season

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are all year round tonic, blood-builder and nerve-restorer. But they are especially valuable in the spring when the system is loaded with impurities as a result of the indoor life of the winter months. There is no other season when the blood is so much in need of purifying and enriching, and every dose of these Pink Pills helps to make new, rich, red blood. In the spring when one feels weak and tired—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give strength. In the spring the appetite is often poor—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills develop the appetite, tone the stomach and aid weak digestion. It is in the spring that poisons in the blood find an outlet in disfiguring pimples, eruptions and boils—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills speedily clear the skin because they go to the root of the trouble in the blood. In the spring anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion, neuralgia, erysipelas and many other troubles are most persistent because of poor, weak blood, and it is at this time when all nature takes on new life that the blood most seriously needs attention. Some people do themselves wrong with purgatives at this season, but it does only further weaken themselves. A purgative merely gorges through the system, emptying the bowels, but it does not cure anything. On the other hand Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood, which reaches every nerve and organ in the body, bringing new strength, new health and vigor to weak, easily tired men, women and children. Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills this spring—they will not disappoint you.

You can get these health-renewing Pills through any medicine dealer or by mail sent in at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 in the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Skipsness

Large crowds of young people from surrounding country and neighboring towns have been enjoying the excellent skating on Gould Lake.

Mrs. Robt. Warrington and Miss K. McDonald visited over Sunday in Northampton.

Miss Bessie Buchanan is visiting in Warton.

Miss Jennie and Maggie Temple have returned home after spending a week with their sister, Mrs. Jackson at Spring Creek.

Dr. K. Chambers of Leamington visited over Sunday with his brother here.

Dr. D. J. Sutherland leaves this week for Leamington, where he will assist Dr. Chambers.

Mr. Sebell and family of Warton have arrived on the O.C. and recently purchased by his late-in-law, Mr. Anderson.

Mrs. D. M. Switzerland has returned home after spending three weeks with her sister Mrs. Miller in Mich.

Mr. Wilfred Coleman formerly of this place but now of Vancouver, was recently married to a young lady of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Coleman and Mr. Elmer Coleman are expected young to Europe with the Red Cross.

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES

Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine for the young or little ones. They are absolutely safe and never fail to regulate the stomach and bowels, break up colds and simple fevers, expel worms and make teething easy. Concerning them Mrs. D. S. Bernhardt, Port Dalhousie, Ont., writes: "I have been using Baby's Own Tablets for my baby and would not be without them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Allenford (The Leader)

Dr. Geo. Williams who died in Toronto on Monday was buried here on Thursday. In the absence of the pastor Rev. Wm. Ottewill had charge of the service. Dr. Harry Williams, his brother and sister and four others were here to assist.

The services in the Methodist church were taken on Sunday by Mr. Vaughn, of Herworth, Rev. Jewitt taking the work on the Hephworth circuit for Rev. McLeod who is suffering somewhat as Rev. Foreman did two years ago.

Earle Jewitt spent the week end in Hephworth with friends. Mrs. Jewitt and Mr. Jewitt accompanied Mr. Jewitt to Hephworth on Sunday remained there for a day or so.

Mr. McLeod is very busy looking after the sick these days.

Miss Irving phoned that she would be unable to come to Allenford this week. Her mother and sister are ill.

The Patriotic concert in the Methodist church on Wed. 24, was a success. The programme was good and considering the weather the attendance was large.

C. Arnold is quite recovered from his recent illness.

I. Sprung continues to improve. Mrs. Sprung remains about the same.

Alma Newrow was seriously cut across the face last week by falling against a post at school. The cut is healing nicely now.

Pie, Rumley and his bride came up from Toronto on Saturday. They spent Sunday with the latter mother, Mrs. Nelson. Pie, Rumley returned to Toronto Monday morning.

W. W. Miller and family attended the funeral of Mrs. Boyd at Shallow Lake on Sunday last.

Ray, Jewitt attended the Dominion Alliance Convention in Toronto.

Walkerton

Mr. Frank Heale is a firm believer in the "back to the land" movement, and is not only advocating it, but is also putting into practice that which he preaches, having decided to move from Walkerton to his excellent 150 acre farm in Grant, two miles west of town, and will move with his family to his new abode on Tuesday of next week. Mr. Heale will summarize his farm as follows: The town council, but in the future will be much missed in municipal affairs he has been a judicious and conscientious worker in the interests of the municipality while serving as the council board. What is Walkerton's loss, however, will be Grant's gain, for undoubtedly Mr. Heale will be some interest in the municipal affairs of the township and his many friends in Walkerton hope to see him rise to greater heights in township politics. Mr. Heale has rented his residence on Victoria St. to Mr. Robt. Irwin, before buyer of Highway, who will move here shortly.

After a long illness, death came on Wednesday morning to Mrs. Muter, who has during the past two years been living with her daughter, Mrs. H. G. Schmidt. The deceased was 68 years of age. She was a resident of Hagar for a great many years and the remains were taken to town Thursday for burial. Mr. Schmidt has the sympathy of many friends in her bereavement.

Miss Maggie Harrison, who keeps house for her brother, Mr. Nelson Harrison, about two miles from Walkerton, laid a complaint before Magistrate Robt. Richardson of Walkerton charging Henry Schmidt of Midway with committing indecent assault on her. Chief Peterson served Schmidt with a summons on Friday and the case was slated to be tried in Walkerton on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, but at the appointed hour the affair was settled by the accused paying the costs incurred and the girl withdrawing the charge.

Mrs. James Hyppol, formerly of Walkerton, died at Alpena, Mich., on Monday last in her 59th year. The deceased, whose maiden name was Miss Harriett Widdie, was a daughter of the late Wm. Widdie, who for her part lived near the G. T. R. station here. She was married in Walkerton to Mr. Hyppol and later with him to reside in Michigan. She is a sister-in-law of Miss Johanna Hyppol of town and a cousin of Mr. John Allen here.

Southampton

Mr. Alex. Thompson of Prince Albert, Sask., left Tuesday after a three weeks visit with Mr. Wm. McVittie. Mr. Thompson formerly lived on the Ed. Dell farm just east of town and went West thirty-two years ago. He took up land there which he recently sold, realizing a fancy price for it. He says he likes the old town very much and may come back here to reside. No place better say we.

Mr. Fred Thomson is just able to be out again after being confined to the house five months with a sprained ankle.

Mr. James Garland of Catgill has 1170 acres of land, from which the crop is running like a gutter. As there is a heavy frost now that the adulterated manufactured soil that is sold as the "Maple" but which never saw a tree, the men with the genuine goods will reap a harvest, and Mr. Garland will, no doubt, grab off a big chunk of cash for his product this year. Others in the neighborhood are also being down, and the maple syrup business is becoming quite a brisk and profitable industry to the local farming community. These bright warm days and cool nights are great for making the sap run.

Mr. G. McAdams of Winnipeg-est is spending a few days with his many old friends in town.

Danger Signals Warn You of Approaching Paralysis

Slowly and Surely Exhaustion Goes on Until Collapse of the Nerves is the Natural Result.

You may be restless, nervous, irritable and sleepless, but you think there is nothing to be alarmed at. You have no appetite, digestion is impaired, and there is weakness and irregularity of other bodily organs. You feel tired in body and mind, and that you lack the energy to attend to the duties of your life. You may not realize that these are the symptoms of nervous prostration, and that danger signals which warn you that some form of paralysis is the next step of development.

Dr. Chas. N. Nerve Food is the most successful restorative for the nerves that has ever been offered to the public.

Owen Sound

Mr. Wm. Boston, the veteran clerk of the municipality of Derby, resigned his position at the last meeting of the township council last Saturday. Mr. Boston was clerk for the last 25 years. He has faithfully kept the records of the township almost ever since it was an organized municipality, and he has watched its development from a back land into a prosperous and highly cultivated farming section. He is succeeded by a well known Derby young man, Mr. W. H. Hill, who has taken his duties this week. Mr. Boston will continue in his insurance business in Owen Sound.

The market this week does not show much change. Eggs are down again to 22 cents per dozen but butter is bringing 30 and 31 cents per pound. Live hog are $7.35 per hundred and dressed hogs $8.75 to $10.00. Grain prices are easier. Oats are 45 to 47 cents, barley 50 to 52 cents, wheat $1.20 to $1.25 and peas, No. 1, $1.50 to $2.00 and No. 2, $1.00 to $1.75, per bushel. Buckwheat is worth about 90 cents and hay is selling from $15 to $17 per ton and potatoes are 50 to 60 cents a bag.

The corporation in-labors have received a boost in wages. At last night's meeting of the council the pay per day was made twenty dollars, that is for the maximum instead of a maximum of a dollar seventy-five which was set last summer. In these days of salary cutting this action of the council was unexpected in many quarters, but not a dissenting voice was heard. A by-law was introduced to raise five hundred dollars by debentures or patriotic petition. This by-law was held over until next meeting. The money is to be used only for such purposes as giving a small sum to Owen Sound soldier's relief to go to the front, and to cover such sums and the money expended in caring for the families of those already gone and such money as may be required for such use in the future. The scavenger had his pay cut from $200 per year to $180. The town hall will be repaired somewhat, about five hundred dollars being used for that purpose. The clerk who has the old library room and the stairway leading up to the rear of the hall will also be remodelled and repaired more or less.

Tara

Some girls become quite eyed from perusing the magazine beauty lists. The little three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Galtbraith, who reside near the station, swallowed a button about an inch in diameter on Friday evening. The doctor was summoned but she did not anticipate any ill effects.

Mr. Alex. McCannell, Wardman of the County of Bruce, has sold the old Duncan manor farm of 100 acres, Lot 17, Con. A, Arns, for $5000 to Robert Cunningham, of Brant Township.

It is impossible to suppress the man who thinks he can tell a funny story.

On Friday, March 5th, Mr. James Rowe died at his home near Elthorne in his 74th year. He was one of the early pioneers of this district having come to Allenford with the late James Allen when there was not a roof to shelter them. He left over night in a wagon box where Allenford now stands with only his oxen for company while Mr. Allen returned to Owen Sound for more supplies. Later he bought and cleared the farm on which he has since lived. For a number of years he had poor health and was seldom seen away from home, but passed his time attending to the affairs of the farm and enjoying the friendship of kind friends and neighbors which he valued most highly.

The death of Mrs. Rowe last night will be a great loss to her failing health and since then he has been gradually sinking. He was a member of the Orange Order for nearly thirty years and an honorary member of the Elthorne Lodge for a number of years. His remains were accompanied by the last resting place in Tara cemetery by the Elthorne Lodge and members of the neighboring lodges. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Matheson, of Allenford. The pall bearers were his five sons: James, Thomas, Norman, Herman and Howard and his son-in-law, Geo. Wain, of Tara. He is survived by five sons, three daughters and one sister Mrs. Bradfoot, in Kansas.

Many women with disfigured complexions never seem to think that they need an occasional cleansing as well as outside. Yet neglect of this internal beauty shows itself in spots, and sallow complexion—as well as in disfiguring headaches and biliousness. It is because the liver becomes sluggish, and waste matter accumulates which Nature cannot remove without assistance. The best remedy is Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which stimulate the liver to healthy activity, remove fermentation, gently cleanse the stomach and bowels and tone the whole digestive system. Pure, safe and reliable. Take one after each meal, and you feel bright and sunny in the morning. Get Chamberlain's today—druggists 25c., or by mail from Chamberlain Medicine Company, Toronto.

NEUTRALS FARE WELL.

British's Blockade in the Most Remarkable in History.

LONDON, March 16.—Great Britain made known to a world yesterday in a formal order, signed in council by the King and issued from Buckingham Palace, how she proposes to sever all the arteries of commerce to and from Germany during the period of the war.

As it is Premier Lloyd's speech forecasting the order, the term "blockade" is not used and no prohibited areas are indicated. Nevertheless the extent of the order makes plain Britain's intention to prevent commodities from reaching or leaving Germany.

British officials last night frankly called the movement a blockade, the Foreign Office describing it as an effective blockade, differing from the effective blockades of history only in that the property seized will not be confiscated outright, but sold, the proceeds eventually going to the owners.

In the last clause of the proclamation is the proposal most interesting to neutrals. This is the flat agreement to lift the "blockade" in case any nation will certify that the ships flying its flag shall not carry goods to Germany, or originating therein or belonging to subjects of the German Empire.

It is notable that the order declares no intention to capture ships of Germany's allies, Austria and Turkey, a provision being made that the measure is a purely a reprisal against the German submarine warfare. However, a cordon of ships will be maintained to shut off the commerce of German ports and regulate trade in the war zone, although ships voyaging eastward across the Atlantic will, it is expected be seized before they reach the North Sea.

When a neutral vessel is held up, in all cases except where there is a false declaration of destination, or other attempt at subterfuge, the cargo will be seized, provided it is not contraband.

SUPPLIES INADEQUATE.

British Not Making Munitions Fast Enough, Says Kitchener.

LONDON, March 16.—"Our progress in equipping the new armies has been seriously hampered by the failure to obtain sufficient labor and the necessary plant for the supply of our material, which is the consequence of the fact that the House of Lords last evening.

Lord Kitchener held excessive drinking parties to blame for this condition, which, he said, was causing him "serious anxiety."

He urged the passing of a bill authorizing the government to take over factories for the production of war material, and recommended that men who were their country's orders have not been completed on the date for which they were produced.

The supply of material for the next two or three months is causing me very serious anxiety. The enormous output which we require to place our troops in the field thoroughly equipped and with sufficient ammunition is undoubtedly possible, but can only be obtained by careful and deliberate organization. We must develop all the resources of the country and employ every competent workman to utilize in the most useful manner possible all his energy in the common object that we all have in view, which is the successful prosecution of the war to a victorious termination.

Referring to the Canadian division the speaker said:
"They have shown their mettle and received the warm commendation of Field Marshal Sir John French for the high spirit and bravery with which they have performed their part."

TO LOOK UP JOBS.

Ontario Government Will Send Out Agents To The Farmers.

TORONTO, March 16.—With a view to approaching the unemployed in the most effective manner, the Ontario Government will send special departmental representatives to different parts of the province to bring the farmers into close touch with working people in the cities. The first of these men will leave this week for London, and by a special system of advertising will endeavour to find agricultural positions for many of those who are unemployed.

These officials will have an accurate knowledge of the number of positions available and will come into direct contact with the situation. Concrete propositions will be offered and contracts will be made.

An endeavor will be made to find place for mechanics who have been practically no farming experience, although those who have done work in the field are necessarily more in demand.

Canadians Discriminated Against.

BERKELEY, Cal., March 16.—Officials of the University of California decided yesterday the charge made by William Gray, member of the Canadian Parliament, that 28 professors in the university have been unable to receive their salaries because they were not American citizens.

The university officials said their legal advisers had instructed them that the recent opinion of the state attorney-general, to the effect that it is illegal for aliens to draw state funds as teachers, did not apply to the university. It was said all Canadians and other aliens have received their salaries regularly.

ST. ELOI RECAPTURED

British Troops Occupy Centre of Many Hard Battles.

Day's Fighting on the Western Front Shows a Record of Substantive Gains. The Allied Troops and Severe Fighting is Reported From Many Points — French Troops Make Progress North of Arras.

PARIS, March 16.—St. Eloi, from which the British army had been compelled to fall back before German attacks, has been recaptured by the neighboring trenches yesterday afternoon despite several stubborn counter attacks of the enemy, while the French made progress north of Arras.

Thirty dead Germans were left on the ground as a result of an attempt to capture a redoubt near Lombardyside in Belgium which had been taken from the Germans a few days ago. The French were repelling this attack with great success.

Three lines of trenches were captured by the French infantry in a brilliant battle on the night of the 14th and 15th. The French troops have now reached the edge of the plateau in this region. In this action they took 100 prisoners, several officers, destroyed two machine guns, and blew up two ammunition stores.

Further south of this point they blew up several German trenches near the road to Lille at Ecurie and Rockham.

The Germans exploded a mine under a French trench near Caroy, Albert, which occupied the position, but were driven out again, and the French troops have since firmly established themselves on this ground and put all their defensive works in order.

Not far from the Aisne Valley, two German companies (500 men) were caught by French fire and suffered heavy losses.

A blockhouse was destroyed near Bagatelle, in the Argonne region, and the site occupied by French infantry, who also repelled two attacks by the Germans. Two attempts of the Germans to take the French line between Four de Paris and Houtin were also checked, as two others earlier in the day had been.

The infantry in the French army on the Western front succeeded in an attack on that village, and last night occupied the western part of it. They took a considerable number of prisoners in the fighting.

The Daily Express correspondent on the Belgian frontier telegraphs: "The offensive in the Argonne region from Champagne to the sea, resulting in gains at many points, seems to have taken the Germans wholly by surprise."

A convincing indication of a partial or temporary demoralization of the troops which bore the brunt of the day's fighting, is the capture of a German soldier and the discovery of the trenches for making call to respond to the order to make counter-attacks with sufficient enthusiasm. In some cases, it is said, they even fell to advance at all."

WANTS U.S. TO PROBE.

British M.P. Asks Regarding Treatment of Prisoners.

LONDON, March 16.—Baron Newton suggested in the House of Lords yesterday that the American Government be asked to make enquiries concerning the treatment of British prisoners in Germany.

Lord Beauchamp, Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, speaking on behalf of the British Government, said there was reason to hope that the German Government would sanction this Government's proposal that United States officials should supervise the distribution of relief provided by Great Britain for British prisoners in Germany.

That, he thought, would constitute a better guarantee of proper treatment being accorded British prisoners than would the cursory inspection by American officials of the detention camps in Germany.

Goeben Is Out of Business.

PARIS, March 16.—The Havas Agency publishes a despatch from its correspondent at Athens reading as follows:
"News reaching here from Constantinople state that the young Turkish ships are beginning to find their position difficult and are preparing for flight."

The Sultan Selim, formerly the German cruiser Goeben, undoubtedly is out of commission. There is a report in his armor eighteen yards long, said to have been caused by a Turkish mine."

Sunk Thirteen Ships.

RIO DE JANEIRO, March 16.—Thirteen merchant ships have been sunk by the German auxiliary cruiser Kron Prinz Wilhelm, since she began her career as a raider, according to information received here yesterday. There are 500 German sailors on the Kron Prinz Wilhelm. Information of the activities of the German ship was received from passengers of the French steamer Godevalgoe, who was captured by the Kron Prinz Wilhelm off the eastern extremity of Brazil.

CRUISER DRESDEN SUNK

German Raider Yields After Five-Minute Battle.

British Admiralty Announces a Naval Expedition, in Which the Cruiser Dresden, Gleichen, Ormsa, and Kent Overtook the German Warship and Sunked Her Until Little Remains White Flag—Crew Saved.

LONDON, March 16.—"The Dresden has been sunk."

This was the headline which attracted the chief attention of the English people yesterday.

The announcement of the sinking of the German cruiser Dresden came quite unlooked for, but it was spread quickly through the theatres and restaurants, and there was much rejoicing that the cruiser, which had been reported to have been a mystery since her escape after the Falkland Islands engagement in December, had at last been sent to the bottom.

The fact that all the crew of the Dresden were saved, after an action at sea, and a naval battle of five minutes' duration is probably another record for the British navy.

The British navy's statement is: "On March 14, at 9 a.m., H.M.S. Glasgow, Capt. John Lucas, R.N.; H.M.S. Kent, Capt. J. R. Segrave, R.N.; H.M.S. Kent, Capt. J. D. Allen, C.B., R.N., caught the Dresden near Juan Fernandez."

"An action ensued, and after five minutes' fighting the Dresden handed down the colors, and the British white flag. She was much damaged and set on fire, and after she had been burning for some time her magazine exploded."

"The crew were saved. Fifteen badly wounded Germans are being landed at Valparaiso. No British casualties and no damage to the ships."

British and Japanese warships have been in quest of the Dresden since the German cruiser escaped the fate of the Scarborough, Grafenau, Leipzig and Nürnberg. In the naval action with Sir Frederick Sturdee's squadron off the Falkland Islands early in December.

The Dresden was 3,000 tons, was 395 feet long and carried 3,211 men. Her armament was ten 4.1-inch guns, eight 5.9-inch guns, four 10.2-inch guns and two torpedo tubes.

The Dresden was sister ship of the Endeavour, which was sunk off Cocos Island, in the Indian Ocean, by the Australian cruiser Sydney after an adventurous career. The sinking of the Dresden leaves at large—on the high seas—the German auxiliary cruiser Karlsruhe, last reported as operating in the West Indies, and the auxiliary cruiser Kron Prinz Wilhelm, which is still reported to be in the South Atlantic.

PORT SECRETS GUARDED.

Crews of Neutral Ships Entering German Harbors Are Locked Below.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Extraordinary precautions adopted by the German government to prevent foreigners learning anything about their coast defenses, or havens of the auxiliary cruisers, are being maintained. Washington officials have just received from an officer of an American steamer.

The British ship before entering the port of Bremerhaven its vessel was boarded by about sixty Germans, who took complete command of the ship and the captain and everyone of the officers and crew down below, where they were shut in with their ports until the vessel was at its berth.

The movement of both officers and crew afterwards was closely restricted, and the ship was kept in port. Nevertheless this officer speaks of the extraordinary number of submarines he saw, some of them very large in appearance, and he has seen in this country. He says he was told also that the Germans were turning out these vessels at the rate of one a day.

Hospital Ships To Mirats.

PARIS, March 16.—Telegraphing from Athens the correspondent of the Havas Agency says the French hospital ship Canada has arrived to take on provisions, and that she will leave immediately for the Dardanelles.

It is reported that there are 30 convalescents on board the Canada, but none from gunshot wounds. In this connection the statement is made here that a number of British soldiers are being treated in the hospital ship Canada, and that a single French sailor has been struck. It is a fact, nevertheless, that the aim of the Turkish gunners is improving.

From several sources news is reaching Athens, the correspondent continues, that the action of the Muslims against the Young Turks and the Germans is increasing.

ALMOST AT PRZEMYSL

Russians in Blizzard Force Way Through Defence Ring.

Austrian Forces Are Struggling Desperately to Enforce the Circle From Unstable Positions in the Carpathians—Germans in North Try a Thaw and Have Halted Their Advance.

PETROGRAD, March 16.—All the middle Carpathian passes are still locked in a snow blizzard and the Austrians are making desperate efforts to extricate themselves from the shoked ravines among the river sources flowing into the valley stretching to the region of Przemyśl.

The Strzy river and Lemberg which are stormwrept in this region also. The Austrians promptly seized their advantage amid the hurricane and snow to charge into the chief eastern defence of Przemyśl, only three miles from the heart of the fortress. The position here is held by a strong force of infantry and artillery, but the vengeance of the Russian onslaught was such that an entire battalion surrendered at the first charge. The others maintained a confused resistance, frequently shooting their comrades.

Then they fled in a panic, leaving many guns imbedded in the snow. The force on the border of Poland have been practically halted. The weather would permit of a general battle with the movement of artillery and heavy cavalry, but the season has reached the time when a complete thaw is probable. This would prove a disaster, if it caught the Germans in a half-defensive movement near the swamps near North Narzew.

Turks Failing Back.

PETROGRAD, March 16.—Russian troops operating in the Trans-Tschok region are advancing, and because the Turks are failing back, it is reported from Russian headquarters at Tiflis in the following official despatch:

"Our troops, having consolidated themselves on the approaches of Draznel Pass, are advancing vigorously by roads leading from that point toward Khops. The Turks have been dislodged from their positions. Attempts by the Turks to undertake the offensive in certain directions failed."

SANG DURING CHARGE.

Canadian Troops Defeated Enemy With Very Little Trouble.

LONDON, March 16.—The following authentic particulars of last week's heavy fighting by Canadians are supplied today by an officer returned from the front.

The Canadian infantry, consisting of three battalions, two from Ontario and one from Winnipeg district, first advanced towards the German front last Tuesday. Previously, the Canadian artillery had poured in a tremendous fire, which had gone on for about six hours, and it was evident that the enemy were thrown into a state of partial demoralization. The Canadian infantry then got the word to advance, the splendid shooting of the artillery having cleared the ground of a good deal of the German defences.

The Canadians raced forward, cheering, laughing, and singing, and hurled themselves into the first line of trenches. Here they met little resistance.

The Canadians paused to make good the ground gained and allow for reinforcement to come up later in the day. The same tactics were again adopted with complete success, but, however without serious loss, of which Canada at the time of cabling knows more than I do. By nightfall the Canadians were in possession of the whole of the enemy's trenches immediately in front of their previous positions.

Be Fair to Your Watch

Try to run your car or your sewing machine or wagon for a couple of years without oil, and see how stridently they will screech forth protests against your neglect.

Yet it is, perhaps, six years since your watch was cleaned or oiled.

Though it cannot even "sneak" its protest, it is slowly but surely wearing itself out. A few drops of oil and a good cleaning will work wonders. Bring it in.

CLAYVERING

On Tuesday evening of last week the people of this neighborhood met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Elliott to bid them goodbye. Mr. Elliott is one of the old pioneers and has been intimately connected with the origin and history of Clayvering. He moved in before the railroad when the work was all done by hand and the teaming by Oxen. He and Mr. Alexander were partners in the first mill ever built here. Some years later Mr. Elliott was elected to the Koppel Council and later became Reeve. His long and faithful services in that office are well remembered by the whole township. Over two years ago Mr. Elliott lost his sight and has been totally blind ever since. So it is no wonder that the old neighbors gathered once more when they learned that Mr. Elliott and his family had sold their farm and were moving into Owen Sound. Mr. Woods acted as chairman of the evening, and after some music by the choir and a few kind words by Mr. Morley and Mr. Cass read a beautiful address to Mr. and Mrs. Elliott and family. During the address a beautiful leatherette couch was brought in and presented to them. Then there was another selection by the choir after which Mr. Elliott said a few appropriate and heartfelt words of appreciation. Refreshments were then served and the party broke up with all best wishes to them in their new home.

Mrs. William Fenwick and two children of Owen Sound spent the latter part of last week with her sister Mrs. H. Flak.

Mr. Ed Williamson formerly of Owen Sound visited with friends in this burg last week before leaving for his home in Aronburg, Sask.

Mrs. John Simms McConnell, Man., is visiting here this week.

Mr. Geo. Scarrab, Owen Sound, made a business trip through here Friday last. Mrs. Ed. Lawrence and Mrs. Frank Moore and two little boys Wilfrid and Stewart spent the latter part of the week with friends in Owen Sound.

Mr. John Wakefield of Okenden, who has purchased the Elliott farm moved here this week.

10 CENT "CASCAETS" FOR LIVER AND BOWEL

Cure Sick Headache, Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath - Candy Cathartic.

No odds how bad your liver, stomach or bowels, how much your head aches, how miserable you are from constipation, indigestion, biliousness and sluggish bowels - you always get relief with Cascarets. They immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poisons from the intestines and bowels. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean, stomach sweet and head clear for months. They work while you sleep.

SPRING CREEK

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Mayford, of Owen Sound, spent Sunday at Mr. J. Fraser's.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm McPherson were callers on Spring Creek line last Thursday.

Mr. Charlie Rackerty and sister Edie called on Mr. Leo Trepte Sunday last.

Mr. John Brown left last week after spending some time with his sister Mrs.
 R. Pender.

Mr. John Fraser went to Winton on Sunday to bring home his daughter Miss Mahle.

There were very few at the rink last Thursday afternoon, but much made in favor of the Red Cross work but we women will do the best we can.

Syrup making is the rage these days
 we hope for a good season for it.

Miss F. Barnes is still in Bruce visiting her cousin.

A nice little crowd gathered at R.
 Hocketts last Thursday night and spent a very enjoyable time with music and games.

Mrs. H. Spencer returned home from Baryonye and found her mother somewhat better.

Social

Miss Margaret Sutherland entertained a few of her friends last Wednesday evening after the hockey match.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Newman entertained the Methodist choir on Friday night. During the evening an address was read by Mr. McKelroy to Miss Ollie Loughhead who left town on Tuesday, was presented with a beautiful hymn book.

On Thursday evening of last week Mrs. V. Gilpin gave a most enjoyable euchre to a number of her lady friends. Her cozy home looked lovely with its cheery fireplace and the lovely floral decorations of crimson and white carnations. Mrs. Gilpin was assisted during the evening by her sister, Miss Jackson and Miss Smith of Masford. The prize winners were Mrs. Hoover, Mrs. Logan and Mrs. Ely.

On Friday evening March 12th the Ladies Patriotic League held its regular meeting in the Council Chamber. The meeting was not as well attended as usual. The members present accepted with great reluctance Mrs. J. J. Tysons resignation from the office of President of the league. Mrs. Ebert was unanimously elected as her successor in office. The next meeting will be held March 20th.

Mrs. Brumfield gave a birthday party on Friday afternoon March 12th for her little children Mildred and J. C. The dining room was daintily decorated with pink streamers from the light fixtures to the corners of the table and a lovely centre piece of carnations and fern. The birthday cake in its pink and white beauty added a lovely touch to the table. Mildred and J. C. were made happy by a number of very pretty birthday gifts from their friends and the 12 or 14 little guests enjoyed themselves thoroughly each taking home a souvenir of the happy party in the shape of a lovely little pink crepe paper basket filled to the brim with choice home made candies.

—Miss Johns will not receive tomorrow Thursday.

—Mrs. Alex. Campbell returned home Monday after spending the past few days with her sister Mrs. Neil McDonald.

BIRTHS

GALLOWAY—In Warton March 15 to Basil Galloway and wife a daughter.

News of the Churches.

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Sunday March 21 the minister will preach at both services morning subject "The Charter of Liberty" evening subject "Young Peoples Problems—Their Friends." Good music Strangers welcome.

It has been arranged to hold the Anniversary services of the church on Sunday and Monday Mar. 28 and 29. The preacher this year will be the Rev. W. H. Langton of Chesley Moderator of the Owen Sound Baptist Association. Mr. Langton will deliver a lecture on the Monday.

The Anniversary Services of the Methodist Church last Sunday were splendidly successful.

The Rev. Mr. Stewart of Owen Sound preached two highly intellectual and deeply spiritual sermons to large and appreciative congregations.

The special offering asked for amounted to the creditable sum of about $225.00. This will doubtless be increased by some who were not able to be present on Sunday.

The Social on Monday evening was largely attended and was a decided success in every way. The credit of this is properly due to the Ladies Aid to which society a resolution of appreciation, moved by J. P. Newman Esq. and seconded by R. W. Bright Esq., was cordially presented.

Griest! Try it! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glitters with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine! Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots turnish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a 25-cent bottle of Keweenaw's Danderine from any drug store and fast try it.

Home From Salisbury

Mr. Asa Day arrived home from Salisbury Plains, England, on Saturday noon after having struggled through a long period of illness and was warmly welcomed by his family and many friends, who at one time had little hopes of ever seeing him again. Mr. Day, who enlisted with the first Canadian Contingent, contracted pneumonia and pleurisy owing to the wet weather and for a time his friends were awaited anxiously the outcome, but the careful attention which all the soldiers on the sick list receive, and of which Mr. Day speaks in the highest terms, pulled him through, and he was able to return to his native land.

It is a trying time for the captain and crew and an anxious time for the passengers on the boat plying between England and the outside world, until they are safely beyond the war zone as they never know what minute they may run into a mine. Just a few days after the boat on which Mr. Day sailed had got safely over, three British boats were sunk coming over the route. The boats run at full speed in a zig zag course, as it is harder for the submarines to follow that way than by running in a straight line. There is also the Zeppelin to be avoided and taking all the dangers into consideration it takes a strong nerve to stand up under the strain.

Mr. Day is still in a very weak condition but a few weeks rest and the care he will receive here will bring back his usual robust health.

Letters from the Firing Line

The following letters were received by Mrs. W. S. Pope from her son Clarence, who is now in the trenches at the front.

Somewhere in Tuesday Feb 16.

Dear mother—
I wrote a little note to you on the way from Bedford Camp I hope you received it. Well we boarded the boat about eleven a.m. and at midnight we sukked out to sea, after toasting around for three days packed two deep we were landed in the south of ——— early Thursday afternoon and about ten p.m. stole out of the city on our journey north packed in box cars forty in a car. Saturday night we disembarked and somewhere about midnight went to sleep in our billets which consists of old barns with thatched roofs and plenty of straw were a little draughty but warm enough.

We're not allowed to tell where we are but I couldn't tell you where we are if I wanted to. We can hear the guns, big ones going away in the distance but they carry a long way.

We can only write one page at a time so I'm afraid I'll have to say good-bye. Love to all
Clarence

Feb. 20th 1915

Dear mother—
Received your letter dated Jan. 27 last night after coming out of the trenches. Everybody safe and am going back again to-night. The rain is coming down in torrents which I suppose will make it slightly uncomfortable in the trenches.

We were in the firing line some distance from the Germans and believe me I'd rather live there than here. You have to cook your own meals but you get something to eat. I am the first Wartonian to have the honour of firing a few shots at our meddlesome neighbours.

Some of them have quite a sense of humor though in one of the trenches opposite the ones which we occupied a few Germans who had been in England previous to the war and who were attached to the Saxons put up a notice viz "We are Saxons you are Anglo Saxons save your bullets for the Prussian guard they relieve us to-night. This happened some time ago.

Remember me to everybody and love to all at home.
Clarence

WOLESELEY

Township of Kappel gets $1000

Mr. C. S. Cameron, M. P. P. for North Grey, has just advised the Echo that he has been successful in obtaining for the Township of Kappel for the year 1915, a grant of $1000, to be spent under the Colonization Roads Act. This means that the Township of Kappel is to spend $1000 in accordance with the terms of their by-law passed last year to obtain the grant from the Ontario Government of $1000, the equivalent of the amount they spend.

Considering that nearly all grants have been disallowed this year on account of the war, and the falling off in the Provincial Revenue, the Township of Kappel is extremely fortunate in getting such special treatment from the Ontario Government, and Mr. Cameron is to be congratulated in obtaining the large grant.

CLAVERING

Now is the time to purchase maple syrup.

On St. Patrick's Day the Clavering Branch of the Women's Institute held a very successful Irish evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Atkinson. The meeting opened with the singing of the Opening Prayer by the ladies of the institute. After which Mr. D. B. Perkins was chosen chairman. The program consisted of music and recitations followed by a mock business meeting. This was the event of the evening and was very instructive as well as entertaining. It was supposed to be a meeting called for the purpose of selecting a representative for the Dublin Parliament which is to meet at the end of the summer. The aim was to carry out the meeting according to strict parliamentary practice and anyone who noticed an error was at once to call attention to it. It was amusing to find some of our best speakers called out for not addressing the chair or for not being acknowledged by the chair or for wandering from the subject. After choosing our representative it was, of course, necessary to choose a helpmate. The enigmas given these candidates were certainly inspiring. After this the nature of amendments and substitutions was upturned and illustrated by a motion to change the name of the Women's Institute to The Irish Literary Society. One amendment was that the words and Scotch be inserted after the word Irish. There was some discussion of this part for many had not clearly understood that an amendment must only change some part of the original motion. Later a committee was appointed to inquire into the marriage relationship of Pat O'Hoolihan and Biddy O'Hoolihan, formerly Tim Caspale's widow. This led to a splendid dialogue which was greatly enjoyed by the audience. Then the business meeting was resumed and the report of the investigating committee discussed. Many more points were learned in this discussion. The business meeting then adjourned and the programme continued. This was followed by a hearty vote of thanks to all who had helped. Then the refreshments were served and if all Irishmen fare as well as those present it is no wonder they love the Emerald Isle. We wish the Women's Institute all success, and only hope we may be present at their next entertainment.

The Millinery Openings

The Symon Bros. annual spring openings were held last Saturday afternoon and evening. During the day the ladies went in and out looking at the pretty hats. The room in which the hats were displayed looked very attractive. Among the shapes shown, some of those which pleased the eye was the little military shapes which looked very smart.

The Halo or transparent hat was conspicuous. One very pretty one was a large black sailor shape trimmed with French flounces inset, and blue ribbon.

Some of the hats looked very quaint, as if taken from an old picture.

Small hats are in vogue for the spring but for midwinter the larger hats will be worn.

Zion, Keppel

On Monday evening of last week the people of this neighborhood numbering about sixty-five met at the home of Mr. Chas. White and daughters to bid them good-bye. Mr. White is one of the old pioneers one of the first settlers who moved in about forty-five years ago when it was all bush. He took a great part in church work where he will be much missed. Mr. White is getting up in years and not able to farm. The old neighbors, when they learned that Mr. White had sold his farm and was moving near Warton gathered together once more when the following address and presentation was made. Mr. Matt. White acted as chairman and Mr. James Day read the address.

To Mr. Chas. White and daughters:

Dear friends—We your friends and neighbors are indeed sorry to hear of your departure from our neighborhood, and are gathered to spend an evening with you before leaving the old home.

One by one the old pioneers, the men to whom honor and respect is due, who labored long and hard to make a home for their families, are moving from the scene of their life's work.

You will always be remembered as a most kind and helpful neighbor, ready to assist in necessity or trouble and always a friend in need. In church and Sabbath School work your removal causes a great gap, you were always ready to assist with a willing hand in the work and always dependable for your share in expense and offering, that God's cause might be maintained, always regular in attendance at the means of grace, a good example, a steady consistent and Christian character, whose profession was practiced in daily life. You carry with you your good name, and a good name is rather to be chosen than great riches.

To Miss Mabel and Allie—You have proved your devotion to home and duty, and have won the respect and good wishes of the neighborhood. You, too will be much missed in church work and social life, you share in many ways what has been said of your father.

Before leaving the old neighborhood we wish to present to you some slight token of the high esteem in which you and your daughters are held. Mr. White kindly accept from our best wishes this watch, presented by Mr. Philip Cutting, and may it measure out many happy hours to you and as you look at it bring many happy remembrances of old friends and neighbors.

To Miss Mabel and Allie, each accept these teaspoons, presented by Miss Minnie Kennedy and Miss Flossie Daw. These simple yet useful presents are not to be valued for their mere money value but by the esteem and respect of the givers.

As you go to your new home, wherever it may be, the very best wishes of the whole neighborhood follow you and may you be spared in health and strength to enjoy many happy years with new found friends while the old friends are still held in memory.

When the thought of that beautiful hymn is realized, "When we all gather home in the morning," may you find an abundant entrance into that Heavenly mansion, the final home, the resting place, where there is no parting. A mansion prepared for those that love God, is the sincere wish of your friends.

Signed on behalf of friends and neighbors.

Philip Cutting

Duncan McGregor

Though taken by surprise Mr. White expressed his thanks with a few appreciative words. The rest of the evening was spent in music and singing. Refreshments were then served and the party broke up with all best wishes to them in their new home.

The Rev. T. S. Campbell has received a pressing invitation from Trinity College to be present at the annual convocation on April 25th. Mr. Campbell was a graduate of the class of 69, and entered the very year the college started. No other member is now living. Trinity College no doubt know that Mr. Campbell can give them the early history of the church and this institution better than any other living man.

Tea Market Still Advancing

Nothing definite can be ascertained with regard to a probable advance in package tea in Canada. But it seems to be common sense to suppose that tea men can't go on importing at high and yet higher prices every week, without making some changes in their selling schedule to cover. There is nothing to do but follow Mr. Asquith's advice and "wait and see" meanwhile taking note of the band-writing on the wall.—Canadian Grower, March 19th.

HAY & HOOVER

Warton Beats Elmira.

It was not until after Elmira made the Warton septet go to the limit that the latter won The London Press trophy, emblematic of the Northern Hockey League senior series championship by 6 goals on the round, and Friday nights game by 12 to 8. The contest was hard fought on an excellent sheet of ice, and at one time Elmira had the locality on the round. It was at this stage of the game when both teams plugged hard for possession of the silverware. The score at half time was 5 all.

It was during the last period that the pace became terrific and players were penalized for roughing it up too much. Heinbecker, in goal for Elmira, was banished for tripping.

Both teams played so much hockey that it was hard to pick out the most effective players, but summing it all up the stalwarts from the north, exponents of the better class of hockey, captured the 1915 championship in the N. H. L. and if ice like which prevailed last season had existed when Orilla played here in the final, another triumph would have been added to the local laurels.

Warton by beating Elmira in the finals for the Northern Hockey League championship in the senior series again won the above trophy repeating their 1913 performance. However the N. H. L. of this year is about three times the size it was when Warton won the trophy the first time. The league will grow each succeeding year until it will be second to none in Canada or Western Ontario. Fans miss their guess.

Be Fair to Your Watch

Try to run your car or your sewing machine or wagon for a couple of years without oil, and see how stridently they will screech forth protests against your neglect.

Yet it is, perhaps, six years since your watch was cleaned or oiled.

Though it cannot even "quack" its protest, it is slowly, but surely wearing itself out. A few drops of oil, and a good cleaning will work wonders. Bring it in.

Suppose that, instead of selling

PAGE FENCE DIRECT

(FREIGHT PAID)

we sold it like ordinary fence, through agents and "middlemen".

Would a $3500 Salesman's salary add one cent to the WORTH of your fence? NO—but it WOULD add several cents a rod to the PRICE.

Would a $2500 Blockman's salary add one day to the LIFE of your fence? NO—but it WOULD add 20 per cent to its selling price.

Would 25 per cent to 35 per cent Dealer's Profit—or a Dealer's Free Excursion To Florida—help to keep the cows out of your corn? NO—but it would help to make you buy a new fence every few years to replace the worn-out light-weight fence.

So—why pay 100 per cent "selling expense" for the privilege of supporting the dealer.

When you buy from PAGE, you deal direct with the factory. You pay only one small profit between you and us. And you get the BEST FENCE at the LOWEST COST.

PAGE FENCE WEARS BEST, because it's honestly made throughout. All No. 9 wire—No. 9

The Late Dr. Crow

The aptitude of the Master declaration that "The Son of Man Cometh as a thief in the night" was brought home with startling suddenness to the residents of Chesley when it became known early Tuesday morning that our friend and townsman, Dr. Crow, had passed away about seven o'clock. The deceased who was in his 47th year, had been in splendid health up to a few days ago when he was seized with an attack of laryngitis causing the sudden death on the day mentioned above. Dr. Crow was born in Arden township in the year 1868 and received his education in Hamilton Collegiate Institute. After spending two years in the Loom Controlling business in Tara, he decided to enter the dental profession, and was a graduate of the Toronto Dental College. He first opened an office in Tara, but in 1893 he removed to Chesley where he has since remained and enjoyed a large practice. Some general and off-hand of Dr. Crow's friends were not confined to the town but were numbered all over the country. He was progressive in his ideas, took a very active interest in everything that pertained to the town as well as to the agricultural welfare and the citizens showed their appreciation of his enterprise by electing him trustee in the year 1896 and three years later was appointed chairman of the School Board. In 1901 Municipal honors were again conferred on him by electing him to a position he held three years. He then retired for three years and in 1907 at the citizens' urgent request he came back and was again elected as the town representative to the County Council. He filled this position to the end of 1910 the last year of which he was elected Warden. The subject of our sketch took a deep interest in things agricultural and to the doctor's credit must be placed the high standing of the Chesley Agricultural Society and in this capacity honors were conferred on him by appointing him Vice President for 1912 and President for 1913 a 1914 of the Prov. Fall Fairs Association. In November 1913 he received the Nomination of the Liberals of Centre Bruce for the Local House but on account of a business pressure he was forced to decline it. He was also President of the Chesley Musical Society Band. He was prominent in everything which was done for the encouragement and advancement of the town. Dr. Crow was an enthusiastic carter and bowler and will be greatly missed in these sports. Early this year he was appointed Magistrate by the Board of Magistrates. He was married on Dec. 28, 1904, to Miss Nellie McArthur with whom he has a son, Archie and James, also the mother of a daughter and son. In 1913 the doctor was a Presbyterian and his pastor, Rev. Mr. Hiltz, officiated at his funeral service. Enterprise

Death of Wm. Buckland.

On Tuesday last week there passed away at the residence of his son Fletcher, William Buckland aged 88 years and 3 months. The late Mr. Buckland was a native of Nottinghamshire, England and in 1866 came to Canada and settled near Fergus. In June 1867 he moved to lot 5 Con 20, Arden, and there by energy he made a comfortable home for himself and by honestly and kindly disposition he endeavored himself to the whole community. He was predeceased by his wife in the fall of 1911 but four sons and one daughter still survive to mourn the loss of their father. The funeral services were conducted last Friday by the Rev. Mr. Masters of Trinity Church.

Soldiers Life on Atlantic

Letter from Roy Hunter, Who is Now Training In at Shorncliffe.

Atlantic, Mar. 1, '15

My Dear Mother:

We left Halifax early and arrived in Shorncliffe on Tuesday morning, having been out six days and covered 100 miles.

There are three transports the Vadeland, Magantic and our vessel the Missable, the batteries are 2nd 8th Victoria, 32nd Winnipeg, a Nova Scotia bunch and artillery from Montreal.

The "Essex" is our only boat so far but others will probably meet us in a day or so now, it shows pretty well how secure the Atlantic is when we can come this far with one small cruiser, we have made rather poor time so far on account of the Vadeland being out back, we have had some trouble with her engines.

We had a very fine trip so far and I fortunately escaped sea sickness quite a number of times but now that we are over it now, the first two days out were the 2nd day we ran into fog banks which made it rather dismal for a while as the stiers were making a terrible noise, however it did not last long and Tuesday we struck the Gulf Stream and the atmosphere turned much warmer, but it had its good and bad points. On deck was bludgeoned all day and as long as we were permitted at night, which was ten o'clock, the moon was shining and the clouds were sailing past making one of the grandest views I have ever seen. It was a shame we had to turn in at all for the cabins were hot and stuffy.

Friday was much easier but Saturday and Sunday rain fell most of the time and the sea became choppy.

We are next to the "Essex" which is leading us and our ship comes up quite close, sometimes not more than a couple of boat lengths, it was a fair sight watching her yesterday for a time she was pitching and tossing like a cork and at times a person would think she was going to turn completely over, how these war vessels are accurate in a rough sea is a mystery to me but I presume it comes with practice.

The weather is great to-day and we are full of sunshine and the sea is the smoothest since leaving Halifax.

Our work on board consists principally of killing time, there is very little room for 1000 men to train, so we only get one hour physical drill each day. We are up at six o'clock, breakfast at 6.30 I say first breakfast because the men have to be divided into three parties for meals, the 1st 6.30, 2nd 7 and 3rd 7.30, our drill is from 7.30 to 8.30 then we have the rest of the day to ourselves. I spend an hour each day taking a bath, we can only get salt water for bathing it is no good to wash, but is very invigorating, boxing contests and tug-of-war are the most amusement in the line of sport but there are various other things that I don't know the name of "Billiard" and "Gathered" and "Nuts in May" are commended to help pass the time away.

Tell Dad I have developed into quite a chess player and have triumphed all the exponents of the game that I have run up against on board ship, tell him to practice up for my return as I expect to be pretty good by that time.

We have seen very little in the line of sea living creatures I saw a whale but not very close and a couple of little birds that dove out of sight also a few sea gulls.

We are heading for England so far and I suppose there is no doubt that our destination: we are all wondering of had them almost under control the bits broke allowing the colls to run away. The axles of the buggy breaking threw Alvie and a little Spiers boy who was with him out, causing with but a bad shaking up. The team started homeward but was stopped before reaching there.

COLPOYS BAY

Mr. W. T. Parke was one of the jurors at Walkerton last week.

Mr. E. D. Kuhlheid visited London last week on business.

Watch for the report of the "old minds" convention. They held their first session this week.

Mrs. A. A. Matthews received a message calling for home as her mother is very ill in Brussels.

Making maple syrup attracts many to the woods these days, and some who don't make it are attracted.

The city and large towns still lure people from the farm. Some day the land will attract and they will come trekking back to nature's heart.

We are sorry to hear of the departure of Mr. John Smith and family from our neighborhood. They move to Owen Sound this week. During the years they have been with us they have been good neighbors always ready to help for the welfare of the community.

come what is going to be done with us when we arrive, the only plausible guess I can make is that we are to be reinforcements for the 1st Contingent. Well, mother dear, will close this for to-day.

Mar. 8th Well we arrived safe and sound at Quebec yesterday morning, we were headed for Plymouth until Wednesday night then made the run here at full speed, from what I can find out the "Essex" left us and we did not see her again until the next morning after we arrived here, when our convoy was on the last stage I cannot say but think there were several battleships and a number of torpedo boats around us although it has not been officially announced. I heard one submarine was run down by a passenger boat evidently this one was waiting for us. I was up at 5 o'clock the morning we arrived and saw 2 torpedo boats, 2 cruisers and the Essex come in about 6 o'clock.

Quebec has a naval dock yard there is quite a few war ships here. It is one of the proudest places I have ever seen, the buildings are very quiet looking, we can see several fine looking harbors and estuaries, the farms or rather fields that we can see look more like prairie than farms and contain about an acre they are divided by a low fence I understand it is a good dairy district, the harbor is practically land locked and extremely well protected, come in we passed the naval dock yards and all tanks, the docks are painted to represent foliage both on the sides and top and are well done.

We moved up the harbor about 10 o'clock passing near the waterfront of the town, every person appeared to be waving handkerchiefs or anything white it was evidently wash day as washing was lined out all along, one street seemed to have one clothes line running from end to end with washing strung on it.

I would have finished this letter and went to bed long ago but expected we would be off to our destination where ever that may be before this.

Rumors are floating as usual and we seem to be going to every place but the one I think we will go to, namely, Egypt. It looks to me as if I had a run for my life and they are taking no chances on having this bunch sent out particularly as I am a Canadian.

Because that is the British way of doing things, we will leave here to-morrow at the latest, if we don't will not be here as you see as I know what my address will be.

We will be glad to get off the boat although the trip was pleasant. I was not at all sick but my arm bothered me for a few days caused by the "Essex".

This is a beautiful place most everything here looks so peaceful except the war ships and seemed to realize that great suffering is taking place so near us. Everything is green and a green we do not see at home, all day the sun has been shining, it would not change Canada for it is though, it sounds strange to be saying "lover home" like my English friends do in Canada.

Now mother dear, I may not add anything more to this letter and if I don't you will likely get a card with my address as the ship has reached us.

I am in the healthiest of feeling something I say I presume caused by the lazy time we have had on board.

Your loving son, Roy

The monthly meeting of the mother's club was withdrawn last week on account of the illness of so many members.

Mr. Wm. Grant, of Kithlay, attended the funeral of his uncle.

Mrs. John Ferguson is quite ill at present.

In the person of Gilbert Gatis the passed away another of the old Canadian pioneers. He was born in Beverly township, County of Wentworth, in 1845, and moved up to Sullivan Township in 1859, where they were a mile and a half from the nearest neighbor. He did his share of hard work in clearing up this country and was very interesting in his reminiscences of the early pioneer life when the deer had not learned the fear of man, and the wolves and bears were plentiful in this fair land. After the death of his parents he left Sullivan and moved into Chesley where he lived for seven years. He worked in Owen Sound for a number of years, but four years ago he and his nephew Robert, purchased a home in Oxenden. In November of 1913, he came home ill, and though receiving every care from his loving sister Mrs. Riggs, he gradually grew weaker until death called him. To politics he was a staunch Liberal in religion a Presbyterian. He had a kindly sympathetic disposition, always willing to help where help was needed. He leaves two sisters, Mrs. Riggs, of Oxenden, and Mrs. Grant, of Warton, and eleven nephews and seven nieces to mourn his departure. Six nephews were pall-bearers, James, Alfred and Gilbert Ward, Carl Cole, Gilbert and William Grant. The sympathy of the neighborhood is sincerely given to the bereaved friends.

Owen Sound

A wedding of interest to a large number of Owen Sounders took place on Wednesday, March 17th, 1918, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. D. P. Ritchie, 24 East Fourth Ave., when her daughter, Miss Caroline, became the bride of Captain John McIntyre, son of Mrs. Donald McIntyre, East Eighth St. Owing to illness in the family, the wedding was very quiet and only the immediate relatives being present. Rev. T. A. Hodges celebrated the marriage service, which took place at 12:30 o'clock.

Five Owen Sound masters of the Canadian Steamship Company's Lines left this week for Toronto to attend a course of lectures at the National school in that city, with the prospect of qualifying as masters in the coast trade with the West Indies. Several vessels of this line, formerly engaged in Lake traffic, were chartered recently by the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company for service between Canada, West Indies and South America. Masters who have had charge of lake vessels for over three years will be allowed to qualify as masters on the vessels to engage in the new service. Captains John Wherry, Peter McKay, Norman McKay, Angus McKay and Wm. Curran are the Owen Sound men who are attending the lectures with a view to taking the new route.

Yesterday, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Leonard Ferguson, Mrs. Catherine H. Price, passed away, after a lingering illness, in her sixty-third year. Mrs. Price was the widow of the late George H. Price, who was for years a Justice of the Peace and a prominent citizen of Owen Sound. Four children remain to mourn the loss of one who was respected and loved by many for her beautiful Christian character and lovable disposition. The survivors are: Mrs. J. E. Thompson and Mrs. L. Ferguson, Owen Sound; Geo. H. Price, living in Winnipeg; and the youngest son, Fred, with the second contingent at Toronto. The funeral will take place from the residence of Mrs. L. Ferguson, Ninth street east, tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock to Greenwood cemetery.

Two well known local boys, Messrs. Harold Legate and Allan Bishop, who are students at the S. P. S. Toronto have on Friday with the Ontario Field Artillery of the third Canadian contingent, along with a large number of the University students, and left for Ottawa on Monday where they will go into training. Messrs. Legate and Bishop are at present visiting at their homes here before leaving for the training camp at Ottawa.

Capt. R. Worth Bishop left for London, Ont. where he has been appointed as engineer officer on the headquarters staff. He will have charge of the engineering work of the spring camps for the first division. Bishop is a son of Mr. W. A. Bishop and is a graduate of the Royal Military College, Kingston. His brother, Lieut. Wm. Bishop, of the Seventh Mounted Rifles, London, who has been home on sick leave, returned to London with him.

The officers and men of the 31st Regiment forming part of the 37th Battalion of the Third Canadian Expeditionary Force, look quite neat and neat in their new uniforms, some fifty of which arrived on Monday. The remainder are expected in a few days. The new clothes certainly make a vast difference in the appearance of the men, and when all got fitted out the same, one will hardly be able to recognize them as the same boys of men that assembled here a few weeks ago.

The old frame and log house, which has stood for so long on the property in front of the Riverside Hotel, and has been used for some time as a Chinese laundry, is this week being torn down. The building was first constructed of logs, and later covered with clapboards. Its removal will make the town's old-timers shy out of their number.

An old settler of Grey County, in the person of John McQuarrie, is passed to the great beyond on Sunday, at Shrigley, at the age of eighty-two years. The deceased who was one of the hardy pioneers, was born in Scotland, and came to Canada as a lad of fourteen years, residing first in Mariposa, Victoria county where he married Catherine McDougall, who now survives him. In coming to this part of the country they lived in Exmouth for a few years, then in Proton, near Ventry, and thirty-four years ago they moved to the present homestead at Shrigley. Mr. McQuarrie was known among his neighbors as a man of the highest integrity. Two sons and four daughters survive, namely: Laurichen, on the homestead, John in Owen Sound, Mrs. George Bailey and Mrs. Joseph Cook, Shrigley, Mrs. McLean, Eyebrow, Sask., and Sarah at home.

Mr. G. M. Boyd returns on Saturday night from a week's trip to the Canadian west. He says that he never knew the country to be so optimistic as it is to day. Everyone is preparing for a big crop this spring, and fully forty per cent more land is under cultivation this summer. The times in general are very much better than at the same time last year and evidence of this is to be found in the fact that the blaine report that they are not doing more than a tenth of the business they did a year ago. The promise of a bumper crop and more land under cultivation says Mr. Boyd. Last fall the weather was ideal and plowing was continued until the 12th of November. All winter there had been a little snow and steady frost which according to the Westerners means a big crop this coming summer. While frosty winter was not severe. Many ranchmen are now rushing into the country and this will not only be a big crop year but a big settlement year as well. The railways have been giving excellent service all winter, running on good schedules and apparently not feeling the pinch as much as might have been expected. Mr. Boyd was all through the province of Manitoba and the eastern part of Saskatchewan.

One of the most dastardly, brutal and blood-curd crime ever committed in this section of the country, occurred on Tuesday evening near what is known as Dapard's corner on the Kildyth road in Derby, when Herbert T. King, an Englishman, just a few weeks out from the old country, foully murdered Eddie Nicholson, the twelve-year-old son of Mr. Edward Nicholson of Third Ave. P. O. Wednesday morning, King made a confession and admitted his commission of the crime, his written statement giving no reason for the deed, other than that he was seized with an uncontrollable impulse and stabbed the boy to death on the lonely country road and left him there not realizing what he was doing. Besides killing the boy, King also fired the barn of his house on William King, a farmer living about three miles from town, and burned the pigsty and fifty-six valuable hogs. Apparently, the murderer is a moral degenerate and does not realize the immensity of the horrible crime he is guilty of. The crime has shocked the whole community and since Wednesday morning, when it became generally known, has been almost the sole topic of conversation. King was placed under arrest the same night by P. C. Carson and appeared on Wednesday morning before Police Magistrate Cresser, who remanded him until Saturday for his preliminary hearing.

Story of the Crime

The story of the crime is that King hired a delivery outfit from McInnis's livery on a Friday evening about seven o'clock to drive to the country. He induced young Nicholson, who was one of the group of boys playing marbles on the sidewalk at Third Ave. E. to go with him, promising him a quarter, or a shilling as King called it, for holding the horse for him. The man and boy then drove out over the cranberry hill road and when nearing the corner, King, according to his own story, got out of the car for some purpose. It was then that the impulse to kill the boy came on him and he drew a sheath dirk knife out of his pocket and struck the boy down, inflicting three wounds, two in his back

Set Fire to Barn
King then turned around and drove back to town and took the horse to the livery barn. But while the livery man was un hitching the animal, another impulse seized King and he asked for another and a faster horse to go to the country again. The same horse was again hitched up and King started out, this time driving directly to his brother's farm where he set fire to the buildings.

PILES

Do not suffer another day with itching, bleeding, smarting Piles. No operation required.

Tara

Mr. Neil Dick, of Calamet, Mich., is visiting his father at the home of his sister Mrs. Ralph Foster. Mr. Dick is, has this week passed his eightieth year and for the past month has been in poor health.

Mr. J. E. Douglas, of Tara, District Deputy of the I. O. O. F., has installed the officers of L. O. O. F. Cheley, Tara, Shallow Lake, Owen Sound, Winton and Lion's Head lodges, and made a very capable official. Mr. Douglas will supervise the work of the Lodges of Instruction which will be held in Tara on Good Friday.

Canada's national game, "Lacrosse" will again be the leading pastime in Tara this coming summer. A meeting of the executive of the game was held last Thursday evening when the following officers were elected:—Hon. President, E. J. McGill; President, R. I. Shannon; 1st Vice President, C. R. VanDusen; 2nd Vice President, J. B. Hogg; 3rd Vice President, J. B. Colwell; Secretary, Ernest Theaker; Treasurer, Jos. Tindale; Manager, Committee, Chas. Cummer, Dan McNeill, R. I. Shannon, C. R. VanDusen and Clarence Duffer. C. R. VanDusen was appointed delegate to the Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association Convention at Toronto on Good Friday. The locals will probably stage the intermediate series and if Fairley, Cheley, Port Elgin and Southampton enter teams, as is all likelihood they will, there will be some stirring times in Lacrosse this summer.

END STOMACH TROUBLE, GASES OR DYSPEPSIA

"Pape's Dispepsin" makes Sick, Sour, Gassy Stomachs surely feel fine in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of distention, heartburn, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach-headache, you can get blessed relief in five minutes. Put an end to stomach trouble forever by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Dispepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder. It's the quickest, surest stomach doctor in the world. It's wonderful.

Chesley

John Leggett, principal of Hopworth public school, was calling on Chesley friends last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Pollock and daughter of Owen Sound, were visiting Chesley friends on Saturday. Robert has still the notion of exchanging the pen for the sword. Mr. John Heilip of Winnipeg, spent the week end visiting his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Heilip. He has spent the last two months visiting at the home of his brother-in-law, Frank Maher, of Chesley. Miss Muriel Maher of Chesley, accompanied him. It is Mr. Heilip's intention to return to Winnipeg this week.

In a letter which Mr. and Mrs. John Green received from their son George, dated February 24th, the information is given that the boys had been on the bridge line twice and that the Canadians had stood their baptismal fire in both days. George states that Lester Fry is the best shot in their company. George, Lester and two other Canadians were sent out to locate and, if possible, to shoot three German snipers, which were worrying No. 1 Brigade. Private Green in his letter gives young Lester Fry full credit for bagging them. Our Canadian lads are certainly giving a good account of themselves in this great war.

Southampton

Rev. W. H. Sterne exchanged pulpits last Sunday with Rev. Jewitt of Allenford. Mr. H. Webb of town has been seriously ill in Toronto for the past week.

Mr. Manning, the new proprietor of the Commercial, was in Toronto for a few days over the week end.

Mr. C. M. Bowman, M.P.P., was home for a few hours last week, going to Durham for Sunday.

Dr. J. G. McLeod, of Kincardine, an old Southampton boy, has volunteered for active service in the war.

Dr. Veitch died at Port Elgin last week after an illness of about a year. He had been a resident of Port Elgin for some twenty years and had a wide circle of friends, and many friends in Southampton will regret to learn of his death at the early age of 53 years.

Death relieved the suffering of Master Jack Laughlin, third son of Mr. Robt. Laughlin, on Thursday last following an operation at the Guelph hospital, where he had been taken a few days before. He had suffered intensely for about a month from spinal trouble which chiefly affected the head, and finally an operation was decided upon as offering the only hope. Master Jack was a bright lad of ten years and was popular with his school mates, who turned out in large numbers to the funeral. The school children also sent a lovely wreath for the funeral. The funeral services were held at the residence, Albert St. last Sunday being conducted by the Rev. Jewitt of Allenford, who had exchanged pulpits with Rev. Mr. Sterne for that day. The services were attended by a great many friends of the family. Interment took place in Southampton cemetery.

Walkerton

Lacrosse seems destined to boom this year. Already we hear the coming sport around town talking of calling a meeting to organize a team and make preparations to enter the O.A.L.A.

While a Walkerton young lady was shopping in Toronto recently a thief relieved her of $12. When she got older she may have sense enough to keep away from Toronto thieves and do her shopping at home.

Mrs. Stephen Little, who lives with her brother, Mr. Alex. Rice, on the 8th con. Brant, slipped and fell on Monday while going up the wood-shed steps, and in putting her arm back to save herself, she slipped with great force on her hand, driving the bone of her arm through the capsule of the elbow joint, lacerating the ligaments and causing a bad internal hemorrhage. As a result she is nursing a most painful arm and is under the care of a Walkerton doctor.

Rev. John Kemp Garner, for sixty-seven years a Methodist preacher, died at the home of his son, Mr. E. W. Garner, here, on Sunday last, aged 91 years. 6 months and 10 days. The deceased, who was born in Yorkshire, England, was found at the age of 17 years working on the Doncaster circuit, and was announced as the boy preacher. After serving as a minister in the Old Country for a number of years, he came to Canada in 1848, and after a short pastorate in Hamilton, removed to Guelph where he did pioneer circuit work in thirteen of the surrounding townships. He travelled into Huron in the early days and did splendid ministerial work. His remains were interred in Hanover cemetery on Wednesday.

Cured Fifteen Years Ago of Piles and Eczema

By Using Dr. Chase's Ointment—Certifies That the Cure Was Permanent.

Some people have tried so many doctors and so many treatments in their search for cure for piles and eczema that they find it difficult to believe there is an actual cure. The strong point about Dr. Chase's Ointment is that it not only brings relief promptly, but brings about actual and lasting cure. In 1897 Mr. J. Kitcheson, 100 Durois Street, Peterborough, Ont., wrote as follows:—"I was troubled for thirty years with itching piles and eczema. I could not sleep at night, and when I got warm the itching was terrible. Eczema covered my legs down to the knees, perfectly raw. I have tried every preparation I could hear of. Seeing Dr. Chase's Ointment advertised, I procured a box and this Ointment effected a complete cure." On Sept. 28, 1912, Mr. Kitcheson was as follows:—"I received a letter from you to-day, saying that you found on file a statement made by me 15 years ago. I have always given Dr. Chase's Ointment a good name since it cured me, and shall tell you now. I can't say too much for it. "I had suffered for many years from eczema and piles, and had tried doctors and everything I could hear of in vain. Reading about Dr. Chase's Ointment, I purchased it at once, and was soon completely cured. That was fifteen years ago, so there can be no doubt of its being a permanent cure. I have met a great many people who have been cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment. Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

ABOUT 50,000 American tourists will invade Canada this season because European traffic has been suspended. It is to be hoped that a number will be induced to visit the shores of Lake Huron. Oliphant will extend them a welcome.

ITALY has decided to wait for a month or more before joining the allies. While Italy deserved the gratitude of the allies for breaking with the Triple Alliance, yet that nation now acts most peculiar indeed. The nation seems ready enough to fight, but wants to be well paid for it.

KING was a moral degenerate not long ago let out of an asylum in England. A few days ago a Bernardo boy, another degenerate, cut a young girl's throat with a razor. It would appear that as strict as our immigration laws are that they yet are not what they ought to be.

JUST why a provincial officer of the Children Aid Society should have occasion to visit Wiarton we do not know. There was one here last week and it is a fair supposition he was sent for. There is nothing in the town to be done that we cannot do ourselves and if the attention of the authorities here is called to any need it will be promptly attended to. It is far from wise to advertise the town abroad. There are one hundred opportunities for good work in Toronto for every one in Wiarton.

BEFORE King, the degenerate who murdered an innocent boy at Owen Sound made his confession he asked for cigarettes saying that if these were given him he would confess. Cigarettes have a good deal to answer for and they have assisted in making more than one moral degenerate. The youth who swallows the smoke fails to realize how they are undermining his health. The time will come when a vigorous heart alone will pull them through a critical illness, but there will not be the vigorous heart, it was lost years ago in cigarette smoking.

Well-Known Keppel
Farmer's Tragic End

William Newman, a well-known and highly respected Keppel farmer, living on the County line, just off the north gravel road, came to a tragic end on Saturday morning last by shooting himself. Deceased had been in ill health since last autumn from nervous trouble, and it is thought that while in a fit of despondency he took his own life. The family had noticed nothing unusual in his manner that morning, and were out doing the chores. Deceased asked for the shot gun, saying he wanted to shoot some sparrows. It is said he went out to the gangway of the barn, and, placing the butt of the gun on the sill and the muzzle in his mouth set off the trigger with the barrel. The charge practically blew the top of his head off, and death was instantaneous.

Deceased was well known in this district. To the family of the unfortunate man the deepest sympathy of their many friends is extended. No reason for the rash act can be given, other than that he brooded over his ill health and seemed to be of the opinion that he would not get better. The late Mr. Newman was a very hard worker, and no doubt overtaxed himself to keep his fine farm in good condition. He was in good circumstances financially and had one of the finest barns in this part of the Province.

It is understood that the coroner after going into the circumstances considered an inquest unnecessary.

William Newman was a son of the late Robert Newman, who died at Allenford during the past winter. He was born in the vicinity of Ferguson, and was in his forty-fourth year. His mother survives and resides at Allenford. Deceased lived on the old Newman homestead, County Line since his marriage to Miss Broadfoot, daughter of the late Thomas Broadfoot. Four sisters and six brothers survive. A family of tender years are left to mourn his loss namely, three sons Gordon, Howard and Ross, and two daughters Miss Lillian and Nettie.

WHEN BLOOD IS POISON

The blood must be filtered, otherwise you are poisoned. If the kidneys fail the liver is overworked and becomes tired. By using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills you get both these filtering organs working right and also ensure healthy action of the bowels. For this reason these pills are an ideal family medicine. They cure biliousness, constipation, indigestion and kidney disease.

BRIGHTEN UP

April is the great clean-up and brighten-up month of the year and there is nothing like Paint to do it, but you want good paint and when you get

S. W. P.

you have the best.

A SMART BOY, BRUSH, and CAN of
THE SHERWIN-WILLIAMS WAGON AND IMPLEMENT PAINT

will make the old farm wagon look new. There are six strong colors. Red, Green, Blue, Yellow, Wine, and Black, ready to apply. A green body with red gear looks well. You forgot the paint the last time you were in town; remember it this time.

SOLD BY

An honest, old fashioned varnish stain that gives a natural wood finish to chairs, tables, furniture, wood work—old or new. Does good work every time. Correctly imitates all the popular hard woods. No "bumbug", but a reliable product made by reliable manufacturers.

We should like to show you color cards

From Tobermory to Yarmouth N. S.

A. E. Argue, who for a year and nine months, had been the head of the wireless institution at Tobermory, received word last Thursday that he was wanted to take charge of the naval station at Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, and accompanied by Mrs. Argue and family passed through Warton Monday. It was a sudden call, but the naval department wanted a good man for this important station, and they knew that the man they wanted was in charge of the wireless, Tobermory, so they made their choice at once. And time it is that the man who is master of his job, head and shoulders above others, will be promoted, for there is always room at the top. Mr. Argue proceeded at once to Ottawa for instructions, while Mrs. Argue will remain a short time in Montreal before going East. The wireless at the Pub will be in charge of Messrs. Rennie and Lighthouse, and Capt. Clark with his detachment will protect it from all harm.

French Farmers Work Away While Guns Boom

Richard Ottewell Writes an Interesting Letter to His Parents of Life in France

19th Alberta Dragoon, Divisional Cavalry, 1st Canadian Cont., Br. Expeditionary Force, Feb. 21st 1915.

Dear Father— A few minutes in a French restaurant waiting for lunch so how bottom can I spend the time then by writing home.

It is not many days since I wrote you last, have received a letter from you since I have been in France, the mail service is wonderfully good since you consider the distracted state of affairs that are brought about by war, it takes about one month to get a letter from Edmonton, about six days to get mail from London. I have had about twenty letters since I have been in France from different parts of the world, it is impossible for me to answer them all now as we have absolutely no opportunity to write at the present time.

You would be surprised to note the coolness of the people in this section of the country when you think of the millions of German soldiers just a few miles away, the heavy guns booming continuously you can hear them at any hour of the day.

The German cavalry swept this part of the country last October. A heavy battle was fought near the farm we leave our horses at, a quick firing gun was stationed at an old wind mill not more than two hundred yards from the barn where we have our horses, the Br. Cavalry repulsed the German Cavalry at this point. The German Cavalry must have left in a hurry as you can see their helmets at almost any farm house lanes and rifles, so they did not have any time to waste when they were getting away.

The French peasant soldiers from their conversation are afraid of the Germans and they speak at the mention of the task of driving the Germans back to Berlin, there is not a question that the armies of the German Emperor would have been in Paris in three weeks time had it not been for the prompt action of the Belgians and the measures adopted by the Br. Government. I do not think a great deal of the French soldier so far as I am able to judge, the people too charge the foreign soldiers an onerous price even in the zone of fighting, you would think they would be satisfied with the increased trade, but the

The people are very religious in appearance, there are crosses and crucifixes at intervals along the road, at entrances to fields and everywhere.

I often think of things at home, those happenings of early years are the greenest things of a mans life, you permit the present every day occurrences to pass without any particular heed but some thing hold always.

This long letter I have written it under poor circumstances, a lot of noisy people around me.

I send my love to you all, remember me during the dark days that the troops live in at present.

Your affectionate son, Richard.

money hunter in any country is a human parasite, he is more ungrateful than any animal, you find it among all peoples.

All letters are censored but I think that mail going to Canada is not marked very strict as it is so long before the contents are made known to any one that it really does not matter.

The thing I noticed about this country is the wonderfully fine draft horses that the people have, far superior to any I have seen anywhere in my life, one horse draws a thirteen inch plow, each animal weighing about a ton, they are clean looking and have a round bone.

The buildings are older than those in England and are built smoother, The French are more artistic than the English.

The Town Council

The Council Monday night accepted the resignations of the five brigade and appointed Mr. W. Gilpin chief. It is understood that he has practically all his brigade chosen. It must not be supposed that the old brigade went on strike. The council simply wanted to give a lump sum of $350 per year towards the brigade instead of payment by the hour, the brigade declined and tendered their resignation if necessary, and it has been accepted.

Mr. Mayr Tyson appeared before the Council complaining about what The Echo had said last week about the representative of the Childrens Aid Society being in town. He further insinuated that the Council, or members of it, had inspired the article. He was called quickly to order by councillor Baines, who told him that The Echo was at liberty to publish what it pleased, and he could argue with his quarrels as the Council had nothing to do with it. Mayor Cameron took the same position and plainly told him that the Council had nothing to do with the article in question. However this incident with the application of Mr. J. Miller Fairlie for a share of the town printing, which had been awarded The Echo two months ago, was an exhibition of the Council of 1914, from which we are fortunate in being free. Mr. Fairlie's application was not considered one moment.

The Clerks application for an increase in salary of $150 was considered in committee of the whole, the clerk having retired. It was found that the present salary, with extras, amounts to $100 per year. There were many complimentary things said about the clerks efficiency as an official, but it was felt that this is not the year to increase salaries. However the council agreed to pay his guaranteed bond as treasurer which amounts to $20.

MILLER LAKE

Miss Effie Hawke, who has been spending the winter in Warton returned home Monday.

Master Wm. Rouse and Wilda Baskler, both who have been very sick with pneumonia, are getting better under the care of Dr. Hacking.

Donald Each is still on the sick list.

Jim Pike and wife took a business trip to Lions Head last Friday.

About two weeks ago Elgin Holmes got his foot tramped on by a horse and it has now developed into a serious case of blood poisoning. His father took him to Lions Head Wednesday so as to be near Dr. Hacking. We hope to hear that he will soon be well again.

Henry Each was over to Lions Head for a load of furniture that he bought from Bruin Bros. Henry intends to move on the farm he bought from John Rouse.

Miss Mattie McKay a former school teacher came up Friday to spend the Easter holiday with friends here.

J. R. Laidlaw left Thursday to spend the holidays at his home in Falsley.

Mr. Mac Melver of Stokes Bay, was a caller at Mr. Martins Sunday.

John Noble and wife, D. Martin and wife, and Michael Saddler were down to Stokes Bay Sunday afternoon to attend the special meetings and report them good.

John Noble and Mr. Saddler went up to Tobermory on Monday to consult Mr. Gillies in reference to the telephone line.

Jim Ward jr., moved to a farm about one mile south of Brinkman Corner. We wish him success in his new home.

Robt. Bailly and Miss L. Hildrich of Dyers Bay, attended the Friday night prayer meeting here.

Jas. Little, who has been sick for two or three weeks, is getting better.

Mrs. Peter Brough of Spry, came up here on Saturday and the rest of the family intend moving up soon. Well there are worse places than Miller Lake to live in.

So far the early spring weather is disappointing but we hope to soon have better weather.

News of the Churches.

ST. PAULS

St. Pauls Presbyterian Church, Sunday April 11th the minister will preach in the morning and R. A. H. Hazard in the evening. Morning subject: "The Office of Elders." Messrs. John McCaul, J. R. Hamilton and Arthur Watt will be ordained to this office. Evening: Rev. H. A. Hazard presenting Bible Society. Good music. Strangers welcome.

BAPTIST

The Baptist Young Peoples Union in connection with the Baptist church held a social evening on Mar. 30th. The Pastor who occupied the chair appreciatively welcomed the members and friends. He expressed his appreciation of the tasteful manner in which the school room was decorated for the occasion. Solos, Duets and Recitation were rendered during the evening. Four brief papers were read at intervals bearing upon the work of the B. Y. P. U.

Next Sunday the Pastor Rev. J. A. Bradford will preach morning and evening. The subject for the evening service will be "A Great Baptismal Ceremony."

METHODIST CHURCH, LIONS HEAD

A chicken supper and social was held in the Town Hall on Thursday April 1. An interesting programme was provided including instrumental music by Messrs. Nicholas Weaver and Webster. A sword exercise by Mr. Ransbury, and a debate on "Resolved that commerce has accomplished more for civilization than War." The affirmative was argued by Rev. J. T. Suplem, F. G. Moore, and T. J. Bridge, and the negative by S. C. Cooper, W. B. Mowbray and S. T. Warren. The judges were L. E. Bruin, Edward Paterson and Nathan London. The decision was given in form of the affirmative. The gross receipts to date are $50.27, and the balance after expenses are paid is to be applied on a trust debt on the church. It was an enjoyable evening and the ladies are grateful to all who helped in any way to make it a success.

Fine weather brought out good congregations on Sunday and the Pastor's message was on "The Resurrection, its paramount importance and its ethical significance."

TRINITY ANGLICAN CHURCH

The annual vestry meeting of Trinity Church was held Tuesday evening. The Rev. Mr. McMasters gave a most interesting and gratifying report of the work of the church. The different societies, namely the Willing Workers, the A. Y. P. U., the Sunday School and Shed Committee gave very encouraging reports. The shed committee reported that the sheds are handed over to the church free of all encumbrance and a small balance to the good.

The Willing Workers presented a very attractive report and their work was most satisfactory. The Church Wardens presented one of the most encouraging reports for many years.

The vestry elected as auditors Messrs. Dobson and Weller, and elected as clerk Mr. J. E. J. Asten. Heartly votes of thanks were extended to the Church Wardens, the officers and teachers of the Sunday School, the A. Y. P. U., the Willing Workers. The meeting then adjourned until next Tuesday evening to receive the audited report of the Church Wardens and to elect their successors for the ensuing year. The congregational meeting was held afterwards and Mr. Asten was elected lay delegate and Dr. S. E. Foster was elected substitute.

KNOX CHURCH SHALLOW LAKE

On Sunday night the pews of Knox Church were almost overtaxed. The church weather was all that could be desired and many people found their way to the service. The choir consisted of sixteen male voices who did honor to the service and to themselves. Mr. Johnston delivered a sermon to young men and chose for his text Lk. 7:14— "Young man I say unto thee arise." The church was beautifully decorated with flowers. The whole service was inspiring and one that shall not soon be forgotten.

TAKEN OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Dandruff right now—also stops itching scalp.

This, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is little evidence of a neglected scalp. It is nothing so destructive to hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Dandruff tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Dandruff from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Dandruff—now—any time—will surely save your hair! Try it!

NEW TONE IS GLOOMY

German Writer Talks Now of Protecting Homes.

Paul Michaelis, in Berliner Tageblatt, Refers to the Spirit of Modesty Now Prevailing in Germany—Struggle Is One of Defence of National Unity and Freedom—Winter of Discontent.

LONDON, April 6.—The Daily News has the following from Rotterdam:

Paul Michaelis in the weekly review of the war in The Berliner Tageblatt is evidently in an exceedingly gloomy mood regarding the present position of the German armies, and speaks of the spirit of modesty that now reigns in Germany. "Today he said: 'We only see how tremendously difficult it is made for us to preserve our national unity and freedom. Many dreamed too easily of victory over our enemies. The people thought to gather in the harvest when really the real preparations for the final result still had to be created. In the meantime we have become more modest, and it becomes clear to us that even with the greatest self-sacrifice we will only be able to conquer the opposition of a world of enemies. Everybody already has long abandoned expectation that between to-day and to-morrow the world could be healed by the German spirit. We have had to be reminded unwillingly and by hard facts that in this war it is not a question of putting through a fantastic world-wide revolution of protecting our home and home.'"

"The war was not begun to lay a new yoke upon the world. It certainly was not to be carried on for the self-preservation of the German empire. It would be idle to try and see the details of what the final peace will be, but in any case our object must be the making certain of our national existence for the longest time possible."

After referring to the course of the submarine war, the writer continues: "We are confident that this winter of discontent will be followed by a glorious summer."

LOUIS NELSON DESTROYED?

Berlin Report Declares British Battleship Is Ruined.

BERLIN, April 6.—(By wireless to Sayville.)—A report received in Berlin from Athens says the British battleship Lord Nelson, stranded inside the Dardanelles Straits, has been destroyed by the fire of the Turkish guns on shore. This information was given out yesterday by the Overseas News Agency.

A despatch from Constantinople says the following statement has been issued by the Turkish War Office:

"Our fleet yesterday sank two Russian ships, the Provident of 2,000 tons and the Vastochaja of 1,500 tons at Odessa."

"Our batteries of Kum Kale sank an enemy mine sweeper which attempted to approach the entrance to the Dardanelles."

The Lord Nelson was built in 1905. She had a tonnage of 16,500, was 425 feet long, 65 feet wide and 10 feet deep. She carried 855 men. She and the Agamemnon, sister ships, have both been engaged at the Dardanelles. The two are of a type dissimilar to any other British ships, and rather resemble French vessels.

BAVARIANS CUT UP.

German Survivors Say French Gun Fire at Epargues Was Horrible.

PARIS, April 6.—Combat at the Epargues, in the Department of Meuse, on March 18, 19 and 20 were no less brilliant and successful than the preceding engagements, according to the French official eye-witness, in a report giving further details of the battle on this part of the front.

"The most recent success," says the report, "was due to the intense artillery preparation, the very prompt assault and violent hand-to-hand fighting. In the trenches captured from the enemy, in which our heavy artillery fire caused great casualties, we found bodies cut up and half-buried in earth."

"Survivors who were captured declare that the French artillery fire was horrible. Others say that the Eighth Bavarian Regiment was decimated, having lost two thousand men and sixteen officers during February. One battalion was reduced to 87 men."

Aircraft Did Heavy Damage.

PARIS, April 5.—The French War Office yesterday gave out the following:

"The military authorities have received precise information concerning the result of the bombardment carried out by British aircraft in Belgium on March 25th. The Oblique battery at Berghem-St. Agathe was damaged as was the dirigible airship sheltered therein. At Hoboken the enemy navy construction shipyard was gutted, two German submarines were destroyed and a third damaged, while four German workmen were killed and 25 wounded."

GAINS AT FOUR POINTS

Russians Making Great Headway in the Carpathians.

Austrians Seem Incapable of Opposing a Successful Resistance to the Moscow Advance—Victories for Russians Are Reported at Csan, Barföld, on the Duck Line and at Bukovina.

LONDON, April 6.—In the fighting on their southern fronts the Russians scored important successes at no less than four points, the War Office announced last night, and the unfortunate Austrians seem incapable of putting up a successful resistance anywhere to the triumphal progress of the Russian army. Engines, coaches, an immense supply of ammunition, and part of a provision train were captured by the Russians through the occupation of the railway station at Csan, on the Galician side of the Carpathians, about fifteen miles east of Lupkow. This loss is a heavy blow to the Germans and Austrians.

The second success by the Russians was gained in the region north of Barföld, a point on which the Russians are converging, slowly but surely. Here the fighting was marked by fierce exchanges of artillery salvoes and heavy bayonet charges, and as a result 25 Austrian officers, and over 1,200 soldiers were captured with two machine guns.

The Russians in the third place made progress on the front from Mezolaboros and Czak, carrying everything before them and taking prisoner 25 officers and over 2,000 soldiers. Three guns also fell into Russian hands.

The fourth scene of Russian success was in Bukovina. Desperate fighting took place near Oksa Village, north of Czernowit, and the Austrians were forced to retreat, leaving behind over 1,000 men, who were made prisoners.

West of the Niemen river continued progress is being recorded against the Germans. Even the Austrian official report admits that fighting is now taking place in the Lubawa Valley, which is south of Lupkow Pass, while the Russian last night announced the capture of Csan, an important station on the high mountains between Lupkow and Csan Pass, where they captured a great stock of war munitions and provisions.

CANNOT ADMIT RIGHT.

U. S. Publishes Note Protesting Against Allied Blockade.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The United States Government yesterday made public its note to Great Britain, announcing that "it could not admit either the right of the allies or their claims for justification in placing an embargo on all commercial intercourse between Germany and neutral countries."

"To admit it," says the communication, "would be to assume the attitude of uncertainty toward the present enemies of Great Britain, which would be obviously inconsistent with the solemn obligations of the United States in the present circumstances, and for Great Britain to make such a claim would be for her to abandon and to set at naught the principles for which she has consistently and earnestly contended in other times and circumstances."

An ambassador at Paris was instructed to present a copy of the American note to Great Britain to the French Foreign Office, with the statement that although the French Amiralty decree has not been officially received in Washington, it was understood here to be identical with the British order-in-council.

PLEADED TO ABSTINENCE.

King's Households Go Teetotal; Cabinet Ministers Follow.

LONDON, April 6.—Teetotalism will be enforced in all the King's households, beginning Wednesday. An official announcement just issued, dated to-day says:

"By the King's command, no wine or spirits will be consumed in any of his Majesty's houses after to-day."

The Chronicle says: "We are enabled to state that the members of the Government have decided to follow the King's example and banish alcoholic beverages from their tables. Mr. Lloyd George has the heartiest support of his colleagues in the course he has taken with reference to the necessity of limiting the consumption of alcohol. His mail bag during the last two days contained 70,000 letters, none of them with many signed, pleading their writers to abstain from alcohol during the war."

Troops Mowing on Border.

CHIASO, Switzerland, April 6.—The assembling of Italian troops on the Austrian frontier is continuing with the greatest activity. All houses of the Austrian borderers on the confines affected have been occupied by soldiers.

This information reaches Chiaso from Italian sources. It is learned from the same sources that still more important military activity is under way, information on this point is refused transmission by the Italian censor.

Allies of Germany Want Peace.

ROME, April 6.—In spite of various official denials from some of the belligerent nations that preliminary steps have been taken to conclude peace negotiations, Austria and Turkey without consulting Germany, the report that David Pasha, Turkish Minister of Finance, who is now in Switzerland, has a mission of peace, has produced here.

PINCHOT EXPELLED.

Germania Refuses U. S. Investigators Entrance to Their Lines.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Gifford Pinchot has been expelled by the German military authorities from the territory of Belgium, which is in control of Germany.

The War Department has been advised of the fact, but Secretary Bryan says no protest will be made and that Mr. Pinchot will be given other work.

About ten days ago the State Department announced that Mr. Pinchot was to go to Belgium and look into the conditions of prisoners within the German lines. Nothing more has been heard of him until yesterday, when Mr. Van Dyke, the American Minister at The Hague, called that Mr. Pinchot had been asked to leave. The German excuse is that Pinchot is related to a former British diplomat.

It is not known here whether the Germans assigned true reasons for their request, or whether they are unwilling to have the condition of the prisoners investigated.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

A private cable from Warsaw announces the death there of Isaac Glez, greatest Jewish poet of modern times, aged 62 years.

Gen. A. G. D'Amato, commander of the French expeditionary force at the Dardanelles, has lost his youngest son, aged 18, who was a second lieutenant of infantry.

Otto Zinn, a New York restaurant keeper, and two of his employees, a waiter and a cook, were arrested yesterday in the cellar of Zinn's restaurant, supposedly by burglars.

An Anglo-Belgian force attacked German troops eight miles north of Abercorn, Rhodesia, on March 17, driving the enemy across the border into German East Africa after a sharp fight.

Five more Prussian casualty lists containing the names of 31,715 privates and officers were issued yesterday. This brings the total Prussian casualties to date up to 1,123,981.

Word was received by Cornwall friends yesterday of the death yesterday morning at St. Petersburg, Florida, of W. J. McDonald, aged 55, a prominent business man, whose home was for many years in Montreal, Ont.

The 13-year-old son of Mr. D. A. Wheeler, a farmer of Glen Ross, Sidney Township, near Belleville, died yesterday as the result of injuries sustained when he fell from a tree when it viciously knocked him down and tramped upon him until life was nearly extinct.

ZEPPELINS CAN DO BETTER.

The Count Is Not Pleased With Handling of His Machines.

Romanshorn, Switzerland, April 6.—Count Zeppelin is not satisfied with the way his airships are being handled. He called together one day last week his engineers and the captains of the dirigibles now at the Zeppelin works at Friedrichshafen, and criticized them on several scores.

The count said that the full power of Zeppelin's had not been employed, and that longer raids than any made heretofore were possible. He also said there was too much of a disposition to await favorable weather conditions, instead of responding without delay to military requirements.

He believed that an attack upon London and the lower Thames had been delayed unnecessarily. The count also is understood to have criticized his captains for retreating from hostile aircraft.

German Prisoners Kept.

LONDON, April 6.—The German officers captured Sunday night from the concentration camp for prisoners at Denbigh, Wales, they are Lieut. von Stauden, Lieut. M. Ambloy. The latter is one of the aviators rescued from the North Sea.

The two men answered roll call at eight o'clock Sunday night, but yesterday morning they were found to be missing.

Michigan Cuts Off 805 Bars.

DETROIT, April 6.—Returns received up to midnight last night indicated a sweeping victory for the "dry" in the local option contest. The Michigan State Board of Temperance yesterday also showed large majorities for the liquor restriction.

The liquor result will mean the closing of 805 saloons.

GREAT ADVANCE BEGINS

Forward Movement Believed to Be Now Under Way.

French Are Pressing Eastward in the Champagne District and Great Activity Is Shown All Along the Line, Where Steady Pressure Is Being Maintained—Germans in Belgium Very Busy.

LONDON, April 6.—The Morning Post has the following from Champagne, France: The French advance in the Marais district and the Camp de Chalons, which is one of the great training grounds for the French army, has altered and is daily continuing to alter the entire aspect of affairs in the Champagne, while in other parts of the line we have been content to keep pounding at the Germans and wearing down their effectiveness in men and material, snatching from time to time local success as occasion may offer.

Here it really seems the forward movement has begun with promises that it will be continuous. We have now gained the edge of the plateau to a great plain of barren land rolling gently into the low hills and sprinkled freely with plantations of scrubby trees. Nature itself has been costly business, and the fighting, which continues unceasingly, is still driven back long trains of wounded to the bases, but the Germans have lost still more heavily. They have some of their finest troops here, including detachments of the Prussian Guard, whole regiments of which have been cut up.

So terrible has been the effect of the concentrated artillery fire, and so frightful from the German standpoint the French bayonet work at close quarters, that many of the prisoners who have been so fortunate as to be taken are insane. It is no mean force that the French have driven back here, for with recent reinforcements that have been rushed up to the danger point, full seven army corps are calculated to be in the district. In several instances, so desperate has been the defence offered by the German infantry that they have actually been built parapets of their dead behind which they have disputed every inch of the French advance. Now that they have been driven from what was termed their prepared positions, the Germans are adapting themselves to the new conditions of the battle.

These might well have proved formidable obstacles—but there is the 76th. In the preliminary fighting towards the plateau at the commencement of the second phase in the Champagne operations the famous French field gun is doing some of its most spectacular work. It is mowing down brittle pine trees in swaths.

The correspondent of The Daily Express telegraphs from the Belgian frontier:

Aerial raids on German aerodromes and submarine depots, a lively bombardment of the German coast defences from the sea, and renewed attacks and counter-attacks on several points of the German front. The sector are the principal features of the first Easter in Belgium under German rule.

Thousands of German soldiers passed the day in crowded troop trains travelling across Flanders, as a part of the widespread redistribution of forces between the eastern and western fronts, which has caused so much speculation during the last week. Some of the trains halted at Liege on the way from Cologne on Saturday were so packed that the soldiers sat on the roofs of the cars.

The following statement was issued last night:

"This has been a day of rain and fog along the whole front. At Liege on the night of April 5, southeast of St. Mihiel, we carried three successive lines of trenches. We also gained a foothold in part of the enemy's organisation northeast of Replerville."

CANADIAN CASUALTIES.

OTTAWA, April 6.—The casualties among the Canadian Expeditionary Force issued this morning by the Military Department are as follows:

First Battalion—Died of wounds, Pte. Eric Bain. Fourteenth Battalion—Severely wounded, Sergt. Wm. W. C. Smith. Divisional Engineers—Died of wounds, Sapper William Shaw. Divisional Cavalry—Died of wounds, Lieut. Raymond Ralph Thew. Third Field Artillery Brigade—Death, Gunner George West.

Will Expect Damages.

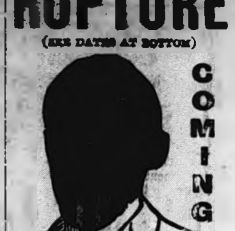

LONDON, April 6.—It may be stated on good authority that the American note is an inquiry rather than a protest. It seeks further information in regard to the attitude of Great Britain and makes clear under what conditions the United States expects damages for interference with shipping.

Although entirely friendly in tone the note definitely outlines the American conception of a legal blockade, departure from which it is contended, would entitle neutral shippers to reimbursement for losses.

Effect of Shells Told.

PARIS, April 6.—The army bulletin yesterday made the first official reference to the new projectiles which have been talked about mysteriously for months. The bulletin says that, while the shells are in the air, they cannot be tracked, it must be stated that the new explosive recently put into use doubles the explosive effect of the shells of the three-inch guns.

LACROSSE bids fair to be rather popular this summer.

PORT ELGIN will get a government grant of $10,500 towards repairs to the breakwater.

THE defunct Paisley woolen mills may start again—Warton has one and a resurrection would be good news.

THE brick plant of Seamon & Sons, Sauble Falls, appears to have orders on hand for the Spring and it is to be hoped that this is proof of a busy year.

A firm not fifteen miles away is advertising a mile away at $1.75 per gallon while this seems sky high for a market price yet it reminds us of the days we could buy it for 75 cents, and we had the $ for ourselves.

JOHN JOYNT, Lucknow, who defeated Anderson for the reversion will be the big "Joyn" of that village. However the Lucknow Sentinel says that the people thought that Anderson had his share of honors and that they should be passed around.

A farmer in Essex recently sold a bush of 18 acres at $3.00 per bush which amounted to $1,360 his five acres of tobacco also brought him $220 per acre or $1,100, so $2,460 from 23 acres prove that farming pays, and in this year of disheartening results in business it is enough to turn many back to the soil.

Just when the war will end is most uncertain. The British war office expects that it will last until the Spring of 1916. Jim Hill says it will come to an end by October of this year, and General Ioffe says that it will end very soon. So it would appear that those who should know something about it have a widely different opinion.

ON account of a number of army contract scandals the Austrian military authorities have issued a notice warning contractors that a fraud will be punished with imprisonment from ten to twenty years and in certain cases with hanging. This would be good law in Canada. While there is a large expenditure of government money there will always be looting, but graft and patriotism are enemies and the time has come to stamp out the former.

SPRING REMINDERS OF RHEUMATISM

Raw, Damp Weather Starts the Pain, But the Trouble Lies in the Blood

Spring weather is bad for rheumatic sufferers. The changes from mild to cold, the raw, damp wind start the aches and twinges or in the more extreme cases the tortures of the trouble grip. But it must be borne in mind that it is not the weather that causes rheumatism; the trouble is caused in the blood; the changeable weather merely starts the pains. The only way to reach the trouble and to cure it is through the blood. The poisonous rheumatic acids must be driven out. Liniments and rubbing may give temporary relief but cannot possibly cure the trouble. The sufferer is only wasting time and money with kind of treatment and all the time the trouble is becoming more deeply rooted—harder to cure. There is just one speedy cure for rheumatism—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They act directly on the impure blood—cleanse it. They purify and strengthen it and thus root out the cause of the rheumatism. Here is strong proof of the above statements. Mr. J. Bentley, Sydney, N.S., says: "I was so badly crippled with rheumatism in my legs and knees that I could hardly go about. I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which I took steadily for a couple months, by which time all traces of the trouble disappeared. I can now freely recommend the Pills to all rheumatic sufferers, sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

The Warton Produce Co., have opened a store in the McLaren block and will be ready Saturday April 3rd, to take in butter and eggs for which they will pay the highest cash price. The produce they are buying is supplied directly to the customers in the city, and must be fresh and for fresh eggs and butter etc, they will pay cash. The Warton Produce Co. are simply buyers, they have nothing to sell, and ask the farmers to bring their produce to them.

It is not remarkable how some tea merchants reduce the quality of their tea in sympathy with the rising market. Admittedly the auction prices at tea on the London Calcutta and Colombo markets have risen to an extraordinary level and there seems little respite ahead. Nevertheless, we will continue to supply the public with the same high standard of quality that they have learned to rely upon in Salada packets. Salada has always been kept "up to a standard" and never "down to a price" and will never depart from this principle which has earned us such appreciation. If market prices make it impossible to supply Salada at present prices then the cost to the retailer and consumer must go up. The Salada Tea Co. in the "Canadian Grocer."

A WORD OF GRATITUDE

"In justice to humanity I want to tell you that I was a great sufferer from such piles and have found Dr. Chase's Ointment the best treatment obtainable." writes Mr. Fred Hinz, Brodhead, Ont. "It gives instant relief and I can recommend it to any sufferer of the dreadful disease."

At Hymen's Altar

HARRIS-McINNIS

On Wednesday Mar. 31st a very happy and interesting event transpired in the village of Shallow Lake when Isabelle McInnis and William Harris were united in the happy bonds of matrimony. The house of the bride was decorated in a most artistic manner. The old time candlesticks were used, being adorned with pretty crimson shades which gave an appearance of ease and composure to the whole scene. At the front of high some the strains of the wedding march, played by the skilled hands of Miss V. Melonia, floated through the house and soon the words were pronounced which made them man and wife. Under the unique arch of evergreen congratulations were poured out upon the happy couple. While the lighter was being signed a beautiful duet entitled "Garden Blossoms" was played by Misses Viola McInnis and Lella Boyd. The tables were decorated with beautiful flowers and abundance of good things to eat. After dinner the bride and groom took the 2:23 train for an extended tour. The guests were Mrs. M. E. Thos. Joynt, Shallow Lake; Miss White, Mrs. Louis McInnis, Miss Lella Boyd, and Mr. J. R. Boyd, Owen Sound; Miss Mary Ireson, Buries Joynt, All Boyd and Matt Boyd, Shallow Lake. The members of the family were Mrs. Hilda McInnis, Thomsford; Miss Viola McInnis, Shallow Lake; Miss Joynt Melonia, of Owen Sound, Collegiate Inst.; Messrs. Jno. and Jim Melonia, of Shallow Lake. The bride was given away by her brother Mr. J. R. Boyd while the ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. Johnston, of Shallow Lake. The very best wishes of the community go with Mr. and Mrs. Harris. Mrs. Harris has been a resident of Shallow Lake for so many years that it will not seem like Shallow Lake without her. May she long enjoy her new home in London.

$15

This Ad. is for the Fifteen Dollar Suit Man

If fifteen dollars is your price for a spring Suit, sir, then it is intended for you.

We choose to push forward our greatest value-giving effort at $15.00, because it's such a good average figure—the price that hundreds pay.

We'll show you a diversity of color and pattern assortments, a quality of fabrics and a freshness of fashionable models at $15.00 that are simply out of the question at most stores at this price—and best of all—they are well tailored and shape retaining.

THEN AGAIN!

The man who is wearing one of our Fifteen Dollar Suits isn't subject to the unpleasant reflections that he might have gotten more for his money elsewhere—for that's impossible.

Your Pocket or the Middlemen's?

Between what you pay the dealer and what you get in fence, there's at least 50 per cent "selling expense." Which can't add one cent to value—but does add several cents per roll to cost. You put that several cents PER ROD in the "middlemen's" pocket, when you buy fence through the dealer. You put that saving in YOUR OWN POCKET when you buy

PAGE FENCE--DIRECT--Freight Paid

Because you buy direct from factory to farm. You pay us only a single small profit over and above the actual cost. You save the 50 per cent "selling expense," in the shape of HIGHEST QUALITY FENCE.

When you're offered "other" fences at PAGE prices—bear this fact in mind. YOU MUST PAY THE "SELLING-EXPENSE." So that fence, sold through the dealer at PAGE prices or less—must be of lower quality, to make up the "selling expense."

WHITE MAN IS CHAMPION.

John Willard's Victory Over Jack Johnson Complete and Final.

HAWANA, April 6.—Jack Johnson, exiled from his own country, yesterday lost his title as champion of the heavyweight championship of the world, the title being wrested from him by John Willard, the Kansas cowboy, the "white man" who entered the prize ring, and a "white hope" who at last has made good. To-morrow Johnson, his wife, and a little group of friends, will sail for Martinique, there to await passage back to France, where Johnson proposes to set down his head. He is of a farmer, raising pigs and chickens. There is no doubt that he is a white man, and he is a white man.

Willard, who is being acclaimed as the new champion, is going back to the United States to win the fortune which was sealed.

When Johnson got $30,000 before the fight started, Willard taking only a small share of the net receipts. Just what his share was is not known. Yesterday's fight probably has no parallel in the history of prize fighting. For twenty rounds Johnson punched and punched at Willard at will, but his blows were perceptibly less powerful as the fight progressed, until at last he seemed unable or unwilling to go on.

After twenty rounds Johnson stopped leading, and for three or four rounds the battle between the two big men was little more than a series of plastic poses of white and black gladiators. So it was until the 25th round, when Willard got one of his wildly-swinging, windmill, right-hand punches in Johnson's head. This was the beginning of the end.

When the round closed Johnson went to his wife that he was all in, and told her to start for home. She was on the way out and passing the ring in the 26th round when a stinging left jab to the body and a cyclonic right to the jaw caused Johnson to crumple on the floor of the ring, where he lay partly outside the ropes until the referee counted ten and held up Willard's hand in token of his newly-won laurels.

TO PREVENT CORRUPTION.

Hon. Mr. Doherty's Elections Bill Discussed in Committee.

OTTAWA, April 6.—The House yesterday passed a number of Government bills of minor importance and debated at considerable length in committee of the whole Mr. Doherty's bill to amend the Electoral Act.

The bill is designed to expedite the trial of election protests by cutting off preliminary objections to the return of a candidate, the Minister of Justice yesterday introduced a bill permitting provincial elections trials to be referred to the Supreme Court of Canada.

The legislation will apply to the cases arising out of the recent provincial elections in Manitoba.

The principal discussion yesterday was upon an amendment proposed by Hon. Wm. Pughley. It provided that in the trial of Manitoba election cases, the court might not only deprive the successful candidate of his seat if corrupt practices were proved, but award the seat to the candidate receiving the next highest number of votes, provided the latter were able to prove that neither he nor his agents had been guilty of any corruption.

There is no encouragement, he said, for a man to be scrupulously clean in election methods. If he was beaten by a corrupt man and spent thousands of dollars in proving that fact, he got nothing to return and the candidate corruptly elected was re-elected by a majority of votes.

Sir Robert Borden objected that such a provision would work great injustice to a candidate who had been elected by a majority of votes and would be compelled to accept John Jones as member of Parliament. The amendment was voted down and the bill itself was left in committee.

NO SEPARATE PEACE.

Hungary Will Stay With Allies, Says Count Andrássy.

VIENNA, April 6.—"If our enemies set great hope that the internal discussion of Hungary will bring about a separate peace, their disappointment will be equally great," Count Julius Andrássy, former Premier of Hungary said yesterday, in reference to rumors that the Hungarian opposition desired to conclude peace.

Occasionally every one desires peace," he continued, "but only a peace calculated to end these evils we are fighting. The political differences now existing in Hungary probably will exist in the future, but there are no differences on the point that this war affects the foundations of the state and we must win it."

Heavy Indemnity Demanded.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The note of the United States to the German Government, demanding indemnity for the sinking of the American ship William F. Frye, by the German raider or Prins Eitel Friedrich, given at the State Department yesterday, asks an indemnity of $25,000,000. The State Department's note to Ambassador Gerard at Berlin, also directs Gerard to request that full reparation be made by the German Government for the destruction of the William F. Frye by the German cruiser Prins Eitel Friedrich.

Netherlands' Warning.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The Netherlands Government has notified the United States that any vessel sailing under the Dutch flag or using other means to make a provision of neutrality will be considered as having been ordered to depart from or pass through waters under the jurisdiction of the Netherlands.

ADDRESS

To Mr. and Mrs. Michael Dealy

Dear friends—It is with deep feelings that we have met with you in your old home to-night. When we think of the part you have taken in our Church, in our prayer meeting and in every meeting and department of our whole community life, then, only, do we begin to comprehend our loss to it. It is not with any selfish feeling of this loss that we have met here but rather to spend one more happy evening with you, and to give you some tangible token of our appreciation for the unceasing efforts you have put forth in our behalf. In token of our esteem we ask you to accept these gifts in the spirit of love which prompted them. We can find neither words nor thoughts to express our deeper feelings but we know that you will understand and value them.

It is with the feeling of dutifully done that you can retire to spend the evening of your life in the sunshine of God's love, and with the honor and respect of your fellowman.

May the richest blessing of the Most High be with you and yours from this time forth forever in the prayer and wish of your old friends and neighbors.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbors.

IF BELIOUS OR COSTIVE

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—They work while you sleep.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Salivary Glands and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to taking a 10-cent Cascarets, food cases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fever, everything that is horrible and disgusting. A Cascarets to-night will restore your bowels to a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—10-cent Cascarets from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

HIS HEALTH IN A TERRIBLE STATE

"Fruit-a-tives" Healed His Kidneys and Cured Him

HACHESVILLE, ONT., AUG. 26, 1913. "About two years ago, I found my health in a very bad state. My kidneys were not doing their work and I was all run down in condition. I felt the need of some good remedy, and having seen 'Fruit-a-tives' advertised, I decided to try them. Their effect, I found more than satisfactory.

Their action was mild and the result all that could be expected.

My kidneys resumed their normal action after I had taken upwards of a dozen boxes, and I regained my old-time vitality. Today, I am enjoying the best health I have ever had."

WAITSTILL BAXTER

CHAPTER XXIX.

The Deacon's Waterloo.

MRS. WAITSTILL'S welcome to Waitstill was unexpectedly hearty, much heartier than it would have been six months before, when she regarded Mrs. Boynton as little less than a dangerous intruder, of no use as a neighbor, and when she knew nothing more of Ivory than she could gather by his occasional drive or walk past her door with a civil greeting.

Ivory made himself quickly at home and helped the old lady to get a room ready for Waitstill before he drove back for a look at his mother and then on to carry out his impetuous and romantic scheme of routing out the town clerk and announcing his intended marriage.

Waitstill slept like the shepherd boy in "The Pilgrim's Progress," with the "herb called leech's ease" in her bosom. She opened her eyes next morning from the depths of Mrs. Mason's best feather bed, and looked wonderingly about the room, with all its unaccustomed surroundings. She heard the rattle of fire irons and the clatter of dishes below, the first thing in her woman's life that preparations for breakfast had ever greeted her ears when she had not been an active participant in them.

She lay quite still for a quarter of an hour, tired in body and mind, but incredibly happy in spirit, musing at the changes wrought in her during the day preceding, the most eventful one in her history.

The image of Ivory had been all through the night in the foreground of her dreams and in her moments of wakefulness, both made blissful by the heaven of anticipation that dawned upon her. Was ever man so wise, so tender and gentle, so strong, so comprehending? What mattered the absence of worldly goods, the presence of care and anxiety, when he looked with a steady hand to bold, a steadfast heart to trust, a man who would love her and stand by her, whatever befell? Then the face of Ivory's mother would swim into the mental picture, the pale face, as white as the pillow it lay upon; the face with its aureole of golden hair, and the wistful blue eyes that looked of olden times and her children came peace before they closed on life.

Woman's Health

and spirit depend upon her digestion and circulation. Sallow skin, pimples, facial blemishes and depression disappear after the system has been cleansed and the blood purified by and regularity. In Women, 25c per box.

The vision of her sister was a joyful one, and her heart was at peace about her, the plucky little princess who had blazed the way out of the fog of evil. She saw Patty clearly as a future foe, in velvet and satin and lace, bewitching everybody by her gay spirits, her plangent vivacity, and the loving heart that lay underneath all the coyness and gave it warmth and color.

The remembrance of her father alone on the hilltop did indeed trouble Waitstill. Self reproach, the true sense of the word, she did not know, could not feel.

When she was thankfully eating her breakfast with Mrs. Mason a little later and waiting for Ivory to join them both and take them to the Boynton farm, she little knew what was going on at her old home in these very hours, when, to tell the truth, she would have liked to sit in, had it been possible, wash the morning dishes, skin the cream, do the week's churning, make her father's bed and slip out again into the dear shelter of love that waited for her.

The deacon had passed a good part of the night in scheming and contriving, and when he drank his self made cup of muddy coffee at 7 o'clock next morning he had formed several plans that were to be immediately put into effect, and he knew it, by the exasperating and suspicious nature of the ladies involved in them.

At 8 he had left the house, started his rounds at the store and was on the road to search of vengeance and a housekeeper. Old Mrs. Atkins of Deerwader sniffed at the wages offered. Miss Peters of Union Falls, an aged spinster with weak lungs, and the impertinence to tell him that she feared she couldn't stand the cold in his house; she had heard he was very particular about the amount of wood that was burned. There was not another free woman within eight miles, and the deacon was chafing under the mortification of being continually obliged to state the reasons of his needing a housekeeper. The only hope, it seemed, lay in going to Saco and bringing a stranger, a plan not at all to his liking, as it was sure to involve him in extra expense.

But he threats against the universe in general, he drove home by way of Milliken's mill, thinking of the unforgotten, the unlikeliest cow, the unwashed dishes, the unburned cream and, above all, of his unheeded daughters, his rage increasing with every step until it was nearly at the white heat of the night before. A long stretch of hill brought the tired old mare to a slow walk and enabled the deacon to see the Widow Tillman clipping the geraniums that stood in the corner on the shelf of her kitchen window.

Now, Foxwell Baxter had never been a village Lohengrin at any age nor frequented the society of such. Of late years, indeed, he had frequented no society of any kind, so that he had missed, for instance, Abel Day's description of the Widow Tillman as a "regular arse." Though he vaguely remembered that some of the Baptist sisters had questioned the authenticity of her conversion by their young and attractive minister, she made a pleasant surprise. She was a comparative newcomer to the village, and her mind had not been poisoned with feminine gossip-in a word, she was a distinctly hopeful subject, acting on a blind and sudden impulse, he turned into the yard, flung the reins over the mare's neck and knocked at the back door.

"Her character is no worse than mine by now," Aunt Abby Cole's on the subject, he thought grimly, "and if the Wilsons see my slight inside of a wider fence so much the better. I'll give 'em a jog. 'Good morning,' Miss Tillman," he said to the waiting lady, "I've come to the point at once. My youngest daughter has married Mars Wilton against my will and gone away from town, and the older ones choose a business and go to my liking. So you want to come and housekeep for me?"

"I surprised something was going on," returned the Widow Tillman. "Patty and Mark drive away early this morning, with Mr. and Mrs. Wilton sweeping the girl up and putting a hot scolding in the night and coming to the kitchen and being thrown in." This knowledge added fuel to the flame that was burning fiercely in the deacon's breast.

"Well, how about the housekeeping?"

he asked, trying not to show his anger, and not revealing himself at all in the enterprise in which he found himself indulging.

"I'm very comfortable here," the lady responded artfully, "and I don't know I care to make any change. Thank you. I didn't like the village much at first, after living in larger places, but now I'm accustomed to it kind of gains on me."

Her reply was carefully framed, for her mind worked with great rapidity, and she was mistress of the situation almost as soon as she saw the deacon alighting from his sleigh. He was not the sort of a man to be a casual caller, and his manner bespoke an urgent request. She had the pension of $2 a month, but over and above that sum her living was precarious. She made coats, and she had never known want, for she was a master hand at dealing with the opposite sex. Deacon Baxter, according to common report, had ten or fifteen thousand dollars stowed away in the banks, so the situation could be as simple as possible under ordinary circumstances. It was as easy to turn out one man's pockets as another's when he was a normal human being, but Deacon Baxter was a different proposition.

"I wonder how long he's likely to live," she thought, glancing at him covertly out of the tail of her eye. "His evil temper must have driven more than one nail in his coffin. I wonder if I refuse to housekeep whether I'll get a better offer. I wonder if I could manage him if I got him. I'd rather like to set in the Baxter pew at the orthodox meeting house after the way some of the Baptist sisters have snubbed me since I came here."

Not a vestige of these laconic thoughts showed in her comely countenance. "I'd make the wages fair," urged the deacon, looking round the clean kitchen, with the breakfast table sitting near the sunny window and the odor of corned beef and cabbage issuing temptingly from a boiling pot on the fire. "I'll give you a great deal more, if you'll do it, and I'll be sure to pay you every week."

"I've no doubt it," said the widow, wondering if her voice rang true. "But I want a pension, and why should I leave this cozy little home? Would I better myself any—that's the question? I'm kind of homesick here. That's the only reason I'd consider a move."

"No need o' bein' homesick down to the Falls," said the deacon. "And I'm in an' out all day, between the barn and the store."

This, indeed, was not a pleasant prospect, but Jane Tillman had faced worse ones in her time.

"I'm no hand at any work outside the house," she observed, as if reflecting. "I can truthfully say I'm a good cook and have a great fancy for making a little go to town way." (She considered this a master stroke, and, in fact, it was, for the deacon's mouth absolutely watered at this apparently unobscure comprehension of his difficulties.) "But I'm no hand at any chores in the barn or shed," she continued. "My husband would never allow me to do that kind of work."

"Perhaps I could get a boy to help out. I've been kind o' thinkin' o' that lately. What wages would you expect if I paid a boy for the rough work?" asked the deacon transactionally.

"What to tell the truth, I don't quite fancy the idea of taking wages. Judge Dickinson wants me to go to Alfred and housekeep for him and named $12 a month. It's good pay, and I haven't said 'No.' But my rent is small here. I'm my own mistress, and I don't feel like giving up my privileges."

"Twelve dollars a month!" He had never thought of approaching that sum, and he was the heir of unwashed dishes growing day by day and the cream scum on the milk pans. Suddenly an idea sprang full born into the deacon's mind. (Jed Morrill's "Old Drifters" must have been close at hand.) Would Jane Tillman marry him? No woman in the three villages would be more obnoxious to his daughters; and in itself was a distinct gain. She was a good sort of a woman, in her early forties, and he thought, after all, that the hollow chested, spindle shanked kid were more expensive to feed on the whole than her better paid sisters. He had never had any difficulty in managing wives and thought himself quite equal to one more bout, even at sixty-five, though he had just the faintest suspicion that the high color of Mrs. Tillman's prominent cheeks, the vigor shown in the coarse black hair and handsome eyebrows, might make this a little more difficult than his previous ones.

"If you'd like to have a home o' your own 'bout yair rent, you're free to go to say the word an' I'll make you Mrs. Baxter," said the deacon. "There'll be nobody to interfere with you, an' I'll be a handsome legacy if I die first, for none o' my few sisters is goin' to my daughters. I can promise you that."

The deacon threw out this tempting bait deliberately, for at this moment he would have poured his board into the lap of any woman who would help him to avenge his fancied wrongs.

This was information indeed! The "few sisters" alluded to amounted to some thousands, Jane Tillman knew. Had she not better burn her ships behind her, take the risks and have faith in her own power? She was getting along in years, and her chance of passing was lessening with every day that passed over her head. If the deacon's queer ways grew too queer, she could always appear to be the deacon and the minister might provide a way at once and a neat little income in boot. So, on the whole, the marriage, though much against her natural inclinations, seemed to be providentially arranged.

If Jane Tillman became Mrs. Baxter she intended to get the whip hand and keep it, but nothing was further from her intention than to make the deacon miserable if she could help it. That was not her disposition, and so, when the deacon man left her home, he had made more conscious in a single hour than in all the former years of his life.

His future spouse was to write out a little paper for his signature; just a friendly little paper to be kept private and confidential between themselves, stating that she was to do no work outside of the house; that her pension was to be her own; that she was to have $5 in cash on the first of every month in lieu of wages, and that in case of his death occurring first she was to have a third of his estate, and the whole of it if at the time of his decease he was still pleased with his bargain. The only points in this contract that the deacon really understood were that he was paying only $5 a month for a housekeeper to whom a Judge had offered $12; that, as he had expected to pay at least $8, he could get a boy for the remaining $3, and so be none the worse in pocket; also, that if he could keep his daughters from getting his money, he didn't care a long who had it, as he hated the whole human race with entire impartiality. If Jane Tillman didn't behave herself he had pleasing visions of converting most of his fortune into cash and having it dropped off the bridge some dark night, when the doctor had given him up and provided to his satisfaction that death would occur in the near future.

All this being harmoniously settled, the deacon drove away and caused the announcement of his immediate marriage to be posted directly below that of Waitstill and Ivory Boynton.

A "single match," the community in general called the deacon's marriage, and many a man and many a woman, too, regarding the amazing publishing notice in the frame up at the meeting house, felt that Jane Tillman, Deacon Baxter had met his Waterloo.

Farmer John and the Telephone

"I WOULD never use a telephone," Farmer John had said when being pressed to put one in, "it will just be used for the women folks to gossip over."

And now that the telephone has been in a short time it makes Aunt Mary smile to see how Farmer John runs to use it a dozen times a day.

He is surely getting his money's worth. He gets prices daily from the nearest market on all kinds of produce and sells only when the market is right. He makes no more useless trips to town to replace broken machine parts, but finds out first from the dealer whether the part he wants is in stock. In a hundred ways the telephone is saving time and labor for Farmer John.

Dear Sir,—Will you kindly give the following circulation in your paper as it is very important and requires prompt action.

Important appeal to Canadian wives and mothers throughout Canada in reference to the "Wet Canteen" overseas for Canadian soldiers. The Dominion Women's Christian Temperance Union are issuing for signatures of wives and mothers throughout all Canada, a huge petition to the Prime Minister of Canada, praying for the immediate intervention of the Government in behalf of a "Dry Canteen." This method of dealing with the issue has been heartily endorsed by Moral Reform departments of the Churches, Provincial Alliances, Branches, Patriotic League and all thoughtful Citizens everywhere. But there is so much territory that may not be reached, especially in rural districts, that each Provincial W. C. T. U. is looking to their County Presidents to get this monster petition circulated in places they do not know how to reach within the County. Ministers as far as addresses can be gotten up being asked to help, but in order to have the important petition thoroughly signed in Prince County, we are hereby appealing to Patriotic League Women's Institutes, Teachers in Country Schools, Postmistresses in country offices, and any who are willing to help to write some dark night, when the doctor had given him up and provided to his satisfaction that death would occur in the near future.

All this being harmoniously settled, the deacon drove away and caused the announcement of his immediate marriage to be posted directly below that of Waitstill and Ivory Boynton.

A "single match," the community in general called the deacon's marriage, and many a man and many a woman, too, regarding the amazing publishing notice in the frame up at the meeting house, felt that Jane Tillman, Deacon Baxter had met his Waterloo.

The funeral of the late Mrs. I. Spruce was held from her late residence, on Friday at 3 p. m. The body was taken to Brighton for interment.

Mr. H. Murray, Township Clerk, is quite ill at present, and does not appear to be gaining; his condition is considered critical.

The Skippers school house was burned down on Thursday night. There seems to be no clue as to the cause as the teacher claims that no wood had been put in the stove after supper; and the building being stone, would not easily take fire from the outside. It was insured for $700.

Mr. John Murray is visiting his parents. The Millinery Opening, held Friday and Saturday, was well attended. Miss Attcheon into be congratulated on the splendid showing of tasteful and stylish Millinery.

Mrs. J. L. Langstaff does not appear to be recovering very fast.

Be Fair to Your Watch

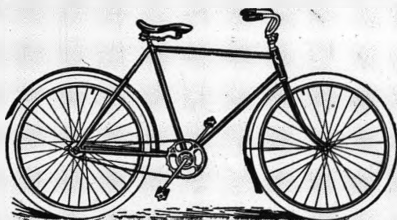

Try to run your car or your sewing machine or wagon for a couple of years without oil, and see how stridently they will screech forth protests against your neglect.

Yet it is, perhaps, six years since your watch was cleaned or oiled.

Though it cannot even "squeak" its protest, it is slowly but surely wearing itself out. A few drops of oil, and a good cleaning will work wonders. Bring it in.

Buried in the Township of Amabel

The Late R. H. Murray
(Not taken from a recent photograph)

In Zion cemetery, west of Hepworth, Thursday afternoon, the body of Mr. R. H. Murray was laid to rest. This was his request for he wanted to be buried in the township which he had served 55 years, and the pall bearers were Kewee Craig and ex-reveres Eldridge, Rusk, Rushon, Chambers and Robinson. The services at the home and cemetery were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Matheson of Allenford. In the death of Mr. Murray one of the pioneers of this district has passed away. In his earlier life he often carried a bag of flour on his back from Southampton to Allenford, but these incidents were not regarded as hardships in those days. As a township clerk his name will be remembered for years to come. It is not too much to say that he was one of the very best in Ontario. His work was always done in time and always in advance of others. In Amabel councils came and went, and there he sat at the table and patiently guided the affairs of the whole township during all these years, and the township owes much to him today for the good position it is in.

The following reference to his life has been kindly furnished the Echo.

Robert Hugh Murray was born at Linsdale, parish of Creich, Shropshire, Scotland, Sept. 21st, 1840, being the son of John Murray, a contractor in his native country, and Isabella McIntosh, and a grandson of Major Hugh Murray of the 93rd Sutherland Highlanders and Anne, daughter of John MacDonald, a man noted far and wide as being possessed of keen wit and rare insight.

Mr. Murray's early education was received at parish school preparatory to entering a bank, but owing to the family emigrating to Canada he was compelled to abandon his father's cherished idea of making his son a banker. The family emigrated to Canada in 1857 and located in the Tps. of Amabel, being amongst the first settlers.

He was appointed assessor in 1861, which position he held for 21 years. He was the first assessor of the united Tps. of Amabel and Allenford assessing these for 9 years after their separation, the Tps. of Amabel for 12 years. The next year he was appointed collector, and treasurer the following year, resigning the latter to become the clerk of the township, which position he held for the past thirty years. Last December he attended his fifty-fifth nomination in an official capacity.

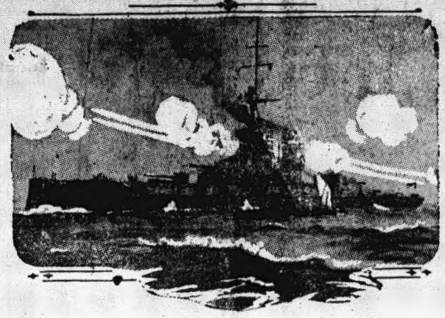

A Conservative in politics he always took an active part in the political battles fought in North Bruce, having been the secretary and party organizer for many years in that constituency. In the year 1878, he was appointed Returning Officer for the riding and was census enumerator from 1861 to 1911 six times in succession.

In the educational life of the community he took a very active part, being chairman of the Trustees Board for many years, and being a very active member of the Presbyterian Church, being entrusted with the office of chairman of the Board of Managers, which he held for many years as well as conducting a large Bible class.

At Allenford, where he resided he transacted for many years a general business and conveying business, being also connected with the London Mutual and Warkenton Fire Insurance Co.

He was married in the year 1871 to Isabella McIntosh, of Amabel Tps. This marriage resulted in four children, Miss M. Kolla, of Weyburn, Sask.; John A. of Toronto, Miss Letitia at home, and Mrs. John H. McKelvin, of Wilkie, Sask.

In Mr. Murray's possession is an old family Bible dating back from the early part of the 18th century and still perfectly intact. This bears the handwriting of, and which was handed down from John MacDonald, Mr. Murray's great grandfather, and also grandfather of the late Sir John MacDonald. This valuable book contains among other things the natal dates of John MacDonald's children, the eldest of whom Anne MacDonald, born Sept. 8, 1778, the grandmother of Mr. Murray, and Hugh born 13th Dec. 1782, the father of Sir John A. MacDonald, being among the number.

What Sea Power Means to England

WHILE it is not possible to agree with the conclusion arrived at in his "Pan-Americanism," by Prof. Roland G. Usher (Toronto, the MacMillan Co.), that the victor in the present war will come into inevitable conflict with the United States, and will challenge the Monroe Doctrine with the object of controlling the trade of North America, his book is an interesting one, and ought to do much to clear the minds of American people upon the economic question that is involved in the struggle. In the event of a German victory, of course it is very well understood that the supremacy of the United States in this hemisphere would be disputed, and that sooner or later the American people would have to defend themselves against Germany, but Prof. Usher is not convincing when he seeks to prove that a similar conflict will take place as a result of British victory.

What Americans Owe to Sea Power
In his review of the chief influences upon the development of the United States, Prof. Usher gives an interesting account of the development of British sea power. Her undisputed control of the seas, he contends, made possible the development of the United States. Had this power been in the hands of a nation less friendly to the United States, or one whose foreign policy was more aggressive, such growth and prosperity as the American nation has enjoyed would have been impossible. He says: "To it we owe the predominantly English character of American civilization. Many races arriving here at different epochs have somehow or other been fused and amalgamated into a different nation from any of them, a nation perhaps of mixed blood, but whose characteristics are predominantly English. The English language has conquered all other tongues, as English literature for the vast majority has conquered all other literary traditions. Our laws, courts and institutions are as clearly descendants of the English institutions of the seventeenth century as are the present practices in England. The supremacy of the sea made this inevitable. For the same reason the English nation is the only nation that has played a part as a nation in the upbuilding of the United States."

A Defensive Measure
To understand British sea power, he says, we must realize that her supremacy was, and is, a domestic necessity, maintained as a part of her defensive position on the Channel rather than for the purpose of exerting influence in different parts of the world. Centuries ago it was perceived that the control by a fleet of the waters surrounding the British Isles would make them invulnerable, because in order to be attacked armies would have to be carried across the Channel by fleet, and it would be easier to defeat them before they landed than afterwards. Later on, when it became apparent that the British Isles could not raise enough food to supply the population, there came into being a stronger reason than ever why Britain should be supreme on the ocean, for otherwise an enemy could starve her by shutting off her supplies.

Empire Rests on Sea Power

Prof. Usher says: "Today the industrial fabric of England is built upon the sea power. The very food and clothes of her swelling millions depend upon it. It is still the premise of continued existence, the essential prerequisite of prosperity. Yet though today more than ever the prime factor in England's policy, it is still not so international, but primarily a domestic factor. It was not created to threaten or rule other nations, and exerts an influence in international affairs only as the result of the necessary existence for the maintenance of domestic peace and prosperity. It is today so vital for defence that it could not possibly be used for aggression alone; to risk in war, undertaken purely for aggression, the very bulwark of national existence would be folly of the worst description, a fact of the utmost consequence in the study of international affairs."

Danger of Other Navies

The writer goes on to say that when the British people discover how indispensable the fleet was to their own existence they began to view in a different light the existence of other navies. The latter were by no means rivals of an English fleet in aggressive attempts to broaden the English domain, and thus to extend her authority and power; they were possible assailants of England, possible protectors of an invading army, and were first and foremost capable of taking the bread from the mouths of Englishmen, and of stripping their clothes from their backs. Yet though this danger was apprehended especially from the German navy, British policy forbade any aggressive move. The only thing to be done was to strain every nerve to maintain the numerical superiority of the British ships, and to wait until German aggression gave the opportunity to strike. How the opportunity was given last August and how the British navy seized it are matters of two recent history for comment.—Mail & Empire.

Fire Water Turned Indian's Head

Joe Elliott is "big Injin" at Cap Croker, he sits at the council board and looks wise, but like lots of other human beings Joe likes fire water and it always goes to his head, and for being drunk on the reserve he is now in the cooler in the town hall and will not be able to spend thirty days in jail. According to his story he was given the liquor by some boys on the reserve. But getting drunk was the least of his offence. According to reports he seriously abused his wife, kicked her and she is dangerously ill in bed. All the evidence is not yet in as she cannot come to town, but her evidence will probably be taken at the reserve by the agent and if it is as damaging against Elliott as reported he will likely be given a lesson he will remember a few days. If the evidence agrees with the report he should be given time enough in Warkenton to teach him that he cannot pound his wife whether he is drunk or sober. But where did the liquor come from this is what the authorities would like to know?

Salvation Army Will Open Baracks.

A contingent of the Salvation Army will begin work here, probably next Saturday. Their headquarters will be in the Greenloose block, Bedford Street, and two lady officers will be in charge. During last week Ensign Martin, of London, was in town making all the necessary arrangements. He considers this an ideal town for army work—so many working men, and he feels assured of the success of the army's work here. About twenty years ago the Army opened in Warkenton, but owing to the lack of officers was obliged to abandon the field. However they are now fully equipped and hope to do good work.

It may be thought by many that the town has quite enough Churches to do all the work required and that there are not a bit too well supported and possibly there is a whole lot of truth in this. However if there is room for another religious organization the Salvation Army should be welcome, for while their meetings will draw some who will receive benefit, their rescue work and other social work in the large centers of population is worthy of the highest commendation.

The War Tax Stamp.

The Post Office Department, having given notice a week or two ago, in connection with the War Revenue Act, that all letters and postcards mailed in Canada for delivery in Canada, the United States or Mexico and letters mailed in Canada for delivery in the United Kingdom and British possessions generally, or wherever the two cent rate applied, should in addition to ordinary postage carry a one cent stamp as a War tax, and also having notified the public that such war tax, while it should be paid preferably by the postage stamp marked "War Tax", could, if such stamp were not available, be paid by an ordinary one cent postage stamp, is now issuing further notice to the effect that postage stamps may be used for the prepayment of war duties on bank cheques, bills or exchange promissory notes, express money orders, proprietary or patient medicines, perfumery, wines or champagne, as well as on all upon letters and postcards, postal notes and post office money orders, the intention being to provide facilities in those portions of the country where scarce stamps are not readily available.

This in view of the fact that postage stamps may be obtained at all points over the whole country, in many places where there is no Collector of Inland Revenue and no Inland Revenue stamps could be obtained, is a distinct convenience to the public, and no doubt will be largely taken advantage of.

CLAVERING

School re-opened Monday, April 12 with an attendance of 45.

Miss Violet Brannick returned home last week from Port Arthur where she has spent the winter.

The Lisk Bros have decided to just run their chopper Wednesday and Saturday afternoons from this on.

J. Hill, of Shallow Lake, has rented Mr. Simmie's mill for manufacturing barrel staves and intends starting up this week.

Daniel Iokler lost a valuable horse last week from disempowerment.

Miss Clara Bonnell, of Shallow Lake, spent the latter part of the week with Miss B. Simmie.

The Sunny South

When delicious grape fruit sells 5 cents per doz, and oranges from 5 to 10 cents per dozen and big ones at that. Where the thermometer is about 70 in the shade, while it is zero in Canada, it is the spot where Mr. Charles Reckin and family spend the winter in Florida. No wonder thousands and tens of thousands of tourists go there during the winter season. The floating population of Miami, Florida, where Mr. Reckin has spent the past five years, amounts to 100,000 while the permanent population increases more than 3,000 per year. There the salt water bathing, fishing, motoring are ideal, for the conditions are perfect. There, too, the white sun leads a care free life, and the negro continues to do all the work. It is the place to recover health, and those going from Canada find it just what they need. Mr. Reckin and family arrived home last week after spending the winter in the Sunny South, and they all most thoroughly enjoyed their sojourn. They met people from all parts of the United States and a large number from Canada.

News of the Churches.

METHODIST CHURCH LIONS HEAD

The organist of above church Miss Laura Leuncke is to be married to James Weaver, the proprietor of the Lions Head livery, on Wednesday 14th. In honor of the event the ladies of the congregation gave her a shower on Friday last at the home of Mrs. S. F. Warren. It was a great time.

The Sunday School are also giving her a very suitable present in token of their appreciation and esteem. In spite of bad roads congregations in the country were good on Sunday. The Pastors text was Mark 16:11 and 12. At Lions Head there was a helpful service. It was good to see Mrs. R. E. Moore preside at the organ with her usual ability and fine taste.

TRINITY ANGLICAN CHURCH

About twenty four members of the old fire brigade attended Trinity Church Sunday evening and listened to a most appropriate sermon by the Rector, the Rev. Mr. Masters.

ST. PAUL'S

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Sunday April 18th the minister will preach at both services. Morning subject: "The Indwelling Word." Evening subject: "Young People's Problems—their church. Good music. Strangers welcome.

The Rev. F. A. Hassard, representing the Bible Society, occupied the pulpit at the Methodist Church Sunday morning and that of the Presbyterian Church in the evening.

The adjourned meeting of the Vestry of Trinity Church was held Tuesday evening, and received the audited report of the Church Wardens which was adopted. The report showed a total revenue of more than $1400, and no liabilities, total amounts through all channels over $9600. This is one of the most encouraging reports that have ever been presented. The vestry re-elected Dr. H. W. Moore and Mr. J. E. J. Aston as Wardens. The question of providing a rectory was taken up and a committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions.

The Warkenton Produce Company will remain open until 10 o'clock on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

OLIPHANT

Court Kent and Bill Stowe were here on business for Mr. Gladstone last week.

Mr. Millard, township assessor, was in our district on Saturday on official business.

Miss Jean Dodsworth returned to Oliphant after spending Easter week at her home in Elmwood.

Dr. Hay and Jerry Cameron, of Warkenton, anted to Oliphant Sunday and visited at the former's cottage.

Mr. Bell, of Oxendon, was in Oliphant last Friday, a prospective buyer for the Wm. Wright's property.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Reid and Mrs. James Jewel, are spending a few days here at the home of their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. A. Moore.

The ice has gone out of the bay with the exception of a few drifting floes. The water is comparatively hot for this time of year and with prevailing westerly and southerly winds it will again be normal by July 1st.

Mr. and Mrs. Swab were pleasantly entertained some twenty-three couples at their home on Friday evening, the occasion being a dance. Several were there from Warkenton, Greig's Corners and Oliphant. Mr. and Mrs. Swab spare neither time nor trouble in entertaining and the young people are indebted for a very enjoyable time.

MILLER LAKE

Donald Esch is still a very sick boy.

The telephone business is not going ahead very fast.

Mr. and Mrs. John Boyle were over to Lions Head visiting friends for a couple days.

Peter Brough and son John, of Spry visited at Martins on Wednesday night.

Henry Esch is down at Spry helping Andrew Brough taking out cedar posts and ties.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Esch of Stokes Bay were up at Martins Wednesday.

J. Pyke was down to Ferndale Wednesday doing some carpenter work for R. McCutcheon.

CLIPPED FROM OUR LOCAL EXCHANGE

Owen Sound

Capt. W. Playter, master of the Canadian Government steamer La Canadienne, with his crew, arrived in town on Monday evening, and has already commenced fitting out. The steamer is being treated a sand blast to remove any rust that may have accumulated during the winter months, which creates considerable dust and prevents any painting operations at present. Capt. Playter has orders from headquarters to be ready to sail by April 23rd.

Judgment has been handed out in the Owen Sound Lumber Co. case, in the winding up proceedings. The actions of H. E. Rowland in connection with the company are severely criticised. On commencing business $5,000 of stock was divided among the directors. The reason given was that Rowland had secured valuable contracts after issuing of letters patent April 28, 1910. The judge held that the concern was doing business from March 31st and that the officers "being paid servants of the company could not avail themselves of contracts they secured while such agents to make a profit out of the company." It appears that dividends were paid, when the finances did not warrant doing so. The judge holds, however, that the directors were not aware of Rowland's falsity—that they had unbought confidence in his integrity and ability, and in due course the dividends honestly believed they had been earned. He says, "I have come to the conclusion that Rowland is wholly unworthy of credence—that he is a clever and unscrupulous scoundrel."

The judgment covers some 25 typewritten pages and deals with many other matters.

As a result of injuries received in a runaway accident on Friday evening last, Mr. Holt, Johnston, of Cockburn Island, died on Wednesday at the house of his late brother, Samuel Johnston, in Keppel. Mr. Johnston had come from Cockburn Island to attend his brother's funeral and on Good Friday had driven to the home of his sister, Mrs. J. D. McMillan, of Glen Allen, where he spent the day. In the evening when coming back to his late brother's place, the car which he was driving, suddenly took flight and before he could gain control of it, the animal swerved to one side throwing Mr. Johnston out in front of the wheel. He was seriously injured his chest being severely crushed and several ribs and his collar bone were broken. He also sustained internal injuries and bruises about the head and back. He was removed to his late brother's home where everything possible was done to save his life but after suffering intense pain for several days he passed away. He was born forty-one years ago in Keppel Township, and was a son of the late Samuel and Mary Johnston. For some years he had been engaged in the timber and lumbering business on Cockburn Island. He is survived by two brothers, Alexander, of Keppel, and Jameson, of Cockburn Island, and one sister, Mrs. J. D. McMillan, Ben Allen. The funeral takes place this afternoon to Greenwood cemetery.

A dog case occupied considerable time at the Court House on Tuesday afternoon when a resident of Brooke, Adams, used his neighbor, Abell, for $50 damages for the alleged poisoning of a dog belonging to the former. The case was tried before his honor Judge Widdifield, who dismissed the action. According to the plaintiff the defendant had made threats to kill the hound. The animal was later found lying dead on the defendant's premises. It was seen 10 minutes before going in the direction of Abell's place. When examined it was found to have red ointment of mercury in its mouth and in its stomach. It was also shown that the defendant had purchased red ointment of mercury at Krowat's drug store some months before, the defendant claimed that the mercury had been purchased and used for a blister for a horse. He swore that he did not put it on the dog. The Judge dismissed the case. W. H. Wright acted for the plaintiff and A. D. Cressor for the defendant.

NO ALUM

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little stomach, liver and bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, croup, a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a happy playful child again. "Your druggist" for a 5-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

Chester

There was a large crowd at the station on Monday to give a send-off to the two boys who had enlisted for the third contingent and were leaving for Guelph, and to say good-bye to the boys in khaki who were home for Easter holidays. The recruits are Geo. Grover and Albert McCaffery. The visiting privates and officers were—Lieut. R. G. Savage and James B. Ball, Corporal Copperthwaite, Sergeant Pavlin and Privates Jas. Watt, Jas. Steele, Stan Routhier, Gordon McKelvie, Harold Gardiner, Pat Mulloy and Bert Hancock.

Edmund Latimer, who has been clerking in M. E. Hoot's hardware store for 15 months, has gone into business for himself at Lansdowne, a small village in Leeds County. He will be about three miles from the picturesque Thousand Islands. Mr. Latimer traded his land at Watrous, Sask., for a hardware store, stock and house at Lansdowne, and he took possession on April 2nd. Mrs. Latimer will move to Lansdowne in the course of a few weeks. The people of Lansdowne will find Edmund Latimer a mighty doer of large and we miss our guess if he does not do a large business in the dairy district to which he has gone.

Four inspectors from Toronto searched the Commercial and McDonald Houses one day last week for samples of wet goods over the regulation alcoholic strength, but found none. So far as the McDonald House is concerned there has been no contravention of the local option by-law by Mr. Brennan who is deservingly commended for his strict observance of a law that, of course, he was strongly opposed to, and he did himself to prevent coming into force, but when passed, like the good law-abiding citizen he is, he observed to the letter.

Mrs. D. N. McIntyre, of Meadow, Man., and her sister, Mr. Annie Stewart, of Syracuse, N. Y., and Charlie Ewart are visiting at Syracuse before Mr. McIntyre goes to her home in Meadow, Charlie Ewart accompanying her.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Wolfe, highly esteemed residents of Arara, are moving this week to the handsome Georgian home in Tara, which they purchased about a year ago. The Enterprise wishes them continued good health and a full measure of happiness in their new home.

Keppel Council

The Council of the above Township met at its regular session on April 3. All the members present, the minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

A letter was read from the Dept. of Colonization roads stating that in answer to our request for a grant of $2000 to improve the roads of the Township a sum of $1000 was placed in the estimates for that purpose. The By-Law in re to this grant was amended to expect $3000 instead of the original amount of $2000 the grant to each road being increased pro rata.

Mr. James Cruikshank and Mr. Wm. Wyborn were appointed jurors to expend the said sum of $3000.

The Clerk was instructed to advertise for tenders for grading stone to sum of $2500 tenders to be received at the Clerk's Office not later than May 1.

Communications were read from the Hydro Electric Railway committee advising the Council to pass resolutions in favour of a grant being made to these Railways by the Dominion Government. No action was taken on this request.

The Salvation Army was granted $5.00 in aid of their social work.

Orders on the Treasurer were issued to sum of $304.47.

Council adjourned to meet at the Clerk's Office on May 3 to open the tenders for grading stone. GEO. ATKIN, Clerk.

Warkenton

Mr. John Wesley Simpson, a former Brant boy, and nephew of Mr. W. H. Clement, of Warkenton, died in Malta, Man., on March 19th. The deceased was born at Maple Hill nearly 50 years ago and went west in 1882. After farming for many years he purchased the Commercial Hotel at Malta, which he continued to conduct until his death.

Mr. David Weber, of Midway, was arraigned before Magistrate James Tolton, here the other day on a charge laid by constable Armstrong of stealing a valve belonging to the threshing engine which exploded and killed a man named Lindsay in Kincardine Township last Fall. The evidence, however, showed that Mr. Weber took the valve at the request of some neighbors who wanted it examined in an effort to determine the cause of the explosion. There being no evidence of theft established against him and as Weber handed the valve to the court to be returned to the owner, the case was dismissed and the accused acquitted.

John Brown, a Brant farmer residing near Elmwood, sued Chas. Emke, a sawmiller of Bentinck, at the county sittings before Judge Klein in Warkenton on Tuesday. The damages for removing a barn of Brown's farm while he was absent in the west. Emke claimed, however, that he had bought the barn from Emerson Henderson, a dentist of Chetley, who it seems had represented himself as Brown's agent. After the evidence was adduced, judgment was given by the court in favor of Brown for $250 and costs against Emke. Judgment was also given for $125 damages against Henderson and costs occasioned by him being added to the suit as a third party.

At the Brant Council meeting on Monday last, Mr. Ed. Lawrence, of Hanover, a former Elmwood merchant, caused a summons of parol for about $87.00 to be served on the Reeve against the salary of Mr. John Bierwirth, of Bentinck, who was appointed to assess the Township of Brant this year at a salary of $1500. Among the fireworks that followed the appointment of an outsider to assess the township was a question in the press by Mr. Frank Henale asking if Councillor Findlay had not given for his reason for supporting Mr. Bierwirth, "Because the latter owed him fifty dollars and in order to get square, he had to support the Bentinck man?" The question was answered by Councillor Findlay in the following spirited reply: "The statement that I was under any promise to Bierwirth to support him in return for which he was to receive payment of my claim against him, is as false as the heart of the man who makes it. As Councillor Findlay didn't get up and knock any body down when the garnish was served at the Board on Monday, he stands vindicated before the world, even if he did admit in another part of his letter telling another applicant for the job, 'I have an account against Bierwirth which I might as well collect if he goes the job, for that reason I was not going to have anything to do towards making the appointment.'

Tara

Mr. John Austin Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Davis of Tara, and formerly of the Township of Arara, is now Sergeant Major in a British Regiment.

The Vancouver Province says, "Sergeant Major Davis left his home in the legion of frontiersmen. When that unit was disbanded at Winnipeg he joined the Fort Garry Horse, and was almost immediately promoted to sergeant. He was then promoted to a rank he held until he was again transferred. Through his riding in races he was invited to street races. Sergeant Major Davis before he came here was horse breaker for the Bar H Ranch at Outlook, and was considered one of the best riders in the west."

Sergeant Major Davis formerly resided with his parents on the 4th con. of Arara and went west about seven years ago.

Mr. James W. Barber, after an illness of only a few days, passed away on Wednesday from pleurisy and pneumonia. One year ago last June he had his leg broken at the raising of the Methodist church which laid him up for six months. Mr. Barber had resided on the 10th con. of Arara for a number of years and was a progressive farmer. His wife and two sons survive to mourn his loss.

Rev. Wm. Wallace, of Chetley, will conduct the services at Christ Church next Sunday at both morning and evening services. Rev. J. S. Johnston will take Mr. Wallace's work at Chetley.

Harold Pfeiffer, Owen Sound, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Pfeiffer, formerly of Tara, was taken suddenly sick early on Monday morning and later to the hospital and operated on for appendicitis.

Mr. Joseph Barnow has moved to his new home in Tara, which he purchased from Mr. Isaac Colwell on Main street. Mr. Barnow sold his farm of 165 acres in the Tw of Sullivan to Mr. Chas. Weppeler for $9000.

SPRING BLOOD IS WATERY BLOOD

How to Get New Health and New Strength at This Season.

Spring ailments are not imaginary. Even the most robust find the winter months most trying to their health. Confinement indoors often in over-heated and nearly always badly ventilated rooms in the house, the office, the shop and the school—takes the vitality of even the strongest. The blood becomes thin and watery and is clogged with impurities. Some people have headache and feeling of languor. Others are low-spirited and nervous. Still others are troubled with indigestion, flatulence and sleeplessness, while some get up in the morning feeling just as tired as when they went to bed. These are all spring symptoms that the blood is out of order and that a medicine is needed. Many people take purgative medicines in the spring. This is a serious mistake. You cannot cure your system with a medicine that purges through your system and leaves you weaker still. This is all that a purgative does. What you need to give you health and strength is the spring tonic which will enrich the blood and soothe the languid nerves. And the one always reliable tonic and blood builder is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills not only banish spring weakness but guard you against the more serious ailments that follow, such as anaemia, nervous debility, indigestion, rheumatism and other diseases due to bad blood. In proof of this Mrs. D. E. Hingler, of Hanover, N. S., says: "About a year ago I was badly run down my nerves were all unstrung and I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. As I was a long way from a doctor I decided to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and in the course of a few weeks I felt like a new person. As an old friend restorative I can heartily recommend this medicine."

If you are ailing this spring you cannot afford in your own interest to overlook the valuable medicine as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

At the Very Last.

In a prosperous rural community the village doctor was also the superintendent of the Sunday School. Incidentally he taught a class of small boys.

"Willie," impressively remarked the doctor one Sunday afternoon to a bright-eyed youngster, "can you tell me what we must do in order to get to heaven?"

"Yes, sir," was the prompt response of Willie "we must die."

"That is very true," said the doctor, encouragingly, "but can't you tell me what we must do before we die?"

"Yes, sir," was the startling rejoinder of little Willie "we must get sick and send for you."

Was Troubled for Years With Kidney Disease

And This Treatment Cured Me—This Statement Endorsed By a Baptist Minister.

The great majority of people are familiar with the extraordinary curative powers of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. But for the benefit of those who are not we continue to publish these daily to-day reports from persons who have been actually cured. The case described in this letter was an extreme one, and the writer was in a very low condition when he began the use of these pills. The cure was so marked that Mr. Mosher's pastor did not hesitate to vouch for his statement. By their unique combined action on the liver, kidneys and bowels, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cure in complicated cases which defy the action of ordinary kidney medicines.

MR. MOSHER

Mr. W. H. Mosher, Brockville, Ont., writes: "I used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and finally believe there is no medicine to equal them. I was troubled for years with kidney disease, and this treatment has cured me. When I began the use of these pills I could only go to the field as a chair. Now I can go to the field and work like any other man. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are an excellent medicine."

This statement is certified to by the Rev. E. H. Emmet, Baptist minister of Brockville, Ont. By awakening the action of liver, kidneys and bowels Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cure Constipation, Headache, Chronic Indigestion, Kidney Disease, Liver Complaint and Backache. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers or Widdowson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

HOUSE ADOPTS REPORT HAD THRILLING RUI.

Boots Were Honestly Made According to Specifications.

Of $6,000 Pairs Required for Troops
$1,446 Are Still In Use and Only a Thousand and Some Odd Are Beyond Repair—Liberals Do Not Press For a Division on the Minority Report of the Committee.

OTTAWA, April 13.—The House of Commons last night, by a large majority, adopted the report of the special committee appointed to investigate the boots furnished the Canadian volunteers, which finds that the boots were suitable and efficient, that the Government was guilty of no fraud, and the manufacturers honestly lived up to all the specifications. The Opposition did not ask for a division, and the minority report was voted down.

The debate, which lasted during the entire sitting, was opened on behalf of the Government by W. S. Mil-lender (North Grey), chairman of the committee, who said public opinion had been aroused unjustly. Of $6,000 pairs issued, 446 were still in use; only 1,028 were beyond repair.

Mr. Charles Murphy, who moved the adoption of the minority report, spoke in glowing terms of the boots.
He said, used for samples were sent to the United States, and the Ninth Department. Out of 68,000 pairs of boots, 7,000 had been condemned.

E. M. Macdonald (Pictou, N.S.) vigorously denounced the Government, declaring that the Government should have altered its type of boot when it proved unsatisfactory.

Mr. Nesbitt (L.B. N. Oxford) also a member of the committee, was the only other Liberal to take part in the debate.

Sir Robert Borden, in his speech at the evening session, congratulated the country upon the splendid work done during the war. He said the attitude of the Opposition in respect to the Canadian boots was partisan and unbecoming, and that it had resulted in diverting a great deal of business from Canada.

Gen. Hughes said that the soldiers at the front were wearing the best fish boots and insisting upon the Canadian boot.

BRITAIN BUILDING HUGE SHIP.

New Superdreadnought Will Be 400 Feet Long and Make 40 Knots.

NEW YORK, April 13.—According to a report from London received by The Tribune, Britain has begun down a new battleship of amazing proportions, which will be by far the most powerful craft afloat. It will measure 400 feet in length, and will exceed that which came when the first dreadnought was built. It will be armed with 16-inch guns, and will be the most powerful ship in the world.

It is stated that this great new ship will be 400 feet in length, will carry 16-inch guns and have the wonderful speed of 40 knots. At present the Queen Elizabeth, now at the Dardanelles, stands as the most powerful engine of war. She is, however, only 270 feet in length, and carried eight 15-inch guns. She is old-fashioned, as the new ship will be the craft new planned armament is sacrificed for increased speed.

Increased length gives the great torpedo and engine-room rapidly needed to produce such speed.

DROVE AIR-RAFT OFF.

Captain With Rifle Routed German Hydroplane and Aeroplane.

LONDON, April 13.—Armed with a rifle, Capt. Sharp of the British steamer Serula, which has arrived here, successfully repulsed an attack made upon the steamer by a large German hydroplane and a small aero-plane of the Norddeutsche lightship, says Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent.

The aeroplane first approached the ship, dropping bombs, which fell into the sea. As it returned to the attack Capt. Sharp fired upon it with a rifle, hitting the machine several times and damaging one of its wings.
Then the hydroplane took up the attack, but it also was driven off. Capt.
Sharp says he is convinced the aero-plane was so badly damaged that it was unable to reach Zebrugg.

Many Lives Lost In Explosion.

ABERDEEN, Scotland, April 13.—
The Free Press publishes the following telegram from Lerwick: "A terrible explosion has occurred. Harbor street was wrecked and many lives were lost." No details are obtainable.

Lerwick is situated on the east coast of the island, Shetland Islands.
It is defended by Lord Cromwell, and is one of the chief stations in Scotland for the Royal Naval Reserve. Lerwick is the capital of the Shetland archipelago.

Gen. Paul Returns.

PARIS, April 13.—Gen. Gerard
Paul, who recently has been traveling in Russia, the Balkan States and Italy on a political mission, arrived at the Lyons railroad station at half-past eight o'clock yesterday morning.
An immense crowd of people lined the side and outside the station gave the general a warm welcome.

Dockers In Skakel.

LIVERPOOL, April 13.—The First Dockers' Battalion, 850 men strong, paraded in khaki uniforms before the Dockers' Battalion, the day after yesterday, and then marched between lines of cheering crowds to the docks to begin work.

THE CANADIAN ECHO

NO GENERAL MOVE YET

Joffre's Next Offensive Is Awaited With Interest.

Germany Have Reinforced Line Near Les Eparges. With Troops From the Interior of Russia. The Remains of the German Army. The Heaviest Guns Are Now In Place
Along the French Line.

LONDON, April 13.—The first phase of the battle at Verdun, which apparently has come to an end, and interest now centres on the next move of Gen. Joffre, the French commander, in his effort to compel the Germans to release their hold on St.
Mihiel, and that part of the plain of the Woerpe included in the wedge.
The capture of Les Eparges was, in the opinion of British military critics, a long step in the direction desired by the allies, but they place even more importance on the advance from Reimsville toward Thiaucourt in the south, as the latter town is the prelude to a move in the west, as was expected. This is probably due to the fact that instead of the German army, which was taken along the line to assist the attack of the Woerpe, the Germans have brought their reinforcements from the interior of Germany, and have right from the eastern front and consequently the situation remains comparatively quiet on the western front.

The Official Press Bureau last night issued a narrative furnished by the chief officer who is acting as an eye-witness observer with the French forces. He describes a trip along the front from Thann to St. Mihiel, touching on the German positions, the southern Vosges. The narrative follows:
"By means of human, mule and ox-drawn, even the heaviest guns have been brought to the front, and cunningly established. It was in a great measure due to the accurate and overwhelming artillery fire against the German positions at Hartmannsweiler Kopf that this position was captured with such trifling loss to the attackers."

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

the municipal nomination in that town yesterday.

Exceptionally low water in Rideau Lake will be a great drawback to navigation this season. Lack of snow or rain in March to feed the lake is given as the cause.

John Green, aged 84, one of the best known farmers in Pittsburg Township, died yesterday in the General Hospital at Kingston. His wife died in the same hospital two weeks ago.

Thomas Hoffelinger, of Newark,
N.J., fell asleep while making a pot of coffee. The coffee boiled over, extinguished the flame of the gas stove underneath and the escaping gas killed him.

The total Prussian losses in the war up to date are 1,164,427, according to figures issued in Berlin yesterday. Five more Prussian casualty lists, containing 21,335 names, were issued yesterday.

Twenty-eight Italian families in Italy have been ordered to leave the country. The families were ordered to leave yesterday when a dynamite bomb was exploded in front of the drug store of Vito Mirenda, which was completely destroyed.

Friends of Daniel Reynolds, who was convicted at London, Ont., for he had been pardoned. He murdered a man named Colbert while drunk.

to catch his men, thereby saving many being struck by the trunk.

GERMANS ADMIT WEAKNESS.

They Know They Will Be Swamped
by Kitchener's Army.

LONDON, April 13.—"It is a significant fact that although a month has passed since the German attack on Chapelle, the enemy has made no attempt to retaliate in any quarter, but has remained inactive, while we have established ourselves on the British ground." This is a declaration made by the Eyo-Witness attached to the British army headquarters on the continent. It is a communication dated April 9.

Referring to the condition bordering on panic which prevails at Lille during the fighting at Neuve Chapelle, this writer goes on to say:
"Both officers and men have openly expressed their uneasiness, apparently a marked change has begun to occur in the general demeanor of the German troops since Christmas. Till then they had been absolutely confident and extremely cheerful, but latterly this feeling has been steadily decreasing. German soldiers have told French civilians they recognize they would be overpowered by the masses of men England was going to place in the field."

Inventor Killed.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Ocell
Makin, born in Ontario, was killed at College Park, Md., when he was yesterday while making a test flight in an aeroplane of his own invention and in which he had made flights from Washington to New York and from New York to St. Louis. The machine fell 500 feet and Makin's skull was fractured.

Peel was the first man to go across the Andes Mountains in South America. The machine is said to have been the largest in the world.
The dead aviator was 32 years of age and came here from Los Angeles, where his mother lives.

Revolution? Oh, No!

NEW YORK, April 13.—Gen. Vi-ctoriano Huerta, the ex-President of Mexico, arrived here late yesterday from Spain on board the steamer Antonio Lopez.

Gen. Huerta was admitted to land

FOSTER ON STAND.

Maritime M. P. Given His Story of Purchase of Moros.

OTTAWA, April 13.—Arthur de Witt Foster, M.P. for King's, N.B., was the chief witness before the public accounts committee yesterday. He gave evidence regarding the purchase of horses in his constituency for the Government, but was in possession of evidence regarding the purchase of horses. These are in the possession of an Americanized Canadian named Keever. Foster said that he saw both Keever and Woodworth, another Americanized Canadian, who were associated with him in the purchase of the horses, but he did not ask them for the receipts.

Another feature of the day was the opposition taken by Mr. Carvell to questions asked by Mr. Foster. Mr.
Foster was then sworn and presented a memorandum which he had prepared for the House of the Mil-lits Department. This showed that he had bought 428 horses, 218 cavalry, 120 artillery and 50 general purpose.
The average price was $173. The horses were bought between Aug. 13 and Sept. 4. He had appointed as his representative, Mr. Oakes and had Woodworth, who were willing to pay their own expenses. Questioned by Mr. Carvell, Mr. Foster said he did not know that Keever and Woodworth now have the receipts, but he believed that they had. He had seen them in his own hands. Mr. Foster said that he had seen the receipts, but did not secure the receipts. He declined. Asked if he thought Keever and Woodworth had made money out of the affair, Mr. Foster said satisfactorily.

"Not one cent, and you know it,"
he declared. "I believe that to be the most contemptible steal in Canada, and you know all about it. If you don't know all about it you are an idiot."

"You call me an idiot," said Mr.
Foster with heat and rising in his chair. "I repeat, if you don't know all about it, you are an idiot," said Mr. Carvell.

The chairman finally restored order, and Mr. Carvell proceeded.
To the chairman, Mr. Foster said he had handed no money throughout the transaction. He had used drafts.
The farmers cashed the checks themselves.

THOS. M. RILEY RELEASED.

Pardon Was Intended For Thomas
Riley of Hamilton.

OTTAWA, April 13.—The Canadian Government has released a wrong killer. The records convinced yesterday afternoon. Now there is official consternation. Similarity of names and a clerical mistake caused justice to go.

Thomas M. Riley, who, a year ago, was given a fifteen-year sentence for manslaughter for killing a bartender in London, Ontario, wrote his thanks to a London clergyman for efforts made to secure his release.

The clergyman had made no such effort, and his surprised enquiries showed that the wrong man was freed. It develops that the Canadian Government decided to grant a pardon to "Thomas Riley" two years ago, was given a seven-year term for manslaughter for killing his wife in Hamilton. His condition of health at the time of his arrest was such that the circumstances connected with the mode of life of the woman killed led the Government to this decision.

It appears that the circumstances of the case and the description of the man's age, place of conviction, which was made by the Minister of Justice, were those of the prisoner from Hamilton. But in some way the letter "M" had been put into the name, which made the name of the prisoner from London. Therefore, instead of being Thomas Riley it was Thomas M. Riley. The name and the description were the usual course to the State Department and following traditional practice, the State Department made an error in the release of the prisoner by name only, omitting the description. The penitentiary officials, therefore, had nothing to do with the matter, and they released Thomas M. Riley, late of London, now of Missouri.

A new pardon will be made out for the Hamilton prisoner. An effort will be made to extradite Thomas M. Riley, but the chance of rectifying the mistake is extremely slight.

Are Continuing Attacks.

LONDON, April 13.—Bulgarian forces are continuing their attacks on the Serbian frontier, according to a dispatch received at the Serb legation yesterday afternoon.

It states they assailed the block house at Zankova and forced the Serbian troops to retire at Malche.
Another attack was made near Mouchkovo, but the Bulgarians were repulsed there.

"The general impression," the despatch concludes, "is that these bands were sent to provoke a conflict with the Serbian frontier at the moment when the attack on the station at Strumitza occurred."

Mail Orders Suffer.

LONDON, April 13.—The mail order business in the United Kingdom propose entering a protest to the Canadian Postmaster-General against the delay in the delivery of mail orders. It states that the delay is due to the fact that the Canadian Postmaster-General is not making adequate provision for the delivery of mail orders.

St. Lawrence Free of Ice.

MONTREAL, April 13.—The St.
Lawrence river will be clear of ice by the end of the week. The ice breaker "Albatross" has been in the river since the 1st of the month. The ice has been broken up by the breaker, and the river is now open to navigation.

WITNESS WITH RUSSIA

Eighty-Day Battle of the Carpathians Nears Its End.

Crises in the Hungarian Campaign
Will Hasten Before of Other Important Battles Will Have Time to Develop. Says Fredrick Rennet—Austrians Are Abandoning Undamaged Guns.

LONDON, April 13.—With the capture by the Russians of almost all the main chain of mountains, the battle of the Carpathians, which has lasted upwards of eighty days, is approaching a termination over an extensive front, and the Russians are said to be moving at various points by railways and roads and using the rivers and streams down the southern slopes towards the plains of Hungary.

The present, if it continues successfully, will be the crowning Russian military action, compel the retirement with little or no fighting, of the Austrians and the Germans who are still north of the Carpathians, to the east of Lemberg Pass, and in eastern Galicia and Bukovina.

The battle which has been successfully conducted by the Russians, was, from all accounts, one of the fiercest of the war, and the manner in which the Russians overcame the difficulties of mountain fighting in mid-winter has been the subject of praise by those who witnessed the operations, or are acquainted with the country traversed.

Frederick Rennet, says in a despatch to The Daily News from Petrograd: "It is clear now the crisis in Hungarian campaign is at hand before any of the great decisive battles of the spring campaign elsewhere in Europe have time to develop. This candidity for Austro-German strategy is immediately due to the Russian energy and tactical ability of the Russian brigade leaders under Brusilov."

The Russians have now crossed the entire crest of the enemy's position in the Carpathians from Ondava to Tsek. They have made a wide moving below on a 40-mile wide west ward to Tsek, have overcome what has hitherto been believed to be an impenetrable obstacle. They are moving very slowly, and when not fighting have to dig their way through narrow gorges, and are hindered by heavy masses of snow, which has fallen from the precipitous hillsides and are often ten feet deep. They frequently find mountain guns and machine guns intact, hidden or abandoned by Austrians."

PEACE TALK GERMAN.

Agitation For End of War Is Purely a Teutonic Product.

LONDON, April 13.—At the Foreign Office it was stated yesterday that nothing is known concerning the reports of peace. It is stated definitely that nothing has occurred which indicates that Germany is making any move towards peace. Germany is held responsible for the "peace talk." It is deduced from this that Germany is hesitating to make a move which is avoidable end will be, and that she is endeavoring to place upon the allies the responsibility for the continuation of the war. The British Government is making an effort yesterday to obtain some definite official statement from the Government, but no reply was given that it was not considered wise to engage in arguments concerning peace.

It was stated on good authority,
however, that what Premier Asquith said in Parliament concerning peace still holds good. Mr. Asquith said in his speech of March 1 that the time to talk peace was when the great tasks which Britain and her allies have undertaken are accomplished.

More Munitions Needed.

LONDON, April 13.—The Earl of Durham, addressing a recruiting meeting last night, said:
"The British headquarters in France,
Sir John French said to me: 'I know that, but our men are superior to the Germans. I know that when the time comes for us to make our great move, we can break through the German lines. I know what we want, and must have, and that is more and more munitions. I want to pound the enemy, and go on pounding him, regardless of the expense, because by doing so I am saving the lives of our gallant men. The more ammunition, the less danger are our men incurring in making these advances.'"

Another distinguished general said:

"The ball is at our feet, and we can kick it if we have the munitions."

U. S. Cruiser To Go to Smyrna.

PHILADELPHIA, April 13.—The cruiser "Albatross" is to be sent to the Philadelphia navy yard yesterday from Hampton Roads. After a few minor repairs she will leave for Smyrna to protect the American interests in the Mediterranean. It was said that the work upon the cruiser would be finished and that she probably would be able to get away within two weeks.

The Chester, which is the speediest ship of her class in the navy, will relieve either the North Carolina or Tennessee, now in Mediterranean waters.

Berlin Orchestra To Tour England.

BERLIN, April 13.—(By wireless to Smyrna.)—The famous Philharmonic Orchestra of Berlin is preparing to make a concert tour of England early in May, according to an announcement made yesterday by the Overseas News Agency. Felix Weingarten will conduct the orchestra, and the musicians will play twice in Brussels.

The rivers Rhine, Moselle and Necer and many tributaries are rising rapidly. The Mayence region is threatened with inundations.

THE Salvation Army will not do Victoria any harm, and may do the town a whole lot of good. No apologies need be made for this organization. Its rescue work in large cities commands universal commendation. The officers will probably speak on the streets, and we know that they will receive the greatest respect.

SPRING is here, and everyone feels happy. It does not matter so much now whether the woodpile is big or small, we can get along any way, the hens cockle and down go the price of eggs, the milkman will soon be saying, milk is now a cent cheaper, off go the rubbers, over shoes and all superfluous clothing. The times may be hard, but we can get along in the good old summer time.

Are the Canadian people dishonest? Do the revelations at Ottawa warrant this belief? Our apple trade is in danger because of dishonest packers, and our butter and cheese for export have to be carefully inspected. Perhaps the Canadian people are just as good in this respect as others, perhaps better, but the fact remains there is a whole lot of room for improvement, and we are reading now is nothing new, it is the same old disease in a new form, it has gone on under different governments and it is a national disgrace.

Richard's QUICK NAPTHA THE WOMAN'S SOAP

IF ever there was a year in the history of Canada when a good crop was needed, that year is 1915. The Spring has opened without any marked improvement in business, and it is useless to expect any great change while the war lasts. Industrial life in the cities and towns will be more or less quiet, and the one thing which will help out will be good crops. It is said that the conditions are favorable in the West, and may they keep that way, and here is the same wish for Ontario.

ACCORDING to the Sun Owen Sound intends to handle its sport in a novel way. A meeting will be held on Thursday evening next, either in the town hall or the council chamber to consider the formation of an athletic commission, which will handle all the sports of the town. Mayor McQuaker will preside at the meeting and all who are interested in the matter are invited to attend. It is felt by those who take an interest in local sports that the formation of such a commission is the proper way to handle all local sports such as hockey, football, baseball, lacrosse and even track events, and it is likely the meeting will result in the forming of such an organization.

THE following from the Kincardine Review will be read with interest—Two men, both over sixty years of age, met last week for the first time. They were brothers, and they came to see a sick brother, Capt. Hugh McKinnon. When their parents came to this country from Scotland they left one son John, with relatives there. Shortly after their arrival here, another son, Donald, was born. Donald grew up and went to Madison, Dakota, where he has made a success in mercantile business and farming. When John grew up he came to Canada and went farming in Manitoba. He, too, has done well. The two came to Tiverton on news of their brother's serious illness and met for the first time.

AN EXCELLENT REMEDY FOR LITTLE ONES

Mrs. Sidney Davis, Audley, Ont. writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the past twelve months and have found them an excellent medicine for my little girl." Thousands of other mothers say the same thing—once a mother has used them she would use nothing else. They are pleasant to take; the result is sure, and above all they are guaranteed by a government analyst to be absolutely free from injurious drugs. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from T. D. Williams Medicine Co. Brookville, Ont.

A miscellaneous shower was given by the ladies of the Methodist church at the home of Mrs. S. F. Warren in honor of Miss Laura Lemcke, who has been organist in that church for nearly two years and whose marriage took place on Wednesday, April 14th, to Mr. James Weaver, livernary of this town.

A pretty, but quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. Menary on Monday morning at 7 o'clock when their second youngest daughter, Hazel, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Fred Pedwell in the presence of the immediate friends of the contracting parties. The bride was handsomely dressed in a gown of pongee with trimmed with overalls. Her travelling suit was of tan serge cloth with straw hat and veil to match which was stylishly and suitably made. She wore the set of mink fur, which was the gift from the groom. The other presents were beautiful and costly. Immediately after the wedding breakfast the happy couple left for Wiarton to take the train for Owen Sound, where they intend to spend a few days. Then they leave for Thornbury to make their future home as the mother of the groom is ill. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Pedwell much happiness and prosperity in their journey through life.

Carried.

Couch and Craig—That in consideration of the large expenditures being made from year to year on the roads of this municipality and with the additional expenditures resulting from committed statute labor, it is therefore necessary that we should have an improved system by which more satisfactory results may be obtained. We therefore recommend that a committee be appointed to investigate a uniform system to meet these conditions and that such committee be composed of Messrs. Couch, Weir and the Reeve and with instructions to report thereon at present session of council. Carried.

Couch and Lemcke—That where a committee of this council appointed to devise an improved system of expenditure of money on the roads of this township, have reported in favor of having a uniform system for the whole township and in pursuance of this and have recommended that a general superintendent or Chief Road Commissioner be appointed whose duty it shall be with the co-operation and approval of the council and a committee of council authorized to act in that behalf, to lay out and plan the expenditures of all moneys appointed for road purposes within this municipality over which the council have control. Also to see that the roads are properly graded and trimmed up at early in the spring as practicable so as to give the best results.

That morning, the long undulating uplands had been stretches of sunlit purple, royal in coloring, boundless in extent, with fair broadness of purple where the cottonwoods shed their leaves in the little wet gullies; now, in the grey of coming night, these uplands were wild, colorless and desolate as a stormy sea, void and without shelter.

It was a dreary outlook for the two women in an open rig, drawn by two utterly worn out horses, but it was Mr.
Anstruther who remained in the rig.
"Do you mean to say, Combe, that you don't know where we are?" he asked impatiently.

"We ain't in England, Mr. Anstruther, and we forgot to order milestones
when we heard you were coming," reported the other, his color rising.

"No, we're not in England, Mrs. Rolt put in hastily, "we are in Jim's own country, and if we are off the trail for a moment, it does not matter a little bit. Which way, Jim?"

Jim's face relaxed at once. Like a high-spirited horse, Jim's face at the least touch of the curb, but the light hands of his horse's wife could do what they liked with Jim Combe, the foreman of the Rolt Ranch.

"I'm afraid we can't make camp tonight where we meant to. I got fooled by the weather myself. Didn't calculate on a rainstorm before morning, nor on its turning so plaguey dark, but I know you won't wince if you do get wet. You can't hunt and keep dry all the time. If you let the Indian drive and follow me, I'll get you to Riley's cow camp in no time. He'll show what he's made of, but it's better than this,"
and he shook his brow and moved on ahead of the cart.

"Do you mind very much, Kitty?"
Mrs. Rolt asked her friend.

CHAPTER I.

A Start.

"I am afraid that you are a poor little Clifford."

"What do you mean, Mr. Anstruther?"

"To be polite to a young lady with an imagination. Did you not tell me that you were in Larkshire, that it never rained in British Columbia? Don't you remember how blue your eyes were when you were six thousand miles away from them? May I be permitted to ask if this is a fair sample of your ideas?"

The speaker, a tall, slight man, of not more than twenty-three, stood beside an up-country cart, the collar of his waterproof coat turned over his ears, a wet cigarette drooping from his lips, and an icy sleet storm driving into the back of his neck, in spite of his endeavors to keep it out.

Every line of his thin, well-bred face expressed discomfort and disgust, whilst the smartness of his get-up emphasized the roughness of his surroundings. The ladies he was addressing, in spite of the disadvantage of age, seemed infinitely more in their element than he did.

"Does it never rain in England, Mr.
Anstruther?"

"Yes, but we admit it, though I never saw anything like this in that much-maligned country. I suppose this is what you call a blizzard," and he looked at the ladies with a grimace as he said so.

"The figure only half visible in the darkness as he advanced in his horse and waited. He was too far in front to have heard, and yet Mrs. Rolt was afraid. Jim's hearing, like all his faculties, was keen as that of a wild thing."

"I don't believe that that fellow knows a bit where he is," muttered Anstruther angrily.

"I don't suppose that he does exactly, but he will find his way if we let him alone. None of us could do that to this darkness."

"You trust him wonderfully, Mrs.
Rolt."

"We have known him a long time.
Haven't we, Kitty?"

But the girl had nothing to say.
Perhaps her sympathy and her experience were not at one. Anstruther groined something under his breath, and the procession moved on again at a foot.

"Well, your horses seem to have had enough of it, if you have not, Mrs.
Rolt," he said at last, as the pair halted resolutely at the foot of an exceptionally steep pitch. "Get up, you brutes, and the angry man laid his whip savagely across the quarters of the nearest horse."

It winced but stood still.
Again the whip fell, and the horses backed so that the cart nearly turned over.

"Stop that, Mr. Anstruther."

"There was an angry ring in the lady's voice, but he was too savage to notice it."

"Pardon me, Miss Kitty and yourself cannot stay here all night. The brutes must be made to go," and dis-mounting, he proceeded to make them.
But he was hardly on his feet sooner than Mrs. Rolt was out of the cart, and as his hand rose with the whip in it, he was caught by the wrist, and held as firmly by those thin white fingers as if it had been a man who held him.

"You forget yourself, Mr. Anstruther.
These are my horses, and I'll manage them myself. Go on and ask Jim to wait for us. Kitty and I can do without your help, thank you."

Anstruther raised his hat with a muttered apology, and did as he was bid, wishing himself back in England and pretty Mrs. Rolt at the devil.
What he asked himself, did women want in such a country? However, unless he was very much mistaken, she would be obliged to call him back to those horses before he had gone very far. Each of the brutes could not be made to understand anything but the whip. But Mr. Frank Anstruther was very much mistaken. Polly Rolt was not only a superb horsewoman—as good with cattle, her husband boasted, as any cowboy—but she loved them
and understood them as few men do, because she loved them. So she stood there in the deep mud and driving hail, passing her fine, soft hands

ing, but just cuddled down into her wraps to endure, as well as might be, the long and dreary drive over their wheeled vehicles.

However, rain, horses and rancors are used to such work, and the Rolt pair scrambled safely through the ravines, though the cart swayed a perilous angle sometimes, and the water sloped about on the floor of the cart making it impossible to keep it free of it.

After an hour of this the horses began to balk badly, and the cold increased, so that what had been sleek became half-stung like the lash of a whip.

"Do you really think that it is any good to go on, Mrs. Rolt?" asked Anstruther, appealing for the first time to his spur with Combe. He was wet to the bone by this time, had lost all confidence in his Aqua Scutum, and had been down two or three times, his big English hunter being as much at sea in this country as its rider.

"Do you think that it is any good to stop here, Mr. Anstruther?"

"The figure only half visible in the

because she loved them. So she stood there in the deep mud and driving hail, passing her fine, soft hands over the wheels. Danks still some thrill of her gentle nature had soothed the poor beasts.

Then she stroked their drooping ears, and took the mare's arm in her arm, putting her face down beside the horse's, and talking tender words which beasts understand.

"Drop the reins altogether, Dick," she commanded. "Now, old boy, come along, come on, come on, up there, up and with her hand on the mare's neck she led the way up the steep bank, the horses going with her where no whip could have driven them.

From the top of the bank a tiny speck of light showed ahead in the driven gully.

"Jim has camped, I think."
"Just in time to save my life," said
a desolate voice from the box seat.
"Yes, Mary."

"Let Mr. Anstruther down easily.
You are pretty hard on him."
"Not half as hard on him as he was on poor Danks," snapped the other.

"I know, dear, but he is in a strange country, and things are not going well for him. He isn't a miff, really, and yet everything has gone wrong for him so far."

What Polly Rolt answered, only the winds know, but her face cleared as she drew up at the little bog cabin, beside which stood two dripping horses.

"I made it, you see, Mr. Anstruther," she called in the slang of the West, and I will tell you how I came and help us out of the cart. Kitty is too wary to log to move without assistance."

Anstruther hurried to the cart, and putting his waterproof over the wheel, helped Mrs. Rolt. Daintily to the ground, as if her skirt had not been one half a mile mud already.

But she tried not to laugh, and pretty Kitty, her face flushed rose pink, and her eyes bright with the weather, made amends, leaning a trifle more than was perhaps absolutely necessary on the supporting arm and whispering:

"Never mind Polly. She doesn't mean it, but the Boss himself dare not fling the horses when she is near."

CHAPTER II.
Two Stages of Development

When Anstruther had taken the ladies baggage into the cabin, a miserable log hut with a mud roof adorned by a few antlers, he turned to unharness the horses.

His fingers were numbed with cold and none of the buckles were warm his English experience had taught him, that they should be, besides which, as a matter of fact, he had generally left the unharnessing to his groom.

"Not that, Mr. Anstruther. See, this is the way."

But before Mrs. Rolt could show him the slight figure, which had just taken the saddles off the riding horses, took charge, the wet straps yielded as if by magic to the cowboy's fingers, and the harness lay off by the fireplace to some unseen corner.

"Where have you put Ruddygore?"
Anstruther asked Combe.

"In the corral with the others. Why do you want him inside?"

On such a night Anstruther might have been forgiven for thinking that the but was none too good for his well-bred hunter. It certainly was not as good as the place to which the valuable beast had been accustomed, but Anstruther saw that there was no help for it, and the cowboy would have taken his chance with the rest.

"Well, what can I do to help?"

"You don't have to do anything.
Just make yourself pleasant to the ladies. I'll be through in a minute."

"You might cut some wood for us, Mr. Anstruther," called Kitty from the doorway. "I should love a great roasting fire. I am just perished, aren't you, Mary?"

Anstruther picked up the axe a little doubtfully, and looked hopelessly around for something to chop.

"There are some pines in that last gully we passed through," suggested Mrs. Rolt.

Through the dark and not quite certain of his direction, the unhappy tobetchaco (tenderfoot) splashed his way, and once in the gully put his back into the work.

It was not his fault that the axe never bit into the same place.
It was to his credit that he kept on hammering, until at last a green pine,
seven or eight inches in diameter,
yielded to his perseverance.

With infinite toil he trimmed it, cut it in lengths, and then packed it back in the fire-trip to the cabin.

Jim had been waiting for the last two trips, and as soon as Anstruther put his axe down, he took it up and disappeared for five minutes, bringing back a huge burnt "stick" on his shoulder.

There was rather more wood in that burnt "stick" than Anstruther had brought in his three trips.

With half a dozen dead strokes the cowboy cut two short lengths from Anstruther's green pine, for fire-logs, tossed all the rest of that gentleman's hard-earned wood out of the way, chopped, split, and kindled his own dry log, hung the billy on an improved gallows, and began to cut the bacon.

It was all so simple and so quickly done when you knew how to do it, but it was annoying to have waiting for half an hour to no purpose.

"I don't seem to be much good," said
Mr. Anstruther.

Mrs. Rolt laughed and shook her head at the cowboy.

"Jim," she said, "you are an old bear. Why didn't you tell Mr. Anstruther what kind of sticks to cut?"

Jim grinned. "I guessed he'd have known that much."

"How should he? He has not had to chop wood before."

"You don't say? Is it all coal over there?"

Mrs. Rolt ignored the question.

"You play fair, Jim. You've got to show Mr. Anstruther how to do things, if you don't, I'll go home."

"Right away!"

"Yes, right away."

"Stop and have his dinner first," he said, with impudent coaxing, and handed her a dish of bacon, the reasons cut so thin and so daintily that as if they had been prepared by a professional cook.

"Wasn't you have some, Miss Rolt?"

CHAPTER XXX.

Two Heavens.

AT the moment that Deacon Baxter was standing out on his quest for a husband, Patty and Mark drove into the Mason dooryard, and the sisters flew into each other's arms. The dress that Mark had bought for Patty was the usual charming and unassuming offering of a man's spontaneous affection, being of dark violet cloth with a wadded cape lined with satin.

Waitstill in her plain flannel-rocker was entranced with Patty's beauty and elegance, and the two girls had a few minutes of sisterly talk, of interchange of radiant looks and confidences before Mark tore them apart, their cheeks wet with happy tears.

As the Mason house faded from view Patty waved her hand until the last moment, turned in her seat and said: "Mark, dear, do you think your father would care if I spent the twenty-dollar gold piece he gave me for Waitstill? She will be married in a fortnight, and if my father does not give her the few things she owns she will go to her husband more ill provided even than I was. I have so much, dear Mark, and so little."

"It's your own wedding present to use as you wish," Mark answered. "It's exactly like you to give it away. Go ahead and spend it if you want to. I can always earn enough to keep you without anybody's help."

And Mark, after waving the whip valiantly, kissed his wife just over the violet ribbons, and with slight blushes flinging, they sped over the snow toward what seemed Paradise to them, the New Hampshire village where they had been married and where their new life would begin.

So a few days later Waitstill received a great parcel which relieved her of many feminine anxieties, and she began to shape and cut and stitch during all the hours she had to herself. They were not many, for every day she tended to the Boynton farm and began with youthful enthusiasm the household tasks that were so soon to be hers by right.

"Don't waste too much time and strength here, my dear Mark," said Patty. "Do you suppose for a moment I shall keep you long on this lonely farm? I am ready for admission to the bar or I am fitted to teach in the best school in New England. Nothing has held me here but my mother, and in her present condition of mind we can safely say where there are many mania and associations to sudden and hammer on, but go where the best opportunity offers and as soon as my wife will be a part of great price," he added fondly, "I intend to provide a right setting for her."

Ivory was right. Waitstill Baxter was indeed a jewel of a woman. She was little knowledge but much wisdom, and after all knowledge stands for the leaves on a tree and wisdom in the girl, a richness that had been growing and ripening through the years that she thought so gray and wasted.

Those lonely tasks, too hard for a girl's hands, those unwarmed drudgeries, those days of faithful labor in and out of doors, those evenings of self-sacrifice over the mending basket, the quiet avoidance of all that might stir her father's crazy temper, her patience with his misapprehensions, the hourly holding back of the busy word—all these had played their part: all these had been somehow welded into a strong, sunny, steady life wisdom that was no better name for it, and so she had unconsciously the best of all harvests to bring up dower to a husband who was worthy of her.

These were quiet, busy days at the farm, for Mrs. Boynton took a new if transient hold upon life that delivered her the doctor. Rodman was a young, sunny, steady life wisdom that was no better name for it, and so she had unconsciously the best of all harvests to bring up dower to a husband who was worthy of her.

"We can never wait two more days, Rod! let us elope here! Let us take the old bullock and run over to New Hampshire where one can be married the minute one feels like it. We could do it between sunrise and moonset and be at home for a late supper. Would she be too tired to bake the biscuits for us, do you think? What do you say, Rod, will you be best man?" And there would be youthful, unaccustomed laughter flouting out from the kitchen or living room, bringing a smile of content to Mrs. Boynton's face as she lay propped up in bed with her open Bible beside her. "He binds up the broken hearted," she whispered to herself. "It gives unto them a garland for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness."

The quiet wedding was over. There had been neither festivity nor fiery, nor presents nor bridal journey, only a homecoming that meant deep peace and joy, as fervent gratitude as all four hearts ever contained in all the world. But the laughter ceased, though the happiness flowed silently underneath, almost forgotten in the sudden sorrow that overcame them, for it fell out that Lois Boynton had only waited as it were for the marriage and could stay no longer.

"There are two heavens . . . Both made of love—oh, inconceivable! By the other, so divine it is: The other, far on this side of the stars. By men called home."

And these two heavens met over at Boynton's during these cold, white, glinting December days. Lois Boynton found her best. After a windy moonlit night a morning dawned in which a hush seemed to be on the earth. The cattle huddled together in the farmyard and the fowls shrank into their feathers. The sky was gray, and suddenly the white heralds came floating down like scouts seeking for paths and camping places.

Waitstill turned Mrs. Boynton's bed so that she could look out of the window. Slope after slope, dazling in white crust, rose one upon another and vanished as they slipped away into the dark green of the pine forests.

Then, "There fell from out the skies A feather whiten from all the land: A strange, soft, molten something, pure as light. It could not be called a storm, for there was no wind since sunrise, and no whirling force, no drifting, only a still, steady, solemn fall of crystal flakes, hour after hour, hour after hour. Mrs. Boynton's book of books was open on the bed, and her finger marked a passage in her favorite Bible poet.

"Here it is, daughter," she whispered. "I have found it, in the same chapter where the morning stars sang together and the sons of God shouted for joy. The Lord speaks to Job out of the whirlwind and says: 'Hast thou entered into the treasures of the snow, or hast thou seen the treasures of the hail? Sit near me, Waitstill, and look out on the blizz. Hast thou entered into the treasures of the snow? No, not yet, but please God I shall, and I shall see other treasures soon,' and she closed her eyes.

All day long the air ways were filled with the glittering army of the snowflakes, all day long the snow grew deeper and deeper on the ground, and on the breast of some white winged wonder that passed Lois Boynton's window her white soul forsook its "earth" and took flight at last.

"Our little brother is never in the way."

remember right, poor Lois Boynton! For weeks afterward the village was shrouded in snow as it had never been before within memory, but in every happy household the home life deepened day by day. The books came out in the old evenings; the grandfathers told old tales under the inspiration of the search fire; the children gathered in their woolen stools to roost apples and pop corn, and hearts came closer together than when summer called the housemates to wander here and there in fields and woods and beside the river.

Over at Boynton's, when the snow was whirling and the wind howling round the chimneys of the high bawled old farmhouse, when every window had its frame of ermine and fringe of icicles and the elms rattled furiously against the glass, then Ivory would throw a great black log on the bank of coals between the fireplaces, the kettle would begin to sing and the cat come from some snug corner to curl and purr on the braided hearth rug.

School was in session and Ivory and Rod had their textbooks of no avail, but, oh, what a new and strange joy to study when there was a sweet woman sitting near her workbasket—a woman wearing a shining braided hair, as if it were a coronet; a woman of clear eyes and tender lips, one who could feel as well as think, one who could be a man's comrade as well as his dear love! Truly the second heaven, the one on "this side of the stars," by men called home," was very present over at Boynton's.

Sometimes the broad seated old haircloth sofa would be drawn in front of the fire, and Ivory, laying his pipe and his Greek grammar on the table, would take some lighter book and open it on his knee. Waitstill would lift her eyes from her sewing to meet her husband's glance that spoke longing for her closer companionship and, gladly leaving her work and slipping into the place by his side, she would put her elbow on his shoulder and read with him.

Once Rod from his place at a table on the other side of the room looked and looked at them with a kind of instinct beyond his years and finally crept up to Waitstill and, putting an arm through hers, nestled his curly head on her shoulder with the quaint calm and grace that belonged to him.

It was a young and beautiful shoulder, Waitstill's, and there had always been and would always be a graceful curve in it where a child's head might lie in comfort. Presently with a shy pressure, Rod whispered: "Hail! I sit the other room, Waitstill and Ivory! Am I in the way?"

Ivory looked up from his book quietly shaking his head, while Waitstill put her arm around the boy and drew him closer.

"Our little brother is never in the way," she said, as she kissed him. On midsummer evenings the windows of the old farmhouse open at Boynton's place with unaccustomed lights and voices break the stillness, lessening the gloom of the long grassy lawn of Lois Boynton's watching in days gone by. On sunny mornings there is a merry babble of children's chatter, mingled with gentle maternal warnings, for this is a new brood of young things, and the river is calling them as it has called all the others who ever came within the circle of its magic. The fragile harp-bells hanging their blue beads from the crevices of the rocks; the brilliant columbines swaying to and fro on their stalks; the patches of gleaming sand in shallow places beckoning little bare feet to come and tread them; the glint of silver minnows darting hither and thither in some still pool; the tempestuous journey of some weather-battered log, lighting its way downstream—here is life in abundance, luring the child to share its risks and its joys.

When Waitstill's boys and Patty's girls come back to the farm they play by Saco water as their mothers and their fathers did before them. The paths through the pine woods along the river's bank are trodden smooth by their restless, wandering feet. Their eager, curious eyes search the wayside for adventure, but their babble and laughter are oftentimes heard from the ruins of an old house hidden by great trees. The stones of the cellar, all overgrown with blackberry vines, are still there, and a fragment of the brick chimney, where cravens built their nests from year to year. A wilderness of weeds, tall and rampant

"I was troubled with the pain of the heart and sleeplessness," writes Mr. J. M. Pritchard, Lumber Inspector, Lumberville, N. H., "and I bought and used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food with very great benefit, and my whole system was strengthened and built up." Dr. Chase's Nerve Food forms new rich blood and restores the fragile, wasted nerve cells.

spring up to hide the stone over which Jacob Cochran stepped daily when he leaped from his door and the polished stick with which three-year-old Betty beats a tattoo may be a round from the very chair in which he sat, according to the Bible and from his own vision. The thickets of sweet clover and red tipped grasses, of waving ferns and young elder bushes hide all of ugliness that belongs to the deserted spot and serve as a miniature forest in whose shade the youngsters forebode the future at their play of home building and housekeeping. In a far corner, altogether concealed from the passerby, there is a secret treasure, a wonderful rosebush, its green leaves shining with health and vigor. When the July sun is turning the hayfield yellow the children part the bushes in the leafy corner and little Waitstill Boynton steps cautiously in to gather one splendid rose, "for father and mother."

Jacob Cochran's heart, with all its faults and frailties, has long been at peace. On a chill, dreary night in November all that was mortal in him was raised from his unbroken resting place, not far from the ruins of his old abode, and borne by three of his disciples far away to another state. The gravestones were replaced, face downward, deep, deep in the earth, and the old laid back upon them, so that no man thenceforward could mark the place of the prophet's transient burial amid the scenes of his first and only triumphant ministry.

"It is a sad story, Jacob Cochran's," Waitstill said to her husband when she first discovered that her children had chosen the deserted spot for their grave. "And yet, Ivory, the red rose blooms and blooms in the ruins of the man's house, and perhaps somewhere in the world he has left a message that matches the rose."

THE END.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Glacial Try It! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a 25 cent bottle of Dandruff.

If you care for heavy hair that glazes with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and bouncy, try Dandruff. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. Dandruff weakens the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair falls out, loosens and dies; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a 25-cent bottle of Dandruff. It is from any drug store and just try it.

Closing Up The Gaps

The telephone is fast closing up the gaps between farm houses, making farmers neighbors in as real a sense as are townsfolk.

And it is not alone in this increase of neighborliness that the telephone proves a boon to the farmer. In the every-day business of farming it is a priceless aid. In the single item of enabling the farmer to keep in touch the markets in selling his produce the telephone has often saved ten times its cost.

In emergencies, the use of the telephone has saved lives, checked fires, summoned timely help and effected such economies of time and labor at critical moments as to make it invaluable.

Have you a telephone? It can prove its worth to you as it has done to others.

NEW 1915 INVENTION

RETAINS NATURE WITHOUT HARM. DANGER OF PAIN. COSTS YOU NOTHING TO INVESTIGATE.

Mr. Egan's new invention, "The Curator" and "The Curator", are rapidly taking the place of the old-fashioned trusses purchased by mail order. These new inventions are constructed to assist nature in her work of healing and are free from every cumbersome feature that you possibly have been annoyed with under old trusses. Complete control is given you. Correct holding will be experienced from the start. No more escape of rupture. Misery comes to an end at once. You will enjoy that absolute confidence of being able to do anything at any time or any place without the bowdler making its escape outside the abdomen. This will relieve you of mental anxiety and worry. This will make you feel like a new person. This kind of relief is intended to assist nature to close the opening. These new inventions are adapted to different forms of hernia to meet the needs of every man, woman or child. Stop further experimenting with foreign trusses and end your rupture troubles at small cost by consulting a Canadian rupture specialist. Delays may be dangerous. Don't miss your chance.

According to the daily papers stock is going down in price and sells now on the Toronto market from $5.20 to 7.50. Hides are now selling from 20 to 12 cents per pound, which looks as if stock will drop even lower.

The Town Council are certainly making an improvement in dealing with the scavenger difficulty. Each closet will be charged $1.50 and added to the taxes. This is 50c cheaper than in former years, and will enable the council to secure a scavenger. This is a good move.

New Clerk of Amabel

On Thursday last week Mr. Geo. Wayne was appointed Clerk of Amabel Township. There were about 16 applications but only seven remained in the field. The township had a lot of excellent material to select from, and so much of it that they cut down the salary from $260 to $200.

Mr. Wayne has a farm at Elaineburg and intends to live in Allenford. About 35 years ago his father, who was collector for the township, was drowned while crossing the Saugeen River. He had $70 of the township money in his pocket at the time which was recovered. As he lost his life in the service of this township this thing had much to do with the securing of the position for his son.

Last Friday Mr. Carl Whicker went to take down a heavy pill that was hanging near the ceiling in their store when it fell striking him on the head and inflicting a nasty cut that necessitated the putting in of 2 or 3 stitches. We are pleased to report he is able to be about and the cut healing nicely.

The Town Council

There was a communication from the Fleming Publishing Co., Owen Sound, Monday night, asking for a view or two of Warton as they intend to publish a book of views of towns on the Georgian Bay. This book is intended for sale to tourists, and they will be furnished with a photo of some of our beauty spots.

The Secretary of the Fire Underwriters, Toronto, wants to know all about our new fire brigade, if it is voluntary, will sleep in the hall and Councillor Hurbut directed that the reply should be that the men are on salary, a far more satisfactory arrangement than before.

There was a communication from ex-captain W. J. Ferguson, Port Moody, stating that he had saved the statistics of births, deaths and marriages in the town from 1880 to 1890, these were in a bound volume and were very useful to the corporation and he would sell the same for $10. It appears that during this period there were 793 births, 333 marriages and 305 deaths. The Council agreed to purchase the book, but it was not done until a division of the Council was taken and the years and guys called. The Clerk maintained that it was a valuable book for reference.

The sum of $75 has been offered for the old Christopher McIvor property, which was bought for taxes. This matter was referred to the Property Committee.

Mr. Thomas Scott is building a sidewalk from Gould street to his residence and all he asks of the town is to furnish the stone and this the town agreed to do.

The Assessment Committee made a lengthy report containing a list of remitted taxes.

Councillor Hurbut reported that the fire brigade was thoroughly organized.

The stone crusher is evidently in need of repairs and the Clerk was asked to ascertain what these repairs would be. It has been the custom to lend the stone crusher to other municipalities, but some of the Councillors thought that one man should always have charge of this machine.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Kalbleisch and Frank Bryan of Colpoys also Joe Currie of Warton called at R. Tyndall on Sunday.

We were sorry to hear of James Caldwell of Mr. getting his foot shot. He is in the Owen Sound hospital at present, we hope he will soon be able to be around again.

Miss Eva Forbes left Saturday for Oxenford, where she will spend a few days with her cousin Miss May Forbes, they intend leaving for Toronto Monday where they will work at the telephone business. We will miss Eva very much.

Examine Your Label

The subscription list of The Echo were corrected last week and if you have not received due credit kindly advise us at once. On the other hand if your label does not read Dec. 15 or Jan. 16 we will be glad to have a remittance. For some time The Echo has been in a class by itself as a local newspaper. It is all home print, on costly paper, gives practically the entire news of the district, as well as the latest war news and the all costs and goes into money. Consequently we will appreciate remittances from our subscribers whenever convenient.

Mr. and Mrs. James Fletcher, who have spent the past two years in New Ontario and are returning to their home in Oxenden, spent Sunday with the latter's brother, Mr. John Wakefield.

Well Ab, it is very kind of you to meet me and the Councillor as he stepped off the evening train Thursday, he had been at Allenford, that day on township business. This is nothing, Jim, just come to the corner and get in the buggy, but when they got there, it was like Old Mosh or Hubbard's cupboard, it was bare, while at the same time a horse drove an empty buggy was going along the highway in the Ottawell settlement. Hal! Hal! He left me untied. Later two pedestrians tramped the diagonal singing "It's a long way to Tipperary."

Elliott Got 30 Days

Joe Elliott, of Cape Croker, whose wife beating we noticed last week, was sent to Walkerton for 30 days for being drunk on the road, and while there he will be charged with cruelty to his wife. As she is still very ill and possibly may not recover Joe may thank his lucky stars if he gets off with lashes, and if ever a man deserved the lash it is this red man from the Cape. Joe swears that he got the liquor from Wilfrid Lamaroniere and Wellington Pennington on the Cape, but the Indians on Saturday swore that they bought a bottle from Elliott, each were fined $5.00 and costs for the offence. There is no sympathy for Elliott in this district and he will deserve all he gets.

Marvellous Accuracy.

The electrically balanced scales that weigh the fresh young leaves for SALADA Tea are accurate to minute precision. If you are in the habit of buying tea in bulk you will have noticed the variance in weights. Remember just a tea-spoonful makes two cups. Full weight of fresh tea inside the wrapper is what you get when buying "SALADA".

The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from her late residence at Altenford and interment will take place in Tara cemetery. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved relatives.

Walkerton

Gustavo Cupesky, of Hepworth, who has been a prisoner in the Walkerton jail for ten days awaiting trial on a charge of receiving stolen goods appeared before Judge Klein on Thursday afternoon and was found guilty. The Judge, however, dealt very leniently with the prisoner allowing him his liberty on suspended sentence. The charge against Cupesky arose from the theft of a set of harness from a freight car at the Hepworth station in June last. Chas. King was charged with the theft and on trial at the sessions, pleaded guilty and in his evidence implicated Cupesky which resulted in the G. T. R. laying a charge against the latter. J. T. Moore, barrister of Walkerton, defended the prisoner.

Dr. McNally, the provincial sanitary inspector, paid Walkerton his annual official visit on Tuesday. The inspector found the sanitation of the town in a very fair condition, but contrary to his orders issued on his last visit, he found the local slaughter houses in the same condition with no improvements made. This incensed Dr. McNally somewhat and he forthwith ordered the butchers to erect new buildings or remodel their present slaughter houses to comply with the conditions set forth in the health act. These improvements and alterations must be made by June 1st.

A Cape Croker Indian was brought to the goal here this week having been sentenced to a term of imprisonment with lashes daily, on a charge of wife-beating by Magistrate H. B. Miller, of Walkerton. The details of the nature of the Indian's crime are lacking, but this must have been an extreme case to warrant such a sentence.

Mr. Ward, an expert shrapnel shell maker, is in charge of the manufacturing of shells under Mr. Griffin at the Canada Bids factory and will start work to-day on a contract of 25,000. There will be two shells of about 50 men working day and night. The dailies had it in big headlines that the Chesley Bakery was making shells. There are two bakeries in Chesley and they are busy turning out the shell of life of munitions of destruction.

Almon Kidd has completed his Dominion Book for the year 1918, a subject of course to corrections by the Court of Revision, and he finds the valuation of this town is $888,080 which is slightly higher than last year. The population is 1901 which is $7 less than last year. This may be accounted for by the receding in our town which has expelled more soldiers for the respective contingents in than in other places of the size in Canada. Through the population shows a slight falling off, business in town is as good as ever and there is not a vacant store in town.

severe penalty, yet it should be a warning to some white men, not Indians, in Walkerton who make a practice of "stomping their wives without the slightest provocation."

Mr. John Parvis, the well-known auctioneer, is being freely spoken of as the probable Conservative candidate to contest South Bruce in the next Dominion election, which, it is expected, will be held about June 14th. While no doubt many other desirable names will be brought before the convention at Fortnora on the 20th, yet it is probable that the nomination will go to Mr. Parvis who is very popular throughout the riding.

The cat-o'-nine tails used for lashing prisoners at the Walkerton goal which has become almost a forgotten part of the paraphernalia of the office of Deputy Sheriff Harris, will be reconstructed this week for use upon the Indian prisoner who was sentenced by Magistrate Miller of Walkerton, to imprisonment and labour for wife-beating. This is the first time in a score of years that the lash has been wielded on a prisoner in the county goal.

Mr. A. Hutchinson who has been an assistant to Mr. N. C. McKay, Agricultural representative for the past few months leaves this week for her home in Mount Forest. His place here will be taken by Mr. G. Skinner, of St. Mary's, who will commence his duties on Monday.

A GOOD MEDICINE FOR THE SPRING

Do Not Use Harsh Purgatives—A Tonic is All You Need.

Not exactly sick—but not feeling quite well. That is the way most people feel in the spring. Easily tired, appetite sickly, sometimes headaches, and a feeling of depression. Pimples or eruptions may appear on the skin or there may be twinges of rheumatism or neuralgia. Any of these indicate that the blood is out of order—that the indoor life of winter has left its mark upon you and may easily develop into more serious trouble.

Do not dose yourself with purgatives, as so many people do in the hope that you can get your blood right. Purgatives gallop through the system and weaken instead of giving strength. Any doctor will tell you this is true. What you need is a tonic that will make new blood and build up the nerves.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the only medicine that can do this speedily and safely. Every dose of this medicine makes new blood which clears the skin, strengthens the appetite and makes tired, depressed men and women and children bright and strong.

Mr. H. E. Stephens, Painesville, Ohio, says: "I suffered severely from headaches and was badly run down in health. I had tried several remedies with no benefit until I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and these have fully restored my health and I can recommend them with confidence to all weak women."

Chesley

H. H. Miller Ex-M.P. gave two excellent missionary addresses in Wesley church last Sunday. In the morning he sketched the wonderful growth of missions and in the evening used the great truths in Europe to illustrate the spiritual fight that is continually being waged between the forces of good and evil.

The Easter Vestry was held on Monday April 6th. The treasurer, Mr. C. Steinbock, gave a statement of the finance of parish which showed a balance on the right side. Messrs. C. Steinbock and T. Ash were elected wardens for the year. Mr. C. Steinbock, treasurer; Messrs. Homer and Cecil Davis, sidesmen; Mr. A. Pollock, synodians.

was served by the Indian and a large number of members were in attendance. After tea was served, the business of the Church was then dealt with showing that since the last annual meeting in 1917 the growth of the congregation had grown spiritually and financially. Before bringing the meeting to a close and after considering the different reports of work accomplished during the past year, the church desired to place on record the high esteem in which they hold their beloved pastor, for his wise and able leadership in both spiritual and temporal affairs in connection with church work. To undertake to enlarge and to bring it to a successful issue speaks volumes for the leader upon whom more than any one else the heavy burden rested. The meeting was then closed in prayer by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Langdon.

SKIN SOFT AS A CHILD'S

"I was a great sufferer from eczema and salt rheum for years," writes Mr. John Neas Lonsburg, N. S. "Five years ago three boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment cured me and the old trouble never returned. My skin is soft as a child's now and I shall always say a good word for this Ointment."

Hanover

The ratepayers of Durham voted $15,000 for a new high school. When the tenders were in it was found that the lowest was found that the lowest was about $2,000 more than the amount voted.

Mr. George Roulford, of Elmwood, has invented a trap which is patented and styled "The Roulford Humane Trap." It is designed to kill all animals instantly and is consequently more humane than allowing animals to suffer a lingering death by the old fashioned traps which have hitherto been in use. We understand that these traps will be manufactured by the Fisher Machinery Co., of Hanover. We personally saw the trap this week and it looked good to us.

The fourth annual Y. M. C. A. concert took place last Wednesday night with full house. There was something doing all the time. The songs and jokes were excellent, as some of the prominent ones of the town said. The senior gymnastic dancing was very good. The buck dancing, pyramid building and junior dance were also good. The Winkler Bros. and Mr. Kotevsky kindly assisted in the programme and took their part well. Dr. Schmitzbank was demonstrated for the first time, and provided great amusement for the audience. The second overture was very good. Mr. L. L. Woodward who directed the concert is now considering offers from Walkerton, Durham and Neustadt. An offer from Chesley under the auspices of the Red Cross Society, had been accepted for April 23rd. (Cont.)

William J. Harris, of Hanover, has secured Canadian and United States patent rights, for a stove described in the following. In a stove the combination with the stove body having the usual fire pot and chimney ducts and communicating flue, of a right angular duct extending along the bottom of the stove from the centre thereof and having an opening in the bottom wall, vertical branch upwardly from each end of the right angular duct, one vertical branch leading through a suitable opening into the fire pot directly beneath the grate level and the other branch leading to the chimney duct, thus giving good combustion to the fire and having economiser damper which means a great saving in fuel, as well as removing all cold air from floor of room, and allowing same to become heated same as one's room heated with warm air furnace.

Owen Sound

Thirty-two horses were bought by outside buyers at the horse fair on Wednesday and shipped from Owen Sound. Thirteen buyers were on hand and there was a splendid demand for horses sold as high as $300. While not as many horses were offered for sale as at the March horse fair more sales were made.

The first fine under the new liquor license act amendment was imposed this morning in the police court when Wm. Pitts of the Patterson House was fined $200 and costs for keeping liquor for sale. Pitts pleaded guilty and did not put up any defence. The fine was the result of a seizure made by Constable Carson on Wednesday evening of between thirty and sixty bottles of whiskey in the rear of the Patterson House. The cargo of liquor was not being unpeaked when the constable opened the door and walked in interrupting the proceedings. A charge of keeping liquor for sale was laid and Pitts was fined the three hundred odd.

It was decided to hold the annual bowling tournament on July 6, 7 and 8. The Owen Sound risks are keeping in the tournament this year which will be drawn from the list of those willing to play, instead of being chosen separately. In former years each man who skipped a risk chose his own players but this year a change is being made and the risks will be drawn. The bowling green was rebuilt last fall and the committee in charge promises it will be in shape for the bowlers almost as early as in other years.

Mr. C. E. Ainsworth, General Manager of the Dominion Transportation Co., was town this week making final arrangements for the opening of the sailing season. The company's vessels, the Caribou and the Manitou, are being fitted up cleaned and painted and will be ready to sail in a few days. No definite announcement has been made as to the date of sailing but this will likely be made very soon. While in town Mr. Ainsworth met Mr. J. McAuley of Walkerton manager of the Dominion Fish Company, with reference to the handling of the company's fish. Mr. Ainsworth left for Sault Ste. Marie yesterday morning.

Navigation opened here yesterday morning when the tug "Queen" from Tobermory steamed into the harbor and to her skipper, Captain Alex Craigie gave the salute but declined by the Board of Trade to the captain of the first vessel that enters the harbor. The little vessel sailed up the harbor about 3:15 yesterday and a general salvo of salutes from all the vessels in the harbor that had steamed up, the sight of the craft plunging through the sparkling water and the blaste of the different whistles giving the pleasant feeling that summer is high at hand.

The "Queen" left the "Tab" on Wednesday morning and went into Walkerton, reaching there about four o'clock in the afternoon, just a few hours after the Elsie M., which had come across from Meaford and which was the first vessel into Walkerton harbor this year. The "Queen" took on a load of freight at Walkerton and left about noon yesterday for Owen Sound. The new report running through this lot from Tobermory to Cape Croker but there was not enough to cause them any trouble. There was some floating ice off Cape Croker well out in the lake towards Meaford but that was all the ice that was seen.

Southampton

Capl. Angus Munro left Thursday for Lornain, Ohio, to join his vessel, the Shenando, for the season.

Mr. Alex. Brunton was elected a councillor of Southampton by acclamation to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. D. Dule.

Refresh fish the first haul of the season came in last Monday night, being caught by W. Baker and Ed. Longo. The rest of the season they always seem better than at any later time, and probably that is the reason that there is such a throng at the harbor these days. All the tug arrived safely in the harbor Saturday and the fishermen are the busiest men in town these days.

Operation Decided On As Only Means of Relief

But the Writer of This Letter Resolved to Try Dr. Chase's Ointment First and Was Cured.

This is not an isolated case, for we frequently hear from people who have been cured of piles by using Dr. Chase's Ointment.

After physicians had told them nothing short of an operation could bring relief and cure.

If you could read the letters of the men who have been cured of piles by using Dr. Chase's Ointment, you would realize what a wonderful cure it is.

Dr. Chase's Ointment really is a new and powerful remedy for piles. It is the only one that has been found to be so effective.

British Admiralty in Statement Says Careful Record is Being Kept of Outrages Which Will Figure in the Reckoning—German Officers in Belgium Take Revenge For Death of Sentinels.

LONDON, April 20.—The Admiralty has issued the following statement:

"Yesterday a German submarine torpedoed and sank the trawler Vanilla. The trawler Ferno endeavored to rescue the crew, but was fired at and driven off.

"All the crew of the Vanilla were lost. This killing of Vanilla for no military purpose should not escape attention. It is the second murder in a warlike character committed with a torpedo. A careful record is kept of these events."

PRESSING SOUTHWARD

Russian Column is Twelve Miles Below Rostok.

German Officers Are in Control of the Austrian Troops Defending Hungary—Russian Are Now in a Tactical Position To Go South Into Hungary or West Towards Petrograd—Hindenburg is Active.

PETROGRAD, April 20.—The foremost Russian column in Hungary was on Saturday a dozen miles below Rostok, towards Constantinople. It forms the centre of the main Russian southern advance, which is developing slowly and successfully, with three infantry fighting. Officers of the Galician army say that they never had such a succession of bloody struggles since the war began.

German officers everywhere control the Austrian tactics. Last numbers of prisoners taken by German and Austrian, are now reaching Kiev. The last commitment included men of the 1st Prussian Infantry Division, who began the war in Von Kluck's army, and subsequently fought at Solms. They were recently brought to Hungary and moved immediately from the train into battle in the southern Carpathians. They are as tired and as weary as the others, and declare that they are glad to get rest and grateful for the food and attentions shown them by the Russians.

The weather is now much better throughout the southern battle area, but the roads are still in a deplorable condition. The lower Danube flood-lands and the islands in the river are under water. Inside the Rumanian frontier numbers of cattle have been drowned and the villagers are living on the roofs of their houses.

Regarding the principal chain of the Carpathians, the distance of 75 miles, the Russians are in a position to launch their troops westward from Persenyi, near the headwaters of the mountains into Hungary as they see fit. They will probably move towards both objectives in order to keep the Germans from concentrating their forces to their actual intentions. The Russians have gained the initiative since the German offensive, and in strategic parlance this is a very important position for the enemy to conform to their manoeuvres.

There are signs that Von Hindenburg, who is in East Prussia, not in France, contemplates moving an attempt this week at a formidable diversion, with the object of counteracting the effect of the hopeless Austro-German position in the Carpathians. The German plan is to strike in the Suwalki Province, in the region of Mariampol, where a Russian army, westward of the lower Niemen, has for some time been making a succession of sectional victories.

The British apparently are now in undoubted possession of the southern part of the lower Danube, in the neighbourhood of the mouth of the Danube. The British apparently are now in undoubted possession of the southern part of the lower Danube, in the neighbourhood of the mouth of the Danube.

ITALY HAS DECIDED.

Channel Quoted Diplomat as Saying: A Country Will Not Starve.

ROME, April 20.—The Gazzetta of today publishes an interview with an Italian general diplomat, who is quoted as having said: "That Italy will participate in the war has been decided on. What now is necessary is clearly to agree on the delimitation and distribution of the eastern coast of the Adriatic between Italy and the Slavs. Italy cannot risk a war to drive out Austria from the Adriatic and have Austria replaced in a military sense by the Russian advance guards. Therefore Italy must have her strategic points completed by obtaining Albania, Albania, across the Adriatic from the Italian coast, which she could close the sea. Some of the slave force complete disarmament in the Adriatic."

The diplomat added that he thought that Russia and Great Britain would suffer less from the present war than from the war between the two countries which would follow it.

A despatch from Copenhagen says: "Special messages from Vienna state that great excitement prevails there owing to information received from Trentino."

"It is believed that war with Italy is imminent."

"The Italian embassy is said to be prepared for departure."

MORE ACTIVITY IN STRAITS.
Thirty-Five Thousand Troops Landed at Mudros Last Week.

LONDON, April 20.—It is again unofficially announced that operations are being carried out in the Dardanelles, where the Turks are reported to be building defences with all speed against landing parties, but the news from the breaking of the ice at Anadol, the only large seaport on the north coast of Russia, may induce the entente allies to be more deliberate in their attempt to unlock the gate to the Black Sea.

Berlin publishes a report from Athens that the Greek activity prevails at the port of Mudros, on Lemnos island, in the Aegean Sea, off the entrance to the Dardanelles Straits. All Greek troops on the island, with the exception of some few battalions, have been sent away on transports. A total of 35,000 British and French soldiers landed at Mudros during Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

BARON DE REUTER DEAD.
Managing Director of Great Agency Commit Suicide.

LONDON, April 20.—Baron Herbert de Reuter, managing director of the Reuters Telegram Co., was found dead Sunday at his home near Balgarey, Surrey. A discharged revolver was found near his body, and the authorities declare there is little doubt he committed suicide. Baron de Reuter was 67 years of age. He was married and had a daughter. He was a member of the House of Commons. He was a member of the House of Commons.

The first Baron de Reuter was the founder of Reuters Telegram Co., now one of the leading news-gathering organizations in the world.

PRESS IS HOSTILE.
Austria Does Not Like War U. S. Took German Protest.

VENICE, April 20.—(Via London)—The discussion provoked by the memorandum recently presented by the German Ambassador, Count von Bernstorff, to the State Department at Washington respecting American neutrality, is being followed with the keenest interest in Austria-Hungary. The tone of the press generally is hostile to the United States.

The Vienna Fremdenblatt says: "It will be difficult to answer such a justification of the German position. Many, nor does anybody expect an actual reply, but only that the United States should not answer the German ultimatum with, namely, phrases. The feeling of disappointment which the attitude of the United States has produced in Austria is not disappearing for a long time."

The Fremdenblatt is recognized as the organ of the Austro-Hungarian Foreign Office.

HILL 60 IS CAPTURED

British Make Advance of Three Miles Near Ypres.

Important Battle Results in Losses to German Forces. To Those at Neuve Chapelle—Sappers Got Under Hill and Exploded an Immense Mine—Advance Along the Trench River.

LONDON, April 20.—The following official statement was issued last night at the British War Office: "A successful action, commencing on the evening of the 17th, culminated in the capture of Hill 60, a strategic point known as Hill 60, which lies about two miles south of Lille, to the east of Ypres. This hill dominates the country to the north and northwest."

"The successful explosion of a mine under the hill, commenced the operations, and many Germans were killed by the explosion. The hill was captured, including an officer."

"At daybreak on the 18th the enemy delivered a heavy counter-attack against the hill, but were repulsed with a heavy loss. They advanced in close formation and our machine gun battery gave them some trouble."

"Desperate efforts were made all day Sunday by the Germans to recover the hill, but they were everywhere repulsed with heavy losses. In front of the captured position which we are now consolidating in strength, hundreds of dead were lying."

"Sunday two more German aeroplanes were brought down in this area. Since the 17th, the total loss to the enemy is 15 aeroplanes. A despatch from Northern France says:

"News has just reached here of one of the most important engagements of the war in the neighborhood of Ypres. The first submarine train conveying wounded arrived here on one boat. Information came from a source which places the following facts beyond doubt: Our sappers succeeded in mining the only hill in this vicinity. The blowing up of the hill Sunday morning was the signal for the opening of a battle extending over some miles of front. The blow wrought among hundreds of German troops occupying the hill had a most terrible effect on the German line both right and left, and our concentrated charge, in which our artillery played a most important part, had forced up to Sunday night in driving the Germans was terrible losses fully three miles back from our first line of trenches. The explosion of mines in the hill resembled the bursting of a volcano."

"The action is still in progress and our sappers have been ordered to push forward. Eight hundred German prisoners have already come in, and everything points to the enemy's losses being greater than those at Neuve Chapelle."

"At all points we have given the Germans the taste of our metal. Their attitude is one of depression. Their aeroplanes are busy with the bombardment of open towns, but they are not so successful in the vicinity of our fighting lines by the vigilance of our airmen. This accounts for the fact that we are enabled to make our preparations for the attack without news or at best with only scanty news of our movements leaking out."

"The advance of French columns continued along both banks of the Ficht river in Alsace, on German soil, yesterday, and forced the Germans hastily to evacuate Eschtruch above Mersbach, and to abandon a large amount of war material. A battle is expected to develop in this section of the front in the near future."

"The Germans have not acquiesced with good grace in the French occupation of Les Eparges and continue to launch attacks in an attempt to regain lost territory. A fresh attack on this position was completely routed early yesterday morning."

"A most dramatic battle between German and French infantry was fought in the Montmarie week yesterday."

"The French artillery had the best of an artillery duel in the Regnier region yesterday."

Transports Sunk Says Letter.
ST. CATHARINES, Ont., April 20.—Unpublished information said to have been received from a British naval officer at home at Dundee, Scotland, on leave is contained in a letter written to a woman residing in Russell avenue, St. Catharines, by her daughter, a daughter, who the officer informed her that the German cruiser which was sunk by Admiral Sir David Beatty's squadron in the North Sea was carrying two transports which had 5,000 German troops aboard. The letter states on the authority of the officer that the two transports were also sunk, and all on board perished."

Constable's Claw 'Call.
VANCOUVER, B. C., April 20.—Police Constable R. B. Newington, was shot and then clubbed into insensibility by two burglars, surprised by him early yesterday morning breaking a store. They drew guns and he opened fire, but was struck by a bullet above the head, the bullet being deflected by a tobacco pouch. One burglar at least was struck, as blood stains were visible on the two blocks. Newington will recover."

Japan Recalls Cruisers.
WASHINGTON, April 20.—Japan has ordered all her warships in the Pacific waters near the American coast, except those sailing the wrecked cruiser Amats in Turtle Bay to return to their home stations. Advice to that effect were received yesterday from Tokio at the Japanese embassy.

Carpets and Curtains

OUR stock in the line of House Furnishings was never so large or well assorted. We were fortunate enough to get all our import lines placed in stock before the war tariff was put on, and all bought before the recent sharp advance in all kinds of woollen and linen fabrics. You get the benefit as we have not advanced the price in a single instance. Before supplying your wants in this line see our stock and bring along the catalog sent to you by the departmental stores of the cities. It will be a pleasure for us to have you compare prices and if we can't do as well we won't expect your business.

We have just passed into stock a special purchase of Draperies in Scrims, Voiles, Marquisettes, Madras and Bungalow Nets at from 18c to $1.25 per yard.

Our range of Rugs in Tapestry, Velvets, Brussels and Wiltons is one of the most complete and prices range from $5.00 to $47.50.

Scotch Linoleums in all widths, guaranteed qualities at 50c to 65c per square yard.

We are agents in Warton for the Kirsch Flat Brass Rod which is undoubtedly the best thing of the kind ever invented, being more rigid and serviceable than the old time round brass rod.

We again urge you to see our stock before buying your House Furnishings.

WOULD it be possible to have a commercial course in the Warton High School? It would cost say $600 for an additional teacher, half of which would be paid by the county and the other half by the town. The fees that could be collected would go a long way towards paying the other $300. There would be more students attend the High School and a far greater number take the commercial course than many think. Probable no better move in that institution could be made, at all events we would like to hear an expression of opinion.

The perch fishing at Golden Valley is all that any man can wish. It was never better. It is a steady job pulling them out. If, however, we were here or hooked trout the supply would not be so great. With fish as with many other things the value depends upon the scarcity.

10 CENT "CASCARETS" IF BILIOUS OR COSTIVE

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—They work while you sleep.

Purged Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Bloating, Headache, Biliousness, Bowels come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a will barrel. That's the first step to avoid misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fogs, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a pleasant box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

Farm and Garden

RAISING SMALL FRUITS.

Currants, Raspberries, Gooseberries and Blackberries Are Easily Grown.

Small fruits, such as currants, raspberries, gooseberries and blackberries are easily grown, and almost every gardener finds it profitable to have a few bushes of each kind on his place. The gooseberry is not made as much use of by American housewives as is the case in England, where it is a favorite small fruit, but in recent years the excellence of its food qualities has become recognized.

On a small place a dozen raspberry bushes may be planted without encroaching much on the garden plot. There are several varieties, the most familiar being the red and purple. There are also the pink and yellow.

and the blackcap. The red is for table use, and the black and purple are for canning purposes.

The plants should be set out as early as possible in spring after the ground has been plowed, harrowed and worked over until it is fine and mellow—almost pulverized, in fact.

The soil should have had a covering of stable manure dug or forked into it and in general have been made rich in the essentials of plant food. Both the raspberry and blackberry are gross feeders, almost as much so as the grapevine, and require good ground.

Before putting in the plants they should be cut back to six or eight inch tops. They should be stuck into the ground as deep as they stood in the garden of the grower from whom they were purchased. This may be readily seen by the earth marks on each plant.

They may be set out in any one of three ways—in furrows, in hills or according to what is called the bush plan. The particular system to be employed is for the individual gardener to determine for himself, and in doing so he will be guided largely by the extent and shape of his plot.

The bush method is probably best adapted for a small place. Furrows are plowed six feet apart, and the plants are set in them at intervals of about three feet. During growth in summer the plants are trained into bushes by being pinched or cut back.

The leading or principal shoot should be allowed to reach a height of not more than three and a half feet, and all laterals should be kept near the ground and be cut back to some eighteen or twenty inches in length.

The plants will be bushy and will present a beautiful appearance, but this method calls for considerable pruning by the gardener.

A FEUDERD

CLIVE PHILLIPS WOLLEY
(AUTHOR OF "GOLD, GOLD IN CANADA" ETC.)

Published Exclusively in Canada by The British & Colonial Press Service, Limited.

"The younger woman his manner was deferential, if not nervous, and, seeing her advantage, womanlike, Miss Kitty looked at the bacon and sniffed. "It's too greasy, Jim. I wonder if you would toast some of it a little more for me, Mr. Anstruther?" Frank hurried to obey her, but the fire had been knocked together to make a blaze, and the little flames which shot out, burned the fingers and smoked the bacon, but would not toast it.

"Half a shrike, partner. Let me fix that for you. Now go ahead."

A couple of touches to the right place from Jim's foot crossed the smoking bellow, over which the bacon curled and sizzled merrily, but again it was Jim's doing and not Frank's, so that Kitty's pretty brow was bent, and though she laughed, there was a strong undercurrent of annoyance in her laugh when Mrs. Rolt began innocently to hum that popular American air—

"You ain't no good, you can't cut wood, just like your good-bye."

The slight upward curl at the corner of Jim's mouth did not mend matters. He knew the air, though Anstruther did not.

"Now, I'm going to be lazy and have a good time," declared Mrs. Rolt, putting another hot plate. "I know that women ought to wash up."

"I'll do that, Mrs. Rolt."

"No, you won't, neither will you, Jim. Just put that plate of washing up, I'll know your idea of washing up."

Do you know, Mr. Anstruther, when he bawled, threw alone, I mean, Jim was more crockery than anything else, and when she ran in the neighborhood put together, Kitty plates I think he had. Kitty counted them one by one when she was in a fit of fits, and we never knew what he wanted so many for until that poor young Webster took her back for a winter for her. Then I found out. Shall I tell Jim, "so long as you ain't what Mr. Anstruther calls too poetic."

"Kitty knows it's true, and you don't contradict her. When we went to see how Mr. Webster was getting along, we found him eating his food off the kitchen table."

"Good place, too," chuckled Jim.

"Hain't Jim left any plates for you?" we asked.

"Kitty three, Mrs. Rolt; that's the trouble. I've not had luck enough to tackle them yet. Come, and I'll show you, and he took us to a pile as high as that, all dirty on the floor."

"Jim had had a clean slide for one hundred and six miles. After that he let the house and the crockery."

Pretty Dick, wash these things, please, and make them good and clean."

When the laugh against Jim had died out, and the Indian had called off the crockery, Mrs. Rolt drew them all round the fire. The hall had stopped for a little while, and so wind touched them under the feet which Jim had rigged up on the sea side of the hut. With a good deal of glass break on the ground, and the crockery, the fire, there is no place cozier than a fly. Like a great reflector it catches all the light and heat, and yet gives all the benefit of the sweet fresh air.

That interior made a pretty contrast to the drab and lonely upland to which there were nothing but gray shadows and silence, the muddy glow of the freight throwing out the pre-figures of the woman who was the crockery, prone at her feet, in strong relief.

Handsome as Polly Rolt was in a half-brown, half-milk, upland dress, and dash of the sportswoman tempered by a few years of happy married life, it was no wonder that she had passed her puny little profile to dwell on bonny Kitty Clifford. Even the Chinaman, who cooked for the rancho, worshipped her. She was worshipped by everyone all her small, spelt life.

From the crimson Tan O'Shanter, which she had taken from the middle base, to her gleaming gum boots, she was as dainty a little apple of discord as ever fell between two men.

On anyone else, gum boots would have been a horror, shapeliness, huge, mud-beattered. On her they only made you wonder where gum boots so astoundingly small and smart could have been made. Besides, they suggested an apology, if one were needed, for the extreme brevity of Kitty's skirts.

The fire was the most daring of all in that crowd. It was he who touched Kitty's white throat with his long fingers, he who lit the deep blue of the laughing eyes, who threw that velvet shadow which so emphasized the full curve of her saucer chin, and because even he became a little uncertain in such a place, made you wonder whether that was a dimple just beyond the curve of those eyes.

Yes, Kitty was pretty, and knew it perhaps too well, pretty with that face which has haunted England for a hundred years, and all going a Christmas on the pillow behind old-fashioned fathers long ago, looking down perhaps at Oliver or Green doline upon the mailed knights of the tourney, or today making young men's pulses beat as they pass through the Army and Navy Brides, where perhaps one meets more pretty women to the acre than in any other place on earth.

"Now sing, some one," ordered Mrs. Rolt.

"You don't mind my tobacco, do you?"

"No, of course not."

"Tobacco, Jim, from his mouth, Jim had averted at Anstruther's words, and looked a surprised question at the other. He had never dreamed that a man might do so much as camp. "All right, Jim, it's only Mr. Anstruther's English frills. Where we theatre we smoke in B. C. my husband says. He's my lease. But must I give you a hand? And without waiting for an answer she began to sing the "Old Swans River" in a rich contralto voice, which gave to the words an infinite pathos as they died away in that homeless waste.

By a camp-fire a song must have a chorus; without it the gregarious instinct of man is unsatisfied. Perhaps a sing in, partly because he is a little afraid of nature's silence, and of all choruses those French-Canadian choruses, roaring, rollicking, boisterous, which Jim sang one or two, have done more to blunt the blue devil from the rivers of lower Canada than anything else in the world.

THE FRUIT-LIVES

Cured Both Stomach Trouble and Headaches

PARKMAN, Ont., June 20, 1913.

"I really believe that I owe my life to 'Fruit-Lives'. Ever since childhood, I have been under the care of physicians and have been saying doctor's bills. I was so sick and worn out that people on the street often asked me if I thought I could get along without help. The second Old Stomach Trouble and distressing Headaches nearly drove me wild. Sometimes ago, I got a box of 'Fruit-Lives' and the first box did me good. My husband was delighted and advised a continuation of their use.

"I am feeling fine, and a physician meeting me on the street, noticed my improved appearance and asked the reason. I replied, 'I am taking Fruit-Lives'. He said, 'Well, if Fruit-Lives are making you look so well, go ahead and take them. They are doing more for you than I can.'"

that you must be smart. I notice smart people."

"You're wrong, Jim. I'm a man."

"And Mr. Anstruther is not?"

"I don't say so. I don't know. He may be in a hurry, but he'll take a chance."

"Would you not rather that Jim had some of your pet owner's 'mashed' in the English language for his horses?"

Or is it because you want to talk like a branch but not a man?"

Polly Rolt hesitated. She did not want to be called a branch but a man. She was one of her occasionally paternal characteristics, but she did not like to admit any blemishes in her favorite.

"Oh, well, fine English is as easy to put on for a man like Jim, as your own for a woman. A man must speak the language of a country if he wants to be understood in it. You used to understand Jim well enough before you went home."

"And now I don't. He seems to me to have changed. In some way he does not seem to be natural any more."

"I thought your complaint was that

The Owen Sound Advertiser says: License Inspector Beckett arrived home on Saturday night from a three months sojourn in the Cobalt country. He does not show any evil results from living in that country for a few months notwithstanding the fact that a local contemporary had him reported as being in the hospital. No visible marks of any such visit are apparent. Mr. Beckett is greatly impressed with the mining possibilities of the Cobalt district. He was on special duty, his territory extending from New Liskeard to Cochrane and reports some exciting chases in pursuit of the "juice." For the next few weeks Matt's friends will hear many interesting stories of life in the north country.

HUMPHRIES—DAY

1865-1915

At the family residence on the evening of April 20th, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Humphries celebrated their golden wedding. Their children and grandchildren being all present the family circle was complete. Many guests from other parts and from Warton and vicinity gathered under their kindest attentions to the still fresh looking groom and his happy bride of fifty years, who still wears her age so well that but few wiser threads are seen. Among those gathered from a distance were Mr. Abel Humphries and daughter, Mrs. W. McKee, of Southampton, Mr. David Humphries and daughter Mrs. E. Moak, of Port Huron, the two gentlemen above mentioned being brothers of the venerable groom. Mrs. R. Hamilton, of Hollywood, a niece of the happy pair and daughter of Mr. Simon Humphries was also present. Mr. and Mrs. Humphries received

Midnight Fire At Oliphant

The residence of Mr. W. H. Wright Oliphant, formerly owned by Mr. Hector McKenzie, is now a mouldering mass of ruins and Mrs. Wright is thankful that she and her little grand daughter are alive. It was about midnight Friday, when she awoke with pain in her shoulder, and then she heard the fire roaring up stairs. She jumped and quickly dressed and aroused her little granddaughter for they were the only two in the house, and so much headway had the fire made that they were unable to save but very little. It was all they could do to get out in time. In a few more minutes the fire would have made it impossible for them to get out by the door and probably smothered them. However they saved a few things and then stood by and saw their house go up in smoke. Mr. Wright will not rebuild but will sell the farm.

Kept Store Here 15 Years

Mr. D. Cameron for fifteen years a resident of Warton, and who did business on Berford street, has returned to town for the summer. It is only the older generation that will know him, because it is eighteen years since he left Warton to seek his fortune elsewhere. Since that time he has been in Montreal, Wink River and other odd spots north of Lake Superior trading with the Indians. He can tell the present generation a good deal of the early history of this burg for there were only 500 people here when he landed in this place. Messrs. Bingham & Campbell then ran The Echo. He is stopping with his niece Mrs. Dungey.

An Excellent Concert

The Chitney Corner or Grandfather's Mistake, was played by local talent on Wednesday night. The play was splendid. The synopsis of the play was Grace Emery an heiress (Miss Floss Jones) Peter Prohby (R. G. McKibbin) and his wife Mrs. Prohby (Miss Clara Miller). Mr. Prohby was the sole executor of Miss Grace's millions and before the death of her father, his son John (E. McFarlan) had aspired for her hand. By the evil speeches of Chas. Chetty (Morgan Hahn) her father had said that unless she married him (Chas. Chetty) her millions would go to the lawyer, Grace agrees to this to this is so against her will. Peter brings home the legacy and it is here the mistake comes in. Peter has put the money in a drawer and thought it safe, but Solomon Prohby, Peter's father (Samuel Ramsey) who was an old man whose mind wandered took the box and hid it in the chimney corner. John was accused of the theft, as just before this Chetty had informed his parents that their son was accused in the office of committing forgery, and that night when he came home he left a note saying he could not stand it any longer, so he left the place and at the same time the money disappeared. ACT 2 Grace is informed of the theft. She still believes in John. Chetty comes to see Peter and demands to see the money. John also is taken prisoner. Mr. and Mrs. Prohby beg Chetty to forgive John but he is unrelenting. Then grandfather shows the hiding place. All is found out. A letter comes to John saying his old copper shares are selling at 40. This makes him richer than Grace was. The money then is given to Chetty and Grace is left with her lover John. Great praise should be given to all the players. The play was good and the audience were delighted and interested through out the evening. The proceeds were given to the Willing Workers of Trinity church and amounted to $82.75.

Goos to Jail 5 Months And gets 12 Lashes.

Joe Elliott, of Cape Croker, is little known now. On Monday he appeared before Judge Klein upon the charge of ill treating his wife and the sentence given will meet with universal favor here, and at Cape Croker where there is no sympathy for Elliott at all. Elliott goes to jail for five months, and six days after he is in jail he will receive six lashes on his bare back, and six days before his sentence expires he will receive six more. These lashes are to be given by the Sheriff or his substitute. And every lash Elliott gets should remind him of the brutal treatment he gave his helpless wife. And the more it makes his back smart and pain the better for him. He deserves all he is getting.

Bowlers Organize

You were short last time—be up! Well, a little short again, and too much to one side, otherwise a good bowl. Say, give me a little wider please—my bowls have a wide draw. Just take what the skip gives you, who's skipping this game? Hello there! Buy a pair of shoes, you are just spoiling the green. Say, what had you for supper—porridge? He's not a bad bowler, but he is no skip. We would have won the game if it hadn't been for—he was playing odd every time. Ah! Fluker. "Take the foot" do as the skip tells you, don't get it into your head that he has given you too narrow of two wide—take the foot. "Hard luck" of course there is lots of that stuff in bowling, but the other fellows have their share of it. Bowling is about 50 per cent skill and 50 per cent luck anyway. Yes it all seems very old, but memory recalls the past, and since then there have been the snows of the cold Canadian winter—the hockey game that swept Ontario, but now with the warmth of summer this most popular of summer sports will begin. Bowling is a gentleman's just adapted for those who need recreation, and here is hoping that the season of 1915 will be the best yet.

The Warton Lawn Bowlers met last Friday night in the parlors in the Bank of Commerce and organized for the season. The officers elected are Hon. President A. E. Jackson, President J. E. Sutherland, Vice-President J. J. Hunter, T. C. Allan Sec., R. W. Sawyer Treas., Executive Committee J. H. Davies, H. Miller and C. Kneeling. Messrs. E. Reckin and Walter Newman were appointed auditors. The fee this year is $5, and the annual tournament will be held July 5 and 21st. There was a very large attendance at the meeting, and everything indicates as much interest in bowling this summer as in hockey last winter.

The Great Fight for Life

The town hall was well filled on Thursday night last by our best people to hear the lecture on Tuberculosis by Mr. J. B. Watson, the Field Secretary of the National Sanitarium Association. His Worship, Mayor Cameron filled the chair with his usual ability.

The lecturer first dealt with the disease in the manner of its development in the human system, and the means by which it is usually propagated in all communities. Dirt, dust, flies, the milk of the tuberculous cow, careless coughing and expectoration by the Consumptive were all mentioned as contributory causes of tubercular infection. The safe-guards that nature provides against infection with germ disease were clearly pointed out and the importance of keeping the body in a good state of health was shown in the fact that a run-down state of health impairs and destroys these safe-guards, and hence results in easy infection.

The Consumptive hospitals at Muskoka were shown in picture with local explanation. The Pioneer institution of the kind in Canada, the Muskoka cottage sanitarium, has done grandly encouraging work from its very inception, producing a large number of actual cures as well as a great number of cases of disease arrested. A patient, having reached that latter condition of improvement though not entirely cured, may live in a fair state of health and strength for a score or more years when he follows the rules as taught to all patients there. Many such are met with by the lecturer as he visits the various parts of the province, many of them holding their own and continuing to improve, and hoping to live for many years to come, able to follow their usual work. One of the best things done by this Muskoka Cottage Sanitarium was that it brought to the knowledge of the National Sanitarium Association the fact that there were in the Province a great number of consumptives who were too poor to pay anything and that the knowledge occasioned them to resolve upon the establishment of an institution wherein the thoroughly indigent consumptive might have care and treatment free of charge. Such an institution came into existence under the name of the Muskoka Free Hospital for consumptives. This poor consumptive hospital is regarded as most important than any other as it cares for and treats the largest number of patients and effects the greatest number of cures and betterments. It is the only institution in this whole Canada of ours that gives entirely free treatment to the absolutely poor consumptive. In it at present there are 212 patients taking the cure of whom 174 pay nothing. On the average eight out of every ten pay nothing. To keep it going this year will mean the expenditure of more than $100,000.00. Several sources of income are as follows—A few of the patients pay something, the trustees of the association contribute what makes up a nice lot of thousands of dollars each year, the grant from the local legislature, so many cents per day per patients the same as to free patients in other hospitals makes up another nice few thousands per year. Outside of these three sources of income, the Muskoka Free Hospital is dependent upon the contributions of good people all over this province. For the past two years this town of Warton has contributed in small sums what amounted to over $100 a year. Times are hard at present, and the appeals are numerous, but nevertheless most towns raised in this year season for the records in the amounts contributed. A handsome collection to that end was taken up and intimation was given that a canvas would be made as on former occasions for contributions. The present hard times forces upon the Free Consumptive Hospital the heaviest load it has ever had and therefore those still able to help take the greater pleasure and satisfaction in doing so.

The world wide and national aspects of this fight for health were briefly dealt with. We all know that this dread disease has been doing its destructive work in all civilized lands, it may be unknown to some that nearly all lands have in recent years been putting forth their most earnest efforts for the entire elimination of tubercular disease, and that all lands are making enormous progress towards that consummation, so desirably to be wished, and it will be of interest to all the people of Ontario to learn that this Province has made progress along this line equal to any and surpassing most countries. Right up to the year 1900 the death rate in Ontario from consumption was greatly on the increase. In that year 1900 there were 3444 deaths resulting therefrom. From the tide turned and from that year the vital statistics of the Province show a handsome annual reduction in the death rate. 1912 is the last year for which we have yet complete figures, and in that year there were only 2240 deaths showing a reduction of 1204 less deaths in 1912. When account is taken of the considerable increase of population during the same twelve years, that means a reduction in the death rate of a little more than forty-five per cent, which means that where twelve short years ago one hundred people were dying, to-day there are less than fifty-five deaths. The hope is, indeed, the belief is, confidently entertained by those who have most thoroughly studied the matter that in less than a score of years hence, the dread white plague will have become a thing of the past in this Province. All may be helpers to this desirable end by contributing to Canada's greatest charity, the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives.

At the close a vote of thanks to the lecturer was moved by the Rev. Mr. Bradford and seconded by Rev. Mr. Flagg, and enthusiastically endorsed by the audience. In response Mr. Watson expressed in behalf of the National Sanitarium Association and his own behalf thanks to the Town Council for the use of Town Hall to his worship the Mayor for so admirably filling the chair, to the city pastors for announcing the lecture to their people, to the good chief Mr. Glover for all his help, and to all for their kind and encouraging attention. His worship the Mayor very heartily volunteered to aid the lecturer in canvassing the town for contributions.

DYERS BAY

Neil Tyndall did business in Lions Head last Friday. Mr. Hilditch and Miss Lizzie spent Friday with friends in Lions Head. Mr. James, of Lions Head, accompanied Dr. Hacking on his professional trip here last Friday. Messrs. P. Weatherhead and Ed West, of Cape Chis, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. R. Jackson. Earl Stewart, of Lions Head, was in our burg on Friday seeking machinery for Mr. Robt. Bartley Jr. who is taking charge of Mr. Kent's farm. Master Sandy Amos, who has been seriously ill with pleurisy, is slowly recovering. It was necessary last Friday to call Dr. Hacking, of Lions Head, who pronounced his case a relapse. We wish Sandy a speedy recovery. Willis Kent, who has been a resident here for the last ten or twelve years is selling or renting his sheep ranch, stock and machinery, including, having been called away to the States on important business in connection with his wood splitting machine.

In answer to the results of the Bruin hunting problem mentioned in last week's paper, we are sorry to report while after travelling many miles along The Trail of the Lonesome Pine, with only a stop for refreshment, upon a moon hour which consisted of a cold lunch not even a truck of buster bread could be found but on their return trip their burden of disappointment was lightened first by the discovery of a partridge perched in a branch which they failed to secure, then to their great surprise and amazement espied the footprints of a deer which they followed to their destination and after replenishing their ravenous appetites whiled away the few remaining hours of the evening in the pleasant company of their fruits of the day.

POSTAL LAWS OF CANADA

Under the Post Office Act, Sections 45 and 66, the Postmaster General has the exclusive privilege of receiving, collecting, conveying and delivering letters within Canada. Bills and accounts whether in open or sealed envelopes, as well as circulars or other printed matter enclosed in envelopes sealed or ready to be sealed, are "letters" within the meaning of the Post Office Act. There is a penalty under Section 136 of the Post Office Act which may amount to $20.00 for each letter unlawfully carried. It has been brought to the attention of the Post Office Department that some business firms desiring to avoid paying the war tax which became effective on the 15th of April, propose making arrangements for the delivery of accounts, bills, circulars etc., through means other than the Post Office, contrary to the Postal Act and a warning is hereby given that the Post Office Department intends to insist that the law shall be rigidly lived up to, and will in no circumstances allow these parties to avoid paying the one cent tax which has been imposed for war purposes. All letters conveyed, received, collected, sent or delivered in contravention of the Post Office Act will be seized and necessary steps immediately taken for the prosecution of the offenders in all cases where the law has been contravened.

COVERED WITH GLORY

Canadians Are In Reserve After Four Days' Fighting.

Remor That Highlanders Had Been Captured By the Germans Is Disputed. By the Government in Canada. London, April 27.—(By Cable.)—The Highlanders had been captured by the Germans is disputed. By the Government in Canada. London, April 27.—(By Cable.)—The Highlanders had been captured by the Germans is disputed. By the Government in Canada.

OTTAWA, April 27.—"Canadians covered themselves with glory. Their heroism is most highly appreciated at headquarters. 'In reserve yesterday after four days' fighting.' This message, received by cable yesterday from J. J. Carrick, M.P., who is at the Canadian headquarters at the front, brought much relief here. The Canadians will now have a rest after their terrific work. A further list of officers wounded in the recent fighting near Ypres was received at the Military Department last night. A feature of last night's list is that it includes members of the 5th Highlanders, Toronto, who are known as the 15th Battalion of the overseas force.

This dispels the rumor that Col. John A. Currie, M.P., and his regiment had been captured, and that they were the 1,000 Canadians whom the Germans claim to have taken prisoners. Nothing whatever has been received by the Department concerning the artillery nor concerning the report from Berlin that the Germans had captured one thousand Canadians. A sample of the way in which the serious achievement of the Canadian troops and their brave losses is taken in Canada as found in a telegram from Major A. C. Schell, of the Canadian Corps, to Gen. Hughes, "Am ready to go to front to help all day."

Messages of a congratulatory nature continue to pour into the Government, and a wave of intense patriotism is evidently sweeping the country. The Prime Minister, acting High Commissioner for Canada in London, cabled:

"Air London a praising the conspicuous gallantry of the troops. Hon. Lewis Hargrave, Secretary of State for the Colonies, says: 'Britain is proud of her Canadian soldiers. I am most grateful for your message, which will be deeply appreciated by the people of the Dominion.'"

More names of Canadian officers wounded in the great Canadian attack north of Ypres were received in Ottawa last night. They include one major, two captains and five lieutenants. Probably no battalion has suffered so heavily in the great engagement north of Ypres as the fourth, commanded by Lt.-Col. Birchall, who was killed. This battalion lost three officers killed and 14 wounded, which includes the second in command, Lt.-Col. Birchall and his major, all of whom were wounded. The fourth had a reputation as being the most efficient fighting unit in the division and was praised for its magnificent action by Gen. Sir Horace Smith-Dorrien, who is in command of the Second Army, of which the Canadians are a part. The battalions comprising companies recruited from counties near Toronto, including Peel, Halton, Dufferin, Cayuga and Bruce.

Second Battalion—Wounded, Capt. P. E. Bowman.

Fourth Battalion—Seriously wounded, Major Ballantyne.

Seventh Battalion—Wounded, Lieut. W. L. For and Lieut. H. R. Scharschmidt.

Thirteenth Battalion—Wounded, Lieut. F. S. Melton.

Fifteenth Battalion—Wounded, Lieut. J. A. Danvers and Capt. Geo. Haggerty.

Canadian Engineers—Wounded, Lieut. H. F. Hartburg.

The following list of casualties was issued early this morning:

First Battalion—Dagerous III, Pte. Wm. Thomas Shaw. Died of wounds, Pte. Alexander McLeod.

Second Battalion—Wounded, Lieut. Thomas A. Kidd (previously reported), Capt. Peter E. Bowman.

Third Battalion—Dagerous III, Pte. Richard Shorrey.

Fourth Battalion—Died of wounds, Lieut. Harvey B. McGuire, Pte. David McLeod.

Fifth Battalion—Died of wounds, Pte. Eric Preston.

Seventh Battalion—Wounded, Pte. Lee S. Timlick, Pte. Hugh J. C. Gelder, Pte. Fred Whitfield, Pte. Harry Holmes, Pte. William Colman, Pte. Frank H. Sank.

Eighth Battalion—Dagerous III, Pte. Mack Hemmerson.

USING CHLORINE

Sir James Dewar Says Germany Has Hundreds of Tons of It.

LONDON, April 27.—At least one distinguished British scientist has no doubt as to the nature of the widely-discussed tick yellow smoke which has been emitted from advanced German troops, which is an official French communique describes as producing "the effect of complete asphyxiation upon our troops, which was in its second line of positions."

Sir James Dewar, president of the Royal Institution, is quoted in the Daily Chronicle representative in terms that left no room for doubt or uncertainty that this latest and most diabolical German weapon to be directed against the allies is liquid chlorine. He said:

"For some years Germany has been manufacturing liquid chlorine in tremendous quantities. The Germans undoubtedly have hundreds of tons available for this terrible purpose. If, say, several tons of the liquid are allowed to escape into the atmosphere, it immediately evaporates and forms the yellow gas referred to in the official report and if the wind is blowing in a favorable direction, it is the means of killing in the world for the Germans to imitate the conditions with poison for miles ahead. The fact that gas is three times heavier than air makes escape from its effects almost impossible, for it drifts like a fog along the surface of the ground, overwhelming all whom it overtakes."

TO BAD POOR SPIRITS.

Lloyd George Will Prohibit Sale of Immature Liquors.

LONDON, April 27.—The British Cabinet gave further consideration to the drink problem yesterday, and to-day the intention is that Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd George should submit the Government's liquor proposals to the House of Commons on Wednesday.

Although the Cabinet's plans are not fully defined, it is authoritatively stated that the following are the main lines under which the Government intends to take action:

- (1) Prohibition of the sale of immature spirits.
- (2) Encouragement of the brewing industry.
- (3) The public house restrictions in the metropolitan area.
- (4) Reduced hours of sale generally.
- (5) Compensation for interests affected.

It is understood to-day that there may be a new prohibition on the sale of immature spirits under a certain age and restricting the manufacture of the "weak" type of beer. Good spirits it is said will be encouraged.

Governments Not Well Disposed Towards Peace Delegates.

THE HAGUE, April 27.—(Via London.)—Difficulties on all sides have been encountered ever before the meeting of the International Women's Congress, which is scheduled to gather at The Hague this week to discuss peace.

The steamer Noordam, which was due Sunday with the American delegates, has been delayed by the German authorities have refused to grant permits to the chief German delegates, and the British delegation, after having been cut by the British Government to one-sixth the original number, has been unable to cross the channel owing to the lack of shipping facilities.

The Swiss delegates telegraphed yesterday: "We have been prevented from coming. They give us no permission, but it is assumed that Germany has declined to allow them to pass. The French women from the outset have declined to participate."

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Lieut. Captain Thierfelder, commander of the German commerce raiders, Kronprinz Wilhelm, yesterday informed Collector of Customs Hamilton, at Newport News, Va., that he would return his ship for the war in American waters.

The commander presented this note: "Herewith I have to officially inform you that I intend." No explanation accompanied the communication, but later the German commander said he had intended to come to America, but the illness of his sailors with beriberi would make it impossible for him to do so. BATTLE STILL RAGING Severe Fighting Continues to Northeast of Ypres.

War Office Report That the General Situation in Flanders Remains Unchanged—Despite Gallant Resistance of Canadian Tenth Division. British Optimism.

LONDON, April 27.—The British War Office has issued the following statement respecting the battle around Ypres:

"First—Severe fighting to the northeast of Ypres still continues, the general situation remaining unchanged. Our left flank, in readjusting its line to meet the altered conditions, has been subjected to the attacks of the French, had to face to the north and to extend to the west beyond St. Julien.

"The situation weakened our line for a time, and after a very gallant resistance by the Canadians against superior numbers, St. Julien was captured by the enemy. Our lines now run south of that place.

"Second—Our troops to the east of Ypres have been the victims of repeated heavy attacks, which they stubbornly opposed throughout the battle in the early morning. The situation, which has demanded the exercise of gallantry and fortitude by the men, and quick resource and other qualities by their commanders.

"Third—Attacks were also delivered Sunday by the Germans against the British line in the vicinity of the use by the enemy of applying the attacks were repulsed by German officers and men were captured.

"In the fighting during the last three days we have inflicted very heavy losses on the enemy. Our losses also have been heavy. The German wireless report that four British heavy guns were captured in the morning.

"One of our aviators dropped bombs on the Courtrai station yesterday afternoon, and destroyed the junction. Although the wounded, he brought his machine safely back to our lines.

"The capture of St. Julien, as reported in the British official statement, is not important, this town being on the extreme northern verge of the British position, and the capture of the town is not important, this town being on the extreme northern verge of the British position.

PURCHASING BOARD NAMED.

Hon. A. E. Kemp, H. Laporte and Gen. P. Galt Will Buy Supplies.

OTTAWA, April 27.—The following purchasing commission was appointed by the Government yesterday: Hon. A. E. Kemp, Minister without portfolio; H. Laporte, former Mayor of Montreal; and Gen. P. Galt, of Winnipeg, son of Sir Thomas Galt, who was at one time Chief Justice of Ontario.

This commission will purchase all supplies for the Canadian Militia Department, all supplies in Canada for the British War Office and the allies. Hon. Mr. Kemp is chairman of the commission, and it is understood that it will be necessary to appoint a large staff to handle the immense amount of business that will have to be transacted. It will be conducted similarly to other Departments of the Government.

Mr. Laporte is a well-known business man of Montreal, and has a splendid record. Mr. Galt is one of the most responsible and respected business men of the west.

The value of the commission of the commission is in the close touch which will be maintained between the Government and the purchasing commission. Mr. Kemp being a member of the Cabinet.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

It is officially announced that an Austrian gunboat has been damaged by the Serbs in the Danube.

Russell George Williams, the one-year-old son of Aubrey Williams, of Kingston, was killed and fractured by a fall from his high chair, and died yesterday.

At the point of a baton, Miss Anna Goldstein, aged 14, of New York, took two young men to a police station for passing remarks about her.

Travelers arriving in Quebec from the north from the Lake St. John region, report that Saturday morning between 10 and 11 o'clock, snow fell, covering the earth.

Charles Burnham, aged 46, a painter, was fatally burned at Arden, N.Y., when he was struck by a falling box of matches in his vest pocket.

The Danish steamer Sleivig was stopped yesterday by a German torpedo boat off Falster and ordered to surrender the cargo of coal which it was carrying from England to Norway.

Louis Lanstrum, aged six, and Edith Johnston, aged seven, sons of residents of Norma, near Kenora, were drowned on Sunday afternoon when a motorboat in which they were being taken across a lake, struck a log and sank.

KAMBER'S FLEET COMING? German Merchant Captain Says It Is Headed for Halifax.

PORTLAND, Ore., April 27.—Headed for the Atlantic coast of Canada is a German squadron, bent on bombarding important cities and fortifications there, according to a letter received yesterday by Capt. Carl Brauch, master of the German bark Dalbek, interned here since July 23, from a friend who is a deck officer of the German ship.

"Eight days before the German fleet bombarded Scarborough, Hartlepool and other ports received a letter from the same friend telling me that the German fleet would strike for the British coast, and I thought that statement was exaggerated," said Capt. Brauch. "Since it came to pass I am convinced that the move of the squadron to the Canadian coast may not be a myth." The letter has been on the way since March 24.

CENTRE HOLDS FIRM.

Russians Repulse Austrian Attack at Uskok Pass.

PETROGRAD, April 27.—Operations in the eastern theatre of the war are now confined to the narrow part to the Carpathian region. Few and unimportant movements are possible in Poland because the roads are impassable.

Defeated in their repeated attempts to turn the Russian flanks, the Austro-German forces have given the latter, are now concentrating their attacks on the Russian centre in the region of the Uskok, the village of Polna being the key of the position. While the Austrian official report announces the defeat of the Russians in their attack on the heights of Ostro and before the Uskok Pass, the Russian official despatch last night reports a victory over the enemy.

Kaiser Is Rushing West. AMSTERDAM, April 27.—Kaiser Wilhelm is rushing to the Flanders front on his special train for the operations against the allies at Ypres and along the Yser front, according to advices received here from Berlin yesterday.

These unofficial reports state that the Kaiser was in Gronow when the Flanders battle broke out, and that he immediately hastened to Berlin, where he stayed only a few hours before continuing his journey to Belgium.

Deuy Visit To Vatican. ROME, April 27.—(Via Paris.)—Both the Vatican and Prince von Buelow, the German Ambassador to Italy, deny the report printed in the Italian press that the Prince von Buelow had visited Pope Benedict to bid the pontiff farewell, believing that his departure from Rome was imminent.

Don't Want Women Conductors. LONDON, April 27.—At a mass meeting of street car men held Sunday resolutions were passed protesting against the employment of women conductors and warning the City Council that if it persists in its policy of using women as conductors the men will refuse to work with them.

SHOT IN THE BACK. Colborne Township Farmer—Murdered Near Goderich.

GODERICH, Ont., April 27.—What appeared to be a murder was disclosed shortly after midnight when word reached Coroner Hunter that Robert Dean, a farmer of Colborne Township, had been shot and dead on a side road north of this town.

LANDING ON GALLIOLI

Allied Troops Continue Land Advance at Straits.

General Attack on Dardanelles By Water, Land and Air Was Resumed on Sunday and Russians Are Attacking Bosphorus Also—Landing Accomplished in Spite of Serious Resistance.

LONDON, April 27.—All that is known of the attack on the "indomitable" Gallipoli by the British War Office is "Admiralty last night, which simply says that in spite of serious opposition, troops have been successfully landed at various points on the Gallipoli peninsula, and that their advance continues."

The attack is being "Je by land, the sea and the air." The allied armies are playing an important part in the operation in the air and dropping bombs on the Turkish guns and trenches and directing the fire of the warships which are covering the landing of the troops. The Russians are doing their share by making a demonstration against the forts of the Black Sea entrance to the Bosphorus.

The following official announcement was given out in London yesterday:

The general attack on the Dardanelles by the fleet and the army was resumed Sunday.

The decision of the War Office, which was made by the fleet, began before sunrise at various points on the Gallipoli Peninsula, and in spite of serious opposition from the enemy in strong entrenched positions protected by barbed wire, was completely successful.

Before nightfall large forces were established on shore. The landing of the army and the advance continues.

British troops have been brought from Egypt and French soldiers are believed to have come from the southern shores of the Mediterranean. There have been despatches recently relating to the movements of British and French transports in the direction of the Sea of Marmara.

A report is current that Kitcheners' new army to the number of 100,000 and over 200,000 men is in the Aegean. A recent despatch from Egypt disclosed that Gen. Ian Hamilton, of the British army, was in command of an expeditionary force destined for European Turkey, composed of British and French troops.

SHOT IN THE BACK.

Colborne Township Farmer—Murdered Near Goderich.

GODERICH, Ont., April 27.—What appeared to be a murder was disclosed shortly after midnight when word reached Coroner Hunter that Robert Dean, a farmer of Colborne Township, had been shot and dead on a side road north of this town.

Further details were given the coroner, beyond the fact that the unfortunate man had been shot in the back by a shotgun.

The motive could not have been robbery as the victim's pockets still contained money and had not been interfered with.

Coroner Hunter has gone to the scene.

Warnings To Italy. ROME, April 27.—(Via Paris.)—An energetic campaign is being conducted in the Italian press on behalf of the allies. Every day there appear telegrams from Petrograd warning Italy that if it does not soon interfere with its war effort, it is said the allies have decided to give nothing, in case they are victorious, to a neutral power which, in the words of John Campbell, the French diplomat, "ruses to succor the victor."

The newspapers also publish long reproductions from the French press stating that Italy's participation in the war is imminent.

Carpets and Curtains

OUR stock in the line of House Furnishings was never so large or well assorted. We were fortunate enough to get all our import lines placed in stock before the war tariff was put on, and all bought before the recent sharp advance in all lines of woollen and linen fabrics. You get the benefit as we have not advanced the price in a single instance. Before supplying your wants in this line see our stock and bring along the catalog sent to you by the departmental stores of the cities. It will be a pleasure for us to have you compare prices and if we can't do as well we won't expect your business.

We have just passed into stock a special purchase of Draperies in Scrims, Voiles, Marquisettes, Madras and Bungalow Nets at from 19c to $1.25 per yard.

Our range of Rugs in Tapestry, Velvets, Brussels and Wiltons is one of the most complete and prices range from $5.00 to $47.50.

Scotch Linoleums in all widths, guaranteed qualities at 50c to 65c per square yard.

We are agents in Warton for the Kirsch Flat Brass Rod which is undoubtedly the best thing of the kind ever invented, being more rigid and serviceable than the old time round brass rod.

We again urge you to see our stock before buying your House Furnishings.

Editorial

AND now Canada realizes it is her war.

EVERY Canadian will do his duty.

AND now the war is coming right home. Canadians are being killed and wounded and there will be many sad homes in Canada before this war is over. War is war and there may be almost a national gloom yet in this young Country.

LAST week was open season on Berford street. Every day some one was tapping at the door and they were all worthy objects. However the only thing that makes the average man retain his good nature is the fact that it is more blessed to give than to receive, but it is pretty hard to give this year.

EVEN the ragman has his ups and downs. Clippings from tailor's shops which a year ago were worth only four and one half cents a pound, now sell for ten and one half and those that are nearly worth as high as twenty-two cents a pound. The next thing we know the ragman will be driving round in a six cylinder car.

THE sentence that His Honor Judge Klein gave the Indian Elliott will commend itself to every one in this district. Wife beating, whether by black or white is brutal and the lash is the proper punishment. A good severe sentence is always healthful and light sentences have little or no effect whatever upon preventing crime.

EX-PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT alleged that he found Barnes, the Republican boss of New York State, had two colonies of morals, one for politics and the other for social life. Boss Barnes would not be peculiar in this respect. There are some people who want to make the world pure and yet will take to the concessions to buy votes when the elections are called on.

THE ECHO has lived up to its position, and not taken the slightest part in politics since Oct. 1911 and this we purpose to do should an election be upon upon us, but The Echo sincerely hopes that the Federal Election, which has been mooted for some time, will be indefinitely delayed, delayed until the war is over, whether that is one year or five. Last Monday a gloom fell over Canada, her brave sons had fallen on the battlefields of Europe, and while Canadian blood is being shed there many would rather not see this country rent with internal strife. Let us imitate Great Britain in this matter, there it is not party, but a nation with teeth set upon one determined undertaking, and if we are to do our best in this great national struggle there must be a United Canada. We are all loyal, this is the biggest business Canada has ever undertaken, the Empire needs all the assistance we can give and it is a united Canada that must rally to her aid in this great hour of need. There may be many sad homes in Canada in May and June, and we will not be disposed to pay much attention to political matters.

The Joy of Good Health Is Now Experienced

Nervousness, Dizzy Spells and Sleeplessness Are Now a Thing of the Past.

This is a cheerful letter from Mrs. Peacock, and it should bring joy to the heart of many a reader of this paper. Dizzy spells and sleeplessness are symptoms of strained nerves, and are the biggest of many women, who do not know just what treatment to use. You can read Mrs. Peacock's letter and take courage for she has proven that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is a complete cure for these troubles. So pleased was she with the results obtained that she wrote other women to know about this food cure. Mrs. Thomas Peacock, 28 Hilda street, St. Thomas, Ont., and whose husband is conductor on the Wabash Railway, states:—"I was quite run down in health, was very nervous, did not sleep well, and had frequent dizzy spells. Believing this to be the result of an exhausted nervous system I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and can say that this medicine did me a world of good. It entirely freed me of the symptoms stated above, built up my health generally, so that to-day I feel that I am quite well again."

In a more recent letter Mrs. Peacock writes:—"Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done me a world of good, and I would be pleased to tell everybody so."

In nearly every issue of this paper you will find letters about Dr. Chase's medicines. If this one does not describe your case watch for others or write to us. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

CHAPTER IV.

It was a glorious and memorable ride for all of them. Four portly horsemen in a horseman's country. Such a taste of paradise as, in this weary old world, generally precedes trouble.

"How much of this belongs to the Risky Ranch, Mrs. Rolt?" asked Anstruther.

"All of it as far as you can see."

"None of it," corrected Jim, "except a few meadows and some water front on the Fraser as you can see."

"How annoying you are, Jim. You know what I mean perfectly well."

"Only you don't say it, and he doesn't know."

"Well, if it isn't yours," persisted the puzzled Anstruther, looking from one to the other, "why should not anyone run their cattle over it?"

"They might if they did not need water or hay. These two Harbison boys are trying it now."

"What Jim means, Mr. Anstruther, is that we have cornered it. I beg your pardon, Kitty, secured the exclusive right to all the water and all the hay meadows in the district, and without them the run would be worth anything. Stock must have water, and in winter must sometimes have hay."

"I see, but how can you keep your cattle. I don't see any fences."

"We don't keep them, they keep themselves. In summer, and in winter, they break off at night, and pointed to where a number of slow-moving beasts were strung out in line of march towards the river."

"Do you see that band? Those are the first of our beasts coming in. For the next fortnight you will see them wandering in by tens and hundreds. They know the seasons as well or better than we do."

"Do you mean that they have been out all the summer and are coming in now of their own accord?"

"Just that. In all sorts of beautiful little parks inclosed in that black timber, in groves shaded deep by little streams we have hardly seen, they have dreamed away their summer undisturbed and now they come home with their calves behind them, our income."

"It seems easy. Where does the work come in?"

"Mrs. Rolt turned laughing in her saddle to Jim."

"Isn't any work in this, Jim?"

"Jim, who was riding in his shirt-sleeves, with his coat to a roll at the back of his saddle, looked meditatively at his own bare corded arms."

"Might be some in the meadows in 'skeeter time," he suggested.

"Rounding up the stray cattle, a man in the saddle quite a while, and there's some don't hanker after too much branding and such like, but it's all a lifetime. If it works it is better than any play I ever heard told of. Guess if I was the boss of the Risky, I wouldn't change with anyone."

"That is pretty of you, Jim."

"He looked at her smiling, so says she."

"I guess the boss agrees with me, and he knows England as well as he knows B.C., and has sampled the best there is to be had in all the world."

"Yes, but he had his ill of England first, Jim, and he is older."

"Her eyes followed the laughing couple when preceded by the call. Her thoughts followed Combe's, and the pain in his honest grey eyes was reflected in hers. She was a good friend, and knew that it was useless to explain. The old world had called its own, and both knew that Kitty had listened to the call."

"Meanwhile the others had ridden ahead, and were now holding up their hands to keep the stragglers back. They left their horses, and stole quietly on to some tall trees which fringed a small lake, a blue turquoise set in the red gold of the cedar and alder amongst the grey green of the aspen brush."

"For the last fifty yards the boy and girl, they were little more, crept on their hands and knees, and when they raised their heads above the reeds there was a sudden rushing and scurrying as a bunch of mallards sprang back from the water. In quick succession four ducks followed, and another, and two of the ducks tumbled back headlong into the lake. For a moment the rest of the birds looked as if they were going straight away, but some foolish prompting of curiosity brought them back, swinging in a circle high over the water."

"Stand still, Miss Clifford," they heard the Englishman say, "now let them have it," and again there were four flutters, but even to the onlookers it was almost impossible to distinguish more than two reports."

"Again two birds came down, not all silent on straggling wings, but with their heads under and held in mid air, killed instantly, as if by lightning."

"That's a fine performance, Miss Clifford. Very few girls at Anstruther could best that," they heard Anstruther say. "You were too quick for me."

"What didn't you shoot?"

"The No. 1. He was a fine fellow, my gun is loaded still, and he threw open the breech, showing the two cartridges which he had slipped in with the regularity of an old hand almost as he spoke."

"Then I killed those two myself."

"Unless they died before the No. 2, you. And who killed the others?"

"I suppose that you did."

"Oh, nonsense; I'm not going to be flattered."

"Well, we'll take one each then, if I can get them. Give me your hand, please, for a moment, and I'll show you the transparent pretext of wanting support."

RHEUMATISM FOR RHEUMATISM

Handful of People Have Found "Fruit-Active" Their Only Help

READ THIS LETTER

Superintendent of Stanley School in Toronto Tells How He Cured Himself of Chronic Rheumatism After Suffering for Years.

35 DUFFERIN ROAD, Oct. 1st, 1913.

"For a long time, I have thought of writing you regarding what I term a most remarkable cure effected by your 'Fruit-Active' in my case of Chronic Rheumatism, especially in my hands. I have spent a lot of money without any good result. 'Fruit-Active' has proved for me a most valuable remedy, and am pleased to tell you that I am cured. All the enlargement, not only in my hands and feet, but also in my joints, is all gone and I can do any kind of work. I have gained 35 pounds in 12 months!"

R. A. WAUGH

Rheumatism is no longer the dreaded disease it once was. Rheumatism is no longer one of the most terrible diseases. "Fruit-Active" has proved its marvelous powers over Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago—in fact, all the diseases which arise from some derangement of stomach, bowels, kidneys or skin.

"Fruit-Active" is sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-Active Limited, Ottawa.

"Did you hear that owl, Combe? It's early in the day for him to be calling." There do you hear him? He must be quite close to us."

"That isn't owl," replied the girl. "You really are too absurd to be taken seriously. The owl called before and they did not mind a bit, but he will come back if you call him."

"Unfortunately, Mrs. Rolt wavered and neglected her opportunity."

"With perfect assurance Anstruther strode to the four million figure of the glow-in-the-dark, as he came, but did not move a muscle."

"Nonsense, said she, 'Isn't it. I don't happen to speak your lingo but hope I see you well. Ever had your pictures taken?'"

"Not in a conversational mood, eh? Well, perhaps that is better. Mustn't ask whilst the operation is being performed. But you had a little on one side, sir. No savvy, eh? Well, think of 'er, old chap,' and he pointed to a girl with a grin, and kneeling down adjusted his camera, aiming it right into the faces of the silent group."

"As he did so Emma disappeared into the tent."

"Whoop! Gone to ground," he shouted with a laugh, and the four, raised their heads, turned back their eyes upon him."

"For a moment he was nonplussed, but the devil of island insolence had possession of him, and he knew the girl was watching him. Still on his knees he reached for a long stick from the fire, and bending forward, tossed to so the hot end of it fell upon the nearest Indian's bare foot."

Quick as thought the Chilchoten turned, and the Indian, who was kneeling, drew his breath and feared for what was to come, but the camera clicked and the fire still divided the aggressor from his victim."

"Got you, my beauty," said the unconscious artist, with quite your most engaging smile on, and utterly careless of the danger which was in the man's eyes, he put his camera into his case, and walked back, laughing, to his friends."

Mrs. Rolt and Jim, who had returned too late to interfere, did not join in his laugh, but the sudden faces of the outlandish, and the sight of Emma, the beautiful, peeping out to see if all was safe again, were too much for Kitty, who laughed till the tears ran down her cheeks."

"Oh, surely, Mrs. Rolt," protested Anstruther, between his peals of laughter, "but you seem to look so serious about. One would think that you didn't like being photographed, I didn't like being photographed, what matter. You aren't afraid of Indians in this country, are you?"

"Not a bit," said she, "but I don't want to be at any rate, for goodness' sake, stop laughing. You can see how they hate it."

It is a curious trait of the Indians, at any rate of the Far West, that they themselves seldom or never laugh, whilst the mere hint that you are laughing evokes in the mildest way, through their backs up immediately, a look of alarm and a look of alarm, as though they were afraid of you, and now as the afternoon waned, an Indian appeared dragging the first deer into camp."

It is not a bad thing for other people to have one man amongst them who knows how to laugh, and who will not only laugh, but will laugh with you. And now as the afternoon waned, an Indian appeared dragging the first deer into camp."

and the body of an Indian as he lay on his back, there would have been but little sleep in the white people's camp that night."

To Indians did not sleep."

Through all that long night the hunters of the Chilchoten did round their fire, and the Indian camp was a scene of constant casting now and again and all the while the spot where the white people lay."

Constant contact with men, armed with weapons of precision, has taken the courage out of the grizzly. It has had the same effect on the grizzly which is naturally one of the boldest and fiercest in Western Canada, but the latter's effect on the grizzly was anyone with half an eye would have recognized that all glow in the forest gloom as a storm cloud."

An hour or two passed by, the night deepened, the drows of growing voices went on and then a figure detached from the gloom and slipped without a sound into the forest crevice."

Just then Jim Combe stirred in his sleep, and throwing one arm restlessly from his blanket, turned over on his side towards the Indian's fire, muttering in his sleep."

As he lay thus, the figure glided back into the shadows."

The Town Council

Dr. McNally, the District Medical Health Officer, condemned the town's dumping ground, and consequently this little bit of real estate will be worth of no more value than a sub-division ten or fifteen miles out from the centre of Regina. It was claimed that the soil there was not of a porous nature, and therefore not of the Province Board of Health evidently agreed with this contention. He contended that the geological formation of this particular part of the Bruce Peninsula was altogether unsuitable for the purpose for which it had been bought, and that the residents of that district had reason to complain of unpleasant odors etc. Consequently the town is ordered to purchase another site at once. Dr. Hough and Mr. A. W. Ames, of the local Board of Health were present, and they stated that there was no alternative, another must be obtained. Accordingly the Property Committee will look after another spot.

This year the High School has asked for a grant of only $1500 whereas last year the grant to this institution was $1700.

The Canada Furniture Manufacturers Co. advised the town that last year they had employed 66 7-20 men for an average of 10 months, and as their agreement called for 100 men during that period they accordingly enclosed their cheque for $142.

A petition for a cement sidewalk from Gould to McNaughton Street created some discussion. This is in front of the High School and Councilor Pope thought that the High School being a public building, the town should take care of it, out a number of the other councillors thought that this was not the year to build sidewalks. If this sidewalk is built the town practically pays the whole thing.

Messrs. Weinmeyer, Jackson, and McDonald of the Public School Board, were present and stated that they wanted to know if the town would build an annex to the Public School, or at least obtain an expression of opinion from the ratepayers upon this question. The present building they use for the primary department is altogether unsuitable and has been condemned by the Inspector. It is the old story, no money, but the council will submit a by-law to the ratepayers at the next January election. However, before the ratepayers vote, a few thousand for this annex they will have to be thoroughly satisfied that doubling up in the rooms of the present building is impossible.

Lots 16 and 17, west of McNaughton and north of Division were sold to Robert Thompson for $125.

It is likely that the grader will be applied to the streets of Warton, particularly to the leading thoroughfares. It appears that it is doing excellent work in Albemarle, and good work is required on the streets of this town. It would take from $7000 to $8000 to make permanent improvements to Bedford street.

Before adjourning the council extended their sympathy to Councilor Plante, whose son had been wounded in the recent battle at Ypres. Mr. Plante thanked the council for their sympathy.

The Calgary Camp Roy Casbore Writes Home

Calgary, 19th Mounted Rifles
Apr. 25th, 1915.

My dear Mother,—I received your letter yesterday and am not going to lose any time answering this time. Well, we are still here in Calgary with no immediate hope of getting away. We have been hoping and expecting to go for a long time now but it does not seem to come true. For about three months the officers have been telling us that we would be moving right away. They are preparing a big camp to accommodate about six thousand men under canvas, on the Sarpe Reserve about eight miles from town, and I think we will be there in about another week. We are in very cramped quarters in the tents here sleeping in what used to be box stalls and a dozen of us in each one. It is getting too much like summer now for that. We get up at 6.30 and turn out at 7 for a run of about three miles before breakfast. Breakfast is at 8 and we are out again at 8.30 and drill with ten minute rests until one, when we have dinner. Out at two again until half-past five, when we are through for the day. We can stay out till ten without a pass. Lights out at 10.15 and if there is any noise after that you get pulled up in the morning. I was down to High River about two weeks ago and saw Uncle Duncan while there. He wanted me to go out with him but I did not have time as I was due back in camp the same night. I have not a picture just now but will send one soon as I can. We are to get our horses as soon as we get out in camp so that will help our feet some. Well I guess this will be all this time. Hoping this will find you all well I remain

Sending has begun in earnest.
Mr. Howard Boyle did business in Lions Head on Wednesday.

Mr. Will Ames, of Lions Head, accompanied by his mother Mrs. A. Ames, of Big Bay, and Mrs. M. West, of Warton, came up on Thursday to attend the funeral of Sandy Ames.

Mr. George Graham spent the first of the week in Derby on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Caesar, of Spry, attended the funeral of Sandy Ames last Thursday.

On Tuesday evening April 27th a gloom was cast over our neighborhood by the death of Alexander William (Sandy) Ames, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Ames. Deceased was in his thirteenth year and his death is a severe blow to the parents and friends everywhere.

Sandy was a bright and cheerful disposition and was a favorite with all who knew him. The Sunday School children and pupils of both public schools, Dyers Bay and Brinkmann's Corners, formed a procession and marched from the house to the corner where the conveyances awaited those going to the cemetery.

Numerous gifts of flowers were placed on his coffin among them a beautiful wreath from the Sunday School. He leaves to mourn him besides his parents one brother Jack, and one sister, Myrtle. After the services at the house which was conducted by the Pastor, Mr. Hilditch, interment took place at McViears. The pall bearers were young friends of the deceased Masters Regie Mann, Eddie Lynch, Arnold Graham, Johnnie Lynch, Eddie Morrison and Roy Graham.

The sorrowing family have the sympathy of the whole community.

Crushed Stone $1.00 per Cubic Yard

The Township of Koppel which met Monday awarded the contract for crushed stone at $1.00 per cubic yard. There was five tenders Peter Burbee $1.30, Dewar Brothers $1.10 John Wilkie $1.10, D. Forbes $1.20 and Gillies & Fraser $1.10 On account of three tenders being the same namely $1.10 it was decided to auction off the work. Wilkie bid $1.05 and Dewar Brothers won the even dollar. There will be at least $2500 spent on crushed stone this year in the township.

Former Footman Army Boss

Mail and Empire

THE appointment of Sir William Robertson as the Chief of Headquarters Staff is one without precedent in the British Army. The position carries with it practically the complete control of all other staff appointments which are traditionally regarded as the birthright of men of good family. At the outbreak of the war there was scarcely a name on the General Staff whose name could not be found in the peerage; the Chief of Staff was invariably a man of aristocratic birth. The new Chief of Staff is of humble origin. He began life as a pantry boy. At 15 he was promoted to be an indoor footman in the establishment of a wealthy Wiltshire squire, but he made an indifferent and rebellious sort of footman and one day ended his career as such by telling the well trained butler under whom he served to go to a much better place than the pantry. Robertson then walked to the nearest town, took the Queen's shilling and became a private of Dragoons. He became a Lieutenant ten years later, and his subsequent rise, considering the tremendous prejudice that has existed in the army toward the advancement of rankers, was fairly rapid. He became chief of the staff college at Sandhurst and at the outbreak of war was Quartermaster-General.

His Efficient Organizing.

Like Kitchener, his abilities lay in his great powers of organization. As Quartermaster-General he was responsible for the organization of the transport and commissariat arrangements, and in an incredibly short time, and in face of the most stupendous difficulties, he built up that vast and complicated machinery by which troops, food, clothes and ammunition can be daily moved between England and the front without a hitch or the least delay or confusion. As Chief of Staff Sir William Robertson has before him the still more difficult task of reorganizing the General Staff. In carrying out this work he will combat the most powerful social influences and deep-rooted traditions and customs of the army. There are not many in the army who would have the courage to undertake such a task. There are, of course, able officers and good soldiers on the General Staff, but it is a matter of common knowledge that it is interwoven with ornamental officers who are on it for no other reason than their wealth and social position. Gen. French, like other great English generals, could not escape from the old influence. In giving staff appointments to dukes and wealthy peers or their sons he did no more than did Lord Roberts in South Africa or Lord Haldane in the Crimea, or the Duke of Wellington in the Peninsula. At War. This has always been done practically of necessity by the British commander-in-chief in any campaign.

No Room for Ornaments

But the plain fact is, and it is one apparently acknowledged, tacitly if reluctantly, by Gen. French, that in this great war there is no room on the staff for the ornamental officer. No one doubts for a moment the courage of men like the Duke of Westminster or the Duke of Roxburgh or a host of others, or their willingness to undertake any task, however hazardous, they may be asked to perform; but the hard fact remains that they are men with little military experience, and have no knowledge of staff duties. On the General Staff they are simply in the way. They are unfit for any special duties beyond that of carrying despatches and they are under no command except that of the Commander-in-chief, who is far too busy to concern himself about them. They are, therefore, more or less at the loose end of a string with a deal of time on their hands which they occupy as often as possible in entertaining their friends and relations on three-day visits from England at various villas along the rear of the British lines.

Robertson's Test

Either to get rid of the ornamental staff officer altogether or to find some useful and purposeful work for him is Sir William Robertson's determination. His method is a very simple one. He offers a job—it may be one on the lines of communication or a post on the field telephone or telegraph service, something at all events that will take him from headquarters and keep him busy—and the man to whom it is offered must either accept it or clear out. In the last week sixteen officers have been got rid of in this way. Four of whom have returned to England. Moreover, the new chief of staff has absolutely forbidden all social visits on the part of staff officers to the front, which has during the last few months become a feature of the social life at the English headquarters. All this of course is but a small part of the work which the new chief has in hand; but how difficult has been and is may be gathered from the fact that Sir William Robertson frankly admitted to a friend in London lately that only for the fact that there was a man at the head of the War Office who could say "no" to a duke or even a prince he would have been compelled to have got on with the presence of the ornamental staff officer at the front. "And I would have resigned, of course, rather than do that," said the Chief of Staff.

Places for Competent Rankers

The new chief aims at making the General Staff as efficient as it is possible to make it. He will put any man on it whether he be a duke or a newly promoted ranker who can most efficiently perform the particular work required of him. He has not found a duke yet fit to be a staff officer, but he has found the cousin of one and has no hesitation in putting him on the staff. Sir William Robertson's influence is making itself felt right through the army. By the best soldiers he is liked, because they have confidence in his proven efficiency, but, generally speaking, the new Chief of Staff with his rugged, hard features, rugged moustache, and rough manners is feared rather than liked. He is devoid of all courtier-like qualities which usually distinguish a soldier of high rank. His manners are still the manners of the barrack room and so often is his language. He has a big appetite and can eat and enjoy the coarsest foods. When visiting the trenches he never troubles to bring a knife or fork with him; he takes his lunch or dinner of beef or a tin plate with his hands. But his efficiency, courage, his masterful brain and dominating personality render him without doubt one of the most remarkable men in the British army, in which he is probably destined to achieve a higher position perhaps before the war is over.

The First Trip on B. P. Railway.

The Bruce Peninsula Railway is now in full swing. The first trip over this line was made last Saturday. Dr. Hacking, Lions Head, was engineer on the trial trip. Gardner was fireman, J. Tackaberry section man, and S. C. Cooper conductor. The train pulled out of Warton at 6.30 p.m. sharp on time, and as it had to reach Tonerbury before dark to make connections with the Manitoulin and points on the North Shore it got a move on. It climbed the hill faster than a hound after a deer, however some say that the engine had to be cranked three, four times and when it got on the good automobile roads in Albemarle it went along with its head up in the air like a flying Zepplin headed for the British coast. All the passengers were afraid at every farm house a dog came out and barked, but he could not overtake it than an Elephant but what were gasoline engines ever made for? You can coax and pet them, and they will not lunge. You can even get profane, and it doesn't faze on them. The car balked, the question was whether the steamer would wait or not, and the hours passed away, midnight, two o'clock and the crew deserted the train and leaving it in a yard at Hope Bay. After all the only machine ever intended for a newspaper man is "Shank's mare" and he better stick to that.

ADAMS—McKECHNIE

The wedding took place here yesterday of Miss Phoebe Louise Adams, A. T. C. M. daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Adams, Hanover, to Mr. Jas. H. McKechnie, M. A., F. I. A., of Toronto. The ceremony was solemnized at the bride's home at high noon, being performed by Rev. J. W. Cooley, assisted by Rev. W. L. McLean. The house was prettily decorated with anemone, pink and white roses. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a handsome gown of white silk crepe draped with a diamond necklace, an emerald and Brussels veil, white fashion, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley. She also wore the groom's gift, a diamond and platinum lavaliere. She was attended by Miss Louise Brown, of Neustadt, as maid of honor, who wore a dainty gown of pink and white silk crepe, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Miss Hannah presided at the piano, and Mrs. G. W. Grandy, of West Lorne and Mr. Leonard Woodward sang solos after the ceremony. After luncheon, which was served in the dining-room, which was also prettily decorated, the bride donned a handsome blue corded silk travelling suit with black hat, and left with her husband for a two month's trip to the Southern and Western States. Many handsome gifts were received, among which were a handsome cabinet of solid silver from the directors of the Manufacturers Life Insurance Co., and a Sheraton chair from the office staff of the same company with which company the groom is connected as an actuary. Out of town guests included Mrs. McNally of Weston, Mrs. W. J. Telford, Mrs. Le Pan, Mr. T. A. Dark, of Toronto, Miss Maribel Manley, of Owen Sound and Mr. C. W. Grandy, of West Lorne.

FWLLE—TUFFELL

A very pretty but quiet wedding took place on Wednesday, April 28th 1915, at 4 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tuffell, Mar, when their eldest daughter Annie, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Alexander Fowlie, of Spry. The bride was given away by her father and was handsomely dressed in a gown of pongee silk trimmed with overlace. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Robertson, of Mar, in the presence of the immediate friends of the contracting parties. They were unattended. Immediately after the ceremony and congratulations were exchanged a wedding supper was served and the happy couple under a shower of rice and old shoes left for their home in Spry. Their many friends wish them happiness and prosperity in their journey through life.

The hydro-electric high power line from Eugenia Falls generating station to Owen Sound is partly completed. Engineer James was here this week arranging for the route of entry of the line into Owen Sound. Eleven miles of line west and north-west of Eugenia has been completed, and it is probable that a line gang will start from Owen Sound at an early date, and work south to meet the other force.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF,
HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Dandruff right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scratchy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scourge. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Dandruff tonight—no any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Dandruff from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Dandruff. Save your hair! Try it!

He was unmarried. His mother lives in Scotland.

LIST MAY REACH 6,000

Losses to Canadian Division Are Still Pouring In.

Dead Have Been Estimated at About Eight Hundred With Five Thousand, Two Hundred Possibly Missing—Five of 13th and 14th Battalions Is Still in Doubt.

OTTAWA, May 3.—With the casualty lists during Saturday afternoon and Sunday totalling upwards of 250 more officers, non-commissioned officers and privates killed, wounded or missing, there have been heavy additions to the recorded loss of the Canadian division in the recent fighting in which they won undying glory near Ypres.

It is now understood that the Canadian losses in killed, wounded or taken prisoner as a result of that four-day engagement will not be short of 6,000, and in regard to this the next few days will tell the tale as every day brings its fresh total.

Of the 5,000, 800 have been killed in action, and the balance is about equally divided between wounded and missing, the greater part being among officers and privates, and that half of the infantry at the front with the first division has been put out of action.

No further news has been received from the Canadian casualty lists to the 13th and 14th Montreal battalions, which are reported according to one interpretation of the description of the Ypres battle by the Canadian eye-witnesses, to have been left behind on the railway, and the 3rd brigade from St. Julien. While this statement would lead to the belief that these two battalions had been all killed, wounded or captured, it is pointed out by the eye-witness report that the 13th and 14th had to be left behind. This may mean that only detachments from the regiments suffered this fate, while the remainder escaped.

It may be some days before the German prisoners reach Canada. Such lists are exchanged at intervals by the belligerents through the medium of the Red Cross headquarters in Geneva.

The greater part of the losses reported in the Canadian casualty lists were among Toronto, Western Ontario, Winnipeg, Vancouver and Victoria battalions.

RESISTANCE WEAKENING.
Bombardment of Dardanelles Forts Tells—Land Forces Progressing.

LONDON, May 3.—Several unofficial reports from Athens assert that the German resistance in the Dardanelles has been weakened by the fleet and the fighting ashore continued hotly on April 30 and May 1. Many forts, the despatch says, have been severely damaged and their fire is weakening, some of them being silenced entirely.

The town of Gallipoli, according to the despatches, has been totally destroyed. The progress of the allied armies is rapid, and the conquering of the points, and 900 Turks, the despatches say, have been captured.

The invaders, after their fighting, which was so long and hard, behind Kili Bahir, dominating the whole peninsula.

The landing of four thousand French troops on the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles last Sunday was executed for the exclusive purpose of facilitating the occupation by British troops of Sed-el-Bahr, a town on the European side of the straits.

The landing of the French troops, which was so long and hard, completed, the French, according to these advices, returned to their transports and proceeded for an unknown distance.

Frederick Renet telegraphs to the Daily News from Petrograd: "At the time the expeditionary force has resumed the initiative. They gained an important tactical success on Friday, when on the Asiatic side of the straits, in the road from Stry to Munkacs they captured some mountain guns."

TURKISH TRANSPORT SUNK.

Queen Elizabeth Destroyed 8,000 Tons Ship at Ypres.

LONDON, May 1.—In the course of its bullet, last night describing the naval operations at the Dardanelles, the British War Office says: "During the operations Turkish warships from Nagara (in the straits) several times have attempted to intercept, but have always made no headway."

The text of the Admiral's statement follows: "A series of small attacks took place in the neighborhood of the Gallipoli and North Hill or Lightship, on Saturday."

"During the forenoon H.M. destroyer Recruit was sunk by a submarine, four officers and 11 men being rescued by the trawler Daisy."

"At 2 p.m. the trawler Colombia was attacked by two German torpedo boats, who approached her from the westward and commenced an action without hoisting their colors. The Colombia was sunk and a torpedo, only on deck had been being saved by the other trawlers."

"A division of British destroyers comprising the Laffrey, Laffrey, Laffrey and Lark, chased the two German vessels, and after a brief fight of one hour sank them both."

"The British destroyers sustained no casualties. German officers and 41 men were rescued from the sea, and are prisoners of war."

The destroyer Recruit was on patrol duty Saturday morning when the submarine sank her. According to details received here she was struck amidships by the torpedo and began to sink. The wounded vessel signalled for assistance, and her call was answered by the trawler Daisy, and thirty men, out of her complement of sixty-five were saved."

It is stated that a torpedo was fired at the Daisy, which was forced to leave on a rescue boat to be hidden, and that the submarine chased this boat and fired her gun at it, bounding her. The British boats rescued some of the crews of the Germans and landed them yesterday."

LONDON, May 3.—The Daily Telegraph's Johannesburg, South Africa, correspondent writes that the Government has decided to take steps to curtail the extensive restrictions on the liquor traffic in South Africa which is enforced at an early date.

On Hindenburg's Cavalry Sweep an Exhibition for Neutrals?
PETROGRAD, May 3.—German cavalry, useless for trench fighting in Flanders and the Dardanelles, is now moving in the extreme north between Elchhorn's army and the sea. The chief advance is along the Dnieper, a tributary of the Niemen, in the direction of Schawil.

The Russians see Hindenburg's personal command in this new spectacular movement. The region is without strategic value except for the purpose of foraging and cannon, owing to lack of roads and railways, can be used for great movements of infantry and artillery, unless they are landed from transports above Poland.

Brutality is the basis of this cavalry movement will increase Scandinavian neutrals and the local non-Russian population of the Baltic provinces, besides giving Hindenburg an opportunity of attempting to outwit the new Russian command in the north.

OUR stock in the line of House Furnishings was never so large or well assorted. We were fortunate enough to get all our import lines placed in stock before the war tariff was put on, and all bought before the recent sharp advance in all lines of woollen and linen fabrics. You get the benefit as we have not advanced the price in a single instance. Before supplying your wants in this line see our stock and bring along the catalog sent to you by the departmental stores of the cities. It will be a pleasure for us to have you compare prices and if we can't do as well we won't expect your business.

We have just passed into stock a special purchase of Draperies in Scrims, Voiles, Marquissettes, Madras and Bungalow Nets at from 19c to $1.25 per yard.

Our range of Rugs in Tapestry, Velvets, Brussels and Wiltons is one of the most complete and prices range from $5.00 to $47.50.

Scotch Linoleums in all widths, guaranteed qualities at 50c to 65c per square yard.

We are agents in Warton for the Kirsch Flat Brass Rod which is undoubtedly the best thing of the kind ever invented, being more rigid and serviceable than the old time round brass rod.

THE operation of the National Transcontinental Railway from Moncton to Winnipeg by the government will be popular and possibly before long profitable. The line from Moncton to Lewis has been operated during the past year as part of the Intercolonial, and has paid, so may the other link from Quebec to Winnipeg, and at any rate there has been a general feeling that the government line of railway should extend as far as the Upper Lakes anyway, and when the Country pays for it, if the government owned the remainder of the line to Port Moody it would be quite in keeping with much popular sentiment in this Country.

Nations Seldom Fight to Finish

(Mail and Empire)

In the past fifty years there has been really only one "fight to the finish" among the nations. That fight was the war between France and Prussia. Only then was the victor able to dictate his own terms of peace. It was not a case of two belligerents meeting, and after long discussion arriving at a compromise satisfactory to both, or equally unsatisfactory. The loser had nothing to do in 1870 but to agree to what the victor demanded. The present war will end in the same way. The victor will lay down his conditions. If they are not accepted the armistice which precedes any formal discussion of terms will be brought to an end and the fight will continue. It is safe to say that among the Allies there is not more than one man in a hundred who looks forward to a compromise. For the Germans it is destruction or world-empire. For the Allies it is absolute victory or annihilation.

Inconclusive Wars

The last great war, that in the Balkans, and we include both the war of the Allies against Turkey and the subsequent war of Serbia and Greece against dominant and arrogant Bulgaria, was not decided by the victor. In both cases the great powers intervened, once to save Turkey as a European state and once again to see that Greece and Serbia did not altogether wipe out Bulgaria. Britain had more to do with dictating terms of peace than the successful belligerents. Those who believe that compromises are wise will find themselves unable to cite the compromises that ended the Balkan struggles as evidence. These compromises merely sowed the seeds for future wars, and the warning would be enough in itself, apart from the other features of the struggle now raging, to convince statesmen of neutral nations that a fight to a finish is the only possible, the only sensible, and the only humane issue of the present war.

The Russo-Japanese War

Though the Russo-Japanese War is classified as a Japanese triumph, and though Russian victories in it are hard to call to mind, the war really ended in a draw. Russia was brought to a standstill. She was by no means beaten, and without attempting to disparage the remarkable achievements of the Japanese army and navy, it might be said that Russia quit before she had really begun to fight. Russia was like a man who had been punished by a teacher and is ready to quit. But if the wounded man had continued to the limits of his strength, the situation of the teacher might have been very different. When the plenipotentiaries met in the United States Japan demanded "not only the cession of Port Arthur, which had been already captured, a free hand in Manchuria, the recognition of her sovereignty in Korea and in the whole of Saghalien, but an indemnity of $300,000,000. Russia was willing to cede and lost the indemnity. Now $300,000,000 was a lot of money to Japan, as it is to the ordinary reader, but, nevertheless, Russia refused flatly to pay it, and Japan did not insist. Had she done so the war would have continued, and perhaps with different results.

Russia v Turkey

In her war against Turkey Russia won much. She won Bessarabia, and recognition as the natural guardian of the Slavs in the Turkish Empire. But she did not impose the terms of peace. They were finally decided by Germany and Britain, and Bismarck and Besselerfeld had in mind rather the necessity of protecting their countries against the Russian of the future than of rewarding her for her successful war against the Turks. In the case again Russia was not strong enough to insist upon retaining what her arms had won. She proposed, but the other powers disposed. She did not dictate. She merely made it impossible for Turkey to dictate, and while this war is a most important one from a Russian point of view, it does not reveal her in the light of a conqueror with her foot upon the neck of a vanquished nation.

Unconditional Surrender

The war between Britain and South Africa, like the American Civil War, differs from other great conflicts in the past half century. Lincoln always regarded the soldiers of the south as disloyal citizens. Britain, too had claims of sovereignty upon the Transvaal. In both cases there was no talk of terms. Unconditional surrender was demanded. In both cases it was yielded. In South Africa the Boers did not know what terms they would be forced to accept for a couple of years after the last shot had been fired. Nor did Lee, when at Appomattox, yield to Grant's stern decree of unconditional surrender. In the case the terms granted by the conqueror were more generous than the vanquished had a right to expect. In the case of the Civil War, the South suffered from a "war of attrition" regime hardly less terrible than war. In the war between the United States and Spain the fight was not continued to a finish. Spain yielded sovereignty in Cuba and the Philippines. She paid no indemnity. On the contrary, the United States paid her $20,000,000 and other expenses. The war was no "draw," and while it established the United States as a world power, it did not destroy Spain.

Over That

Their honeymoon is over now. It's passed away for keeps; For him 's the beard to sit and wait When his wife holds him down town But goes to bed and sleeps.

Probably nothing would afford the small boy more pleasure than the privilege of assuming the role of father to the man occasionally.

According to reports a whole lot of good work has been done on the roads in Albenmarle this season. The grader has been busy and has gone over all the roads in the township and it is said that the roads in Albenmarle have been considerably improved.

When admission is charged to any public meeting The Echo charges for the publication of the same (at least 50 cents) and we cannot allow a free notice to appear even in correspondence. Business is business.

Reeve Whitcher, Albenmarle claims that his township is assessed too high and brought that matter up at the County Council. The result is that Mr. McNabb of Walkerton, and other members of the County Council will take a trip through the township this week to see if the Reeve's content is true.

The death occurred Monday in Durham at the residence of her son, John, of Mrs. Graham of this town. Mr. Chris. Graham who is teaching at Brinkmans Corners received the word Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock and at 1:30 P.M. he was in Wiaraton having made the distance of upward of 40 miles on his wheel.

John Elliot received the first half of his sentence of 12 lashes at the county jail at Walkerton Friday last, for wife beating. He is a perfect type physically of the Indian and exhibits all the stigmata of his race. He went to the post without a quiver or change of expression but before the fourth stripe was given he began to wilt. The punishment was given in private without any outside of the jail and the sheriff's officers knowing the time. The prisoner will have five months to look forward for the second dose.

The Wiaraton Produce Co., have opened a store in the McLaren block and will be ready Saturday April 3rd, to take in butter and eggs for which they will pay the highest cash price. The produce they are buying is supplied directly to the consumers in the cities, and must be fresh and for fresh egg and butter etc. they will pay cash. The Wiaraton Produce Co. are simply buyers, they have nothing to sell, and ask the farmers to bring their produce to them.

ever receive the proper balance of food to sufficiently nourish both body and brain during the growing period when nature's demands are greater than in mature life. This is shown in so many pale faces, lean bodies, frequent colds, and lack of ambition.

For all such children we say with unshakable conviction: They need Scott's Emulsion, and need it now. It possesses in concentrated form the very best elements to enrich their blood, to change weakness to strength; it makes them sturdy and strong and active.

Death of P. Thompson

He was Born in Errol, Perthshire, Scotland Jan. 4, 1839

Aged 76 years 4 months

While still in his teens moved to Invernesshire and engaged as a general merchant. He married Miss Christina Warren in his early twenties they had one child, Mr. John Thompson, now of Keppel. After being married about a year he was bereaved by the death of his wife. He was married again in his early thirties to Miss Margaret Gordon, who predeceased him Aug. 30th 1914. Soon after his second marriage he migrated to Canada landing at Quebec, thence to Kincardine and later to Warton where he has resided over 30 years.

The late Mr. Thompson was a member of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. In politics he was a staunch Liberal. He was of a kind and quiet disposition a gentle and loving husband and father. He leaves to mourn his loss two sons and three daughters, James and Belle, at home, John, of Keppel, Mrs. Jno. W. Bailey and Mrs. C. R. McInnes, of Berlin, all of whom were present at the funeral.

The funeral services consisted of a large party from the family, Mrs. James Preston, spray, Mrs. Scott, spray, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McInnes, spray, Rebecca Lodge and John Fellows, spray, Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Foster, spray. Mr. Thompson conducted the funeral services. Interment made in Bayview cemetery.

Death of H. H. Cheshire

Death has again removed one of the old residents of Keppel Township in the person of H. H. Cheshire of Cedar Hill. Mr. Cheshire was born in Toronto, Feb. 22 1865, and received his education and spent the early years of his life. He came to the Township of Keppel about forty years ago and has resided in the vicinity of Cedar Hill for the greater part of the time since. He was Secretary-Treasurer of S. S. No. 13 for the past sixteen years and always took a great interest in the work of the school. A man of sterling honesty with progressive ideas he will be much missed in the community, where he is so long.

Deceased had been a sufferer from stomach trouble for a number of years, which finally suddenly developed into acute peritonitis and after four days of intense suffering he passed away on May 6th. The funeral, which took place on Friday May 7th to Oxenden Cemetery, was attended by a large number of friends, many of whom had known and been associated with him during the earlier years. The funeral service was conducted by Mr. J. H. Thompson of Colpoys and Rev. Mr. Flagg of Warton.

Mr. Cheshire leaves to mourn him, his wife, and daughter Mildred at home, a son, W. G. of Warton, and a brother, Arthur of Vancouver, B.C. Sympathy is extended to the family in their bereavement.

The Sinking of the Lusitania

Friday afternoon as the gigantic steamer the Lusitania was approaching the Irish coast, she was torpedoed by a German submarine and sunk within twenty minutes. The survivors numbered about 764, and those who were drowned nearly 1400. The event has stirred the whole world as nothing else has since the war began, and may have far-reaching results. As there were many Americans it is not possible that the United States will be drawn into the war.

Assessment May Be Reduced

Last week Reeves Brown, Chesley, McNabb, Walkerton, Kesteven, Warton, accompanied Reeve Whitcher and the Councilors of Albemarle made a trip through the Township to see if their claim for a reduction in valuation should be granted. It is claimed that there are about 5000 acres of good tillable land in the township, and the balance, which is largely bush, has greatly depreciated since the wind storm of Good Friday 1913 and the fires a few years ago. The deputies evidently were impressed that Albemarle's claim is reasonable.

At Hymen's Altar

LOUGHLEED—JOHNSTON

At Vancouver on Monday May 3rd, Miss Jean Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Johnston, of Warton, was united in marriage to Mr. Edward Loughleed, of Portland, Oregon. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. E. A. Henry at the residence of the bride's brother, in the presence of a small circle of friends and relatives, at nine o'clock a.m. and the young couple left the same (burning on a trip to California, after which they will take up their residence at Portland.

There was a man in our town, And he was wondrous wise. He swore (fit was his policy) He would not advertise. But once he had advertised, And thereby hangs a tale. Tho' ad was set in quite small type, And headed "Sheep's Sale," It ran all over the town.

LIONS HEAD

Fishing season is here. Mr. C. E. Parker, of Warton, passed through here last week. Mr. James Weaver did business in Warton last Saturday. Mr. Dan Stewart, of Pike Bay, called here for goods last Saturday. Brotherhood overalls and snooks at Whit Moors, none better and few as good.

Dr. Foster of Warton, paid us his usual visit on Monday and Tuesday last. Mr. and Mrs. William Weatherhead and son were visitors to town last Monday.

Mr. George Hummel has given his stage a new coat of paint. A. Pacey did the work. Mr. Johnston made a business trip to Owen Sound on Saturday returning on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. John N. Tackaberry, returned to Owen Sound on Tuesday and will spend a few days there. Mr. Thos. Leggat, of Owen Sound, assisted the Massey Harris Agent, Mr. H. Stewart, here a few days last week.

Quite a number from this vicinity attended the sale of J. J. Dunbar on Monday last. Prices were fairly good.

When wanting any kind of fishing tackle call on R. E. W. Tackaberry. He has a full supply on hand which he intends to open this week.

Mr. Isaac Pyke, of British Columbia, is visiting friends on the Peninsula. He has been away for four years and looks hale and hearty.

When you want a rain coat call at Whit Moors you can't get everything there but what you do buy will be appreciated.

Mr. John Tackaberry, with his daughters Stella and Millie and Miss MacIndoe, called to Westford last Friday returning on Sunday. They were accompanied as far as Warton by Miss S. Shute.

Mr. William Curry spent a few days of last week with his parents here and also on business in connection with the steamer "Soo City."

Mr. Angus McDonald accompanied by his daughter Margaret and Miss Rita McKay, of Lindsay, were in town last Monday.

Mr. H. Stewart was in Warton on Tuesday. He was accompanied by his daughter Mrs. B. Grant and child who had been visiting here, and were returning to their home in Port Erie.

Miss Tackaberry wishes to correct an error that was printed in this paper two weeks ago. Her millinery parlour is open every day during the week but closed the same evenings as the stores.

When you are buying a working shirt you want one that is well made, good material and above all things a shirt with plenty of room to spare. The place to get them is at Whit Moors. That is one thing in particular that you can always depend on finding there and if you have never bought one before be sure and examine them before buying elsewhere. There is no question about it, you simply cannot do better.

DIED

WALPOLE—In Oxenden May 7th. Eliza Walpole, wife of W. Walpole, aged 61 years.

Liberals Attention

A meeting of the Reformers of Warton will be held in the Council Chamber Friday evening May 14th to appoint delegates to attend the Convention in Tara on the 19th inst.—Advt.

Mr. J. J. Moore is Chief

Warton has always had good fire brigades, the one that recently resigned was "John's on the Spot" at the sound of the gong, and Warton has another good brigade, all excellent men with T. J. Moore as Chief. They are turning out well to practice and that is all we want. We do not want a fire for a long time.

COLPOYS BAY

Mr. Peterson has been very poorly with a severe cold. But we hope she will soon be better.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Gilbert have moved into Mr. Jas. McDonagh's house lately occupied by Mr. W. H. Brown.

Mr. J. M. Brown's driver was very sick Saturday night but the new V-8 of his was called in and the animal is better.

Miss Ethel Cunningham is home on a visit. Miss Aileen Cunningham is also home from Cape Croker on the sick list, but we hope she will soon be better.

Mr. Thompson of Warton spent several days in our village last week. Mr. Bert Poste of Woodstock is visiting his mother Mrs. A. J. Poste. Bert has been on the sick list with rheumatism but is improving.

Mr. Matthews conducted the funeral service of the late Mr. H. H. Cheshire (on the Bay front) on Friday afternoon, Mr. E. Whitcher taking him across the bay in his gasoline launch.

The Womens choir last Sunday evening sang a decided success and added much to the service. The selections were, "Holy Holy Holy," "Duet," "Help somebody to day," "Little White Church" and trio "Beautiful Bible" also three hymn selections. Rev. Mr. Matthews gave an excellent sermon text "Our daughters may be as corn as wheat" polished after the similitude of a palace.

At the Ladies Aid meeting held at the Parsonage last Wednesday the officers for the coming year were elected by ballot: President Mrs. W. H. Brown, Vice-Pres. Mrs. A. Matthews, Secretary Mrs. S. Weir, Treasurer, Mrs. A. J. Poste, Organist Mrs. C. E. Whitcher. This society held 12 meetings during the year and did good work.

The Annual meeting of the S. S. was held last week, the pastor Rev. W. A. Matthews presiding. Reports were presented by the Superintendent Sec. Treasurers and Cradle-Roll Dept. The following officers were elected: Superintendent W. H. Brown, Assistant Superintendent W. H. Brown, Secretary Sup't. W. T. Parke, Treasurer Miss Kathleen Whitcher, Assistant Russell Poste, Treasurer Miss Ethel Pruder, Cradle Roll Sup't. Mrs. W. A. Matthews Teachers—Mrs. W. H. Brown, W. T. Parke, Mrs. A. J. Poste, Mrs. S. Weir and Mrs. C. Brown. Assistant teachers, Miss Amy Brown, Miss E. Whitcher, Miss Given, Mrs. W. A. Matthews and Mrs. W. T. Parke. Organist Miss Amy Brown, Associate Organist Miss Myrtle Parrow. The school is in a prosperous condition and plans are on hand to build a room for the primary class.

Prayermeeting was held at the home of Mr. Chas. Mathieson last Wednesday.

Mr. C. Graham, teacher at Brinkman's Corner, who received news of the death of his mother last Tuesday, left immediately to attend the funeral. Mr. Graham has the sympathy of all in this community.

Last Sunday the Sabbath School annual reorganization was held. Following are the teachers and officers—Sup't.—Mr. R. Bartley; Bible Class—Mrs. Chas. Mathieson; Boys Class—Mrs. Hilbert; Girls Class—Mr. Graham; Infant Class—Mrs. Bartley; Organist—Mrs. C. Mathieson; Secy.—Treas.—Mr. Will Hilbert. A hearty vote of thanks was given Mr. and Mrs. Will Tyndall for their services during the past 8 years.

ADAMSVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. A. Waugh spent Sunday in Purple Valley. Mr. Willie Ferguson who has worked here for some time has gone to Warton to work. Someone will miss you Bill.

Miss Josie Forbes was in town Saturday.

Mr. W. Holler visited at his home Sunday.

I wonder where Art was Sunday. Mr. D. Belsom, Hope Bay, attended service here Sunday evening.

Mr. Jack Johnston is back to Adamsville once again.

Mr. Arthur Urshott and sister Addie made a flying trip through here Saturday.

Hurrah for the pie social Friday night.

METHODIST CHURCH

The last official board meeting of the Methodist church for the Conference year now ending was held on Wednesday evening 5th inst. The business was largely of a routine nature. The work of the year came under general review. Mr. Geo. Atkey was elected delegate to the approaching District meeting. Mr. Flagg reported the change that has taken place in the membership during his pastorate as follows: Received on profession of faith 65 by letter 55 total 121.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR

FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girl! Try It! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a 25-cent bottle of Dandruff.

If you care for heavy hair that shines with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Dandruff. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately drives every particle of dandruff. You can't have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scalp rot is a part of its nature, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots crumble and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a 25-cent bottle of Dandruff's Dandruff from any drug store and just try it.

WHAT WILL WILSON DO?

President of U. S. Silent Regarding Intentions—Country Anxious.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—What will action the United States will take as a result of the sinking of the Lusitania with a loss of more than a hundred American lives, is still an undetermined question.

President Wilson during the last 24 hours has been busy with every aspect of the crisis, and his humanitarian aspects. That he is deeply distressed over the incident and realizes the people of the United States expect him to express his pronounced opinion of the incident was indicated by the statement issued from the White House Saturday night.

Until all the official reports are received from Ambassadors Gerard and Page at Berlin and London respectively, it is not expected that any action will be taken.

Officials here fear that the wave of anti-German feeling which is beginning to roll up in this country, has just started to gather in strength and that the present and his supporters will be sorely taxed to hold it within bounds.

Telegrams passed in yesterday on German officials, and a majority of these urged vigorous action. Some, however, from well known men throughout the country advised the greatest reserve, extreme conservatism and caution on the part of the Washington Administration.

ONLY 764 WERE SAVED ESCAPED BY MIRACLE

Twelve Hundred Went Down in Torpedoed Lusitania.

A Few Passengers Saw the Drowned Periscope, Then Came a Crash and the Vessel Sank.

Fourteen hundred passengers and crew were aboard the Lusitania when it was torpedoed by a German submarine. Only 764 were saved.

QUEENSTOWN, May 10.—Twenty-three miles from this port as the crew dies, an irregular smear of brown on a calm sea marks the grave of the Lusitania.

transatlantic liner sunk by a German submarine. One hundred and forty-nine of 1,200 souls who perished with her in improvised morgues in old buildings bordering Queenstown Harbor. The ships were picked up dead or succumbed after landing.

The survivors here are quartered in hotels, residences and boarding houses, some too badly hurt to be moved. The injuries of some are so serious that they are being air-expelled, and nearly all are too dazed to understand fully what has happened.

The survivors do not agree as to whether the submarine fired one or two torpedoes. A few say they saw the periscope, though many attest to seeing the wake of foam as a projectile came towards the vessel. The only point on which all concur is that the explosion occurred in the vital bow amidships, causing her to list almost immediately to starboard on the port side as soon as the plowed forward some distance, smashing the lifeboats' davits as she did so, and making the launching of boats well nigh impossible.

How far the Lusitania staggered forward after being struck, and how long she floated before disappearing beneath the waves, likewise, are points upon which few passengers agree. The sinking, it is estimated, lasted about eight to twenty minutes. At any rate the list to starboard so elevated the lifeboats as to render them useless, and it is said only two that side were launched.

The first of the ship to be launched, according to the custom of the sea, was dived with women and children. It struck the sea unevenly, capsizing and throwing its sixty occupants into the water. The Lusitania even then was making considerable headway and the women and little children were swept to it in spite of the desperate attempts of the men to rescue them. These strokes, according to the passengers, were carried off by the ship.

After that several boats were launched successfully, but the steamer's list grew more perilous, the deck and the surface of the water was imperatively for all to cling to the starboard rail. Many by this time had donned life jackets, and several lifeboats broke adrift unoccupied, and the sea became a froth of urns, chairs, debris and human bodies.

Among the notable men lost on the Lusitania were Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Dr. H. S. Pearson, Elliott Hubbard, Dr. Hugh Perry, James Jus. Miles Forman and Charles Frohman.

Several naval officers here state that the Lusitania received wireless orders to take a course in the mid-channel, but the ship's wireless operator died, and neither officer nor not received such orders.

All day long motor crowds surrounded the temporary morgues, and the bodies of 45 victims await identification. Although few have been identified, many bear evidence of having occupied the first-class staterooms. Striking contrast to most historic sea disasters, the rate of mortality among first-class passengers is so low that it is almost unknown among any other class on board.

A large proportion of those saved are members of the crew. The discipline, as most of them were picked up from the water.

The list of the passengers, made public by the line shows there were 1,251 passengers in all on board. The crew numbered between 200 and 250, and a few were picked up from the water.

Canadian Survivors Tell of Adventures on Cunarder.

Eleven-Year-Old Frank Hook Was Picked Overboard and Clung to Boat Until Rescued—Young Standard Saved Several Women.

Eleven-year-old Frank Hook was picked overboard and clung to the boat until rescued. Young Standard saved several women.

LONDON, May 10.—Stories of Canadian survivors are reaching London.

Frank Hook, eleven-year-old boy passenger on the Lusitania, was returning to England from Toronto with his father and sister. He was pitched overboard as the boat went down and suffered a broken leg by striking a piece of wreckage. The boy sank, but came up again and clung to an overturned boat. He became separated from his father, who did not know the boy was alive until he found him in a hospital in Queenstown.

Mrs. Florence Lobden and her daughter, of Toronto, survivors of the Lusitania disaster, tell a pathetic story concerning two English women who were rescued by the boat in which the Lobdens left the steamer.

One woman had buried her baby at sea. The other, with an infant held tightly to her breast, on being taken from the sea into the boat, have driven the child to the water's edge, and then said: "Let me bury my baby," at the same time placing never seem to think that they need an occasional cleansing inside as well as outside. Yet neglect of this internal bathing shows itself in spots, and sallow complexion—as well as in dreadful headaches and biliousness. It is because the liver becomes sluggish, and waste matter accumulates which Nature cannot remove without assistance. The best remedy is Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which stimulate the liver to healthy activity, remove fermentation, gently cleanse the stomach and bowels and tone the whole digestive system. Sure, safe and reliable. Take one at night and you feel bright and sunny in the morning. Get Chamberlain's today—druggists, etc., or by mail from Chamberlain Medicine Company, Toronto.

Many women with disfigured complexions

KEEP YOUR BABY WELL.

th's Council do now adjourn to meet again in McDonalds Hall Saturday May 22nd 1915 as a Court of Revision.

P. CURRIE, Clerk.

KEEP YOUR BABY WELL.

Mothers can keep their little ones happy and healthy by the occasional use of Baby's Own Tablets. There is no minor ailment that little ones do not get. The Tablets will not cure, and above all they are absolutely safe and positively no injury can result from their use. Concerning Tom Mrs. Henri Hurd, Kingston, Ont., writes: "There is no medicine I know of so good for little ones as is Baby's Own Tablets. They have certainly been of great service to me." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. Brockville, Ont.

MILLER LAKE

There have been four more made here lately that should be a boost to our community. Mr. Henry Eick has moved to the farm he bought from John Huester. Mr. Tom Hobbs of Tabernash has moved to the Fred Soder farm that he bought last week. Mr. and Mrs. Coughlin of Goderich have come up here to live on one of Mr. Boyle's farms and Mr. Peter Brough has moved from Spary here. So that now every vacant place is occupied.

Mr. Frank Steip made a trip to No. 1 Lindsay Wednesday.

Mr. Henry Eick made a trip to Lion's Head on Wednesday.

Mr. Lorne Boyle was down to McLeads Corcoran's helping H. Nixon for a few days at seeding.

Mr. James Brough of Spary spent Sunday at his parents home here.

We were sorry to hear of the death of Mr. A. Amos's son at Spary Bay and offer our sincere sympathy to the bereaved parents.

Dr. Hocking made a very busy man as he has made several trips through here the past week.

Tom Hobbs made a trip to Lions Head on Saturday for house furniture and steel grain.

W. Boyde and Miss Teo Rae, of Lions Head, were visitors here on Sunday.

J. Fyke and son Austin and Jim Whyte were down at K. McCathern all week framing a barn.

Well, if there is no Election this year, we men will miss the hearty hand shake and the mothers will miss the extra praise given to the babies by the office seekers.

Burns at Hearne, New Out, to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Brysons daughter.

Would Have Town Own Cemetery

(Editorial Banner)

The matter of the town acquiring Fairview cemetery was discussed at the council meeting Monday night and resulted in the appointment of a committee consisting of Mayor Fleming, Reeve Hacking, Councillor Campbell and Messrs. F. W.
Hay and T. Male, to see what arrangements could be made with this cemetery in view.

Mr. F. W. Hay addressed the meeting and pointed out that no continuity in the upkeep of the lots was assured so long as the cemetery was owned by a private party and conducted for profit.

The payment of one dollar a year provides for the care of a lot, but Mr. Hay pointed out that with people moving away, in many instances no provision would be made for the care of the lots which would become weedy and neglected.

He was satisfied that with the premises under the management of a cemetery trust this would be remedied and other changes effected that would tend to make the property more useful.

It was also pointed out that the holders of the various lots were not really the owners, the deed customarily given, being of no value and never recorded.

At the price the lots are selling it was contended that the property would bring about $2000 an acre.
The available area totals sixteen acres and of this about four and a half acres is surveyed.

The Mayor and other members of the council appeared in accord with the view of Mr. Hay and one contended that it was not legal for any individual to operate a cemetery within the municipality and added that he thought it possible for the town to expropriate the premises.

"I think the cemetery should be owned by the corporation," said Mr.
Watson, "No doubt," he continued,
"the owner has made a good deal of money out of it, but you can hardly blame him for that."

Keep It Here

(Owen Sound Advertiser)

From all parts of Ontario comes complaints of the Mail Order Houses gobbling up the business that ought by rights to go to the local merchants, and in most cases the local merchants are to blame to some extent at least. The Mail Order Houses have the science of advertising down fine and are not afraid of spending money on printer's ink.
When the local merchants think to save a few dollars by dropping their advertisements out of the local papers that is the time the mail order houses get in their fine work with
"bargains" for last day shoppers.
During dull times the local merchants cut their space down or drop their ads but not so with the mail order houses. They flood the mails with catalogues offering fabulous bargains "to clear off surplus stocks" and they double up on their advertising and the highly paid ad writers eclipse their former efforts to catch the nimble dollar. It is a case of nanking the people think they are getting something for nothing and that kind of stuff seems just the thing to tempt the average mail order and send their orders to the city in the mistaken idea that they have saved fifty per cent. This town is afflicted with a lot of people who send their money out of town for goods which they could in most cases get just as cheap at home and they forget that the city mail order houses cannot give goods away below cost any more than can the local merchant, and that if a big salary list, a high rental, a high tax bill and other city expenses it is not likely that goods can be sold at less than cost and the mail order man donate to this house or that fund fifty thousand to that and still announce a big dividend at the end of the year. The fact is, however, that people are deluded into the notion that they can get goods in the Mail Order Houses cheaper than at home and the result is disastrous to merchants of the home towns.

that will rid your trees of these destructive pests.

The publishers of the two papers in Markham have felt for some time that running two weeklies in a town of that size was not good business, either in their interest or that of their patrons. An arrangement has merged and run as one paper. It will be known as the Markham ject, "Woman's Work in Time of War."

At the meeting of the Agricultural Committee of the Ontario Legislature last week the announcement was made that the department would shortly reorganize the system with respect to Farmer's Institutes. The present system has not produced the results expected, and the changes will be made almost immediately. The scheme is to amal-gamate all local organizations and enlist in some way the co-operation of the Municipalities and the Boards of Trade. A larger programme of judging with respect to field crops and the other branches of agriculture will be introduced and a further revival of interest in agricultural education is planned.

Reported Missing.

Eddie Hyde.

Last Wednesday afternoon Mr. William Hyde received a despatch from Ottawa that his son Eddie, of the First Contingent, was missing in Belgium, was missing. About two weeks ago his parents received their weekly letter from him and it was full of hope. This was written the day before the big battle. Eddie Hyde was born in Warton and until four years ago spent all his life here. These last four years were spent in Toronto, and for the past two years he was a member of the Governor General's bodyguard. He was brave and manly, and the sympathy of the people will go out to his parents in their sad anxiety. Just what "missing" may mean is unknown. Perhaps he is a prisoner, or he may be dead. He was 21 years of age.

DEATH OF MRS. RAINES

Mrs. Raines, who with her husband came to Canada last July on a visit to her daughter Mrs. J. E. J. Aston, passed peacefully away on Tuesday morning May 18th, 1915, after a short illness of eleven days. Mrs. Raines, late, made several trips across the Atlantic, crossing on one occasion on the S. S. Lusitania, so that her husband in the south country of England. Being a frequent visitor to Canada she has learned to love the greater country of her birth. Her husband said that her death was a great loss to her family and to the community. She was born in the County of Yorkshire, England, in 1866, she was 50 years of age when she first came to Canada. She had always resided in England. She was of a very buoyant and cheerful disposition, and was loved by her own family and all who knew her.

Her husband will be left from the loss of his son-in-law, Mr. Aston, and will be in accordance with the wishes of the family, strictly private. She leaves to her husband, her daughter Mrs. J. E. J. Aston, her daughter Mrs. J. E. J. Aston, and her only son, Mr. Sidney Raines, who is in the army, England.

World-Wide Popularity Of Tea.

In the tea trade there is much talk of enormous increases in the demand for tea everywhere since the war began. Russia already a large consumer of tea is taking more and more of the beverage, now that vodka is banned. In France, tea is beginning to threaten the supremacy of coffee. The greater demand means higher prices in our households, especially as there is said to be no corresponding increase in the supply. Dealers are naturally uneasy as to the result.

Selkirk Wilson Wounded. Shrapnel in Right Foot.

(Hanover Post) SELKIRK WILSON

Son of Rose Wilson, of Hanover, a brave young man of eighteen years, who has been wounded at the front.

Another Hanover boy has been wounded at the front in the person of Selkirk Wilson, youngest son of Revue and Mrs. Wilson. He was only eighteen years of age last December but is a strapping big chap, and a fine specimen of starting young Canadian manhood. It is supposed that he was wounded in the fighting around Langemarck—as was also Jack Wilson—but no particulars of that character have come to hand. Revue Wilson received a wire last Friday afternoon from Ottawa informing him that Selkirk was wounded. Selkirk called his mother as follows, the cablegram getting two on Monday morning meaning "Flesh wound. Shrapnel. Right foot. Jack improving favorably. Signed (Selkirk)".

It is consequently supposed that the two boys are in close touch with each other. Hanoverians are delighted to know that the boy's wounds are not serious and that they will soon be restored to health.

Jack Wilson Wounded; Is in English Hospital.

LANCE CORPORAL JACK WILSON

of Hanover, who is wounded and is now in an English Hospital.

Mr. George S. Wilson of Hanover received the following cable from his eldest son Wilson, who is a resident of London, England.

"John at Selkirk Hospital, England. Wound improving. Not serious."

The families of Mr. George S. Wilson and Mr. J. S. Wilson of Hanover have been worrying greatly this past week since it was announced that the 48th Highlanders had taken part in the gallant fighting in the latter part of April when the Canadians made such a gallant stand, but at a terrible cost. On Tuesday morning Mr. J. S. Wilson received a wire from Ottawa that his son James (Selkirk) had been wounded.

As Jack Wilson's rank (Lance Corporal) and regimental number were given Ottawa was asked for more definite particulars. The two boys' initials are the same. Yesterday morning the above cable was received. Jack's many friends here will be pleased to know that his wounds are not serious. His letters to The Post have been very interesting.

Chesley Boys Wounded at Front

LANCE CORPORAL H. JOHNSTON

Among the wounded at the Battle of Langemarck and now lying in Folkestone Hospital, near the English Channel, is Hilton Johnston, a Chesley boy, and brother of Miss Irene Johnston, book-keeper in the Canada Laid Factory in this town. His mother lives in Toronto. Hilton was at one time in the employ of James Hooper as delivery boy, and later was employed in the Chair Factory. He was a dutiful boy and his employers speak in praise of his terms of him. His sister here had not at time of writing this received word from him of the nature of his wound, but the Toronto Daily Star reports him as being wounded in the arm. We hope to hear that this brave young Canadian soon recovers and is able to get to the front again.

In a recent letter to his mother from the battle-field Hilton says: "I am well, and in the best of health. Here is another Sunday passed and gone, and we will not see again. We had church service to day in the billett, something of which we were all glad, as we haven't had one since a while before we left the Plains. We have been in the trenches a couple of times and have lost a couple of men, sorry to say, but we have to take our chance as that is what we are here for, to do our duty and take our chance. This is an awful war, and I hope it will soon be over."

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Davison of this town received a telegram Monday announcing the wounding of their son Samuel Melvin, commonly known as Mel of the Princess Pals Light Infantry. The name of our young townsman also appeared in Tuesday's casualty lists in the dailies. Mel was born in Sullivan Twp. but was only a little chap when his parents moved to Chesley. We knew him the most intimately of all the boys who went to the front, because he was one of our pupils when we taught in the room now occupied by Principal Sanderson. He attended H. S. and was one of the brightest students that ever graduated from our High School. He was afterwards in the hardware business in his father's store and was well known in this community. Mel was twenty-eight years old on December 1st, and on his twenty-seventh birthday, I. E. for the Peace River country but afterwards came back to Winnipeg, where he secured employment in a wholesale hardware firm. We saw him in that city last summer and it was in that city that he joined the First Contingent. After training at Valcartier Camp, he sailed for England, and went into training again on Salisbury Plains. On account of his knowledge of book-keeping Mel was given charge of an office at Salisbury but that kind of life was too tame for him and he voluntarily enlisted in the Princess Patricians. Though never very rugged Mel is wiry and in every letter after joining the First Contingent he told of being in fine physical condition. His father is not in good health, and is feeling very badly over the news, as is every member of his family, but it is hoped Mel's wounds are slight and that this heroic young Canadian will live to re-enter the active service, and enter Berlin with the victorious Allies.

(Chesley Enterprise)

CORPORAL GEORGE GREEN

Corporal George Leslie Green of the First Company, First Battalion, First Brigade, of the First Canadian Expeditionary Force was wounded in the Battle of Langemarck. This brave young soldier is the eldest son of our esteemed townspeople, Mr. and Mrs. Joslin Green, loyal Britishers, who are taking deep interest in this struggle against Prussian militarism.

George was twenty-one on New Year's Day and left Chesley on August tenth last year for Valcartier and after the necessary training there, was sent to the front. A telegram from the Militia Department was received last Sunday afternoon as follows: "Regret to inform you that number 6789 George L. Green, First Battalion, is officially reported wounded. Further particulars when received will be sent you." His mother had just finished writing a letter to George when the telegram came. It is to be hoped the parents will soon receive notice that the wound is not dangerous.

Letter From R. Ottewill

19 Alberta Dragoons
Divisional Cavalry
1st Canadian Contingent
British Expeditionary Force
c/o G. P. O. London, Eng.
April 1915

Dear Father—I thought I would write you a short letter this morning and have a little time to myself. I am in good health, and in a different country now so you see there are a few things going on.

Several of the old boys turn up now and then, when I am going along I sometimes hear "Hello Dick". The old comrades are always everywhere there is something extraordinary going on. A few days ago the cavalry were making a long move we were trotting by an Infantry Battalion and I heard—one came out in some negro costume "where are you fellows all going?" It was very apparent to every body where we were going at that time. I looked around and saw West Point Slim at the head of a company of King George's Infantry. The last time I saw him was in the vicinity of the battle of Neuve Chapelle, he was in an ambulance and looked rather pale. I thought he was in British uniform, he could not have been as he was pressing hard toward another part of the battle front, when I saw him his company all laughed, they seemed to understand. It was like one dark asking another where the fun was going to be on a holiday. Slim looked fine in his British uniform, the giant turn appearance that the famed military seal gives its graduates, you can notice one of those fellows at a glance, more particularly among the volunteer officers.

The weather has been good for the last week it makes so much difference to the men who is continually out of doors. The seasons are not any earlier here than in Ontario. I thought that it would be warm and sunny but it is not.

The other morning I was grooming a horse and I heard a noise like a big automobile, soon there was a smash like a rush of gas out of a tank. Had not long to think for soon a terrific explosion occurred about fifty yards away from me, followed by others in quick succession. I looked up and just like a speck you could see a German aeroplane the Kaiser's cross shining on one of the planes in the morning sun. My horse was about the coolest creature I saw, the old fellow just looked calmly in the direction of the explosion, like a cowboy I saw in a saloon in Great Falls Montana, after a man fired a couple of shots in the ceiling another tough said "give me a jim sling." That is a mixture of several brands of liquor. The old fellow seemed to say "bring on my mate."

This horse will jump at a barred horse on a road side but does not flinch at the discharges of a heavy gun. The holes that the bombs make in the ground a person could bury a horse in.

It would seem by the Canadian papers that there are a great number of things going on over here almost every article I saw was the biggest lot of trash that could be imagined. The Germans are fine soldiers from what can be gathered at the front, they should not be any shakiness in the officers' minds to teach them they are wrong for at this time it is serious business. My love to all.

Your affectionate son

R. Ottewill.

The Brigade Did Well

The first test of the new fire brigade came last Saturday morning.

Just at 12 o'clock when everyone was in the land of nod, the going went full blast, and there was quite a blaze. An old stable belonging to the Greenlee estate, immediately at the rear of F. Lippert's store, was going up in smoke and going up fast.

To those from a distance there was the appearance of a big fire. However, the brigade were there like a chain of lightning and within three-quarters of an hour had the fire out. This was good work. The brigade was timed and it was exactly five minutes from the time the bell rang until the hose was turned on. The fire was completely out and the water turned off in the short space of twenty-five minutes. Warton has always had good fire brigades and has one now equal to any emergency.

Southampton

There is a poor demand for fresh fish and our fishermen are having some trouble disposing of their catch. It looks very much as if the price would drop.

Mr Emmanuel Beck had his collar bone broken last Tuesday at Port Elgin by being thrown from an automobile. All the others in the car at the time escaped injury.

Chesley

The committee carrying on the program has engaged the Royal Welsh Ladies Choir to give a concert in the evening. Any balance on hand as a result of the day's financial success is, according to the advertising manager, to be devoted to the Betsan Relief Fund.

Walkerton

Miss Mary Denny, an old resident of Walkerton, died at the home of her sister Miss Angeline Denny, here, on Saturday evening last at the advanced age of 80 years. She had been ailing for the past nine weeks with general breakdown of the system. Born in Lower Canada of French Canadian parentage, she came to Trent township by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Denny, about fifty years ago. Upon the death of her father some thirty years ago, she moved to Walkerton where she has practically resided ever since, she having used her home for the Time itself. In five minutes all stomach distress will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas, acid, or eructations of undigested food, no flatulences, bloating, foul breath or headaches.

Dr. D. J. Duggan is noted for his speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest stomach remedy in the whole world and besides it is harmless. Put an end to stomach trouble forever by getting the large supply of this famous "Fifty-cent case of Peppermint Cure" from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder. It's the quickest, safest, most harmless stomach disorder in the world.

The Town Council

The regular session of the Town Council was held Monday night, but the business transacted was not heavy.

After reading the minutes of the last meeting, the clerk read a number of communications, one being the resignation of J. V. Gilpin as fire chief, and also his resignation as water commissioner. His resignation from the fire brigade was accepted, and on motion of the Council E. J. Moore was appointed fire chief, but the other resignation was not accepted for the present, the council deeming it wiser to retain Mr. Gilpin as water commissioner as he will only be absent from town for a few months.

A petition was read from a number of ratepayers on Bedford street asking that the street sprinkling be discontinued north of the Arlington Hotel as they considered the rate too high for the benefit derived. The matter was laid over till the next meeting.

The attention of the Council was drawn to the road running past the cemetery. The road is in a bad state of repair, the culverts are badly broken, and Councillor Hurlbut said there was water lying on a piece of the road nearly the whole road. The matter was left in the hands of the property committee who will go over the ground and report at next meeting.

The culvert on Frank street also came up for considerable discussion and a committee will report at the next meeting as the best means of repairing it.

The Board of Works were instructed to go over the lot north of the Anglican church to see about putting in a proper drain. At present there is an open drain running through the lot but the Anglicans intend building a rectory on the property and in order to level the ground it will be necessary to put in a drain.

Councillor Plante is going to see that everyone who owns a dog pays his dog tax this year. Notice will be posted to this effect and the Chief will be on the lookout for dogs running at large without a tag on. The assessment roll will be gone over to see who has dogs and there will be a close watch kept for those who have got dogs since the roll was made up.

The report of the Fire and Light Committee was received. A number of lights are to be removed and replaced by incandescents, which the council consider will give better satisfaction than the arc lights. In fact they are in favor of doing away with the arc lights as soon as possible and putting up more incandescents which would give more light and would certainly give the town a better appearance at night.

Starvation or Merciless Torture

A choice between starvation or merciless torture is the dismal prospect before all victims of indigestion, for although they are in need of food to nourish the body, they are afraid to eat because of the periods of pain and discomfort that follow even the slightest meal. The urgent need of all who suffer from indigestion is to gain strength so that the stomach can extract nourishment from the food taken. Pain after eating is the way the stomach signifies its protest that it is too weak to do nature's work. To take purgatives is only to aggravate the trouble. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give new strength to weak stomachs because they stretch and purify the blood supply thus enabling the stomach to digest food naturally. Almost from the first the appetite revives, the foot can be taken without pain and the burden of indigestion disappears. The following case proves the truth of these statements. Mr. W. H. Silver, a well known farmer living in the vicinity of Hamilton N.S. says: "For upward of seven years I was tormented with indigestion sometimes I was so bad that I would not taste a bite of heavy food, but would have to content myself with a bit of stale bread. At times I suffered excruciating pains in my stomach and could sleep at night. I tried various prescriptions, but got no benefit from them and naturally I was in a very reduced state of health. I had come to believe that I was doomed for the balance of my life to this most constant torture, when I read of a case similar to my own cured through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This gave me encouragement and I decided to try them. To make a long story short, the cure of the Pills for a couple of months completely cured me. This is some two years ago, and I have had no return of the trouble and am able to eat as hearty a meal as anyone."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through your medicine dealer or sent by mail at $2 cents a box or six boxes for $2.00 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Court of Revision

The municipal council of the Town of Warton will meet in the Council Chamber on Monday May 31st at seven-thirty o'clock, as a Court of Revision for the purpose of hearing and deciding appeals against the assessment roll for the year 1916. All persons interested, kindly take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

10 CENT "CIGARETTES" IF BILIOUS OR COSTIVE

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—They work while you sleep.

Furred Tongue, Red Taster, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which causes and generates the garbage in a swell barrel. That the first step to relief is necessary—Indigestion, sour stomach, bad breath, yellow skin, constant drowsiness, everything that is unhealthy and unbecoming—nothing but a thorough cleansing and straightening out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

Good Nights

are enjoyed by those in good health. The perfect digestion, clear system, and pure blood upon which sound health depends, will be given you by

Mr. John Tackaberry and daughters autored to Kinloss to visit his daughter Mrs. George Hard this week.

A very pretty but, quiet wedding ceremony in Owen Sound, Ont. on Wednesday May 12th 1916, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McKinley when their daughter Lillian Beatrice was united in holy bonds of matrimony to Arthur R. Tyndall, son of Mrs. Thos. Tyndall, of Lions Head, but formerly of Dyers Bay. Immediately at 11.30 a.m. while the Lohengrin's wedding march was being played by Miss Gay McKinley, sister of the bride, the bride dressed in a gown of white messaline silk trimmed with seed pearls and carried a bouquet of white roses, lilies of the valley and ferns, leaning on the arm of her father took her place under the arch which was tastefully decorated with carnations and sweet peas, and unattended where the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles Langford, of Owen Sound. Immediately after the ceremony a dainty repast was served. The grooms gift to the bride was a necklace set with pearls and amethysts, to the pianist a white and gold beaded purse. The presents received were costly and beautiful showing how the bride was esteemed. Among those attending from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. John S. Tackaberry, of Lions Head, with whom Mr. and Mrs. Tyndall motored to McLeod and other points returning to Lions Head on Thursday May 13, where they intend to spend a couple of weeks before they leave for their future home at Dyers Bay where Mr. Tyndall is going into the mercantile business with his brother John C. The Canadian Echo and correspondent joined heartily in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Tyndall a happy and prosperous journey through life and all kinds of success in his new undertaking.

Miss Tackaberry has a sale on now selling off all spring goods at great reduction. Hats worth $4 and $6 now for $3 and $4. Flowers and trimmings also reduced.

R. E. W. Tackaberry has now opened up his restaurant and invites the public to call and give him a trial.

Takes Off Dandruff, Hair Stops Falling
Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of the famous KNOX'S Hair Lotion.

This, brittle, colorless and scaly hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful itchy scalp. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen, and disengage the hair falls out fast. A Little Dandruff tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Dandruff from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a Little Dandruff. Save your hair! Try it!

BIRTHS

BRENNENSTALL—In Warton, May 27 to P. Heppental and wife a daughter.

A Letter from the Front

Mrs. Thos. Johnston received a letter of Monday from her brother Fred Durant, who was in the big Loughborough fight with the 48th Highlanders, and who was one of the few who came through the battle unscathed. He says:—

"Dear Sister, Just a few lines in answer to the letter which I received the other day. Well, I came through the battle alright, but Rae and I are the only old Meaford boys who came through safe. It was some trap we got into alright, they had us surrounded three ways, and gas and lots of shells flying. They say there were more shells used that day than there was in the whole South African war. We lost a lot, but believe me, they lost just twice as many. They came over like sheep, six deep. We are now about four miles from the firing line and the fellows who are left are still snappy. You asked me if there was anything I wanted, I am glad to say we have lots of tobacco."

Among those who went from Meaford was an old Warton boy who will be remembered by many—Ernie Juckes. — Mr. Durant informs us that he is among the missing.

MAIL ORDER CRAZE

The following is from a Vernon, B.C. paper:—

It is worth while to stop and think seriously what this sending of money to mail order concerns means locally. It means poorer schools, poorer roads, higher taxes, unemployment. To buy cheaper never did and never will mean prosperity.

"There is involved in this thing of sending money to large cities for goods which can be purchased from the home merchant, the question of local prosperity. It is a poor policy to tear down the business stability of the home town in order to swell the prosperity of the large city."

"In the long run there can be no gain to anybody patronizing foreign business concerns. If local merchants cannot get sufficient business to pay the expense of operation, it means that smaller stocks will be carried and the range of selections will be restricted. It means that fewer clerks will be employed; it means that fewer houses will be built or rented; it means that the growth of the local town or city will be retarded. This means that in the long run that amount of taxes which the rural districts will have to pay, will be increased or that the public highway and other conveniences which make for better things, will be sacrificed."

"This thing of sending out money in large volume which should be spent at home always strikes back some way or other. The school teacher may send away for her gown to the boarding-house keeper away for his needs. Then comes the cry that revenues from local taxation because of decreased business is not adequate to meet expenses. Then school boards are confronted with the necessity of cutting salaries; patrons of the boarding-house become fewer; the sign for rent is seen conspicuously posted on buildings."

"The whole question of local betterment is involved in this foolish mail order craze. If a community is foolish enough to spend its money abroad, which should be spent at home then that community must satisfy itself with poorer schools, churches, roads, theatres, mean-looking towns, everybody in debt, mortgages fore-closed and general business depression."

"The people would cut out the mail order nonsense for six months there would be local prosperity, which would surprise everybody. When all the people learn that their own community is most worthy of consideration, when they learn the folly of building up great cities at the expense of their own local town then they can be called rational, and not till then."

Card of Thanks

Mrs. Benson and family Clavering desire to thank their neighbors and friends for the sympathy shown them during the illness and since the death of the late Mr. Benson.

Loyal to Britain

"German Canadians loyal to Great Britain" is the subject of a communication in the Daily Star from the pen of ex-Mayor Daniel Knechtel, of Hanover, with whose sentiments we are in perfect sympathy, stating the attitude of citizens of German descent in Canada. Mr. Knechtel is a wealthy manufacturer and is a good representative of the German Canadian who has prospered in this country and has no desire to see a system of conscription established in Canada and a military caste set up such as exists in Germany. The German Canadians in this district are among our best citizens and with a few exceptions are loyal to the British Crown and are as strongly opposed to militarism and Kaiserism as are those of British origin. We know Mr. Knechtel truly expresses the sentiments of loyal German-Canadians in the appended letter which we reproduce in part. "I am over 70 years of age, and my father, when a very young man, came from Germany and settled in Waterloo County, Ontario, where I was born. I came to Grey Co. fifty years ago without capital save a good sound body and a determination to succeed if economy and industry could bring success. As with very many other German-Canadians, my business success has been much greater than I would have been at all likely to have achieved had I started life in Germany under the same disadvantages of lack of capital, and I acknowledge with gratitude the success I have received as a Canadian citizen, and my contentment under Britain's flag. I have never been in Germany and I have no connection with Germany in any way and have no desire that the flag of Germany shall ever fly over Canadian soil; fully realizing that such a thing would be a catastrophe and would largely curtail the liberty, freedom and privilege of every citizen of this Dominion."

"I have no sympathy whatever with such atrocious acts as the sinking of the Lusitania, the use of poison by the German army, or the killing or wounding of innocent women and children in the name of war. It is not war, it is foul and inexcusable murder. While ashamed of present German barbarities I am not ashamed of my German name or German descent, and you would not respect me if I was. Like most other Canadians of German descent I am descended, not from the military and Germany of to-day, but from a Germany of better days, of higher ideal and of nobler pursuits; and for the German people of Canada I ask, even in this dark gloomy and exorable war time, and unquestionably wrong German acts, for which we German Canadians are in no way responsible, British justice and British fair play. In Hanover we have a population of about 3000. 80 per cent of whom are of German descent, and there are few Ontario towns more loyal or more practical in their loyalty; and in expression and proofs of loyalty our German-Canadians do not lag. To Hanover's generous Patriotic Fund, German-Canadian Companies and individuals were among the largest contributors, and numerically were in proportion to their total of population. Several of our German-Canadian citizens have sons at the front fighting to maintain the Union Jack. A son of one of my brothers is in General French's army; a father and son from near Hanover are now at the front fighting for Britain; a young German-Canadian named Juckes, one of the second contingent is now on his way to the front. A few days ago a commercial traveller visited a Hanover shoe store, where he had been in the habit of making sales, and probably thinking thereby to increase his order began to talk to the German-Canadian manager of store in a manner disloyal to and disparaging of Britain. The German-Canadian manager refused to buy, and further, told the traveller he would never buy a dollar worth of goods from him again. There has just come word to Mr. John Mantz, a German-Canadian artisan of Hanover, word that his son fighting in France of Belgium, side by side with British-Canadian soldiers, has been dangerously wounded in action. Shall British Canadians add to the sorrow of this brave lad's father and mother the additional sorrow of being despised or suspected because of their German name? Our British Canadians and German-Canadians fight together in the trenches, as they were together in the factories and associate together in many of the churches in patriotic work and in social life. Every thoughtful loyal citizen will be just and fair to every German-Canadian, remembering that with such treatment will German-Canadians be able to cheerfully, earnestly and loyally continue to work hard in hand with every other loyal Canadian in the upbuilding of Canada as a prosperous, united and dependable part of the British Empire. While assuring you most emphatically that our German-Canadian citizens here are loyal, I agree to have to admit that there are a few probably three or four, who are foolish enough to have and to express disloyal thoughts. Such people do much more harm to us German-Canadians than to any others, as strangers, who chance to hear or hear of their disloyal utterances, are apt to attribute similar feelings to all of us. I believe that the disloyalty of a very exceptional few to whom I have referred is due not so much to German newspapers as to mischievously written letters written by friends in the United States. Let German-Canadians continue to be loyal and let British Canadians continue to be as just and fair towards their German-Canadian fellow citizens as they were wont to be before the war, and reasonably respect the national feeling of pride which German-Canadians have towards the old Fatherland from which came their ancestors and from which came before the accused days of German militarism, much that has benefited the world, and Canada will be none the worse in the years to come for the presence of the German-Canadians, who have helped them to build up some of the most successful and progressive industrial centres and some of the very best agricultural districts in our Dominion. British Canadians and their Governments invited our fathers to this country. You will not treat us unfairly or without just cause look upon us with suspicion. I trust that you will pardon the length of my letter, but I have no reason to believe that the German-Canadians throughout Canada are less loyal than those of this particular locality, and it is a matter of no little importance for the future that our German-Canadian people shall receive fair play. I ask for them nothing more and exhort them to be truly

A Prisoner and Uninjured.

Last Saturday Mr. Wm. Hyde received a despatch from his son in Washington, who had secured the co-operation of the American Ambassador at Berlin, informing him that his son Eddie is a prisoner, is alive and uninjured. This was good news to his parents. It will be remembered that Eddie was reported "Missing" and now the mystery is solved.

Canada's Mourning

Composed by Ethel Boyle, Cape Chin, aged 8 years.

Bow your head, Fair Canada
Bow your head
For your sons, Fair Canada,
They are dead
Died for freedom, not for shame,
Every one inherited his name,
Hark upon the scroll of fame!
Bow your head, Fair Canada
Bow your head.
Draw your veil, Fair Canada,
Draw your veil,
Scatter flowers, Fair Canada,
White and pale.
For the warriors' life is done,
Battle fought and battle won,
Let in crimson their last run,
Draw your veil, Fair Canada
Draw your veil.
Toll your bells, Fair Canada
Toll your bells;
In their tones, Fair Canada,
Sorrow wells.
And their notes are full of pain,
As they sob and sob again,
Think their grief can ever wane!
Toll your bells, Fair Canada,
Toll your bells.
Drop your flags, Fair Canada,
At half-mast, Fair Canada,
Weep your flags.
To the flag your heroes die,
In its folds your heroes lie,
Younderneath a foreign sky,
Drop your flags, Fair Canada,
Drop your flags.
(God is love, Fair Canada,
God is love,
Kneel and pray, Fair Canada,
Look above.
Fader bend a tender ear,
In their grief this people hear,
Comfort and dry every tear,
God is love, Fair Canada,
God is love.

Letter of Condolence

Sent by the Amabel Council to Mrs. Murray upon the death of her husband, for many years Clerk of this township.
To Mrs. R. H. Murray and family, Allenford,
Ont.

Dear Friends;— In your great loss thro the death of your beloved husband and father, the members of the Council of Amabel, individually as well as collectively desire to convey to you our sincere sympathy. We feel that your loss is in part our own as the deep interest and care taken by Mr. Murray in the affairs of his Township. The past and present generations have known of his devoted and untiring efforts for the best interests in the municipality. His clear mind, his elastic step, and busy life continued with him regardless of advancing years. Never missing a meeting of the Council, at it always, at it, thus the higher call came to him while in the harness. We are not unmindful of the heavy loads he had to haul while in that harness. His services for the Township as "seasoned" for the first twenty years in its history and then as Clerk for thirty years, covers a half century of labor, attended with pioneering inconveniences and hardships. But through it all with unabated zeal and unselfish devotion he conducted the affairs of the Township ever business like and satisfactory to all. Councils came and Councils went, but the esteemed and efficient Clerk labored on. Appropriate indeed are the words of the scripture "Well done good and faithful servant enter thou into the joy of thy Lord". Signed on behalf of the Council, Believe us to be faithfully yours,
D. G. Craig, Reeve,
Geo. C. Wain, Clerk.

Italy Pressing Invasion of Trentino on Both Fronts.

ROME, May 21.—The invasion of the Trentino by the Italian forces is being pressed on both frontiers. The Austrians are apparently making little, if any, resistance. It is believed here that Austria has been unable to spare men from the eastern theatre of war to defend the Tyrol passes, and that any troops she has in that

It was officially announced yesterday that the Italians have occupied Ala, on the railway running up the valley from Udine, some thirty miles from Italian frontier and fifty-nine from Trent.

On the south side of Lake Garda, the Italians who gained possession Thursday of Monte Altissimo, a peak of the Monte Baldo range dominating the town of Sirmione, between Serravalle between Ala and Rovereto. While the Italians fully realize that the war is just beginning, telegraphs the Rome correspondent of the Daily Mail, the capture of Aia has stirred the people to great enthusiasm. The military experts in Rome, the correspondent adds, de-say that the most important episode in its capture was the taking of Pilcante, which was defended by three lines of trenches. Pilcante was taken after an eight-hour battle which

HELPED TO SHORTEN WAR.

Field Marshal French.
LONDON, May 31.—Field Marshal Sir John French, commander-in-chief of the British forces in France, in an address to the troops which fought in the second battle of Ypres, which he described as one of the "most desperate fights of the war," declared that they had done much to shorten the war.

"You may have thought," he said, "that because you were not attacking the enemy you were not helping contrary, by your splendid endurance and bravery you have done a great deal to shorten the war. In this second battle of Ypres the Germans

"You have performed the most difficult, arduous and terrific task of withstanding a stupendous bombardment by heavy artillery, probably the fiercest artillery fire ever directed against troops, and you warded off the enemy's attack with magnificent bravery."

QUEENSTOWN, May 31. — The Walls of St. Peter yesterday with a large number of passengers, from Liverpool to Montreal, was chased by a submarine off the south coast of Ireland yesterday morning, but escaped.

Considerable alarm was caused here early this morning, when an "H.O.S." mail was received from the Admiralty that a submarine had been sighted. The first message was soon followed, however, by another stating that the Megantic had outlasted the submarine, and escaped. There was sixty miles south west of Cork harbor.

Editorial

It looks like conscription.

CANADA'S munition orders are more than $175,000,000 we have not received a cent—and it is our fault.

THE war has created many problems, but there will be few greater than the problem of the unemployment.

MR. Alex Firth, principal of Oranville Public Schools, has resigned his position and left for the seat of war. He was commissioned lieutenant of the 39th Regiment, now stationed at Belleville. The School Board accepted his resignation open till his return, and pay full salary during his absence.

THE Kincardine Review edited by Col. Hugh Clark M. P. says: In selecting Mr. John Tolmie as their candidate the Liberals have no doubt selected the most popular man in the party. He has not been in the best of health for the past year or two, but it is improving rapidly. That he was selected unanimously shows that he enjoys the good will and confidence of his party.

THE Hepworth Progress has changed hands. Mr. Seim having sold out to a Mr. Kinch from Alvinston. Mr. Seim edited an exceedingly newsworthy paper, creditable to him and to the village, and The Echo hopes that he may long live to enjoy the fortune that he made in this district. We hope that his successor may find journalistic life pleasant and profitable in these parts and that The Progress will strike the key note upon every subject.

THE saw mills are now operating but as the cut this season is small will soon close. What then are the laboring men going to do for employment? The town will have a problem on its hands. If a number would form a company and get in position to handle some of those large saw orders we believe that it would be profitable to them, and it would be the salvation of the present industrial situation. The Mayors of many cities in Canada recently visited Ottawa and interviewed the government upon the question of work for the unemployed. It is going to be a trying question, and it would not be surprising for the town council and others to grapple with the subject. Everyone is now convinced that so far we have not had hard times, that next year will probably see an economic condition infinitely worse than anything we have yet experienced. Have we men who will organize into a company and secure war orders? Kincardine has just landed a large order, Chesley has them, and we need them too.

8 Boxes Cured Psoriasis

Mrs. Nettie Massey, Concord, Ont., writes: "Three doctors devoted my trouble to psoriasis and one said I could never be cured. The disease spread all over my face and head and the itching and burning was hard to bear. I used eight boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and an entirely cured—not a sign of a sore to be seen. I can hardly praise this ointment enough."

Psoriasis or Chronic Eczema Defied All Treatment Until Dr. Chase's Ointment Was Used.

After suffering with the terrible itching of psoriasis for five years, and being told by physicians that she could not be cured, Mrs. Massey turned to Dr. Chase's Ointment and was entirely cured. You will find this letter interesting and will not wonder that the writer is enthusiastic in praising this ointment.

Letter From Richard Ottewill

10th Alberta Dragoons, Divisional Cavalry 1st Canadian Contingent Br. Exand. Force, care of G. P. O. London.

May 6th. 1915.

Dear Father—Am going to send you a short letter, at least I think it will be short as I don't know I shall have very much time, these are busy days.

Your cake of maple sugar reached me last night and was thoroughly enjoyed by myself and several of my comrades. When you get a parcel you can't help dividing it up. Our food is not good at present, no fault of the general provision made by the Government but a local trouble, though at this time that doesn't worry one much, yet it is a little so very good.

I have not had very much mail lately, in fact for the last couple of weeks, as you will have seen by the papers, a few small things have been happening, so small of course, was not thought of though we expect it in short time. Some how everyone likes to get mail from home when there is nothing extraordinary going on.

Long ere this you will have read an account of the splendid feats of Canadian arms. I think that the first Canadian Contingent feels satisfied with itself, they are doing good work. I am sorry I am not permitted to write on the tactical points of the great fight which, for the troops, lasted about five days. You may doubt, read about the poisonous gases used by the Germans, they had a far more demoralizing effect on our troops than all their shot and shell, and I might add, that there were more artillery shells used in the lines of trenches held by our troops than there were during the whole of the South African war, at least I have heard many South African veterans say so, the air seemed like a hive of bees with shrapnel, while there were thousands of shells from the heavier type of guns thrown among us. Many of the little towns and villages for miles around the scene of action were thrown down. One place of modern artillery can wipe a town like Warton out in about twenty minutes. I saw an unexploded six inch shell that had penetrated four heavy brick walls, then had buried itself in a pile of clay. Some of the German shells are seventeen inch so you will gather the force of them. The natives left many villages with just a few belongings, in some places you would find traces of an unfinished meal, though we often put the finishing touches on that as you at times ate when you could in the big town while the heaviest bombardment was, I saw a couple of Highlanders shaving in a deserted house, there was just part of it standing, the gigantic toe shells were falling into it constantly, yet they did not seem to mind. There were dead bodies of men and horses everywhere, the veterans say this has been the big battle of the war. I was speaking to a Maxim gun operator who had come here with the first draft of British troops, he said there had been nothing which nearly compared with it. I saw Jimmie Sinclair one morning just as I was entering one of the lines trenches on a mission given a small patrol I was detailed to, he had been struck by shrapnel the day before and was placed up, he told me in the moment I had to speak to him that he was not going to the hospital, of course, he had just a couple of slight cuts. It shrapnel hits you fairly it will tear the body to pieces, but you continually get fresh hits and peculiar escapes. The young Pops boy came to see me after the battle, he had escaped unhurt didn't appear much the worse except very tired, the nerve strain is great, at such a time a human life is the cheapest thing imaginable.

This letter has taken greater proportion than I promised you at first, a nice warm sunny day and no one has disturbed me on my face and head, but now I shall have to close as perhaps I have nearly reached the limit permitted by the censor.

The Owen Sound Times last week says—Mrs. George Atkey, of Warton, whose husband is the township clerk of the township of Keppel, met with a rather painful and serious accident on Monday when she was thrown from a buggy at Harrison Park and sustained numerous contusions and sprains as a result of her fall.

In company with her son Mr. George Atkey, with whom she was visiting, she had gone up to the park. The horse became frightened and began to kick and rear. Mrs. Atkey attempted to jump from the buggy to the ground and in doing so fell forward on her face and hands, scratching and bruising her face and spraining her wrists. Owing to Mrs. Atkey being an old lady her injuries will confine her to the house for some time probably a month. It was fortunate she was not worse injured.

Hope this finds you all in good health and my best love to you.

THE HABIT OF READING ADVERTISEMENTS

NEWSPAPERS would be much less enjoyable, instructive and valuable than they are if they contained no advertisements. Many persons read the advertisements quite as thoroughly as they read the news matter. This is just as it should be.

The more advertising the more buying. The more buying, the greater the consumption of the goods or service advertised. More business would be done by the merchants of Wiarton if they advertised more, and if more of them advertised. Much business goes to the big city mail-order houses because they advertise. These houses would cease to draw business from this community if they ceased to advertise.

To the Merchants of Wiarton

Advertise more, and more of you advertise, and the big city mail order houses will get less and less business from this community, and you will get more.

Montenegro's Part In the War

(Mail and Empire)
B EING the smallest of the belligerent Allies, it is perhaps natural that the kingdom of Montenegro should be very little heard of in this war. And yet the soldiers of King Nicholas have fought some pretty hot actions against Austria-Hungary, and they are ready to do their share of the fighting that is to come. Montenegro has but one harbor on the Adriatic coast, Dulcigno, and in the new appointment that is sure to take place in this region it is very important that the little mountain kingdom should not be shut away from the sea altogether, whatever power is to be the dominant one on the eastern coast of the Adriatic. The logical port of Montenegro is Cattaro, but it is one Austria has jealously guarded for herself. The outbreak of the war was not entirely unexpected in Cattaro. The Austrians' ambitions in the Balkans, as well as those of the Serbs, have not been unknown to the Montenegrins, and when the ferocious ultimatum was sent by Austria to Serbia another note was sent to King Nicholas, thanking him and his subjects for their correct record in reference to the murder of Archduke Ferdinand in Sarajevo, which was supposed to have compromised the Serbians so badly.

Austrian Bribes.
This was a plain hint that there would be trouble with Serbia, and that Austria was trying to keep on friendly terms with Montenegro. The Austrian Minister furthermore made it understood that in the case of war with Serbia Austria would be willing to cede to Montenegro the much disputed district of Scutari, which the Montenegrin army had occupied in the Balkan War, but which it had been obliged to give up in favor of the new state of Albania, that was formed under Austrian auspices. The Austrian Minister also hinted that his country would agree to a rectification of the border in the north-west, and would yield a small portion of Herzegovina to Montenegro, all at a price of neutrality. When the ultimatum to Serbia was delivered it was at once forwarded to Montenegro by the Serbians, who wanted to know what King Nicholas thought of it. His reply was "Preserve the honor of your country and count on us." The representatives of the two central empires were kept under a re-creating impression until they were suddenly told to leave the country, as Montenegro would join Serbia in the war.

Montenegro's War.
The actual hostilities began August 6, when an army of the little mountain country began an invasion of Austrian territory between itself and the sea. The Austrian frontier guard withdrew behind the fortifications of the entrance to the harbor at Cattaro, and the Montenegrin

10 CENT "CASCARETS" IF BILIOUS OR COSTIVE

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—They work while you sleep.

Purred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a wall barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fogs, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

forces occupied about 30 miles of the Dalmatian coast line, including the little towns of Spizza, Cassinetta, and Boudina. Another army of the Montenegrins met the Austrian attack further to the north, the object of which had been to reach the city of Niksic, and thus practically cut the Montenegrin territory in two. The battle took place on the historic field of Grahovo, where in 1888, a Turkish army had been destroyed by the redoubtable Montenegrins. The Austrian attack was delivered from the fortress of Dyrnik, which was used as a base. The attacking forces were supposed to be at least five times as strong numerically as the defenders, and eight times the attack was renewed. The slaughter was great, and when it was over the field was covered with dead. The net result was that the Austrians had to retire to the fortress and Niksic was saved.

Beat Back Invaders

Rumored that with this attack a third was made with about 15000 men from the north, against the town of Plavie in the old Sanjak or Turkish province of Novi Bazar, which separated Montenegro from Serbia, and which was given to Montenegro on her slice of Turkey after the first Balkan war. The object of this attack was evidently to separate Montenegro from her ally, Serbia, and owing to the lack of communications in this newly acquired province, and also owing to the speed with which the attack was launched from Sarajevo, the capital of Bosnia, at a base, it enabled the Austrian force, to reach Plavie. Reinforcements were sent from the south as rapidly as possible and after forced marches the Montenegrins met the invaders drove them out of the country and pursued them as far as the River Drina, in Bosnia. There was a battle that ended victoriously for the Montenegrins, who then crossed the River Drina, and got within ten kilometers of Sarajevo. Last November the Montenegrin forces were encamped eighty-five kilometers from the home border, but with the approach of winter the river began to swell, it became increasingly hard to provision the army so far from home, there being no railroads, and consequently King Nicholas decided to retire to the river itself, where the army that made the advance is still encamped.

Five Attacks Repulsed

A fourth attempt to invade Montenegro was made by the Austrians from Ragusa on the Dalmatian coast. At a point north of Grahovo, through a pass called the "Valley of the Wolves," a few battalions were sent there, and the Austrians were driven back, after which the defenders joined the army to the north that was then attacking Sarajevo. A fifth attack was later made through the same pass as the second, through Grahovo, but this was also repelled. In addition to defending the country against the Austrians, the troops of King Nicholas had to ward off raids by more or less regular forces of Albanians. On the whole, the little army of Montenegro has been very busy and the Austrians have won little honor from it.

Keppel Council

The council of the above township met at Remble on May 28th as a Court of Revision of the assessment roll and for general business. All the members present. The Court or Revision organized by electing Mr. Johnston as chairman. The principal business was the appeal of the Crown Cement Co. Their assessment being reduced by the sum of $4960. Several small reductions were made amounting to sum of $400. Mr. Isaac Lennox name was entered as owner of lots 11 and 12, con. 18. The Court of Revision adjourned to meet at lot 8 con. B on June 30th. General business was as follows, Mr. Wm. Boswell and Mr. John Morley asked the council to open up the 10th. sidewalk from con. 14 to the N. C. D. The Reeve and Mr. Perkins were appointed to inspect the south road and report at next council meeting. Mr. Joseph Drane asked the council to open up a road to connect the north diagonal with con. 10. The Reeve and Mr. Lee were instructed to inspect the said road and report at next meeting. Orders on the Treasurer were issued to sum of $210.00. Council adjourned to meet at lot 8, con. B on June 30th.

George Athey,

LIONS HEAD

Wesley Shaw was a visitor to Wiarton on Saturday last returning on Monday. Oliver Tackaberry took a load of hogs to Wiarton on Monday last.

Miss Mary Smith visited friends here this week. Mr. and Mrs. George Voght and friends of Adamsville, arrived here on Monday. The Sunday School convention on Monday brought a great number of people from Wiarton to Tobermory.

Misses Annie McLeod, Matheson and Smith, of Tobermory, attended the convention here this week.

Some more smart looking rain coats at Whit Moores at $6.75 (good value and perfectly water proof. Mr. E. J. Johnston, organizer for the Canadian Order of Foresters, left for his home in Owen Sound on Saturday after organizing a court here.

El Warde is reported very ill. They intend to remove him to Owen Sound hospital on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tyndall, of Iyres Bay, are down visiting the latter's father. They intend to move to the Webster property east of the village very shortly. George Warder, of Vileland, is visiting under the parental roof here, also his sister, Mrs. Crawford, of Allenford. Capt. Craigie steamed into port on Monday with his tug Queen.

Brotherhood overalls and smocks at Whit Moores. If you want the best ask for Brotherhood. Ask for a corn cob pipe, free when you buy them.

Wm. Bridge moved from his brother Clark's place to Centreville last Monday.

Reeve Moon, Tobermory, came down on Saturday and went through to Kincardine to attend the County Council on Monday.

Reeve D. Scott, of Lindsay, Spry, and Philip Forbes, of Kintaro, Lions Head, are attending County Council at Kincardine this week.

Quite a number from here are attending the regatta at Ferndale each evening. Our village has been visited quite frequently with visitors from different parts.

Now is the time to get your work done in the factory. Bring it in now and it will be done right away. Any orders you want should be submitted as at once.

Mr. John Tackaberry and sister Ida went to Owen Sound on Wednesday. Mr. Houser, Inspector of post offices visited the local office on Friday last and reported everything satisfactory.

Mr. Brown, of Colpoys, accompanied by a friend arrived up here to attend the S. S. Convention.

Miss Georgina Golden, of Tobermory, was a visitor to town on Monday and Tuesday.

The convention held at Lions Head, as we go to press has been a decided success. The 20th of June given by the local proscenium and Mr. Hatpenny were well received and found to be very interesting.

We understand that The Echo made a misprint in last week's issue which announced that Mr. John N. Tackaberry was not a licensed chauffeur, which we are pleased to report in this week's issue, that he passed his examinations and is now a licensed chauffeur to carry passengers in his auto.

If you haven't bought that suit of clothes yet call at Whit Moores and leave your measure. That old suit won't look good for ever and there is no use of being poor and looking poor. Send your old ones to the Red Cross.

The Grim Reaper again visited our community and took from us one of the oldest settlers in the person of Mr. John Ingle, aged 82 years after a lingering illness. Deceased lived alone on his farm east of the village since his mother died. His sister, Mrs. Barr, brother and wife, nursed him during the latter part of his illness. He is survived by two nieces, Mrs. John Barr and Mrs. Jos. H. Longhead. He was buried on Sunday in cemetery. Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved relatives in this hour of trouble.

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES

Thousands of mothers say Baby's Own Tablets are the only medicine they would give their little ones. Among them is Mrs. Howard Hodgkins, St. Catharines, Ont., who says "I am a user of Baby's Own Tablets and think them the best medicine in the world for little ones." Once a mother has used the Tablets she will use no other medicine because she feels the Tablets are absolutely safe and knows they never fail to banish all the simple ailments of little ones. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville Ont.

MONEY TO LOAN

Tuesday's delivery contained the news that Archibald McNeil Southampton, of the 15th battalion had been wounded and also E.R. Smith, Owen Sound.

There will be a candy sale, given by a number of young girls, in Mr. Flett's store, next to Wright's Hardware, on Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock, proceeds to go to the patriotic fund. Be sure and patronize this sale.

The local Camp Woodmen of the World will hold their annual decoration ceremonies and unveiling of monument next Sunday, June 6th at 3:30 p.m. and will attend divine service in the Methodist church in the evening.

The country town printing office cannot do lithograph work in letter heads, but it can turn out a well printed letter head and on good paper, and thus the money is left at home just as much as it would be in buying anything else instead of sending to big departmental stores. Patronize the country town printing office.

—Mr. V. McLellan, Miss Mary McLellan, Mrs. McLellan and Mrs. McClelland, of Southampton, motored to Warton on Sunday.

—Private Walter Francis, of the wireless guard, Tobemory, was in town this week, on his way back to the Tub after a visit to his friends in Owen Sound.

—Messrs. J. Patton and J. Patterson left on Tuesday morning for Hamilton. They went as delegates for the Chosen Friends. Mr. H. Daw, Oxenden, represented that place also.

The Woman's Patriotic League will hold a jam and jelly shower on Thursday and Friday afternoons, June 10th and 11th, in the small store recently occupied by Mr. Flett, one door north of Wright's hardware store. This jam and jelly will be packed in barrels and forwarded either directly or through the Red Cross, to our soldier boys at the front. Anyone having a jar or glass of jam, jelly, honey or maple syrup, to spare will be adding to the comforts of the soldiers by contributing to this shower. If any of our country ladies would like to contribute they may leave their contributions at the following stores, any time before the above date. Robinson & McClure, S. J. Parke, W. Symon & Sons and Geo. Kemps. If the donors will put their names on the parcels they will be acknowledged through the local paper.

Whooping Cough

Mrs. Charles Lovell, Agassia, B. C. writes: "Seven of my nine children had whooping-cough the same winter and we attribute their cure to Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. We always have it in the house and recommend it as a king of all cures. I was formerly completely cured of protruding piles by using Dr. Chase's Ointment."

Local News

The Home Guards have got down to hard drill.

Butter shows a downward tendency this week the market price being 21 cents.

The farmers are complaining of the dry weather. The crops undoubtedly need rain.

FOR SALE—Two heavy horses 1500 lbs. cheap. E. Smith, Warton P. O. Ames Survey, Lot No 4.

A large Sunday School Convention was held this week at Lions Head and Colpoys Bay sent up a large contingent.

The County Council meets in Kincardine this week. Reeve Kinsler took Reeves Munn Forbes Scott and Wheeler down in his car.

The June bride will not forget that for wedding invitations we are head-quarters, and the only office equipped for this high class work.

There was a very heavy frost one night last week, and all garden stuff suffered, otherwise no permanent injury was apparently done.

There is a rumor that the steamer "The Soo City" will call at this port in June and will make trips to the Manitoulin and North Shore.

In the market situation hogs are going up and sold Monday at $9.40 but wool is a poor seller this season. The embargo upon the export of wool has kept this commodity down and the best that is offered for washed wool is from 20 to 22c per pound.

Gildner & Crane, who have been running a butcher business for the past few years, have decided to close up and "Jake's" smiling face will not be seen on the job again for some time. "Jake" was a good butcher and will be missed. However there are four butcher stores left and they can easily handle all the orders.

The Salvation Army opened fire upon Warton Saturday and Sunday. The Owen Sound contingent came over in force and assisted, and as they were accompanied by their high class band the people heard some excellent music. The meetings were all well attended, and there is every indication that the Army will do a good work.

The Northern Baseball League has been organized and Warton, Owen Sound and Chesley are in one district. As the schedule must be played before Aug. 1 it would be advisable for Warton if they are going to put a team in the field to get into touch at once with the owners, Jos. Ramsay Owen Sound.

At considerable expense Mr. Manley has again secured the services of a professional optician which is a boon to the Warton and surrounding public.

When tests make the enormous advance that they have during the past few months the general inclination is to lower the quality and put in more dust. The Salada Tea Co. give exactly the same quality and freedom from dust as in the past. They would prefer going out of business to lower the quality they have served the public with for 23 years, but they must charge the higher prices they are compelled to pay for fine teas.

Have your eyes tested (free) by an expert optician at Manley's drug store June 24th to July 3rd.

The interment took place yesterday in Bayview Cemetery of William James Benson, of Clavering, whose death took place Sunday in the Owen Sound hospital, where he had gone for treatment. The deceased who had been a resident of Clavering upward of 22 years was well and favorably known by the farmers throughout this district, as he had been a farmer. For the past two years he had been ailing and death was not unexpected. He is survived by a widow and a family of eleven consisting of nine daughters and two sons.

Any one requiring spectacles will have the opportunity of Mr. Fannon's professional experience in fitting glasses, Manley's drug store June 24th to July 3rd.

The Concert given by Mr. Green and the Choral Society of Owen Sound here last week under the Patriotic League was a huge success. The hall was packed and the proceeds were over $100. Every number was excellent and was appreciated by the audience. Special mention should be made of the boys choir who certainly sang well. Miss A. Flett's recitations were also of a high order. At the close Mayor Cameron made a speech and thanked the audience for their attendance and moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Green and Choral society which was seconded by Mr. Jas. Flett.

Mr. Fannon, Optical Instructor of Toronto, will be at Manley's drug store June 24th to July 3rd.

As J. Gildner is going out of business he wishes to inform those who owe him that all accounts must be paid to him immediately.

Parties requiring funeral folders will please leave their order personally at this office.

WANTED—10,000 pounds of wool for which I will pay the highest market price. Be sure and see me before selling elsewhere. B. WARD.

J. Gildner offers for sale his entire stock of groceries at invoice prices. This includes breakfast foods, canned goods, spices, teas, honey, olives, maple syrup, etc. The stock must be sold this week.

In commenting upon the closing of a butcher shop last week a butcher informed The Echo that there are not one half of the number of beef cattle slaughtered for use in this town now that there were a few years ago. He attributes the whole reason to the high cost of beef. There a sirloin roast was within the reach of everyone, but to-day it is the luxury of the rich.

Eyes scientifically tested by Mr. Fannon Toronto Optical Instructor, who will be at Manley's drug store June 24th to July 3rd.

The Warton Produce Co., have opened a store in the McLaren block and will be ready Saturday April 3rd, to take in butter and eggs for which they will pay the highest cash price. The produce they are buying is supplied directly to the consumers in the cities, and must be fresh and for fresh eggs and butter etc. they will pay cash. The Warton Produce Co. are simply buyers, they have nothing to sell, and ask the farmers to bring their produce to them.

The firebricks had practice Tuesday evening with the hook and ladder wagon, and stopping before the woolen mill they started to mount this three storey building and in 21 minutes had seven men go up and come down.

CREAM WANTED—We are in the market to buy cream, sweet and sour, at the highest market price. We supply two cans free to each of our patrons, pay all express charges, pay twice each month, cheques payable at par. Receive cream any day in the week, test each can received and send patrons a statement of same. Write for cans and give our creamery a trial. Reference any Bank—TRELEAVEN & RANTON, Palm Creamery, Palmerston, Ont. Mar. 3, 60s.

If suffering from defective eyesight come to Manley's drug store June 24th to July 3rd and have your eyes tested free of charge.

Ensign F. W. Martin and Brig. W. Belbridge, of the Salvation Army London, were in town Sunday taking charge of the opening services here. The former gentleman has charge of the financial end of the work, while latter looks after the evangelistic end. Ensign Martin, is a most taking young gentleman and it is safe to say that his work is pretty sure to be a success.

Typhoid Proves Fatal.

In the strength of his early manhood James Dargavel of this town took typhoid fever, and after a fortnight's illness passed away. He had never been ill since the ordinary diseases of childhood, and at 30 years of age was strong and vigorous. On Friday afternoon nearly three weeks ago he complained of not feeling well, and upon the advice of his employer Mr. D. J. Hunter, he went home, went to bed soon to learn that he had typhoid fever, and in spite of his strength, and the fact that he had always been well, it ran its course and last Thursday evening death relieved him of his intense suffering.

The deceased, who was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dargavel, grew up in this town, went to school here, and his teachers yet remember him as a worker in school. About thirteen years ago he entered the employment of Kyle & Hunter, and his diligence, his every day on the job, the interest that he took in his work, his fidelity to his employer, his courtesy to customers, his knowledge of the business made him a most valuable clerk, and his employer speaks in the highest and most appreciative terms of his long service in the store.

Among all and particularly his friends, he will be greatly missed because of his quiet manner, and excellent qualities. But nowhere else that loss he felt so much as in his home where he was so kind and considerate. The funeral, which was most beautiful and larger, showed the esteem in which he was held and the deep sympathy on all sides for his parents. He was a member of the Sons of Scotland, and of Spirit Rock Lodge I. O. O. F.

The funeral, which was held on Tuesday in order that his sister Mrs. McIlwain from Red Deer might be present, was private on account of the serious illness of Mrs. Dargavel, yet there were a large number at the cemetery. After the Rev. J. E. Johnson had read the burial service, Mr. McIlwain took charge of the service and their impressive ritual for this occasion was read by Dr. Hough and Mr. H. Irwin. The pall bearers were Messrs John McAuley, T. C. Allan, and D. J. Hunter representing the Sons of Scotland, and Messrs T. Lee, P. Watt and F. McMannell representing the Oddfellows.

Rev. Mr. Mosig is Now Welcomed as Canadian Citizen.

Warkenton, June 13.—The inquiry asked by W. J. McNally, as to whether Rev. R. Mosig should be given his naturalization papers, was held yesterday before Judge Klein. Mr. Mosig gave evidence that he had been twelve years in the country, and wished now to become a British subject. His evidence as to his sincerity was candid, and nothing in it to show that he had done anything detrimental to Canada, and he now wished to remain in Canada, and if necessary was ready to fight on behalf of his adopted country.

Several gave evidence as to remarks that they had heard Mr. Mosig make. The judge decided there was no reason why his papers should not be given him.

At the close Mr. Mosig was welcomed by the judge and several citizens as a British subject, and heartily congratulated.

Play Ball

Baseball is off to a good start, the organization meeting was held last Thursday evening and was well attended. The following officers were duly elected: Hon. President Mayor Cameron; Hon. Vice G. Kastner; President D. Henther; Ist. Vice J. McCallough; 2nd. Vice J. Carlyle Moore; Sec. Frank Watt; Treas. Capt. Miller; Conch J. Bloomfield; J. R. Higgins; Capt. Earl Miers; Mascot Wm. Sadler.

The fans are now getting the grounds in shape, and some interesting games are promised. Mr. J. C. Bloomfield is an old baseball player and under his coaching we may look for one of the star teams of the district.

Hot Words from Father Cadot.

Cape Croker, Ont.
June 15th 1915
Editor of The Canadian Echo
Sir—

Would you please publish in your so valuable paper, the following communication under my signature?

Last night I went to Purple Valley to hear Rev. Mr. Fish, of Owen Sound, who was lecturing on "Mixed Marriages, Bi-lingual Question and Separate Schools."

Well, sir, I never heard in my life so many misrepresentations and calumnies against Roman Catholic hierarchy and priests, nor saw such an exhibition of ignorance, prejudice and hatred concerning the Roman Catholic hierarchy and priests.

One does not wonder, after that, how some Orangemen are so ignorant about the Catholics and how they hate them so much.

Sincerely yours,
J. C. Cadot.

Court of Revision

The adjourned Court of Revision met last night and D. Robertson R.C. Walker, appeared on behalf of the Canada Furniture Manufacturers Co. The assessment had been raised $14,800 for school purposes. The Court of Revision holds that you cannot fix an assessment for school purposes. However upon the appeal of the learned counsel, and the fact that this company employs labor, and is up against conditions as much as the interests of the case were upon the side of the town, a compromise was reached and the assessment was raised $2,500. The McKeng estate was lowered $100, the business assessment of W. Ashcroft was raised to $300, M. Malligan to $100, W. H. Wright to $400, W. Hands $100, W. H. Boyle $100, W. T. Holmes $200, Dr. Fisher $150 Joseph Currie $350. There may be a few appeals to the County Judge and these appeals will be watched with the utmost interest. The assessment may be too high, but one thing is sure, if the appeals succeed then about one half of the people of this town can appeal against their assessment.

Appointed to Warton

Rev. W. W. Prudham, B. A., B. D.
Rev. W. W. Prudham, who has been appointed to Warton, was born near Hamilton, was raised on a farm, spent a few years teaching school, entered the ministry 1892. After spending a year each in Port Doreen and Walsingham circuits went to Montreal taking B. A. course at McGill University and B. D. at Wesleyan Theological College, ordained in 1898 after which a year in post graduate work was taken in Boston University. The following year was spent in pastoral work in Jarvis. Appointed to Japan in 1900 seven years of missionary service was given to the Flowery Kingdom. Since returning to Canada Mr. Prudham has had most successful pastorates at Binbrooke, near Hamilton, and at Durham Mr. Prudham in addition to being a good preacher has been successful as an administrator. He takes a prominent part in the Temperance and Missionary work of the church. At present Mr. Prudham is County Secretary of the S. Grey Sunday School Association, an organization due to his indefatigable energy. In his present charge he has made a specialty of securing the attendance of children at the Sunday morning service of the church. In local affairs outside of the church Mr. Prudham takes a deep interest. He is an advocate of town improvement, Sabbath observance and takes a deep interest in the Public Library and Horticultural Society and the like.

Mr. Prudham preached the Missionary Sermons in Warton last November and has had a warm place among the Methodist people here ever since. He will occupy the pulpit here on the first Sabbath in July.

DIED

Notice to Delinquent Subscribers ATTENTION, PLEASE

According to the new postal laws we are not permitted to send bills to customers unless we pay 3 cents postage on each letter. On 500 letters this would amount to $15 a sum altogether too large for any publisher to pay. Accordingly we have decided to send this circular of advice to all subscribers. Every one knows when his paper has expired. If the label reads Dec 14 or Jan 15 it means that he owes this office $1. If the label reads Dec 13 or Jan 14 it means that he owes this office $2. If the label reads Dec 12 or Jan 13 it means that he owes this office $3 and so on. With this explanation the subscriber can easily determine how much he owes. We have over $1000 out in these unpaid subscriptions and are obliged to notify all in arrears that the same must be paid this month. If we are obliged to send out bills to each subscriber we shall be compelled to charge $1.50 per year, and the subscribers must not expect nor ask us to do differently. We ask our subscribers to kindly remember that this is war year, a time of business depression, and that a newspaper is obliged to collect its bills promptly. Accordingly we cannot extend the time for payment beyond the present month and if you do not want to pay $1.50 you are advised to act accordingly.

After November 1st no paper will be sent to anyone outside of Grey & Bruce Counties unless paid for in advance.

Should be no Typhoid Here

The few cases of typhoid which we have had in the town should not create a panic, but the cause of them should be ascertained. It is all probability they have been due to impure water or to defects in the sewerage. A few weeks ago we had a violent North East storm and the water is said to have been anything but clear. If the intake pipe were extended farther into the bay this could probably be prevented. The reservoir should be flushed over frequently, and the utmost care should be taken to see that this is done, done well and done often. The water in the bay is as pure as can be found in the world, and there is no danger from it. We are all vitally interested and it is for the Board of Health to go into the matter thoroughly.

Sudden Death of Richard L. Rusk.

"Dick" Rusk, of Park Road, ex reeve of Amabel, was sheering sheep Tuesday morning and asked his young son, who was assisting him to hold the sheep, while he went to the door. An old man coming along a few minutes afterwards found him gasping. A doctor was summoned, but it was too late, his spirit soon took its flight.

The deceased, who was upwards of 55 years of age, was one of the most highly respected residents of the township. He was square and manly in every respect, and was one of the best reeve the township ever had. He was a staunch Conservative and a consistent member of the Methodist Church. He is survived by a widow, four sons and six daughters.

COLPOYS BAY

The members of young people's society had a bee Monday evening last clearing up the street to the church, after which a social time was spent on Mrs. Pruders verandah.

Monday evening June 7th Miss Anna M. Brown entertained a number of her friends it being her natal day, a pleasant time was spent in games, chat and music and all joined in wishing her many happy returns of the day.

Carl Wheeler sang the solo "Thy Will Be Done" at the evening service in a very pleasing manner.

Rev. W. A. Matthews was called to Durham Wednesday owing to the death of a nephew of his. The funeral was Thursday afternoon.

Misses Kathleen and Stella Wheeler left Wednesday on a visit with relatives in Toronto. We wish them a pleasant time.

The Soc City called at the dock Wednesday afternoon of last week. Mrs. Sholtz and children, of Warton, visited her sister Mrs. Reg. Frame for several days last week and over Sunday.

L. O. W. (John) Cavanagh, of Owen Sound, visited his aunt and uncle Rev. W. A. and Mrs. Matthews at the parsonage over Sunday and for several days.

The delegates from the S.S. to the Convention at Lions Head reported last Sunday morning. Misses Gracie K. Wheeler, M. Pruder and Mrs. S. Weir gave excellent reports.

Eleven of our young folks went across in Mr. H. Lemcke's launch to Oxenden last Sabbath afternoon to attend the special Children's Day service. Rev. Mr. Matthews gave an excellent address after the children had sung several selections and recited a number of pieces.

Come to Colpoys on Dominion Day and enjoy a strawberry and ice cream festival. The band will be in attendance, watch for further particulars in next weeks issue.

Italians Also Capture Valentine Pass in the Alps.

Artillery Detachment of the Austrian Railway 7, a Corps to Montefalco—Italians Have Made a Third Crossing of the River Isarno at Piva—Austrians Putting Up a Hard Fight.

ROME, June 14.—Valentine Pass has been captured by the Italian forces operating in the Carle Alps, which is the last of a railway section of the railway from Corinto to Montefalco has been destroyed by the Italian advance, according to an official announcement made here last night.

The mistaken impression that the Austrian army opposes the Italian advance from the Carnic Alps to Casale was demolished and merely a tactical retreating is belied by the latest war bulletin, which affords sufficient proof that the enemy are active and energetic in attempting to check the Italian advance.

The failure of such efforts is due to the force of the Italian troops and their admirable dash, coupled with the skill and courage of the Italian commanders, but the fact remains that the Austrians, although unsuccessful, are fighting a stubborn battle.

The Italian position at Monte Nero shows the Austrians determined to oppose the Italian advance in the Carle Alps. They have strongly fortified Tarvis, where, obviously, considerable troops are stationed, since even Italian divisions with machine guns are available for an attempted flanking movement at Monte Nero.

It is stated that the Austrians are not accustomed to sleep when holding a position, hence they easily and promptly repelled the Italian attacks, which inflicted heavy losses on the enemy.

An official note issued Saturday announced the first offensive movement of the Italian army.

"Our mounted troops have occupied the summit of the mountain, and the Austrians have been driven off. The Austrians have been driven off the mountain, and the Austrians have been driven off the mountain.

The Italian army has been driven off the mountain, and the Austrians have been driven off the mountain. The Italian army has been driven off the mountain, and the Austrians have been driven off the mountain.

SOUCHET MUST FALL

French Troops In Two Important Gorges Underlying Defences.

PARIS, June 14.—Two important gorges near Souchez, in the sector north of Arras, were announced by the War Office last night, and it now seems apparent that Souchez itself is soon to fall into French hands.

The German positions on the heights north of the Souchez gorges were captured by the French, and held despite a furious artillery bombardment. These heights dominate the town of Souchez, and will afford the French forces a great advantage in attacking the town.

In addition the station of the railway leading into Souchez was captured. Three lines of German trenches southeast of Hebuterne were captured by the French, and in a single charge, the force of which carried them over the first two lines and into the third. One hundred prisoners were made.

The French artillery are also creating a terrible havoc among the German troops in this locality during the past few days, according to German prisoners. A German officer, while speaking to an officer of the French general staff, paid the highest tribute to the dash and courage of the French infantry, who had charged, he said, in perfect order and with absolute courage.

French troops made further progress north of Loreste Saturday while the Germans have been directing a violent bombardment against the positions won by the French, in an endeavor to prevent them from organizing the new trenches.

VENIZIOUS LEADING.
Ex-Premier Who Favors Aiding Allies Likely to Win in Greece.

LONDON, June 14.—A Reuters despatch from Athens says: "General elections began early today in all parts of the Kingdom."

"Russia's infantry with surprising ease has inflicted a succession of great defeats on the Germans in Eastern Galicia. The main attack of the enemy was conducted at Mosiska with heavy guns on the railway, but it was spent before the Germans had reached the barbed wire entanglements in front of the main position. They retreated in the utmost disorder leaving thousands of dead."

Simultaneously the Russian army started an enveloping movement against the Russian army, which had crossed the Dniester. Russian infantry with magnificent dash attacked the Germans who had a quantity of 2-inch guns and drove them from the woods. They annihilated a division and captured besides 261 officers, 2,300 men, 12 field guns, and 4 machine guns. The fighting lasted two days.

The Germans are now entirely southward of the Dniester. Evidently they intended to develop in enormous force here. They were headed by the Russian guards and advanced rapidly towards Halicz, from where they proposed to conduct the main attack on Lemberg. All their movements seem to have been frustrated. The Germans are now gathering south of the Dniester, apparently waiting for reinforcements. They have lost in the past six weeks more lives in Galicia than in the previous six months of campaigning against the Russians.

Everywhere the Russians are in close contact with the enemy. There are signs that the Germans are developing a new offensive in the north of the Pilsa River in Poland toward the Neman with heavy artillery and a chemical factory in the rear. The drawing the main Russian strength there. The latest Russian success has been achieved solely with the bullet and bayonet. Scarcely a shell has been fired in the last fortnight. This strategy is regarded as a triumphant vindication of General Ivanov.

MANY WERE KILLED.
Zeppelin Held on London Had a Heavy Death Toll.

NEW YORK, June 14.—"A large number of persons were killed and wounded in the west end of London in the Zeppelin raid on May 31," declared H. D. Watson, representative of a New York automobile company, who was in London for the purpose of drawing the main Russian strength there. The latest Russian success has been achieved solely with the bullet and bayonet. Scarcely a shell has been fired in the last fortnight. This strategy is regarded as a triumphant vindication of General Ivanov.

Letters aboard the steamer St. Paul brought to New York a remarkable story of the death of the Zeppelin raid.

Samuel Reuben, a little boy of nine years, in Cannon street road, Commercial road east, was killed while playing in Christian street. His body was taken to London Hospital, where the cause of the injury was also taken. Seven bombs were dropped in Whitechapel and Shore-ditch.

One Killed, Other Injured.
LISTOWEL, June 14.—John Steele, manager of the Mount Forest Carriage Co., Mount Forest, was killed and his brother Harry, president of the firm, fatally injured, it is believed, in an automobile accident near here yesterday afternoon. A block of wood in the road, which was not noticed, threw the car in which the boys were riding into the ditch, where the machine turned turtle. John Steele was almost instantly killed and his brother is here with a broken collarbone and severe internal injuries. The men were returning to Mount Forest from London.

Have Killed Two Soldiers.
GOSFORTH, June 14.—Gosforth, a soldier, was killed by Col. Espinoza Garcia, and two other soldiers, Friday evening, June 14, in a fight with the enemy. The people were then with great enthusiasm, as they gained much popularity through their recent experiences in France.

GERMANY is preparing for a winter campaign.

A patriotic box social in Gore Bay netted $162.30.

M. R. H. MILLER is again the Liberal standard bearer in South Grey.

ORILLIA increased its population last year by 82 and now has 7,446 people living in this happy town.

MRS. J. J. ASTOR finds it impossible to raise a son on $30,000 per year. Well, there are a few in this country who do it on considerably less.

DOMINION DAY will be celebrated in a number of nearby towns. For some reason Wiarton has gone out of the celebration business.

A MAN with a light motor truck goes out of Southampton every day and delivers fish to farmers and others in inland places nearby. Here is a pointer for someone in Wiarton.

IT does not matter whether it is Bryan or not, any man who takes the side of the Teutons, or who does not favor crushing them as a military power, is a good chum on the North American Continent.

THE probability of Church Union is now much greater than at any time since the matter has been under discussion. It is likely that the war will materially change the vote when the question goes to the people.

THERE does not seem to be any disposition upon the part of anyone to relax efforts in patriotic work. The war will soon have lasted one year, and all the men and women are anxious to do their utmost for the brave soldiers who are fighting our battles on the Continent of Europe.

A The County Council 2 weeks ago Reeve J. J. of Lucknow and Reeve Douglas of Heyworth brought up the question of insurance on Bruce County soldiers at the front, but the proposal didn't carry at the Board. The above is from the proceedings of the County Council and all we have to say is all honor to Reeves J. J. and Douglas. If the county is being taxed one half mill for patriotic purposes this year we do not know any better way this money could be spent than in paying premiums on life insurance policies for the soldiers from Bruce County.

THE Hamilton Conference has assigned the Rev. W. S. Daniels to Tara. Mr. Daniels was stationed three years at Colpoys and Tara and is assured that they are getting a good man. The Rev. Mr. Prudham, of Durham, comes to Wiarton. Mr. Prudham preached the missionary sermons here last year and greatly pleased the people. The Rev. Mr. Plagg who has been in Wiarton four years goes to Hagersville.

THE Bruce County Council protested against the Educational department taking to themselves the right to dismiss Public School Inspectors. If the Educational department is run in this respect, free of all political influences, THE ECHO would favor its having the right to appoint the inspectors as well as to dismiss them. The Educational Department should be the best judge as to the qualifications of an inspector.

LAKE CHARLES

Mr. and Mrs. Johnston, Killybeg, spent the week end with Mrs. J. Clark and Mrs. J. Merchant.

John Dunbar returned from the south on Saturday where he has been for some time. Welcome back John.

A WONDER WORKER

"It works like magic" is a favorite expression when Dr. Chase's Ointment is used. It works quickly, stops all itching at once, cures it in a single night. For eczema, salt rheum, hives, itch, skin irritations or eruptions, it is a most satisfactory treatment. Being antiseptic, it prevents blood poisoning.

Predictions on Length of War by Belligerents and Neutrals.

The war in Europe has now been in progress more than ten months. Here are some of the prophecies that were made as to how long the great conflict would last:

BRITISH

IN LONDON, at the middle of March, the odds at Lloyd's were 3 to 1 against the war ending before May, were even that it would end before September 1 next, and 15 to 1 was offered that peace would come before March 1, 1916.

LORD KITCHENER British Secretary of State for War, in August, 1914—The war will last three years.

In October, 1914—The war will last two years.

FIELD MARSHAL SIR EVELYN WOOD (Great Britain) Dec. 31, 1914—I am confident, with God's blessing, of the success of the allies in our righteous cause in the coming year.

ADMIRAL SIR CYPRIAN BRIDGE (Great Britain) Dec. 31, 1914—A complete victory for our side that will lead to a lasting peace is my dominant wish for 1915, if not my expectation.

LORD GEORGE SYDENHAM of England, Dec. 31, 1914—I have always believed this would be a nine months war.

FRENCH

GEN. JOFFRE, French Commander-in-Chief, April 2, 1915 The war soon will end in favor of the allies.

CAPT. EDMUND THERY of France, Nov. 2, 1914—If the issues are undecided at the end of the year, it is quite possible hostilities will continue to spring or summer.

GEN. P. DE PERVAL of France, Nov. 2, 1914—It is possible Germany may find herself obliged to come to terms some time next spring.

JEAN HERBETTE of France, Nov. 2, 1914—Under the best conditions I do not look for a decisive issue until spring, or possibly next July.

GEN. CLEMENCEAU, former French Premier, Nov. 6, 1914—Of one thing alone I am certain: the war will be long, perhaps very long.

GEN. BONNARD of France, Dec. 31, 1914—Probably before the end of the autumn of 1915 the Germanic allies will be forced to demand peace at any price.

MME. DE THEBES of Paris, Dec. 1914—The war will end between March and July, 1915, and the Hohenzollern family will cease to reign in Germany.

GEN. FRANCOIS JOUBERT-PENARRI ex-Roe leader, in France, Sept. 27, 1914—The war will be long and fierce.

RUSSIAN

GRAND DUKE NICHOLAS, Russian Commander-in-Chief, Nov. 6, 1914 in telegram to Gen. Joffre—I am most confident of the speedy and entire accomplishment of our common task.

GERMAN

HERR BALLIN, confidant of the Kaiser, in interview with Gustave C. Roeder at Hamburg, published April 14, 1915—How long will the war last? My dear sir, this is a question which nobody in Germany can correctly answer to-day. We simply don't know. I wish I did know. I don't think even his Majesty could that question. He doesn't know either.

VICE-CHANCELLOR DELBRUECK of Germany, March 15, 1915—There will be no sheathing of the sword until Germany obtains the guarantees she desires.

PRIVY COUNCILLOR RICHARD WITTING of Germany, Sept. 28, 1914—There is not going to be any peace, not for a long time. It will be a long war. We are prepared for three years.

PRINCE VON BUELOW, March 14, 1915—Even if we do not win at once, our resistance will be long and may be changed into victory. The war will be frightful, monstrous.

RUDOLPH MARTIN, former Minister of the Interior of Germany, early in March, 1915—Germany will dictate peace terms in London after two years of fighting.

DAVID BENI, Turkish Minister of Finance, April 2, 1915—The war will be a long one, and will end in the favor of the Allies.

AMERICAN

WALTER J. HILL, American railroad man, April 1, 1915—The war will still be, by October 1, 1915.—The Telegram.

No. 533 as amended by the council of the Township of Albemarle and passed by the Minister of Public Works, be now read a third time and finally passed. Cd.

Couch and Weir—That if the Equalization committee of the county council do now report favorably as to Albemarle's claim re equalized assessment, or if the county council fails to do justice in the matter, this council desires to place itself on record as being in favor of appealing our case to the County Judge. Cd.

Orders to the amount of $65.56 were issued on the Treasurer.

Weir and Craig—That this council do now adjourn to meet again at Bell's Hall on Tuesday June 8th, 1915 as an adjourned Court of Revision and for general business. Cd.

LIONS HEAD

On the 1st of June, 1915, Saturday of this week only you can buy tomatoes, corn, peas and beans at 8 cents per can at Whit Moors. Watch the paper each week and you will find close prices, and if you need these things it is worth your while buying them when you get the low figures. If you have to pay more than 8 cents for your corn, you should have laid in your stock last week.

Another bundle of rain coats arrived at Whit Moors last week. Judging by the number being sold they must be good value at $6.75.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. McLay, of Luskay, did business in town last Thursday.

Mr. Catet, representing McCormick Biscuit Company, was here on Thursday of last week.

Mr. W. F. Ellis, representing Messrs. Jas. McLaughlin & Sons, Owen Sound, was here last Thursday on business.

Quite a number of the sports enjoy the fishing these days. Mr. H. Shaw, 1101, have caught almost as large a mountain trout as was caught in Gillies Lake it weighed 5 lbs 11 oz. when he brought it home after being out of the water for nearly two days.

Miss Martha Sharp returned from Providence Bay per the Soo City on Monday.

The Soo City called her up on Saturday evening on her up trip.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Caesar and family of Owen Sound are visiting the latter's parents Mr. and Mrs. Eli Warder.

Mr. Crawford, of Tara, spent a few days last week visiting with his father-in-law Mr. Eli Warder.

A gloom of sadness was cast over this village on Friday evening last when the papers announced among its honored list, Mr. Harold Brown and his chum Mr. Frank Harrison, who were killed May 24th and 26th respectively in action in France. Mr. Brown was a brother of Mr. E. E. Brown of the Royal Bank here.

Although he died while fighting for his King and Country, Mr. Brown of the Bank, has the heart felt sympathy for the loss of his brother, who was in the prime of youth in his 21st year, has been taken away.

Proud to go to war both the brothers held positions in the Royal Banks in Toronto and were very brotherly to each other as they roomed and boarded together while there.

Mrs. Norman Smith, accompanied by her son Malcolm, of Lindsay, were visitors to town last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm C. McDonald, of Lindsay, were in town last week.

Miss Black is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ackerman.

Miss Lizzie McEay, of Mar, passed through here on her way to her home in Lindsay.

Mr. Walter and Miss Etta McKay, of Lindsay, were visitors here on Monday.

Dr. S. E. Foster paid us his monthly visit here on Monday and Tuesday last.

Dr. Potterfield V.S. of Owen Sound and Holbert V.S. of Warton, were up the Peninsula on professional services this week.

A. G. McDonald, of Lindsay, seemed to be a happy visitor to town on June 10th as the stork presented him and Mrs. McDonald with a soldier boy on that date.

There seems to be lots of wool buyers these days, prices are from 21 for the unwashed to 32c cash for the washed per pound also the other produce being well picked.

A heavy shower of rain made its welcome visit here last Sunday, although brisk it caught a goodly number on their way home from church.

Messrs. Malcolm McIver and John McIver, of Skates Bay, were here last Saturday on business.

Messrs. F. G. Moore, E. E. Peterson, G. Webster and Ivan Butcher, made a business visit to Owen Sound last Friday.

FARM IMPROVEMENTS.

The late summer and autumn afford the farmer the best opportunity for making farm improvements. Usually there is time available during this season, and the condition of the soil is favorable. Draining operations especially are most successfully put through during these months.

In the spring the soil is too wet and sticky to be economically or comfortably handled, but in the autumn conditions are usually favorable. The same is true regarding the removal of old hedge rows, with their stumps and stones, or the clearing of stones from land. The energetic farmer will not fail to find plenty of opportunity for putting in all the time he can spare from his regular crops in these ways.

CARING FOR THE STOCK.

The cows will need to be kept in the stables nights now, and these should be put in the best condition for winter. There will not be much grass in the pastures so they will need to be fed mostly at the barn.

The meadows should not be closely fed, but a sufficient growth left for good protection through the winter.

While you have plenty of time during the winter keep a close watch of every cow in the dairy barn and see if the income from her dairy products will pay for her feed and leave you a reasonable profit on your time and labor.

Let us forget the names of ordinary hams with full pigs. Whenever salt is in use the sign should be displayed at five day intervals or else given out containing of crude oil applied with a brush.

Don't let yourself be the pretentious owner. There is no sense in having cows and milking them just because they happen to be on the farm. It is this satisfaction in doing the right thing that counts.

Let us at least a fair remuneration for feed and labor no pleasure can be got out of the thing.

Holland is Well

Prepared if She is Swept Into War

In an article in the New York Times, John Martin American, writes on the probability of Holland being swept into the European war. He says preparation has been made for such an event by the little Dutch kingdom. Huge imports have been made of raw and manufactured materials, as first suggested by the German navy—but there are stores of wheat, canned meats and other prepared food products from Britain and America at all the ports of the Zuyder Zee. She has bought ammunition also, while shoes, shirts and woollen cloth have arrived, as well as nickel, copper and gasoline, some of these latter from Canada.

Military Work Finished

Not only has Holland prepared as far as supplies are concerned, but earthworks and trench fortifications have been constructed along the west bank of the Meuse from Mook to Eindhoven, a distance of fifty miles, and on the east bank of the Meuse from Roermond to Maastricht, a distance of twenty-five miles.

Moreover the Dutch nation has steadily since the outbreak of the war, mobilized one section of its army after another, and has stationed them in various camps but short distances from the western German frontier and along the boundaries of northeastern Belgium.

Seemingly this has been a movement to protect Holland from invasion by Germany, should opportunity offer and necessity require it.

Germany Deceived

Germany herself was at first deceived regarding the purpose of Holland's increased importations. Germany believed that the Holland hand held the feed of gold so much that nothing could tempt her to sacrifice her position as a supply merchant for the north of Germany.

But even Germany is realizing that Holland is conserving within her own limits much of the produce which Germany expected to have passed on to her. It is for this reason that the German Admiralty gave instructions in December to the German-American friends in America to ship supplies to Bremen rather than to Rotterdam and Amsterdam. It is for this same reason that the German Admiralty Union gave orders to its submarines to sink neutral supply ships coming to Holland either from Norway or Sweden or from America.

An additional fact convinced Germany that Holland was preparing for offensive action. Holland continued to call in one class of reserves after another, continued to increase her supplies of war materials at various military camps near the northern German border and continued to mass her Dutch troops within striking distance of Essen, even after every statesman in Holland knew that there was no danger of a German invasion. It was self-evident that Germany had all she could do to hold her battalions in Belgium and northeastern France.

These facts finally convinced Germany that Holland's preparations were not only of a defensive nature but of an offensive nature also.

What Holland Can Do

And what can Holland do?

The northern army can move east from Groningen along the railway line towards Eindhoven, Bremen and Hamburg. In this way any German forces at Eindhoven and Wilhelmshaven will be kept engaged as they cannot be sent south to interfere with the intended activities of the northern and central armies.

The southern army can remain entrenched all the way from Bergen-op-Zoom to Eindhoven, while the left wing of this army can move from behind the trenches at Maastricht and descend upon Liege both by railway and along the Meuse thus preventing Germany from sending her troops from Belgium to interfere with the action of the central army. In this way the southern army would menace all railway communications between Liege and Germany.

The eastern army, of which a very large division is stationed at Feildin, with great supply powers at Zwolle, can move along three railway lines into Germany and then by water down the Rhine in the direction of Munster and Wesel, and on toward the great Krupp works at Essen, only a few miles further south and east. The Krupp works are strong, fortified, but it is not necessary to take them. If the lines of communications between Essen and the western army are severed, that is sufficient.

One Railway Illustration

Meanwhile the central army divisions are stationed at Arnhem, at the junction of two railway lines, and on the bank of the Rhine, at Nijmegen, and at Venloo, and Roermond. These divisions can move east and south by the rail and railway and sever the railway communications between Essen and Aix-la-Chapelle. There are more than fifty miles of this railway running almost parallel to and within ten miles of the Dutch border.

While Holland is a small country, it is long and narrow; the eastern frontier bordering Germany is two hundred and thirty miles long. The frontier from which an advance can be made into Belgium is over sixty miles long.

The central army can move in two sections one down the Rhine past Wesel and Ruhrort, and the other from Arnhem to be held by railroad. Both the Rhine and the railway intersect the German railway between Essen and Aix-la-Chapelle. To the movement of this central army there could be but little opposition. There is not a single German fort along the entire Dutch frontier and all the land forces of this portion of Germany have been taken to Belgium to aid in the struggle there.

If the Germans attempted to withdraw any portion of their army fighting in Belgium and France, the French, Belgium and English would have the opportunity they have long been waiting for, and if the German armies were not withdrawn to prevent the Dutch invasion, the Dutch army, in two days, even without forced marches, could cut the four railway lines running from Essen, Cologne and Coblenz to Belgium, and Luxembourg and two million German soldiers all of those in the western army, with the exception of those in Alsace-Lorraine, would be cut off from their source of supplies, from their food and from their ammunition.

British Would Aid Them

The western German army would then find itself with the English, French and Belgians in front of it and the Dutch behind it. And not only the Dutch behind it, but 700,000 English also. The massing of great numbers of English troops in the east of England during the past few months has not been for the protection of the English coast but to be ready to aid the Dutch should Holland decide to move. From the east coast quick transportation to Holland is possible and then a rapid campaign from Holland's eastern border into Germany on toward Bremen, Hanover and Berlin.

There would be nothing to stop them. The Germans would not dare to draw troops from their eastern frontier, as the Russians would seize the opportunity and the Cossacks would gallop into Eastern Prussia.

Germany Deceived

Three-fourths of the western army cut off from supplies and starving would have to fight for its life both with the English, the Belgians and the French on the west, and with the Dutch on the north and east. That portion of the German army in Alsace-Lorraine itself, unaided, would be compelled to combat one million Frenchmen.

Would it not be strange if once again this little country of the lowlands should be the deciding factor in overthrowing the empire of the German Kaiser? It was the influence of a Holland general, backed by his Dutch army, that hastened forward the claim of "divine right" to the throne of Spain. It was Holland's influence and Dutch power that ended the reign of Divine right James in England, and guaranteed for all time constitutional privileges to the English people. It was the Dutch, who by redeeming Holland from the control of Louis Philippe, a wife it possible, England and Germany to co-operate in overthrowing Napoleon I.

May not Holland in this great war become the determining factor in shattering forever the "divine right claim" Wilhelm II. to dominate and to rule the world?

THE CANADIAN ECHO TO NEW SUBSCRIBERS UNTIL JANUARY 1916 FOR ONLY FIFTY CENTS

Rev. H. A. Fish Delivers Very Interesting Address

On Wednesday evening of last week Rev. Mr. Fish, of Owen Sound, addressed a public meeting in the town hall, his subject being "Separate Schools, Bilingual Questions and Mixed Marriages." The meeting was fairly well attended, quite a number from the country being present, but a heavy rain prevented a large turn out.

The meeting was opened with a selection by the McLaurens Pipe Band, the audience were then asked to rise and join in singing "Onward Christian Soldiers," and prayer by Rev. Mr. Flagg, Dr. Foster, chairman, then addressed the audience, introducing the speaker.

Mr. Fish then arose with The Canadian Echo in his hand, and said he realized the responsibility of the message he was about to deliver, and felt it more so since reading the letter written by Father Cadot, which appeared in last week's issue. He read the letter to the audience and challenged the dared Father Cadot or any priest to dispute any statement he made. He stated he was pleased that The Echo had published Father Cadot's letter, that it had acted wisely, just and fair, and quoted from the ritual of the Orange Lodge that Orangemen were to abstain from unkind words and actions against Roman Catholic fellowmen, to give a square deal to every man, and a little squarer to the Catholic.

Mr. Fish then said that if any government or party attempted to interfere with the rights or liberties of the Church of Rome the Orangemen would be the first to interfere, their rock bottom foundation was "equal rights for all, special rights for none." The Orangemen have no quarrel with the Roman Catholics, they don't resent their creed, can easily differ and still be friends, but they do resent which they quarrel. The Roman Catholics are kept in ignorance and are led to believe that all outside of their religion are heretics, and are eternal lost. Politics enter the church and it wields a mighty force as a political machine.

He stated that the Press of Canada is muzzled, there is so much Roman Catholic capital tied up in the dailies that they dare not express their opinions on religious questions, and cited interviews he had with editors of some of the leading daily papers of Ontario, who refused to give notice of his meetings in the papers. In Saint Ste. Marie, Ont., he was billed to speak in the Central Methodist Church, had window cards printed and distributed, but the priests got busy and phoned and called upon the business men and told them that if they did not take the cards out of their windows the Catholic trade would be cut off. Of all the business men in that city only one had back bone enough to tell them that was a poor knife that didn't cut both ways, and left the card in his window. At the last moment the Methodists refused to let him speak in the church and he was forced to hold the meeting in the Kings Theatre. He said the Mounted Witness, one of the foremost religious papers in Canada, which had taken the government to task had been frozen out and no paper was ever known to withstand the hierarchy in Quebec. In going along the St. Lawrence River one is impressed by the magnificent churches, even in sparsely settled districts. If the priest wants a new church he simply has it built and the people living in the parish are taxed until it is paid for. Large numbers have left that part of the country and come to Ontario to escape the tithes and taxes which are levied, but the hierarchy does not let them escape. When a Catholic settles land is bought up around him by the Church of Rome and other settlers are sent in to take up the land, and soon a church appears. Next year the population increased seven per cent in Ontario, and more than half were Roman Catholics. Fourteen constituencies are controlled by Catholic ballots in Ontario, twenty-two or twenty-three in Ontario would give them the balance of power, and when that day comes we can say good bye to public schools.

Speaking of mixed marriages Mr. Fish said that the marriage of a Protestant and Catholic by a Protestant minister was not recognized by the Church of Rome. He cited cases where children had been taken from Protestant mothers who were married to Catholics and would not bend to the will of the Church of Rome, and said that before a priest would marry a couple the woman must sign articles that she will bring the children up to the Catholic religion and make other binding oaths which cannot be broken by any law. In conclusion Mr. Fish said "If there is any organization misrepresented on the face of the earth it is the Orange Association."

A vote of thanks, moved by Dr. M. J. Jernyn, seconded by Mr. Moore of Oliphant, was tendered Mr. Fish for the able way in which he had handled his subject and for the information he had imparted, and after singing "God Save the King" the meeting dispersed.

Owen Sound Wins by a Narrow Margin

On Friday last the local team in the Northern Baseball League played their first game and lost by the close score of 5-3. The game was a good one and excellent ball was played throughout. In the first innings O.S. got 3 runs and from then till the fifth no runs were tallied. In the fifth Winton got two and in the sixth one this making the score 3-3 in the seventh neither side got any over the platter but in the eighth with 2 men on bases the O.S. batter knocked a high fly and the shortstop dropped it on the play scoring the winning runs. As none were scored in the 9th. The game throughout was fast and many fast plays were pulled off including a couple of double plays. "Sox" Mier, the Winton pitcher, besides pitching a grand game and showing that he had some fine curves that broke clean and put him on a higher plane than his opponent Bravener of the O.S. team, knocked a two bagger which brought in the two runs in the fifth. The team is just lately organized and had only 2 practices before this game and compared with the O.S. team who have been at it for five weeks they showed far better form. We have no doubt in saying that they will rank high before the season is over and may probably land another Free Press Cup. Among the infield players Allan Ashby, F. Garvin and W. McKenzie showed up probably a shade the best. The batteries—Owen Sound—Bravener and Burton Warnton—Miers and Garvin.

Clarence Pope Writes Home

France, Tuesday June 1st.

My Dear Mother—

We left the reserve trenches last night and are a few miles away from the firing line. Coming out last night we must have been observed for the Germans immediately got the wind up and sent up red and green lights, must have been signals to the artillery for immediately they started shelling a few choice spots which they thought were roads that we used to bring up reinforcements but luckily we got out safely.

To-day we got some belated mail and among them was the second parcel which you sent including the pennant I showed it to Roy Hunter, who admired it very much, truly it has a bit of history connected with it for it first reached the Company when we were in Belgium and from there it followed me through a half a dozen French cities thence to London and eventually found the way back here. The candy was a little hard but a long way from being spoiled.

I guess poor Tom Shean is gone. Capt. Straight writes that his whole command was wiped out.

I am returning pennant with my signature attached, hope it won't be long before I follow it myself. Please thank Miss Dunham and Miss Tyson and the ladies who so kindly remembered the Warnton boys so far away for it is surely a far cry from little old Warnton to the Proberial "some where in France".

I haven't very much time just now but will write again to-morrow.

P.S. am enclosing two German shoulder badges.

The Town Council

The Court of Revision raised the assessment of the Canada Furniture Manufacturer $2500. This was agreed to by the company. Councilor Barnes maintained that the present fixed assessment of the company is illegal, that the council has no such power. However in view of the fact that they employ labor and the contract has only three years to run there was no disposition to make trouble.

There was a communication before the council from London asking that the Salvation Army barracks be exempt from taxes. They were requested to bring the matter before the Council in December.

There was a petition for a sidewalk on the East side of Tyson Street, which was referred to committee.

There was some discussion about repairs to Bedford street and the Board of Works have been given authority to spend $200 on this street. Gravel stone will be used. The firemen will get 15 hats and about 50 chairs are needed for the town hall.

The special committee of whom R. E. Crane was chairman made their report about operations in the bush last winter. The cost of operations were $165.83 and the sales of the wood amounted to $171.17. This supplies the town with cheap wood and furnished work for a number of men. It showed that the town might well take something of this nature up again on a larger scale.

Notice to Delinquent Subscribers

ATTENTION, PLEASE

According to the new postal laws we are not permitted to send bills to customers unless we pay 3 cents postage on each letter. On 500 letters this would amount to $15 a sum altogether too large for any publisher to pay. Accordingly we have decided to send this circular of advice to all subscribers. Every one knows when his paper has expired. If the label reads Dec 14 or Jan 15 it means that he owes this office $1. If the label reads Dec 13 or Jan 14 it means that he owes this office $2. If the label reads Dec 12 or Jan 13 it means that he owes this office $3 and so on. With this explanation the subscriber can easily determine how much he owes. We have over $1000 out in these unpaid subscriptions and are obliged to notify all in arrears that the same must be paid this month. If we are obliged to send out bills to each subscriber we shall be compelled to charge $1.50 per year, and the subscribers must not expect nor ask us to do differently. We ask our subscribers to kindly remember that this is war year, a time of business depression, and that a newspaper is obliged to collect its bills promptly. Accordingly we cannot extend the time for payment beyond the present month and if you do not want to pay $1.50 you are advised to act accordingly.

After November 1st no paper will be sent to anyone outside of Grey & Bruce Counties unless paid for in advance.

At Hymen's Altar

CRAWFORD—KAY

On Wednesday June 16th, a very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Kay, Purple Valley, when their second daughter, Mary Elizabeth, was united in marriage to Mr. Wm. J. Crawford, Purple Valley. The bride, who was unattended, wore a beautiful wedding gown of white embroidered voile trimmed with blue paillette silk and rosebuds and wore the gift of the groom, a necklace of pearls and emeralds. When the strains of the wedding march skillfully rendered by Mrs. S. Weir, floated through the room, the bride entered the parlor leaning on the arm of her father and carrying a beautiful bouquet of pink and white carnations and maiden hair fern took her place under the arch of ferns and maple leaves decorated with snowballs and peonies where the Rev. E. L. Flagg assisted by Mr. Drew performed the marriage ceremony.

After many hearty congratulations had been given, the wedding party sat down to a very dainty and sumptuous repast. The bride's travelling suit was of navy blue serge with hat to match. The many and costly presents received show the high esteem in which the bride and groom are held. Guests were present from Purple Valley, Red Bay, Adamsville, Mar. Elmwood, Chesley, Cape Croker and Colpoys Bay. Mr. and Mrs. Crawford will reside at Purple Valley. Their many friends join in wishing them a bright and happy journey down life's stream.

On Wednesday last week the town of Kincardine entertained by a visit from the Ch. orator of McMaster University, Toronto; viz. A. L. McCrimmon, M. L., L. D. Dr. McCrimmon was returning from Tiverton where he had figured in the Diamond Jubilee Celebration of the Dominion of Wales. He stopped over at Kincardine, and delivered a most favorable Kincardine address, commending their prayer meeting. In his address he discussed the nature and elements of culture. Emphasizing especially (1) The sacredness of religion, (2) The power of religion, (3) The full brotherhood of all men, and (4) The necessity of being unreservedly and honestly sincere and honest because of the rights it has incidentally on the differences between Teutonic and Anglo Saxon ideals. Many of those who heard it remarked that it was the best lecture they

METZEL IS OCCUPIED

French Make a Notable Advance in the Vosges.

German Army retreating. Metz is occupied. French make a notable advance in the Vosges.

Paris, June 21.—The village of Metz, on the River Moselle, in the Vosges, was invaded by French forces late Saturday, and the advance on Metz was further down the river, is well under way.

The victory is one of great importance, not only because of the strategic advantage it offers, but as well because of the encouragement it will afford to the troops fighting in this region since early spring.

GAY GATES OF LEMBERG.

Fate of Galician City Now Sings.

LONDON, June 21.—After seven weeks battering across Galicia, during which the Russians have been driven back some 250 miles, the Austro-Germans are today so close to Lemberg as were the Germans to Paris after their first dash across France last fall.

Nepes, perhaps, since before the battle of the Marne, have the Russian allies appeared so confident of success. Having failed in their original plan of crushing France, and then turning to Russia, they have reversed the order of their strategy, and now judging by the expenditure of life and ammunition in Galicia they have now gained the same faith on so paralyzing the Russian army as to permit of the throwing of a tremendous weight of men and metal into the western theatre in an effort to break through the Franco-British line or force an interminable period of ordinary warfare.

A despatch from Copenhagen last night says that the German Emperor has issued a decree appointing General Gallien as commander of the Russian army in the Baltic region, establishing his headquarters in Riga as near to the front as practicable.

The official report of both sides agree that the Russians have retired from Grodek and Komarow, towns some 15 miles east of Lemberg. The Russians are now holding prepared positions six miles east of Grodek and about ten miles from the capital city.

Arrangements Made For Vessels to Patrol Ontario Waters.

TORONTO, June 21.—Important steps are being taken by the Ontario Department of Game and Fisheries to regulate the fishing industry in the great lakes and to prevent poaching. Arrangements have been made for the chartering of the steamer La Salle for patrol work on Lake Erie, and Capt. S. E. Corcoran will be in command. This innovation is the result of complaints of the pound fishermen, who claim the gill-net men in their tug boats encroach on the rights of the pound fishermen.

Previous to this year gill-net fishermen were forced to fish 10 miles from shore west of Port Stanley and that only during the winter months. The gill-net men were only allowed to take fish out of waters adjacent to the shore where they must pay royalties to the Government. The La Salle is recorded as having a speed of 15 knots; part of her duties, too, will be to enforce American and Canadian waters.

The Athens, a steamer of 13 knots, commanded by Capt. P. J. Morris, will patrol waters Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence. This boat formerly patrolled Canadian waters from Windsor up through the St. Clair Lake, and was operated at an annual expense of $3,000. A smaller and less costly boat will operate to replace the Athens at Windsor.

The Thys, also a steamer, commanded by Capt. Joseph Brown, will patrol the waters of the International boundary, including Lake Nipigon.

Bulgars Not to Enter War.

LONDON, June 21.—From a quarter hour authority cannot be disputed it is learned that whatever else may happen in the near east the Bulgars will not enter the war against the allies is now definitely passed. Just what has happened to make this statement possible is not known, but the agreement has been reached, at all events the statement comes from a reliable source.

The idea is that the Bulgars are considered a rather important factor in the Balkan situation. For two days there has been a curious atmosphere of suspense, but it is impossible to ascertain just what it is. Petrograd has been down yesterday, giving rise to rumors of impending successes at the Dardanelles, or some development in the near east.

Power Station Bombed.

LONDON, June 21.—An official statement issued by the British War Office yesterday says: "On Friday, north of Hooge, we occupied German trenches on a front of 250 yards, which the enemy had been forced to abandon owing to local successes there."

As a result of the fighting in this neighborhood during the week, we captured 213 prisoners, including two officers and four lieutenants, and a full gas cylinder.

Northeast of Arras, where we captured several German machine guns and destroyed a portion of the enemy's trenches. Our artillery and rifle fire inflicted casualties on the enemy while they were trying to escape after the platoon.

The electric power station at La Bassée was successfully bombed yesterday by our airmen."

Serbian Forces Occupy Durazzo.

LONDON, June 21.—A Reuter despatch from Athens says it is reported there the Serbians have occupied Durazzo, Albania, and Salonica, provisional president of Albania, and former commander of the Turkish forces in Salonica, is said to have been driven into Italy.

Serbian troops have been operating in Albania for some time, and the Serbians have been successful in the occupation of considerable territory in the north, with Durazzo as their base.

Italy has not formally declared war against Turkey, which may explain the reported flight of Kemal Pasha to Italy.

VICTORY FOR ITALIANS

Town and Heights on Isonzo Taken in Hard Battle.

Official Statement Issued at Rome. Shows That Success Was the Result of the Italian Army's Superiority of Commanders as Well as Value of Troops—Losses of Austrians in Plava Battle Were Enormous.

ROME, June 21.—The first four weeks of the war have been marked by an uninterrupted series of successes from the Trentino to the Adriatic. They close with a brilliant victory at Palava, announced yesterday by General Cadorna. The status of the Italian army will need no reminder of the value of this new foothold on the left bank of the Isonzo, permitting, as it does, the development of concentrations on Gorizia to the south and Tolmino to the north.

This battle is more significant because it occurred at a point where General Cadorna's forces enjoyed elbow-room to develop an attack on a larger scale than had been possible previously.

Our allies, it is clear, owe this victory as much to tactical superiority shown by the commanders as to the tenacity and valor of the troops so highly praised by the Commander-in-Chief. If the losses were relatively grave in this battle for the heights of Plava, it is some satisfaction to know that the good work done in the preceding weeks was accomplished at a surprisingly low cost.

The assertion is made by newspapers of Rome that the Italian army now occupies 10,000 square kilometers (4,000 miles) of territory, or more than twice as much as Austria offered Italy for establishing neutral.

An official statement from the main headquarters of the Italian army, most of the details of the two days' struggle for the heights on the left bank of the Isonzo River, says that the Italians took the last of these heights remaining in the hands of the Austrians on June 17, and that while the 1st Italian Army was heavily the results attained were important.

The communication says that on the Isonzo which the Italians "passed by main force," the Austrian positions have been taken one after another by assault.

MAY GO TO STRAITS.

Destination of Canadian Second Division is Eagerly Discussed.

LONDON, June 21.—The destination of the second contingent is a matter of much speculation. It is generally believed that no move will be made for months. It is hinted in circles where the truth should be known that the second division of Canadians may join other overseas forces in the Dardanelles, but probably the 1st Division will be the first to go.

At the present moment the second contingent is complete. The reserve battalions are at the moment at very low strength, as even with their present numbers—which are low—they are largely composed of invalided men. A group of 48 officers has crossed the Channel.

Col. J. A. Currie, M.P., and Col. Frank S. Meighen will probably return to Canada on leave for a month or so at the special request of the Minister of Militia. Col. Currie commands the 15th Highland Battalion of Toronto, and Col. Meighen commands the 14th Battalion of Montreal, two regiments which suffered very heavily in the St. Julien struggle.

The idea is that the Canadians will visit different training camps in Canada to give officers and men the benefit of their experience.

French Superior In Air.

LONDON, June 21.—Reports from Germany to The Times quote the statement of a German flight captain, to the effect that the Taube pattern of aeroplane has been discarded by the authorities as too unstable and unsatisfactory for military uses, as are the other type of monoplane, because of their inability to carry a sufficient load, and the Germans are now making exclusively biplanes of an improved type. The Germans admit that the French are still superior in field aeroplanes.

Two Killed, One Hurt.

QUINCY, Mass., June 21.—An aeroplane was shot down to earth with three men Saturday, two of them dying as a result. George H. Hersey, Jr., of this city, a mechanic, was killed, and William W. D. D. of Providence, R.I., who was receiving instruction in flight from Harry Jones, was also killed.

One man, sustained injuries from which he died on the way to the hospital. Jones, previously escaped serious injury by falling on the bodies of the other two.

Inquiry as an End.

LONDON, June 21.—The final private sitting in the Lusitania inquiry was held Friday. Addresses were delivered by Butler Aspinall for the Canadian Company, and Solicitor General Smith for the Board of Trade. Captain Turner of the Lusitania was also present.

No date has yet been fixed for the delivery of the findings of the court.

THIS is the 319th day of the war.

PORT ELGIN and Owen Sound will celebrate on July 1st.

JUNE 1915 should go down in history as the coldest June on record.

ALL the peace talk so far has evidently come from German sources.

ABOUT sixty candidates will write on the Entrance Examinations at Tara.

OWEN SOUND is thinking of erecting a $500,000 elevator as a municipal enterprise.

THE United States has now the biggest battleship in the world which was launched last week and christened the Arizona.

THERE is a rumor in circulation at Walkerton that a battalion of 3500 men will be recruited and trained in Walkerton.

THERE is a theory that land once stretched from Newfoundland to Great Britain, but if so it is pretty well covered now.

IF the motorists rake off the stones on the roads the farmers will be saved the job that should be done by the township.

THE Board of Trade might very well meet to consider the question of finding employment for the laboring classes after the mills will have closed.

THE Chatham merchants have engaged four lady spotters to inform upon the other ladies who do their buying in Detroit. This desire to buy away from home is the old story far away fields look green.

Tenders Wanted

Tenders will be received by the undersigned for 300 yards crushed stone to be delivered where wanted on the street. Town stone crusher to be used. Contractor to furnish everything but stone crusher.

Tenders to be closed July 1st, 1915

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of the brides parents Mr and Mrs Joseph H. Loughhead, Ferndale, on Monday afternoon June 21st at 3 o'clock when the marriage was solemnized by the Rev R. Etherington assisted by Rev. A. Remington, of Zeeb, of Miss Julia Priscilla Loughhead their only daughter to Mr Edward Bartman. The ceremony which was performed under a very artistic arch of ferns and dainty white flowers, took place in the presence of about seventy five guests, immediate relatives and friends. Mrs Henderson Loughhead the sister-in-law of the bride played the wedding march from Lohengrin as the bride who was given away by her father entered the drawing room. The bride wore a gown of cream duchess mousseline silk with a long veil caught up with delicate green foliage and white flowers. She was attended by Miss Margaret Bartman of Tobermory, cousin of the groom while Wilbert Loughhead acted as best man. After the ceremony the guests sat down to a fowl supper. A very pleasant evening was spent with music and singing. Mr. W. Brown also gave good music. The presents were numerous and costly. The Echo and its readers wish Mr. and Mrs Bartman all happiness in their journey.

Happy couple left on a motoring trip on Tuesday morning.

Why Wool Dropped.

Last week our pages bore the announcement that the embargo which had been placed on a short time before had been taken off, allowing Canadian wool to again go to the United States provided that wool or yarn manufactured therefrom is used in the United States. When the embargo was announced wool manufacturers in this country immediately dropped the price from eight to ten cents per pound. Why? Canada imports wool. Canada requires as much wool as she produces. Wool prices early in June in the United States were from 28 to 30 cents per pound for mediums. The market in Britain showed a slight easing off, but, while indications there that wool might be a little easier, there was no real reason in the trade why wool should have been dropped so suddenly and so much because of the embargo. It looks very much like another trick of the manufacturers. They saw their opportunity to take advantage of the wool producers, and not satisfied with a reasonable haul dropped wool so low that they completely disorganized the market. Of three manufacturers written for prices during the worst days of the slump one quoted an extremely low price, one did not quote and the other refused to quote. At the same time, it is said, Canadian manufacturers were buying wool in the United States where prices had not dropped. This would appear to be a grand attempt to take about 40 per cent. of the value of the wool right out of the Canadian farmers' pockets and had the embargo continued it would no doubt have accomplished its purpose. It is only just as the bulk of the Canadian clip was being removed from the backs of the sheep. Particularly is this true of the West. Fortunately the embargo did not last, and rubbed off its protection as an excuse wool has advanced but not as much as it dropped. The Live Stock Commissioner and the Department of Agriculture are deservingly of credit for removing this menace to the sheep breeding industry and the executive of the Dominion Sheep Breeders' Association, whose efforts have been untiring on behalf of sheep-breeding in this country, are to be congratulated upon the success of their work to get the embargo removed. Had the embargo stayed, Canadian wool producers would have been forced to accept prices about 40 per cent. below the real value of the wool, while the manufacturers of the product would have reaped a fat harvest. At the same time sheep-breeding would have received a severe set-back when everyone is anxious for increased production and when the industry had a chance to regain some of its lost ground. It is such inexcusable actions as this on the part of manufacturers that hold agriculture down, that we are so anxious to see removed. For this reason these pills are an ideal family medicine. They cure biliousness, constipation, chronic indigestion and kidney disease.

North Bruce Farmers' Institute

The Annual meeting of the North Bruce Farmers' Institute was held Saturday afternoon last in the Warton Town Hall. President J. K. Livingston chairman. In making his report Mr Livingston said that the farmers in his district were more interested in the different Farmers' Clubs than in the Institute, therefore it was difficult to get them to join the Institute as well. The Secretary reported a falling off in the membership due to the lack of meetings in the North during the winter, and possibly on account of general dull times. It was found impossible to arrange a June excursion to Guelph this year as the G. T. R. asked a very large guarantee. The auditors showed that there was a small balance to the credit of the Institute, while there was still last year's grant due the Institute from Government. In discussing the best way to deal with the three libraries belonging to the Institute, Messrs W. J. Root and G. Loney moved that Mr. Laidlaw make the best terms possible to get the Lions' Head public library board to take over the branch library of the Institute there. Mr. Swale to deal with the Warton Branch and Messrs Livingston and Pringle to deal with the Hopworth Branch. This was carried unanimously. Messrs Root and J. Weir were re-appointed auditors. The places for holding winter meetings are Park Head, Hopworth, Mar Spry, Hopness, Lions Head. Directors (Pres) J. K. Livingston, (Vice pres) Wm. Laidlaw, H. Hawes, R. Cameron, J. Heath, J. Weir, Caleb Brown, Fletcher Buckland, W. J. Root, J. A. Pringle, G. Loney, C. Swale (Sec.)

The new proposals of government to alter the organization were then discussed. The meeting was opposed to the changes chiefly on account of the cumbersome nature of the new rules. The board of directors would include the District Representative and some twenty-five other directors taken from Municipal Councils, Farmers Clubs, Womens Institutes, Agricultural Societies, besides the members of old directorate. While it is understood that changes may be made by the Government, the feeling of the meeting was distinctly in favor of simplifying the workings of the Institute rather than complicating them. As there were seven of the old board of directors present, it would appear that was the general opinion of the Institute and they passed a motion recommending the union of Womens Institutes and Farmers Clubs with the present Institute, but were not in favor of further additions. All present thought the Womens Institute were doing splendid work while the Farmer's Club seemed to be saving money for the members.

This tree was the one that had killed one of the Indians last go and bolted back towards the timber. He fell with Rolfe's bullet between his legs. Rolfe was not a little surprised before he had gone a dozen paces. The others held on for one more moment and then they all broke and broke clean away from them, rolling merrily down the hill, whilst three of the Indians, who were a little bruised in the vain hope of hiding from the white men's withering volley.

For a mile, perhaps, he led his horse gallop, almost lying on its back to avoid overhanging boughs, maintaining a precarious position by holding on to the horse's mane with his unfastened hand.

mill and a paper mill on or near the area
referred to.

Such tenders shall be required to erect a mill or mills on or near its territory, and to manufacture the wood into paper in the Province of Ontario—the paper mill to be erected within such time and in such place as the Lieutenant Governor in Council shall direct.

Parties making tender will be required to deposit with their tender a marked cheque payable to the Honourable the Treasurer of the Province of Ontario, for ten per cent of the amount of their tender,
to be forfeited in the event of their not entering into an agreement to carry out the conditions, etc.

The highest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

For particulars as to description of territory, capital to be invested, etc., apply to the undersigned.

N.B.—No unauthorized publication of this notice will be paid for.

Southampton

The first of our Southampton boys who answered the call of their country last fall, and went to the front to battle for Britain and liberty has answered the last roll call and is now numbered among the heroes who gave their lives for their country.

The eldest son is gone from the family circle and although there is a deep and general sympathy, the hearts in that home are heavy, but he lived a worthy life and died a noble death.

Three times since last fall he had been promoted, first to lance corporal, then to full corporal, and lastly to sergeant, merited full action on the battle field.

Death came to him in the Royal Irish General Hospital, Wimereux, France, on June 11th, caused by wounds in the back from shrapnel. Word was received by his parents last Sunday, June 13th.
Personal regrets have been received from Katie George, Grace Mary, the Hamilton Cabaret, Rev. W. F. Drowler, and many other friends.

A memorial service will be held in St.
Paul's Anglican church next Monday morning at 11 o'clock.

The Elsinore appointment of the Methuist church which has heretofore been a part of the Southampton circuit has been transferred to the Allerton circuit, the change taking place the 1st of July. Rev.
John Jewitt will be pastor there. This makes Southampton church a charge by itself.

Mrs. Wm. Gilbert received word last week of the sudden death of her son William, which took place at Auckland,
New Zealand, about three weeks ago.
Deceased was about forty-five years of age and was the third oldest in the family.
Some fifteen years ago he went from Southampton to New Zealand, and a couple of years later was joined there by his brother Harry. They were engaged in ranching.

GUARD BABY'S REALTA IN THE SUMMER

The summer months are the most dangerous to children. The complaints of that season, which are cholera, infantum, colic, diarrhoea and dysentery, come on unnoticed and often a little one is before a day before the mother realizes he is ill. The mother must be on her guard to prevent these troubles or if they do come on, endeavor to cure them. No other medicine is of more aid to mothers during hot weather as is Baby's Own Tablets.
They regulate the stomach and bowels and are absolutely safe. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from T. D. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville Ont.

Hanover

At the residence of Mrs. K. J. Disney, Hanover, Mr. James Bryan of Varsity was married to Miss Clara E. Wynn, of Beetlebrook, Mr. Richard, Bryan of Varsity, brother of the groom, was groomsmen, and Miss Annie Wynn bridesmaid. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. I. Mc-Lean, M. A. of Hanover. After the ceremony delicat refreshments were served by Mrs. Disney. Mr. and Mrs. Bryan will take up their residence on the groom's farm in Effremont.

The Hanover Portland Cement Co. were forced to close down on Wednesday of last week on account of the retaining wall of their large clinker storehouse giving way. This was due to the fact that the building was filled to capacity. They are however, working night and day and i-orders continue to come in as they have during the past ten days they will be able to commence manufacturing again by the second day of August and it is hoped they can in order to give their whole staff work again.

Mr. Edward Herman Haert, son of Mrs.
Adam Haert, and Miss Annie Marie
Ernst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ernst, all of Hanover, were quietly married in St. Matthew's Lutheran Church here last evening at 8 o'clock, the pastor, Rev. Mr. Dees, officiating. The young couple were unattended. The bride was very tastefully attired in ivory satin, and shadow lace, wore the regulation veil and carried bridal roses. Supper was served at the bride's home afterwards.
Only the minister and the bridesmaid were present for the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs.
Ernst left the following morning for a week's trip to Germany and upon their return will take up their residence in Effremont.
The bride travelled in the car with her two maids. The friends in attending congratulations had been with-

Amabel Council

Council met in Pacific Hotel, Winnipeg on June 7th. Members all present. Minutes of last meeting read and accepted.

By-laws No. 181, the Constitution Books were read a third time and finally passed.
It was moved and second that council pass a law empowering the Rovers and Transmovers to borrow $3000 from the Union Bank to meet current expenditure.

By-law No. 182, authorizing the borrowing of money for current expenditure was read a third time and finally passed.
Mr. Wilton was instructed to examine water certificate on the line, Con 18 and decide what was best. It was decided to lower creek bed opposite A. Smith's sufficiently to let water through providing Keppel do their share.

The clerk was instructed to have as-essment of each ratepayer placed on Voter's List. The following grants for roads were made: $30.00 on County Line South of Clavering, $30.00 on Con 2 East of 10th, side road, $30.00 on Blind Line between 10th and 15th side roads, $30.00 on Con 2 N. C. D. for graveling $25.00 on Con 2 West of D. H. H., the same to be supplemented, $37.00 on North Grand road West of 10th side road tp. of Arden, pending an equal amount.

John Broadfoot was appointed collector for 1915 at a salary of $100.00 and postage.
A petition signed by a number of gravel pit owners asking for a raise in price per yard, was presented to the Council after careful consideration it was decided to raise the price to eight cents per yard.

Mr. James Tenbury was appointed Pond Keeper in place of D. McDonald.
The roads and clerk were instructed to aim orders on the treasurer to the amount of $7.47.

The Council then adjourned to meet on August 3rd 1915, at 10 a. m.

Walkerton

Robert Brown of Hepworth who was brought to goal here last week on a charge of stealing a bicycle from the hotel in that village appeared before Judge Klein on Saturday morning and was sentenced to one-year term on the prison farm at Geoph.

Mrs. (Judge) Barrett, who has been a resident of Walkerton for about forty years, is leaving to spend the summer in Southampton, after which she will take up her abode in Galt with her son Dr.
Laurel Barrett. She purposes disporosing of her big brick residence here at the earliest opportunity. Miss Maude Wilkes has been living with since the death of the late Judge Barrett, will summer in Southampton and leave in the fall to reside with her brother in California.

Mr. Frank Yeack was arrested on Saturday last and lodged in goal on a charge of being drunk while on the prohibitory list. He appeared before Magistrate Tolson on Monday and was fined $10 and costs. Yeack claimed that he secured his booze at the brewery when no one was about but those interested are loath to disbelieve this story. If it is true and the manager or employees of the brewery are not implicated in Yeack's getting intoxicated, will the brewery people lay a charge of theft against him as probably should be done under such circumstances.

Peter Hawley was arrested near Palisay on Monday morning by constable Briggs under a bench warrant issued by Judge Klein at the general session last week. Hawley purchased a watch last March from Right Gibson besides borrowing $10.00 from him and giving him a cheque for which there was no funds in the bank. He was given time to pay for the watch and cost, failing in which he was arrested. Hawley had $20, which the Judge ordered to be applied to the payment of his indebtedness and he was released for another month to make up the balance.

Before the departure from town of Mrs. E. L. Flagg the ladies of the W. C. T. U. met one evening last week at the residence of Mrs. Ed. Harburt to wish her a happy life in Hagersville where she and her husband are going. As a recognition of her valuable work in the W. C. T. U. she was presented with a bouquet of carnations and a most eulogistic address was read by Mrs. Patterson. Mrs. Patterson, President of the organization, was also presented with a bouquet of roses. Refreshments were served and most pleasant evening was enjoyed by all present.

RHEUMATISM ARRESTED

Many people suffer the tortures of lame muscles and stiffened joints because of impurities in the blood, and each succeeding attack seems more acute until rheumatism has invaded the whole system.

To arrest rheumatism it is quite as important to improve your general health as to purify your blood, and the cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is nature's great blood maker, while its medicinal nourishment strengthens the organs to expel the impurities and rebuild your strength. Scott's Emulsion is helping thousands every day who could not find other relief. Refuse the alcoholic substitutes.

The Sunday School of St. Paul's church will hold their picnic at Cape Croker early in July.

The water at Oliphant's shows marked signs of coming back. It was quite high on Sunday.

All notices of garden parties etc., when bills are not printed will be charged 50 cents by The Echo.

The young girls who sold button hole bouquets last Saturday, the proceeds of which go to the smoke fund for our Warton boys at the front, just cleared $31.20.

FRUIT BULLETIN

Of interest to home wives. Official notice is given to buy common strawberries now. Have your grocer secure Niagara Peninsula grown kind; they are now at their best and require less sugar. Go elsewhere about ready. Speak to your grocer.

There will be a garden party on the grounds of the Catholic Church, Cape Croker, June 24th, at 2 o'clock and there will be a foot ball game between Hepworth and Cape Croker.

The Girls Club, North Keppel, met at the home of Mrs. C. Mooney June 11. Next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Betta Marshall July 9, 1915. The club intend having an At Home about the 23rd of July.

The Echo is headquarters for outer wrappers. We have them always on hand, pure vegetable paraffin and the words "Dairy Butter" are printed in ink which will not stain the butter.

Clarence Pope sent home two straps from the uniform of a dead German which contains his number. The uniform was coarse and strong and shows that the uniforms are not shoddy in any respect.

Mr. W. S. Pope has received word that his son, Clarence, who left Canada as a Private, has been promoted to office of Lance Corporal. This is decidedly good news and shows that this Warton young man is doing his duty.

Eyes scientifically tested by Mr. Fannion Toronto Optical Instructor, who will be at Manley's drug store June 28th to July 3rd.

Baseball is now being played. The boys have commenced to work hard and are determined to rank among the first. The delegates are "Bill" McKenzie and "Sax" Miers. They hope that the business men will view this sport in the same light as hockey is viewed, with the one object in view to make it a success from start to finish.

Have your eyes tested (free) by an expert optician at Manley's drug store June 28th to July 3rd.

The Women's Patriotic League have shipped a box containing 112 articles of clothing to Tecumseh National Hospital for relief work in Northern France. The women of the League are now working on hospital supplies for red cross and would be glad to receive more old white material.

The Warton Produce Co., have opened a store in the McLaren block and will be ready Saturday April 3rd, to take in butter and eggs which they will pay the highest cash price. The produce they are buying is supplied directly to the consumers in the cities, and must be fresh and for fresh eggs and butter etc. they will pay cash. The Warton Produce Co. are simply buyers, they have nothing to sell, and ask the farmers to bring their produce to them.

Mr. Fannion, Optician Instructor of Toronto, will be at Manley's drug store June 28th to July 3rd.

M. H. McKenzie, of Hepworth, with two assistants, were in this district last week putting up lightning rods. A few years ago lightning rods were more ornamental than useful, but science has discovered that lightning can be conducted safely to the ground from buildings by means of copper cables and the farmers are now having them put up as a protection from fire not as an ornament.

You would be very annoyed to know that the quality of your Salads had been reduced. Rest well assured that this will never happen. It is the determined policy of the Salada Tea Company that the high standard of Salada quality shall never be influenced by market conditions. When the cost increases the price must necessarily advance but the quality remains the same always.

STRAWBERRIES NOW

Direct from the growers. The Vineland Co-operative Growers' Strawberry sales are now at their best. The Williams (the best for canning) are now delicious and fresh. See your grocer for yours now. Next week may be too late.

There will be a Union picnic at Red Bay July 1st. Everybody Welcome.

If suffering from defective eyesight come to Manley's drug store 28th to July 3rd and have your eyes tested free of charge.

There will be a strawberry Festival held at Colpoys' on the school grounds, under the management of the Ladies Aid of the Methodist church, Colpoys, Thursday July 1st, afternoon and evening.

The North West Women's Institute will meet in the Methodist church Warton on the afternoon of June 29th. Miss H. McMurtrie, Toronto, will address the audience.

A garden party under the auspices of the A. Y. P. A. of Trinity church will be held at the residence of Rev. C. K. Masters Tuesday June 30th, at 8 o'clock in the evening. Come and enjoy the first treat of the season. Everybody welcome. Admission 15c.

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Sunday June 27th, the minister will preach at both services. Morning subject: "Christian Patriotism." Evening subject: "The Virtue of accuracy." Good music. Strangers welcome.

A Patriotic tea was given at the residence of Mrs. J. Carlyle Moore Tuesday evening. Mrs. Moore was assisted by a number of ladies, and the tea was well attended, and a most pleasant evening was enjoyed. The proceeds will go towards supplying the smoke fund for the men at the front.

PARISIAN SAGE

PUTS HAIR ON YOUR HEAD AND KEEPS IT THERE

What's the use of being bald? What sense is there in deliberately allowing your hair to turn gray? Do you want to look old before your time? Give up the thought; old age will come only too soon.

Look after your hair. PARISIAN SAGE will kill the dandruff germs, and is the only preparation, so far as we know, that is guaranteed to do so.

Man or woman, no matter how old you are, PARISIAN SAGE will make you look young. Come in and see a large bottle to-day. It only costs 50 cents, and your money back if it does not cure dandruff, stop falling hair, or itching of the scalp. It will make your hair luxuriant, bright and beautiful, and it is the most refreshing, pleasant and invigorating hair dressing made.

Warton Won N. B. L. Game

Owen Sound Times

The Warton baseball slayers coaxed a nice, juicy little surprise into the Owen Sound game on Wednesday in the Northern League fixture in Warton. Yes, they put it to them, all right, all right, and the fun of it was that the boys here haven't got much of an alibi either. They were beaten and that is about all you can say about it. They were out of it, they seem to be fairly well satisfied and the Warton bunch displayed lots of headwork and lots of ginger and pep all the way. The Greys had it all figured out that all they had to do was go over and win, when they should have known better than that from the dope of the last game in Owen Sound when they beat Warton by only two runs, a close score of 5 to 3 it was, and anybody's game right up to the last. So that the surprise Warton soaked in to them should have been no surprise. It will have several good effects; it will popularize the game in Warton, and that is going to help some, it will show our own boys that they will have to be playing half all the time to win and that they are no invincible, also it is going to help to tighten up this district of the Northern League. That means interesting and exciting games.

Incidentally the score of the Warton game was 13 to 11, a good big score, which indicates that there was plenty of that slugging which makes a game exciting and also indicating that there was some punk holding in the Greys. The feature of the game was a vicious catch of a hot liner in the outfield, short left, by Jack Costes. Talk about the old man going back! Guess again!

The fine up of the two teams was as follows:

SPRING CREEK

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Scott, of Port Elgin, spent a day and night with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barnes last week. Mr. and Mrs. John Fair, of Arkwright, visited at James Seckett's last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. George Fraser have gone for a few days recreation to Southampton, Palsley and Bruce.

John Vannatter, of Port Huron, cousin to Mrs. W. H. Barnes, died on June 28. Mrs. McLean, Arran, spent Sunday at R. Seckett's.

Mrs. Harris Sr. returned to Owen Sound Wednesday after spending some weeks with her daughter Mrs. A. McBride.

Mrs. Mary Spencer is visiting at Oshawa.

The mumps seem to be quite a common thing these days.

PIKE BAY

Robert Holmes, of Southampton, motored through here on Monday on his way to Miller lake to visit his brother John, who is ill.

Mrs. McMaster, of Stry, spent Sunday here the guest of her cousin, Miss Myrtle Sutton.

Miss Dawson, of Stry, visited her friend Miss Lilly Brown on Sunday.

James Shaw drove over to Ferndale to help at the raising of Mr. McCutcheon's barn. Mr. Shaw accompanied him.

John Waugh is tramping at Barrow Bay.

George Taylor came home from Lindsay to take in the picnic on Wednesday.

On Wednesday afternoon this section of the road was very near the post office. The postmaster ran out and tried to stop a car but it was too late. The car was seen again on Thursday afternoon in Mr. Lawrence's field when every available man, boy and dog and all the old shooting marks that could be got, panned through camp, dead and wood, but Mr. bear is still at liberty.

Miss Florence Law visited Mrs. Geo. Williamson on Monday evening.

Hard work is the order of the day.

My Dear Mother

Hope you got my cable telling of our safe arrival. The trip started to get tiresome and the food very bad, never saw anything like it, however by getting on the right side of the steward a few of us managed to get an occasional good meal, but the name the boys gave the best of the "Hardship Starvation" is a good one (Carpathia is the real name). We managed to keep well away from the German submarines altho' there was one sunk a liner that day at the Eddystone Lighthouse, which we passed in the afternoon so we were not many miles away, however we were prepared to give them a good reception, all the machine guns out and we had a few torpedo boats as our escort.

Mother, I never hope to see again such a welcome as we got at Plymouth. Friday was a beautiful afternoon and as we sailed up the river past the New where Sir Francis Drake played at bowls before going out to defeat the Spanish Armada, the people lined the banks in thousands and such cheering. The boys were all over the ship up to the top of the rigging and the bands were playing on the deck, and as we passed the warships and the boys training ship (where they train for the navy) the kids made a wonderful sight, waving their hats, and you could hardly hear yourself think. I was on guard duty all that night and the moonlight on the water on the river, showing up the little torpedo boats and the big shipyards, was something never to be forgotten.

There are some wonderful ship yards here. The biggest and fastest ship ever built is nearly completed. It will sail 40 knots (nearly 50 mi per hr.) and 11,000 men are working on it night and day. The crush is so great that men have been killed when they change shifts to work, and the flares of the great furnaces light up the sky for miles.

Plymouth is in Devonshire (fathers old country) and we were several hours on the train Saturday going there, it is a beautiful country of green fields, hedge rows and fine estates, the houses all look so old and attractive, and quite a long ride getting there (8 hours). The trains are small, more like toys, and travel very fast (60 miles a hour being common) they have few accidents and are very comfortable. We passed thru' London and the way the people treated us everywhere we stopped, we were showered with cigarettes, candy, fruit and flowers and the grateful look in the people's eyes was enough to make the tears come to yours.

Going thru' London especially the track ran thru' nearly all back yards and rich and poor it made no difference from stone to mansions the men and women waving, throwing kisses and wishing us good luck was magnificent, hope I have not dwelt too much on our welcome but I can't forget it.

Our camp here is very good, we are in tents, 8 to a tent (those ball-shaped ones) and the food is good and will be better. We are working hard up at 5 a.m. and thru' at 4.30 with an hour for breakfast and dinner. We had a route march today about 15 miles and a few hours drill besides so feel a little tired (after our holiday) got to bed at 9.30 and certainly sleep. We are about half a mile from the ocean and the summer villages of Seabrook and Hythe, Folkestone one of the most fashionable summer resorts in England is about 4 miles away, it is a large town (40,000) and very pretty. Don't expect to visit it much, too tired at night, may take in an occasional shop though. Mother dear, am nearly asleep and hope you will forgive me if I close.

Love to Dad, Lil and you all.

P.S. hope you will write often without waiting to hear from me, but will be a good boy and try and write often. Love

Earl

Some Narrow Escapes

Mrs. Thos. Johnston received the following letter last week from her brother Pte. Fred Durant, of the 48th Highlanders, in the Auxiliary Military Hospital, Rochdale, Lancashire, England, suffering from gas poisoning:

Dear sister:

After four months fighting in France and Belgium I now have a little time to tell you of some of the experiences I have had, but I would not attempt to tell you in a letter what I have seen and been through. It would take a big book to hold what every soldier considers every day life to convey to you what war is, so I will try and tell you just what is fresh in my mind since we landed here. We went to France in the first part of February and had some rough trip going over. We went through the Bay of Biscay and going over lost our sails and two life boats, and for one night and two days thought we would go down, but sent a message for help and two French cruisers came to our aid and accompanied us until the danger was past and we landed safely at St. Leger, where for several who had received broken arms and ribs in the rough passage across.

We were then sent from the south of France to Cassels in box cars, forty-five in a car. The cars are not as large as our box cars, and we had to take turns at sleeping, for we couldn't all lie down at one time. We travelled in this way for two days and two nights and arrived at a small town the second night about nine o'clock and were taken to a large building something like a school house.

The next morning we marched about fifteen miles to a town nearer the firing line and stayed there three or four days, and then took another march of about eighteen miles to Arrinches, about two miles from the trenches, and were stationed in a big building there for a couple of days.

We then got word to go into the firing line and went into the trenches with some English Tommies and it was fine to start. We were in for twenty-four hours and only had one killed. The Germans were a long way away here about four hundred yards, and we had about twenty-four hours rest and went back to the trenches ourselves for two days and two nights, we liked it fine. We were then taken to Flourey about twelve miles away, and took over the trenches there. We were in the trenches four days and just got relieved and arrived back at the house about eleven o'clock and were called up about three o'clock in the morning for the Neuve Chapelle battle, and there we saw our first real good fight.

We marched through the fields in sections as we would not be seen and got within a quarter of a mile of the enemy's trenches when all our guns opened fire. It surprised us. Everything started at once. It was an awful noise for a few hours but we got used to it, or didn't take so much notice in the heat of the battle, I don't know much.

We had a fine dinner that day. We had four eggs and a big piece of steak with potatoes and other vegetables. We had to buy the eggs of course. They cost a franc for four (20cents) and after the big fireworks it was all over we went for a bath. The next day was quiet and we went into the trenches, but would go out a few at a time and buy eggs and things for the trenches for the next days supply we even had roast chicken. We do our own cooking and have it down fine. We moved from here and lost but very few men, and went to a place called Estaires, about twelve miles away, where we stayed a week and were then moved to Ypres. We were rested up fine and thought we had a change to make, we had about forty miles to go. We got our first motor bus ride here. They are the London buses and it was a treat to get a ride that didn't last long. They took us about fifteen miles and we had to walk the rest. We landed about 7 o'clock that night and had a good rest. We were there two days when the battle of Hill Sixty took place and our machine gun section was called out. It was an awful battle. We went to the trenches the next night and it was alright the first two nights, but the next day about four o'clock they began to throw the gas and the French had to retreat, and the Germans got us surrounded. The fun started then. The enemy started to send Jack Johnsons, Zip Bangs, German Sausages, Bills Favorites and lots of other kinds of shells. The boys have them all named and when they hear them coming they say "here comes a coal box" or whatever it may be, and we all duck if it is coming our way.

The Jack Johnsons are dandies, they make a hole fifteen feet deep and about thirty feet across. The coal boxes are quite gentle, they only make a hole about nine feet deep and twelve feet across, but they are dangerous, they throw scrap iron about a hundred yards all around. Well, we were in here for four days without anything to eat or drink. We lost a lot of men, went in full strength and came out with 182 men. There were 35 in the trench I was in and three of us got out. I only got a bit of scrap iron in the hand, three bullets through my shirt and some gas, but not enough to lay me up, so I came through that fight pretty well. I had my rifle snatched to pieces with a bullet or something which struck it, but I didn't get hurt.

We were under heavy shell and rifle fire for fourteen days. Their trenches were about 80 yards from ours and we had lots of time to get them coming across. They came three deep and close together, we couldn't miss them and they were piled up like wood, but as soon as the first lot were moved down more would come. You would think they were growing out of the ground, but they will run on sometimes. We advanced about five feet apart and in single lines, so we do not lose as many as they do. They won't face the cold steel unless they are about 30 to 1, they either run or through up their hands and ask for mercy. I don't show them any mercy nor look for any from them. They have the Canadians spotted, and especially the Highlanders. They got our regiment right, there are not many of us left out of the first lot.

Ypres was an awful sight after the fight. There was hardly a house left standing and you couldn't get through the streets for dead men, women and children. The streets were torn full of holes and littered with dead horses and wagons.

We were then moved to Beloe and stayed a couple of days and got some of the men we had left in England, and some from the 31st and 32nd battalions and then went to Holme to the trenches again. We were advancing and getting along fine, but on the seventh day I got in a few of some gas and that is as far as I know. I tell you it is lots of fun, it is like rabbit hunting only a little more dangerous.

I was taken to a clearing station at the back of the firing line and then to three or four more field hospitals and landed in Bulogne General Hospital. From there I took a boat to Leharve and took another one to England. I was over two weeks on this trip and every time I was moved it was on a stretcher, so I was glad when I arrived at Rochdale. Am getting along fine, go out for an auto ride every day, had a 77 mile trip today. I can walk now but not fast.

Well, I guess this is all for this time, so will close with love to all. The fellows who are left are not down hearted yet.

CLAVERING

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Robertson, of Warton, spent the latter part of the week with Mrs. F. Moore.

Mr. Robt. Young and Mrs. Thos. Ramsay, of Owen Sound, spent Sunday with Mrs. Jas. Young.

John Thompson, of Berlin, Ont., spent a few days with his father.

Mr. Cole, representing the D. M. Perry Seed Co., was around collecting the seed left over and taking orders for next spring.

Mrs. Hamby and Master Clendenen were the guests of Mrs. J. Craig on Sunday.

An excellent entertainment was held in the school house here Tuesday afternoon. The collection, sales, etc., given by the scholars were thoroughly appreciated and at the close Mr. Peile, who has been the teacher for the past four years, was presented with a clock. Next year he will teach in Niagara.

Father Cadot Answers

the Rev. Mr. Fish

Cape Croker, Ont., June 28, 1915
Editor of The Canadian Echo,
Warton.

Sir,—As Rev. Mr. Fish has challenged me (or any priest) to disprove any statement he made about the Catholics, I am sure that you will be fair and kind enough to allow me a little space in your paper to answer the Reverend gentleman.

But first I want to ask Mr. Fish a question, which will be as it were, a preamble, before I begin to answer him directly. Why does he not observe that famous rule of the ritual of the Orange Lodge viz., "That Orangemen are to abstain from unkind words and actions against Roman Catholic fellowmen, to give a square deal to every man, and a little square to the Catholics." Why, I ask him, does he not observe that rule, so wise, so just, so charitable? If himself and all the Orangemen would observe it, there would never be any quarrel between them and the Catholics.

That Mr. Fish and many other Orangemen, do not observe that rule is very clear from his own words, for he admits that the Orangemen quarrel with the Roman Catholic hierarchy. Well the hierarchy is composed of the Orangemen's fellowmen, because it is composed of the Pope, the Cardinal, the Bishops and the Priests, these men are surely in each country, the fellowmen of the Orangemen. Why then, quarrel with them? Why then use unkind words and actions against them? Why then say that they keep their people in ignorance, that they lead them to believe that all outside of their religion are especially bad. Are not such words unkind words? Even if they were true they would be unkind, but these words have not even the merit of being true, they are all lies and misrepresentations, and mind you, Mr. Fish and many other Orangemen do not use unkind words, they do not use unkindly words against the hierarchy, but do so directly against the laity too, i. e., against those who are simply Catholics, without belonging to the hierarchy at all. They cannot say that they quarrel only with the hierarchy. For instance when he finds fault with the Catholics because they immigrate into Ontario, he does not attack only the hierarchy, he quarrels also with those who are simply Catholics, and when Mr. Fish goes as far as to compare those Catholics to the German invading Belgium (as he did at the Purple Valley) does he not insult the Catholics themselves? Could he have used more bitter, more unkind words? And what could have been his excuse? Are not the Catholics of Canada British subjects like himself? Have they not the right to go and settle in any part of the Dominion just as much as the Orangemen? And when he tells the fellow Orangemen at Purple Valley to watch and never allow a Roman Catholic teacher in the Public Schools, does he not very friendly towards the Catholics? These teachers are not Bishops or Priests, they are simply Catholics. Then his quarrels also with the Catholics and not only with the hierarchy, and what can be his excuse? Is not a Public School undenominational school? Therefore it is not more Protestant than Catholic; therefore a Protestant teacher has no more right to teach in a Public School than a Catholic teacher. Why then the chewing rage about the Catholic teacher in a public school? And what about the speeches of some Orangemen on the glorious 12th and on the 5th of November, do they not put down the Catholics?

Now, Mr. Editor, please excuse me for taking so much space in your paper to-day and I will try next time to be shorter when I begin to disprove, one by one, all Mr. Fish's false statements about the Catholics. Thanking you very cordially for your kindness, believe me,

Sincerely yours,

J. O. Cadot, S. J.

Do not forget that there will be a garden party Wednesday July 7th, at Owen Sound, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid of the Methodist church on Mallard's lot, opposite the store. A good supper and a good program may be expected. The service will be at 6 o'clock. Admission 10c and 25c.

Rev. E. L. Flagg and Wife Honored by their Congregation.

A special meeting of the Ladies Aid of the Methodist church was held in the school room of the church on Thursday afternoon June 17th. After the usual business was finished the ladies of the congregation presented Mrs. Flagg with an address and a handsome club bag. Although taken very much by surprise Mrs. Flagg thanked the ladies in a few well chosen words. Refreshments were served and a social time spent. Mrs. Flagg will be much missed in church work, and the ladies all wish her God Speed in her new home.

Thursday evening the officials of the church met in the parlour and presented an address to Rev. Mr. Flagg as follows:

Warton, Ont. June 24th, 1915

Dear Rev. Mr. Flagg:
We, the officials of the Warton Methodist Church, gather here this evening, to show by so doing our appreciation of your services as pastor during the last four years, and at this time in behalf of the Methodist Church, we express our appreciation of your zeal and ardor in the recent temperance campaign.

As you and your partner in life, go to a new field of labor, you take with you our best wishes for your success in the Master's cause.

We now present you with this umbrella, and hope you will accept it not for its intrinsic value, but as a small token and remembrance of the friendly relations that have existed between us, and as it may protect you from certain inclemencies of the weather, may God continually shield and protect you from all harm, and may we all meet in that land, "where eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither hath it entered into the heart of man, the things that God hath prepared for those that love him."

Signed on behalf of the Quarterly Board,
W. G. Cheshire
H. T. Gilpin

Mr. Flagg after thanking the brethren present for their kindness expressed the satisfaction he felt in the very agreeable relations that had always existed between himself and the Board. After a goodly number of the officials had spoken bearing testimony to the kindly feelings they had towards Mr. Flagg and best wishes for his success in his new field at Hargreaveville, the evening came to a close with the singing of "God be with you till we meet again" and prayer.

ADAMSVILLE

School closed here on Tuesday for the summer holidays. Our teacher, Miss Kay, will be missed by all here.

There was a good attendance at the picnic here on Friday last week. Mr. George Vannatter, of Owen Sound, was the guest of Mrs. K. Tydall on Saturday last.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Campbell did business in Warton on Saturday.

Mr. Chat. Brown spent the week and with relatives at Cape Chin.

Misses Agnes and Violet Balla spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Theresa Greene, of Mar.

Rev. Mr. Thompson, of Warton, will occupy the pulpit here next Sabbath evening. We hope there will be a good attendance.

Adam Cotton, Colpoys, did business here on Monday.

OXENDEN

Mr. Watford, of Stokes Bay, visited Nell McKinnon's on Wednesday last.

John Walpole, of Kingston, and George Walpole, of Enderby, called on friends in the village last Friday.

Mrs. Wm. Grant, of Warton, spent a few days last week with her sister, Mrs. Riggs.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Davidson, of Warton, visited at David Spencer's on Sunday.

The school picnic was a decided success, old and young enjoyed themselves. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Seacock, of Wolesey, spent Sunday with his sons, Mrs. G. H. Loney.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemke were called to Hargreaveville on Saturday by the death of Mrs. Lemke's brother.

Miss E. Natch returned to Mrs. T. L. Reave's on Sunday evening.

Mrs. G. E. Loney, accompanied by Mrs. Chas. Loney, of Warton, left for Toronto on Tuesday afternoon to be present at the marriage of her son Percival to Miss Isabel Marmock. The marriage took place on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock in Chalmers Presbyterian Church.

Oswen Loney left Wednesday morning for Toronto.

Young Prince May Direct Greece

His father's illness makes George, Duke of Sparta, and Crown Prince of Greece, a figure of international importance and there is considerable speculation as to whether he will continue the present Greek policy of neutrality, or read the writing on the wall and join the allies. In the face of the election of Venizelos, who carried two-thirds of the vote in the Greek Legislature, and who long ago declared himself in favor of war against Germany, it is difficult to understand how Greece can remain neutral, once the powerful influence of Queen Sophia is removed. Although the strong minded woman, who is the sister of the Kaiser, was for years estranged from both her husband and her brother, of late years there has been a reconciliation, and the Queen of Greece is understood to have announced that in the event of Greece joining the war as an enemy of Germany's she will leave the country. There can be no doubt that she has her husband much under her control, and that it is her personal influence that has kept Greece inactive during one of the most important crises in her history.

A Religious Quarrel

The trouble between the Emperor of Germany and the Queen of Greece began when the Princess, on becoming the wife of the heir to the throne of Greece, renounced the Lutheran religion and adopted that of her husband. This she did, it is said, without consulting the wishes of her brother, who considered it a personal affront that a member of his family should take such an important step without his sanction. A few years later when Greece and Turkey became involved in war, the bitterness between the two families was increased, but between Germany and Greece, was intensified, for the Turkish army which inflicted humiliating losses upon the Greeks was led, for the most part, by German officers, who had been sent for the purpose. On every Turkish victory the Kaiser dispatched messages of congratulation to the Sultan, and the people of Greece soon learned that the Kaiser was only one step removed from their own enemy.

A Prince in exile

Later on the trouble between the Kaiser and his sister was patched up, but the relations between the two countries have never been very cordial, and in those years when the present King of Greece and his wife were refugees, wandering from one foreign country to another, it was noted that Constantine never went to Germany, although his wife and their family spent most of their time there. Their long separation gave rise to rumors that they were to be divorced, but whether this step was contemplated is not known. At this time Constantine had almost decided to become a Russian subject, and had been given a high command in the army of his country, but the coup of the Venizelos followed, and the exiled ruler and his wife were permitted to return to Greece. Shortly afterward the first Balkan War broke out, and at the head of his army Constantine was able to retrieve the disaster that had marked the Turkish campaign, and restore himself in the favor of the people.

No Respect for Kaiser

The present Crown Prince was with his mother in the years of her exile in Germany, and it is said to have been particularly under the eye of his uncle, but without the result of becoming particularly attached to him. In fact, the young Prince, like the German Crown Prince and the young bloods who made up the noted regiment of Foot Guards at Potsdam came to regard the Kaiser as a bore and busybody and his building of the short-sighted despot. A "Veteran Diplomat," who discussed the matter in a Philadelphia Ledger says that the young Prince on more than one occasion made his uncle the victim of practical jokes. It is one of the hallucinations of the Kaiser that he is an archaeologist, and it was alleged that under his directions most important discoveries had been made on the island of Corfu, where he owned a villa. The Greek Royal family had a country house in the neighborhood, and it is said that George of Greece and some companions used to amuse themselves by "planting" bogus antiquities, which the Kaiser subsequently found.

Constantine a Failure

It is not to be assumed, therefore, that because that because the heir to the Greek throne has a German mother, he received most of his military education in Germany, he is naturally a pro-German. He must realize that he has a throne to save, and that it cannot be saved if he is to defy the wishes of his people and the advice of Venizelos. Moreover, he is a much more intelligent man than his father, the present King, who is described as being extremely dull and utterly lacking in tact. Constantine, indeed, is almost as great a menace to his country as the Kaiser, and should be recovered his health and continue his present policy it is very likely that Greece will have no throne to inherit when his time comes.—Mail and Empire.

CLIPPED FROM OUR LOCAL EXCHANGES

Hanover

Captain Mangrove of Hanover has been mentioned in despatches from the front as displaying great gallantry according to a article printed in the Toronto Star this week. It appears that the captain received his injuries while fighting the action at Festenberg, where he was acting in the rear of his regiment. He was in charge of an important attack on German entrenchments. This was preceded by a vicious shelling from the point of British artillery, and when the Canadians charged they were received with a perfect hail of life and machine gun fire. Notwithstanding this the battered 45th and other units captured the position but at a very heavy cost. It is killed and wounded. Captain Mangrove was wounded at a lance but continued directing operations for nearly an hour afterwards.

There are 40 candidates writing on the entrance examinations at Hanover Centre this week. The local school sent up 23 of this number, which we believe is the largest number ever contributed by the Hanover School at any one year, and Miss McKee is to be congratulated on getting ready so fine a contingent. Inspector Campbell is presiding. Mr. Will Campbell, son of Inspector Campbell, is special examiner for Fitz-Hugh school who wrote this note.

Postmaster Eli Mielhauser of Elmwood had his still filled a week ago Saturday and $30 removed. The robbery occurred one time in the forenoon between 10 and 12 o'clock. Mr. Mielhauser has a good idea as to who the guilty party is, and an arrest may be made one of these days.

Walkerton

Two Turks canvassed Walkerton last week soliciting funds for a Turkish orphanage, while their countrymen are at this very moment fighting against the British Empire and its allies. The Turks are a law-abiding, peace-loving people, and the good Canadian citizen for the support of such a race is worse than throwing pennies before swine. While many other aliens are being locked up on suspicion of being spies, how is it that two travelling Turks can roam at large over the country and get away with it? Better call this pair off the beat until the sword of the Turk is sheathed.

Donald McIvor of Ripley who was arrested in Walkerton for using in a rather loquacious manner, was arraigned before Magistrate Tolson here on Thursday afternoon, when he was examined by two local doctors and pronounced insane. He was, as a consequence, committed to the Walkerton jail to await removal to the London asylum. Not that things in Germany are in the cells here for insanity and will be taken to the asylum.

Mr. Francis Frieberger, who spent over Sunday in Walkerton visiting his brothers David and John Frieberger here, while returning to his home in Carleton Place, after studying for the priesthood for the past two years in Rome, had a unique and somewhat sensational experience. Leaving Italy two days after war was declared, he was arrested and held a prisoner in Naples for two hours. He was accused of being a German spy, owing to his name, but finally succeeded in convincing the officials that he was a British subject and an enthusiastic supporter of the Allies. Mr. Frieberger talks three languages—English, German and Italian.

Chesley

Peter Krag, one of the most prominent men in Chesley, and founder and senior partner in the town's largest manufacturing concern, died here in his seventy-ninth year. Mr. Krag was born in Germany, but was a loyal and faithful Canadian, and in full accord with the views of Britain in the present struggle. Mr. Krag was a Liberal in politics, and a member of the Evangelical Church. He is survived by five sons, John, Conrad, Mayor of Chesley, William (also ex-Mayor of Chesley), Chas. and George and a daughter Mrs. Ankerman.

Last year 42 students wrote on the Entrance exam at this centre. This year 71 are writing here which is a record breaker. If a fairly large percentage are successful and attend our High School it will mean that the fall term will open with an attendance over the hundred mark.

The Congregation of Centenary Church had an affair, always put up a splendid program and excellent supper at their annual Garden Party and this year was no exception to the rule. Chesley Band rendered selections that were much appreciated as were the vocal and instrumental selections. Rev. Mr. Hapley made a capital chairman. The only speaker was Rev. Mr. Howatt of St. John and Wm. McDougal M. P. The grand proceeds were $120. Harry Collins who has been Supt. of the S. S. for 21 years is also a leader of the Centenary choir and has them well trained. Miss Henry is organist. Miss White's like Matthew of old was sitting at the receipt of custom and Joe Hurry who prides himself in being a Methodist for some 58 years is always around when anything is doing in Centenary Church. The St. George's Legion, Collins and all the other pillars of Centenary Church were on hand to do their duty and they certainly made a great success of the 1915 Garden Party.

CHAMBERLAIN'S TABLETS

Constipation— The loss of old age is not to be feared by harsh purgatives; they rather aggravate the trouble. For a gentle, but sure laxative, try Chamberlain's Tablets. They stir up the liver, tone the nerves, and freshen the stomach and bowels just like new intestinal action.

Woman's best friend. From childhood to old age, these little round tablets are an unending source of health and happiness. They are a clean, healthy, normal laxative. Chamberlain's Stomach Tablets might be called the "four stomachs and five senses" of a woman. They are a good thing to have on hand for all occasions.

Hon. A. G. McKay
Negotiates Big Railway Deal

Former Prominent Owen Sounder, Now in Edmonton, Draws Up Agreement With Welsh Capitalist For Railway From Athabasca to Vermilion

(Owen Sound Sun)

Hon. A. G. McKay, K. C., member of the Alberta Legislature for the riding of Athabasca Landing, and formerly leader of the Liberal Party of Ontario has just negotiated an agreement under which a railway will be built from the town of Athabasca, Alberta to Fort Vermilion within a fortnight. The building of the new railway will be of the utmost importance in developing the great Peace River Country, the possibilities of which are just becoming known. The distance covered by the new railway will be three hundred miles and the road will run through one of the most fertile portions of Canada's great Northwest. D. A. Thomas, known as the "Welsh Coal King" and one of the greatest financial magnates in the United Kingdom, is behind the project and it is with his Canadian representative, Mr. McKay has just completed the agreement. The charter for the railway was granted at the last session of the Alberta Legislature to what is known as the Athabasca and Fort Vermilion Railway Company.

In announcing the news to the people of Athabasca, the "Northern News" of that town devotes a whole page, with large headlines and also has an excellent photograph of Mr. McKay. "The man of the hour." Dealing with the new road the News says: "To-day marks an epoch in its recently rather chequered career." After telling of the beginning of the road two years ago, it goes on to show how Mr. Thomas, the Coal King of Wales, became interested and recognized the possibilities of the country. "At this point," says the News, "Entered two big men." One man was D. A. Thomas, the other man is Hon. A. G. McKay. A man also among the great men of this country, a man who from the beginning of his political and legal career in Ontario, Alberta saw what was needed and has gone for that with all the dogged, pertinacious and intelligent industry that marks his work wherever he is or whatever he undertakes. It is true that Mr. McKay has been acting in a strictly legal capacity in bringing about the deal but we do not forget that he is our member and that his ambition is to make this part of the world hum with activity and promote the opening up of prosperous towns and villages. Two big minds got together then. Difficulties that were apparently insurmountable were faced and conquered, and we have as a result the deal that will be of great benefit to the road from here to Fort Vermilion. Our main concern to-day is to congratulate Mr. McKay and those associated with him in the great road project which will be the first of other developments in which Athabasca will figure.

Special Prizes at Guelph for Grey County Farmers

For the past two years the Grey County Board of Agriculture have, by the generosity of the County Council, been able to offer prizes at the winter fair for live stock raised and owned by a resident of this County. In 1913 the prizes totalled $100 and of this amount $40 was claimed as prizes. Last winter the Board were able to supplement the grant of the County Council and made the total prizes offered amount to $150. More than half of this amount was claimed and the Board feels that in justice to those who would like to exhibit this year, that the prizes be the same as they were last year. It will be noticed that these prizes are only for amateurs, therefore those who have won money in open competition at any of our large fairs will be barred from winning these prizes. This should encourage as many as possible of our younger men to show at this year's winter fair.

The prizes offered are as follows: For the best stallion raised in Grey County, shown by an amateur exhibitor, resident of the County of Grey, Prizes 1st $25; 2nd $15.

For the best gelding or mare, any draught breed, raised in Grey County by an amateur exhibitor, resident of the County of Grey, Prizes 1st $25; 2nd $15.

For the best steer or heifer, any beef breed, 2 years of age or under, prizes 1st $25; 2nd $15. These prizes are open only to exhibitors raised in the County of Grey and shown by amateur exhibitors, resident of the County of Grey.

For the best sheep of a long woolled breed, raised in the County of Grey and shown by an amateur exhibitor, resident of the County of Grey, Prizes 1st $10; 2nd $5. As many as possible should make an effort to secure one or more of these prizes and thus advertise the stock of the County and for themselves as well. For further information

STATIONING SYSTEM FAULTS

Methodist Journal Hints at Injustice in Arbitrary Transfer.

The Christian Guardian, after noting that, on an average, about one-third of the 1,800 Methodist ministers in Canada are moved every year, says in part:—

How many laymen would be willing to place themselves in the hands of a Stationing Committee, and agree to go where they were sent without having a voice in the matter, to work on any kind of a circuit, and receive any kind of salary which a Quarterly Official Board might choose to give? How many laymen would be willing to place themselves in the hands of a committee of strangers, who would pick them and their families up every three or four years and dump them down anywhere, and if they happened to leave a fine farm, which they had worked up to a possibly degree of fertility, and were located upon a run-down farm, which had been almost worked out, to be told that "the words of the work required it." We wonder if our farmer would not be apt to say a few things? And if he found that the income of his new farm, in spite of all his labor, would be some $300 or $500 less than the income from the old farm, would he not be apt to say a few things more? He is a layman, and he is not willing to be "huffed from his home" by a committee of strangers, who would pick them and their families up every three or four years and dump them down anywhere, and if they happened to leave a fine farm, which they had worked up to a possibly degree of fertility, and were located upon a run-down farm, which had been almost worked out, to be told that "the words of the work required it." CLIVE PHILLIPPS WOLLEY

"Never in her life had Kitty's bright bumper been more sorely tried than during those days of siege. She had been used all her life to be men for her playmates. Now she had no playmates; she had not even a lover. Since his return to the ranch Jim had watched over her and Mrs. Rolt with the most unflinching care; had forgotten nothing; had forestalled every wish; and even to her husband had been courteous itself; but avoiding any outward demonstration, he had kept Kitty at a distance.

So had her patient. Everything that a man could do to show his gratitude Frank had done, but in some indefinable way he drew himself further away from her every day, until to the poor little woman, the love that had been so nearly agonized now had a dream of her own.

Each of the men seemed bent on leaving her to the other to do as he pleased. Jim for his many perfections, and could not love Frank because he simply would not let her.

To this uncomfortable state of things Dick Rolt returned, acquiescing in all the arrangements which Combe had made.

"I did not fear down the stables until you came, but they ought to go along with the others, but I think that the Indians are still likely to make trouble."

"They may be here any minute, and they are too strong to sit down under the dressing we gave them. There must be fifty armed men at least, and they know that the Indians are in, and one of us wounded. How is Al now?"

"Oh, he will do all right. It is only a flesh wound. He has lost a lot of blood, but the old chap says that he has plenty more. If we tear down the stables what are we going to do about the horses?"

"Turn them loose to rustle for themselves, and take their chance of being shot. We can do nothing else."

"It won't do to leave ourselves without horses. We might have to ride for our lives, after all."

"It can't come to that. Think of it, might, Rolt. Think of the women."

Rolt groaned. "I've never thinking of anything else, Jim. What do you advise?"

"Well, if you ask me, I should knock out a partition or two, and make the dining-room and one of the others into a stable. We will put the devil with the house, but we can fix that up again when the trouble is over. If you say the word, I will break bread in, and horses for the ladies and all the men."

"Why half?"

"We can't handle more, and we wouldn't want them. If it comes to a show down some of us will have to stay to hold the Indians whilst the others get through."

"Which horses shall we bring in?"

"Mrs. Rolt's, Miss Kitty's, your own, that stallion the will have mended by now, and two more. The two sorrels I should think are best."

"What about Mr. Anstruther's hunter?"

"His looks won't pay for his keep. He isn't the horse for this job. We aren't going to get hurt or four of jumping, and he'd play out before he got half way. The country bride are the only ones that could stay the distance."

"I think you underestimate my horse's staying powers."

He admitted he had in unobserved and heard the last remark, and though very calm in speech, he was very white and his eyes flashed.

"Maybe, but I wouldn't have thought him any more good for this job than the others. You are making out of your trunk for Miss Kitty to look at. All right in the shires, no doubt, horses and pink coat, and patent leather pumps, but built for business," retorted Combe coldly.

Anstruther flushed and bit his lips. To pass the time he had been showing Kitty Clifford a red coat, which he had brought with him at her request, for the fancy-dress ball at Victoria.

But he left Combe's remark unanswered. Instead of a direct reply he asked Rolt if, as no Indians were in sight, he did not think it would be better to get through to Soda Creek to send down the road for help.

"I was thinking of it, and mean to send some one to look at it as it grows dark if the coast is still clear."

"Then, sir, if you will allow me, I can save stable room for to-morrow. I will use myself to Soda Creek to-night."

"Nonsense, Anstruther. You could not ride half the distance. Your seat."

"Oh, 4-n my accident! I beg your pardon, Mr. Rolt. I am perfectly able to ride if I cannot do anything else, and I would rather ride a horse to Soda Creek than abandon him."

For a moment Rolt's handsome face flushed. He was himself a horse-mad man, but he had never since his marriage to hold himself in check, and the antagonism between the two men, who had no real love for each other, was increased.

"Very well, Anstruther. I'll consider what you say. I'll send mail to be sending anyone for an hour or two. Let Mr. Anstruther's horse be brought in instead of mine, Jim, and with that be turned out to the pair of them and went upstairs to the ladies."

What transpired there is not recorded, but whilst Anstruther was in the room, the Indians, the reds, Roldygoose was led into the dining-room, and the two figures, those of old Tom and the elder Fairclough, rode quietly away, the one towards Soda Creek and the other towards the Franklin Ranch, to bring help, if possible.

We are in a serious position, and they were the best men to send," was the explanation which Rolt vouchsafed, and thereafter, for twenty-four hours, Anstruther barely opened his mouth to anyone.

CHAPTER XXIV.

A sudden glimmer, parted upon the house and on the prairie outside the house. Jim and Anstruther barely spoke to one another, and both of them, the first to avoid Kitty, whilst the pink in the brute stood wait deep in the fog and long columns of mist rose from amongst the trees like vapors from a witch's cauldron.

But for two whole days no Indians appeared, and Rolt was beginning to think that, when the help sent for arrived, there would be no work for the helpers to do.

Mrs. Rolt was the life of the party, but though she rallied the men on their silence and insisted on song in the drawing-room at night, and though Dr. Protheroe and her husband did all that they could to aid and abet her, her attempts were not crowned with success.

Every night, at least three different alarms were given, and the men went over the defences. There was always some one missing from the group around the piano, trying the doors and windows, and the last night no one was looking.

The blow fell in the third night. The whole of the night had been swallowed up in gloom in which no star showed, no wind moved, when Mrs. Rolt woke her husband with a gentle pressure of his arm.

"Don't make a noise, dear, she whispered. 'Do listen. I suppose it is only a rat.'"

"Not even that, Polly. It must have been your fancy. Go to sleep, little woman, and don't worry."

But at any more of her low knock, she jumped on the bed-room door. Instantly Rolt rose and opened it. Jim was there with his rifle in his hand.

"Bring your gun along, Rolt. They are trying to fire the house."

In silence the two crept down the stairs, as the foot of which stood Anstruther, Old Al and Jack Fairclough, with their Winchester in their hands.

The doctor, but Jim led the way into a small room which jutted out from the face of the house, and there, in a corner, he had christened the exercise. Rolt had built on "a conservatory" for his wife, to connect with his own study.

Both sides of it, as was the being of glass, it was the weakest point in their defences, and in it, therefore, had been piled up more than his share of furniture barricades. It formed the first of a letter L, of which the main part of the house was the other.

This room was in absolute darkness when the men entered it, but it seemed to Rolt that something stirred feebly in the corner of it.

Presently a voice, barely audible, came to their straining ears; whisper: "Are you there, Jim?"

Combe moved silently across to where the voice came from.

"That that in your pocket for me, will you, old chap, until we've played this hand. Are you ready, now? Has each man been piling up his rifle behind the glass. Ready?"

There followed a faint scratching, and then a terrible blue flame appeared for a second, after which a great and lurid red light lit the whole conservatory, and flooded the front of the house, showing up with the utmost distinctness the built furniture, the crowded and broken limbs of Mrs. Rolt's favorites, and the figure of the doctor behind a soup plate filled with some stuff to which he had set fire.

But the five men had no eyes for these things. In front of them, all along the face of the ranch house, they saw bundles of faggots piled, and a moment later a score of figures momentarily arrested in their work by the sudden illumination.

The Chilcats had, seen this Chinese fire the Christmas before, but it had been lighted to amuse them; now it came with their crouching and crouching, and their hands were raised, and they were suddenly opened fire upon them.

When the roar of the Winchester and the crashing of the glass had subsided, and the Chinese fire had died down to a dull red glow, which hung for a time on the face of the fog, there were a dozen of the Chilcats who could not have crawled away to save themselves from the conflagration, and they had come to know that they were no longer safe.

"Let's get out of this quick, for heaven's sake!" cried Combe, coughing from the fumes of the chemicals. "Lend a hand to clear away these faggots. We can't leave them there."

Following his example, they all scrambled out, and with a swift silence removed the faggots to a distance.

The fog seemed them and no one noticed them.

CHAPTER XXV.

You cannot hide death any more than you can escape it. There is a subtle influence which spreads from a dead man so that even the dumb beasts feel and acknowledge it, and this atmosphere of horror had spread through the ranch house in spite of the fog.

The women knew, though they asked no questions. They even counted the men as they gathered for their breakfast, but if they guessed they said nothing.

Indeed, scarcely a word passed between the women until the breakfast in the long room after the meal, and even then for a while no one spoke. Though for the moment the women were uncollected, everyone knew that the ring which surrounded them was intact, and their destruction but a question of time.

"The men had better sleep in watches during the day, Jim. We shall be shot and the fire will be the long room after the meal, and even then for a while no one spoke. Though for the moment the women were uncollected, everyone knew that the ring which surrounded them was intact, and their destruction but a question of time."

Jim made no reply. "Don't you think that they will get here today?"

In spite of his courage there was a shake in Rolt's voice which he could not suppress. For himself he cared little, but the thought of the sweet woman who was all the world to him broke the strong man's nerve.

"Now get back, and don't pull up the barricade till I come."

As the others obeyed Jim went on his knees and laid his hands with more rapidity than he had ever laid one in his life.

Another man might have struck match after match and trusted to chance, but even then Jim was methodical. Drawing from his pocket a bundle of matches in closed packages, so that when the small star of light appeared it grew steadily, and still the watchers could see Jim feeding his fire and making sure that the flames had made good their hold.

The shot which came from the fog, the faggots rattled and flew in all directions, and Combe came running, almost on his hands and knees, to the bedside. But the fire had caught hold, and as soon as the men in the conservatory replaced the furniture and made good the gaps, great tongues of flame roared as they climbed upward.

"We can't help that. They can be so close now as well as we can, but they won't come close whilst we have the light. Let the women to keep away from the windows, and let each man watch from behind something solid. Don't spare the cartridges."

"I'm here."

"Get round to the back and watch out there. I guess you can see in the dark better than most. Where's the doctor?"

"No answer."

"Do!" Jim cried, but there was no reply.

"Did any of you see him outside?"

"We haven't seen him out, have we?"

"He wasn't outside. Perhaps he knew enough to keep in out of the way, as the doctor, whose butt he had always been."

"He knows a good deal now, 'mongst other things, what a blanked fool he is! Poor old chap!"

There was a curious choking sound in Jim's savage voice, as he groped about in the dark and turned something over on the floor.

"Thank you, Anstruther. Will you take his feet? Here, Rolt, strike a light. We've got to chance the night shooting."

Rolt struck one, and in the short gleam of it the others saw Jim and Anstruther lift the body from the floor and put it on the table where the red fire had been.

"That's the first to go," muttered Jim, and he turned to the window. "I would have it. Shot through the head from behind. Some of the devil must have been behind when he hit his rifle."

"I heard no shot."

"Not likely to with the noise we were making. What's wrong with your neck, Anstruther? Cut it!"

"Just touched, I fancy. I got it when they shot. Shall we take him into the house?"

"Better not, and better say nothing about it to them upstairs. We can't see any more for the smoke, and Jim drew a large worked table-cover over the dead man's face and turned to see that the arrangements were as strong as they could be made."

When he was at his post again he drew from his pocket that which the doctor had given him, and was a common playing-card and on it was written in pencil a London address. Behind the doctor had written in big letters which wandered uncertainly over the blank space: "So long, Jim. See you again some day."

Both sides of it, as was the being of glass, it was the weakest point in their defences, and in it, therefore, had been piled up more than his share of furniture barricades. It formed the first of a letter L, of which the main part of the house was the other.

"It's a good thing, ourselves, Rolt, any longer. No, I don't think any of our messengers are alive to-day."

The younger Fairclough turned very white, but he pulled himself together, and he said to himself: "I'll be all right."

"You don't know my brother, Combe. There's no fear that any pack of niggers will get into the house. I dare say that you are right, in which case we shall have help before night. We've calculated too much on such things already. We've got to do something for ourselves now, right away."

"That's talking," asserted Al, "and there's no going as we can do."

"What's that?"

"Shoot the women, and die fighting, or save them."

"I've already said that. It had the advantage of bringing the issue plainly before every one."

"Yes, but what are we going to do, Zary, and you know that I am out of the room?"

"Of course. You could do nothing else. I will cut first for you, Dick. Lowest deal, of course."

She had cast the cards on the table, and now stood facing the man, a tall, slight figure, as calm as the old woman seemed as if it were but the beginning of a game of bridge.

"Yes, ma'am. Lowest deal, as you say," replied Al, with a great smile in his deep wrinkles, and under his breath he muttered:

"Holy smoke, ain't she a peach?"

"Ace high, it is."

"Then I cut for my husband. Who ever cuts the lowest card makes the first attempt."

For a moment her eyes rested on Dick Rolt, and perhaps her lips trembled, but they were the only part of the face which no one could see. They did it, it was so slightly that no one in the room could have sworn to it, and if she set down somewhat suddenly when he had turned up the knave of diamonds, she had reason enough to be tired, and the room was hot. At once Jim, Al and Anstruther

"The stakes are mine, Al, and I play the doctor's hand."

"Pardon, sir, I think you forget," said Anstruther, courteously. "The stakes are not all yours. Volunteers for a game of cards?"

"The man's game. Kim I have that as Jim rode for a first shot, Boss."

"No, of course not. It's got to be one at a time till we get through. Jim, we'd most as well take a turn at playing."

"For a moment there was silence, and the women asked: "Is it to be daylight, or at night?"

"I suppose it don't make no odds," replied Al. "We should have had a good show last night, but the fog has all gone. The most I can do is to let it be daylight, and the people know it, but they'll do mighty little to help us. There's five horses in the man's game. Much things then, he might have been struck by the contract between the two women. A fine smile after all only the window which a soul looks through, so that whereas the pink and white had died from Kitty's soft cheeks, the shadow of the lips, the acquiescence, the dimple became almost a hollow, and she herself a very woman, the strain had only emphasized the severity of her face.

Rolt looked at her, and in his eyes was the pride without which love is not perfect.

"Yes, know what we are going to do, Zary, and you know that I am out of the room?"

"I suppose it don't make no odds," replied Al. "We should have had a good show last night, but the fog has all gone. The most I can do is to let it be daylight, and the people know it, but they'll do mighty little to help us. There's five horses in the man's game. Kim I have that as Jim rode for a first shot, Boss."

"No, of course not. It's got to be one at a time till we get through. Jim, we'd most as well take a turn at playing."

"For a moment there was silence, and the women asked: "Is it to be daylight, or at night?"

"I suppose it don't make no odds," replied

1915 Edition of McKim's
"Canadian Newspaper Directory"
Now issued

It is now nearly a quarter of a century since Mr. A. McKim, who established the first independent Advertising Agency in this country, completed the rather ambitious task of publishing the first Directory of Canadian publications. The nine successive editions of this valuable work provide the most complete and detailed record available of the growth of Canadian periodicals.

The 1915 Edition, of which we have just received a copy, shows that the great war has not seriously affected the newspaper of Canada. While the birth-rate of new publications has received a check, and the death-rate of the weak ones has perhaps increased a trifle, most of the leading papers, particularly the dailies show every healthy increase in circulation. Three monthly-increase dailies have reached or passed the hundred thousand mark.

A census of the papers listed and described in the 1915 Directory shows nearly 1,000 dailies, 7,100 weeklies, 45,000 weeklies, over 1000 weeklies, about 40 bi-weeklies or semi-monthlies, 250 monthlies, 8 bi-monthlies and 18 Quaterlies—a total of over 1075 publications.

This means approximately one Daily to every 10,000 families, and one Weekly to every 1,000 families. From this it is evident that for a comparatively new country—Canada is well-read.

A. McKim Limited report the usual keen demand for the Canadian Newspaper Directory, which sells at $2.00. Its red-headed, gold-stamped green cover has become a familiar sight on the desks of advertisers and business men everywhere who are interested in Canada.

Probably there is nothing so pure as the motive of a man who lends money to another man when he is certain he will never get it back.

TENDERS FOR PULPWOOD LIMIT

TENDERS will be received by the undersigned up to and including Wednesday, the fifteenth day of September, 1915, for the right to cut pulpwood on a certain area situated north of the Transcontinental Railway, west of Lac Seul and south of English River in the District of Kenora.
Tenders shall state the amount they are prepared to pay per board in addition to the Crown dues of 40c per cord for spruce, and 50c per cord for other pulpwoods, at such other rates as may from time to time be fixed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council, for the right to operate a pulp mill and a paper mill on or near the area
referred to.

Such tenders shall be required to erect a mill or mills on or near the territory, and
to manufacture the wood into paper in the Province of Ontario—the paper mill to be located within such time and in such place as the Lieutenant Governor in Council shall direct.

Particulars of tender will be required to deposit with their tender a marked
cheque payable to the Honourable the Minister of the Province of Ontario, for ten per cent of the amount of their tender,
to be forfeited in the event of their not entering into an agreement to carry out the
conditions, etc.

The highest or any tender not necessary
accepted.

For particulars as to description of territory, capital to be invested, etc., apply to the undersigned.

N. B.—No unauthorized publication of this notice will be paid for.

Kincardine

Rev Mr. Ahey announced on Sunday that on account of ill-health he had under his resignation as pastor of the church of the Messiah, Mr. and Mrs. Ahey have made many friends who regret exceedingly the unfortunate circumstance which necessitates Mr. Ahey's retirement.
His medical advisers say he will have to give up work for a year at least. We sincerely hope that he will yet be able to resume the work he has so much at heart.

A travelling agent who visited Kincardine last Thursday got very much alarmed when she visited a certain house and discovered a number of persons talking in a foreign language. She immediately reported at the neighboring house that she suspected that German spies were in consultation. Upon investigation it was learned that there was no reason for suspicion.
It was a Gaelic prayer meeting that was being conducted and all those present were true British citizens, who all spoke true English. Neighbors had a hearty laugh when they learned that those who were attending the meeting were mistaken for German spies.

Councillor Archie McArthur, of Kin-cardine Tp. was standing at The Review corner on Monday morning when he saw Charlie Matheson pass with a new car taking her mother and father for a visit to friends in Ashfield.

"Was a change," said Charlie, "my mother told me that when she came up to this country first she met John Matheson and his brother Donald driving over to Fraser's grist mill at Lorne. He probably little thought then he would ever own a vehicle that would take him without being dragged by cattle or horses.

Forty-four nitrogen lamps will take the place of the electric arc lights now attempting to light Kincardine streets.
This was decided upon by the Commissioners on Monday night.

NOTHING LIKE IT FOR COLDS

Mrs. Holland Ferguson, Sheffield, N. H. writes: "Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has cured my children and myself of severe colds. We are never without it in the house. There is nothing like it for colds and throat trouble, and it is so soothing and pleasant to take my children would drink a whole bottle
if permitted."

THE WESTERN FAIR
LONDON, CANADA

The Western Fair of London, Ontario, as an Agricultural Exhibition occupies a prominent position in Western Ontario, and throughout the whole Dominion.
This will be the Forty eighth Annual Exhibition without a break, and every dollar of prize money won during that time has been paid. The management has been increasing the prize list from year to year and this year through the Dominion Government they are enabled to add over $3,000 to what was already a liberal list.
Live Stock breeders should avail themselves of the privilege of exhibiting this year in larger numbers than ever. Exhibitors always report good results from showing at London, as buyers are plentiful. The Dairy and Poultry Department will be a special interest this year. If a prize list, entry form or any other information is required about the Exhibition
write the Secretary, A. M. Hunt, London Ontario. The dates are September 10th to 18th.

The Bruce W. C. T. U.

The Annual Convention of Bruce County, Womans Christian Temperance Union was held in Paisley on June 24th and 25th.

Delegates were present from Lions Head, Warton, Chesley, Walkerton, Teeswater and Port Elgin.

The discussion in departmental work were good and much useful information obtained by the workers.

Officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows:

President, Mrs. Aheeroff, Bowden Vale
1st Vice " Mrs. H. Putnam, Paisley.
2nd " Mrs. Halliday, Chesley.
Corresponding Secy. Mrs. Simpson,
Warton. Recording Secy. Miss H.
B. Smilie, Chesley. Treasurer, Mrs.
E. T. Moore, Teeswater. L. T. L.
Secy. Mrs. J. Beahy, Port Elgin. " 2nd
Secy. Mrs. J. B. Smith, Port Elgin.

Several changes were made in the personnel of the department superintendents.

Thursday afternoon session had a very pleasing result, interruption when Miss McInnes, Paisley, sang very sweetly a much appreciated solo and Friday afternoon report of Resolution committee was interrupted by a Temperance Rally song by Miss Jean Fullerton, which was also much appreciated.

Thursday evening meeting was presided over by Rev. Mr. Little, Pastor of Knox Church in which it was held, and the W. C. T. U. Rally song to the tune of "The Maple Leaf" was sung by 20 little boys.
Rev. Mr. McInnes, of Sbaal Lake, Manitoba was a much appreciated
speaker, and solo by Miss Smilie, of Chesley, the County Secy and others added enjoyment to the entertainment, at the close of which the County Banner was presented to Paisley Union, which had the greatest increase of membership during the year.

The resolution bearing on the wet caneen brought in during Thursday afternoon session and dealt with during the "school of method" hour read as follows:

WHEREAS we believe that the LEGALIZED LIQUOR TRAFFIC is one of the National Sins which in-curs the just displeasure of Almighty God, and most especially so, when during this World Wide War the food stuffs used in the manufacture of the Liquor that materially unites our Soldiers for service, are needed both to feed the Armies, and for home consumption.

AND WHEREAS Canadian Mothers concerned to their boys going overseas to fight for liberty and honour of the Motherland and her Colonies, with the distinct understanding that no liquor be allowed there, and are now withholding their consent, because of the wet caneen.
THEREFORE RESOLVED that the Bruce County Women's Christian Temperance Union assembled in convention to hereby deplore the persistent furnishing of the wet caneen overseas to our Canadian Soldiers, and the Bureau thus served on the firing line and hereby vigorously and emphatically protest against the same and that a copy of this Resolution be sent to Sir R. L. Borden.

Why Young Girls
Grow Pale and Weak

The Blood Supply is Deficient and Unless the Trouble is Remedied Consumption
May Follow

When girls grow weak, pale and miserable, then is the time for parents to take prompt steps. Delay means danger—perhaps consumption. The girl in her tense constant desire to be happy, robust woman without an abundance of supply of rich red blood in her veins. It is the lack of this good blood that is the great trouble with nine girls out of every ten.
They grow weak and depressed; lose their appetite; are breathless after the lightest exertion and suffer from headaches and backaches. When girls are in this condition there is no medicine can compare with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In the use of these Pills there is splendid vigorous health with glowing cheeks and sparkling eyes, for every unhappy fragile girl who is struggling on to weakness in a wretched state of health. This is why thousands of girls and women, now robust and attractive are constantly recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to their suffering sex. Miss Edith Brousseau, Savona, B. C. says: "At the age of fourteen I became very anemic. I was pale as a ghost, suffered from headaches severe palpitation of the heart at the slightest exertion. I had little or no appetite and seemed to be drifting into a decline. I was attending high school at Vancouver at the time and the doctor advised me to stop. I did so and took his treatment for some time but it did not help me in the least. Upon the advice of a friend I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and in a very short time they gave me back complete health and enabled me to resume my studies. I have enjoyed the best of health since and owe it all to Dr.
Williams' Pink Pills."

These Pills are sold by all medicine dealers, or sent by mail on receipt of a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The
Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
